Heedless Horsepower by O. Soglow

Speed killed and injured more than 800,000 persons in 1956.

It Could Be You

A Grim Reminder

By BRITT FAYSSOUX

Death close to home is a grim reminder of the high fatality rate on our highways. Forty thousand persons were killed in automobile accidents last year. This year the rate may go higher.

Last week a GTC student's father was killed and his mother critically injured in an automobile accident not far from here.

Driving safely yourself is not enough. You must watch the other fellow. It is a sad commentary to make but driving with the idea in mind that the majority of drivers on our highways are thoughtless fools seems to be a correct one. Death has come to many an innocent victim of such careless and thoughtless drivers.

Hotrodders bent on speeding and Sunday drivers out sightseeing are two of the worst menaces on today's roads. There is, of course, no excuse for the hotrodder. He has become the nation's public enemy number one and should be dealt with harshly when apprehended. The Sunday driver is usually innocent. He is just unaware of the hazard he creates ambling along, intermittently slowing down and speeding up and constantly taking his eyes off the road to watch the passing scenery. U. S. highways are too crowded and dangerous for sightseeing. Sightseers should confine themselves to off-the-beaten-path sideroads that are less crowded.

GTC has sometimes been referred to as a "suitcase" college. In other words many of the students hit the road for home on the weekends. Saturday classes have long been eliminated so that students would not have to make a mad dash for home and endanger their lives and the lives of others.

Just remember. All too often death is a grim reminder that an accident could have been avoided if a few rules of safety had been followed.

Phi Mu Alpha Rush Party

On Tuesday, October 15, Phi Mu Alpha gave a rush party at Martin's Pond for those men interested in joining the music fraternity.

Phi Mu Alpha is an honorary music fraternity for men. The GTC chapter will invite pledges from those who attend the party.

62 Students Assigned

Names of Student Teachers Are Released

According to Dr. J. D. Park, professor and chairman of the division of education, fall quarter records reveal that we have 62 practice teachers with 44 of them assigned off-campus.

Besides the Marvin Pittman School on campus, practice teaching centers have been set up in 12 off-campus schools.

They are as follows:

Glenn Academy in Brunswick, Claxton High School, Glennville High School, Jeff Davis County High School in Hazlehurst, Bradwell Institute in Hinesville, Jenkins County High School in Millen, Savannah High School, Treutlen County High School in Soperton, Screven County High School in Sylvania, Statesboro High, Effingham County High School in Springfield and Reidsville High School.

Senior education majors are required to do full-time practice teaching during one full quarter as a part of their regular academic work. The work is under the overall supervision of Dr. J. D. Park, director of the teacher education program. Coordinator for the off-campus practice teaching program is Dr. Marshall Hamilton. In each practice teaching center, student teachers work under the direction of supervising teachers.

The assignments are as follows:

Glynn Academy, Brunswick—Clifton Guinn Collins, physical education, Jean Holland, industrial arts; Thomas B. Robertson Jr., industrial arts; Clinton Earl Smith, band, and Lewis Cliff Strickland, physical education.

Claxton High School—William Aspinwall, physical education; James E. Denny, physical education, and Betty Watson, business education.

Glennville High School—Wiley H. Dill, industrial arts; Celesta Dykes, English; Clifford Johnson, physical education; Allen Rogers, English, and Eugene Nichols Wiley, social science.

Jeff Davis County High School in Hazlehurst—Charles E. Bagley, mathematics, and Verla Lee Garrett, English.

Bradwell Institute in Hinesville—Clifton Baxter, business education; Lanny Heath, physical education; Jimmy Myers, physical education, and Patricia Shuman, English.

Jenkins County High School, Millen—Carolyn Ellington, home economics; Earl Parker, science, and Jordan A. Phillips Jr., physical education.

Savannah High School and Junior High—Henry Baxter, business education; Jacob Carlton, business education; Robert Gary Mitchell, social science; Peter Paul O'Millian, social science, and Eugene Sanders, business education.

Treutlen County High School, Soperton—Betty Clayton, business education; Herbert D. Galbreath, social science; William David Lamb, mathematics, and Mrs. Barbara Langley, home economics.

Screven County High School, Sylvania—Eugene T. Collins, industrial arts; Joyce Crosby, home economics; Jennie Faye Morgan, English; Charles E. Musselwhite, physical education; Sara Louise Norris, business education, and Wallace Glenn Tanner, science.

Statesboro High School—Britt Fayssoux, social studies; Carolyn Freeman, home economics; Charles F. Mobley, physical education, and Aubrey Morris, physical education.

Effingham County High School, Springfield—Barbara Phillips, home economics.

Reidsville High School—Kay Whittle, home economics.

Marvin Pittman High School—Donald E. Flanders, business education, Barbara McAfee, business education, James Donald Avery, physical education; Gene Baston, physical education; John T. Sorrell, industrial arts; Allen E. Webb, industrial arts; Harry M. Russell, social science; Mrs. Mary Lou Parrish, home economics; and Joe Carter Sumnerlin, mathematics.

Marvin Pittman Elementary School—Marcia Ann Allen, first; Harvey Edward Robbins, first; Dixie Ann Daniel, second; Loudelle Langham Wheeler, second; Vila Brown, third; Alice Wingate, third; Jane Pinckney, fourth; Julia Pryor, fourth; Joan Hurst, fifth and Patricia Robinson, sixth.

To Receive Wise Ideas

Duncan, Five House Directors Attend Workshop in Athens, Ga.

Miss Helen Duncan, dean of women, and the five house directors from Georgia Teachers College will attend a Georgia Dean and Counselor Workshop October 18 and 19 in Athens, Georgia.

This workshop session is planned for the benefit of all deans and counselors. It is to be informative, pleasant, and profitable. Miss Duncan and the house directors will not only receive wise suggestions and ideas, but will have the opportunity to discuss their own problems.

The theme of the session is "The Role of the Dean and House Director in Promoting Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Personality Development." On Saturday, October 19, the main feature of the program will be a panel discussion. Miss Duncan, who is secretary of this organization, will be one of the panel members.

Other highlights of the meeting will be tours of dormitories and sorority houses, discussion groups, brief reports, and social hours.

The entire workshop will end at 12:30 p. m. Saturday.

FLU EPIDEMIC HITS CAMPUS

An epidemic of flu hit the GTC campus this week and sent a number of students to the hospital.

Borders Pres., Teasley Veep In Fall FBLA

On Wednesday evening, October 9, the Future Business Leaders of America held its first meeting of the year in the recreation room of Cone Hall.

Ernie Borders was elected as president. Bobby Teasley accepted the post of vice president. The office of secretary and treasurer is pending and will be announced next month.

The president gave a short talk on the activities and purpose of this national organization. Also, he welcomed all freshmen and transfer business education majors to join the club.

Bob Pollak gave the purpose of the FBLA book store. Pat Fletcher discussed the float for homecoming and the state convention to be held at Rock Eagle. Bobby Teasley spoke to the club about its socials, preference dance spring quarter, and the annual beach party to be at Hilton Head.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of Bobby Godwin who entertained with his dummy Dennis. The group enjoyed dancing, also.

Frosh Elections Later

Brown, Godwin, Pierce Will Fill Class Offices

The results of last Friday's election of class officers have been released by Ed Brown, president of the Student Council.

James "Snappy" Brown defeated Mickey Wilson by a count of 65 to 32 for the presidency of the senior class. Don Thornhill lost to Guy Thompson 43 to 54 for the senior class vice presidency while John Vaughn defeated Beverly Perkins by a close margin, 51 to 46.

Bobby Godwin was elected president of the junior class over Henriel Middleton, 78 to 39. Clay Adamson will fill the vice presidency after defeating Ruth Odom 94 to 27 and Harriet Armstrong takes over as secretary-treasurer winning by 78 to 41 count over Robert Gressette.

On the slate for the sophomore class is Franklin Pierce as president, winning over Jerry Brown 59 to 52.

Mary Ann Harrell lost to Ava Owens for the vice presidency by a total of 49 to 79 count and Choyce "Doodle" Jackson defeated Ramona 65 to 41 for the office of secretary-treasurer.

(Ed. Note: See editorial on page two.)

Prizes Awarded for Best "Snaps"

The snapshot contest, which is being sponsored by the Reflector staff, is to begin immediately and will terminate December 4.

The contest will be divided into three categories pertaining to college activities. These three divisions are sports, campus life, and humorous snaps.

In the division of sports, snapshots may be made of intramural games, physical education classes, basketball games, and any other kind of athletics.

Campus life includes dormitory scenes, classroom activity, campus activity, parades, and Rat Day.

In the humorous category, any type of snapshot may be entered as long as it pertains to college life at GTC.

Three gift certificates will be awarded to the winner in each of these categories. Honorable mention will be given to the next two winners in each division.

Make the snapshot on standard size printing paper. Label it with your names, address at GTC, the category in which you wish to enter and a caption if so desired. Drop your entry in the box on the door of the Public Relations Office. All pictures will become property of the Reflector.

Judges will be three faculty members, so every student is eligible to enter. Mary Ann Harrell, snapshot editor of the Reflector, urges everyone to "grab a camera and take lots and lots of pictures to enter."

These snapshots will be used in the 1958 Reflector.

Editorials

An Unfortunate Mixup

There was an unfortunate mixup concerning the nomination of one of the class officers in last week's election. One of the basic rules governing class elections seems to have been ignored until it was too late. That is that anyone running for officer of a class should at least be a member of that class. It looks as though no one individual was at fault but that the job was bungled all the way down the line.

Franklin Pierce was nominated for president of the sophomore class. Pierce is a last quarter freshman. It seems that no one was aware of Pierce's status, including Pierce. By the time it became general knowledge that he was a freshman, the campaign had been well underway and election day was at hand.

The Student Council called an emergency meeting and decided that Pierce was qualified in every respect except being a member of the class and that the thing had gone so far they might as well let it go.

Under the circumstances this seems to have been a wise move. No one doubted that Pierce was innocent and that he was not trying to perpetuate a fraud for his own benefit. His opponent Jerry Brown, was perfectly willing for him to remain in the race. And Brown wanted to make it plain that he was not trying to use the incident for his political gain.

All in all it appears to have been a perfectly innocent, but bungled affair.

In the future it would be wise for Student Council to supervise elections a little more closely and avoid such embarrassing situations.

Miscellany Needs Contributors

Miscellany, the student literary quarterly which had its beginning last winter quarter, is a student-edited publication for the GTC students and contains material contributed by literary-minded students.

However, this quarter's magazine has had comparatively little response from student contributors. The book contains poetry, short stories, essays, and other tidbits of literary value, and seeks to display the talents of GTC students who may have become frustrated because of the lack of printed works.

Students who have contributed before to Miscellany, and those who have always wanted to, but lack nerve, are urged to bring forward their "babies" for publication.

The fall quarter editorial and planning board is not idle, but must have more material from which to choose suitable selections to print in the forthcoming issue.

Molly Williams, Anne Waters, Britt Fayssoux and Joyce Kirkland are ready to accept any contributions students may have ready to publish. Those who have contributions, turn them in as soon as possible.

Has the Annuals Came?

- Has the annuals came in yet?
- Have the annuals come in yet?
- Have the annuals came in yet?

Depending on the particular major, these are, no these were, anyway, the above questions have included about 80 per cent of the conversation around the Public Relations office from September 23 to October 16, the actual day of arrival of the much-awaited publication.

Dr. Fielding Russell, local grammarian (not to be confused with octogenarian) was contacted about the proper syntax to be employed in the question, and he said, "Why I believe it would be proper to say 'Have the annuals arrived as yet?'"

As he left, he paused, considered, and said, "By the way, HAS the annuals came in yet?"

And that's the way it has went, er, gone.

LOCAL CONGRESSMAN GIVES VIEWS ON CIVIL RIGHTS

Congressman Prince Preston, urbane, erudite Congressman from the first congressional district of Georgia and a native of Statesboro, gave what could be properly called the southern viewpoint of civil rights in a talk at Statesboro High School last Tuesday morning.

The stage was set with a very appropriate rendition of "Dixie" by the student body. Congressman Preston was introduced by his daughter a student at Statesboro High.

History First Mr. Preston made a plain, forceful presentation couched in terms a high school student could easily understand. First he gave a brief history of the Articles of Confederation and the U. S. Constitution; then he explained how the Articles were junked and the Constitution adopted as a "new instrument to govern ourselves with."

Referring to our present Constitution as the "Civic Bible of America," Congressman Preston implied that our written Constitution is very nearly a perfect instrument of government, but that through misinterpretation by the present Supreme Court it has become much less.

New Concept Precedent and custom are no longer used as guides in making decisions, according to the speaker, but the "new concept" of sociological theory has taken its place. It is this "new concept" that has led to the recent Supreme Court decision on segregation, he says.

The tenth amendment gives the respective states the right to govern their internal affairs (in other words run their own school). Also, it is the duty of the state to educate the Negro, but not necessarily in mixed schools, he asserted.

Little Rock The Congressman called the court's recent decision an abandonment of the Constitution. He denounced the Administration's action at Little Rock and said it was motivated by partisan politics. He also stated that pressure groups in the north are responsible for the actions of many northern Congressmen concerning integration.

Congressman Preston emphasized the fact that he did not condone the mob action in Little Rock, but neither does he condone the use of troops.

State Rights Mr. Preston's is, of course the state rights interpretation of the Constitution. It is the view held by a majority of native born southerners. It is a view that maintains that segregation is legal and right for the South. His argument is couched in legal terms, not moral terms. It is not the argument of a demagogue, but the argument of a learned southern lawyer and representative. There is an opposing argument that does not recognize the need for state rights. This opposing argument is prevalent throughout most of the country outside of the South.

Hyde AND Seek

By LARRY HYDE

I hope everyone is happy now that the 1957 REFLECTORS have arrived. We of the 1958 REFLECTOR staff have been sitting around waiting for them to come so we could get to work. The first full scale work night was Thursday and now the wheels are turning. We hope to give you Georgia Teachers College's biggest and best annual on the second week in May, 1958.

There is a strong possibility the football game between members of Physical Education 422 will be played in Statesboro on the night of November 7. The "T" Club is going to sponsor the game so this will give all of you a chance to see football at Georgia Teachers College.

Life is never dull at GTC! This past week, in the post office, a young man was seen mailing a wedding invitation to his ex-girl friend. I wonder if he received an invitation!

Overheard in the physical education building—Lady professor saying to man professor, "I want to be draped like the seniors." Answer from man professor: "They don't have a tent to use as a drape."

I went over to Metter last Friday night to see Metter and Statesboro play football. In the third quarter, Statesboro was leading by a large score but someone forgot to tell the Metter team. They were still scrapping and had the spirit that goes with a real football team. The people in Metter have a right to be proud of their team. They are a credit to the school and community.

Some of you may have noticed a long tall "Drink of Water" walking around campus.

with a thirty-gallon hat and some real Western boots on. He is Phil Clark, a professional baseball player who has just finished a great season with Houston of the Texas League. Phil won 18 and lost six for the year. While attending GTC, Phil will assist Coach J. I. Clements with his football class. I might add that he will be married on November 23 to Gay Hobgood, a senior here at Georgia Teachers College. Best of luck in what life has in store for both of you.

If you had your picture made for the REFLECTOR last Tuesday, the proofs will be returned next Wednesday and can be picked up at the Public Relations Office between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. If you have not returned your proofs, please do so because we need them in our planning for the annual.

Did you know that some primitive tribes living by the sea use the teeth of sharks as razors? And how are you fived for sharks? ... SELAH.

6 TO FALL WORKSHOP

Georgia Teachers College will send six representatives to the fall workshop of Georgia Deans and Counselors being held on Friday and Saturday in Athens.

Those in attendance will include Dean of Women Helen G. Duncan and house directors, Mrs. Cleo Franklin, Mrs. Thelma Hartley, Mrs. Jeanette McCorkle, Mrs. Archie Jackson, and Mrs. J. B. Johnson.

The theme of the meeting is "The Role of the Dean and House Director in Promoting Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Personality Development."

Speaker and consultant for the meeting will be Dr. Melvane D. Hardee of Florida State University.

Rat Squeaks

By YVONNE DURHAM

Flash!! ... Attention all "Ratmen" and "Ratwomen"; in fact, attention all Rat freshmen at large!!! The RAT SQUEAKS COLUMN has just received a very important newscast. As you well remember on Monday, October 7, 1957 our entire class relented readily and gleefully to the government which now has command of the entire GTC campus, namely the sophomore class. The donning of those handsome little caps prescribed by this stronger government has become dimmed in the blinding light of this current newscast which comes straight from headquarters.

Prepare yourselves fellow "rats" for here is the flash:

A huge black shadow has been detected approaching the paths, schedules, and dormitories of the freshman class. This shadow resembles very closely the shadow of a hungry cat about to pounce on a defenseless rat. However, after much detailed study and further observations it has been determined that half of the first hypothesis was incorrect. A new decision has been reached explaining this strange phenomenon.

The cause of this stormy, bleak shadow is one of concern and interest to every defenseless rat on GTC campus. This shadow in reality is the plans, thoughts, decisions, and preparations of the sophomore class. Now you simple laymen of the scientific world can understand why it was first thought to be the shadow of a fierce, hungry cat.

That, dear rats, is our urgent newscast, and now a few words from our column about this announcement.

Everyone remembers D-Day, June 6, 1944. You recall the terrible invasion of France by the strong English forces. As you recall this historical event prepare yourselves for a coming similar event. Needless to say this will be R-Day. It will come overnight. No one will know when to expect this dreaded invasion. No one will know where to hide, and no one will know who will be captured first. Just remember this all rats live a cautious life, and check with this column for more special newscasts. Remember rats... a cautious life!

An Open Letter

If life seems brighter with most of the upper classmen this week, it is directly due to the fact that the 1957 REFLECTORS were distributed this week. It was a long hard pull, slowed down by accident and incompetence but they are here now, and it can be safely said that the book is a good one and is well done. In May of 1958 another REFLECTOR is scheduled to appear on the scene here. This one could be late too. None of the students would want or expect the 1958 edition to be late, but without the fullest cooperation of both staff and student body tardiness is not completely out of the question.

Help yourself to the 1958 REFLECTOR, by helping the Reflector staff get it out on time. BILLY JACKSON

Campus Column

By JOYCE JACKSON

After spending a week in the infirmary and away from civilization, it's wonderful to be back on campus and see everybody. I must say I didn't get too lonesome while I was sick 'cause I was in the majority group. Those who were well were the minority. To those with the aching heads, running noses, and coughs, we send a wish for a speedy recovery.

The audience was very attentive in chapel during the devotional Monday, but as soon as it was over I was almost blown off the stage when all coughs came at once.

Having been officially installed Monday, the Student Council has a big job ahead of them this year. With the help of the student body and our new advisor, Dr. Tyson, I'm sure we can look forward to a good year. Ed Brown mentioned that Dr. Tyson had offered to help with love problems, but don't get your hopes up. When I went in to tell him my problems, he insisted he already had an apartment up town and marched off without even listening. I'm afraid he thought the situation was hopeless.

The new bricks and the white paint are really making the administration building shine. West Hall is getting remodeled on the outside plus an addition of new furniture. I'm sure you girls will enjoy it.

I heard about one freshman boy who was quite confused one morning at 10 o'clock. He said he had expected the room to be decorated in black and gold with Japanese lanterns hanging around. "Isn't this the 'orientation' class?" he asked. Oh well, we all can't be geniuses.

Monday night the physical education classes sponsored a function referred to by one faculty member as a "square hop." Regardless of the name, it seemed to be quite successful. The dance replaced the usual Tuesday Mat Dance for this week.

It seems that the intramurals are getting off to a big start with Coach Jess White directing the activity. Also on Wednesday nights at 6:30 the new gym is open for play night. Come on over—it promises to be great fun.

Hope to see you at the dance in the old gym tomorrow night. It will be sponsored by The George-Anne staff.

Odom, Hendricks Head GTC Band

Ruth Odom, junior from Girard, Georgia heads the Georgia Teachers College Band Planning Board this year. Mary Weldon Hendricks, sophomore from Statesboro, will serve as secretary. Other members of the board are Beth Rigdon, Guy Thompson, Jack Willis who is property manager, Denzil Sellers, David Powers, and Charlotte Mullis.

Ruth Odom, president, played in the Burke County High School band for six years and was a majorette for three years.

This year Ruth, who plays the saxophone, clarinet, and oboe, is a majorette and a member of the GTC choir, En Melodie, and MEC. She plans to be a band director after graduation.

"Saaay — Didn't I meet you at a party last night?"

Disappearance of Health Cottage Puzzling; Soon Solved by Flu

By YVONNE DURHAM

On a little college campus about one and one-half miles from Statesboro, Georgia, a session of summer school was well under way. All of the regular students had vacated the school leaving only the ambitious summer students. Little did they realize that only these students they left behind would be able to solve the coming mystery of the vanishing cottage. Little did they know that the huge buildings they thought so permanently stationed could disappear overnight and become so well hidden on such a well-known campus. Nevertheless, disregarding all laws of inertia the mystery was provoked.

Summer School

The summer students, involved in their two hour and four hour classes, became too absorbed to notice anything unusual around the campus until one hot, sultry morning they discovered that a building was missing from its usual place. Knowing that nothing as large and as important as a college health cottage could be moved very far they did not become alarmed about the situation, and the summer passed on making room for the fall and another regular session of school.

Still the mystery had not been recognized. In fact, no one even considered the vacant spot on campus until the beginning of Freshmen Orientation Week. The student advisors and Big Sisters were busy trying to welcome freshmen, make them love GTC, and become a "veteran of the old school" all in one week.

Then came the day of tours for the freshmen. Each upper-classman took his little group of freshmen and proceeded in showing them the various places on campus.

Chagrined Advisors
As each advisor found himself in the very middle of his speech about the beloved building where all the small aches and pains were cured, where the clean, healthy smell of alcohol was dominant, and where everyone went for his physical examination his mouth dropped open as he realized that his gestures pointed only to a vacant square of land. Apologizing for making such a blunder and promising that the cottage had to be right around the corner he swallowed his crushed pride and proceeded "right around the corner" produced only a maze of shrubbery, paths, roads and buildings. Losing himself and his group in this labyrinth the advisor determined in his mind to solve this sudden mystery.

After several attempts which ended with an introduction to the new teacher in the science department, several comments from girls in the home management house and a guided tour of the Presidents garden a newly brick-veneered building loomed importantly into the path.

Flu Found It

This building with its new coat of bricks and its fairly new place of residence was with a doubt the health cottage. Surgery on this cottage is now completed and is being very well used. Not only is the mystery solved, but Georgia Teachers College has a health cottage with new bricks, a new foundation, and several patients with the new Asiatic flu.

List Operational Goals, Aims In Public Relations

By CHARLOTTE OWENS

With a new public relations operation and a new director, the public relations office is off to their year's work.

The new director is Joe Axelson from Aurora, Ill. He comes to GTC after serving one year as sports publicity director at Furman University.

Mr. Axelson attended GTC for five quarters and also attended Northwestern University where he majored in journalism. He married a former GTC student, Rae Smith.

The public relations office now includes the news bureau, sports publicity and alumni work.

The news bureau is responsible for all news releases on campus and from Marvin Pittman School. Also it covers all releases to home town papers of students.

The sports department is concerned with all publicity for campus sports. Included in this is the publication of the basketball and baseball programs.

The Alumni Division handles any work or information needed by alumni. Also included in this is the publication of the alumni quarterly.

Other publications which are published under its directions is the George-Anne, Reflector, T-Book, Agenda, which is a faculty notice, and the literary magazine, the Miscellany.

Mr. Axelson does not have a full-time secretary but is assisted by students Britt Faysoux, Jane Jackson, Earlene Payne and Juanita Colson.

When asked what he hoped to accomplish this year in his new job, he stated, "Among many other things, for the 1958 Reflector to come out in time."

Mr. Axelson is replacing Roy Powell who is on two year leave doing graduate work at the University of Missouri. When he returns he will become a regular faculty member in the English department.

Inquiring Reporter

By MARILYN DURRENCE

The question for this week was, "Do you think that the special basketball band should play this year for the games?"

Carolyn Mobley, freshman—Yes, it gives more spirit.

Harris West, sophomore—Yes, a band boosts morale.

Nina Gean Martin, sophomore—Yes, definitely.

Morris Kay, freshman—Yes, a band should be used! It helps to put spirit in a game.

Ann Warren, freshman—Some people come to the game just to hear the band. I think it adds a lot to a game.

Imogene Allen, freshman—I think they should play.

Edward Drawdy, junior—I think we should, it adds more noise.

Yvonne Durham, freshman—I think it would be nice to have a band play.

Curt Walker, senior—Yes, it would add to the morale of the spectators as well as to the team.

Willy Dekle, sophomore—Yes, it boosts the spirit of the crowd.

Jim Phelps, junior — Yes, definitely. It adds a lot to the game.

Reuben Neely, sophomore—Yes, it adds to the spirit of the game.

This is one of the rare occasions when everyone asked seemed to think in the affirmative. Of course, we all realize that the band members who play at games would have to do so on their own time and that some people may actually complain about their playing, but I think that on the whole the entire student body would like to have some good "live" music at the basketball games. If it would be too much to ask to have them play at every game, maybe something could be worked up for some of the more special games during the year.

Highsmith Reports to Groups Sponsoring Saturday Dances

Aubrey Highsmith, vice president of the Student Council stated Monday, that the college requirements to be observed by groups sponsoring Saturday night dances are outlined by the office of dean of students as follows:

1. The list of chaperones must be turned in to the dean of students office on Monday before the dance the coming Saturday night.

2. Party equipment (punch bowls, tablecloths, ladles, etc.) must be reserved by Friday and picked up from the office of the dean of students by Saturday noon.

3. Each group will be held responsible for laundering the tablecloths used, or leave enough money at the office of dean of students for that purpose.

4. In order for the clubs and classes which sponsor Saturday night dances for the entire student body to secure reimbursement for their bills, the representative of the sponsoring group must obtain an official form from the office of dean of students. This form is to be presented to the business office, along with receipted bills, before reimbursement will be made.

5. The group sponsoring the Saturday night dances is also responsible for the conduct at the dance.

6. Groups using the Alumni gymnasium for social activities are requested to observe the regulations set forth on pages 32, 33, and 34 in the T-Book concerning the use of the gymnasium.

The groups sponsoring the dances for the fall quarter are as follows:

George-Anne, October 19; Veterans Club, October 26, Sanford Hall, November 2; Junior Class, November 9; En Melodie, November 16; Alpha Rho Tau (Starlight Ball), November 23; Home Economics Club, December 7; Faculty (faculty formal), December 14.

'A Dream Comes True' Reports GTC Beauty

By CHARLOTTE OWENS

With a "flurry" of constantly changing clothes and many excited moments, GTC's Diana Bair emerges as Miss Dixie IQ. She reigned as queen of one of the five divisions, personality, evening gown, talent, bathing suit and IQ, in the Miss Dixie contest.

Sponsored by the Student Council, Miss Bair, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. B. Bair, traveled to sunny Daytona Beach for the contest July 1-6. There she was immediately thrown among girls from all over the southeast. Most of the girls were state winners. "Why, one girl had twenty-three titles," says Miss Bair.

The girls were required to take a written test. Miss Bair replied when asked about the test, "Well, I didn't know what to think! It started off easy as pie but I soon changed my mind." We shall assume the questions got harder but she came through with flying colors to be titled Miss Dixie IQ.

"The announcement came—my mouth flew open but I couldn't say a word," commented Miss Bair when asked her first impression on winning. She said that she finally "wobbled" to the stage, but, confidentially, I'll bet she displayed the same poise and grace she always has in her activities on our campus.

Miss Bair was Miss Georgia Teachers College in 1955, as well as Miss Reflector of 1957. She is past president of Masquers and of Alpha Phi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity on campus. At present she is a cheerleader and is engaged in many other campus activities.

"It really was an experience which I shall never forget." The best part was meeting the many girls and being associated with them for a short time," was her final comment. She would also like to thank the Student Council publically for sponsoring her in this "every girl's dream."

Hugh's Who in SPORTS

By HUGH BELCHER

We find that the "Westward Ho" movement took a firm hold on 1957 baseball as New York was short of the world championship and two of its three major league clubs, The Milwaukee Braves celebrated their first National League pennant and World Series victory. (Word is that they are still celebrating this victory.) The Yankees whose success has spread a fever of hate in many a fan, went down in fine style as Lew Burdette won three victories—and two shut-outs—over the New York Yankees. The Yanks' defeat, following the word that the New York Giants were going to San Francisco, and the Brooklyn Dodgers were going to Los Angeles in 1958, was a shocking blow to New York's baseball prestige.

The Oklahoma Sooners won their 43rd in a row, defeating Texas 21-7. Michigan State buried neighboring Michigan, 35-6 at Ann Arbor.

Monty Stickle, a dreary and dejected sophomore who missed the tying point in the fourth period, became an all-time Notre Dame hero Saturday when he kicked a field goal from the 29-yard line with 6½ minutes left to give the fighting Irish an upset 23-21 win over the Cadets.

A Jittery Navy offense came back from a 0-6 halftime deficit to top a stubborn California team 21-6. The Middies are really rolling and should continue again this week.

Helped by a roughness penalty against Big Lou Michaels, the versatile 6' 2" 235-pound All-American Kentucky tackle, and saved in the clutch by right end Jimmy Phillips' fierce tackling, Auburn's 10th ranked Tigers scored a tense 6-0 victory over Kentucky. The Wildcats pushed the Tigers all over the field, but the tigers fought back defiantly. From this side of the desk it looks as if Auburn will be the SEC champ. They have two foes who might prove to be trouble in Tech and FSU.

Should they get by these two it will certainly be a crown for the deserving War Eagles.

The Georgia Bulldogs slammed Tulane 13-6 for their first 1957 triumph. Jimmy Orr and Theron Sapp gave the Greenies a beating they'll never forget.

Getting down to junior college football we are happy to find that the Middle Georgia Wolverines won their first game from South Georgia College last weekend 14-7.

Alpha Rho Tau Holds Meeting

The Alpha Rho Tau Club met October 14 for the purpose of discussing the Starlight Ball, which will be held November 23 at 8 o'clock. The theme is centered around a "Sidewalk French Cafe." The "Professors" will supply the music and it is to be semi-formal. The Art Club guarantees it to be different this year.

Those interested in being a waiter or waitress for the Starlight Ball please contact the Art Club.

Bobcats, Panthers Win Opening Contest To Inaugurate Football-Volleyball Season

Women's Play Produces Close First Game

By CHARLOTTE OWENS

Girls' intramural sports started this year with a mixture of organizational meetings and practicing to be climaxed by volleyball games on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week.

A mass organizational meeting was held Monday of all girls who plan to participate in intramurals this year. This meeting directed by Miss Shely and Miss Bell was for the purpose of discussing the intramural plans for the year, some regulations concerned with participation and general organization of managers with teams.

In the first games of the season the Bobcats and the Panthers were victorious. They defeated the Lions, under the management of Eloise Minton and Shirley Hodges, 58-25; and the Tigers, under Louise Westbrook and Sharon Ward, 43-40. The Bobcats under the management of Carol "Goofy" Goff and assistant Millie Jo Bond and the Panthers under the management of Liz Smith and Jean LeHardy are off to a good start for the season. High point servers were Patty Pickett, 17 points for Bobcats, Carolyn Bridges, 7 points for the Lions, Jean LeHardy 11 points for the Panthers and Sharon Ward 14 points for the Tigers.

Officials for the games were Miss Bell and Solon Wisham, physical education major. Miss Shely officiated for some of the later games.

Wednesday saw Louise Westbrook and Sharon Ward's Tigers beat Peggy Cowart and Joe Rahn's Leopards 49-14. In the other game the Cougars under the management of Liz Morgan and Marsha Maddox defeated the Bears lead by Betty Thift and Rae Warburton, 55-8. High point servers were Kay McCormick 16, Marsha Maddox, 18 and Mary Ann Moye, 5.

Scores from Thursday games of Wildcats versus Bobcats and Panthers versus Leopards were not available at press time.

Much enthusiasm has already been displayed thus far by the girls in their intramural sports. From the present view, intramurals will be a bigger success this year than ever before.

Teachers Meet For Refresher First-Aid Class

A refresher class for First Aid Instructors will be held at Georgia Teachers College on October 18 and 19 under the direction of the Bulloch County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Mrs. J. D. Fletcher is executive secretary.

The training will consist of nine hours of classroom instruction. Instructing will be Mr. Harry Kenning, A.R.C. area representative.

The course is one of a series being offered in 12 cities in Georgia during the rest of the year.

GEORGE-ANNE SPONSORS SAT. NITE DANCE

The George-Anne staff will sponsor the Saturday night dance in the old gym at 8:00. The floor show will be presented somewhere in the proximity of 9:15.

There will be a jitterbug contest for all you "jivers." All of you hep-cats who aren't "squares," grab your "drag" and be sure to be at the dance.

Player Profile Honors Cook As Cage Star

(This is the first of a series of articles on this year's varsity basketball prospects. Each week we will introduce a player so you the students will become familiar with the members of the Professors.)

This week's profile is about Walker Cook, a 6' 2" 185-pounder from Pineview, Georgia. He was a four-year letterman in basketball at Pineview High. Walker holds the highest scoring record in the state of Georgia for most points scored in one season. This was 1,344 points in 32 games for a 42-point average per game. Cook scored 66 points in one game, which is believed to be the highest number of points scored in any one game in that section of the country. He is a junior and is majoring in physical education. He played first string forward on the 1955-56 freshman team which was coached by Scotty Perkins, former GTC great. Walker was the second leading scorer with a 16-point average per game. He is working hard for one of the forward positions on this year's team.

BULLETIN!

Wednesday the Bobcats defeated the Wildcats, 30-0 behind Jerry and Phil Clark's good offense.

The Panthers defeated the Lions in a very close contest 13-0. Fred Chance was the big gun for the Panthers.

On Monday shortly after 3:45 intramurals officially began. There weren't many present to see the two opening football games. There weren't many present to play either. Those present did see very good football for this early in the program.

Panthers 19 — Tigers 6
For the Panthers it was Jerry Hayward that was the big gun. Jerry caught three passes for TD's from Bob Pollak, Dan Stipe, and Richard Smith.

Ed Brown of Tigers caught a pass from Wayne Trice to score the only TD for the out-classed Tigers.

This was all of the scoring thus ending with the Panthers winning 19-6.

Bobcats 19 — Lions 7
In the other game Monday the Bobcats and Lions played a scoreless first quarter. But in the second quarter the Bobcats got into pay dirt twice. Jerry Clark, quarterback for the Bobcats, hit Phil Clark with a long pass for one and Tom Mathison for the other. They scored easily on a pass from Jerry Clark to Tom Mathison.

Finally in the fourth quarter the Lions got a TD on a pass from Fred Chance to John Vaughn. The Lions tried hard in the last quarter but the Bobcats were too much. Final score Bobcats 19, Lions 7.

Cougars 21 — Wildcats 0
The Cougars and Wildcats played a scoreless first quarter, but the Cougars came roaring back in the second quarter with a touchdown and a safety.

But the Cougars took right up where they left off, by scoring two TD's in the third quarter. Cassidy and Riner were the two big guns for the Cougars.

The fourth quarter was scoreless.

VET'S CORNER

By TOM BRYSON

In the last issue there was a discussion of the problem that veteran students have in paying their fees to collect under the present policy of the Board of Regents. This discussion was continued at the last bi-monthly meeting of the Veterans Club, and at this time, President Ed Bailey appointed a committee, consisting of himself, Britt Fayssoux, and Bill Jeanes, to contact Mr. McDougald, comptroller of the college. This committee met with him on Thursday, October 10 and presented the problem. Mr. McDougald stated that the new policy was established by the Board of Regents last spring quarter, and that the college administration does not have the authority to change this policy in any respect. The board, in making this policy, was well aware of the veterans problem; however, it feels that Veterans are being paid a monthly sum to attend college, and as such should be under less financial burden than other students.

When questioned as to ways and means of remedying the situation Mr. McDougald, a veteran who attended college under the G.I. Bill, pointed out one alternative. He suggested that a committee of veterans could be formed to investigate the policy of banks on loans to students, attending college under the Bill. In connection with this, the Veterans Administration specifically states in its brochure to veterans that adequate provision should be made for sufficient funds to enable the veteran to pay his way for the first quarter, as funds from the V.A. are paid out approximately 20 days after a period of enrollment has been completed. The college catalogue, in mentioning this, states that "Each veteran should make provisions for adequate financial backing for one full a bank loan at the first of each quarter in order to meet expenses until V.A. checks arrive. No collateral was required for this loan, however, it was necessary to obtain a co-endorser for the note. These loans can be obtained for a period of 60 days with the possibility of renewal at the end of this time.

As another solution, Ed Bailey, chairman of the committee, pointed out the possibility of approaching the board in an effort to obtain some relief from the policy. The view of the fact that the board seems to be adamant in its policy, the latter alternative of obtaining funds from a bank or other source, appears to be the most logical solution to the problem. quarter since payments from the V.A. are often delayed as long as two or three months."

Since the beginning of last spring quarter, this writer has found it necessary to obtain less, as the very much out-classed Wildcats went down to a 21-0 defeat.

Leopards 20 — Bears 7

"Skeeter" Griffin passed 28 yards to John Carl Blackburn to put the ball in position to score for the Leopards. Griffin carried the ball around left end and raced 18 yards for a TD.

Blackburn intercepted Ralph Turner's pass and went 32 yards for a TD in third quarter.

The Bears got going in the third quarter to score on Mickey Wilson's 44-yard pass to Joel Shirley. But the Leopards came right back with a 33-yard pass from Griffin to Dikes, to make the score 20-7, their favor.

Eyes Water, Nose Runs

Has "Scholastic Spirit" Been Daunted By Flu?

By CHARLOTTE OWENS

Your eyes water, your nose runs, your head pounds but you keep on trudging to class. This could well be said of many GTC students.

It has been quite evident that sometime in the middle of our twenty-four-hour day when no one was looking, a little germ slipped onto our campus. This germ was not for the microscopes of the Biology building but headed straight to the dormitories to pounce on new victims. Suppose we just call it "Flu."

"Flu" first found the girl next door. Then much to my despair, he entered my little domain of 4' by 4'. That sure was a busy what ever it was. It seems everybody either met "Flu" or one of his distant relatives.

"Flu" may have been beaten back if students had called out the pills, shots, beds, and rest sooner; but some students' reinforcements didn't arrive in time due to the need to attend class. Consequently "Flu" pushed back many students to the lines of dormitories, homes and even hospitals for a few days.

But with the dynamic "scholastic spirit" most students were successful in pushing "flu" at least down the hall and many times out the door. Now they start back into the world of knowledge a few days behind because of a little I don't know what called "Flu."

Home Ec Club Welcomes Advisors Lane and Reese

By LINDA SIKES

The Home Economics Club is very glad to have Miss Betty Lane and Miss Mary Edith Reese as their advisors for this year.

Miss Reese is a native of Warrenton, Georgia where she attended Warrenton High School. She did her undergraduate work at Tift College and her graduate work at the University of Georgia. She has her BS degree in home economics education and her MS degree in home economics in the field of child development. During the past, she taught at Florida State and Tift College.

Reading, cooking, and music are Miss Reese's favorite hobbies. In the sports field, she likes to watch basketball and football.

When she was asked if she had any comments about GTC, she replied, "The people at GTC are very helpful and friendly and I like it very much. The parents of the children in the nursery school are just wonderful too!"

Miss Betty Lane comes to us from Statesboro. She was a student at Statesboro High School, at Georgia State College for Women where she did her undergraduate work, and at the University of Georgia, where she did her graduate work. Miss Lane has a BS degree in home economics and her master's degree in home economics education. During the past, Miss Lane taught at Louisville, Savannah, and Marvin Pittman School.

Reading, listening to music, watching TV and traveling are Miss Lane's favorite hobbies. By the way, during the summer Miss Lane completed a 11,000 mile western trip. For her favorite sports, Miss Lane said she likes to dance and loaf but she just isn't the athletic type.

Miss Lane and Miss Reese are doing a wonderful job at GTC and we are very happy to have them as part of our "clan" at Georgia Teachers College.
