Lowrey Plans Class Visits

Lecturer To Present Program of Dramatic Readings in McCroan

Sara Lowrey, visiting lecturer, will speak to the characterization and dramatic literature class, along with several other English and speech classes Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lowrey will present a program of dramatic readings in McCroan Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The program, entitled "High Adventure," will feature selections by Carl Sandburg, Rudyard Kipling, Robert Frost, Robert Browning and William Faulkner, including all periods of world literature.

The Masquers will give an informal reception for Miss Lowrey following the program.

On Wednesday, Miss Lowrey will present a program entitled "How Do You Say It?" in Marvin Pittman Auditorium at 10 a.m. for elementary education majors.

Miss Lowrey's visit is being sponsored by the language division and the Student Congress.

Nominated for the office of treasurer are Judith Johnson, junior physical education major from Waycross and Bjorn Kjerfve, math major from Skedde, Sweden.

All nominees must have a 2.5 grade point average. The election will be held in the lobby of the Williams Center on Monday, May 9.

Ballots will be counted after the elections by members of the Student Congress and persons appointed by the Congress executive committee. No members of the same organization will be allowed to count the same set of ballots.

Science Group Meets in Herty

No lecture classes are scheduled today in the Herty Building because of the forty-third annual meeting of the Georgia Academy of Sciences here, according to Dr. John Boole, chairman of the division of science and mathematics.

The only class meetings scheduled in the building are the regular laboratory sessions.

Dr. Boole said teachers, researchers and scientists who compose the academy will participate in a number of sessions covering a wide range of scientific fields.

Three faculty members are also working in various aspects of the program. Dr. Boole is one of the academy's counselors at large. Dr. H. S. Hanson, assistant professor of Geology, will be a section chairman at the meeting and Dr. Tully Pennington, professor of biology, is chairman of local arrangements.

The meeting marks the first time the annual conference has been held in Southeast Georgia.

All campus organizations desiring to compete for Honors Day awards must submit a roll book, a list of projects and workings, and a statement of purposes and aims by Monday for evaluation by the Committee of Campus Organizations, according to Jack Mullis, chairman of the committee.

All activities since last year's Honors Day are eligible for inclusion in the rating. The actual evaluation is scheduled for Wednesday, with Honors Day ceremonies set for May 9, Mullis said.

The organizations will be rated in four categories: service, professional, departmental and interest.

Student Postal Facilities Move Scheduled May 1

All student postal facilities presently located in the Williams Center will be moved May 1 to the new post office in University Plaza, according to Harold Tillman, branch superintendent.

The University Plaza post office will be located south of Georgia Avenue and east of Chandler Road. No general delivery will exist except for transient patrons on a temporary 30-day basis only. Those students now receiving mail through the general delivery window must arrange to rent a box immediately.

Most students who now have a mailbox in the Williams Center will be assigned the same box number, but new combinations will be issued. The only students who may have a change in box number or box size are those who now have box numbers from 2061 to 2099 inclusive. These students should see Tillman immediately about this possible box change.

After June 30, only one occupant will be permitted to each box. The original renter will have the first option to the box, and each other occupant will have to rent another box.

According to Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the college, the Williams Center post office will re-open next year for on-campus students. Only official college administrative mail will continue to be delivered to the Williams Center for the remainder of this quarter. Dr. Henderson also said that when the new dining hall opens next year there will be one mail box for every two students.

Star Students, Teachers Visit

Thirty-six district Star students and the state Star teacher were on campus this week to view the facilities.

The students are on a 10-day tour of towns and universities of Georgia. Their tour of Statesboro and Georgia Southern was sponsored by the Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce.

After eating supper in the college dining hall Monday night the group checked into Statesboro motels. They were entertained that night in the music building.

Tuesday morning, the group was divided and given a tour of the campus by Gamma Sigma Upsilon service sorority. Following the tour they were shown through Olliff Hall by Olliff Hall house council and entertained at a coke reception by Mrs. Jane Morgan, Olliff housemother.

The group was welcomed to the college by President Zach S. Henderson and entertained by the Southern Singers and Robert Overstreet, director of the Masquers.

While in Statesboro the Chamber of Commerce sponsored recreation and a reception at the Varsity and a guided tour of Gulistan Carpet, which is a division of J. P. Stevens & Company.

The next stop of their tour was Savannah and Armstrong Junior College.

Deadline Scheduled for Selective Service Test

Applications for the Selective Service college qualification Test must be postmarked no later than tomorrow.

Applications may be obtained at the Selective Service office in the Statesboro post office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The Selective Service is not open Saturday.

The test will be administered at the college May 14, May 21 and June 3. Testing hours are 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Applicants may be assigned to any one of the three test dates.

Applicants will be notified as to the exact date they will be tested. No one will be permitted to take the test twice.

The Selective Service System has established this testing program to provide Selective Service local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study. The test scores of registrants will provide the local boards with evidence of their aptitude for continued college work.

The test pre-supposes no schooling beyond the ordinary high school preparation for college. Scores on the test will not themselves determine eligibility for deferment.

Scores on the test will be used by the Selective Service local boards in considering the eligibility of registrants for occupational deferment as students.

Business Fraternity

The pledge class elected Hankinson to serve as their president. Others chosen to serve with Hankinson are Zitterower, vice president and Wagner, secretary-treasurer.

Psychologist Lectures

Dr. George Beinhart Jr., research plant psychologist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's research service, visited the College this week.

He is presently engaged in cooperative work with the South Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station at Clemson University.

Dr. Beinhart lectured to interested faculty members and students on "Physiology of White Cover" Wednesday night and spoke on Microclimatology and its uses last night.

Overstreet Pleased with Rehearsals

Masquers Prepares for May 2 Presentation, 'I Am A Camera'

Rehearsals for "I Am a Camera," spring quarter production smoothly, according to Robert Overstreet, director.

"We were a little discouraged last week," he said, "but practice during the last few days has shown marked improvement."

The lead role of Sally Boles, portrayed by Rae Burnsed, was created by Julie Harris in The 1951 debut production. She is a naive femme fatale, whose actions are calculated to shock the people who surround her.

The dates of the production have been changed to avoid a conflict with mid-quarter examinations. Opening night is now slated for May 2. The production will play through Wednesday, May 4.

Supporting Miss Burnsed are Donnie Evans, freshman political science major from Wadley, portraying Natalie Landauer; Rosalyn Perkins, freshman history major from Stillmore, playing Fraulein Schneider; and Sherry Bradner, freshman sociology major from Athens, appearing as Mrs. Watson Courtneidge.

Playing the male roles in the May production are Leonard Robertson, junior art major from Social Circle, in the role of Christopher Isherwood; Larry Duncan, sophomore German major from Macon, portraying Fritz; and Wyman Hunt, junior sociology major from Augusta, as Clive.

Sears Representative

Speaks on Problems

"Communication is the biggest problem facing business today," said B. C. Rollins, territorial training director for the Sears Robuck and Co.

Speaking before the Society for the Advancement of Management, Rollins said that there is a great need at the college level for the education of future businessmen in communicating with other people.

Rollins, who directs the training of future executives for the 11 southeastern states, added that college students seeking jobs should, first of all, study prospective companies. Also, students should try to determine the philosophy that underlies the company, he said.

INTERVIEW SCHEDULE STUDENT PERSONNEL SERVICES

SIGNS ABUSED

"One Way do not Enter," "Reserved House Director," "Litter Barrel one-half Mile," are familiar phrases to all of us. One expects to see such signs mounted beside the state highway, and public roads. This is not the case for many of these signs which have found their way into the dormitory rooms of many of our students.

How and when the signs got into the rooms are not our concern; why is the big question. Is it the latest "in" thing to collect signs and road markers set up to protect life or for the convenience of tourists visiting our state? The verb in such a case is not "collect," but "steal."

The penalty for defacing or removing a road marker or any other such device that is the property of the state range from a fine of $1 to $1,000 or from one to 30 days in jail. Think about that the next time the "collecting" urge strikes. If a "Litter Barrel one-half mile" sign is worth $1,000 or a month of your life, then go ahead and take it. You might get a job making the signs someday.

POSTERS LOOK BAD

It looks very bad. The walls in the Student Center are covered with all different kind of posters. That would not matter, if most of them are not telling about activities that have already happened.

For example that poster about an English Club meeting during last quarter. The poster was still to be found on the wall more than two weeks after the date of the meeting. At last somebody obviously got tired of seeing it and turned it around, the text facing the wall.

The English Club is not the only organization leaving its posters on the walls afterwards. Most clubs do so.

At Georgia State College in Atlanta there exists a rule saying that if posters are not taking down less than 24 hours after the event, the organization must pay a fine of $50 to the school.

Why not try this at Georgia Southern. As it is now most people do not read the posters, as there are so many, most of them are out of date. Because of this many miss the new signs telling about future events, and besides the Student Center would look cleaner.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I SAY HE WAS A DANG POOR ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR—IT'S OBVIOUS HE WASN'T ABLE TO LEARN ME NUTHIN'."

Students Need To Wake Up, Seek Truth

By FRANK TILTON

Editor

Students — wake up!

You are being deprived of many rights that you haven't the faintest idea exist. And, you are being deprived of many rights that you know exist, because you won't take a stand.

The first step that should be taken is to find out just what is going on; Keep abreast of the activities of the college and the administration especially.

Is the administration giving you a fair shake? If not, voice your sentiments. It does no good to complain to yourself or to your neighbor and then forget about it. Take action — then you may see some results.

TILTON

Do you feel that you have been treated fairly in the handling of the parking problem? If not, voice your opinions. Find out when the next Student Congress meeting is and be there.

This is just one example of a possible gripe. The parking situation may be handled the best way possible at this time, or, the students may be getting the short end of the deal. The answer "can" be discovered — just a good, healthy interest is needed.

This attitude should be taken up by every student in all issues that involve any doubts or traces of unfairness.

Is it important that the library be opened on Sunday's? Would enough students use the facilities if they were made available? If you and a large enough number of students feel the facilities are needed, then chances are something can be done.

Do you have trouble studying at night because of the lack of discipline in the dorms? Get your thoughts together and express them. Take them to Student Congress and make it clear that your education is too important to be wasted because of a lot of foolishness.

Don't worry about creating any hard feelings against you. Its just too bad if people can't behave. The best place for them is out the exit door so that more deserving students can be accepted.

How about the social restrictions? This is a real problem. Well, what do you think? Do you feel that you have more freedom back home or do you think the restrictions are reasonable?

If some of the restrictions were lowered would you abuse your privileges or would you accept them in a mature way?

We are caught in a web of unfairness, misuse of authority and disillusionment. The web is being created by undesirables on both sides — students and administration alike. Have you opened your eyes??

The points mentioned above are only a taste of the many problems that exist. More will be mentioned later.

Will you open your eyes? - you must, because you are being cheated day in and day out.

There will be more . . .

Guest Column

(EDITOR'S NOTE): This week we are turning this space over to a column that expresses the feelings of the editorial board. The editorial was written by Alan McIntosh in the Rock County Herald in Luverne, Minn., and came to us by way of The Bulloch Herald and Times.

A TIRED AMERICAN

I am a tired American. I am tired of being called the ugly American, I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American, weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — weary of being lectured by Gen. de Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American, weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters.

I am a tired American, weary of beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American, fed up with the mobs of scabby-faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American — who is tired of supporting families who haven't known any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations.

I am a tired American — who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched Americans into an obscenity race — who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture, in the arts, the movies, literature, the stage.

I am a tired American, weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins, who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism, who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American — who has lost all patience with that civil-rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in communist China.

I am a tired American — who is angered by the self-righteous breast-beaters critic of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States and never apply the same standards to the British, the French, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a tired American, who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their children to private schools.

I am a tired American who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed. They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American — real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest country in the world — a generous-hearted nation — a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have-nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star-Spangled Banner" and holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpet when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole.

I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen — a nation under God, truly with mercy and justice for all.

Group Has Three GSC Students

Apollos Achieve Phenominal Popularity

The crowd grew quiet as the gymnasium lights were dimmed and the huge camouflage canopy that stood poised at one end of the basketball court began to wrinkle as the overhead ropes hoisted it toward the ceiling.

Almost instantly the shrill twangs of the lead guitar filled the Hanner building and the pulsating drum-beat hammered out the rhythm while two more guitars joined in. Hands began clapping, feet began stomping the wooden floor as four voices wailed out the strains of "Lucille." On this warm spring night Apollos were born.

In an amazingly short period of time—one year, the success of this shaggy-haired foursome has been phenomenal. Since their first appearance on the Rollingstones show in 1965.

Every member of the band is a college student. Ralph Witsell, the lead guitarist, Jim Youmans, rhythm, Gerald "Mojo" Cox, bass and Pat Ray, the drummer all agree that although they are dedicated to receiving an education, it has probably done more to hinder the activities of the band than any other factor.

The group is limited to week-end engagements of only two nights and must even curtail their travel plans to a 300 mile radius of Statesboro.

In only one year the Apollos have appeared in almost every large city in the Southeast and have been on the stage with some of the most popular rock and roll bands in the country.

When asked individually about their personal background, Ralph Witsell, was the first to answer. Ralph related that he had only four years experience with the electric guitar but had become interested in music when his family was stationed in Tokyo. It was in Japan that Ralph worked as a disc-jockey.

Gerald Cox "Mojo" to his friends—was 13 when he started playing guitar. He played with different groups all the way through school and finished his last months of high school appearing with Tommy Roe.

The drummer, Pat Ray, who played with Mojo in school introduced him to the Apollos. When asked why he chose the music business, he frankly replied, "I realized the money to be made in music so the choice was not a hard one."

Pat Ray is a student at Armstrong State College in Savannah. Though he was absent during the interview, the others were more than accommodating to relate something about him. "Pat has played drums for eight years," remarked Mojo. "He likes jazz, cornflakes, and is slewfooted. He began his musical career with a small group in high school.

Jim Youmans wanted to be a concert pianist. He began playing by ear at the early age of five and was reading music when he was seven. He moved away from Sandersville in 1957, where, through a devoted piano teacher, he accounts for the greatest influence to his musical ability. Jim moved to Thompson, Georgia and lived a "quiet" life until he entered college.

The popular group recently bought $5000 worth of new equipment and if it can be considered as a measure of their success they have exactly the same mechanical set-up as the Beatles. Their sound system alone amounts to many thousands of dollars.

It usually takes road manager, Bud Meritt an hour and a half to unload their new Dodge van and assemble the speaker and wires which will amplify the screaming, pulsating sound of the Apollos.

Each of the Apollos had a favorite type of music of a preferred entertainer, but they all agreed on the fact that the fame of Elvis Presley innovated the record world as we know it today.

"You have to admire a group that changes the whole record industry," related Jim Youmans, an old Beatle admirer. "But the Beatles wouldn't have been able to do what they did unless Elvis had crashed the market record wise." They all seemed to agree that Elvis and Rock and Roll is synonymous.

On the subject of long hair the Apollos maintain that it is strictly commercial. "Georgia Southern has been as good to us as anywhere." They were especially thankful that the professors and the administration understood and accepted their appearance. "Like any other profession you've got to keep up with the times," remarked Ralph, as he subconsciously picked a tune on the shiny instrument he held across his lap. "The hair is part of the fad."

Although Ralph is from Shreveport, La., and Pat Ray is from St. Louis, they made Atlanta the home of the Apollos.

The booking agent for the group is Harvey Leach in Atlanta. The band attributes much of its popularity to the guidance and understanding of Leach and an Atlanta disc-jockey, Pat Hughes, who is producing their upcoming records.

The Apollos are enthusiastic over the possibilities of their recently recorded songs. Their first single recording should be released in May with their album coming out in the fall.

The popularity of the group hasn't hampered their school work. Ralph and Jim major in music while Pat and Mojo are learning the field of business administration.

The Apollos leave on a tour of the Atlantic coast in June which will be culminated by appearances in Canada. Their televised appearance will open Lake Spivey in Atlanta and until their summer tour they will continue performances throughout the South.

"Everywhere we go we get nothing but encouraging response, I hope it lasts," remarked Mojo.

And last it will, because with the Apollos is an unbeatable combination of talent and determination bolstered by appreciative humility.

When they stand behind the velvet curtain of the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium or an improvised stage drop of a fraternity dance their thoughts are all the same: "Let's give these kids their money's worth."

On with the show! . . . Ya! Ya! Ya!

What in your opinion are the most important attributes to a "student congress president?"

Janie Ridgeway, jr., Jackson: The president of Student Congress should be dependable - the students should be able to rely on him. He should know the needs of the students and work for the betterment of the student body.

Jackie Moseley, frosh, Macon: A president of any organization is automatically classified as a leader. A leader is able to gain respect, execute programs, and lead his followers to an ultimate victory. Our Student Congress president should be no different.

Betty Johnson, soph., Camilla: The president of the Student Congress must be above all dedicated to his position. It entails hard work, and he must be willing to sacrifice his pleasures in order to take care of his duties.

Ann Blanton, frosh, Brunswick: I think he should be tall, dark, and handsome and he should also be capable of fets like Batman.

Chuck Smith, sr., Brunswick: 36-24-36.

Carolus Daniel, Bellville: I think he should be just like Roger Alderman.

Stanley Martin jr., Cumming: The Student Congress President should be able to take the responsibilities which the position demands. He should be popular with the students and be able to make the right decision when necessary.

Charlie Woods jr., Newington: I think the president of the Student Congress should be a person who understands the problems of the students and their needs and he must be able to stand up for their rights. He should represent the students.

Sally Harvard, frosh, Savannah: I feel he should be a person who will be a representative of the entire student body instead of just a certain fraction.

Joe Mercer, President of Junior Class, Jefferson: The most important attribute should be that of dedication to the office. This dedication should include representation for the students, a leader, a person who understands the students' problems and last but not least he should be of high morals.

Carlton Moderates Student Teaching Panel

Mrs. Lilla Carlton, consultant for the Future Teachers and Student Georgia Education Association, recently moderated a student teaching panel presented to a group of S.G.E.A. members, education majors and members of the South Hall High School F.T.A. from Gainesville.

The panel consisted of Mrs. Barbara Howard, English major; Mrs. Bonnie Grooms, elementary education major, and DeWitt Moore, math major. Each member gave a short sketch of his student teaching experiences. Mrs. Grooms told of her attempt to make mathematics exciting to her second graders by using objects, such as a yardstick and felt board.

Mrs. Howard emphasized the importance of a good supervising teacher.

Moore, now teaching mathematics at Southeast Bulloch High School, stated that he had been apprehensive about discipline in the classroom. He found talking with parents his most difficult task and grading papers a job requiring much thought. He said the relationship that he had with his students and the faculty gave him the most satisfaction in teaching.

Members of the audience then asked questions of the panel concerning the difficulties of student teaching.

Mrs. Carlton installed the S.G.E.A. officers and soon afterwards the panel members, Mrs. Carlton, the new officers, S.G.E.A. adviser John Lindsey and guests from South Hall attended a coffee at the Eagle.

Full-Length Movies To Highlight Annual Religious Emphasis Days

Two full-length movies, "Sweet Bird of Youth" and "The Hustler" will be shown May 3 and May 17 for the annual Religious Emphasis Days, according to The Rev. Willis Moore, Wesley Foundation advisor.

The movies will be shown in the Varsity at 7 p.m.

Each night there will be discussion after the movie. Leading the discussion May 3 will be The Rev. John Livingston of the Presbyterian church and Father Tom McCarthy, adviser to the Newman Club. The chairman for this night is The Rev. Moore.

The Rev. Gilbert Ramsey of Pittman Park Methodist Church and The Rev. Henry Louttit of Trinity Episcopal Church will lead the discussion May 17. The chairman will be The Rev. Clarence McCord, assistant professor of speech.

The Religious Emphasis days are sponsored by the Religious Interest Committee, which is headed by Dr. Rollin Williams, associate professor of industrial education. Before this year the committee was known as the Religious Activities Committee.

The Rev. Moore said, "In the past, Religious Emphasis week has been a lecture series college revival style. This has not been meaningful or effective. This year is an experiment. This is the first time we have used secular films to proclaim the gospel," he said.

★ Dave Parker, Visitor To Serve As Missionaries ★

By RON MAYHEW
Staff Writer

Dave Parker, sophomore English major from Millen, received quite a shock recently at the Baptist Student Union's weekly meeting.

Carson Newman College had finished a baseball game with the Eagles that afternoon and as the BSU meeting was about to begin, a member of the visiting team, still clad in uniform entered.

Dave introduced himself afterward and found that he and the visitor had a most unusual thing in common. Both are to serve as student foreign missionaries this summer.

The Carson Newman pitcher, Lee Starnes from Asheville, N. C., will be working in Valdez, Alaska. "The principal task of the 12 student missionaries there," he said, "will be rebuilding the First Baptist Church of Valdez, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1963."

Dave, who is currently enduring inoculations for Smallpox, Yellow Fever, Typhoid, Polio, Paratyphoid and Tetanus, will depart by plane June 18, for Costa Rica, located in South central America. He will return Aug. 20 and spend the next year, in addition to attending Georgia Southern, touring the state promoting the summer missions program.

Asked his purpose in working as a summer missionary, Dave remarked, "It'll help me determine what my life's vocation should be." He hopes that his experience in the summer program will help him decide whether to study for the ministry.

Dave, whose hobbies include football, basketball and "people watching," has been told that he will be working primarily with young people under 16, especially in vacation church school programs.

"People watching," he explained, isn't what it might sound like. "It's observing people as they go through their every-day actions. You can learn a lot," he commented, "watching someone react when he's stopped by the campus cop or when he gets to the dining hall after the kitchen is closed."

One of 84 student missionaries for the summer foreign program, Dave attended an orientation conference in Memphis, Tenn., recently. The students will work in 25 countries, including Thailand and Viet Nam.

"The conference kind of scared all of us," Dave remarked.

ed. "They hit us with the full impact of how difficult our job will be this summer. It was the first time that I felt afraid of the task."

"They told us to expect anything."

What will be the biggest adjustment upon arrival in Costa Rica?

"Probably the customs, climate and food," he remarked. "The chief value of a student missionary, however, is the fact that he is an amateur and isn't expected to be professional or make rapid adjustments."

"I hope the adjustment to Costa Rican food won't be too hard though," he laughed.

Dave's favorite American food?

"A thick steak... well done." The steak will be one of the last items on his agenda before he boards the plane in June.

Grant Awarded

Miss Frances Rackley, instructor of education and faculty member of Marvin Pittman Laboratory School, recently received a grant to participate in the National Defense Education Act's Institute in English at the University of Florida June 20 through August 5.

She will be working on her six year certificate and studying activities centered around oral language arts and skills related to using books with children at all elementary levels.

The work will emphasize creative experiences with books which include intensive work on oral reading, storytelling, dramatization and discussion techniques.

A native of Statesboro, Miss Rackley received her Bachelor of Science and M.Ed. degrees from Georgia Southern and has traveled extensively in the United States and Europe.

Exchange Student Gets Chess Tourney Title

John Kontaras, foreign exchange student from Greece, won the Chess Club Tournament recently in the Williams Center.

Charles Lie-Nielsen, president of the club, took second place with Larry Gay and Roger Gregory, both freshmen, taking third and fourth place honors.

The tournament began with 25 entries in the preliminaries which were held in the Rosenwald Library.

Kontaras received a trophy for his first place honor.

The Chess Club is sponsored by Dr. David Ruffin of the English department.

B. J. ON SPORTS

By BJORN KJERFVE
Sports Editor

Tennis coach Bob Weber was satisfied last Saturday in spite of the unnecessary 5-4 loss to the Rebels of Valdosta State.

All thanks to what the Valdosta coach said to Weber after the meet "You had individually better players last year but no team. This season your players are not outstanding, but you have got a real tough team."

And that was the goal the Southern team set up at the beginning of the season. "Even if we are losing, we want to show that we never give up". Now the goal seems reached. The Eagle team is a homogeneous and hustling group of people wanting to win. Augusta College saw that, when the spirit filled Eagles wiped the home squad off the courts last Monday.

Most GSC players were happy after the Valdosta meet. Captain Mack Poss put it this way: "Although we lost to-day, we have at last found the winning combination. Sorry though we could not have done so earlier in the season."

This sounds promising. Still several tough matches are to be played, but on the remaining schedule you can also find some easy (?) teams. No names now. Tomorrow the Rebels visit Statesboro, and it will be interesting to see what the Southern netters can accomplish on home ground.

It is not only the baseball players having popular nick names. Also the netters are known by various dubbed names, although these are little known to the public. There is Baby Beef; and Rooster; and Smiley among others. I will not reveal who is who. That can be left up to each individual to find out during the next match.

The team spirit is tremendous. The atmosphere in the cars on the road trips is unbelievable. The wild jokes make the longest trip seem short, and everybody participates; coach included.

There are mysterious things happening on the road trips. Once my sports coat disappeared from our dressing room. Later on I found it on the other side of the gymnasium. That was the same time somebody hid my trousers and shoes beneath a bench. At another occasion somebody put a short bed in my long bed . . . no, I mean somebody short sheeted me.

I just don't know who is ugly to me. I have my suspicions, though. That coach of ours. . . .

Lehwald Hits Season Record, 71

By BJORN KJERFVE
Sports Editor

The Eagle golfers have difficulties in winning. Valdosta State rolled past Southern, 4-1, and Augusta College won a narrow victory, 14-13, during the week to give Southern a 2-6 season record so far.

Randy Hill (74) was the only one winning a point for the Eagles last Friday, when the Statesboro team visited Valdosta. Jimmy Flanders (78), Harold Varn (78), Wright North (79) and Lewis Simmons (80) all lost their matches making it possible for the Rebels to triumph for the first time against Southern. Final score: 4-1.

Southern should have beaten Augusta, but a tremendous play by Augusta's Jim MacCleod meant defeat. MacCleod, who played in the third foursome, won the last three holes with birdies and in the last minutes of the meet led the visitors to victory.

Henry Lehwald played the lowest Southern score of the year, 71, when he won 2.5 points for the home team. Randy Hill (76) won 3.0 matchpoints, and together the two got 1.5 points. Lehwald's score is one stroke under course par.

In the second foursome Wright North (76) won 3.0 points; Bobby Gastley (81) 0. The team got 1.5 points.

Harold Varn played his best match of the year with 74 strokes winning 1 point. Lewis Miller (76) got 0.5 points, and as a team the two scored one point, making the final result 14-13 in favor of visiting Augusta.

"This is the worst season record we have ever had," said Coach Frank Radovich. "We have never been under .500 before."

"This year's team is not as well blessed with talent as those we have had other years, but the players work harder. It is our short game that is hurting us," concluded Radovich.

JV Downs GHS, Loses to SGC

The Eagle Junior Varsity baseballers downed Groves High School, 4-2, last Friday and lost to South Georgia College Monday, 6-5.

Outstanding for Georgia Southern were Bobby Meybohm, Hall Walls, and Tim O'Leary, who moved up to the Varsity after Monday's game.

Deacons Win

Rick Ward hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, but still the Deacons of Wake Forest beat the visiting Eagles, 8-3, yesterday in Winston-Salem, N. C.

The Eagles had a bad pitching day. Larry Groce and Ronnie McLemore walked nine between them. Groce was exchanged in the fifth when he developed a pain in his left elbow.

London each had three hits for the home team.

The Eagles now have a 15-6 record and The Deacons a 7-7 record. The teams play again today.

Augusta Netters Fall Hard

By BJORN KJERFVE
Sports Editor

The Southern netters defeated Augusta College, 7-2, but lost to Valdosta State College, 5-4, during the past week to make the season record 4-8.

The Saturday trip to Valdosta nearly ended in the sensation of the year. The Eagles were said to have no chances of winning, but it turned out that the Rebels were grateful to manage to win.

Russell, Stiles and Poss were successful in their single matches, raising the match score to 3-3 before the doubles started.

The Eagles' number one doubles team lost and the number three team won. Everything depended on the second doubles meet, where Southern easily took the first set. Thanks to good nerves and consistent play Burroughs - Willis of Valdosta smashed their way to match victory winning the next two sets. Final score: 5-4 in favor of Valdosta.

The second road trip during the week, the third one of the year, brought The Eagles their fourth win of the season last Monday. Augusta College was easily defeated, 7-2, exactly the same score as in Statesboro a couple of weeks ago.

Robin Olmstead and Mickey Scandlon played together on the third doubles team for the Eagles making a remarkable performance for nearly three hours. After 54 games the Southern players had pulled the match through. The last set score was 20-18.

On Home Runs- Ken Szetkiewicz

Practically every sporting victory features one dramatic moment, giving the athlete his greatest feeling of satisfaction.

In football, it's a long run for a touchdown. In basketball, it's sinking a basket during the last seconds of play with the score tied.

SZOTKIEWICZ
"Soc" Looks Tough

In baseball, it's a home run. One member of the Eagle nine has recently become quite an authority on the subject. He's freshman Ken Szotkiewicz, from Wilmington, Del., who, incidentally, was the leading scorer on the freshman basketball squad. He has hit 6 homers so far this season and is rapidly closing in on the school record of 8, set by Bo Warren in 1955.

Ken's baseball career began when he was six, and has progressed steadily ever since. Why does he like it so well? "Because it's a team sport," he replied, "and no single player can control the game by himself."

And the home runs? "All you want to do is hit the ball. Sometimes you are lucky."

How does it feel when you're "lucky?"

"I can't describe it," admitted the lanky shortstop.

When asked his feelings about the first part of the 1966 season, Ken's reply was somewhat like the answer one would expect from a coach. "In the beginning of the season we had to get used to each other," he began. "We had to get organized. We are improving in every game, and the team work is very good."

Ken nurtures both short and long range dreams. His chief ambition for the near future is for the Eagles to play in the NAIA National Championships.

His long range ambition, as one might easily guess, is a career in professional baseball.

On Tuesday, the Phantoms won again, over APO 8-3, and the BSU defeated Delta Sigma Pi 11-8. In the National League, the Sinners beat the Rogues 9-1. American League action last

Tigers, Mustangs Lead Intramural Volleyball

The Tigers and the Mustangs are leading after the second round of the women's intramural volleyball tournament, defeating the Termites and the Yellow Jackets, winners in the first round of competition.

In the first round the Yellow Jackets downed the Pythons in two games, and the Termites dropped one game to the Panthers but won the next two to take the match.

Thursday saw the Phantoms down the BSU 13-5 and Phi Epsilon beat The Delta Sigs 9-1. In the National League the Rogues edged the Bandits 4-3 and the Sinners defeated the Dixie Darlings 8-3.

The APO Pledges slugged the Phi Eps 10-7 and APO whalloped the Sig Eps 10-3 last Wednesday in the American League. The Dixie Darlings pounded the Hawks 16-5 and Happy Homes defeated the Bugs on a forfeit.

Rose Goes East

Jimmy Rose, Southern's two-time All-American basketball guard, has been selected to play with the NAIA All-Star team that will tour the Far East, July 20 - Sept. 1.

Rose, who has one more year of eligibility at Southern, is one of five players chosen by Oklahoma Baptist coach, Bob Bass.

Bass, as coach of the All-Stars, is permitted to select five of his school's players and five performers from other schools.

Rose, a 6-2 junior from Hi Hat, Ky., scored 465 points for a 15.5 average last season to lead the Eagles to a 26-6 record and second place in NAIA. In 1964-65, he led GSC in scoring with 490 points and an 18.1 average as GSC compiled a 22-5 mark.
