Georgia Southern University Offering Variety of Summer Camps for Children to Enjoy

APRIL 2, 2009

Children looking for something to do this summer will find plenty of fun and educational enrichment opportunities at Georgia Southern University.

More than 30 different science, fine arts and sports camp programs will be offered for kids 4-18 this summer at Georgia Southern. Several are day camps, while others are overnight camps.

Parents can one-stop shop on Georgia Southern's website to find all the information they need about camps that might interest their children. For more information on registration, dates and fees, visit: <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu/summercamp>.

Children can participate in a number of science camps this summer, including laboratory explorations in biology, physics, chemistry, computers, mathematics, geology, and eco-friendly wildlife.

Fine arts camps will be offered in visual arts, literary arts and performing arts.

Children who enjoy sports can participate in football, basketball, soccer, baseball and softball camps.

Georgia Southern University, a Carnegie Doctoral/Research University, offers 116 degree programs serving nearly 18,000 students. Through eight colleges, the University offers bachelors, masters and doctoral degree programs built on more than a century of academic achievement. The University, one of Georgia's largest, is a top choice of Georgia's HOPE scholars and is recognized for its student-centered approach to education. Visit: www.georgiasouthern.edu.
