Homecoming Festivities Begin Today

New 'Miss GSC' To Be Crowned Here Tonight

Fifteen Beauties Are Seeking Title

Fifteen contestants will vie for the title of 'Miss GSC of 1965' when Alpha Rho Tau's annual Beauty Revue gets underway tonight at 7:30 p.m. in McCroan Auditorium.

"Champagne Flight" has been chosen as the theme of the contest.

The new queen will be chosen by out-of-town judges. A tea held Friday afternoon in Cone Hall will give the judges an opportunity to meet the contestants.

"Miss GSC of 1965" will be crowned by Patsy Symons, first runner-up in last year's contest.

The contestants competing for the title of "Miss GSC" are as follows:

Students Have Choice Of Beauty Revue, Parade, Dances, Sports

Homecoming '65 made a pre-opener debut last night with the Student Congress concert and festivities will get underway full force today.

Kicking off today's activities, a parade through downtown Statesboro will begin at 3:30 p.m. Floats will be judged during the parade. Organization displays will be judged in Sweetheart Circle at 4 p.m. Awards for the most original float and display will be presented during halftime at the basketball game tomorrow night.

A tea for the contestants in the Beauty Revue will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in Cone Hall. Mrs. Maude Davis will be hostess.

The Beauty Revue will be staged on tonight at 7:30 in McCroan Auditorium. A dance featuring Dee Clark takes place after the Revue at the National Guard Armory on U. S. Highway 301.

SATURDAY

Saturday's activities will begin with an alumni coffee from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Hendricks Hall. Mrs. Archie Jackson will act as hostess.

Tomorrow morning the Alumni will meet with the senior class in a general assembly in McCroan Auditorium at 11 a.m. Saturday afternoon the Eagle gymnastics team will take on Auburn University in the Alumni Building at 2 p.m.

The Freshman basketball team will meet South Georgia College in a preliminary game at 6:30 p.m.

SUNDAY SERVICE

Homecoming activities will be concluded Sunday morning at 11 a.m. with a religious service in McCroan Auditorium.

The Rev. Willis Moore is in charge of the service. Dr. Zach S. Henderson will be the speaker.

Music will be provided by the Philharmonic Choir accompanied by Jerry Elmgren at the organ.

EAGLE BAIT

The varsity Eagles will take on arch-rival Oglethorpe University tomorrow night at 8 in the Hanner Gym. Half-time ceremonies will feature the presentation of Student Congress and Circle K display and float awards.

A dance will be held after the game in the Alumni Gym. There will be an open house for freshmen at Lewis Hall and closed fraternity parties at the National Guard Armory.

Homecoming activities will end on Sunday with a worship service in McCroan Auditorium at 11 a.m. President Zach S. Henderson will speak.

Student Congress Asked To Manage Dining Hall Line

The Student Congress was asked in a meeting last Thursday night by Student Center Director C. R. Pound to handle the dining hall linebreaking problem.

Pound stated that he felt that the students could handle the problem better themselves than could any administrative efforts.

He pointed out that line monitors had not been used too successfully last year. He said that monitors had taken personal criticism and abuse because of their jobs.

He placed emphasis on the fact that various methods of relieving the situation had been experimented with and a satisfactory solution to the problem had not been reached.

The Student Congress said that they would discuss the problem in their next meeting.

Congress meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursday nights at 7 p.m. in room 111 of the Student Center. President L. W. Hartly has stated that the meetings are open for student body attendance.

Augusta Firm Wins Building Contract On New Dormitories

An Augusta building firm has won the contracts for construction of two new dormitories on the Georgia Southern campus.

Claussen-Webster Construction Co. made the lowest bid on both the proposed new men's dormitory and women's dormitory, according to President Zach S. Henderson.

One of nine bidders on the men's dormitory, the Augusta firm entered a low bid of $626,450 in Atlanta on Jan. 19 to win the contract. The high bid was $768,000.

A low bid of $734,450 was submitted on the new women's dormitory by the same company. This was the lowest of eight bids submitted. High bid on the dorm was $818,473.

Part of the present building program, the two new dorms will house 250 men and women each.

Completion of the two buildings is expected to be within one year.

Presently under construction on the GSC campus is a 300-women dormitory, a new library annex and a new classroom building.

Bids on a new dining hall, science building and addition to the Hanner gym are expected to be let sometimes in October of this year.

The $17 million proposed building program will add 22 structures to the Southern campus.

Alumni Association Schedules Meet With Seniors Tomorrow

The Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting at 11 a.m. Saturday in McCroan Auditorium according to Alumni President Ray Wilson.

Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the college, will deliver the keynote address. Dr. Henderson will give an informative talk on the plans and aspirations of Georgia Southern College.

This will be the first meeting of the association since the adoption of their comprehensive state-wide constitution. New officers for the coming year will be elected and the new constitution will be read.

Following President Henderson's address, Jimmy Rainwater

President of the Senior Class, will discuss why a GSC Senior needs to become an active alumnus after graduation.

For the first time, the Senior Class has been invited to meet with the GSC alumni in the hopes that each member will become interested in the Association, its plans and purposes, Wilson added.

"The Alumni Association strives to provide an agency through which all GSC alumni may be united as a live and coherent body. Through an active interest of the Alumni in the College and an even more responsive Alumni Association, Georgia Southern College will become a major institution," Wilson said.

Coeds Will Be Given Late Permits

Rules for women students during the Homecoming weekend were released this week by Dean of Women Carolyn Gettys.

Dress for homecoming activities Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights will be "dressy casuals." This would include suits and heels.

Girls will not be allowed to wear slacks or Bermudas on Saturday because of the presence of guests on campus. Regular school clothes will be appropriate for the gym meet on Saturday afternoon.

Women may obtain late permits on Friday and Saturday nights. Residence halls will close at 1:30 a.m. Friday night and 1 a.m. Saturday night. The dorms will close at the regular time on Thursday night.

INSIDE THE G-A

This is the George-Anne homecoming 'display'. Inside you will find feature stories on such topics as the teacher education approval, India college affiliation, 'Miss GSC' contestants, a building progress report and the annual George-Anne story.

Dining Hall Explained To Be 'Self-Supporting Enterprise'

Student Center Director C. R. Pound told the Student Congress in a meeting last Thursday night that the college dining hall was an auxiliary enterprise and had to be run like a business.

"State taxes pay for general education expenses. Auxiliary enterprises such as the dining hall, the bookstore and the snackbar are not financed directly by the state and must pay their own way in salaries and maintenance," he said.

DINING HALL

Commenting specifically on the dining hall, Pound stated that there must be a certain amount of capital funds put aside for operation, salaries, food purchase and general upkeep.

When asked about the number of meals missed by students and if the students were not losing money, he had this to say:

GUARANTEE

"Each student is guaranteed

three meals a day, seven days a week when he pays the $105. We can anticipate certain numbers coming for the various meals, in this way we can budget food purchases and labor."

Continuing he said, "We can give a low price on the meal ticket because we figure that some students will go home on the weekends and some will not eat every meal. If every student ate every meal then the price would be forced up."

ESTIMATE

Giving an estimate, he said that the price of board could be as much as $200 if every student ate every meal.

Pound added that it costs approximately $1,500 a week on kitchen labor, not including students' and dietician salaries. He also said that the college dining hall receives no government subsidies.

The director was asked why students living on campus could not have choice of meal tickets, allowing individual payment.

REPLY

In reply to the question, Pound stated that budgets, past experience and the Board of Regents building program made the present method necessary.

"The administration feels that it is better to be budgetary sound and to be able to offer students the opportunity to attend GSC at the lowest possible cost," he said.

He pointed out that Southern was one of the two lowest expense schools of 22 in the state.

BEST METHOD

He added that the method now being used for dining hall meals was better for the students' own benefit, rather than gamble where it might cost the student more.

It was also pointed out at the meeting that the dining hall is not set up to serve students in the cafeteria style. Different arrangements will be made in the new dining hall.

Director Pound praised the dining hall dietician, Mrs. Webb, saying that she was very profound in insisting on quality in the food selected for the meals.

FULLTIME JOB

He added that it was a full-time job preparing three full meals a day, seven days a week on a budget. This is done in a dining hall designed to seat 500 people and presently having to serve approximately 1,700.

Commenting on profits made from the auxiliary enterprises, Pound stated that such things as the new tennis courts, part of the student center, labor for janitorial service and general maintenance was made possible by these funds.

Miss Chestnut indicated that the unique slogan was a good way of recognizing both the Masquers and the basketball team.

When the George Anne went calling this week this young lady wanted us to do our calling with a telephone . . . not a camera. ## Mariani Elected Vice-Chairman For National Safety Educators

Dr. Thomas J. Mariani, assistant professor of health and physical education, has been elected vice-chairman of the College Safety Education Division of the National Safety Council.

The health and safety educator's responsibilities for the year will include setting up the program for the College Safety Education meeting. The meeting will be held at the National Safety Congress convention scheduled to meet in Chicago, Ill. in October.

In the 1966-67 school year, Dr. Mariani will assume the position of chairman of the same division.

He recently presented a research paper at the National Safety Congress meeting held in Chicago. The title of the paper was "The Effectiveness of Three Methods of Practice Driving Instruction in Driver Education."

Dr. Mariani is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Epsilon Kappa and the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He was named to the 1963 edition of "Who's Who In American Education."

DR. MARIANI

He holds the B. S. degree from the University of Tampa; M. A., University of Florida; and a doctorate in health education from Indiana University.

Home Ec Majors Run For Offices

Two Georgia Southern home economics majors have been nominated for two top offices in the college chapter of the Georgia Home Economics Association.

Rhetta Thompson, junior from Swainsboro, and Ashton Helmly, sophomore from Clio, received nominations in a state nomination committee meeting held Saturday on the GSC campus.

Rhetta was nominated for the office of state president and Ashton received a second vice-presidential nomination.

The election will be held at the state convention scheduled for April 2 and 3.

State officers are elected by delegate votes representing each of the colleges. Each college has one vote, according to chapter president Martha Lamb.

The national president of the college chapters was in attendance at the nominating meeting.

State Department Approves Teacher Education Program

The teacher education program has been granted a full five-year approval to all undergraduate and graduate programs.

The approval is the result of a study made by the State Department of Education in October. It gives full endorsement to all 18 undergraduate programs, 14 graduate, and four six-year areas.

Dr. Starr Miller, chairman of the education division, stated that the state department could approve an area for a full five years, or it could be given a one year approval.

"It's the first time in the history of the college that all undergraduate programs and any graduate fields have been fully approved, he added.

A letter received by GSC President Zach S. Henderson, from H. Titus Singletary, associate state school superintendent lauded the teacher education program at Southern as "exercising real leadership in teacher education in Georgia."

REPORT

The committee report commended the "spirit of continuous evaluation and long-term planning" carried on in the education program.

It called special attention to the rapid expansion of the student body and faculty saying that "While hertofore communication was almost automatic because the institution was small and single purposed, now organized machinery for communicating and discussing policy is needed."

NEED MET

The report continued on to say that such machinery has been developed. It commended the administration for "the very careful and painstaking way they have gone about building the machinery necessary to insure that teacher education continues to be an institution-wide concern."

The committee report stated that the four basic criteria for general education are being well met as a whole but it presented several items for consideration.

EXPANSION

The suggestions called attention to the constant expansion of the student body quantitatively and recommended that stronger minimum admission standards be used to temper the problem.

It recommended that the general education program include a course in the area of Art or Music or an integrated course in this area.

Attention was called to the mathematics part of the general education program. It suggested that it be clarified in light of changes recently made in the public schools.

IMPRESSED

The report stated that the committee was impressed by the quality of the professional sequence for elementary education majors.

The laboratory was lauded as providing quality experiences as suggested by the criteria.

Commendation was also given for the centering responsibility for student teaching in one office.

The committee approved of the efforts to offer "Directed Individual Study" at the sixth year level. The report stated that graduate students should be encouraged to prepare a research study either at the fifth or sixth year level.

WORTHY MENTION

Worthy mention was given to the preparation of junior high school teachers. The study found that "students presently enrolled in the program are "sold" and will undoubtedly recruit others for the program."

Each of the teaching field areas was given careful study. Individual reports were made with suggestions in each area.

STRENGTH

Dr. Miller commented that "The report of the visiting committee and action of the state board of education in making the approval reflects the great strength of the teacher education program at GSC."

He added that GSC generally prepares more teachers than any other college and that the impact will be felt on the public schools of the state.

DR. MILLER EXAMINES COPY OF VISITING COM. REPORT

Special Bishop's Crusade Begins Here On Sunday

The Rev. John Maury Allin, bishop of Mississippi, preaches in McCroan Auditorium beginning Sunday at 8 p.m., in a special Bishop's Crusade revival sponsored by the Statesboro Episcopal church and the diocese of Georgia.

The Rev. Henry I. Louttit Jr., rector of the local church, invites Georgia Southern students of all denominations to attend the worship services each evening Sunday through Thursday. The crusade is a part of an evangelical campaign conducted simultaneously in twelve separate centers in the southern section of Georgia.

Dr. John Graham, of the GSC music division, is in charge of the opening song services each evening, and a brass ensemble, made up of GSC students, will present special music.

Included in the music group are first trumpets, Robert Forbes and Ellis Cannon; second trumpets, Frank Thomas and H. E. Wright; French Horns, Carolyn Moore and Patrice Carrig; trombone, Paul Marrett; and tuba, Tommy Harris.

The Rev. Mr. Louttit points out that the purpose of the crusade is not to foster the Episcopal church, but rather to bring the Gospel of Christ to the people of Georgia. "It is an opportunity," he said, "for all of us to renew our spiritual life."

Bishop Allin is an educator as well as a minister and preacher, Rev. Louttit explained. Before becoming Bishop, he served as chaplain to students at Tulane University and later as president of All Saints Junior College in Vicksburg, Miss.

Smathers, McCall Running In State SNEA Office Election

Two Georgia Southern education students will be running for election to state offices at the Student Georgia Education Association Convention scheduled for Feb. 4-6 at Rock Eagle.

Advisor John Lindsey, assistant professor of education, stated that Ken Smathers and Nancy McCall will be seeking the offices of vice-president and president, respectively.

The convention theme will be "Quest for Quality." The three day meet will feature numerous guest speakers and addresses from student officers.

Mr. Lindsey said that the SGEA will be splitting from the high school Future Teachers of America organization at this meeting.

Six students will accompany Mr. Lindsey to the convention. Robert Stephens, GSC senior math major, presently serves as state president of the organization.

Mr. Lindsey serves as state advisor of SGEA and president of the FTA-SGEA advisors.

Alumni, Give Us A Chapel

Welcome alumni! Instead of devoting editorial space giving you the traditional "we are glad to have you back" statements, we have something to talk to you about.

As you may well know, the Alumni association has had as one of its projects the chapel fund. This money is to be directed toward the construction of an interdenominational chapel on the GSC campus.

The problem is this: there doesn't seem to be too much progress being made toward that goal. The amount of money that has been collected so far is not nearly enough to finance such a structure.

Maybe you have given or maybe you haven't. That's not our direct purpose of confronting you with this problem. We would like to call to your attention the need for a chapel. With the college growing in every direction, physically and academically, there needs to be a place provided for activities in the religious realm. A chapel would, no doubt, be well used.

Presently, students do not have access to such a facility. Religious activities are being carried on in a trailer, and this serves as a combination religious center and office facility.

The George-Anne recognizes the need for a chapel for all faiths. We urge you, the alumni, to help the students by providing such a facility. The state will take care of us academically with facilities. Who will provide facilities for our spiritual needs?

You are the only ones we can count on.

Eagles, Get That 'Bait'

It's not very often that editorial space in the George-Anne is dedicated to Eagle sports; at least, for nothing less than a district or national Championship. However, The George-Anne would like to congratulate the Eagle basketballers for a "job well done."

In the past two home games the Eagles have defeated two strong out-of-state teams. Both ranked high in record, but after leaving Southern they ranked considerably lower.

The cry of "Eagle Bait" could literally be interpreted to mean just that. The Eagles played ball these past two games, and when the Eagles play ball something has got to give. It gave.

Congratulations, Eagles. We would like to see the "we're number one" shouts become a reality. Better yet, we would like to see Oglethorpe become another hunk of "Eagle Bait" in the game this Saturday night.

Seniors, Meet The Alumni

Attention Southern seniors. The name and prestige of this school will follow you everywhere you go.

The George-Anne encourages you to meet with the alumni in McCroan Auditorium Saturday morning at 11 a. m.. A strong Alumni Association indicates a better chance for the continued success of our institution throughout the state and nation.

Attend the meeting. Find out how you can help in keeping Southern a growing and thriving institution. Find out how you can build the prestige of the college wherever you go and in the professional fields that you enter.

Meet with the alumni and help make the Alumni Association a strong and creditable post-graduation school booster. Southern can use your cooperation even after you graduate. Remember, next year you will become, officially or unofficially, a member of this group.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I WANT YOUR LOVE, PHYLLIS -- YOUR CHEERY SMILE -- YOUR UNDERSTANDING -- YOUR OLD EXAMS & TERM PAPERS."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor's Desk

The George Anne

Georgia Southern College

Dear Sir:

Appearing in the last edition of the George Anne was a letter which directed severe criticism at one of our exchange students on campus.

In the views of the individual writing that letter we Americans have finally achieved the ultimate; we have reached perfection. We have already achieved the much heard of "Great Society," and President Johnson is wasting his time trying to improve on what has already been perfected.

Our vast capitalist system stands as a monument to all mankind and any countries that do not conform to our perfect examples and standards are suffering from a severe case of ignorance.

I wonder if the author of said letter has ever stopped to consider the background of the student he so maliciously criticized. His German ancestry, the customs of his country, and all the factors that have contributed to the formation of his person.

The fact that he is a visitor in a strange land seems not to be taken into account in the repudiation of our German friend's views. He is expected to conform to and accept every custom, practice, and idea we Americans have.

If he finds it impossible to conform to every Yankee trait then he must be content in being tolerant, but he must never, never commit that unpardonable sin of criticism.

I think possibly this, in itself, is one of the basic flaws in our country today. We seem to have an inherent hostility toward criticisms made by others, be they constructive or otherwise.

The reference to the visitors religious beliefs was totally unwarranted. A man's views on religion are his own and he is accountable to no mortal being for these. The very document that our government is founded upon guarantees to all in this land a freedom to believe or not to believe.

That is left completely to the individual as he or she may decide and should neither contribute nor degrade from his or her status in our land. This is a matter solely for the individual's conscience.

I think an apology is owed to the student in question by the author of said letter; for manifest in the letter appearing in this (Letters to the Editor) column last week was truly a perfect portrait of "The Ugly American."

Yours truly,

JAMES D. WILKES

white strands of moonbeam that lie across your flaxen hair.

'It was a nice day, Daddy.'

'Yes, a nice day, sweetheart.'

Slide your hand across the blanket, little girl, and enclose it in his as he kneels in the darkness beside your small bed.

'Dear Lord, thank you for this wondrous day and sunshine and clouds and people and grass and trees and everything you made.'

And God created. . . every living creature. . . and he saw that it was good.

'Lord, bless Mommy and Daddy and Jeffy and Gregg and all my friends, and help everybody in the world to become a Christian.'

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

'Lord, help me to be a good girl tomorrow and not be silly or tease or cry or hit Jeffy too hard.'

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

'And Lord, help all the kids to play nice and have fun, and let Sally and Billy be able to play in my yard.'

Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God.

'And Lord, watch over me tonight and let me have nice dreams and not be afraid.'

Peace I leave with you. . . Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

'In Jesus' name, amen.'

Curl up now, little girl, and sleep in the hollow of His hands.

'It was a nice day, Daddy.'

'Yes, a nice day, sweetheart.'

Why are you sniffing, Daddy? Do you have a cold?

'No, I just love you, dear.'

'I love you, too. And I love my dolly and my bike and Mommy and this house and the trees. . . I just love everything.'

Slip away now, Dad, quietly over the creaking floor. But pause at the door for one last listen.

'Good night, dolly. Goodnight, world. . . and good night, God.'

Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

Everybody Worked For '65 Homecoming; Better in '66

By L. W. HARTLEY

Student Congress President

This year the Homecoming Activities will surpass any previous Homecoming at GSC. Due to the over-whelming support of organizations, house councils, and other groups, Homecoming this year will be second to none.

In the past, students of GSC have gone to other colleges and universities to their homecoming activities. Upon their return all they talked about was the wonderful and exciting time they had.

This year we want alumni, the general public, and students from other colleges and universities to come to GSC. When they return home they will talk about the wonderful time they had at the Homecoming activities and also the high calibre of the school.

OTHERS

It is true that GSC has had other Homecomings, and activities but none to match the magnitude of this year's.

The most recent of these that deserves recognition is the parade of 1958. That year the rain kept the floats in the warehouses. The ones that were venturesome were ripped to shreds by the wind and rain. Thus the major part of Homecoming was destroyed before it had a chance to get started.

This will not be the case this year. This year's activities are so varied that no matter what the outcome of the weather or other unfortunate circumstances there will be activities.

GSC at the present time has an enrollment of 3,000 students.

ENROLLMENT

Already this year there have been twice the number of applicants received for fall quarter 1965 as were admitted to the school for fall quarter 1964.

With this many people presently enrolled in the college and an even greater number expected, there must be some type of social and cultural life sought for these students by the student governing body.

Actually the Student Congress doesn't want the task of handling the Homecoming Activities and other social activities that could be handled better by a representative group.

At the present time no such group exists. The Congress is the nearest thing that fits this description. By delegating these plans to some other organization the Congress could spend more of its time on student problems and regulations.

GROUP

Until such a group evolves the problems and headaches of Homecoming will be left entirely up to Student Congress. Before an independent group can take over the entire program of Homecoming it must be shown that there is a need for these activities and that the student body will stand behind a full program of activities.

The hopes of the present Student Congress is that a foundation is being laid for future Homecomings to move upward from the one being carried out this year.

Students Throng To Excitement; Cheer When Building Is Burning

(ACP)--As three business establishments burned, students fiddled, says THE DAILY TEXAN, University of Texas, Austin.

They turned an event that was, to most minds, a dangerous accident, into a glorified Friday afternoon panty-raid substitute.

The quarter-million-dollar fire began in a typewriter shop when a vat of naphtha exploded. The fire spread to a beauty shop and a drug store. Hundreds of University students thronged to the scene. Students volunteered in carrying merchandise from the burning stores and in moving twisted firehoses for the firemen.

One policeman barked: "Hell, everybody's out here."

When fire broke windows of the drug store, students cheered and gave "honk'em horns" signs. Clarence Faulkner, owner of the drug store, said it was as if the Longhorns scored a touchdown.

Eddie Slack, operator of a neighboring service station, said "I don't understand the philosophy of these people - cheering when a building is burning."

College students have a special penchant for criticism. The demise of parental authority and doses of classroom enlightenment seem to nurture iconoclasm. And students take themselves seriously. They expect to have their voices heard.

Well, it's time for University students to scurry back behind the apron of their youth and cry "Uninhibited young spirits" and "Just good, clean fun."

Most well-disciplined, reasonably bright 10-year-olds know better than to clamber over a fire truck for a better view of tragedy. And 10-year-olds don't make weighty proclamations on the world scene.

Ah, well. Ah, youth.

Summer Quarter Will Need Adequate Campus Activities

By HOYT CANADY

The announcement that the double summer session was being changed to a full academic quarter is for most of us a welcome sight. However, the administrative decision takes care of only one aspect of giving Southern a four-quarter program.

In the past, most of the courses offered in the summer sessions were designed for freshmen, graduates, and students seeking teaching certificates.

In the coming summer quarter, divisions will offer more courses for upperclassmen as well as allow students an entire quarter to complete academic requirements. This is much more comfortable than having to finish term papers, lab reports, and outside readings in only six weeks.

"WHAT?"

Now the well-meaning person might ask, "What are the students going to do about it?"

Anyone would be justified in asking this question because many students seem to forget that they need extracurricular activities in the summer as well as in the other three quarters.

Last summer two campus organizations did most of the extracurricular work. The Masquers, under the direction of Mr. Robert Overstreet, gave students two evening's worth of one-act plays.

SIZE

The size of the audience was not as large as it should have (or could have) been; but the Masquers seem to be one of the first organizations to realize the need for extra-curricular activities at Southern during the summer.

The George-Anne published a summer edition last year, and will plan to continue the same this coming summer quarter.

The Athletic Department plans to make use of the full summer quarter this year, and intramural athletics such as softball and tennis will be offered.

NOT ENOUGH

However, these are not nearly enough extracurricular offerings for a full quarter.

The Social Committee sponsored "mat" dances twice weekly last summer. Perhaps the Social Committee or some other organization could expand this into week night or weekend dances using dance bands or combos.

If organizations would rather sponsor something along the cultural or academic line, the field is open for this too.

Perhaps the Campus Life Enrichment Committee could plan something for the summer, but student organizations should take advantage of this opportunity also.

MUCH WORK

The administration has done much work to give Georgia Southern another full academic quarter equal to those of fall, winter & spring. It is up to the students to provide themselves with a full schedule of extracurricular activities.

The need is certainly present, and the field is wide open. The time isn't too early to begin planning activities, which will benefit the students and the college, for the summer quarter.

'Flag Salute Still Patriotic'

By BRYANT YOUNG

There is an old saying that goes something like this - for every good man, there is a woman behind him.

This is a good illustration for this story. For example, a country's greatness is not determined by its military power alone.

The United States is indeed the most powerful nation in the western hemisphere. Very few people doubt this assertion. However, the point is that behind this power lies a hidden force which acts as a sort of catalyst - that catalytic force being nationalism.

There is no clear cut definition of nationalism. One can only attempt to define it. In this country such symbols and customs as the seal of the United States, Flag Day, the national anthem, state flags, the U. S. Flag, and Independence Day tend to represent nationalism.

This sense of nationalism is always present but when our nation is threatened in peacetime or in war, it seems to unify our people even more than ever before.

Perhaps the most important catalyst is the flag salute as the Star Spangled Banner is being sung. This is customary at our baseball basketball, and football games. It instills in us pride, loyalty and devotion to our country.

However, many people in the United States today sneer at this gesture. They will label you as an advocate of "love, mother, God, and country."

Personally, this is going a little too far. Most of us are indeed devoted Americans so why try to cut someone when he is a little more public about his thoughts.

When I see the Flag of the United States flying high in the breeze and when I hear the Star Spangled Banner, I feel proud to be an American.

When I see the United States Flag I think of Francis Scott Key, July 4, 1776, the War of 1812, Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Madison, and Jackson. I think of Abe Lincoln and the Civil War, and the Union. I think of World War I and II, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Harry S. Truman, Dwight Eisenhower, and John F. Kennedy.

Korea, Viet Nam, and the bombing of Hiroshima come to mind when I see the stars and stripes. Our flag has many memories and embodies the hopes and aspirations of people in the free world.

Perhaps this article should have been written for Flag Day since it is so tear-jerking. However, the point is that this nationalism is evident in any nation. In order to bring this point closer home let us look at the high flying Georgia Southern Eagles.

They too, like any nation, need a catalyst. It seems to me that the Eagles do have this catalyst in the students who have really supported the team. If you don't believe me, just wait until the homecoming game and you can hear the cry "charge Eagles."

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT LEE WINBURN

June 14, 1885 — January 22, 1965

Over the twenty years during which he served as treasurer of this institution, he himself became an institution. For not only did he fulfill the duties of his office with high commendation, his fine spirit also encompassed the lives of his colleagues and their children and of the students and their parents. Only in an official way did he lessen his attachment to the college community upon his retirement, for he continued his interest in and his ties with the old and the new.

An embodiment of noblesse oblige, he was the man's gentleman, the lady's gentleman, and the child's gentleman. Though firmness of conviction was ever a strength with him, his conduct was all courtesy and gentleness.

Like Thoreau, he considered time as a stream in which he went a-fishing. And he walked the banks of the stream of time, enriching himself and his acquaintances with his catches. Like Keats, he knew that beauty was truth and truth beauty. And he stored up rich deposits which he dispensed to his friends with a free hand.

His own words, spoken in his last hours, form a most befitting epitaph, "I have lived a full and rich life."

Southern Affiliates With India College

College-to-College affiliation was established between Georgia Southern College and Vallabh Vidyapeeth, Anand, August 11, 1964. Seen in this photograph is B-GAO Phillips Bradley addressing the guests. Seated left to right are: Miss Indumati Chimanlal Shah, Gujarat Minister for Education, Mr. Bhailal Patel, Founder of Vallabh Vidyapeeth, and Mr. Ishwarbhai J. Patel, present Vice Chancellor of the University.

Dr. Henderson Comments on India Education Program

Dr. Henderson was one of ten college presidents selected by AACTE for a study tour of teacher education in India. This trip was made over a one-month period in November of 1963.

VISIT

"We visited educational institutions in four places: Delhi, Calcutta, Madras and Bombay," President Henderson said. "We stayed a week in each place and visited elementary schools, high schools and colleges of education."

The trip included talks with the minister of education in India and top education officials in the area cities.

"Our educational system is more advanced," he said, "but so is our civilization. The Indian people as well as the government were concerned with providing a better educational system for their people."

SYSTEM

Dr. Henderson explained that the Indian educational system provides a primary education for those between six and ten years old. A middle school education is provided for those between the ages of 11 and 13; and a secondary education for those between the ages of 13-16.

"The educators are trying to get a straight twelve year program," Dr. Henderson said. "They are in the process of growing like we had to do." He indicated that the public school grades in the United States had been raised in number over a period of time.

AVERAGE CHILD

He said that the average Indian child studies three languages: the native language of his area, English and Hindi.

"They've tried to establish Hindi as the Indian language, but it is still not completely recognized," he added.

The tour was the fifth in a series sponsored by AACTE, preceded by studies of Poland, Germany, Israel and the United Arab Republic.

Exchanging School Materials; Faculty Exchanges Considered

Georgia Southern is one of ten colleges in the nation serving as an AACTE affiliate member with a foreign university.

Southern is presently in correspondence affiliation with Vallabh Vidyapeeth University in Anand, Gujarat, India. Although the university is named as the affiliate, GSC is corresponding with the university's M. B. Patel College of Education.

Dr. Zach S. Henderson, GSC president, stated that the purpose of the affiliation was "to get the teachers of India to know more about education in the United States and to let our teachers know more about the India educational system."

EXCHANGE

"We have exchanged letters, pictures, catalogs, bulletins and the college annual with our member so far," Dr. Henderson said. "Presently, we are getting a shipment of teacher education books ready to ship over there."

The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education is the sponsor of the program. A check for $1,000 has been received here at the college to finance the project.

CEREMONY

The Consulate General at

Bombay, India, informed the Office of U. S. Programs and Services that ceremonies formally affiliating Georgia Southern with Vallabh Vidyapeeth University were held on August 11, 1964, at Anand, Gujarat State, India.

A letter Dr. Henderson received stated that about 50 college and high school teachers participated in the ceremonies, with approximately two hundred invited guests in attendance.

The Gujarat State Minister of Education spoke on the value of such college-to-college relationships and emphasized the importance of an active two-way relationship which could develop over the years.

EXCHANGE MEMBERS

Dr. Henderson said that there were hopes that students and faculty members could be exchanged between the institutions within the next five years.

Presently, the extent of the affiliation is in correspondence through the exchange of educational information, slides, art work and films.

The GSC president indicated that an exchange of student art work is expected to arrive here soon.

INDIA NEWSPAPER

An article written in an India newspaper stated that the "affiliation makes a step forward in Indo-American co-operation. The U.S.A. has been extending munificent help in the field of education and many Indian Universities and colleges receive liberal arts grants..."

Continuing the paper stated "But a direct affiliation between an Indian and an American college certainly opens new prospects of co-operation and mutual benefit. It involves exchange of literature, teaching methods and experience as well as interchange of faculty members."

ACTIVE AFFILIATION

The paper pointed out that an active affiliation can exist only if the faculty and students of each institution take a direct interest and initiative in establishing working relations with the other.

Georgia Southern is now in possession of a small paperback reading library concerned with Asian studies. The AACTE received a grant from the Asia Society and Asia Foundation to finance the books for each of the pilot projects.

Dr. Henderson said that the books would be placed in a special display section of the Rosenwald Library for student and faculty use.

SIZE

Commenting on the India affiliate, Dr. Henderson stated that he did not know the exact size of the school, but estimated that there were probably 200 students in the school of education and 2,00 in the university itself.

$17 Million 'Blue Print' Paves Way

Southern On The Move With Tremendous Campus Expansion

What would Georgia Southern be like with 22 new buildings on its campus?

With the recent announcement that Georgia Southern would receive a massive $11,215,000 state building allotment to be arranged over a five-year period, the dream becomes a reality.

This is further boosted by the present six million dollar building program which has already begun adding three structures to the campus and will finance several others before the year is over.

The combined total of the two programs raises the physical plant allotment over the 17 million dollar mark.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Presently under construction on campus is a 300-unit women's dormitory, a classroom building and the library annex. Bids were let this month on a 250-unit men's dorm and a 250-unit women's dorm.

Bids are to be let by October of this year on a new fine arts building and a new dining hall. These are scheduled to come within the six million dollar building budget. An annex to the Hanner Gym will also be included.

The eleven million dollar program recently announced will add 15 buildings to the campus.

According to the projected program, a total of $4,895,000 will be released in the 1965-66 fiscal year for a $750,000 science building; a $750,000 classroom building; a $1,110,000 women's dormitory, a $925,000 men's dormitory, and a $360,000 housing project for married students.

1966-67

In the 1966-67 fiscal year a total of $2,760,000 will be released for a $925,000 women's dormitory; a $360,000 married students housing project; a $350,000 student health service building; and a $200,000 central warehouse and shops.

1967-68

A $1,110,000 budget in 1967-68 for a women's dormitory will be included.

In 1968-69, a $1,100,000 men's dormitory is planned.

A total of $2,340,000 in the fiscal year 1969-70 for a $1,170,000 men's dormitory, and a $1,170,000 women's dormitory will round out the five-year program.

ENROLLMENT

President Zach S. Henderson recently predicted that the enrollment at Southern could reach the 7,500 mark by 1970. This is supported by the jump from 2,375 students in fall of 1964 to 2,969 students in the fall of this present school year. An increase of nearly 600 students.

This dormitory for 250 men will be under construction within several weeks. It will be located off Chanler Road and will be fully air-conditioned. Bids released Jan. 19 gave the building contracts for this structure and a new 250-women dormitory to an Augusta building firm. Completion date of the two facilities has been set for within one year.

$266,000 Went A Long Way For Building Funds In 1933

Students greeted with much interest and concern the announcement Monday that the South Georgia Teachers College would receive $266,000 for new buildings and repairs.

Editor's Note: This story was taken from a Oct. 2, 1933 issue of the George-Anne. Since it announced a major trend in the college building program of that year, we thought it might be interesting for you to read and compare it with our present building program.

This money will be available as soon as the state board of regents are successful in obtaining $3,000,000 from the federal government for construction in various units of the university system.

Funds asked for this institution are allotted as follows: water system, $12,500; cottages, $12,500; administration building repairs, $6,325; sewerage, $5,151; dining hall repairs, $5,125; new dining hall, $50,000; new science hall, $50,000; and dorm repairs, $120,000.

Commenting on the proposal, President Guy Wells stated Tuesday that the $120,000 for dorm repairs would mean the construction of two new buildings and that the alumni building repairs would include placement of a dome on that building, making it more attractive and modern.

Other projects in the extensive construction program adopted by the regents in a special session early last week are to aid university schools all over the state.

Funds are being sought as a part of the nationwide public works program and formal request was laid before the state advisory board last week.

The Teachers College allotment was third in the state; the University and Georgia Tech each receiving larger sums.

GSC Progress Report

This classroom building is presently under construction. It is being built at a cost of approximately $800,000. The facility will house the division of languages, social science, business and some physical education classes. It is of modern architecture and will be fully air-conditioned. Completion date for the structure is set for fall quarter.

Presently under construction on the campus is this modern 300-women residence hall. The cost for this facility is approximately $800,000. It will be a three story structure of modern architecture, fully air-conditioned. Completion date is set within one year.

Prague Chamber Orchestra To Perform For Southern Students

By AMELIA ROBSON
Staff Writer

Dr. Jack Broucek has announced that the Campus Life Enrichment Committee will present the Prague Chamber Orchestra, thirty-six musicians in ensemble without a conductor, on Tuesday, February 16, at 8:15 p.m. in McCroan Auditorium.

The Prague Chamber Orchestra was founded in 1951 by artists who desired to play a broad gamut of orchestral repertory and to follow the example of chamber groups which perform with a conductor.

Each player is a master instrumentalist and a musician acquainted with the full orchestral score and the composer's demands. The artists have perfected a mutual sense of tempo, rhythm and dynamics, Dr. Broucek said.

REPERTORY

The repertory of the Prague Chamber Orchestra consists of orchestral works by Bach, Beethoven, Corelli, Handel, Haydn, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Schubert, Wagner and other well-known composers.

The orchestra has made numerous recordings on the European labels of Supraphon and Phillips-Critere. For radio it has also made over 400 taped performances.

The artists are well-known on television and won a singular triumph on the BBC-TV in England in 1963.

TOURS

Concert tours have included visits to Italy, Austria, Germany, France, Belgium, England, Denmark, Switzerland, Poland, and many countries in South America. During this 1964-65 season the orchestra is performing in North America for the first time.

MAJOR CITIES

The tour will include major cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and also a board.

According to Dr. Broucek, students may purchase tickets by presenting their I. D. cards at Dean of Students' office beginning February 2.

Kirbylene Stephens, secretary to the president, holds an architect's drawing of proposed fine arts building. The new facility is expected to be under construction sometime in the summer, although no exact date has been set. The center will be a four

New Telephones Being Installed

New telephones are being installed in each dormitory and in the Frank I. Williams Center, according to C. M. Matthews, president of the Statesboro Telephone Company.

An additional pay-station is being placed in each dormitory. These will be used for outgoing calls only.

According to Matthews, the additional telephones will help to "relieve congestion" in the dormitories.

"This is another step in providing better service for the college," he added.

SGEA Will Hear Johnson Tuesday

J. Brantley Johnson, vice-president of the Bulloch County Bank and member of the state board of education, will address the Student Georgia Education Association meeting to be held in the Marvin Pittman school auditorium Tuesday at 7 p.m. Johnson's topic will be "The Educational Outlook."

Leadership Group Meets

The Division of Education School Leadership group at Georgia Southern College has planned a program of events to be held during the GSC Homecoming for the members of the School Leadership group.

The activities will be held Saturday in the Holiday Inn Banquet Room from 10 to 1:30.

Georgia Southern recently received permission to grant four new degrees - the Bachelor of Business Administration, an A. B. in political science, a B.S. in Physics, and the Master's in Junior High Education.

The question this week was, "What additional degrees would you like to see offered at GSC?" These were the replies:

Maudie Walker, Tifton: A four-year nursing program with a B. S. Degree.

Tommy Dial, Waycross: A B. S. Degree in Agriculture.

Leahman Stanley, Durham, N. C.: Degrees in law-criminology, and engineering.

Martha Smith, Macon: A degree in social work on the Master's level.

Doug Usry, Gibson: A degree in journalism.

Mary Anne Gladden, Savannah: A B. S. Degree in Agronomy.

Harold Wright, Ashburn: I think we should offer some doctorate degrees and become a university.

Myrna Johnson, Statesboro:

A B. S. in chemistry and a graduate program in science.

Ronald Kennedy, Savannah:

A degree in journalism.

Harold Varn, Hampton, S. C.:

A B. S. in Geology to please our lone Arizonian geology professor, Dr. H. S. "Why" Hanson.

Mary Alice Milhollin, Statesboro:

I would like to see a degree in Interior Design offered.

Krystal English, Wrens:

I would just like to see GSC become a university.

Bertie Lee, Vidalia:

I would like to see a degree in law offered and also become a university.

Robert L. Lamb Jr., Jesup:

I'd like for the Industrial Arts Dept. to expand to include more technical fields such as a degree in architecture.

Bobby Byrd, Augusta:

A curriculum leading to the L. L. B. for thinkers. If and when this degree ever comes, it will raise Ga. Southern tremendously.

Vicky Rowe, Dublin:

An interior decorating program.

Beverly Smith, Brunswick:

I'd like to see the art department expand and offer a wider range of subjects.

Sharon Smith, Wrightsville:

A degree in interior decorating.

Dale Yarbrough, Thomasville:

A graduate program in Home Economics.

Carol Raulerson, Waycross:

A Master's Degree in Sociology.

Tommy Purvis, Morven:

A graduate program in recreation.

Hayne Herndon, Orlando, Fla.:

An A. B. Degree in Transportation.

Jimmy Scearce, Statesboro:

A B. S. in agriculture because there aren't but two schools in the state that offer this—the University of Georgia and ABAC.

Pat Blanchard, Harlem:

I'd like to see a degree offered in Economics such as an A.B.

Campus Weekly Takes Time, Work Sacrifice; Deadlines Everlasting

By JANICE McNORRILL
News Editor

"We have a deadline!"

This is the motto that extends across the office wall and serves as a constant reminder to the staff that helps to put out Georgia Southern College's weekly newspaper, the George-Anne.

Reporting the campus news to the student body requires an enormous amount of work. An average issue of the George-Anne consists of twelve pages containing approximately 15,000 words, 35 headlines and 12 pictures.

EDITORIAL BOARD

Heading the mass operation of the paper is the editorial board. It consists of the editor, managing editor, news editor and business manager. A former editor may serve in an advisory capacity as associate editor.

The editor of the George-Anne is responsible for all editorial, news, feature and sports copy that is published. He has the authority to edit or withhold any material submitted for publication.

ROLES

The managing editor works with lay-out, editorials, treatment of copy and other tasks assigned by the editor.

The news editor is in charge of all stories assigned and works with staff members on the copy submitted to suggest improvements. The news editor is responsible for assigned stories that are not submitted by the staff.

The business manager's job concerns advertising sales and the make-up of all ads in the paper. He is responsible for billing advertisers and for keeping an accurate ledger of accounts.

SECTION EDITORS

Two section editors round out the leadership for the paper. The organizations editor reports news from the various organizations on campus. He also writes features that are of student interest.

The sports editor's job is the reporting of all athletic events of the college. He also works with layout.

PLANNING

The editorial board meets every Monday afternoon for a "Brainstorming" session to plan the stories for the following week's paper. After the meeting the news editor assigns the stories to staff writers.

The writers receive their assignment sheets through the mail on Wednesday. They are given suggestions as to who to see for the information for their story and where their news source may be found.

The staff writers write up news stories and turn them in on Monday night.

OTHER WORK

Meanwhile, the editorial board has been preparing their own columns, editorials, and news stories. These are readied by Monday so that the board can help the staff writers.

Tuesday is the busiest day for the George-Anne. All during the day students and faculty members drop by the office to submit articles or to announce some up-coming activity.

TUESDAY NIGHT

On Tuesday night the editors read and edit all copy for mistakes in grammar, punctuation or journalism style. After all the copy has been edited, it is "dummied" in on layout sheets.

The editor, organizations editor and sports editor are responsible for the makeup of the paper. They decide where to use each story and what type and size headline to use.

PRINTING

The layout sheets and all news copy is taken to the Bulloch Herald for printing. The stories are set in print with a linotype printing machine. Each article is checked for errors by means of "galley proofs" before it is put into final type.

METAL TYPE

The metal type is set in page form after all errors are corrected. The page proofs are then run for a last minute check. Final adjustments are made such as centering pages, checking the flow of the ink, and regulating the speed of the press.

APPEARANCE

The George-Anne makes its weekly appearance on Friday morning. The copies are distributed over the campus and are immediately consumed by some 3,000 GSC students and faculty members.

As you read this issue of the George-Anne, the editorial board has already decided on the stories for next week's paper, and the assignments have been mailed to the staff writers.

It's all a part of the George-Anne's policy to provide the GSC student body with the best possible news coverage of their campus.

Students interested in working on the George-Anne are urged to contact Tommy Holton, editor, in Room 108 of the Frank I. Williams Center.

"We can use anybody interested in learning," Holton said. "There's loads of writing, typing, word counting, photographing and business work to be done."

He continued to say that no student would be required to do more than he is able to.

No experience is necessary to work on the staff. Staff members are usually given one assignment each week.

The George-Anne is published weekly by students of Georgia Southern College. The office phone number is 4-5133.

Knight Construction Announces Opening of GSC Student Diner

Georgia Southern students will soon have access to a student restaurant to be constructed at Knight Village, according to Buford Knight, owner of Knight Housing.

Construction has already begun on The Varsity Restaurant to be located on Georgia Avenue and Knight Drive in Knight Village. Opening date is April 1, 1965.

The new facility will specialize in short orders and will have a 1,000 customer capacity with a 500 seat capacity recreation room that will feature color TV, piped-in-music and radio.

The recreation room can be reserved on special occasions for dances and other entertainment for college students. The Varsity will be completely air-conditioned and will have modern equipment and furnishings affording the ultimate in entertainment and comfort.

DESIGN

Modern in design with a flat white chipped marble roof, terrazzo floors, The Varsity will have interior walls prefinished with cherry paneling.

A paved parking area will accommodate 200 cars; the roof will extend twelve feet over each side of the building to protect the guests during rainy weather.

Also under construction is a ten-unit apartment building for married students and faculty members. The apartments will be completely air-conditioned, and electrically equipped.

Included in the kitchens will be garbage disposal units and dishwashers.

A centrally located utility room will provide washers and dryers. Each apartment will have piped-in music and radio with a TV receptacle for all channels. Completion is expected in early spring.

DORMITORIES

Also on the planning board are two additional dormitories: one for 152 men and one for 152 women. When these are completed a total of 750 students will live in Knight Off-Campus Housing. Fred Curlin A.I.A. is the designer, and B. W. Knight Construction Co. is the builder.

This is the first phase of a projected business center which tentatively will include clothing shops for men and women, a drug store, barber and beauty shops, a movie theatre, a three-minute car wash, a service station, a gift shop, a book store, a loan office, and a five-acre lake with a pavilion over the water.

Knight Village is located on a 50-acre plot of land adjacent to the Georgia Southern College Campus on Chandler Road, and one block from the campus on Georgia Avenue.

Dr. Fielding D. Russell Comments On Past Southern Homecomings

Dr. Fielding D. Russell, professor of English, has observed homecomings at GSC for the past twenty years.

"As one grows older, there are always the young that come along behind, making their contributions to homecoming," he said.

The highlight of homecoming has always been the basketball game. During halftime ceremonies, prizes were awarded for the best float in the homecoming parade.

Parades have not been held every year. Dr. Russell added that rarely has it rained during a parade.

"There has been a slow but sure growth of interest by the students and alumni in homecoming," Dr. Russell observed. He felt that this was due to the organization of the alumni.

This year there is one general meeting for the alumni instead of several receptions by various organizations. The first class to graduate after GSC became a four-year college (1932-35) will be present.

Dr. Russell concluded that "homecoming is significant by watching the sublimation of the old and new with regard to the student body and building program that manifest the vitality of a college."

Carleton Views foreign relations

By JIM WIGGINS

The 1965 lecture series sponsored by the Social Science Division began last Friday and Saturday with thought provoking lectures from the guest lecturer, Dr. William G. Carleton.

Dr. Carleton spoke on two phases of United States-Russian relations as well as the present southeast Asian problem. He stated that the answer to Viet Nam is one which is neither simple nor one which the American Press may wish to support.

He indicated that the press usually attempts to feel the mood of the public. The U. S. public generally wants to stay out of foreign affairs or when challenged, to fight to win. This cannot be done in Asia.

According to Carleton, the conflict between Russia and China is real and the changing Russian policy which shows, "the Soviet Union is going revisionist" makes it mandatory for the United States to continue a policy which effectively uses this Sino-Soviet split.

To effectively use this split, to our advantage, he added, we must adopt the only policy which is practical. That is, a partial strengthening of our present military support in order to achieve a position of strength from which negotiations will be possible.

This plan is presently being supported by an increasing number of influential senators including Senator J. William Fulbright and Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, Carleton stated.

Dr. Carleton pointed to the changing role and influence of Russia in the communist world. This change is due to many factors; among them the continuing knowledge that, as he said, "ideologies come and go but nations remain."

New Dining Hall Tickets Will Be Issued Monday

Students holding the regular dining hall meal ticket will have to exchange the card Monday at lunch for the second month ticket.

Student Center Director C. R. Pound stated that although the ticket will expire Sunday, students will be able to eat the breakfast meal with the card.

He added that students would exchange the old tickets for a new card as they go through the line at the noon meal Monday.

HOMECOMING

In an article written earlier in the year by Hal Hayes, sports writer for The Atlanta Constitution, it was stated, and I quote, "I'll tell you how good they (Georgia Southern) are," he began, "they didn't schedule the University of South Carolina and Auburn for prestige.

I'll tell you, I'll take Georgia Southern over both of them right, now" stated Garland Pinholster, head basketball coach at Oglethorpe University.

The Georgia Cup will be at stake when these two hardwood rivals meet Jan. 30 in the Hanner Gymnasium.

I've stressed this next statement to no end already. Let's back Coach Searce and give him and the boys our support.

One more thing! When the Petrels come out to take their pre-game warmup shots, I don't want to hear anything but the continuous chant of "EAGLE BAIT, EAGLE BAIT!"

The national known gymnasts of Coach Pat Yeager will journey to Atlanta next Sat. to take on the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech.

Being hampered by ineligibility, the Eagles will be without top performer Jon Peacock.

Carrying the load at present are Kip Burton and Buddy Harris. An injury to one or both could ruin the Eagle's chances of a successful season.

Last year Coach Yeager and his squad hung an 80-52 loss to the Yellow Jackets in Atlanta. This is a very impressive accomplishment if one gives it much thought.

Sammy Williams, transfer from Brewton Parker, may help to ease things a bit. Coach Yeager has high hopes for Williams and says he will be a great performer.

In observing the recent home games of the GSC cage team, one important factor has been the bench strength of the Eagles.

Anyone who takes notice of the fact that on that bench we have one who stands a mere 6' 9" in height and is commonly referred to as "Butcher Brodersen". Along with him is Jim Seely and Tommy Dial.

Brodersen is loved by the Eagle fans and fills in more than adequately when in a game. Seely, who was a starter as a freshman, provides the Eagles with a good solid reserve at the forward post.

He may be little but Jimmy Searce gets the job done. When Rose and Adler need a rest the little man along with Lehman Stanley fills in superbly.

As only time will tell, this bench strength may determine Southern's drive for the NAIA championship.

Eagles Take On Oglethorpe In H'coming Tilt Saturday

By HUBERT NORTON
Sports Publicist

Georgia Southern College's high-powered Eagles will celebrate their Homecoming festivities Saturday night at the W. S. Hanner Building when they take on arch-rival Oglethorpe University at 8 p.m.

The Eagles of Coach J. B. Searce will carry an 11-3 record and a nine-game winning streak into the contest. GSC defeated Oglethorpe, 76-66, earlier in the season in Atlanta and now owns a 9-5 series edge.

The Georgia College Cup will be up for grabs in the contest. The Cup, which is a symbol of small college supremacy in the state, goes to the winner of the GSC-Oglethorpe games. The Eagles currently have the Cup on the basis of its early season triumph.

"We've got the trophy in our trophy case and we intend to keep it there," said Searce. "People say that Oglethorpe has improved a great deal since we played them back in December. Maybe this is true, but we have improved a great deal, too, and it seems that we play better every game."

Searce plans to start his regular lineup against the Stormy Petrels. That would be Raymond Reynolds (12.1) and David Owens (9.9) at forwards, Jimmy Rose (20.0) and Don Adler (12.4) at guards, and Bill Pickens (15.8) at center.

The Petrels of Coach Garland Pinholster will be hampered by the loss of forward Ray Thomas who is out with a broken hand. However, the Stormy Petrels have added 6-6 forward Jimmy Tumlin who missed the first GSC-Oglethorpe clash because of an injury.

Over the years, the Georgia Southern-Oglethorpe clash has been a bitterly-fought contest between two of the top small college powers in the South.

This year should prove no exception.

Last season the two teams split. The Petrels clipped the Eagles, 76-60, in Atlanta, and the Southerners retaliated with a 79-64 triumph in Statesboro.

When the two teams played on December 8, the alert Georgia Southern defense was the big difference as it completely bottled up the Petrels until it was too late. GSC led by 20 points most of the second half but had its lead reduced to 10 at the end.

Pickens led the Eagles in that game with 18 points and 11 rebounds. Mike Rickard came off the bench to pour in 16 points, and Rose tossed in 14 points.

Jimmy Rose Now

Top Man with 35

High scoring ace Jimmy Rose set a 1964-65 season basketball scoring record in Deland, Fla. on January 19, against Stetson University.

Rose's 35 points stymied the Stetson defense resulting in an east 95-79 victory for the Eagles.

This is a personal point total record for Rose as well as being the highest number of points scored in a single game by a Georgia Southern player this year.

GSC Stops USM As Rose Nets 21

By TOM KING — Sports Editor

The "Ramblin' Eagles" of Georgia Southern College staged a tremendous second half comeback to trounce the University of Southern Mississippi, 108-78, Monday, in Statesboro.

Southern overcame a 44-41 deficit at intermission and outscored USM 67-34 in the second half to claim the victory.

All five starters hit double figures with Jimmy Rose, GSC's leading scorer, pacing the Eagles with 21.

Raymond Reynolds hit for 18 with David Owens and Don Adler collecting 17 each. Big Bill Pickens bagged 16.

Top point-maker for the Mississippians was Charles Payne with 18. Gary Hannan and Gary Kochersperger hit for 16 and 13, respectively.

"We played a great second half," stated Eagle coach J. B. Searce. "David Owens broke the ice with a lay-up on the tip-off with just five seconds gone on the clock.

GSC and Southern Mississippi battled on even terms throughout the first half until the visitors pulled away to a three point lead at halftime.

Jimmy Rose hit five straight buckets and one free throw for 11 first half points to lead Southern. Reynolds had nine and Pickens, eight.

Payne led USM at half with 13. Hannan and Kochersperger bucketed nine each.

GSC slowly pulled even with Southern Mississippi in the second half. Pickens put Southern ahead to stay on a hook with 15 minutes left in the half at 51-50.

In the next seven minutes GSC outscored the hapless visitors 24 to 8 and the score soared to a 77-58 margin.

With 6:58 remaining in the game Dick Brodersen "stuffed" one in to give the Eagles a 20 point lead at 81-61.

The magic number of 100 was reached on a bucket by Mike Rickard with 1:59 left in the contest to give Southern a 100-70 lead.

Percentage-wise Georgia Southern connected on 45 of 82 field goal attempts for 55 per cent. The Eagles hit true on 18 of 24 free throws for 75 per cent.

Southern Mississippi hit on only 30 of 57 field goal attempts for 44 per cent. They were 18 of 25 at the gratis line.

GSC hauled down 45 errant shots to 28 for USM. Pickens and Owens led Southern with 11 each while Gary Hannan paced the visitors with 12.

Mississippi Coach Floyd had only three words for the George-Anne reporter, "They killed us!"

New Gym Seen For Southern, Searce States

"The money has been appropriated, but we still lack enough funds to build what is needed," stated GSC Athletic Director J. B. Searce concerning the proposed annex to the W. S. Hanner building.

The new addition will be located in what is now the parking lot running parallel to the tennis courts.

"The new gymnasium, in all probability, will seat 3,500 with 1,500 roll-away seats," commented Searce.

"New locker rooms will be added for both men and women along with the present locker rooms," he continued.

The balconies in the new gym will be altered somewhat. The left balcony will be made into a dance studio while the right side will be walled in and made into a weight lifting room.

"A large wrestling and tumbling room will also be added along with many new classrooms for the rapidly growing student body," remarked Searce.

"We had hoped to enlarge the new gymnasium to a seating capacity of 7,500 but we are very doubtful if this will become a reality," he commented.

Cheerleaders Are Active Each Game

By GLENDA McMICHEN - Staff Writer

"We enjoy cheering although it requires continuous practice and effort," stated Peggy Exley, captain of the 1964-65 cheerleading squad.

Peggy further stated that the squad practices everyday during fall quarter. With the opening of the basketball season they practice once a week. The girls must have some basic tumbling ability so that they can complete the stunts which their cheers include.

Marsha Turner, a senior from Green Cove Springs, Florida, is co-captain of the team. Alice Buchanan, a senior from Americus; Sandra Eastman, a junior from Valdosta; and Susan Browning, a sophomore from Douglas, are the other members of the squad.

Peggy said, "The cheerleaders feel that school spirit has improved tremendously since last year." She also expressed appreciation for the courtesy which the students have shown visiting teams and the strong support of the pep band.

OUT-OF-TOWN

The cheerleaders have been to two out-of-town games: Oglethorpe and Auburn. They plan to attend the games at Jacksonville and Mercer as well.

Miss Ruth Green, cheerleading advisor, stated, "If more students would attend the out-of-town games then the cheerleaders would go, too. She said that the cheerleaders have greatly improved their stunts and over-all performance.

Miss Green also feels that school spirit has improved, but she added, "We need spirit at every game not just the games against archivals."

PEP RALLY

For homecoming the cheerleaders have planned a rousing pep rally in the Alumni Gym before the gym meet. They are going to ride in the parade on a float provided by APO.

Any school organization that wishes to hang its pennant at the home games should contact Miss Green. She said, "The organization will be expected to be one of the strongest cheering sections.

GSC Storms Past Highly Rated Carson Newman As Rose Shines

With sharpshooter Jimmy Rose and a fast breaking offense, the Eagles of Georgia Southern stormed to an impressive 92-64 win over Carson-Newman College Sat. night in the Hanner Gym.

Carson-Newman came to Southern nationally-ranked sporting a 17-3 record.

Leading Southern's attack was Ramblin' Jimmy Rose, 6-2 guard from Hi Hat, Ky., who scored 28 points. Rose hit on 14-23 field goal attempts for an amazing 61 per cent.

Rose got strong support from Don Adler with 15 and David Owens with 14. Raymond Reynolds added 11.

Pacing Carson-Newman was Jim Shuler with 19. The only other Eagle in double figures was Vic Arwood with 10. Carson-Newman's leading scorer, Roy Hill, who was averaging 17 points a game, finished up with only 8.

"It was a great victory for us," remarked Coach J. B. Searce. "Everyone played well and Rose's shooting was fantastic."

"David Owens played a tremendous game along with Dick Broderon," he continued.

As a team Southern hit on 39 of 70 attempts for 56 per cent and 14 of 23 free throws for 61 per cent.

Carson-Newman could find the range for only 25 of 63 attempts for 40 per cent. From the gratis line they hit 70 per cent with 14 of 20.

GSC picked off 47 rebounds to 38 for the visitors. David Owens led Southern with 10 followed by Reynolds, Pickens, and Broderon with 9 each.

Yeager Predicts Homecoming Meet To Be A Success

By RON MAYHEW
Staff Writer

The GSC gymnastics team will hold their Homecoming meet this Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Alumni Gymnasium against Auburn University and Middle Tennessee College in what will be scored as double-dual competition.

In a double-dual meet, all gymnasts competing perform their routines, and the routines of each team are scored as if the team were having two separate single meets, one with each of the other teams.

"This will mark the first time such a meet has been held at Southern in quite a while," stated Coach Pat Yeager.

Highlighted in the meet will be sophomore Kip Burton. He has led the Eagles' scoring in all four dual meets held thus far.

The spectators can also expect to see another crack at the school rope-climbing record by senior Bill Aldrich. Aldrich has already broken the school record once this year. His best time of 3.4 seconds is only sixths of a second off the world record of 2.8. The record has stood for a number of years.

The team record this year officially stands at three wins and one loss. Coach Yeager expects it to stand as five wins and one loss after the meet Saturday.

Spectators are urged to arrive early due to the relatively small size of the gym and the large audience that is expected.

Eagle Gymnasts Take Win Over Georgia Tech

Georgia Southern's Eagle gymnasts scored their third consecutive victory of the year Friday night in Atlanta, defeating the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech 77 1-2 to 65 1-2.

The Eagles grabbed an early lead with co-captain Bill Aldrich, Ron Mayhew, and Kip Burton taking 1-2-3, respectively, in the rope climb. Co-captains Kip Burton and Buddy Harris, together with sophomore Charles Eunice, continued to pile up the lead by scoring 1-2-5 in the floor exercise, running the score to 24-8 at the end of the first two events.

Georgia Tech then gained some valuable first, second and third places, making the meet a nip and tuck battle right to the end.

"Georgia Tech, North Avenue Trade School, scored 65 1-2 points due to the many fine contributions of the Georgia Southern gym team," stated Eagle gymnastics coach Patrick Yeager.

The outstanding performer of the meet was sophomore Kip Burton of Atlanta. Amassing an almost unbelievable 38 team points, he took first places in floor exercise, still rings, parallel bars, and tumbling.

Co-captain Buddy Harris tied Georgia Tech's John Hart for first place in the horizontal bar and scored second places in floor exercise and parallel bars. He also placed third in the side 15 1-2 points.

Kingpinners Perfect Record; Lumpkin Shines

By BOB LACKEY
Sports Writer

In the Eagle Tenpinners Bowling League Tuesday night, George Lumpkin led all bowlers with an outstanding 602 series. He bowled games of 194, 202, and 206.

The Kingpinners continued their winning ways by taking 8 points and have a perfect 24-0 record.

The other seven teams follow in this order: Runners, 20-4; No. 7, 14-10; Alleycats, 10-14; Tenpins, 10-14; No. 6, 8-16; Pen-pushers, 6-18; and Low Bowlers, 4-20.

Babs Brown paced the girls with a 435 series and Martha Lansford rolled the high game of 169. Babs currently has the high average for the girls with a 155 and Bob Lackey leads the boys with a 176.

This week's honor roll includes: Men -- George Lumpkin, 602; Jimmy Williamson, 527; Charles Parker, 526; and Tommy Harrison, 502. Women -- Babs Brown, 435; Carol Frankum, 415; Martha Lansford, 412; and Kathy Fowler, 406. To qualify for the honor roll, the men must bowl a 500 series or above, and the women must have a 400 or better series.
