You and your colleagues are invited to a CRL Collections and Services Webinar, designed to help CRL libraries and faculty optimize their unlimited access to CRL resources by providing a detailed overview of our collections; cost-saving programs and services; how-to information on cooperative collection programs, digitization programs, ILL practices; and other opportunities.

This webinar also serves as an excellent introduction to CRL for institutions contemplating a CRL membership. I hope you, your staff, and interested faculty can fit this no-cost event into your schedules – despite the short notice and any time zone differences.

The webinar is scheduled for Wednesday, May 11, 2011, from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 Eastern Time. The online registration form is located at http://www.crl.edu/events/7147. After you submit the online form, you will receive an email reply containing the information needed to login and participate. We look forward to your participation in this important event.

Please feel free to forward this information to your colleagues, faculty, and other prospective user groups. If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions, please do not hesitate to contact me at ddyer@crl.edu.

Thank you for your support of CRL resource-sharing enterprises.

GSU’s Extraordinary Auxiliary Library Now Available via GALILEO

Recently Henderson Library has become a member of the Center for Research Libraries (CRL), a partnership of more than 250 university, college, and independent research libraries. The Center for Research Libraries for 60-plus years has acquired and preserved traditional and digital resources for research and teaching and has made them available to member institutions through interlibrary loan and electronic delivery.

For researchers at member institutions, CRL functions as an auxiliary library of extraordinary resources with user-focused policies, practices, and services including:

• Unlimited access to CRL’s corpus of five million items
• Project-length loan privileges
• Third-day delivery on the vast majority of interlibrary loans
• Demand Purchase Program ~ Enables university researchers to request purchases up to $2,000 annually in three areas: foreign dissertations, newspapers, and archival material

CRL collection strengths are diverse and highly developed, including:

• Largest collection of circulating newspapers in North America
  ~ 6,500 international newspapers
  ~ 2,500 U.S. newspapers, many dating to the colonial era.
  ~ 2,000 U.S. ethnic titles
  ~ About 5,000 Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camp newspapers and newsletters.
• More than 38,000 foreign journals that are rarely held in U.S. libraries.
• More than 800,000 foreign dissertations—mostly from European institutions.
• Area Studies ~ Major microform and paper collections from Africa, Latin America, Middle East, Europe, Asia, Southeast Asia, and more.
• In-depth holdings that support research in history of science, economics, law and government, immigration and population studies, international diplomacy, cultural studies, and more.
