The Late
Lula Mae (Sweet) Burroughs*

It is hard to lose someone that you love so much. Losing their words and their precious touch; the time has come for their lives to move on. To leave mother earth for a journey to a home sweet home; Staying in touch even though they are not close at hand. But home with the Father living happily ever after again; Just keep in mind that their time had come and now we don't have to worry about what is next to come. He lived a good life and that I can truly say, no matter if I was here or I was far away. I loved you then and I still love you now. But I still just can not believe, yesterday you were here, but now you are gone. I just would like for everyone to let their love continue on.

Open Gate At the End of the Road

There's an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone, and there is light we cannot see, our Father claims His own.

Beyond the gate your loved one finds happiness and rest. And there's no comfort in the thought, that a loving God knows best.

I'm Free

*Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free:
I'm following that path God laid for me.
I took His hand when I heard Him call;
I turned my back and left it all.*

*I could not stay another day;
To laugh, to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way;
I found that peace at the close of the day.*

*If my parting has left a void.
Then fill it with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
And yes! these things, I too will miss.*

*Be not burdened with times of sorrow;
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full. I've savored much;
Good friends, good times and a loved one's touch.*

*Perhaps my time seemed all too brief;
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief;
Lift up your heart and share with me;
Don't grieve for me now, for now I'm free.*
