G.T.C. Enrollment Reaches Record Height

Construction on New Buildings Gets Underway

The construction program at Georgia Teachers College currently includes two buildings now under construction, one recently approved, and one in "request status."

The total cost of these five buildings, including the completed warehouse, the three either under construction or approved, and the requested girls' dormitory is $2,247,000.

Buildings under construction include a Dining Hall-Student Center which has been named the "Frank I. Williams Building" after the late father of First District Regent F. Everett Williams. The other building now under construction is a combination classroom and science building.

Recently approved for construction to start within four or five months is an Arts Building. A 169 capacity girls' dormitory has been requested from an agency of the Federal Housing Authority. Final word is expected any time.

The Frank I. Williams Building will house a book store, snack bar, lounge, post office, offices for student organizations, and the dining hall.

CLASSROOM BUILDING TO COST $600,000

The approximate cost of the new classroom building is $600,000, about the same as the Frank I. Williams Building.

The building will house the science, business education and home economics divisions. These three divisions now use classroom space in four different campus buildings.

Governor Griffin last week signed the budget request of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia for $450,000 with which to build a new Arts and Industrial Arts Building at G.T.C. Regent F. Everett Williams of Statesboro stated that it is anticipated that contracts for the new building would be let in four or five months.

The ultra-modern building will have 29,000 square feet.

Governor Griffin said, "This facility has been needed for a long time and when completed it will provide the teachers college at Statesboro with one of the finest industrial arts centers in the nation."

A warehouse was completed in June 1957 at a cost of $37,000. It houses under one roof all of the maintenance and operation supplies for G.T.C.

GTC Masquers Get an SOS

The G.T.C. Masquers received an S.O.S. signal last week from the city of Statesboro. One of the traffic lights on busy Highway 301 popped its green light, and it appeared that with a perpetual red light shining, Statesboro ran the danger of being overcrowded with our brothers from up "Nawth."

Mrs. Winfield Lee, speech instructor and director of the Masquers, dispatched green jells to cover the broken light and avert the overcrowded condition.

NEW MEMBERS of the Georgia Teachers College faculty and staff are pictured here as they convened last week for the first faculty meeting of the 1958-1959 school year. Left to right, front row: Lucille Golightly, home economics; William Dewberry, comptroller; Dr. Samuel T. Habel, social science; Hubert McAllister, social science; Andy Patterson, music; Ann Black, Marvin Pittman; Virginia Parker, Marvin Pittman; and John Martin, Marvin Pittman. Second row: Mrs. Kate Pate, secretary to registrar; Fred Grumley, music; Mrs. Bobbie Cobb, librarian; Dr. Sylvester Toumey, chairman of business education division; Edwin Davidson, business education; Dr. Herbert Bice, exact sciences; Dr. (Miss) Walter B. Matthews, education; and Mr. John Lindsey, education. Third row: Irma Morgan, dean of women; and Dr. Lawrence Huff, English.

Faculty and Staff Members Total 101 as New Record is Established

Freshmen and transfer students are not the only newcomers to the G.T.C. campus. A total of twenty new faculty and staff members has established a new record of 101 personnel on the G.T.C. campus. A brief background of these new faculty and staff members is listed below.

DR. SYLVESTER LLOYD TOOMEY will be chairman of the business education division, with the rank of associate professor. He has been extension coordinator at the University of Georgia since 1947.

Dr. Toomey received a B.S. at Ball State College in 1941, an M.S. at the University of Georgia in 1953, and an Ed.D. at Georgia in 1955.

Formerly a major in the air force, he is married to the former Ann Souls of Moultrie, Ga., and they have two girls.

MR. WILLIAM M. DEWBERRY accepted the position of comptroller effective July 1. He replaced Donald O. McDougald, who recently resigned to go into private business.

Mr. Dewberry is a former G.T.C. student, and is a native of Emanuel County where he attended Stillmore High School. He was in the U. S. Army from 1941 to 1945. Since 1948 Mr. Dewberry has been comptroller at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College at Tifton, which like G. T. C. is a member of the University System of Georgia.

DR. HERBERT BICE will be an addition to the division of exact sciences. His current position is as principal of the West Fanning (Ga.) high school. Prior to that he taught mathematics at Norman College. He will teach math at G.T.C.

Dr. Bice received his B.S. degree from Georgia in 1957, and M.Ed. there in 1953, and an Ed.D. degree from Georgia in 1955. He spent four years in the U. S. Army during World War II.

An addition to the business education division will be MR. EDWIN DURWARD DAVIDSON, who will hold the faculty rank of assistant professor. Mr. Davidson graduated from Georgia Teachers College in 1950, and gained an M. Ed. from the University of Florida in 1957.

After spending two years in service, Mr. Davidson has been principal of Cadwell (Ga.) public schools.

MISS VIRGINIA PARKER will teach science at Marvin Pittman School, replacing Mr. Alvin McLendon, who recently resigned to accept a teaching position at the new junior college in Columbus.

Miss Parker received her B.S. at Georgia State College for Women and her M.S. degree at George Peabody College in Nashville. She has taught at Jordan High in Columbus for 15 years and has been head of the high school science department for part of that time.

She is the sister of Mrs. Gene Curry of Statesboro. This summer she assisted Mr. Tully Pennington in the G.T.C. workshop.

MPS Teachers, Set Goal for Improvement

Advancing oneself professionally is the summer goal of most teachers, and this year about 75 per cent of the faculty of Marvin Pittman School did just that.

A total of 14 of the 19 teachers at Marvin Pittman, located on the campus of Georgia Teachers College, either attended or taught in colleges last summer. Mr. Julian A. Pafford, principal of the school, believes this is the best advancement record in Marvin Pittman history.

Six teachers attended colleges. Mrs. Dorris Lindsey attended George Peabody College; Miss Mary Knox McGregor went to the University of Colorado; Roger Parsons earned a Masters degree at Eastern Kentucky State College; and Miss Anne Black, Miss Miriam Smith and John Martin attended Georgia Teachers College.

Eight teachers taught on the college level. Miss Gladys Waller and Miss Marjorie Crouch taught at Mercer University.

Miss Marie Wood instructed in high school curriculum and Miss Constance Cone in reading techniques at G.T.C. Mrs. Gladys DeLoach taught library science at G.T.C., and Mr. J. A. Pafford, Mrs. Cleo Mallard, and Miss Virginia Parker taught on an off-campus workshops sponsored by G.T.C.

Pres. Henderson Extends Greetings To Old and New G.T.C. Students

I appreciate this opportunity of welcoming you to Georgia Teachers College. Many of you are here for the first time and you will receive many welcomes from the students, from the churches, from the city, and from many individual citizens of the community.

Georgia Teachers College is fortunate to be located in a city and county as wonderful as Statesboro and Bulloch County. For a number of years we have thought of Bulloch County as one of the most progressive counties of the state and Statesboro as one of the leading communities. You will find the people of Statesboro friendly, interested in your work as students at the college and always willing to help us as we try to develop a good college. In the years that I have been at the college I have never known of a time when the community failed to help us with any of the major needs at the college.

All indications point to an enrollment of more than 1,000. If this is true it will be the first time in the history of the college that a regular term enrollment has been this large. We have had summer sessions with an enrollment of over 1,000.

We appreciate the fine spirit of the college students living in crowded conditions. At the present time each of the five dormitories will have a least some rooms with three students per room. In East Hall and Lewis Hall, two of our women's dormitories there will be three students in each room. The usual comment from a student when we talk to them about three in a room is "We would not want to deny anyone an opportunity

REFLECTOR PICTURES

Individual pictures for the 1959 REFLECTOR are now being taken. Consult the bulletin boards for YOUR schedule.

Cost is $2.00, and each student receives a 4 x 5 wallet-size picture, and also one copy goes to the REFLECTOR.

Pictures are being made this year in the Science Building, second floor.

Orientation For Freshmen Held On Tues., Wed.

Freshmen orientation classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday beginning October 7 and continuing through October 20. All new freshmen are required to attend these classes.

The purpose of this course is to help entering students meet the problems inherent in group living on campus. In general, these problems fall into two broad categories: first, those of quick adjustment involving learning about the physical plant, curriculum, and regulations; and second, those involving long range planning leading to self-direction and adult citizenship. Emphasis is upon sound study habits, personality growth, student self-analysis, and vocational and educational planning.

This year the brother and sister organizations of Kappa Phi and Kappa Delta Epsilon are providing the student leadership.

of a college education and we would be happy to live three in a room."

The college authorities realize that it would be best to have only two to a room but it is our hope that within a year construction will begin on a new dormitory for women and we plan during the year to make application for additional federal funds for another dormitory for women and an additional one for men.

One of the highlights of the year 1957-58 was the permission granted by the Board of Regents for us to offer a fifth year program. The enrollment in the graduate program during the summer of 1958 was 225 for the first session and 140 for second session. For some years graduate work will be offered during the regular term only on Saturday or in afternoon and evening classes. For the 1958-59 session graduate courses are being offered on Saturday.

I have been delighted with the new staff members. We have had a good faculty during the years and it seems to me that our faculty this fall is as good as any we have ever had. They are dedicated men and women, many of them with the highest degree and all of them interested in rendering excellent service to the students at Georgia Teachers College. We know that a college is never stronger than its faculty.

Personally, I enjoy very much the opportunity to work with the college group as well as with the people of the community. Of course, the college, with its new avenues of service, and with a larger enrollment will face new problems but the year 1958-59 promises to be one of the most challenging years for us at Georgia Teachers College.

DR. ZACH S. HENDERSON
President, Georgia Teachers College

Welcome Freshmen!

Welcome freshmen; And congratulations, too.

You have just made one of the most momentous decisions of your entire life, that of electing to build your life on the indestructible foundation of a college education. Your choice of a college to lay that foundation is an excellent one.

As freshmen, you have just crossed the threshold of the sacred garden of knowledge and wisdom. The yield, as ever, is abundant, and you are the new harvesters. "Hitch your wagon to a star" and "let your reach exceed your grasp."

The school you have chosen provides a wholesome atmosphere for a well-rounded, worthwhile education. Here at Georgia Teachers College you will find an air of friendliness and concern for the individual second to none among colleges and universities over the state and nation. G.T.C. is known as "The Friendly College," and this friendliness starts at the top with the administration and goes on down through the ranks to the individual students. We are one big family, and everyone shoves shoulder to shoulder.

You will soon discover, however, that this business of getting a college education is no game to toy around with. It is a man-size job; and assuming that you are now men and women mentally, physically, and emotionally, Georgia Teachers College is ready to do her share of moulding you into informed and useful members of society. The rest is up to you.

Your share of this process in getting an education is not a small one. College work is a far cry from the type of work you did in high school. The work load is greater and more is expected. Accept this change as part of your responsibility as a college student. If your instructors assign work as if you have only one class, remember they have already walked the time-honored path that you have just started.

And so, as you join the G.T.C. family, we welcome you with the warmest regards. Right now, you are the center of concern. As today's freshmen you are tomorrow's seniors and the finished product of all that Georgia Teachers College is eager to give you. With this in mind, the college is ready to help you and guide you in getting you permanently situated here to carry on the noble cause of Georgia Teachers College.

By RAY WILSON

Winter quarter 1958 saw the rise of another club at Georgia Teachers College—the G.T.C. Archaeological Society. Despite a very modest beginning interest in archaeology has grown to encompass more than the meager few that attended its first meeting.

Some call the members of this new club "bone diggers," "pot hunters," "grave robbers," and what not. Most who make these remarks do so without realizing what the club stands for and what its purpose is.

The club's operation is not just to collect broken "pots," arrow points, and Indian bones. The collection of these items alone have no meaning other than mere museum pieces or collector's items. Along with the collection of cultural remains valuable information is obtained. This enables one to understand the people who made the "pots" and other artifacts.

In brief G.T.C.'s Archaeological Society strives to:

1. Collect data, study, publish information, such as practical sponsor projects of education and investigation to bring about a wider understanding of the historical sites and land marks of Georgia.

2. Visit and inspect at intervals landmarks, sites of history, and archaeology. The purpose of these visits being to increase knowledge about Georgia's past.

3. To cooperate with the University of Georgia and others who have similar objectives.

The first site excavation (Sweetheart site) was begun June 27, 1958 under the able direction of Dr. A. R. Kelly (University of Georgia) and Dr. Clark Knowlton (G.T.C.). This is a very valuable site in the early Indian culture of Georgia and much material and information has already been collected. Plans are now being made to continue this excavation during the coming school year. The evaluation of cultural remains from Sweetheart will be studied collectively by the G.T.C. Archeological Society and the Anthropology Department at the University of Georgia.

Anyone interested in joining G.T.C.'s Archeological Society be sure to attend the first meeting.

Editor's Desk

As this first article was being written Mr. Coleman's title "The Editor's Uneasy Chair" seemed an appropriate one. Especially after learning the fact that an eight page paper was slated for this week. Then doubts began to come as they do when you are dead tired. The question, "Are extra-curricular activities important?" came to mind. Do you become a well-rounded college student by keeping your nose in a book?

Most teachers agree that extra-curricular activities are vital to the life of a well-rounded college student. If each one would devote only a small part of his time, think of the things we might accomplish. No matter how insignificant your job may be, if it is well done, a sense of personal satisfaction will be gained comparable to nothing else. We defeat our purpose by imagining ourselves inadequately prepared to join any campus organizations and clubs.

Freshmen especially feel lost and wonder, "What can I do?" They seem to think that their work would be utterly unimportant. Usually the contrary is true. Each of us is given talents—maybe some of us don't have leadership ability but we can become good followers. Class distinction puts no limit on ability. No matter how inadequate you feel; volunteer your services and do your best. Each of us needs to realize that a chain is only as strong as its weakest link. Come on out students—GTC needs you.

3 to 1 Ratio Provides Interesting Situations

By KENNY GIDDENS

Nestled in the rolling Berkshire hills of Massachusetts in Eastover is a 15,000 acre resort owned and operated by George Bissaro.

This resort was once a mansion during the Civil War and was purchased some years later and converted into England's outstanding year-round resort for young adults.

For those people that do not know what a paid vacation is, I would like to tell you about one that happened to three lucky guys, Charles McLendon, Charles Harris, and myself.

I have been to many places where the girls outnumber the boys by a few, but this past summer at Eastover, to my surprise, the girls held a lead of 3-1 over the boys. And, believe me it makes quite a difference—just ask Charles Harris!

At Eastover, recreation was no problem at all. There was swimming in the indoor and outdoor pools, golf, tennis, shuffleboard, ping pong, badminton, volleyball, horseback riding, canoeing, and of course dancing.

The staff at Eastover has all privileges that guests do, but only during time off.

To entertain the guests was no problem at all for George. If nothing else, he would drive a car down the hill, roll out the cannons and proceed to blow it up. Oh yes, he has cannons, at least 15-20. Some are dated as far back as the Revolutionary War and let me say that they are really beautiful. Once I heard him say that it costs $1,200 to have ONE reconditioned. Pretty expensive hobby—huh??

There is lots more about Eastover to write than there is space to put it in but if any of you are interested to find out more I'm sure that Charles McLendon would be glad to tell you—wouldn't you Charles???

RAT SQUEAKS...

By MIDGE LASKY and PAT JEFKO

We the Rats who have entered the "Rat Race" are beginning to feel a part of G.T.C. after numerous adjustments.

The meetings with student and faculty advisors, planning schedules for the coming year, attending dances and school events, TESTS and registration are all part of the "Rat Race" we have come to know this past two weeks.

As we entered the gates the most outstanding features of the campus were its beauty and stately buildings. The older buildings seem to point out their long and useful traditions and the newer structures and those in the process of being built show the modern way of life into which we are being brought.

The G.T.C. campus is known as the "Friendly Campus" as every freshman learns from a "Big Sister" who has written letters during the summer and through experience when we reach the college. As soon as a freshman walks up the steps to his dorm for the first time a smiling face is always ready and able to answer questions, just to say hello or to give you a ride to town.

Another striking feature about the G.T.C. campus is the long lines which always precede everything which we must do. The most noticeable of all is the cafeteria lines; then the registration lines, the line at the comptroller's office and those at the post office. The greatest "faux pas" one could make is breaking into these lines to try to get ahead.

It's the first time in our lives for many of us to share a room with one or two other people; to try to understand each other and to hold our thoughts and remarks to ourselves. Now we must sign in and sign out, let our whereabouts be known at all times, study at certain hours and go to bed at a given hour. Our time is not really our own anymore.

Nevertheless, this is the "college life" to which we have looked forward for many years!

Collegeboro, Georgia, Friday, October 3, 1958

Dean Paul Carroll says extending welcome is a pleasant experience

Extending a welcome to students is always a pleasant experience. The familiar faces of those who have already established themselves as members of the college community are reminders of past achievements and happy associations, and the new faces give promise of stimulating associations and achievements yet to be attained.

Because of the complex problems of our time, we are this year perhaps a little more conscious than previously of the opportunities and the challenges of the college year ahead. The crowded campuses everywhere, including Georgia Teachers College, make it most mandatory for each student to justify his presence in college by his seriousness of purpose and his accomplishments.

Georgia Teachers College, your college, is in the most favorable position of its history to be of service. The expanded academic program, the professional competency of the faculty, the increased services in testing, guidance and counseling, the improved physical facilities, and the fine spirit and general excellence of the student body provide splendid conditions and environment for your intellectual, emotional, and spiritual growth. What is done with the opportunity for growth is of course up to the individual student.

In surroundings different from those of the home and the home community, the character and the real ability of a person emerge. As you come to the campus for the first time or after the summer vacation, be assured that you are welcome and that the college is most eager to assist you in the furtherance of your educational objectives and in your personal development.

Sincerely,
Paul Carroll, Dean

Dorms to Have Frequent Drills

In a letter to the hall directors, Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, Dean of Students, suggested that a Fire Marshall be elected to the 1958-59 House Council. Fire drills, he also stated, should be the council's responsibility to enact. The systematic techniques of evacuating the residence halls will be left open to the hall directors and House Councils planning.

The Committee on Safety, headed by Mrs. Archie Jackson, will give overall help to the planning and carrying out of fire drills. To avoid any suggestion of mob activity, Dean Tyson has proposed that fire drills not be utilized until late in the fall quarter. A Residence Hall Safety Committee, composed of five students representing each hall, will be organized in order to promote safety on the campus as well as in the dormitories.

Is the Great Teacher A 'Popular' Teacher?

By ROBERTA HALPERN
And SHIRLEY BUTLER

Is the great teacher a "popular" teacher?

Almost never, says the essayist and critic Clifton Fadiman, writing in the October issue of Holiday magazine.

"He is interested in something more important than winning the affection of an unending anonymous procession of young people," Fadiman says. "The 'beloved' teacher-image is part of our American sentimental mythology: it expresses our willingness to pay homage to education provided it be painless—that is, noneducational. I have long maintained that any college can raise its standards simply by firing annually which-ever professor is voted 'Best Liked' by the graduating class."

Fadiman says the great teacher does not "bother to 'love' or 'understand' his students; he bothers to love their minds and understand their understandings."

In concluding Fadiman thus

WEEKEND PROCEDURE

When you plan to leave campus for the weekend, or for part of the weekend, please follow the following instructions:

1. Fill out a permit card by Thursday, 1:30 p. m. Place card in index box kept on desk in back lobby.
2. Be sure to check card before leaving campus to see if it has been signed. If not signed, find out why. Please give parents name, town, and phone number on card.
3. Before leaving sign out on alphabetical sheet on 1st floor bulletin board. It is not necessary for you to check your card or pull it out of box when you return.
4. Be sure to sign in on sheet when returning.
5. Girls are asked not to have men carry luggage to their rooms when returning from weekends.

states that the great teacher is not interested in class friendships and making close social contacts. Rather, the great teacher is interested in the future standing of the student on an educational not social basis. Later in life students look back on the great teacher with admiration, respect, and even a deep little note of, 'thank you for helping me be in the position I am today, and for the firm foundation on which I am standing.' Yet during the course, this same student disliked the instructor of whom he now thinks so highly. The many reasons that prompt individuals to attend a particular college will decide whether a certain instructor will be "popular" or "great" to them. Analyze your reasons. Are your professors "great" or "popular" to you?

Dean Morgan and Dean Tyson say 'Welcome' to G. T. C. students

Greetings and welcome to Georgia Teachers College! After the quiet of the four weeks since summer quarter closed, the campus activities of returning students sounds good again. There will be the sound of more voices this fall than previously, as we have about 150 more people on the campus.

These men and women come from every area in Georgia, and from several places out of the state. They will show a variety of interests as they register this week for courses which will prepare them for teaching and for medicine, law, engineering, nursing, business, and industry. Some will be taking a two-year course preparing them for clerical and secretarial work. Others will be staying four years and working toward A.B. or B.S., or B.S.E.D. degree. Still others will be enrolling as Saturday classes leading toward a Master of Education degree. The men and women on campus will become involved in such activities as Saturday night dances, movies, athletics, dramatics, art, band, choir, Student College attendance is not an

Council, and church or departmental organizations. Some will serve on the staff of the school publications, The George-Anne, The Reflector, the "T" Handbook, and the Miscellany. Our hope is that all will affiliate with a student organization compatible with their interest. "end" in itself — it is but a "means" to an "end" — the "end" being a life which is happier, more useful, more efficient, and more satisfactory to those about you than such a life would have been otherwise. The office of the Dean of Students will be interested in you, your activities and anything which concerns you. We know that you will face many problems. If this office can be of help to you in finding information pertinent to some of your questions, come by to see us. Or just come by anyway! We'll be delighted to see you!

Sincerely yours,
Irma Morgan

Hick's Highlights

By GARLAND and RAY HICKS

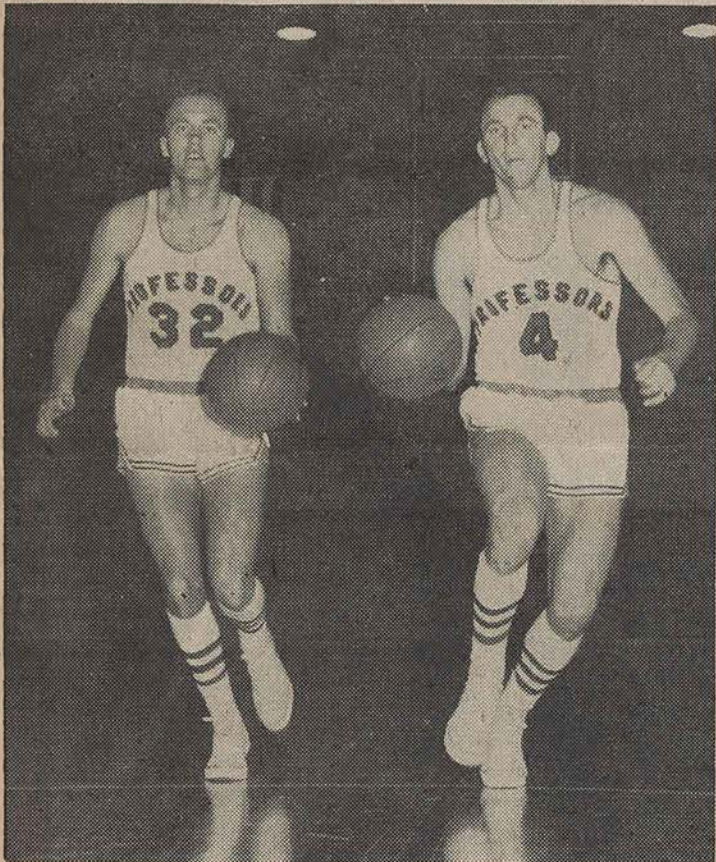

The National Collegiate Athletic Association has again asked major league baseball to stop raiding the college campuses.

The organization released several statistics indicating how small a chance a college player has of making the majors. The N. C. A. A. survey showed that of the 403 collegians who signed pro contracts between 1947 and 1957, less than five per cent made the majors. Also the 81 per cent of college freshmen and 77 per cent from the sophomore class never returned to school.

The N.C.A.A. also claims that a collegian has practically no chance of reaching the majors if he signs a non-bonus contract in lower than class "A" ball. Executive Director Walt Byers said the N.C.A.A. is worried about the increasing number of players who pass up an education to sign a pro baseball contract.

The majority of the college baseball stars are also football stars. The college athletic departments invest money and time trying to develop boys into great athletes. When the athletes reach their peak and become valuable to the squad they turn pro and leave the colleges holding the bag.

The "professional athletes" living in cheap hotels and traveling around the country on broken down buses probably wish they were back on the college campus.

WHITEY VERSTRAETE, junior business education major from Moline, Ill. and Chester Curry, junior physical education major from Wheelwright, Kentucky, have been named co-captains for the 1958-59 season. The Georgia Teachers Professors will open the season December 1 against Georgia Tech in Atlanta, Ga.

Parsons Named Freshman Coach

Roger Parsons, a 1950 Georgia Teachers College graduate, has been named G.T.C. freshman basketball coach, according to the athletic director J. B. Searce Jr.

Parsons was the playmaking star of the 1949 and 1950 G.T.C. basketball teams that won 49 and lost only six games. He also played shortstop on G.T.C. baseball teams, and later in organized baseball.

He will continue to be a faculty member of the Marvin Pittman School, located on the G.T.C. campus. He is a native of Harlan, Ky., and also attended Eastern Kentucky State College.

Coach J. B. Searce Jr. will take his Georgia Teachers College Professors to Atlanta on December 1 to open their 1958-59 Basketball season against the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets.

The first home game of the season will be played on December 4 against Jacksonville University. This and all other home games are scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Intramurals To Begin on Monday

The intramural sports program, headed by Coach Jess White, will get underway on Monday, October 5. All new students will be assigned to the various teams. The list of participants and their assigned teams will be posted on the gym bulletin board.

Team captains will be listed in the next edition of The George-Anne. The program will consist of such activities as basketball, softball, touch football, and tennis. Other activities will also be included.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

Coach J. I. Clements and his baseball team plan to take advantage of the weather and hold three weeks of baseball practice.

Regulars at four positions as well as several pitchers graduated in June, and several positions are open.

BASKETBALL MEETING

There will be a meeting of all basketball players and anyone interested in trying out for the team on Monday October 13, at 3:30 in the new Gym.

No equipment will be issued. Personal forms will be filled out at that time.

Atomic Physics Course To be Seen on WSAV-TV

Georgia Teachers College will cooperate with the new National Broadcasting Company college course for credit in "Atomic Age Physics."

Beginning on Monday, October 6, WSAV-TV (Channel 3) in Savannah will offer this two semester course. The program will be seen at 6:30 a. m. in this area.

It is designed primarily for high school teachers of science. However, it will be of interest also to college students planning to teach science, gifted high school students who wish to know more about physics, engineers who wish to enhance their knowledge about physics.

Mr. Fred Wallace, assistant professor of physics at G.T.C., will be coordinator of the course. Credit of 3-1/3 semester hours or five quarter hours will be given for each semester work toward a B.S. degree in education, or a masters degree in education, both with majors in science.

A meeting of all those interested in taking this course for credit will be held at G.T.C.'s McCroan Auditorium on Sunday, October 4 at 10 a. m.

A fee of $25 for each semester will be charged, and at the meeting registration procedure and course content will be discussed.

Off the Record

By WENDELL McGLAMARY and AL EVANS

An old song by a new singer has finally overhauled "Nel Blu Di Pinto Di Blu." After being on the charts for 11 weeks in the number one position, it has finally conceded defeat to "It's All in the Game" by Tommy Edwards. It nudged Domenico Modugno's Italian ballad into second place and opened the gate for seven new tunes to find their way into the OFF THE RECORD HIT PARADE this past week.

Making their debut among the seven new platters are old established singers Andy Williams, Tony Bennett and Jayne Morgan.

Third place on the chart is still held by the Everly Brothers. "Bird Dog" and "Tea for Two Cha-Cha" took over fourth place from "Little Star" which slid to the number eight spot. "Rockin Robin" continues to hold down the number five slot on the chart. Keep an eye open for Earl Grant and "The End" an outstanding ballad created in the fashion of Nat King Cole.

Here is how the top ten looks on the OFF THE RECORD HIT PARADE.

Strange Tells Of Letter Week

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Collegeboro during the week of October 5 to 11, Postmaster J. L. Strange Sr. announced today.

Twenty-one years ago, realizing the importance of written communication, the Post Office Department joined in the observance of an annual letter writing week—an event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a link between people throughout the world.

Postmaster Strange explained that by participating in both International Letter Writing Week and National Letter Writing Week this worthwhile objective is promoted between all peoples everywhere.

"I urge all citizens of Collegeboro to join in this celebration of International Letter Writing Week. And at the same time, don't overlook your friends and relatives in America. Write them a letter too!"

REGULATIONS

Requirements to be observed by groups sponsoring Saturday night dances are outlined as follows:

1. The list of chaperones (minimum of two adults) is to be turned in on Monday before the dance the coming Saturday night.
2. Party equipment (punch bowls, tablecloths, ladles, etc.) is to be reserved by Friday and picked up from the office by Saturday noon.
3. Each group will be held responsible for laundering the tablecloths used, or leave enough money for that purpose.
4. In order for the clubs and classes which sponsor Saturday night dances, for the entire student body to secure reimbursement for their bills, the representative of the sponsoring group must obtain an official form from the Social Committee. This completed form is to be approved by the Social Committee and presented to the business office, along with receipted bills, before reimbursement will be made.
5. The group sponsoring the Saturday night dances is also responsible for the conduct of students at the dance.
6. Groups using the Alumni Gymnasium for social activities are requested to observe the regulations set forth on pages 32, 33, and 34 in the T-Book concerning the use of the gymnasium.

Freshmen Face Exciting Week; Tired But Happy

A week of excitement, homesickness, and tired feet faced 322 freshmen as they approached the open gates at Georgia Teachers College on Sunday, September 21.

Smiles from student advisors welcomed the new students and their parents as they unloaded the suitcases, trunks, and boxes from the cars.

After a certain amount of settling down, President Zach Henderson and his wife honored the freshmen and their parents with an informal reception at their home. The first actual gathering of the students was in chapel Monday morning. Following the program the freshmen were divided into groups to be placed in the capable hands of student advisors. Questions were answered, doubts cleared out as the students were taken on a get-acquainted tour of the campus.

On Monday afternoon each freshman met with his faculty advisor to arrange his schedule for the fall quarter. Monday evening a Bar-Be-Que supper was given in honor of the freshmen. A short student rally was held to give the students an opportunity to release any energy they may have retained from the day's strenuous activities. The cheerleaders led the students in G.T.C.'s college cheers and Mrs. Zach Henderson accompanied the audience on her accordion.

Early Tuesday morning the first of a series of placement tests were given to all freshmen. After a very exhausting day for the brain, the feet took over that night at a Welcome-to-Statesboro Dance, sponsored by the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce.

Wednesday held an entirely new experience for the freshmen—registration. Need anything more be said? That night a matinee dance was held in Sanford Hall and following the dance, the movie "Teahouse of the August Moon," was shown in McCroan Auditorium.

The highlight of Thursday's activities was a formal reception given for all students

Music Potpourri

by KITTY KELLY

The Music Department has increased both its staff and its student roster for the 1958-59 school year. New students include the following transfers: Mary Parrish, Wesleyan; "Pat" Garrett and Martha "Mot" Sheffield, GSCW; Joe Walters, Jones County Jr. College in Mississippi; David Spinks, Brewton Parker; Dennis Rice, Truett McConnell, and Johnny Hathcock from Young Harris.

The freshmen Music majors are as follows: Jessie Lou Clark, William T. Bowen, Jayne Bragan, James Brandon, Nancy Ellis, Mary Frances Monroe, Leon Myers and Ava Seay. This brings the total membership to 40 students.

The new staff members are Mr. Andy J. Patterson and Fred Grumley. Both have quite a full college music program behind them.

Mr. Grumley, of Columbus, Ohio, received his B.M.E. from Capitol University Conservatory of Music. While a student at CU he was a Brass Instructor on the staff and a Phi Mu Alpha (Music Fraternity) member. In addition to his Music degree, he received a minor in Speech.

He was a band director in Dayton, Ohio, and then, Music Supervisor for the Anna Local Schools. He did graduate work at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, as well as FSU in Tallahassee, Fla. While at FSU he was a graduate assistant in Instrumental Music and he received his MME. He also instructed instrumental music in the University School, and was Assistant Conductor of the FSU Band under Manley Whitcomb.

Mr. Patterson, of Ft. Worth, Texas, received his BA in ME and MM in Theory and Composition at Texas Christian University, and a MM in Music History and Musicology at North Texas State. He has completed all work toward his Ph.D. (except the dissertation) at FSU.

He served in the 7th Division Band at Camp Robertson, California. While there, he held the rank of Sgt. He was Asst. Conductor, the Troop Information and Education Non Commissioned Officer, and section leader of the band's trumpet section.

He served two years playing viola and trumpet with the Dallas Symphony; five and a half years in the Ft. Worth Opera Orchestra. He has also served with the Wichita Falls Symphony and the Shreveport Opera Orchestra.

He will be teaching woodwinds and Theory and private lessons here at Teachers College. This is his seventh year as a college instructor. Mr. Patterson is an avid photographer.

The Music students are happy to welcome back Mr. Jack Broucek who has been at FSU on a year's leave of absence—working of his Doctorate. He has completed all the requirements except the dissertation.

Dr. Hooley, who spent the summer teaching piano at Teachers College, Columbia University in N.Y.C., and Mr. Broucek are planning a two-piano recital in November. This will be their sixth recital together, though they have appeared together for such gatherings as the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and with the Savannah Symphony. They performed for the Community Concert Association Membership Campaign on Radio Station WWNS, Sunday p.m., September 28.

ATTENTION MUSICAL LOVERS!!

Tickets for the all-star concert series are again being offered to students and faculty at G.T.C. at a reduced rate. A few of the attractions for this year: Vienns Boys Choir, the Melanchrino Strings, and others.

For tickets and further information, see David Powers or Dr. Ronald Neil at the music building.
