Duo-Piano Team Has Appeared With Orchestras

The nationally renowned piano team of Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe will present a concert in McCroan Auditorium March 23 at 8:15 p.m. under the auspices of the Campus Life Enrichment Committee.

According to Dr. Jack Broucek, chairman of the committee, students will be admitted free of charge and others will be admitted for 75 cents and $1.

Whittemore, a native of South Dakota, and Lowe, who is from Colorado, met as students at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y. The team made their debut in New York's Town Hall.

Navy Duty

Their career was immediately interrupted by four years of Navy Duty. They returned to the concert field and quickly rose to the position of eminence and favor they now hold.

The team has appeared with a number of symphony orchestras including the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Boston Symphony and the Philharmonic of London. In these orchestras they have performed as soloist and have been highly successful as recitalists.

Flagstad

The late Kirsten Flagstad said of them, "There are many marvelous performers before the public today, but very few great recitalists. Whittemore and Lowe certainly must be counted among those few."

They have played on practically every radio program that features live, serious music. They were the first classical

Women Students Plan To Move Into Olliff Hall March 21-22

Junior and senior women students will move into Olliff Hall March 21-22 when they return to school for the spring quarter, it was announced this week.

A committee of six appointed by Dean Ralph K. Tyson made the decision to move March 21-22 and will present the motion to President Zach S. Henderson for approval today.

The committee recommended that women students pack all possessions and carry them home if possible. If this is impossible, all possessions should be packed out of the way of movers and locked in rooms or storage rooms, a committee spokesman said.

During the Holidays, furniture will be moved from presently used dormitories to Olliff. For this reason all belongings will have to be packed. Each girl is responsible for the moving of her own possessions, the spokesman said.

Art Department To Sponsor Exhibition of Twenty Works

Twenty portraits by American and British painters will be on display in the Rosenwald Gallery, March 7 through March 26. This collection of paintings is on loan from the department of arts and sciences of the International Business Machine Corporation.

The exhibition is sponsored by the GSC department of art. It is the fifth exhibition they have sponsored this year.

Miss Roxie Remley, art instructor, said, "The scheduling of the IBM art show was done three years ago." IBM's art and science exhibitions have three times the number of requests that they can handle," she added.

The IBM touring exhibitions are loaned to non-profit organizations and are free of any charge.

Thirteen of the artists represented are American and seven are British.

The artists represented are: George W. Bellows, an American, who began his career as a newspaper cartoonist. He was an outstanding figure among the realists of his time. Besides painting portraits, he was a lithographer and landscapist. His portrait, "Lady in Green Dress," will be on display.

John Carroll, an American, is known for the marked fragility of his style. His painting, "Spring Bonnet," will be on display.

John Singleton Copley, an American, painted portraits, historical and religious canvases. His portrait "Joseph Sewall" will be displayed.

Anthony Devas, an Englishman, is a figure painter who specializes in portraiture and contemporary versions of genre of the eighteenth century. His work on display will be "Artists Wife and Daughter."

Ralph Earl, an American, was a self taught painter of portraits and historical scenes. His painting on display will be "A Child."

Jerry Farnsworth, born in Dalton, Ga., has exhibited nationally and internationally. His painting on display will be "Eve and Elinor."

George P. Healy, an American, was a portrait painter. He is credited with 700 portraits. On display will be his painting "Two Girls."

Registration Time Card Pickup Set Next Week

Currently enrolled GSC Students will pick up their registration time cards for spring quarter from the window in the Registrar's office beginning Monday and continuing through Friday.

Registration for spring quarter will be held in the gym, March 22 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. according to Lloyd Joyner, Registrar.

The time card indicates when the student will be admitted to the gym on registration day. Students who fail to draw time cards on the days indicated must pick up a card at the Registrar's office the day of registration. Cards picked up at this time will be assigned a late hour to register.

Joyner reminds students that they must see their advisers before the end of winter quarter for course approval. The Registrar stated that periods and sections are not to be indicated on the adviser card. This information will be entered after course cards are submitted at registration.

New students, (freshmen and transfers) and former GSC students will be notified to see their advisers on March 22, registration day, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon. Joyner added that students will not be permitted to register without time cards and adviser cards.

GSC Matriculation Fee Increased from $60 to $85

The basic matriculation fee at the college was increased from $60 per quarter to $85 per quarter after Chancellor George Simpson and Treasurer James A. Blissit explained at the meeting of the State Board of Regents recently that an estimated 1966 budget deficit of $7.6 million would have to be met.

Tuition fees for non-resident students in addition to the matriculation fee increased from $100 to $110 a quarter. These fees apply to all students registering for 12 or more quarter hours, according to W. M. Dewberry, Comptroller of the college.

The matriculation fee for students registering for less than 12 quarter hours was increased from $5 per quarter hour to 17 per quarter hour. The non-resident tuition for these students was increased from $8 to $9 per quarter hour.

Chancellor Simpson said that the increase was vital "if we are to remain where we are at this time."

Other four-year colleges raised their registration fees: —University of Georgia, from $70 to $95 a quarter. —Georgia Tech, $80 to $105. —Georgia Medical College, $200 to $250. —Georgia State College, $5 a quarter hour to $7.

All the state's other four-year colleges raised their fees from $60 a quarter to $85. Registration fees at junior colleges were increased from $45 to $70 a quarter.

Based on a projected enrollment increase next year of some 9,000 students, the projected cost increase over-all was placed at $14.6 million. The state legislature voted only a $7 million increase.

The institutions had asked originally for an $18.5 million budget increase, but the regents cut corners and reduced this to $14.6 million. Even with the $7 million raised by the proposed fee increases, the regents will fall short of their estimated expenses.

"We'll just have to make it up somewhere," Treasurer Blissit said.

Blissit stated that the total operational budget will be $52 million for next year.

This increase of registration fees will hike costs approximately 30 percent for students in state-supported colleges.

DEADLINE

The deadline for cashing personal checks in the Business Office is Saturday morning, at 12 noon.

Delta Iota Chapter To Choose Outstanding 1966 Honor Society

Delta Iota Chapter, as winner of the 1965 Chapter award, assumes the responsibility of the judging of the various chapter's work this year. The deadline for the reports of the five best projects and publications is Saturday.

Delta Iota Chapter, one of 106 active chapters of Pi Omega Pi (National Business Teacher Education Honor Society), won the 1965 chapter award last spring.

The winning chapter is presented with a plaque and has its name inscribed on a traveling trophy. The other nine chapters receive certificates signed by members of the national council.

Selection of the award chapters is based on projects and publications reported by the various chapters as well as promptness in turning in reports requested by the national officers.

Delta Iota Chapter officers are Diana Rieck, president; Christine Carroll, vice-president; Alice Jane Hearn, secretary; Sara Jo Lane, corresponding secretary; Robert Torbert, treasurer; Mrs. Gayle Phillips, historian, and Miss Jane F. White, sponsor. Pledges for this quarter are Gail Coleman and Patsy Kelly.

Pi Omega is one of 38 college honor societies affiliated with the Association of College Honor Societies. This Association is the coordinating organization of the recognized collegiate honor societies which are generally regarded as having suitably high standards.

The purposes of Pi Omega Pi are to establish and direct chapters in colleges and universities engaged in business education, to create and encourage interest and promote scholarship in business education, to encourage civic responsibility, to foster high ethical standards in business and professional life among teachers of business and to teach the ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprises.

Masquers Schedule Tryout Times For Upcoming Spring Play

Tryouts for I Am a Camera, the next Masquers production, are scheduled backstage Monday and Tuesday from 7:30-8:30 p.m., according to director Robert Overstreet.

The play, by John van Druten, is based on the Berlin Stories, which is a collection of fictitious and factual observations by Christopher Isherwood, who appears as a character in the play.

The action takes place in the Berlin of the 1930's and shows overtones of the rise of Nazism.

A light play with serious implications, I Am a Camera has seven characters, four female and three male.

The role of Sally Bowles, the leading lady, was created by Julie Harris in 1951 when the play was first presented. The actions of Sally Bowles, a naive femme fatale, are calculated to shock the people who surround her. Even so, she is a basically warm, genuine and desirable human being.

There are three other female roles. According to Robert Overstreet, director of the Masquers, "Each is a character in her own right."

The three men in the play are the sensitive Christopher Isherwood, an insensitive rich American and a young German who is confident of his "lady-killing" powers.

The production dates of I Am a Camera are April 26-28.

LIGHTS NEEDED

After slippage of the feet, the posterior bounced roughly down the stairs in front of the student center Monday night. It was dark and the poor unsuspecting victim couldn't see because the lights on the stairway wall were all burned out.

The student was not injured, however the next one might not be so lucky. Maybe the burned-out lights will be replaced soon. We hope so.

"DEAD WEEK" SUGGESTED

Next Friday will find some 3400 Georgia Southern students finishing their winter quarter classes. The student who is unfortunate enough to have a first period class will begin his final examinations in less than 20 hours after the dismissal of classes.

If, in addition, he is also unfortunate enough to have a last period class, he will have only three hours before another examination.

Despite the fact that there are many students who do not have first and last period classes, there is still a large enough number who will to merit concern.

In many schools a "dead week" is observed during the seven days prior to finals. During this week no classes meet, no dates are allowed, no one leaves for the weekend and no one is permitted to create any type of disturbance in the library or dormitories. The week is for the sole purpose of enabling students to make adequate preparations for finals.

If submitted to the proper college authorities here at GSC, this system would probably meet with the obvious question, "Would students REALLY use it for its intended purpose?"

The question is a good one, and deserves careful attention. Granted, many students would use the time for catching up on sleep, going to the beach during the day, or having bull sessions during the nighttime hours.

We submit however that in spite of the fact that many students would not use the "dead week" constructively, there is a significant number who would. The administration therefore owes the extra time to these students who would take their study seriously and use the seven days to prepare for finals.

If, after a trial, the new system did not yield the desired results, the period could either be shortened or eliminated. We should, however, be willing to try it as a solution to a problem which is giving students no alternative but staying up all night to study and going physically exhausted into an examination.

PROJECT WORTHWHILE

GSC will soon have painted crosswalks.

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity recently submitted a petition to Student Congress volunteering to assist the college in the painting of pedestrian crosswalks.

The brothers of APO will conduct a survey among the students to determine where the painted crosswalks are needed. They will then submit the results to the maintenance department which in turn will begin painting the long needed crosswalks.

We congratulate the brothers of Alpha Phi Omega for undertaking such a project.

Adequate Dean's List Standards Must Not Be Altered Or Lowered

By RON MAYHEW
News Editor

The organizational framework of the George-Anne provides several editorial outlets for a staff member who takes issue with the paper's editorial policy. Through such channels this column is written with the purpose of expressing disagreement with an institutional editorial which appeared in the Feb. 11 issue.

MAYHEW

The editorial in question said that standards for the dean's list are too rigid and should either be lowered or new standards adopted providing for recognition of B-plus students.

1 - to - 100

Many authorities in professional academic positions express the opinion that a college dean's list should include only one out of every 100 students. At Georgia Southern this policy would make the dean's list consist of about 35 students.

According to figures released from the academic dean's office, 77 students made the Georgia Southern College dean's list for fall quarter 1966. If the 1-to-100 ratio is to be accepted, the figure was double what it should have been.

One Assumption

This deduction would lead to but one assumption. If any altering is to be done on the dean's list standards, it should be to raise them.

Those who think that B-plus students should be recognized need not only to take the number of dean's list students into consideration, but should also remember that a student in the B-plus category is classified only as a "very good" student. An A is necessary for the rating of "excellent."

Almost "Almost"

If, however, we lowered the standards to recognize the students who "almost" made it, we would have difficulty deciding where to leave off. The adjustment would be followed by complaints from students who almost "almost" made it and wanted recognition. It would be but a short while before the situation would reach ridiculous proportions.

Georgia Southern must keep its high academic standards. It cannot and must not lower these standards whenever students feel that they merit recognition for "almost" making it. To be named on the dean's list is a high academic honor and should be reserved for students who deserve it. The standards should not be watered down for any reason.

Emory Students Vote Drinking Acceptable Rule

By TOM KING
Managing Editor

In the Feb. 10 issue of the Emory Wheel, student newspaper of Emory University, a news story stated that "the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages no longer constitute infractions of the conduct rules of Dobbs Hall".

KING

The statement was the result of action by the hall government and a plebiscite taken in the dormitory during fall quarter. The residents of the undergraduate dormitory voted for drinking by 62 percent. However, the other undergraduate dorms voted against this measure.

The Dobbs Hall Government sent their statement in the form of a recommendation to Jerry Zeller, dean of men. He then wrote the residence hall president a letter approving the recommendation. According to Zeller, "the University does not have a rule on drinking."

The guidelines set down by the dormitory government were, in part, "the behavior of a Dobbs Hall resident should not include those unnecessary and discourteous actions which infringe upon the rights and living conditions of his fellow residents. Emphasis here rests on the actions of the residents and not on the causes of the actions."

The Dobbs Hall Government feels that each resident should use his own discretion about the time, place or conditions regarding consumption of alcoholic beverages in the dormitory.

Dean Zeller called the Dobbs statement "very good." He said that the "University is trying to educate people toward responsible freedom and the Emory University General Code of Conduct." The General Code of Conduct follows the theory of "live and let live."

The dean's statement is a good one. The education of students toward responsible freedom is wise. At Emory this may be a step in the right direction, but at GSC one would have to approach such a recommendation with extreme caution.

Georgia Southern does not allow students to possess alcoholic beverages, much less give the students the liberty to drink in the dormitories. GSC cannot keep a force of deans and police in every on and off-campus housing unit to enforce this rule. Thus, one doesn't have to be naive to not imagine a breach in this regulation.

However, the breach of regulations at Southern shows anything but a responsible approach to the drinking issue. It is quite common for drunk students in dormitories to set trash cans on fire, break bottles or disturb other students.

Some students at GSC advocate a more liberal policy concerning drinking in the dormitories. However, until more responsibility is shown by students who do drink, the rule would do more harm than good for the college.

Georgia Southern's policy may not please everyone, but until students show a more responsible attitude toward the question of drinking it would be a mistake to follow in Emory's footsteps.

Dear Flatbush,
This goes back to 1932 and the Georgia Southern "common law" initiated by Alvin the Terrible, which states that provision must be made for all squirrels who get run out of Sweetheart Circle by moonworshipping students. Unfortunately, there is no provision for students who get run out of Sweetheart Circle by squirrels, but the service fraternities are working on this.

Eagles Capture District 25 Title

All - America guard Jimmy Rose came off the sick list to spark the Eagles to victories over Shorter (76-66) and Valdosta State (73-67) Monday and Tuesday in Valdosta in the NAIA District 25 playoffs to push the Eagles into the NAIA finals in Kansas City, Mo., starting Monday.

Rose, who had missed the final two games in the regular season because of a bad cold, scored 48 points in the two-day tournament. He bagged 25 against Shorter and followed with 23 against Valdosta State in the championship contest.

"I wonder if we'll be ranked behind Valdosta and Shorter in the next Carr Ratings," an elated coach J. B. Searce said after the tournament. "We beat Valdosta twice in Valdosta and avenged our opening season loss to Shorter."

Georgia Southern, the sixth ranked team in the NAIA was third - seeded behind Valdosta and Shorter in the tournament by the Carr Rating Service of Nashville, Tenn., whose rankings were used for the tournament.

"I was never more happy with a victory than I was after we beat Valdosta," Searce continued. "We had everything going against us in the tournament, and we won it."

Rose and center Bill Pickens each scored 25 points against Shorter on Monday, and forward Mike Rickard chipped in with 13. Earle Driggers led Shorter's attack with 22 points.

Shorter, which beat GSC (87-80) in Statesboro, led for the first eight minutes of the game before Rickard shoved the Eagles on top with a free throw to make the score 19-18. The Eagles then scored nine straight points - six of them by Rose - to lead, 30-20.

After leading, 36-29, at halftime, the Eagles built up 14-point lead sat 44-30 and 72-58 in the second half.

Rose's shooting and the rebounding of Jim Seeley were dominant factors in the championship clash. Rose was high man for his team with 23, followed by Rickard (17), Pickens (16), and Seeley (13). Seeley grabbed 14 rebounds for the game, and for the first eight minutes of the second half he accounted for every rebound the Eagles received.

All - Stater Bobby Ritch was high for Valdosta with 24, although he fouled out with 8:39 to play.

Georgia Southern took the lead at 17-16 on a bucket by Rickard and led the rest of the way. The halftime score was 38-31. The Eagles led by as many as 11 points (54-43) in the second half, before a closing rush by the Rebels narrowed the margin.

The Eagles will fly to Kansas City Sunday for the national tournament. No pairings have been announced yet.

Georgia Southern, which now has a 22-5 record, will be making its fifth appearance in Kansas City.

SPORTS

N.A.I.A. Finals Begin Monday

The Eagles of Georgia Southern will leave Sunday for Kansas City, Mo. where they will represent District 25 in the N.A.I.A. Championship tournament.

Competition will begin on Monday, but against who is anybody's guess right now. According to Eagle mentor J. B. Searce, the GSC team should go into the tournament with a high rating, and will probably be up against lower ranked teams in the first games.

This will be the fifth time in about fifteen years that The Eagles have competed in the national finals. The last time was in 1964, when the Eagles were eliminated in the second game of the tournament. GSC has never won more than two games in the national competition.

scoring 22 points to 18.9 by Auburn. Burton took another first place on still rings, followed by Lumpkin with third and Ward with sixth, to out-score Auburn 19.2 to 18.1 and end the meet victorious with the final score 143.70 to 134.05.

This weekend, the Eagle team is competing in the S.I.C.L. Championships in Greenville, S. C., and on March 17-18 will go the N.A.I.A. finals in Waco, Ill.

This time last year spirits were pretty low around Georgia Southern. Locker rooms were gloomy, blurred places — pride had to be patched up and dreams scrapped — plane reservations had to be cancelled . . .

This year, things are different. The Eagles came home from Valdosta with the District 25 crown and a secure berth in the N.A.I.A. Basketball Championships. The reservations have been confidently made and Sunday the Eagles will be Kansas City-bound.

The Tuesday night victory could have been sweeter only against Jacksonville. It was a hard-fought battle and its outcome made certain that this year, the best team would represent our district in the nationals.

There was a great deal of uncertainty and confusion connected with the tournament, and it looks like Georgia Southern and the three other independent teams in the district, Mercer, Tampa, and Stetson, are going to be forced to pull out of the N.A.I.A. next year to protect themselves from the machinations of the six conference aligned teams.

According to the rating system which District 25 was using (a system which was passed by the block vote of the six conference teams), Valdosta was top-seeded in the tournament, followed by Shorter in second and GSC in third. This system apparently did not take into account that, although Valdosta and Shorter had very good season records, they had played very few strong teams.

The Eagles' schedule was much tougher, and they beat some really good teams, sacrificing only five games, these primarily to major teams.

But that's all over now, and it just may be all over between Georgia Southern College and the N.A.I.A. We are behind the Eagles 100 percent in the Kansas City show and we believe they've got what it takes to make it to the top this year.

Eagle Gymnasts Competing In League Championship

The gymnastics team is now in Greenville, S. C. in the fifteenth annual Southern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League Championships, and on March 17 and 18, the Eagles will compete in the N.A.I.A. Championships at Western Illinois University.

In the S.I.G.L. meet, which begins today with the preliminary events and goes into the finals tomorrow, Georgia Southern will be competing with the following gym teams: University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, University of Florida, Florida State University, Furman University, Auburn University, William and Mary College, The Citadel, Louisiana State University, Virginia Military Institute, University of Virginia, and David Lipscomb College.

"Kip Burton has been looking real good recently," said GSC gym coach Ron Oertley, "and he has an excellent chance of winning the SIGL All-Around if his side horse routine goes well."

Eagle Cagers Defeat Mercer

The Eagle basketballers closed out a successful 1965-66 season with a 97-79 win over the Mercer Bears in Macon last Thursday night.

The victory was the twentieth this season against only five losses, and this is the third straight year with 20 wins for the Eagles.

Leahman Stanley came off the bench midway the second half to spark the Eagles with a 19-point showing. His nine points in the first half boosted the GSC team to a 45-39 half-time score after trailing for most of the period.

Mike Rickard and Bill Pickens each totaled 22 points, followed by Jim Seeley with 11. Pickens led in rebounding with 19, as the Eagles out-jumped the Bears for 56 to 47 rebounds.

In the preliminary game the Georgia Southern frosh downed the Bear Cubs 94-66, terminating the Eagles season with a 13-3 record.

Included in the judges for the meet is Bill Spieth, of the Georgia Southern physical education staff, and Charles Exley, also of the GSC coaching staff, will serve as stand-by judge. Ron Mayhew, student and former Eagle gymnast, will direct the floor activities in the meets, assisted by Leland Rogers and John Eden, also of Georgia Southern, at the scoring table.

Four members of the Eagle gym team will compete in the N.A.I.A. Championship meets in Macomb, Ill. March 17 and 18.

Burton, team captain and all-around man, will perform in every event; Eunice will compete in free calisthenics and possibly on the parallel bars; Lumpkin will compete on the trampoline, and Ward will perform on the horizontal bar.

Track Club Formed, Working

Twenty-two men showed up at the organizational meeting for a track club on campus last Thursday.

Coach Ron Oertley, who is sponsoring the club, said that he was well pleased with the interest and enthusiasm which the men showed.

According to Coach Oertley, the men have been working out during this week on their own. "We will have a workout schedule posted by the end of this week," he said.

"Until the gymnastics competition is over," Oertley continued, "I will not be able to devote very much time to the track club, but we will begin working on events as soon as spring quarter begins."

Auburn Falls To Gym Team

The Auburn Tigers fell to the high-flying Eagle gymnasts 134-05 to 143.79 last Saturday, Feb. 26, in the Alumni Gym. The victory concludes the Southern team's season with a 3-3 record.

The Eagles were victorious over The Citadel and the University of Georgia during the season, and lost to Furman, Slippery Rock and the University of Florida.

"Overall, the performance of the team Saturday was about average," commented GSC gym coach Ron Oertley. "Kip (Burton) looked his best yet, and he made the big difference in the meet."

Coach Oertley also noted Jimmy Kirkland's performance. "Kirkland has been working the side horse for only three weeks, and we think he gave one of the best performances Saturday."

Team captain Burton took first place in free exercise, followed by Charles Eunice with second place and Dave Oglesby with fourth, starting the Eagles off with a 23.9 to 21.25 lead.

Auburn out - scored the Eagles on the side horse 17.6 to 16.1, but the Eagles won on the trampoline 18.6 to 11.0, making the running score after three events 58.6 for GSC to 50.75 for the Tigers.

Burton's first, Rick Ward's second, and Eunice's fifth places in horizontal bar competition scored 23 points for the Eagles to 19.7 for Auburn. On the long horse vault, Auburn edged out GSC 26.6 to 26.1, but GSC held the lead, 107.7 to 97.05.

Burton, Eunice and Ward captured first, third and fourth places on the parallel bars.

The Mustangs 'I', who were eliminated 45-34 by the Pythons, took third place. Fourth place went to the Panthers who were eliminated 43-40 by the Pythons. The Tigers and Pythons will vie next Tuesday night for the championship.

According to Janie Nixon, director of the women's intramural program, activities next quarter will include track and field events, softball, and tennis.

Young Harris Defeats Favorites, Wins Junior College Tournament

Young Harris edged Brewton Parker 62-59 to capture the Georgia Junior College Basketball Championship Saturday night in the Hanner Gymnasium.

Truett-McConnell upset second seeded Southern Tech 69-63 to open Thursday's first round action. Young Harris continued the day's activity by downing Middle Georgia 97-86 in overtime.

Brewton Parker rolled over Columbus College 98-80 and Abraham Baldwin shaded Armstrong 83-82 to round out the day's action.

Friday's semifinal round saw Brewton Parker down Abraham Baldwin 70-61 and Young Harris defeat Truett-McConnell 66-58.

Final examinations for winter quarter are scheduled to start with first period on March 12. The last regular class day will be March 11.

What is your opinion on starting examinations on the morning after the last day of classes?

Dave Parker, soph., Millen; I think it will be alright. I'll be ready to stop studying for a while by then.

Janet "T" Fox, jr., Thomasville; Sure, hurt me! In a way I think we should, as the work is fresh in our minds and also the teachers have just reviewed us for these tests.

Louise Verdery, jr., Harlem; I think that we should have at least one day to study for finals.

Harold Varn, jr., Sylvania; I feel getting through with exams while they're fresh on your mind is very important. That way you have less time to worry about them.

Alice Smith, sr., La Fayette; I think it is a fine idea. The sooner we get out the better.

Lane Smith, sr., LaGrange; Well, I'm really not in favor of it, but I'm not one to argue with the administration!

Lenora Littlefield, sr., Savannah; Having business law, office management, accounting II and an education course. . . . I have nothing to say.

Charles O. Butts, jr., soph., Warm Springs; I believe that exams ought to start the day after the last class day because we will get out of school earlier.

Mary Tom Burton, soph., Elberton; It makes me mad because I have chemistry the first day.

Faye Thompson, jr., Eastman; Who studies finals anyway, unless you have Dr. Mitchell or Miss Lightcap.

Jon Dozier, jr., Iron City; They are fine because I want to get out earlier!!!

Ronnie Tiller, jr., Clinton, S. C.; If no other tests are assigned for the last week of classes it is fine, otherwise there shouldn't be any exams until the following week.

Themille Baumgardner, jr., Gainesville; As a rule I think finals shouldn't start until after a weekend, but since the only spring vacation we have is according to when finals are over with, the sooner the better.

Frankie Faulks, jr., Camden, S. C.; I think there should be a "Dead Week" before final exams.
