Kaleidoscope Players To Appear

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ 'Book of Job' Presents Second Performance

Drama Winds Up Saturday Night In Auditorium

The curtain rolls up tonight at 8:15 on the second performance of The Book of Job, a Masquers production directed by Robert Overstreet.

Tommy Kinchen, in the title role, leads a cast of five in presenting the age-old question of why the good have to suffer. Playing the parts of the friends of Job are Walter Swift as Eliphaz, Ralph Jones as Bildad and Wymen Hunt as Zophar. Robert Overstreet is the narrator.

The play will continue in McCroan auditorium tomorrow night. Tickets can be purchased from any Masquers member or in Statesboro at the Music Box. Seats are not reserved.

The musical portion of the play features the brass choir directed by Dr. F. K. Grumley.

Stage manager for the play is Margaret Hendrix and lighting director is Ken Robbins.

Ethel Kelly, former Masquers member who is presently with St. Vincent's Academy in Savannah, is designing make-up.

Overstreet said, "the make-up is complex because it involves making up old men with beards. Miss Kelly is well qualified to do this complex work."

The Masquers have been invited to perform The Book of Job at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College Saturday, Feb. 5. The Masquers have visited ABAC once before when

EXCEPTIONS IN RULES

Exceptions in women's rules will be made for homecoming weekend, according to Miss Lulane McBride, Dean of Women.

Curfews will be extended until 1:30 a.m. Friday and until 1 a.m. Saturday. No late permits will be granted past these hours.

Women will not be allowed to wear slacks or shorts during the weekend due to visitors on campus.

CAST READY FOR "UNDER MILKWOOD" PRODUCTION
Campus Life Enrichment Committee Sponsors Series

Play Scheduled Monday Night

The Kaleidoscope Players, under the direction of actor-producer Bill Fegan, will present Dylan Thomas' Under Milkwood in McCroan Auditorium Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Jack Broucek, chairman of the Campus Life Enrichment Committee, which will sponsor the performance, said, "all seats are reserved and tickets may be picked up in the Dean of Student's Office and in the lobby of the Frank I. Williams Center."

The group, organized in 1959, has grown from a small band of players touring in two or three southeastern states to a full-time operation that has appeared at many colleges and universities throughout the United States. They have also performed for organized concert associations in almost 40 states.

With the 1965-66 season, the players revive their most successful production, Under Milkwood, and have been touring nationwide, including performances in Alaska and Hawaii. Along with Dylan Thomas' masterpiece they will present a new adaptation of the writings of Robert Frost, Robert Frost On Stage. In presenting the plays, the players' concentration is always on the oral interpretation of the literature.

Last season the Kaleidoscope Players toured the country giving over 100 performances. They travelled with three plays, The World of Carl Sandburg, Two By Five and Gobblegook. The players have a re-engagement record of 67 per cent. There are a number of colleges and universities that have seen all five of the Player's productions.

'Southern Heritage' to Be 1966 Homecoming Theme

The homecoming committee decided this week that the 1966 theme will be "Southern Heritage."

The committee based its selection of theme upon the conviction that the title embodies the traditions and spirit of the college throughout its development in the past and in the future.

Homecoming festivities will begin Tuesday at 8 p.m. with a pep rally sponsored by Circle K.

A "Land-Rush" for locations on Sweetheart Circle for displays, will begin Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. Each organization will have a special flag with which to stake out its claim.

Displays will be judged Thursday at 10 a.m. First, second and third place trophies will be presented on the basis of originality and closeness to theme. Presentations will be made at half-time ceremonies during the game with Cumberland College Thursday night.

Friday's activities will begin with a parade through downtown Statesboro at 2:30 p.m.

A tea for the "Miss GSC" contestants will be held after the parade at 4:30 in the lobby of Cone Hall. Mrs. Maude Davis will serve as hostess. The contestants, officers of Alpha Rho Tau and the judges will be present.

The beauty revue will be staged Friday at 7:30 p.m. in McCroan Auditorium. The sponsor, APO, has chosen "Chiaroscuro" as the theme for the beauty revue. The contestants will appear in cocktail dresses and formal gowns. Admission is 75 cents for students and $1 for visitors. The new beauty queen will be crowned by Johnnie Lockett, Miss GSC of 1965.

An alumni supper, sponsored by the Alumni Society, will take place Friday at 7 p.m. at the Forest Heights Country Club.

Student Congress will sponsor a dance featuring Maurice Williams and the "Zodiacs" at the National Guard Armory after the beauty revue. Tickets may be purchased by students and alumni only. On-campus students will be admitted free.

A dance will be sponsored simultaneously by the fraternities at the alumni gym.

An information booth will be set up in the Student Center by Gamma Sigma Upsilon, Theta Pi Omega and Sigma Alpha Chi from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday.

The academic clubs will sponsor a campus-wide open house Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A coffee for the alumni will be held in the lobby of Hendricks Hall.

The Eagles will meet Mercer University at 8 p.m. Saturday.

A dance for freshmen and sophomores will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. at the National Guard Armory.

An Alumni dance, sponsored by GSU will be held in the Alumni gym at 10 p.m.

Fraternity parties, closed to members only, will be held after the game.

Homecoming activities will end with a worship service Sunday at 11 a.m. in McCroan auditorium. The Rev. Ted Griner, minister of the First Methodist Church, will be the speaker and the college choir, directed by Don Northrip, will supply the music. Dr. Jack Broucek will serve as organist.

LEGERE (C), RELAXES WITH CAGGINO (L), GERNANT
Painter's Works Now on Display in Rosenwald Gallery

Nationally Renowned Artist Impressed with Reception

John Legere, nationally renowned painter whose works are now on exhibition in the Rosenwald Gallery, was pleased with his reception and stay at the college, according to Vito Caggino, art instructor.

Caggino said Legere was pleased to have a one-man exhibition here, this being only his second one-man show in the south. Legere's first one-man exhibition was at the Loft Art Gallery in Gables, Fla.

Caggino said Legere was impressed with Georgia scenery and that the Georgia countryside inspired him. Caggino went on to say that Legere was anxious to paint some of the scenery and that he felt some Georgia buildings had extreme character.

When asked about the influence of other artists on Legere, Caggino said that Legere had been influenced by Andrew Wyth, Winslow Homer and several other well known artists of the New York Art Student's League.

Caggino added that Legere's style of painting shows the influence of these painters but that he belongs to no definite school of painting.

The paintings in the Rosenwald gallery were hung by Caggino and Legere with the help of Dan Jenkins. Caggino said, "the arrangement and esthetic beauty of each painting must be taken into consideration for proper balance."

Price To Attend Bankers Seminar

Larry E. Price and six finance majors will attend a seminar sponsored by the Georgia Banker's Association, Junior Banker's Section, in Athens, Feb. 18-19, according to Dr. Paul LaGrone.

Brian H. McClelland, James F. Williamson, Samuel R. Schaffer, Emory G. Holton, Glenda L. Holton and Edgar J. Flemter, were chosen from Price's Finance 454 class.

The seminar is a special program designed to better acquaint college men with banking today and has nine colleges and universities participating.

Price said that transportation to and from Athens will be provided and all expenses will be paid by the Junior Banker's Section.

The seminar will be held at the Center for Continuing Education, University of Georgia, and will be presided over by John L. Carr Jr., President of the Junior Banker's Section.

Porter To Speak At BSU Retreat

Nathan J. Porter, associate secretary for missionary personnel, will speak to the Baptist Student Union Retreat tonight at 7 and tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church.

The topics for discussion will be Minority Groups, Christian Ethics in Politics and Business and New Morality in Sex.

The retreat is open to anyone interested. Transportation will be provided by buses. Buses will leave at 6:45 p.m. Friday and 9:15 a.m. Saturday.

After attending Baylor University, Porter received his bachelor of divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Porter has appeared before youth meetings, Ridgecrest and Glorieta Mission Conferences, college campuses, BSU Conventions, Retreats and Vocational Conferences. In the Department of Missionary Personnel, H.M.B., he works primarily with the pre-seminary age group, counseling with those who are interested in missionary service in America and with students interested in student summer missions.

Masquers' Production Captures True Spirit of Biblical Reading

By The Rev. WILLIS H. MOORE

(Editors Note: The Rev. Willis Moore, advisor to the Wesley Foundation, is a former Masquers member and a graduate of Georgia Southern. He performed in several productions while in school, one of them being MacBeth. While a student he worked as an assistant to the speech department.)

I have sat many long and boring hours in my short and exciting lifetime listening to some poor soul laboring over the public reading of The Holy Bible. Last night I watched an obviously Biblical Drama and suddenly realized I was enjoying hearing the reading of the Bible.

Robert Overstreet has attempted, and has apparently successfully accomplished a masterful work in staging The Book of Job right out of the Bible, Revised Standard Version. He clings tenaciously to the Scriptures and resists admirably any temptation that might arise to embellish the Drama with his own words.

Tommy Kinchen, who plays Job, immediately sets in the audience's mind a sense of the strong and the pathetic. However, he is a little less subtle than he could be in moving from the pained man to the ardent debater-with-man-and-God that he must become.

In the midst of Job's hour of suffering, his three "comforters" enter in the order in which they speak; Eliphaz, played by Walter Swift, Bildad, played by Ralph Jones and Zophar, played by Wyman Hunt.

When they venture to offer words to Job it is anything but comfort. Job is raising questions that center around the deep issues of life: "If a man dies, shall he live again?", "Why do the righteous suffer?", "Why do the wicked prosper?" and to God himself "Will you confront me personally?"

Job is ahead of his time, Biblically and possibly presently. The question about eternal life is not an Old Testament concept. The pleas of Job for a confrontation with God, his refusal to accept by hearsay any "religious mode," and his deep sense of being "Honest to God" all are as contemporary as this week's CHRISTIAN CENTURY.

The end of the drama takes a remarkable change of tone. Job gets his answer. He is confronted by God—only Job, and fearfully so, stands in the presence of God.

The magnitude of the staging of this drama lies in the complexity of the ancient and the contemporary merging as a unity before the eyes of the audience.

Most competent scholars agree that though the prologue and epilogue were written by an author other than that of the dialogues, The Book of Job is a drama. However, this does not mean that it is prefabricated for the McCroan stage.

Job is more nearly like its neighbor-in-time, the Socratic Dialogues, than a Greek Drama. That is, it reads more easily than it speaks.

Another difficulty lies in the almost total lack of stage movement. The four characters have to be a little less than wizards in order to give action without implying a floor pacing monologue.

Security Office Gets Secretary

Mrs. Linda M. Durden, former bookkeeper at the Bulloch County Bank, has assumed the position of secretary for the campus security office, according to Harold Howell, director.

Howell said Mrs. Durden will take care of the office's book work and answer the phone, a task formerly handled by one of the officers.

Howell said, "the presence of Mrs. Durden will enable a security officer to be on duty at all times, rather than spend part of the day in the office."

Display Locations Announced For Homecoming by Mercer

Joe Mercer, president of the junior class, announced a unique plan for the location of homecoming displays at the Committee of Campus Organizations meeting, recently in the Student Center.

All participating organizations and dormitories will have a runner representing them in a foot race. Runners will race from under the water tower to desired positions for displays in Sweetheart Circle. Runners reaching the designated positions first will stake a claim to that position for their organization.

Judging of displays will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 27. The 1st, 2nd and 3rd place awards will be presented at half-time during the homecoming ball game Jan. 29.

In other business, Roger Alderman, chairman of the parade committee, asked that organizations speed up the registration of parade units.

TRYOUTS FOR PLAY

Wesley Foundation members will tryout for the play, THE TERRIBLE MEEK, by Charles Rann Kennedy, Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. in Rm. 14 of the Music Building.

The play will be presented in various churches before and during Holy Week.

Regulations for the admittance of new organizations were discussed.

they were performing Don Juan in Hell, according to Overstreet.

When asked to describe The Book of Job, Overstreet said, The Book of Job is like a dramatic pageant. Its content is largely intellectual, or philosophical or ethical, but its subject is a matter of concern for all human beings."

"This play is a good combination of many arts. It is a syntheses of artistic elements to create something of value for the audience—value in terms of entertainment and enlightenment, as well as broadening knowledge of a piece of literature," he added.

Hambrick To Observe Home Ec. Curriculum

Miss Eleanor Hambrick, chairman of the home economics department at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College, will visit the college today to observe curriculum, according to Dr. Betty Lane, chairman of the division of home economics.

Miss Hambrick will work with Miss Rose Jones and Dr. Lane to coordinate junior college home economics curriculum with senior college curriculum.

Miller, Johnson Publish Articles

Two professors in the college's education division, Dr. Starr Miller and Dr. Harold Johnson, have published articles in the December issue of Clearing House, a national publication to teachers in public schools.

Dr. Miller's article, entitled Liberal Arts: Curriculum or Spirit?, deals with the opportunities of liberal arts colleges to be found in their reflection of the spirit and atmosphere of the liberal arts.

The article by Dr. Johnson, entitled Conference Techniques, and written with Lester Herman, an assistant principal in the Chatham County school system, discusses the need of teachers and administrators to use more face-to-face relationships with parents.

Broucek To Present Organ Recital Feb. 1

Dr. Jack W. Broucek, professor of music at the college and organist for Statesboro's First Presbyterian Church, will present his annual organ recital Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Broucek is a former dean of the Savannah chapter of the American Guild of Organists. He received his bachelor's degree at Baldwin-Wallace College, his master's degree at the University of Michigan and his doctorate at Florida State University. He has also done graduate work at Columbia University.

Newly Created Office Aids In Providing Assistance

By TOMMY DREW
Staff Writer

In the not too distant past it was common for a deserving college candidate to be refused admission because of lack of funds; the cry for financial aid frequently fell on deaf ears.

The idea of seeking financial assistance through loans, scholarships and part time jobs was considered, at one time, a privilege reserved for the student who displayed maximum proficiency in course study as well as being in the extreme upper percentile of his class.

Tough Competition

Scant resources and lack of interest on the part of loan services, industries, banks and the national government erected a barrier to the average student whose desire to further his education was as great as the "dean's list" candidate but whose scholastic ability could not keep up the pace.

Now, however, the emphasis of supplying funds to only a select few is being played down in favor of giving aid to the most deserving, providing, of course, they have the ability to meet scholastic qualifications.

Help Offered

The recently established Office of Placement and Student Aid is devoted to the task of providing financial resources to the deserving student along with a storehouse of information on job placement and employment situations. This valuable asset to the college is under the direction of Ben G. Waller.

Through his hands are guided many forms of assistance as well as various employment positions available to students while attending school or during summer months at camps, resort areas and business-industrial-government concerns.

Waller states that "the idea of borrowing money to supplement other forms of financial assistance to pay for a college education is both sound and practical." His office operates on the principle that no student who has college ability and interest should hesitate to apply for a loan or scholarship if his needs require more money than his family can give him.

Loan Requirements

Waller said that in order to qualify for a loan, "Students must be in good academic standing to be approved and must maintain a 'c' average with no 'F's' to continue to borrow. All loan requests should be for the amount needed for the entire academic year. Renewal for succeeding years may be made and, generally, will be approved provided the student is making normal progress toward graduation, can establish continued need and money is available."

Loan applications must be filed one month prior to the beginning of the quarter needed, he added.

Apply Immediately

There are three scholarship services available through appropriations set up by the Georgia Legislature and administered by the State Scholarship Commission, the Board of Regents and the State Department of Education. The Office of Placement and Student Aid encourages all those who can meet the requirements for securing a scholarship to apply for them as soon as possible.

Waller offers the following description of the assets offered through his office:

Scholarships

G.S.T.S.P.

The Georgia State Teachers Scholarship Plan is awarded by the State Department of Education of Georgia for amounts ranging from $300 to $1,000 for an academic year. There are presently 196 students receiving this scholarship.

REGENTS

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia sponsors a program whereby Georgia residents may qualify for scholarships at any one of the institutions of higher education within the University System. Annual stipends vary from $250 to $1,000. This scholarship is being offered to 24 students.

S.S.C.

The State Scholarship Commission will grant scholarships to qualified students who would not otherwise have funds necessary to finance the cost of a program of study in dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, social work, the paramedical fields and other educational and professional fields of study as defined and approved by the Commission. Two students are receiving this scholarship.

Loans

N.D.E.A.

National Defense Education Act funds are open to all full-time degree-seeking students regularly enrolled in the College. Priority in consideration is given to those students with superior ability.

G.H.E.A.C.

Georgia High Education Assistance Corporation loans are available to many students. This loan will provide: (1) long term, delayed repayment loan to qualified students and, (2) the opportunity for a higher education and better vocational training for capable students.

Jobs

PART TIME

A student seeking part-time employment during the regular school term may file an application as soon as he has been accepted by a college; however, there is not a great deal that can be done about securing a job until he is on the campus and ready to go to work.

SUMMER

Any student wishing assistance in locating summer employment may file an application during the fall and winter quarter. Some openings may be filled through campus interviews.

Work-Study Program

The Work-Study Program is designed to aid students who meet the following qualifications: (1) Is from a low income family, (2) Is in need of the earnings from such employment in order to pursue a course of study at such institution, (3) Is capable of maintaining good standing in such course of study while employed under the program, (4) Has been accepted for enrollment as a full-time student at the institution, or is already enrolled in and attending the institution or is in good standing and in full-time attendance there either as an undergraduate, graduate or professional student.

PAPER WORK

Placemnt and Aid Director Ben G. Waller and Mrs. Iris Brannen, secretary, look over one of the many placement forms.

Other Services

All seniors and juniors are urged to watch the bulletin board in their division and at the Student Personnel for sign-up sheets for various businesses and industries who are visiting our campus, according to Waller.

Waller added, "we have a few job listings now. If students are interested in discussing the possibilities surrounding these, they should come by soon."

The Office of Placement and Student Aid announced that 789 of the school's 3,413 enrolled students are receiving either scholarship or financial aid. In addition to those previously listed, 72 students are receiving assistance from various civic groups and organizations, 26 are on athletic scholarships and 82 students are on physical rehabilitation grants.

In conclusion, Waller added, "we want to serve the students, but unless they come in and give us information about themselves, we can't help them."

PR Office Strives To Extol GSC Throughout South

By DEAN POLLARD
Staff Writer

Featured publicity about the college is produced correlative by the Office of Public Relations and the George-Anne.

Both offices are directed by one publicist, Ric Mandes, whose primary purpose is to extol the name and qualities of the college in cities and states all over the southeastern section of the country.

Although the weekly editions of the George-Anne are mailed to 80 colleges and universities, the daily coverage by the public relations office reaches thousands in just one news report on Savannah dateline news.

Beginning in 1953 with Roy F. Powell, whom Mandes calls "the first rebel of the PR office," public relations at GSC began to take shape. "Powell is an academic journalist," says Mandes, "and he really gave substance to the job."

One of Powell's happiest days as PR director was the day the office got its first phone. From then on it was uphill all the way.

Mandes, a 1959 graduate of GSC, took over as PR man in September of 1961. He explains that the office started with "a cracker barrel turntable and a $70 tape recorder" and now has equipment worth over $3,500.

According to Mandes, the most important function of his office is the Hometown News Bureau, which sends news stories about individual students to newspapers, radio and television stations in their hometowns.

Through this service, which sends out 500 news bulletins per quarter, high school students and their parents become familiar with the workings of GSC.

The Hometown News Bureau and the state news releases are handled by two full-time student assistants, Brenda Taylor, a senior from Sylvania and Beverly Carlson, a freshman from Dawson.

Mandes explains that his student assistants are selected with great care according to their ability to handle responsibility. They are in touch with the student body and therefore are given almost total responsibility for coverage of student news.

Recently, Mandes made a staff change, which he hopes will not only make his news operation more efficient, but will also aid the George-Anne in its reporting of campus news.

Ron Maynew, a sophomore political science major from Atlanta, has been appointed to fill this new position, which Mandes dubs "director of student news."

Mandes describes television as "a master art," and he follows this belief by frequent appearances on local and state television networks.

Included in his television and radio appearances are a 15 minute weekly news program entitled "Sounds from Southern," which is heard on 40 radio stations; one 15 minute news program a month on the University of Georgia educational television station, and at least three half-hour specials a year from Athens.

These specials last year included a show on Robert Overstreet and the Masquers, a poetry reading by Dr. David Ruffin and a lecture on modern art by Dr. Frieda Gernant.

Mandes also averages one hour of commercial television a month, usually broadcasting from Augusta, with an audience of approximately 30,000, or from Savannah, with an audience of 25,000.

Recently, Mandes and the GSC Public Relations Office were featured in the cover story of the magazine, Public Relations Ideas.

Summing up the progress which the PR office has made, Mandes says, "We started in 1961 with one director, one secretary, and one student assistant. In the near future our office personnel will include another director in charge of alumni affairs with a secretary, one graduate assistant and seven full-time student assistants."

The Office of Public Relations "runs the news program with very reverent perpetual motion," says Mandes, "and now that we've started growing, the sky's the limit."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I am a firm believer in giving praise where praise is due. Due to the considerable criticism various service organizations have received, I find it necessary to say a few words on behalf of some of the service organizations.

On Jan. 8 the Student Congress presented a concert to the student body. The success of this concert was due to the work of Alpha Phi Omega and Circle K in conjunction with the Student Congress.

The brothers of Alpha Phi Omega spent Saturday morning covering the floor of the Hanner Gym, stringing the lights and setting up the sound system.

The members of Circle K worked at the ticket booth, took care of the dressing room facilities and rounded up a bar stool and a rug.

On Saturday afternoon members of both of these organizations helped set up the backdrop and worked with the Highwaymen on sound effects during a rehearsal.

At the end of the performance the Hanner Gym was cleaned up by these same organizations. I would like to thank Alpha Phi Omega and Circle K for living up to their constitution and fulfilling the duties of a service organization.

There are other service organizations that are doing fine jobs also and I would like to point out that many of their services are overlooked. But these services are being performed, and I see no need to criticize these organizations for the "services" they are not doing.

Gov. Sanders Accepts Speaking Invitation Here

Governor Carl E. Sanders has accepted an invitation to speak at the second annual homecoming conference of the College's Leadership Association Jan. 29 at Statesboro High School, according to Dr. Harold T. Johnson, sponsor of the association and director of principalship studies for the division of education.

Campus Security Director Harold Howell announced this week that 1,462 vehicles were registered fall quarter for the year.

Sixty-nine temporary decals and 43 emergency stickers were issued during the quarter, Howell added.

Howell said that 1,869 summons were issued and $955.50 was collected in fines.

Approximately $6,500 was collected in auto registration fees, Howell said.

Students Affirm U. S. Policy In Viet Nam

A statewide student movement intended to draw emphatic public affirmation of the United States' commitment to Viet Nam was recently initiated by a group of Emory University students.

Designated "Affirmation: Viet Nam" by its student organizers, the movement will begin with a comprehensive poll of the citizens and residents of Georgia regarding their opinions of the U. S. Commitment in Viet Nam and will culminate in a massive assembly at Atlanta's athletic stadium.

The third point of the three-phase plan of the organization is a statewide speakers' bureau to educate the public concerning the facts of the Viet Nam crisis — abroad and at home.

A statement prepared by the students who began organization of "Affirmation: Viet Nam" explains, "The eye and ear of world opinion have been focused on those Americans who openly protest the United States' involvement in Viet Nam.

"These objectors give strong voice to their convictions, and the nations of the world, friend and foe alike, must surely doubt the convictions and strength of those who consider the American involvement an undeniable and irrevocable commitment.

"The public consensus, which is obvious to all experienced observers, must not be hidden by the actions of a small fraction of our population.

"This fraction has a right to be heard, but they impose on the rest of us the obligation to make unmistakably clear the United States' strong commitment. We cannot long ignore this privilege of open expression that is now a pressing responsibility."

Although the organization consists entirely of college and high school students of the state of Georgia, it has received endorsement and much support from outstanding leaders of the nation's politics, business and press.

Twenty-One Coeds To Vie For Best Dressed Honor

By ANN VAUGHAN
Society Editor

Twenty-one coeds will be judged by a nomination board Monday for the title of 1965 Best Dressed Coed.

The girls are representing the nine women's residence halls on and off campus. Each floor of every girls' dormitory nominated one girl to be in the contest.

The nomination board is composed of selected student leaders and faculty members. The board will select ten finalists, one of whom will be chosen the winner in an election held in the student center Monday, Jan. 31.

Candidates appearing before the nomination board will be judged on the basis of: (1) a clear understanding of her fashion type; (2) a workable wardrobe plan; (3) a suitable campus look—in line with local customs; (4) appropriate—not rah rah—look for off-campus occasions; (5) individuality in use of colors and accessories; (6) imagination in managing a clothes budget; (7) good grooming, not just neat, but impeccable; (8) clean, shining, well-kept hair; (9) deft use of make-up (enough to look pretty, but not overdone) and, (10) good figure and beautiful posture.

The names of the candidates and the dormitories they are representing are:

Lewis—Diana New, senior elementary education major and Toni Hudson, freshman.

Hendricks—Sharon Dewberry, freshman sociology major; Nancy Mock, freshman, and Sue Hudson, sophomore French major.

Veazy—Karen R. Boatright, sophomore mathematics major; Cathy Carmichael, sophomore elementary education major, and Marsha Mills, sophomore business education major.

Lynne—Ginger Hill, senior mathematics major and Kay Chasteen, senior elementary education major.

Buford—Joyce Sommers, senior business major.

Deal—Elaine Thomas, freshman English major; Annette Nash, freshman medical technology major, and Maria Brown freshman business education major.

Anderson—Alice Gautier, freshman elementary education major; Sandra McWhorter, junior secretarial business major, and Carol Ann Hardy, sophomore English major.

Candidates from Cooper and Wudie dormitories have not been selected.

The winner will be photographed in a typical campus outfit, off-campus daytime outfit and a party dress. The three photographs will be sent to Glamour Magazine with an official entry form, to be judged by a panel of Glamour editors.

Glamour will select 10 regional winners from the entries of colleges over the United States. The winners of the magazine's Tenth Annual "Best Dressed College Girls" contest will be photographed by top fashion photographers in the late spring for its August College Issue.

The first two weeks in June they will go to New York for a gala round of parties, theatre, sightseeing and entertainment by Glamour's friends in the beauty and fashion industries.

A gymnastics meet is a unique form in the athletic world. Collegiate meets don't draw bowls full of people, but their is certainly ample excitement to a gym meet. A fine performance on the high-bar or in free cal is just as enjoyable whether the performer is "home team" or the competition. Even in the spirit-charged atmosphere of the campus there is not the mean, antagonistic side of competition. The strongest incentive to the performer is his own sense of pride in presenting beautifully and well a routine at which he excels. And the strongest incentive for the spectator is the appreciation of the quality in the performance.

Maybe this is precisely why gymnastics doesn't have the mass appeal of football or basketball — maybe everybody just has to have somebody to get mad at — like cussing out the referee or booing the other team. Nobody boos the other team at a gym meet.

Even though the Eagles lost to Furman, no one really minded Furman winning. Admitted, GSC students, team and coaches would have been happier if the score had been reversed, but everyone enjoyed the performances of both teams just as much as if the Eagles had won.

There were several performances which were outstanding and several which showed the need of much work, as can be expected in early season matches. Tomorrow afternoon the Eagle gymnasts meet Slippery Rock, one of the best teams on our schedule. It promises to be a good contest with top-notch performers, and I urge you to attend this meet.

A TOUGH TEAM

The Eagle basketball team did an admirable job in sticking with the Phillips 66 Oilers, holding the score to an even 20-point margin.

The Oilers were high, wide and fast and they set a fast pace for the game from the start. The Eagles knew they were up against a tough team, so they played harder. It is interesting to note that the top four scorers in the game, two Oilers and two Eagles, each had 18 points. That's pretty consistent basketball.

It is difficult to compare the Eagles' performance against Phillips' with their performance against East Tennessee, mainly because the Oilers are so much better than the Tennessee team. This in itself, however, suggests that the Eagles played very well against the Oilers. And especially when you consider the fact that the Oilers beat the University of Georgia by 32 points. It would be most interesting to see the Eagles meet the Bulldogs here!

Carson-Newman Challenges Eagles in Cage Tilt Here

Riding high on their 11-4 record, the Eagle basketballers meet the Eagles of Carson-Newman College at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Hanner Gymnasium.

Captain and playmaker Don Adler heads the lineup for the GSC five. Adler has tallied a 10.4 season average from his guard spot.

Mike Rickard, leading scorer with 18.8, should pace the Eagle scoring attack, along with All-America Jimmy Rose, who is rapidly pulling out of his early-season slump with 30- and 12-point performances against Tampa and Stetson, to bring his average to 13.4.

Rounding out the starters for Georgia Southern are Bill Pickens and Jim Seeley, who lead the Eagle cleanup detail on the backboards. Pickens is averaging 10.3 rebounds a game and Seeley 9.1.

The team scoring average for the season is 81.6.

The GSC Eagles defeated Carson-Newman last year 92-64 here, and lost 57-75 in the Jefferson City (Tenn.) home of the C-N Eagles.

On next Thursday night GSC meets Cumberland College of Williamsburg, Ky.

In the preliminary game tomorrow night, the freshman team will play Jenkins High of Savannah.

Eagles to Open Homecoming Weekend

The Eagles open the Homecoming weekend next Thursday night, January 27, with a game against the Cumberland Indians from Williamsburg, Ky. Georgia Southern lost by one point to Cumberland here last year, and then avenged the loss with a solid victory on the Indians home court.

In the Homecoming game Saturday night, Jan. 29, the Eagles meet arch-rival Mercer University. The game will be the 45th between the two schools, and GSC holds a 20-game margin over the Bears.

According to tentative Student Congress plans, freshmen and sophomores will be given first choice on tickets to the Thursday game and seniors and juniors will be given first choice

Phillips 66 Oilers Down Eagles; Stifle Last-minute Rush by Rose

The smooth-rolling Phillips 66 Oilers outscored the Eagles 99-79 in a fast-paced game here last Saturday night. Four players shared high point honors with 18 each.

Oiler Bobby Rascoe led the percentage parade with 8 of 11 from the field and 2 of 3 free throws, followed by teammate Carrier who hit 9 of 14 from the field for his 18.

Jimmy Rose scored on 9 of 15 field attempts for the Eagles. Bill Pickens hit 6 of 18 from the field and 6 of 8 from the foul line.

Eagle Jim Seeley paced rebounding for the game with 11, along with Pickens, who pulled down 10 from the rim.

Head Coach J. B. Searce said that the Phillips Oilers were the best team he had played since coming to GSC. "We played a good game against them, maybe our best game yet," said Coach Searce.

The Phillips team advanced their season record to 21-1 with the victory over Georgia Southern. The game does not affect the official standing of the Eagles.

The Oilers steadily moved ahead of the Eagles from the opening horn. At one point in the first half, GSC narrowed the margin to seven, at 24-31, but the half ended with the Oilers leading, 52-36.

During the second half the point margin varied from 10 to 20 on occasions. With about six minutes remaining, the Eagles led by Rose, put on a final rush to bring the score to 84-72. But the rush bogged down and in the final 3 minutes, the Oilers outdistanced the Eagles to end the game 99-79.

Szotkiewicz-led Frosh Defeat Americus, 71-64

Ken Szotkiewicz's 22-point performance paced the Eagle freshman basketball team to a 71-64 victory over Georgia Technical and Vocational School of Americus Saturday night in the Hanner Gymnasium.

Marvin Carter paced the Technics' attack with 21. He was followed by Bert Wilbanks with 15.

In commenting on the game, Thompson said, "I felt that we played better Saturday night than we have in our two previous games since Christmas." "We were off for 16 days during Christmas and this completely destroyed all we had learned to that point," he continued. "I hope we will get back to that point soon."

The Baby Eagles, who now hold a 6-2 record, will see their next action Saturday night when they meet Jenkins High School of Savannah in the Hanner Gymnasium. The Jenkins team is one of the best high school teams in this area, and they have a lot of height, according to Coach Thompson.

Gymnasts Lose to Furman; Host Slippery Rock Sat.

By JOHN EDEN
Sports Editor

The Eagle gymnastics team, after dropping the opening meet of the season to Furman University last Friday night, will meet the high-flying gymnasts of Slippery Rock (Penn.) College on Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

In the meet with Furman, Eagle Kip Burton captured two first place honors, with an 8.6 in free calisthenics and an 8.8 on still rings.

Burton was top man for GSC with 15 place points, followed by Charles Eunice with 11.

68 - 43

David Creech led Furman to its 68½ - 43½ victory with 17 points, along with Bobby Tubbs with 13 points.

Rick Ward took first place on the horizontal bar for the Eagles with an 8.8 after Burton, top man in this event for the Eagles, fell during his routine. Asst. Gym Coach Charles Exley said, "Burton is in shape now and he was in shape last weekend; he just had an off day."

Exley said that Ward's performance on the high bar was a pleasant surprise. "His routine went much smoother than we had expected it to. He came through in the clinch."

Eunice took two second places in the meet, and Jimmy Kirkland captured second in the Long Horse Vault.

Slippery Rock

GSC Gymnastics Coach Ron Oertley said, "We will take a much better prepared team into the meet Saturday; there are additional difficulties in all the routines, and we have done additional work during the week." He added that the team has had a trampoline to practice on this week, which should improve performance in that event.

Coach Oertley said that the Slippery Rock team, now on an extensive Southern tour, lost to the University of Pennsylvania by only two points last week. "I feel that Slippery Rock is a better team than we met last weekend, but in view of our increased team strength, I am looking for a victory over them."

Cagers Hit 118 Scoring Peak On Victorious Florida Road Trip

By HUBERT NORTON
GSC Sports Publicist

The Eagles posted a pair of victories to up their season record to 11-4 with a 118-91 victory over the University of Tampa and a 66-62 triumph over Stetson University Monday and Tuesday nights on a two-game Florida road trip.

Against the Tampa team, the Eagles reached their highest scoring total of the year. Georgia Southern routed the Spartans in Statesboro last year, 119-95, and posted a 63-57 victory earlier this season here.

Rambling Jimmy Rose was the top point producer against the Spartans with 31 points. The 6-2 guard hit 15 field goals in 23 tries, most of them long jump shots.

Rose received plenty of scoring help from Jim Seeley (25 points), Mike Rickard (21), and Bill Pickens (20). Seeley enjoyed a spectacular night from the field, hitting 11 field goals in 12 attempts.

Seeley also had a good night under the boards, hauling down 14 rebounds to pace the Eagles. Pickens was a close second with 13 caroms.

Sparkplug guard Dick Pusins was high for the Spartans with 25 points.

Rose bagged 18 points in the first half as Georgia Southern jumped to a 48-42 halftime margin. The Eagles pulled ahead in the middle of the second half when the Spartans began a run-and-shoot attack in an attempt to get back in the contest.

Tuesday night in DeLand was a different story for the Eagles, who never got their offense rolling. The Eagles, who led 33-25 at halftime, pulled in front by 12 points at 44-32 in the second half, but had to hang on for their lives during a closing rush by Stetson.

The Hatters came within one point twice during the hectic closing minute, but Rickard almost single handedly stymied the Hatter surge. The 6-3 forward pulled down two decisive rebounds and scored three important points in the final 45 seconds to insure the Southern triumph.

Pickens was the high scorer for the Eagles with 17 points, followed by Rickard's 16. Rose was the only other Eagle in double figures with 12 markers. Bobby Jenkins was high for Stetson with 18.

N. Y. Yankee Star Mize Visits GSC

By HUBERT NORTON
GSC Sports Publicist

Johnny Mize, one of the best pinch-hitters in the history of major league baseball, was an interested spectator at Georgia Southern's basketball game with the Phillips 66 Oilers Saturday night.

Mize was in town with his wife and daughter to see about possibly enrolling his daughter, who is a senior in high school, here next year. Mize said he also had visited Piedmont College and North Georgia College for the same purpose.

Mize, who attended Piedmont College in his hometown of Demorest, Ga., is a personal friend of Dr. Zach S. Henderson, who also attended Piedmont.

"I've known Zach a long time," said Mize. "I don't suppose many people call him 'Zach' around here," he added with a mild laugh.

"I used to play basketball against Georgia Southern when it was Georgia Teachers back in the late 1920's," added Mize. "That was way before the building (Hanner Gym) was built."

Mize, now a native of Deland, Fla., "fools around with oranges" in Florida and says he is going into the life insurance business with the National Trust Company in Hollywood, Fla.

The famous pinch-hitter, who now weighs in the vicinity of 250 pounds but looks as if he could still hit if he had to, said he believes the New York Yankees, one of the three teams he played for in his 15 years in the big leagues, can return to prominence in the American League in 1966.

"I haven't checked any figures lately," he said, "but I can't remember them losing two years in a row recently. Injuries were their big problem last year. Mantle was hurt and had his worst year and Maris played in only a few games—that was all that was wrong with them. When you lose your two big men, you're going to feel it. I don't care if it's baseball, football or basketball."

Mize recently was given the retroactive Babe Ruth Sultan of Swat award in Baltimore, with Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants winning the active Ruth award. Mize said he won the award for his 51 home runs in 1947.

Mize played 15 years in the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals, the New York Giants and the Yankees. He led the National League in batting once and in homers four times. He was even more famous as a pinch-hitter with the Yankees in the early 1950's. He retired after the 1953 season.

In his career, he had a .312 lifetime average and slugged 359 home runs.

Four Under Lead Intramural

By JOE CRINE
Sports Writer

The men's intramural basketball league entered its second week of action with four undefeated teams leading the way.

The Rebels and Delta Sigma Pi share the American League with records of 4-0 while the Phantoms are right behind with a 3-1 mark.

In last week's American League action, the Rebels rolled over the Phantoms 56-38 on Wednesday night and Delta Sigma Pi downed the Trojans 44-29 on Thursday night. In other American League action, the Vandals downed APO 47-29 on Wednesday night and SEX defeated DPA 43-36 on Thursday night.

The Rogues and LaVista Hall are tied for the National League lead with records of 4-0 while the Dixie Darlings and Knight Hall are deadlocked for second with 3-1 marks.

The Rogues trounced the Bandits 62-36 and Knight Hall rolled over the Rhodents 84-46 in Wednesday night's National League action while the Dixie Darlings downed the Unknowns 73-51 and LaVista Hall rolled over the Hawks 72-53 in Thursday night action.

In this week's American League action, the Rebels, the Phantoms, and Delta Sigma Pi captured Monday night victories. The Trojans defeated SEX 53-38. Jerry Henry led the Trojans in scoring with 17. The Rebels rolled over DPA 61-41 behind Ronald Brock's 20-point performance.

The Phantoms trounced APO 57-28, and Delta Sig rounded out the night's American League action by downing the Vandals 42-32. Robert's 17-point performance paced the Phantoms attack, and Ronnie Floyd was high for Delta Sig with 15.

Tuesday night's American League action saw Delta Sig down APO 55-44. Larry Olsen captured high point honors for Delta Sig with 23. The Rebels, paced by Ronald Brock's 24-point performance, rolled over the Trojans 70-53 in another American League contest.

The Vandals downed SEX 44-35 and the Phantoms trounced DPA 62-34 to round out the night's American League action. Chip Matherson's 15-point performance led the Vandals to victory. Carey Trice of SEX led both teams in scoring with 22.

Monday night's National League action was highlighted by Knight Hall's 64-42 victory over the Hawks. Minton led Knight in scoring with 14. Bobby Parker scored 22 points to lead LaVista Hall to a 58-47 victory over the Unknowns in another National League contest.

The Rogues downed the Rhodents 54-42 and the Dixie Darlings defeated the Bandits 52-44 to round out the night's National League activity. Gary Smith was high for the Rogues with 11. Dwight Hodges of the Rhodents led both teams in scoring with 13.

The contest between the Dixie Darlings and the Rogues highlighted Tuesday night's National League activity. The Rogues captured a 57-49 victory to win the battle of the two undefeated teams.

Jerry Stoke's 30-point performance led the Hawks to a 73-57 victory over the Rhodents in another National League contest.

La Vista Hall trounced the Bandits 64-41 and Knight Hall rolled over the Unknowns 58-40 to round out the night's National League action.

"Sounds from Southern," a weekly radio broadcast which features events, activities, students and faculty of Georgia Southern College, is being revived this quarter after a temporary discontinuance during fall quarter.

Nancy Jenkins, a sophomore coed from Macon, is in charge of the program's direction working in collaboration with Ric Mandes, public relations director, to record taped conversations and music each week.

Winter Quarter Enrollment Figures Released

Lloyd Joyner, registrar of the college, released the winter enrollment figures Thursday revealing that a total of 3,413 students have registered for Winter classes.

Who do you think should have priority on the purchasing of Homecoming tickets? Why?

Caroline Russell, Jr., Dublin: I think the seniors and the alumni should have first priority, because I think homecomings are primarily intended for these people.

Elaine Tyre, Soph., Alma: Seniors first, then the juniors, sophomores and freshmen. I think that this should be maintained so that seniors who will not be here next year will have a chance to attend this important event of the year.

Pete Vivencio, Jr., Brunswick: I think that seniors and freshmen should have tickets to the game, because it will be the seniors' last ball game and the freshmen's last one.

Ron Bailey, Soph., Casper, Ky.: We need a brand new gym.

Currey Gayle, Soph., Perry: The seniors should have first priority and then they should be put on a "first come - first serve basis."

Roy Smith, Jr., Ludowici: Homecoming means more to the seniors and juniors because they are better acquainted with the alumni; therefore, they should have priority. To freshmen and sophomores it is just another game.

Brenda Scruggs, Soph., Statesboro: It does not really matter who gets the first choice of tickets because everyone is not going to be satisfied since we do not have the facilities to solve the problem.

Jerry Wilkerson, Sr., Augusta: Due to the large crowds, tickets ought to be distributed first to on-campus students and then to off-campus students.

Cheryl Theus, Soph., Ludowici: Everyone whose name starts with Cheryl should get first choice. Then the sophomores, seniors, juniors, and of course, the freshmen. Visitors could sit in the laps of their dates, or wait in the car. No, really I guess the players should have top priority.
