You Live, You Lose: Supporting Youths on Their Journeys in the Land of the Loss

Gary W. Mauk
The University of North Carolina at Pembroke, gary.mauk@uncp.edu

M. Bruce Garris
Coastal Southeastern United Care, bruce.garris@yahoo.com

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/nyar_savannah

Part of the Developmental Psychology Commons, School Psychology Commons, and the Student Counseling and Personnel Services Commons

Recommended Citation
Mauk, Gary W. and Garris, M. Bruce, "You Live, You Lose: Supporting Youths on Their Journeys in the Land of the Loss" (2016).
https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/nyar_savannah/2016/148

This presentation (open access) is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences & Events at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in National Youth-At-Risk Conference Savannah by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.
You Live, You Lose: Supporting Youths on Their Journeys in the Land of the Loss

Monday, March 7, 2016
27th Annual National Youth-At-Risk (NYAR) Conference
Savannah, GA

Presenters:
Gary W. Mauk, Ph.D., NCSP
The University of North Carolina at Pembroke – School of Education and
M. Bruce Garris, M.A.Ed., LPC, NCC
Coastal Southeastern United Care, Wilmington, NC

Recommended Books

Siwajian, A., Vann, T., & Middle School Kids. (2013). A different way to grieve: Journal and activities for middle-school kids, by middle-school kids. Omaha, NE: Centering Corporation.

 The Reverse Side of This Handout Contains a Listing of Additional Resources. ***
Recommended Articles

Recommended Book Chapters

Recommended Websites

www.dougy.org

Founded in 1982, The Dougy Center for Grieving Children, a non-profit organization that is totally privately supported and does not charge a fee for services, was the first center in the United States to provide peer support groups for grieving children.

http://americanhospice.org/grieving-children/

The American Hospice Foundation (AHF) supports programs that serve the needs of terminally ill and grieving individuals of all ages.

www.griefspeaks.com/index.html

Maintained by a counselor/grief recovery specialist, the Grief Speaks website contains a compendium of loss- and grief-related information.

www.rainbows.org

Rainbows is the largest international children’s charity dedicated solely to helping youth successfully navigate the very difficult grief process.

www.familiesnearandfar.org/resources/grief/

The information and resources on the Sesame Street “Families Near and Far” webpages were created specifically to help parents and caregivers face the challenges of military-related deployments, homecomings, changes, and grief.

www.grievingstudents.org and http://grievingstudents.scholastic.com/

The Coalition to Support Grieving Students was convened by the New York Life Foundation and the National Center for School Crisis and Bereavement, which is led by David J. Schonfeld, M.D. Working with Scholastic, Inc., the Coalition has developed a practitioner-oriented website – www.grievingstudents.org – to provide educators with information, perspectives, and pragmatic advice that they need to understand and address the needs of grieving youths in our nation’s classrooms more efficaciously.