Christmas Tree Lighting will be Thursday Night

The annual Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony will be held Thursday night at 7 P.M. in front of the Frank I. Williams Student Center, according to L. W. Hartley, president of the Student Congress.

The Lighting is sponsored by the Student Congress. Dean Paul F. Carroll will give the invocation. The Christmas message will be delivered by Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the college.

Music for the ceremony will be provided by the GSC choir under the direction of Don Northrip, assistant professor of Music. Mrs. Zach Henderson will accompany the choir on the accordion.

Selections to be sung by the choir include "Lo How A Rose Ere Blooming" by Praetories, "Carol of the Bells" by Leonovitch, "Salvation Is Created" by Tschesnokoff, and "Glory to God" by Pergolesi.

During the performance, by the choir, Dean Ralph K. Tyson will throw the switch to light the huge oak Christmas tree.

This is the fifth annual Christmas Tree Lighting. The ceremony was begun in 1960 by Dean Carolyn C. Gettys and has now become a tradition on the GSC campus. Last year approximately one thousand students attended the ceremony.

LAMAR DODD

Regents Professor Coming For Sculpture, Art Lecture

Artist Lamar Dodd, Regent's Professor of Art at the University of Georgia, will present an illustrated lecture on the great works of art of all times in McCroan Auditorium Monday at 8:15 p.m.

The slide lecture will include famous works in painting, sculpture, architecture and the decorative arts. Dodd's appearance marks the first attraction in a series sponsored by the Campus Life Enrichment Committee.

The artist was educated at the Georgia Institute of Technology and the Art Students League of New York. He joined the faculty of the University of Georgia in 1937 and is now chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

Dodd's paintings have won major awards and purchase prizes, including those from the Chicago Art Institute; "Paintings of the Year" Exhibitions; National Academy of Design; Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts; and the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

He is represented in collections in the Metropolitan Museum of Art; Whitney Museum of American Art; the Cranbrook Museum; Rochester Memorial Art Gallery; Virginia Museum; Wilmington Society of Fine Arts; the IBM collection; and in other public and private collections. His work has appeared in major exhibitions in the United States and Europe.

The Carnegie Corporation's Study of the Arts of the United States, which embraced sual and Applied Arts, was accomplished under Dodd's direction. The study resulted in the publication of a book and production of 4,100 color slides.

He also coordinated the "Forum" series of lectures in the Visual Arts for the Voice of America and was a subject for ABC's "Meet the Professor" broadcast.

Appointed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to the U. S. Advisory Committee on the Arts, Dodd also served on the Humanities Program Committee of the Cooperative Educational Television Board of the U. S. and Canada. He was president of the College Art Association.

LaVista to Become Men's Dorm; Girls Told To Move Out

By HOYT CANADY
Associate Editor

Women currently residing in LaVista Hall will have to find new living accommodations for winter quarter because the off-campus facility is being changed to a dormitory for men.

Kay Carpenter, president of the LaVista Hall House Council, said the residents of the dormitory were informed of this by House Director Marion Hornsby Sunday night when the girls returned from Thanksgiving holidays.

"Everyone was upset at first," Miss Carpenter said. She added that several of the residents have already applied for rooms in other off-campus facilities.

She went on to say that she had met with Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, dean of students, because "we were told to vacate at the request of the school."

Miss Carpenter also said she requested a meeting with W. W. Woodcock, owner of LaVista

Hal, at the dormitory so that the situation could be clarified with all the girls present.

This reporter was granted permission by the owner to attend the meeting of Tuesday evening, but permission was withdrawn; and The George-Anne's presence was denied by the owner, despite the request of the House Council, shortly before the meeting began.

After the meeting Miss Carpenter said that Woodcock informed the residents of LaVista that the school had advised him of a shortage in men's housing facilities.

However, she said Woodcock stated the decision to change occupancy of the dormitory from women to men was the owner's and not the school's.

She also said the residents of LaVista were required to sign contracts at the beginning of fall quarter stating that they would remain residents of that dormitory as long as they were students at Georgia Southern College.

However, Miss Carpenter stated that Woodcock told them Tuesday night the contracts were not binding. "We were not informed that the contracts were invalid before this," she added.

Miss Carpenter went on to say

Dance Climaxes UMOC Contest

By BUCKY WATSON

A dance at the National Guard Armory tonight will climax Alpha Phi Omega's 1964 "Ugly Man On Campus" contest.

Crowning of the most Ugly man will highlight the dance which will feature "The Revlons," a six-piece band from Augusta. The band appeared at Georgia Southern several weeks ago and has performed at various colleges throughout Georgia.

Several organizations and dormitories have sponsored candidates to represent them in the contest. The winner, chosen by the student body according to the amount of money each candidate collected, will receive a trophy with his name and the name of his organization or dormitory inscribed.

A penny constituted one vote with the proceeds going to the Interdenominational Chapel Fund.

The dance will last from 8 to 12 p.m. Late permits will be granted to all girls attending the dance. Dress will be coat and tie for boys and casual for girls.

Tickets are $2.50 in advance and $3.00 at the door. They will be on sale in the lobby of the Student Center today.

New Women's Dorm Planned

By PAUL HALPERN
Managing Editor

The second of two women's dormitories scheduled to be built during Georgia Southern's current $6 million building program will be under construction sometime in early March of 1965 at a cost of $600,000.

Final plans and specifications for the three-story, 250 capacity co-ed dormitory will be up before the monthly meeting of the Board of Regents in Atlanta on Wednesday by Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the college.

Advertising for bids on the construction is slated for early January. The building will be built on the campus side of the other women's dormitory on Georgia Avenue.

"This building will be almost an exact duplicate of the other women's dormitory with one major exception," stated Dr. Henderson. "This dormitory will have the back left open for an additional wing to house another fifty students if need arises."

The dormitory is expected to be ready for use by the spring or summer quarter of 1966. Architect for the building is the firm of Cunningham and Fourhand of Atlanta.

Also scheduled to come up before the Board meeting are the final plans and specifications for the new men's dormitory which will be situated across the road from the two co-ed dorms on Georgia Avenue and preliminary plans for the new dining hall.

Larry Dial won several awards recently in an art exhibition held in Convington. He received the first place award in charcoals over several hundred other entries. He also received a high rating for an oil painting. Larry is a senior art education major from Covington.

DID YOU EVER CONFESS YOUR SINS?

Coming before God with an humble and contrite heart and asking God's forgiveness is an act that bothers some folks.

Episcopalians believe it's part of being a Christian. We believe it's important enough to go beyond the few words of confession contained in the Lord's Prayer.

You don't agree? All right, think of it this way.

God has given us a way of life. Our Lord said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

If we haven't done these things—as positive action—we have sinned against God and man. And we need God's forgiveness and receiving from the priest the assurance that God does forgive. Private confession to your priest isn't required, but it is there if you desire this means of Grace and definite assurance of forgiveness.

Why don't you join us in the Episcopal Church? You'll find that "confession is good for the soul."

Completion of Library Wing Expected By Spring of 1965

By LYDIA PHILLIPS
Staff Writer

"We hope to move in the minimum amount of time and with the least inconvenience to the students and other library patrons," stated Miss Hassie McElveen, head librarian, in commenting on the new addition to the library which is expected to be completed by spring quarter of next year.

Most of the books will be moved into the new building with the old building becoming a reference department. The downstairs of the current library is to be divided into service areas.

Included in this will be a Library Science classroom under the direction of Mrs. Griner, a newspaper storage room, a work room, an Audio Visual room, four musical listening rooms, two conference rooms, a typing room, a faculty-staff lounge fully equipped with stove, sink and lounge chairs, a faculty study and men's and women's restrooms.

STAIRWAY

A wall at the far end of the first floor of the current building will be knocked out and an enclosed stairway will adjoin the rear of the second floor. All entrances except those in the new building will be closed, including the present front of the library.

The first floor of the new wing will contain the circulation desks, the receptionists, the librarians office and the cataloging and receiving areas. The books will be located on the second floor. Stairways will be located at each end of the wing and a service elevator in the rear.

MORE PERSONNEL

Miss McElveen also stated that "there will be an addition of personnel because of the various service points added." She did not comment on the specific need at present.

The new wing will have entrances from the front and rear with the front of the building being completely enclosed by glass.

Since the first part of July of this year over 2,000 books have been added to the library. This number is expected to increase with the addition of the new wing.

Problem Exists For Co-Eds

LaVista Hall will be changed from a women's residence to a dormitory for men, effective the beginning of winter quarter; and this change marks one of the first major problems to arise in the area of off-campus housing.

As we understand it, the decision to change the occupancy of the dormitory was that of the owner and not necessarily that of the college. The George-Anne does not question the right of the owner to make this change. LaVista is his facility, and his decision to make a change regarding student housing is subject only to permission of the college.

However, a problem exists for the 27 women students residing in LaVista. They were not informed of the change until they returned from the Thanksgiving Holidays — just less than a month before the end of the quarter. In this short time, with final exams approaching and other applications for winter quarter housing already being processed, they must find other living accommodations for the rest of the year.

According to the girls occupying LaVista, the residents were required to sign contracts stating that they would remain in LaVista Hall as long as they were students at Georgia Southern, for the academic year. However, they were told that the contracts were invalid Tuesday night.

If off-campus residence owners have this privilege to change their facilities with resulting inconvenience to off-campus students, then certainly parts of the off-campus housing policy needs to be ironed out.

The George-Anne feels that the citizens of Statesboro have cooperated well in providing living quarters for the large number of students who have to live off campus when the college residence halls are filled. However, when some students are faced with the inconvenience of having to change accommodations on such short notice, other students will be somewhat reluctant to the prospect of having to live off campus.

Also, a representative of this newspaper was denied attendance at a meeting of the residents of LaVista Hall and the dormitory's owner. This leads us to believe that further clarification for the benefit of the students is possibly unwanted.

Good Luck Eagles

The tipoff of last night's basketball game between Georgia Southern and Valdosta State officially opened the 1964-'65 basketball season and will begin another year full of intercollegiate competition.

The Eagle cagers will play a 25-game schedule; and before the basketball season is over, GSC's most up and coming sport, gymnastics, will begin its fifth season.

Baseball, tennis, and golf will get underway early in spring quarter, and will close out the athletic season toward the end of the academic year.

As athletics begin another year at Southern, The George-Anne would like to wish each team member, the coaches, the cheerleaders, and all who are concerned with the athletic program at GSC a successful year of competition.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"SOMETIMES I SUSPECT PROFESSOR SNARF'S CRITICISM JUST A WEE BIT HARSH."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Last night a dormitory meeting was called in LaVista Hall. We were informed that the owner of this dormitory, W. W. Woodcock, has made it mandatory for us to vacate LaVista by the end of this quarter so that it can be made into a men's residence hall. We question not only the legality of this "order," but also the inconsiderate manner, with respect to this late date, in which it was presented to us. We object most ardently to this command.

When we applied to LaVista we were required to sign a contract stating we must reside here the entire school year, September, 1964, through June, 1965.

Now it seems Mr. Woodcock is willing to break this contract on the basis of a request from the college that LaVista be converted into a men's dormitory "due to the housing shortage."

The personnel of the school makes it obligatory for girls to live in the same off-campus dormitory all year. We feel that the school is now violating its own policy. There are many housing accommodations which are available to men and are less expensive and offer more advantages than this dormitory. Unfortunately, these units, mostly motels, are not available for women.

Now in the midst of final examinations and the beginning of a new quarter, we are not only asked, but indeed told to immediately vacate our present housing facility and find another place to live.

We feel that we have been our residence rights, and put into a situation which is undefendable and inconsiderate of both the administration and dormitory owner.

Sincerely,
 House Council, as endorsed by La Vista Hall.

To: Mr. Robert Overstreet

I would like to apologize to you and the cast for the gross ill manners of some few of the students of Georgia Southern College. After watching what I felt to be a really fine college production of The Visit last Thursday night at McCroan Auditorium, our attention to the climax of the performance was diverted by a young lady in red who apparently decided the end was near. Completely disrespectful of other people, she and her escort decided to "bug out." Although this ruined the death scene for my wife and myself, and I am sure many others, the disrespect shown to the performers cannot be overlooked. So allow me to apologize for them as I am sure they will not. I am sure, Mr. Overstreet, that this is not typical of the manners of the average Georgia Southern student, although I am many times astounded at these gross ill manners.

Let me finish this by saying that I am sure the production of The Visit will be one of the highlights of the school year. Congratulations, and the hope that future audiences will show more consideration to both the actors and the audience.

HOLTON

Just A Man, An Artist

Monday night will tell the tale. Georgia Southern students will have an opportunity to hear a noted and widely acclaimed artist during the Student Life Enrichment Committee's first presentation of the year.

HOLTON

Although the program will not have the rhythmic twang of a steel guitar or the "yea, yea, yea," voices of top recording groups, it will more adequately reflect upon the cultural purpose of the college community.

Lamar Dodd, a painter whose works have won major awards and purchase prizes, will give a talk on great art, sculpture and architect in McCroan Auditorium, Monday at 8:15 p.m.

As I have said previously, Monday night will indeed tell the tale. For we feel that Georgia Southern students might not realize the significance of having such an authority on campus.

It's not unusual for students to turn out full force for a petty and irrelevant popular song concert or dance. This isn't really unnatural for any group of students. But it is rather discouraging to think that many GSC students restrict themselves solely to such a valueless diet and fail to take advantage of a variety of culturally advantageous opportunities.

Georgia Southern students will have an opportunity to hear a truly great man in the field of art. He will be able, judging by his previous credits and experiences, to offer a rich contribution to the educating of our minds.

We commend the Student Life Enrichment Committee for scheduling such programs. The committee has well assessed the needs of the student body. Whether or not the students take notice of such opportunities will be something to tell in the future.

A fine program is in store for the college on Monday night. Don't go expecting to hear jazzy music or to see bright lights. But you can expect to see into the mind of an artist, a teacher and traveled man, Lamar Dodd. Don't miss him!

Flag-Waving Hysteria Acts Offer Only Fear, Distrust

ATTENTION ALL COMMUNIST FIGHTERS, SUPER PATRIOTS, AND 110% AMERICANS!

If you really hate (and fear) that creeping socialistic monster in Washington, that one-world menace, and that radical, liberal Supreme Court, then you cannot afford to miss this once in a life time offer. Other groups such as Minutemen, the John Birch Society, and the Ku Klux Klan have offered moderation.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF HYSTERIA offers you the opportunity for a real fight against the Communist Conspiracy. Moreover, the whole family can have fun fighting Communists together, through our auxiliary organization, DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN RED SCARE, and our youth organization YOUNG BOMBERS FOR FREEDOM.

FAMILY PLAN

This family plan offers many benefits not found elsewhere. For example we have instituted a "Share the Communist Plan," whereby you can have the right to a Communist yourself.

It is the opinion of the NAAH that it is a violation of CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEED freedoms to say that only the FBI and trained experts should fight Communists. Ban together before the right to throw rocks at presidents, hit ambassadors with placards, or call people communist, pinko's, and leftists is taken away.

For college students we have a special introduction rate of only $25 a year which includes a directory of known communists at YOUR college. As a special bonus you will receive autographed photos of Daniel Smut, Red Hunt, General George Washington, and A5 Surd.

HATE

For an additional fee you may subscribe to our monthly magazine, Hate, which includes such great articles as: "I Found a Communist Under my Ash Tray," "The Lunchroom Communist Menace," "Why I don't Wear Red Underwear," "Fluridation and the Murder of Millions," "Proof Positive—Abraham Lincoln was a Communist," "How to Start a Rumor," and "Who says Hate Can't be Fun."

Ridiculous? Yes, but unfortunately not so ridiculous as one might think. The question of Communism and its threat to our system is serious, perhaps too serious for frivolities.

EXAMINATION

For the past several issues we have examined the internal threat of communism and discussed some popular misconceptions. In doing so we have dwelt rather heavily on the ultra-right wing movement in this country. Our reason for doing so is simple.

The obstacle these people present to the effective fighting of Communism is no laughing matter. Communism can never be defeated by screaming epithets and wild accusations.

The super patriots unwittingly aid Communism. The communist aid and abet such organizations since they produce the type of unrest and dissension upon which communism thrives. The Communist party in this country is small, and has little appeal because of the absence of widespread unrest.

EFFECTIVENESS

The most effective way to fight communism is to be aware of the threat, recognize this danger and leave Communist fighting to the FBI and other governmental or-

In the past couple of years a new phenomenon has appeared all over the world: an irrepressible drive for education and knowledge. This avalanche made humorists predict that in 1970 there will be more students than ganizations capable of dealing with such complex problems.

We live under the finest system of government in the world. We cannot afford to take a chance with that system in a moment of flag-waving hysteria searching for enemies we cannot recognize. The most such a display can offer is distrust, fear, hate, uncertainty, and unrest.

Computer Service Brings Many New Conveniences

by WINFRED L. GODWIN
Director, Southern Regional Education Board

A large part of the nation bestirred itself, upset its usual routine and went out to vote in the recent election. Amid this flurry of activity, some imaginative Americans were dreaming of the day when ballots could be cast at home in the living room. This is just one of the possible conveniences of the coming age of computers.

Voting at home via computer was described by David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America, as being technically feasible for the future. Each person would have a personal computer-code number and, after watching a how-to-vote demonstration on television, the American voter could dial a special telephone line to a computer, identify himself by number and cast a ballot. The machine would automatically check his number and verify his voting eligibility.

Computer "convenience" is education may be just around the corner. Beginning next fall, students who miss classes at Ithaca College, or whose class notes aren't very good, can telephone a number in the computer center and hear a recording of the class lecture. And students won't even have to leave their dormitory rooms to get the service.

COMPUTER SERVICE

Southern universities are already making good use of computing devices for detail jobs—class scheduling, payroll preparation and fiscal operations. The big university computer centers are also doing public service such as the new $3 million center at the University of Georgia which prepares long-range weather analyses for NASA and works out class schedules for high schools around the state. It can perform 100 to 150 jobs a day and it receives remote-control communications from various parts of the campus.

Southern universities also are using computers for a variety of studies. Planned for the University of Miami's new million-dollar computing facility are such diverse projects as hurricane research, economic fluctuations and analysis of drug reactions. The University of Texas has computerized data on election statistics back to 1944. Georgia Tech is studying the noise factor in an analog computer simulation of space flight and the University of North Carolina has used computers to determine cobalt dosage for cancer treatment. Hundreds of other computer studies are underway.

CLASSROOM USE

Potential classroom use of computers promise freedom from some routine educational chores. By use of computerized techniques, students can be drilled, tested and supplied with correct answers. Youngsters will be able to learn—at their own speed—subjects which depend on assimilating a set body of knowledge.

The machine will not replace the teacher but it will release educators for more important tasks—planning, evaluation and interpretation.

Possible future uses of computers stretch the imagination. The recent advances in input and output techniques eliminate the necessity for each institution or community to have its own computer center. Information can be transmitted by telephone—across the street or across the county—directly into the computer.

LONG-DISTANCE

Long-distance transmission of information allows a high degree of specialization on computer centers. Some jobs can best be done by digital computers—those which receive information translated into digits or numbers. Some sophisticated studies require analog computers, which can accept information transmitted in any measurable quantity, such as voltages, rotations and the like.

Through enlightened use, computers can become our finest tools, solving mysteries of the physical world and helping with daily chores. They invade individualism only when man allows his imagination to grow rusty, and as long as scientists are dreaming up new computerized conveniences, man will be master of the electronic machines.

Colleges spill over as new dormitories and new libraries are sprouting from the ground like mushrooms. Authorities have sleepless nights: "How can we handle this 'levee en masse'?" Newspapers and magazines goad this movements by advertising: "High School education insufficient. Only college graduates can be considered."

LUTZ SEIDEL

COLLEGE AN ASYLUM

College seems to become more and more an asylum for those who don't want to get a job and work, be it to maintain the family tradition of going to College or be it to enjoy college life with its various amenities. Fortunately there are enough students who have realized that the future won't be determined by hedonism but by knowledge and science.

The majority which is working even over the weekends consists of young people who are concerned about their own future and the future of the nation. They know that prosperity and social security won't last for ever.

But this ambitious and diligent group is discouraged and impeded by those who are not here for academic reasons. This group is aware of the fact that people in other parts of the world are working—especially in Russia. The present competition all over the world as well as the subversive tendencies of communism should forbid these individuals to be here just "to have a good time."

SEPARATION

The elite of the nation (meaning not only a few eggheads and high-brows but a willing, determined and diligent potential) should be separated from those who are not here for academic reasons, but who have a right to be here because they have paid.

The educational budget would definitely allow a special handling and guidance of those people, who are prepared, capable and willing to guide later on the people as teachers, lawyers, doctors and politicians. In my eyes their talents are stifled by the decadent influence of a spoiled clique which might infect the others.

PRIVILEGE

College today is no more a privilege of selected people to whose hands the nation used to be confided, but time and development have made it a commonplace.

In other parts of the world, Russia and also Germany they are separating the potential elite of the nation. The method in my country—Germany—is that we don't make our High School compulsory. The social status is not decisive, as it used to be.

Children of the poorest families are guaranteed an education if their mental abilities which are assessed by tests, promise any success. Decisive is intellect, not money or social status.

The rush period will begin the second week in January and continue until the twentieth of that month when the pledges will be inducted. Approximately 25 boys will be asked to join the fraternity in the upcoming quarter.

Phi Mu Alpha is looking forward to their concert-dance with the Bill Black Combo and Jay and the Americans which will be in the Hanner gym Dec. 9. This fraternity has already made plans to have similar dances with the Four Seasons and Kingsmen appearing.

'Toys For Joy' Drive Coming Up

Students and organizations are asked to participate in the Toys for Joy campaign sponsored by Delta Pi Alpha in connection with the Statesboro Jaycees.

The campaign will continue until Dec. 17. During this time there will be a special box in the Student Center in which students are requested to submit toys for this drive.

The fraternity has requested that each campus organization donate five toys to this project. The DPA's will also have a door-to-door community drive in the effort to supply needy children with toys for Christmas.

There will be a Santa Claus at Wendy's Restaurant. The brothers will take turns impersonating St. Nick.

Bill Eberheart, publicity chairman, said "We hope each student will join in and make this a joyous Christmas for underprivileged children."

King's Korner

By TOM KING, Sports Editor

As one looks back on the past college gridiron season he can truthfully say it was one of many up-sets.

The biggest surprise of the year came last Saturday when Southern California knocked off top-ranked Notre Dame, 20-17. The Irish, headed for a national championship, had to take a back seat as the Trojans put forth a real team effort by scoring 20 points in the last half to claim the victory.

Georgia, who edged out arch-rival Georgia Tech, 7-0, received an invitation to play Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl. The Bulldogs slammed the door in the Yellow Jacket's face and enabled head coach Vince Dooley to gain his first victory over Tech in his first year as head mentor. The Bullpups also came through with a surprising win over the Tech frosh, 7-6.

With All-American Quarterback Roger Staubach back at full speed, Navy was picked to beat the Cadets of Army. Coach Paul Dietzel and his boys had other ideas as they upset "Jolly Roger" and the Middies, 11-8. When Coach Wayne Hardin, head mentor at Annapolis, took over his present position he was six games down in the annual classic. Last week he had hoped to even the series but his hopes were spoiled as Army breezed to victory.

Bowl Selections

In the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California, it will be Michigan against Oregon State. My pick: Michigan by three. The Cotton Bowl will see Arkansas battle Nebraska. Being almost evenly matched, I rate this one as a tossup.

At Miami, Fla. on Jan. 1 first-ranked Alabama of Coach Bear Bryant, going for its second national championship in four years will meet the Loghorns of Texas. With the passing of All-American Joe Namath, I will give the Crimson Tide twelve.

Syracuse and LSU will lock horns in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La. with the Bengal Tigers picked as slight favorites. The Gator Bowl sees FSU square off against Oklahoma. In this one I'll give the Seminoles a slight edge.

DUNKEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL INDEX

EXPLANATION — The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin relative to index of opposition, and is weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of equal strength. It was originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

Armenio And Brown Continue To Dominate T-P League Averages

By PAUL ALLEN
Staff Writer

Bob Armenio and Babs Brown shattered the pins Tuesday evening in Eagle Ten-Pinners League Action with games of 209 and 177, respectively.

These two, in combining their bowling talents, led their team, the Kingpinners, to high game and high series laurels with 638 and 1780.

With one week remaining, the Eagle Ten-Pinners League finds Armenio and Brown on top in the men's and women's high individual average departments with 174 and 157.

This week's honor roll includes: Bob Armenio, 538; Carol Frankum, 482; Babs Brown 455; and Martha Lansford, 416.

The Kingpinners, by winning six of eight total points, have mathematically clinched first place honors. Second place is still up for grabs with no less than six teams challenging for the spot.

Team standings: Kingpinners, 50-14; Strikeless Kings, 42-30; Fastbacks, 40-32; Pen-Pushers, 38-34; Tigers, 36-36; Four Aces, 32-32; Alley-Katz, 30-34; Lane-Brains, 28-44; and Ten-Pins, 24 40.

Next Tuesday climaxes bowling for the fall quarter and trophies will be awarded to members of the winning and runner-up teams. Individual trophies will be awarded to members of the winning and runner-up teams. Individual trophies will also be given for high average, high series and high game, including handicap for both men and women. The most improved bowler from last quarter's action will receive a gold pin.

Last week's action saw Armenio and Carolyn Cramer take high game honors for the evening with 198 and 179.

The Kingpinners captured the high team game, 646, and high team series, 1848. The team consists of three of the top four league bowlers and is therefore the best scratch team competing.

The honor roll for the week of Nov. 24 includes: Bob Armenio, 525; Babs Brown, 473; Martha Lansford, 456; Carolyn Cramer, 423; and Margie Winn, 415.

The bowling averages this quarter are running relatively lower than normal. Many men bowlers usually have averages above 150, but this quarter only four men, Armenio, Bob Lackey, Paul Allen and Cliff Lowden have entered this category.

Eagle Gymnasts Perform For Students In Annual Exhibition

The Eagle gymnasts held the annual home show Monday and Tuesday nights in the Alumni Gym.

Coach Pat Yeager stated that the GSC gymnastics team looked exceptionally good considering the Thanksgiving layoff.

Yeager added that he was sorry for some of the unavoidable technical difficulties which occurred Monday night.

The show, accompanied by music and dialogue, featured inroductions, demonstrations, and the Living Statuary.

The highlight of Monday night's show was the setting of a new GSC rope climbing record by Co-Captain Bill Aldrich, a Jr. from Statesboro.

He climbed 3.4, breaking his own previous record of 3.5, and just .6 of a second off the world record.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all you wonderful people from Georgia Southern for the many kind things you did for us in our great loss.

Your visits, cards, letters and prayers have meant more to us than you can ever know. Our prayer is that all of you will live for Christ now as Lamar did.

Anything can happen as you can see. Lamar dearly loved his school. We have a little girl, Linda Sue, who will enter Georgia Southern next September. It is her desire to finish what Lamar started—to graduate from Georgia Southern.

Again we say, "God bless every one of you. We love you all dearly."

SANFORD

The boys in Sanford Hall are going to enter the festivities with a party downstairs. Refreshments, Christmas carols, decorations and several types of entertainment from various campus groups are on the agenda. Mrs. George, the house director, will give the Christmas story and there are hopes of having a hall choir.

Sports Editor

Tom King, freshman English major from Macon, has been appointed Sports Editor of the George-Anne.

Editor Tommy Holton stated that King would assume the position made vacant by the death of Lamar Harris several weeks ago.

that Woodcock assured the LaVista residents that they would be given the same roommates and that they could remain together in another off-campus facility.

However, she said she has received no such assurance from either the college or any owner of another off-campus facility.

LaVista Hall was constructed in 1963 and was opened as an off-campus women's residence hall in the fall of that year.

The single-story dormitory has a capacity for housing 38 students. It is presently occupied by 27 GSC women.

Dodd has traveled extensively in the U. S., Europe, and Asia, and represented in United States in Russia on the first cultural exchange. In May, 1963, he was one of six artists invited by NASA to depict the orbital flight of Astronaut Gordon Cooper.

EXPLANATION — The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin relative to index of opposition, and is weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of equal strength. It was originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

Note: In the game listings below 4.0 has been added to the regular rating of each home team.
