Literary Meet Scheduled Today

The First District literary meet is being held on the G.T.C. campus today as students from schools, both class B and C, all over the district attend the contest.

The program began with a general assembly in the Marvin Pittman auditorium this morning at 9:45 a. m. and includes such events as vocal solos, quartets, trios, piano, essays, declamation, home economics, typing, and shorthand.

Medals and trophies will be awarded in the Marvin Pittman auditorium at 4:30 this afternoon.

The winner of the first place trophy in the class B. schools has been Vidalia High School for the last nine years.

MOVIE TONIGHT

"Helen of Troy," starring Rosanna Podesta and Jack Sernas, and in color, will be shown in McCroan Auditorium tonight at 7:30 p. m. The movie gives the story of the "most beautiful woman who ever lived."

Coston Wins Talent Revue Honors

By JOYCE KIRKLAND

Gail Coston, upon winning first place in the second annual Talent Revue sponsored by the Canterbury Club, remarked that he was "All shook up," and wanted to give half of his reward to his accompanist.

Gail was one of the fifteen contestants in the Talent Revue held in the McCroan Auditorium last night at 8 p. m. The second and third place winners were Cranford Sutton, also a G.T.C. student, and Betty Jo Brannen, a junior at Statesboro High School.

Gail, who is a sophomore here at G.T.C. this quarter, has been attending the University of Georgia since September. He was one of the mainstays of the floor show committees here last year, and has also been singing at various functions at the University.

Cranford Sutton just entered school here at the beginning of the winter quarter, but has made headway in his study of music on campus. He has attended both A.B.A.C. and Young Harris College, and has played the piano for fourteen years.

Betty Jo, who is known locally for toe tap routine, has been entertaining for a number of years also.

Among the five finalists were two more acts which have been proclaimed throughout the campus for their potency. Bobby Godwin and his dummy, "Danny," are a familiar sight in Sanford Hall, and should be by now to almost every student on campus after his exhibition in assembly last Monday. A dance routine which was quite colorful was performed by Jan Futch and Linda NeSmith, two freshmen from Statesboro. Jan also teaches dancing on the side.

Twelve of the fifteen contestants were G.T.C. students, a fact which surprised the emcee, Peter O'Millian. He stated that he "didn't know our campus had such a variety of talent."

Deadline Nears On Scholarship

Applications for the Marvin Pittman Scholarship must be in not later than midnight, April 22, according to Dean Paul Carroll.

This scholarship provides full tuition, room, board, and all fees for the senior year and is awarded annually to a junior at G.T.C.

Rules for eligibility set by the scholarship committee include the completion of twenty-two courses by the end of last quarter, but not more than twenty-seven. Applications may be made by mail to the Scholarship Committee, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Box 90, Statesboro. However, if any student is not clear about whether he is eligible to apply or not, he is asked to contact Dean Carroll.

The Marvin Pittman Scholarship was established in 1955 by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Statesboro in memory of Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, former president of G.T.C., in recognition of his academic leadership and community service.

The scholarship is presented on Honors Day. Clarence Miller, a senior from Statesboro, was given the award last year.

Music Majors Organize Special Concert Band

WEBB IS ALL-STAR

Chester Webb, former Helms Foundation All-American from Georgia Teachers College, has been chosen as a member of the Army All-Star team. This team will represent the U. S. Army in the National A.A.U. Tournament in Denver, Colorado. It is composed of the best players in the U. S. Army. Webb was also chosen on the Third Army All-Star team.

Another former G. T. C. great, Scotty Perkins is, playing in the same tournament with Gibbs A.A.U. of Jacksonville, Fla.

Crews Selected For 'Teahouse'

"The Teahouse of the August Moon," produced by Masquers under the direction of Miss Dorothy Few, to be presented April 25-26, must show talent from behind stage as well as on stage, according to Molly Williams, stage manager.

The crews working on the spring production behind stage are as follows:

Construction and stage crew: chairman, Bennie Dreggors; Ed Ward, Bill Sanders, Richard Flournoy, Molly Williams, Emory Cartrett, Emory Giles, John Clark, John Carroll, Curt Walker, and Don Thornhill.

Costumes: chairman, Wilma Fowler; Eleanor Stubbs.

Properties: chairman, Punky Allen; Molly Williams, Ed Ward, Bennie Dreggors, and Emory Giles.

A special concert band composed entirely of music majors has been organized under the direction of Dana King for the purpose of training band directors. The thirty members are playing their major instrument, but are also required to change with other members. The limited facilities necessitated organizing this band in order to include those to whom no private instruction could be given. Tentative plans are under way for two pop concerts sometime in the spring and recordings and tours in the future.

Improvements have been made in the band room to such an extent that it has been transformed from a bare room to one of the best all-around band rooms in this section of Georgia. The entire project was carried out by students under the supervision of Mr. King. Miss Gernant, head of the art department, made suggestions in carrying out the blue monochromatic color scheme. Students also built the new instrument and storage cabinets which are adequate enough to cover the present needs of the band. The whole room is set off by the curtains which were made by some of the students with the help of Mrs. King. In addition a room for minor instrument repairs is being built.

Lights: chairman, Bill Sanders; Celesta Dykes and Donald Anderson.

Programs and tickets: Ellen Summer, Jean Holmes, and Judy Rittenhouse.

Publicity: Diana Bair. Stage manager: Molly Williams.

Prompter: Jean Fulford. Music director: Jo Ann Parker.

Over 400 parents of G.T.C. students have responded to the invitation issued by President Zach S. Henderson to attend the Parents' Day program held here Sunday.

The agenda for Parents' Day will begin with a morning "church" service with the Rev. Wytch Stubbs from Macon as speaker. These services will be held in the McCroan Auditorium at 11:30 a. m.

Immediately following the church program, the parents and students will adjourn to the amphitheatre behind the old gym for an outside lunch.

Then the G.T.C. Philharmonic Choir and the band will complete the day's schedule with a concert given in McCroan Auditorium at 2:15 p. m.

The band will perform first, giving a variety of numbers. Its repertoire for Sunday will include "Barnum and Bailey Favorites" by K. L. King, "Lady and the Tramp" by Walt Disney, "Midnight Matinee" by William Schaefer, "The Southern Four" by Palagne. Soloists in the "Southern Four" will be: clarinet, Bobby Godwin; alto sax, Ralph Bailey; trumpet, Jack Willis; and trombone, James Jones.

After the band completes its performance, the Philharmonic Choir will finish the concert with six numbers. They are: Tschesnekoff's "Come Thou Holy Spirit," Schubert's "Ave Maria," Gounod's "Sanctus," Van De Water's "The Penitent," "Libera Me" from Faure's "Requiem," and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "The Messiah."

Soloists for the choir's appearance are Joyce Ryan, Marilyn Durrence, Billy Sanders, and James Jones. The choir's accompanist is Choyce "Doodle" Jackson.

The choir is under the direction of Dr. Ronald J. Neil, and the band is directed by Dana M. King.

72 Begin Practice Teaching

Seventy-two G.T.C. seniors have begun their practice teaching on assignments in eleven different school systems in this area.

Besides the Marvin Pittman School, on campus practice teaching centers have been set up in ten off-campus schools. As a part of their regular academic work, senior education majors at G.T.C. are required to do full-time practice teaching during one full quarter. The work is under the overall supervision of Dr. J. D. Park, director of the teacher education program. Co-ordinator for the off-campus practice teaching program is Dr. Marshall Hamilton. In each practice teach-

Gone With the Wind

The appearance of the United States flag and of the Georgia state flag that fly on G.T.C.'s front campus have recently caused consternation among a number of students and visitors here.

Reason for this concern was that the United States flag was at one time seen with ragged edges and even a hole in it. Most of the people viewing "Old Glory" in this condition felt that this showed a lack of responsibility among the people who put it up each morning, and a complacent attitude on the part of the administration in general for allowing such a thing to go on.

The truth of the matter is that the flag seen was being flown for the exact reason that the administration and workmen were on the job and were doing what they felt was best in the situation. According to Don McDougald, school comptroller, G.T.C. has on hand six new United States flags and four new Georgia state flags in order that our campus might always be graced with these banners of state. However, Mr. McDougald stated that due to the severity of the March winds, he tried to keep an old flag reserved for use during that month.

Since new flags cost approximately $40 apiece, old ones were flown during the highest winds. The edges were whipped ragged by the force of the gusts, which could have done the same with a new flag if one had been so exposed. Mr. McDougald explained that now that the worst winds are gone, newer flags are being flown.

A People's Program

G.T.C.'s chapel programs have once again come up to "pass inspection" as a newly formed student committee begins work to correlate campus interests with the assembly programs.

According to Dean Paul Carroll, a move of this nature begins about every two years, and eventually dies down with little accomplished. With this fact in mind, Dewayne Dutton, president of the Student Council has tried to select committee members who are genuinely interested and who have already taken initiative in solving other campus problems.

With Dean Carroll as faculty advisor, the committee is made up of representatives from each of the major student areas, such as the Standards Committee and the general student body.

From first appearances, it seems the group is off to a good start. We hope the enthusiasm will keep up and bring some real results.

Here is MISCELLANY

By this time, most of you have either seen or bought a copy of MISCELLANY, the new G.T.C. publication dedicated to student creativity. According to a news article which appeared in this paper last week, our little literary quarterly has been well received, but just how well received? Did you buy it just to make the editors happy, to have something just to read in your spare time, or maybe to study. From MISCELLANY, I think there comes a quality in writing not found in many literary magazines, mostly because the largest group of contributors are local students. An old adage says, "you don't have to be good, just be original."

Let us stray from this old adage for a few minutes. The originality found in this magazine is good, not in the sense that the material found therein is as good as the classics, but every article was filled with the sincerity of its author. These people are not necessarily gifted at writing, but they did write, and from the heart. So many times, manuscripts sound like they came from the pocketbook rather than the heart, and regardless of the author, these are not good.

Yes, this magazine is dedicated to serving the students and the people of this area as an outlet for their literary talents; yet, there were comparatively few contributors listed. There is no limit on the size of the issues of Miscellany, and anyone who submits material will get the careful consideration of the editors. More students should mull this thing over. Make up your mind, maybe you are a literary artist and don't know it. This quarter, another issue of MISCELLANY will go to press. Make sure that you have something in this one.

Hip—Hup! Hip—Hup!

"Hip! Hup! Hip! Hup!" This is the chant used on many visiting baseball teams at Georgia Teachers College.

What is the reason for this? Undoubtedly this is to antagonize the visiting players into a state of utter confusion on the diamond. Not only do the yells come from the bleachers, but from the home dug-out as well.

The next question to be answered should be: Is this good sportsmanship? Sportsmanship should be employed by both teams in a game, no matter how big the rival or who is leading the score.

As for the yells from the home dug-out, this is about the most inconsiderate demonstration of lack of sportsmanship ever witnessed by many of the students. The students at Georgia Teachers College are not the only ones who have come to notice the jeering. Other spectators, professors, and teams could not possibly overlook the fact.

All teams are given the chance to antagonize each other. However, when a visiting team comes a great distance to play the home team, should the jeering be so consistent that that is all that is noticed by the spectators? No!

If rooting for a team is given, don't give it in jeers. If one can't root, then just be quiet!

As for the cheers from the home team—let's ease off a little.

UNLIMITED CUTS FOR U.N.C. JUNIORS, SENIORS

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (I.P.)—The cut system at the University of North Carolina was made more liberal recently by action of the Faculty Council. According to the new class attendance regulations adopted by the U.N.C. Faculty Council, juniors and seniors with a "C" average will have unlimited cuts. Also no extra penalty will be imposed for classes missed before and after holidays.

The president of the student body of U.N.C., Bob Young, who appointed a student government committee which made recommendations to the Faculty Council committee on student class attendance, made clear the student's responsibility under the new attendance system when he said:

"My word of warning is that we must now demonstrate the responsibility that must accompany the more liberal policy.

If students choose to cut excessively without excuse, then the council will undoubtedly revert to the previous system—or one more stringent.

Hyde and Seek

By LARRY HYDE

Last Tuesday night, another fine square dance was enjoyed by a hundred or more students. The idea of having square dances for the students came up last quarter in our elementary rhythms class, and it turned out to be a big success. There is not a rhythms class this quarter, but through the efforts of two, O'Brien Morris and Hugh Belcher, last week's dance was held. If you enjoyed the dances and would like to have more, tell these two; they will appreciate it.

Attention men! Barnes Funeral Home of Statesboro is looking for three college students to stay at their establishment. They want someone to be there at night to answer the telephone. If interested, contact the people at Barnes Funeral Home.

Monday and Tuesday of next week will be the acid test for our baseball team. Our "Big Brothers" from the University of Georgia will come to Collegeboro for a two-game series with the Professors. The University of Georgia has always frowned upon playing us because they consider us a "small time" college. For once, let's all go to the games and show the nine men that are on the field we are behind them all the way.

It really is amazing what a rumor will do. Several weeks ago, a rumor got out in Cone Hall that some new regulations would go into effect at the monthly house meeting. Let me say at this point, that attendance at these house meetings is not the best in the world. Most of the people that attend are those who want to take a part in the activities of the dormitory. Back to the rumor... Somehow, the rumor got out that men in the dormitory that made excessive noise were going to get "call downs." Once you received three, you would be asked to leave Georgia Teachers College. I agree with Mrs. Hartley, house director of Cone Hall, when she said the whole thing was silly and ridiculous. But everyone got a good laugh out of it, and for once there was full attendance at the house meeting.

I think some of you will be surprised at the results that come from the committee that has been selected for improving the assembly programs. This committee can and will do a great service to our school IF they get the necessary cooperation from the administration, faculty, and students.

This is a problem that affects every one of us, and if you have any ideas or suggestions that will help this committee, let them know about it.

DUTY: A task we look forward to with distaste, perform with reluctance, and brag about afterwards.

When a man dies, the last thing that moves is his heart; in a woman, her tongue.

To Thee We Sing

This week marks the anniversary of the beginning of what is now the United States of America. This date in our history will always be remembered because it stands for those first courageous settlers who settled our first permanent colony, and their tireless efforts through peace and war to give us our treasured American heritage.

On April 1, 1607, there landed at Jamestown, a handful of immigrants, most of them people who wanted a new start in life. They had been told in England that this land was an endless land with plenty of space for everyone. From these remarks, these few but brave people set out to build their dream home in a wilderness which they knew nothing about.

From this, there came more people, some for pleasure, some for wealth, but most of them for their God-given rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This land had become a vision to all, and some of all races have come to this land. Yes, from this time on America has been the melting pot of nations. America has always opened its heart and its homes to peoples of other nations who have chosen either to live here or just to visit. When tyranny overtakes a country the doors of America swing open wide to offer refuge to those persons oppressed. America too opens its pockets and contributes countless millions yearly to overseas relief.

No wonder America is a dream to so many people of other lands, and maybe it should be a rather realistic dream to some of its own citizens too. We have lived in this land of plenty so long, that we too often take for granted the many things we have here that we could never enjoy in any other country on this vast earth of ours.

To other peoples, the founding of Jamestown, the American Revolution, The Declaration of Independence, The Articles of Confederation, the Constitution, Washington, D. C., our great American presidents, our American home, northeastern commerce, the sunny South, the fertile mid-west, the golden West, and we the people of the United States of America, are a dream, a goal worth working for.

Let's keep America in the best condition so that she may be able to ever offer shelter to the sick and oppressed.

Spring is here. The season when a young man's fancy turns to—baseball, and it seems that the girls are getting the same interests' cause the attendance at the games has been very good. It's such a wonderful way to get out of doors in the warm weather and to support our boys in America's greatest sport. And we have a fine team too!

The Concertmen with Edmond Karlsrud were well received at their performance Monday night. Many have commented that this was the best presentation in the concert series. A note of local interest is that the small black-haired singer, Roy Hines, is a nephew of our own Mrs. Lois Melton.

The Masquers have already begun practice for the comedy "Teahouse of the August Moon" which will be presented April 25 and 26. Start making your plans now to attend.

The square dance Tuesday was quite a success although once we wondered if anyone would be there when it was announced in the dining hall that there would be "no admission." The next announcement was quickly changed to "no admission charge."

The Canterbury Club gave a preview Monday in assembly of the Talent Show that they produced on Thursday night. It only proves just how talented students of G.T.C. are.

Tomorrow night the dance will be sponsored by the Masquers in the old gym, so come on out and have a good time.

Sunday being Parents' Day, we are all hoping for pretty weather. There will be a devotional service at 11:30 and lunch served outside afterwards. In the afternoon the Philharmonic Choir and the G.T.C. band will present a joint concert. It should be a good day to meet the parents of our friends and let our own parents get acquainted with the campus.

Last Concert Is Hailed as Best

By SISTIE POE AND JO ANN PARKER

Edmond Karlsrud and The Concertmen appeared in McCroan Auditorium Monday night, April 1, as Statesboro's third and final community concert this season.

The audience wholeheartedly acclaimed the program, which varied from Hebrew chants and opera selections to Negro spirituals.

Even though much of the music was of a serious nature, it was keyed to a level the concert-goers could understand. This plus the quality of performance made it the best community concert this year.

Opening with Luther's "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," the group showed their mastery of musical depths from the first of the program.

Mr. Karlsrud was a success from the time of his first solo of the evening, Faure's "Libera Me" from "Requiem." His rich voice gave it a quietly pleading interpretation.

Other highlights of the first half of the concert included Schumann's "Die Rose, die Lilie, die Taube," a short, bright song about a poet in love; "Zueignung," a musical prayer of thanks by Strauss; and the sparkling "Song of Spring" by Mendelssohn. Also outstanding in this portion was the fire and color of Bizet's "Toreador Song," from "Carmen."

Turning to the lighter side of the program, the group gave effective renditions of a Sigmund Rumberg medley; the ballad "Shenandoah," by Manning-Toussette; and several Negro spirituals. Best in the latter class were "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by Mac Gimsey, and "Joshua Fit De Battle of Jericho."

Both the Concertmen and the leader, Mr. Karlsrud, held a fine point of balance in their tone and expression throughout the evening. They showed a wide

About SPORTS

By FRANK TURNER
SPORTS EDITOR

Ted Williams is at it again—spitting and all. The big slugger was reported by a New Orleans newspaper to have spat again, this time at the name of the late Senator Robert Taft (R. Ohio). Ted said he had no use for Taft as the senator was afraid to help him avoid a second hitch in the Marines because Ted was a "big name."

Ted was reported also to have called Taft, Harry Truman, and the whole U. S. Government phony. He also said he felt resentment towards the Marines. Williams later denied having said anything about Truman or the government, but once again he had stuck his foot in his big mouth, as the New Orleans paper said they could prove his statements. Let's face it—Ted handles a baseball bat much better than words.

The Masters Golf Tournament, opening in Augusta this week, has Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan as favorites. I'll go out on a limb and pick the defending champ, Jackie Burke, by two strokes.

In tennis, Champ Pancho Gonzales says he's going to take a much needed rest after eighteen months of continuous play to give his racket hand a chance to heal from a cyst. Currently, he's right in the middle of a 100 match series tour and is leading Ken Rosewall 28 to 12.

By the way, this could be the last chance most of you baseball fans will have of seeing Stan (the Man) Musial before he retires. He and the rest of the St. Louis Cardinals take on the Chicago White Sox in an exhibition game at Savannah's Grayson Stadium this Sunday.

Profs Meet Blue Hose Then Take On Bulldogs

Profs Tie, Defeat A.I.C.; Win, Lose To Catawba

G.T.C. tied American International 5-5 last Friday in a game called at the end of the tenth inning because of darkness. Leading hitters were Wallen with a homer and a single in 4 trips, and Wommack and Sizemore each with 2 singles in 4 trips.

Roy Alewine went the distance for his second win as the Profs mauled American International 9-1 last Saturday. Alewine allowed the Aces 7 hits, struck out 7 and walked only 1. Wallen and Warren each had a double and single in 3 trips and Turner hit a 2-run homer in the fourth inning to pace G.T.C.

Catawba College handed the Profs their first defeat of the season, 8-5 Tuesday and also ended a G.T.C. home win streak at 19.

Prof stick leaders were Griffin with 2 for 3 and Wallen, 2 for 4.

For Catawba, Miller had 2 for 5 and Lee had 2 for 4. Snyder got the win and Mims the loss. Mims struck out 8 and walked 7 in 7 innings of relief, allowing Cardinals, second floor Cone Hall; 3, Clodhoppers, third floor Sanford Hall; 4, Wildcats, second floor west Cone Hall; 5, Black Stallions, third floor Sanford Hall; 6, Eagles (Day Students); 7, Rams, second floor Sanford Hall; 8, Colts, first floor Sanford Hall.

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. the Profs play host to the Presbyterian Blue Hose of Clinton, S.C. in a single game. The Blue Hose won the Little Four championship in South Carolina last year. They have become almost an arch rival of G.T.C. in recent year.

Then on Monday at 3:30 p.m., Roy Alewine is scheduled to open a two-game series against the powerful University of Georgia Bulldogs. The Athenians are a well balanced ball team with such sluggers as shortstop Ray Allen, former Richmond Academy star, and centerfielder Wendell Tarleton, 1955 S.E.C. batting champ. The 'Dogs are piloted by Coach Jim Whatley.

3 runs on 5 hits.

The Profs evened up with Catawba as Alewine went all the way for a 9-3 triumph, his third straight. He allowed only 5 hits, struck out 8, but walked 7.

Warren with 2 singles and a double in 4, Esmonde with a single and a double in 4, and Mallard with 2 singles in 3, were the Prof hit leaders.

Statistic!

The other day our vice president in charge of good news announced that someone, somewhere, enjoys Coke 58 million times a day. You can look at this 2 ways:

Either we've got an incredibly thirsty individual on our hands. Or Coca-Cola is the best-loved sparkling drink in the world. We lean to the latter interpretation.
