DR. McINNES
Talks on Vietnam

Dr. McInnes Stresses 'Do,' Instead of 'Talk'

Dr. George McInnes, Augusta surgeon and diagnostician, visited the college Wednesday and addressed an audience of over 100 students at a special coffee hour in Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen at 9:30 a.m. His remarks dealt with his experiences during six months he spent as a volunteer doctor in South Veit Nam.

A 1940 graduate of Medical College of South Carolina, he completed his residency in surgery at Medical College of Georgia in 1947, accepted a three-year fellowship to study at Memorial Center, New York, and began his practice in 1951.

In 1960, at the request of the United Presbyterian Church, he spent a year in Thailand building and maintaining a hospital. In 1965 at the request of the U. S. State Department, he spent six months as chief surgeon at a civilian hospital in Da Nag, South Vietnam. During this period, he supervised the treatment of 10,300 surgical cases, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing through the early evening hours.

THE EAGLE

Dear Editor,

I couldn't help but notice how well the Student Congress dance was handled the other night. There was drinking, as always, but it seemed to be under fairly good control. The band was good too, perhaps we should bring them back.

As usual the gymnasium was a mess after everyone had left. Soft drink cups and a fairly thick layer of grit covered the floor. There wasn't a particularly large number of volunteers to help clean up. Two of the few were the first and second vice-presidents of Student Congress, who certainly by this time, deserved a rest after the work they put in to plan and manage the activity.

Thanks Robin, Thanks Larry!

Dean Announces Discipline Steps For 55 Students

Approximately 40 students have been placed on social probation and 15 denied permission to re-enter the college for housing units and drinking, according to Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, dean of students.

Dr. Tyson said that some 200 students were interviewed in the course of the investigation and that administrative findings reduced the number to a core of 15 leaders. "We think the trouble was handled well," he said, "in keeping with the interests of the college, community, and the involved students themselves."

He added that final policy was not formulated until Christmas vacation when administrators had adequate time to consider disciplinary measures.

Commenting on the behavior of the involved students, one administrative source said, "We like to be open-minded, but there's a line between being open-minded and being decent."

'Reflector' Meets Deadline, Holds Layout Seminar

The first "Reflector" deadline has been met, according to Leiland Rogers, editor.

One hundred pages, consisting of faculty, classes and advertisements were needed to meet the Dec. 6 deadline. Because faculty and class pictures were late, only 60 pages were sent in, Rogers said.

The remaining pages were sent in last week, he added. Taylor Publishing Company considered this shipment as meeting the deadline.

Ed Jones, Taylor Publishing Company representative, conducted a workshop on layout and design Dec. 4 for all staff members. The members got new ideas for a better yearbook, commented the editor.

Staff members have planned a new format of presentation which is completely different from other books.

Mat finish paper will also be used this year, and the new cover is already in production.

STORASKA
To Lecture on Assaults

Storaska to Talk To 'Girls Only'

By Sandra Hartness
Staff Writer

"The Prevention of Assault on Women" is the topic of a "Girls Only" lecture to be presented here by Frederic Storaska, Jan. 17.

Storaska, a graduate of North Carolina State University majoring in criminal psychology, holds a Black Belt in Karate and brown belts in Judo and Jiu Jitsu. He has trained policemen, U. S. Treasury agents, members of the SBI and FBI, Highway Patrol and Armed Forces.

Storaska has now lectured to over 22,000 coeds at 31 colleges and universities throughout N. C., Virginia, Maryland and Washington, D. C.

His program is designed to demonstrate the fundamentals of self-defense emphasizing prevention and how to cope psychologically with the assault problem.

Recalling an assault incident involving a girl who was confronted several hours after attending his lecture, Storaska commented: "By having a better understanding of the assault interaction, the girl was able to remain relatively stable enabling her to recognize and take advantage of several plus factors in her environment."

Dale H. Gramley, president of Salem College, remarked, "I have had many comments from students who report they feel much more secure personally than they did previously. Certainly your three lectures prepared them psychologically

'Simple' Vandalism Hits Cone Hall

By ROBERT SESSIONS
Organizations Editor

Cone Hall was the object of extensive damage Jan 4, according to Mrs. Leoda Goudelock, house director.

An undetermined number of vandals entered the recreation room of Cone Hall some time between 12:30 a.m. - 6:30 a.m. where they destroyed recreation facilities there. The television was thrown out the side door of the dorm and a clock was torn from its place on the wall.

Four lamps were completely destroyed and the ping pong tables, as well as the ping pong equipment, were torn apart. Other damage included the removal of some vital parts of a washing machine, the placing of a chair in one of the dryers, a fire extinguisher in a washing machine, and irons and ironing boards in the shower stall of the first floor.

"To me it appears to be a very simple act of vandalism," said Dean Ralph K. Tyson. "It is extremely regrettable when people act in such an irresponsible manner."

Dean of Men, Harold Maguire reiterated Tyson's views when he remarked, "I would hope that in the future, men of Cone Hall, as well as the men of other dorms, will take more pride in their residence hall so that this type of malicious vandalism would not reoccur."

Dean Maguire has been talking with residents of Cone Hall in order to try and determine the source of the destruction.

Eddie Nix, president of Cone Hall student council said, "We regret that such an incident occurred. We only hope that whoever was responsible will be caught and justly punished."

Construction Is Delayed; Road Changes Route

The access road, presently under construction, which will connect the Dorman, Olliff and Winburn Hall parking lot with the Pembroke Highway, will enter the lot so as to line up with Forest Drive, which runs alongside Winburn Hall, according to President Zach S. Henderson.

Construction has been delayed, he added, due to inclement weather.

The change in plans, he explained, was to line up the entrances to the lot and result in less congestion than having entrances on all sides of the parking area.

LIFE OF LEISURE

Campus' Swingin' Nun Keeps Active Schedule

Finds Her Dual Role Presents a Challenge

New students stare and ask, "Who is she? What is she doing on campus?" Older students smile at their questions and answer, "That's Sister Mary Paul Schweitzer, our campus nun!"

Students who have come to know Sister Mary Paul feel that no campus is complete without a nun, and that her gracious smile and sincere warmth certainly add grace to the college.

New Order

Sister Mary Paul is one of 100 sisters of the Glenmary Order that was established in 1942. This Catholic group is one of the few American-founded orders and also one of the more modern ones. The sisters follow the basic rules of life—poverty, chastity and obedience, but they have formed their own constitution. The order has combined old traditions with new ideas. They have even abandoned the traditional long habits for shorter gray skirts and an optional white blouse.

Analyzes Problems

Sister Mary Paul will then spend her life working with people. While attending classes, she has an early opportunity to analyze student attitudes and current problems.

Besides teaching religious education at the local Catholic church, Sister Mary Paul conducts marriage counseling sessions and expresses concern with affairs of the community. She and other sisters often serve as a link between families and the welfare service. They also assist at the local hospital.

Active Interest

Sister Mary Paul takes an active interest in all forms of religion on campus. She is a member of the Newman Center and has lectured on the "New Morality" to the Wesley Foundation and has also presented the movie "Abandon Ship," a film concerned with the subjective elements of morality. She feels greater service to students and community. She has decided to serve God by being a nun. Her life as a student-nun is dual in purpose—to serve God as well as His children.

Bridge the Gap

Sister Mary's immediate goal is to bridge the gap between the various religious groups on campus. Many students, she says, have fixed ideas about Catholic doctrines and the role of the Catholic nun. Sister Mary Paul is always ready to answer questions about her church and order. By answering questions, she hopes to establish a greater understanding between Protestant and Catholic religions.

Religion is a big question on any campus. Sister Mary Paul feels that organized religion on the GSC campus is weak, but that the majority of the students are very concerned with their relationship to God. She finds that many students attend different churches in search of self-identification and spiritual fulfillment. College, she continues, seems to be a questioning period for most students. Set values and traditional ideas are challenged by classmates and professors. At this time in a student's life the advice of parents is often misunderstood and unappreciated. She realizes that most students must face this period in their lives alone.

Purest Form

Although a student may not be attending church each Sunday, Sister Mary feels that he is experiencing a very special relationship with God, this being religion in its purest form.

New students are not on campus very long before they meet the "strange lady in gray." Sister Mary Paul has become an integral part of the college—the campus nun.

Ninety-four Named To Fall Dean's List

Ninety-four students have been named to the fall quarter Dean's list, according to Registrar Lloyd Joyner and Paul F. Carroll, academic dean. They are:

4.3
Marion C. Godrum, Peggy Sandra Page.

4.1
Elizabeth Barger, Bernice Bottoms, Pattie Elaine Brooks, Nancy Beth Flynt, Emily Ann Harrell, Horace W. Harrell, Ronald Wayne Slocumb, Frances Gates Smith, Patricia Luretha Thompson, Judy Jewel Vickery.

4.0
Lynn Stewart Anderson, Eunice Julie Banks, Cary Edward Bankston, Norris Bazemore, Beryl Kay Bennett, Penny Lynn Boeth, Evelyn Marie Brown, David L. Cavender, Cynthia Diane Cerr, Jane Elizabeth Dukes, William Claud Duren, Marjorie Helen Ginn, Lee M. Girardeau, Clyde Leonard Goodrich, Harriet Griffin, Jackie Jet Harville, Judith Ann Hobart.

3.9
Purvis Eric Brannen, Diana Clarie Gulley, Carole Jane King, Sara Ann Mitchell.

DPA to Conduct Dimes Campaign

Delta Phi Alpha fraternity is planning a March of Dimes drive, beginning Jan. 18, according to Richard McBride, president.

The drive is to take the form of a "Circle of Dimes." The dimes collected by DPA fraternity brothers will be taped to the sidewalk in a line to extend from the steps of the Williams Center to Sweetheart Circle.

The drive is to last for three days, Jan. 18-21. The money collected will be sent to the March of Dimes headquarters in Bulloch County to be used in the association's fight against birth defects.

According to McBride, last year's campaign, which lasted for only one day, was very successful, "therefore this year's drive should be even more successful."

military effort, currently underway in Southeast Asia, Dr. McInnes said, "The military activity is vital, its protection is essential if we are to help the people."

"It's difficult though," he added, "for a Vietnamese farmer to plow a field while bullets are flying in the air overhead. Nine times as many civilians are wounded in the war than soldiers."

"It takes a special kind of person to work in Viet Nam," he said. "Most people read about it, think about it, and even pray about it, but when it comes to touching something dirty and really getting involved... that's something else."

As far as helping the Vietnamese is concerned, he continued, "the answer is contact, touching people... you have to show them you're a nice guy... not just tell them."

Recalling an incident during his stay, Dr. McInnes illustrated his point that work is the best communication which can be established between volunteer workers and the Vietnamese. "One of my operating room assistants was a Viet Cong. I was frequently asked about this but I knew that if we stayed together long enough either what he had would rub off on me or what I had would rub off on him."

After his address, which was illustrated with a series of color slides, he answered questions from the audience. In reply to one query he remarked, "Yes, we're definitely winning the war in Viet Nam. This is not to say that the area is militarily secure, but we're learning by the experience. We need to know how to cope with these problems since Viet Nam is only a sample of what's going to happen in many places throughout the world."

Hazel Bazemore, Barbara Bishop, Margie Boyles, Dianne Branch, Vickie Mae Cleveland,

Robert E. Cole, Sr., Shirley Collins, Marie Louise Ewing, Zoltan Andrew Farkas, Charles Elliott George, Robert Wilson Grant, Fddie Griffin, Claire Halpern, Mary Barbara Harrison, Edwin Lamar Head, Warren William Heyman, Virginia K. Holland, Charles D. Johnson, Linda S. Kennedy, Annie Ruth Kessler, Sherry Kaye Knight, Sybil Raulerson Lee, Dianne Elizabeth Long, Barbara J. McEaching.

They Check ID's

Sheriff J. Paul Nevil, in conjunction with the G.B.I. and the Chamber of Commerce, has requested that college students wishing to purchase merchandise by check in the City of Statesboro must bring proper identification.

"We have had a great amount of trouble with forgery and with people writing down a college address when they do not actually live there," said Nevil.

Proper identification would include I.D. cards or drivers licenses.

Registrar Releases Flunk-Out Figures

One hundred fifteen students were dismissed from school after fall quarter failure to meet academic standards. An additional 199 students were placed on probation, and 57 students on extended academic probation, according to Registrar Lloyd Joyner.

According to the college catalog, "a student who earns credit for fewer than 10 hours (exclusive of physical education activity) in any quarter is placed on scholastic probation. This probation continues until the student passes 15 quarter hours during a quarter with a 'C' or better average in at least 10 hours."

Tyson Receives 'Freedom' Book

Dean of Students Ralph K. Tyson has recently received a complimentary copy of the final report on a study of the freedom of expression on college campuses throughout the country.

The book, "The American Student's Freedom of Expression—A Research Appraisal" is the result of an extensive research and survey project by E.G. Williamson, dean of students of the University of Minnesota, and John L. Cowan of the Student Life Studies Office of the University of Minnesota, conducted on more than 800 campuses.

The book was given to Dr. Tyson with the compliments of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, the Edward W. Hazen Foundation, the authors, and the University of Minnesota Press, in appreciation for the contribution made by the Office of Student Personnel to the "Study of Student Expression on Controversial Social Issues."

"A student is dismissed if (1) he fails to pass five hours of academic work in a quarter, (2) if while on probation, he fails to pass 10 academic hours in a quarter, or (3) if he is on probation two quarters and fails to remove himself from probation during the second probational quarter.

"Students ineligible at the end of the spring quarter for admission for the fall quarter may remove ineligibility by (1) enrolling for 15 hours in the summer quarter, and (2) passing 15 quarter hours with a grade of 'C' or better in at least 10 hours.

"An ineligible student cannot re-establish eligibility or make progress toward a degree by earning credits elsewhere during his period of ineligibility at Georgia Southern College.

"A student dismissed under these regulations may apply for readmission after an absence of one quarter (exclusive of summer quarter.) If readmission is approved by the admissions committee, the student is placed on scholastic probation and governing probation."

for any difficult situation in which they might find themselves now or in the years ahead."

Mr. Storaska will lecture to freshmen girls at 7 p.m. in McCroan Auditorium Jan. 17th and to upperclassmen girls at 8 p.m.

According to the Director of Student activities, "Members of the administration and the faculty will not be permitted to attend the lectures at the request of Mr. Storaska."

Georgia now has a governor, at least some people say so. Tuesday night's Maddox victory marked the culmination of perhaps the two most unusual months in the history of Georgia politics.

Contrary to the beliefs of many observers the election of Lester Maddox does not mean the end of the world. The fate of the state of Georgia, however, may prove to be another story.

The most optimistic thought in our minds is that at least the new governor will be watched. No one will trust the man who accuses a constituent of bribery one minute, and appoints him to a major party position the next.

The inauguration is a sad anti-climax. It's certainly a shame to have kept the event from resembling closely a major presidential inaugural during the 19th century. Many Maddox supporters will undoubtedly feel quite deprived, not being able to ride into Atlanta on the Interstate Freeways in their covered wagons to witness the event.

DR. McINNES

An Augusta physician visited the college Wednesday and addressed more than 100 students at a special coffee held at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

The man's name was Dr. George McInnes, a doctor who gave up six months of his medical practice to manage a hospital in Danang, Vietnam. He is the embodiment of the philosophy he advocates . . . doing something about a problem rather than talking about it and doing nothing.

Consistent with his philosophy he does not believe in purging anti-war demonstrators. This is a "natural thing," he said, "although I believe much of their action is based on misinformation."

It's certainly refreshing to hear such a guest, one who acts and doesn't sit back and talk not wanting to squelch his opposition by the same tactics they themselves employ.

A STRETCHER PLEASE

It was again apparent this week that despite an enrollment of well over 300 students, the college isn't prepared to cope with relatively small emergencies.

When a student is injured, or otherwise unfit to walk, the only approved means of transporting him, short of calling an ambulance service, is the campus security truck. Should the student be in condition to where he must be kept lying down, an ambulance would have to be called, since the truck only has a front seat. Speculation as to how long an ambulance would take to arrive does not bring optimistic unauthorized use of vehicles.

According to administrative sources, a Board of Regents ruling does not permit any other type of vehicle to be used as a college-owned means of transportation. Such a ruling is supposed to prevent unauthorized use of vehicles.

We urge, however, consideration of using a station wagon, equipped with first aid equipment and stretcher. Certainly the remote possibility of unauthorized use should not outweigh that of making preparations for emergencies. We should not have to wait for a serious emergency before establishing adequate means for handling one, little being accomplished by fastening the proverbial lock on the stable after the horse is gone.

"You know, the main thing I don't like about this school is the fact that the administration and house directors don't treat us like adults."

The Funniest Thing Happened; 'Adults' Struck Twice, Ha Ha Ha

By RON MAYHEW
Editor

Two of the funniest things happened during the past 10 days, funny if you happen to have an awfully perverted sense of humor.

The first incident took place in Cone Hall last week. A group of constructive young gentlemen took it upon themselves to rearrange all the recreation facilities in the dormitory. This included mutilation of ping pong equipment, destruction of appliances and furniture, and tossing a television set out a window.

tossing a television set out a window.

This writer would venture to say that the same individuals who performed this wonderful act of service to the campus are probably among the growing number who consistently yelp each time a new administrative policy is formulated.

"Why do they treat us like children?" they ask?

The second exciting episode in this action-packed story took place in the Williams Center

Monday. Some unknown enterprising individual decided to leave an ignited piece of fireworks in the corridor.

The result was a huge success. An explosion was heard throughout the building and bedlam resulted. One girl enjoyed the show so much that she went into a state of shock. It seems the explosion was right under her feet.

Perhaps the benevolent soul who set it off was among the crowd who stood around the girl as onlookers tried to comfort her. Hopefully he enjoyed being able to see first hand the fruits of his labors, watching as, still crying, she was carried to the Health Cottage.

Practical jokes are hilarious things...they really make people laugh. It's interesting to speculate, however, about a mind that could conceive such a prank knowing what could so easily result from it.

An administrative source is quoted on the front page of this issue as drawing a line between open-mindedness and decency. In regard to these two events, the point is well taken.

I submit we should stop treating individuals like children... and start treating them like animals.

Seniority Means Privileges Due, Even in College

By CINDY CARSON
Managing Editor

The senior class in college has always been admired by underclassmen and membership in this class has been cherished by all who have had a taste of freshman life. This feeling is not without cause, for it takes a great deal of hard work, time, and perseverance to achieve the title of "senior." Students who achieve senior status should be rewarded with certain privileges, one of which should be the right to register before other classes.

MUST FIGHT
CARSON

Instead of being granted this simple privilege, seniors at GSC have to fight the mobs for time cards, with the same chance as a first quarter freshman for receiving an early registration time. Quite often, a late-registering senior finds himself closed out of a course which he must take at that time in order to meet requirement for graduation.

On drop-add day, the instructor of that course is forced to take the student into an already overcrowded class, thus causing the class to become larger than is desirable for effective teaching. In some cases, an underclassman is forced to drop the course to make room for the senior, thus causing more "red tape" than should be necessary.

EARLY BIRDS

It would seem desirable to devise a system whereby seniors would be allowed to register before the other classes. Perhaps the drawing of time cards could be arranged so that seniors could draw at a certain time of the day from a box that contained only times between 8 and 11, for example. When the hours for senior drawing passed, the remaining early cards would be placed in the boxes with later cards for underclassmen to draw.

WHY NOT MAIL?

Another plan would be the mailing of time cards by registration officials. The cards would be assigned alphabetically according to classification or at random within each class.

Either of these plans would eliminate much of the difficulty in the drop-add procedure and make less paper work for registration officials. Classes would not become overcrowded as quickly because of seniors who need certain courses for graduation.

Not only would these plans be more practical from the viewpoint of making registration simpler and faster, but also seniors would be extended one of the privileges which are due in every case of seniority.

Dear Editor,

Last school year, the cafeteria opened for breakfast on class days at 7 a.m. Classes started at 8 a.m. That schedule allowed one hour for breakfast before a first period class.

This year classes start at 7:30 a.m., but the cafeteria still opens at 7 a.m. If a student is first in line, and if the cafeteria opens on time, he has no more than 30 minutes in which to eat and get to class.

If he happens to be near the end of the line, which reaches downstairs before the cafeteria opens, he really has to scurry. I like to start my day by enjoying my breakfast. Nowadays, after I gulp down as much of my breakfast as time permits and then race my professor to class, my stomach meels upside down and my brain inside out.

I think the cafeteria should be opened at least by 6:45 (as it was fall quarter) to give those who want it a chance at a decent breakfast. Even this additional time would be of little use to the girls in dorms, because as regulations now stands, girls cannot leave their dorms before 6:45 a.m.

After a girl allows several minutes as a safety margin before leaving the dorm, in case her clock doesn't agree with the dorm clock, by the time she reaches the cafeteria it is nearly 7 a.m.

I can think of no reason why girls should not be allowed to leave the dorms 15 minutes before the cafeteria opens so they will have time to catch their breath before class.

Every student's daily routine is dependent upon his class schedule. Planning is poor and incomplete when classes are rescheduled without modifying school services and regulations so that students can attend these classes.

'A Walk with Me .. Then Walk Alone'

(Ed. Note: Though his talents are usually found on the sports pages, Bjorn Kjerfve is the author of one of our regular editorial columns this week. His remarks are based on personal experiences, secluded walks on St. Simons Island.)

By BJORN KJERFVE

The sinking sun glowed behind the palmtree. The sky was all gold, gold. But it changed. It was violet, then gray. Everything was dark. Night had begun.

No more you could see the miles-long deserted beach, the rolling sand dunes, the slowly waving sea oats, or the endless ocean. But you could hear the wind's soft whisper in your ears and feel the damp mist gently caressing your cheeks bringing message from distant places.

Open up your eyes. Look around you. See the beauty everywhere. Come on, come on... take a walk with me.

We don't have far to go. It's just beyond the next bend. Look. Here where the road crosses the little stream I saw a crane pair last summer. They were not even afraid of me.

Oh, look here. This is the Pink Chapel. Not much is left of it now; just a ruin. The old tabby walls can tell you stories, though. They have told me many. They told me about life on West Point plantation when the slaves worshipped within the chapel walls. Just sit down and listen.

And the oak trees. They can tell you about life long before the little grey chapel was even built.

I wish you could sit with me on the banks of Dunbar Creek one evening and watch how day turns into night. So that we together could admire the sunset reflecting in the creek; watch the 'coon eagerly wash his paws down at the edge of the water; foresee the seething life in the distant town; and feel the vastness of the peaceful marshes.

And then perhaps the old oaks will start telling their stories as the evening breeze gently rustles through the mysterious moss hanging down from their bumpy branches. They might tell you about the Indians that used to live here; what happened when the Spanish came; how Oglethorpe and the English took over; when Ebo and his men proudly drowned themselves in the creek to avoid slavery; or the oaks may tell you about all the times I have come here to listen to their tales.

Thanks for walking with me. I enjoyed it. You see, I just love to walk around on this island and on the wonderful Sea Island beach. Now, take a walk by yourself. Away you go.

But please come back to my beach...no, to our beach. I'll be back. If you want to know when, just listen to the wind, listen to the wind, to the wind...

Student Congress Needs Helpers, Especially You

By ROBIN OLMSTEAD
Student Cong. 2nd Vice Pres.

I can remember my first day at Georgia Southern so well. It was two and one half years ago that I started my college career. It's not really a very long time ago.

This school has grown a great deal since 1964, and I hope I have grown with it. Serving on the Student Congress has given me many valuable experiences.

The Congress office is located in room 115 of the Student Center. It is a nice office but very hard to find as it is almost hidden by the water fountain. We would be most thankful if the students would visit us for any reason, no matter how large or small.

We are very interested in the problems of the school. There is much we can do, and much we can't do, but we will always try if the problem is a genuine one.

Georgia Southern College has a great abundance of people with good ideas and criticisms. The problem lies in that the majority of the students are not heard.

You may get together one night with your friends and talk about all the things you like and don't like about this campus. You will probably come out with many plans for the improvement of our campus. This is

Dear Garfunkel,

I hear that you attended a party held for all the Maddox supporters. Please tell me what the women wore, and a little about the party.

I. M. Instyle

Dear I. M.,

The women wore dresses which were exquisitely fashioned from Bogue patterns no. 43. The material was of the country's finest flour sacks. The sunbonnets were elegantly fashioned, except for the few visible staples which held the bonnets together. Complementing the fashionable attire were bobby socks which were worn rolled down to the ankles or held up by rubber bands. The guests wore brogans which had been lightly polished for the gala shindig. The party was a memorable event, as the Maddox supporters discussed their crops, political victory, and the weather.

Dear Garfunkel,

Why doesn't someone fix the Student Center door that has been broken since last quarter?

participated and it was one of the most worthwhile projects all fall quarter.

Not many people took an interest in the carolling, but those who did were well rewarded that night when they saw the happy faces of local children as they listened to the singing.

Last quarter there was also a very bad turnout for class meetings to nominate officers. These are events that students should know about. The publicity is slowly becoming better. So won't you please take an interest?

Start going to basketball games and gym meets, go to Congress meetings, eat a few meals in our dining hall, read the newspaper and attend all the activities you are able to this homecoming.

Help us, and in so doing help yourselves to grow during your four years at college. Please don't waste these precious days. Time just isn't that abundant.

Broucek, Adams Present Recital

Dr. Sterling Adams, assistant professor of music, and Dr. Jack Broucek, professor of music, will present a piano duet recital Jan. 23 at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Music Building. The concert will feature representative literature written exclusively for piano duets.

Dr. Broucek explained that piano duets were popular during the late 19th and 20th centuries. After this period, musicians started using two pianos. The piano duet features two pianists at one piano.

The public is invited to attend this concert.

Duncan Reveals Schedule For Homecoming Activities

Plans for 1967 Homecoming have been announced by Larry Duncan, vice-president of Student Congress.

A coffee for Miss GSC contestants will be held on Tuesday Jan. 24, at 7 p.m. at The Edge. Nominations for Miss GSC contestants are open to all campus organizations. Organizations wishing to sponsor a candidate should turn in the candidate's name and a $2.00 entrance fee to Larry Duncan.

A Faculty-Student basketball game will be held Wednesday, Jan. 25, in Hanner Gym. The game will be highlighted by cheerleaders for each team.

On Jan. 26, a bonfire will feature competition between the men and women. Following the bonfire, a folk sing will be held in McCroan Auditorium.

Displays will be judged on the morning of Friday, Jan. 27. The Beauty Review will be held Friday night in McCroan Auditorium. At 10 p.m. B.J. Thomas will be featured in a concert in Hanner Gym.

An information booth will be operated by campus organizations, Saturday, Jan. 28. A barbeque will be held in Sweetheart Circle from 12:30 p.m. until 1:30 p.m. Kappa Delta Chi will sponsor the annual Homecoming parade at 2:00 p.m.

At 8:00 p.m., the Eagles will play the Tennessee Wesleyan College Bulldogs in the annual Homecoming Game. A dance featuring Benny King will be held at the National Guard Armory during and after the game.

The weekend activities will end with campus church services in McCroan Auditorium at 11 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 29.

IAT and Gamma Sigma Upsilon will sponsor a dance at the National Guard Armory, Jan. 28 from 8 p.m. until midnight. The dance will feature "The Outsiders". Admission will be $1.50 per person.

Dr. Miller Warns Transfer Student

Transfer students are reminded by Dr. Starr Miller, chairman of the education division, that it is necessary to be formally admitted to the Teacher Education Program in order to pursue the professional sequence in teacher education.

Many transfer students have had the first course in education at another college. Those persons should see Dr. John Lindsey, teacher education programs assistant, immediately to make application.

Spanish Club to Meet

The first meeting of the Spanish Club will be held Thursday, Jan. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 107 of the Hollis Building.

All Spanish students and any other students interested in the Spanish language are invited to attend.

God hath not promised
Skies ever blue
Flower strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain
God hath not promised
Smooth roads and wide,
Swift, easy travel,
Needing no guide;
God hath not promised
We shall not bear
Many a burden,
Many a care.
But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest amid labour,
Light for the way;
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

 (By the author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!", "Dobie Gillis," etc.)

IT'S A NORTH WIND THAT BLOWS NO GOOD

Crushed between the twin millstones of January weather and final exams, you are saved from total despair, poor devils, only by the knowledge that winter vacation will soon be here.

Where will you go this year? Will it be Florida again, or are you tired of jails? Then how about Puerto Rico?

A most excellent notion, say I. A balmy and bounteous island with long white beaches and blue, blue skies and green, healing seas. And, most pleasant of all, the warm and gracious people of Puerto Rico! You don't even have to know Spanish to communicate with this friendly folk. Just learn three simple phrases and you'll get along splendidly: "Buenos días" which means "Good morning," "Gracias" which means "Thank you," and "Que será será" which means "Your llama is on my foot."

In order to help you enjoy the fabled land of Puerto Rico it would be well for me to supply a bit of historical background. (It would also be well for me to say a few words about Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades because the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades pay me to write this column and they are inclined to sulk if I omit to mention their product. Of course, they don't stay gloomy long, for they are kindly, cheery men fond of Morris dancing, spelling bees, and temperance punch—fine, upright types, as true and gleaming and durable as the blades they make. And if you've tried Personna's, you know how true and gleaming and durable that is! And if you haven't tried Personna's, poor devil, you've cheated both your purse and face, for Personna's last and last, shave after luxury shave, close, clean, nickless, hackless, tugless, gougeless, scratchless, matchless. Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades come in Double Edge or Injector style and are made only by the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades.)

But I digress. Back to the history of Puerto Rico. The island was discovered by that popular discoverer Christopher Columbus. Incidentally, considering Columbus' popularity, it's odd we know so little about him. What do we really know? Only this:

He was born in Genoa on August 25, 1451, the son of Ralph T. Columbus, a knee-cymbal vendor, and Eleanor (Swiftly) Columbus, a low hurdler. He was an only child except for his five brothers and eight sisters. From early childhood he was an avid reader and spent all his waking hours immersed in a book. Unfortunately, there was only one book in Genoa at the time—Care of the Horse by Aristotle—and after 18 years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus grew restless. When rumor reached him there was another book in Madrid, off he ran as fast as his little fat legs would carry him.

Disappointment, alas, awaited him there. The only book in Madrid was Cuidar un Caballo, which proved to be nothing more than a Spanish translation of Care of the Horse.

Then one day Columbus heard from a traveller that there were millions of books in India, and he was instantly ablaze to set sail. Off he ran on his little fat legs to the court of Ferdinand and Isabella (Columbus, though more than six feet tall, was plagued with little fat legs all his life) and, as we all know, he persuaded the Spanish rulers to outfit him with three stout ships, the Flopsy, the Mopsy, and the Cottontail, and the rest is history!

Well sir, now you know all about the origins of Puerto Rico. So get packed and get going! You'll love it! Stroll the beaches, swim the coves, breathe the fragrance of hibiscus and bougainvillea. And remember always that the friendly Puerto Ricans are delighted to show you their customs, teach you their language. Why, I'll wager you'll soon know far more Spanish than the three basic phrases. You'll know "Hasta la vista" which means "See you later," "Por favor" which means "Please," and "El tren se paró en las estaciones" which means "Your llama has eaten my passport."

Gracias from the makers of Personna for giving our blades such a cordial reception, and, por favor, how about trying another of our luxury shaving products — Burma Shave, regular or menthol?

SWINGIN' MEDALLIONS

To Play at Theta Pi Omega Concert-Dance Jan. 13

Medallions to Play At Dance

Friday, Jan. 13, Theta Pi Omega service sorority will present a dance featuring the Swingin' Medallions. The dance will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight in the National Guard Armory on Highway 301, north of Statesboro.

The Swingin' Medallions are a group of eight vocalists and musicians of national fame, who have recorded several albums and single records. Among their roster of recordings are "Double Shot," "Barefootin'," "No) Satisfaction," "Hang on Sloopy," and "She Drives Me Outa My Mind."

Tickets are on sale in the student center from members of Theta Pi Omega.

European Studies

Offered to Students

University level summer sessions in France and Austria for college students interested in the language and history of either country are being offered this summer by the Educational Travel Association in cooperation with Air France.

Featured in the 17th annual "Summer Session Abroad" program are month-long terms at either the Ecole Pratique de L'Alliance Francaise in Paris or the University of Salzburg, Austria. The price for a complete session at either school is $225, which includes the courses, board and lodging, local sight-seeing programs, transfers of group arrivals from the airport to the city, and a graduation certificate.

Each school will hold two sessions, one in July and a repeat session in August to provide flexibility of arrangements. Both sessions will offer the same courses in elementary, intermediate and advanced language, as well as the history of civilization, of the respective country. Departures from New York for the university of Paris will be on June 30 for the first session, and July 31 for the second. Departures for the University of Salzburg will be on July 2 and August 2.

Round trip economy class fare to Paris from New York via Air France will be $526.30. To Vienna the same class fare will be $611.80. This fare, according to Air France, permits the student to stop over at various cities in Europe en route home at no additional cost.

In conjunction with the school program, ETA is offering a variety of extension tours in Europe following the study sessions.

For detailed information, write for the "Summer Sessions Abroad" brochure to Air France, P. O. Box 707, New York, N. Y. 10011.

SORRY ABOUT THAT

Due to a typographical error the "George-Anne" reported last week that 175 men and 1889 women comprised the total enrollment of 3641 as of Jan. 4. Though such a ratio might be desirable for men on campus, the addition of the digit 2 makes the figure more realistic . . . 1752 men and 1889 women, as of last week.

Masquers Give Tentative Dates For 1-Act Plays

The Masquers have announced Feb. 28 and March 1, 2 and 3 as tentative dates for their annual program of one-act plays, which will be presented backstage in McCrean Auditorium. Two of the three plays have already been chosen, "The Jewish Wife" and "The Eavesdropper."

"The Jewish Wife" by Bertolt Brecht, concerns a young Jewish woman in Berlin during the rise of Hitler. "The Eavesdropper," by Robert Overstreet, assistant professor of speech and director of the Masquers, is a light comedy. Overstreet is interested in presenting original plays written by faculty members or students.

Interested persons may contact him backstage or may see any member of Masquers for information concerning original plays.

Wesley Players Set Jan. 20 For Play

The Wesley Players will present "The Second Look," a drama written by Norah Sterling, Jan. 20 at William James High School.

The play deals with the need for all to beware lest the essentials of life be smothered under a host of trivialities. A highly respected couple, leaders of their community come to the realization that they must exchange their present goals for less showy ones when their daughter runs away from home.

The players are: Gail Callaway as the mother, Alan Milton as the father, Sarah McLaughlin as the daughter, Mike Ayers as the son and Angela Pinarro as the next-door neighbor.

In late March or April the Wesley Players will present a drama for the Woman's Society of Christian Service in Statesboro. The play will be directed by Libby Brannen. The assistant director will be Sidney Jackson and stage manager will be Nancy Waldrep.

Wesley Foundation is sponsoring the production.

'Shane' Scheduled to Play For Thursday Free Movie

This week's free movie is scheduled for Thursday night in order not to conflict with the Theta Pi Omega Swingin' Medallions dance. "Shane," a traditional western starring Alan Ladd, Jean Arthur, Van Heflin, and Brandon deWilde. It is directed by George Stevens and is produced by Paramount Pictures.

Rancher Joe Starrett, played by Van Heflin, hires a buckskin clad, mysterious appearing drifter (Alan Ladd) hoping that together they will have the courage to stand off Ryker, the cruel, dishonest cattle baron who is trying to steal the town. At first, Starrett, his wife and 9-year old son are wary of the stranger, but they accept him as one of the family when he puts on his gunbelt and joins Starrett in working the ranch. The little boy is intrigued by the clever newcomer.

A former gunfighter, Shane is determined to establish a new, peaceful life for himself. But circumstances won't let him. When open warfare against the homesteaders is declared, Starrett sets off to kill a professional gunman. Shane's action in this situation is surprising as he rides away as mysteriously as he came.

The film is in color and will be shown at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 12.

Broucek, Adams Present Recital

Dr. Sterling Adams, assistant professor of music, and Dr. Jack Broucek, professor of music, will present a piano duet recital Jan. 23 at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Music Building. The concert will feature representative literature written exclusively for piano duets.

'Edge' Managers Plan Remodeling, Dances

The Edge, Statesboro's first coffee house, has been transferred to new management, and several changes will be made in entertainment and arrangement of the coffee house itself.

Rhody Edwards and Jerry McCall, joint owners of the Edge are planning a remodeling of the coffee house, using fish net and other new equipment, including a Hammond organ, which will be played during entertainment sessions.

The entertainment roster for the coffee house will include piano and organ music by Jerry McCall and his trio on Wednesday through Sunday nights, with other special entertainment features scheduled for various nights in the week.

Beginning this week, and continuing each Friday or Saturday night, the Edge will sponsor a dance featuring Jerry McCall and a prominent, nationally known vocalist. The dance for this week will be held on Saturday night. Edward McCall invites all students and faculty members to attend the dance during or after the game Saturday night with Oglethorpe College.

On Wednesday, Thursdays and Sundays, the Edge will be open from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m., but on Friday and Saturday the coffee house will be open from 8 p.m. to midnight and will feature entertainment such as poetry readings and various folk singers and groups.

Edwards and McCall announced that the Edge is open on Monday and Tuesday nights for private parties. Groups wishing to rent the coffee house should contact the managers at the Edge.

Revue Theme

Leonard Robertson, president of Alpha Rho Tau, announced "Southern Fair" as the theme of the 1967 Beauty Revue. The event will be held Friday, Jan. 27 in McCroan Auditorium. Ric Mandes, director of public relations, will emcee the contest. Music will be provided by Dr. Jack Broucek, professor of Music.

Miss GSC contestants will attend a reception on Olliff Hall at 2 p.m. Jan. 27. At this time, contestants will meet the judges.

(L-R) Dr. Howard, Diane Lansford, Thomas Wright

Howard, 2 Students Are on Savannah TV

Dr. Cecil Howard, associate professor of marketing, accompanied by Diane Lansford and Thomas Wright, appeared on WSAV-TV in Savannah Wednesday.

They were the guests of Curt Avery, emcee of "Three for the Show," an open discussion program. Dr. Howard discussed general topics in the field of advertising and voiced his opinions on present day commercials. "The basic objectives of advertising is to inform the consumer as to what is available for sale. Commercials do this, however, they also try to persuade the buyer to purchase a specific brand," said Howard.

Diane Lansford and Thomas Wright discussed advertising campaigns which they had done as marketing projects last quarter. Their programs were chosen as the best from Dr. Howard's marketing classes. They related the type of campaign which they had worked out and told what inspired them to choose their particular topics. Dr. Howard said, "Miss Lansford and Mr. Wright's ads were chosen because they were extremely efficient and outstanding in creativity."

Last year, Dr. Howard's classes went on a field trip to Savannah where they toured the television station, a newspaper plant and a paper mill. Howard talked with Avery during this visit and Avery expressed his interest in doing quarterly televised interviews of marketing students. As a result, a program evolved where two members of marketing classes, showing outstanding creativity, would be interviewed by Avery on the program.

Business Group Reveal Plans To Hold Auction

Phi Beta Lambda, professional business organization, is making plans for an auction to be held Jan. 31, from 8 p.m. until 10 p.m., according to Beverly Berthelot president.

The items to be auctioned are being donated by local merchants and will be on display Jan. 28, 30, 31, at a place to be announced later. At the display, anyone wishing to bid on an item will have the chance to do so.

On Jan. 31 WWNS radio station will broadcast the auction from 8 p.m. until 10 p.m. The highest bid at the display will be the opening price of each item. Anyone wishing to bid higher than the original offer may call the radio station and place his bid. The merchandise will be delivered the same night it is auctioned.

The purpose of the auction is to promote friendly relations between the college and the local merchants and to raise money for projects planned by Phi Beta Lambda.

1600 Students Get Financial Aid

A breakdown of all students who are on scholarship or loan programs has been released by Ben G. Waller, director of placement and student aid.

According to Waller there are approximately 1600 students associated with scholarships, loans, grants or work programs utilizing a sum of about $1,045,500.00.

There are 31 students on Regents Scholarships, using a total of $14,950. The Georgia State Teachers Scholarship program helps finance the education of 191 students here by paying them a total of $14,950.

Three hundred seventy-six students are receiving National Defense Education Act loans, corresponding secretary; Bill Dekle, treasurer; Leonard Collins, sergeant-at-arms, and Carl Lockwood, chaplain.

New members of Delta Pi Alpha for the winter quarter are Bill Ramsey, Cecil Waters, Chester Swan, Glenn Lovelace, Ronnie White, Rodney Walker, Dickey Braun and Gary Stough.

which amount to a total of $250,000. Education Opportunity Grants are utilized by 229 students and the total amount afforded their students is about $82,000.

The State Scholarship Commission has granted $8,500 to 11 graduates here who plan to become college teachers. A loan program administered by the Georgia Higher Education Assistance Corporation loaned $215,000 to 270 student. The work program employs 425 students and pays out a total of $96,000 annually. Another work program, administered by the federal government, employs 70 students and pays out about $28,000.

Other scholarships, loans and grants processed in the office of Placement and Student Aid deal with about $200,000.

Waller said, "So far, we have not had to turn down anyone who sought financial help in the form of a scholarship, loan, or work who needed it. We were fortunate to have enough money to help those who qualified."

Homecoming Display Rules Set by Congress

The Social Activities Committee of the Student Congress has issued a memo to presidents of all campus organizations relating to plans for the traditional homecoming displays, according to Larry Duncan, 1st. vice-president.

The Homecoming Committee has set down a list of seven rules governing the procedure that the organizations must follow when planning a display.

The rules are as follows:
1. Homecoming displays will be limited to the park area of the front campus, and the front of the Carruth Building and the area in front of the Williams center.

2. Displays should attempt to carry out the theme of Homecoming.

3. Displays should be built out of durable material to withstand any adverse weather that might occur during the weekend.

4. All displays will be completed by Friday, 5 p.m., Jan. 27, and must remain intact during the entire weekend.

5. Displays will be judged between 9 and 10 a.m. Saturday. They will be judged, in order, on originality, theme continuity, construction, general appearance and design.

6. Organizations sponsoring displays will be responsible for clearing their display from the park area by 10 a.m., Monday, Jan. 30.

7. The winning organization will be presented the traditional trophy which they will keep for the coming year.

Display space will be determined by a race Wed., Jan. 25 to begin at 6 p.m. from the front of the Williams Center. Each organization planning to enter a display must send a representative to the race. At a designated time the runners will race for prime display areas.

Any organization wishing further information concerning Homecoming displays is asked to contact Robin Olmstead in the Student Congress office.

largest and most colorful Homecoming parade ever held." Hadden also emphasized that entries from organizations desiring to enter a unit should be submitted to KDX by Jan. 21. Organizations which have not received entry blanks may obtain them from Hadden.

A trophy to be presented by the fraternity, will be awarded to the best float of the parade. A panel of judges, selected by KDX from the citizens of Statesboro, will review the floats and select a winner.

David Dunn, membership chairman of KDX, has announced that the fraternity will begin a pledge period this quarter with an open smoker Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Williams Center.

Student Directory Is Delayed, Goes on Sale Monday by Delta Sigma Pi

The new college directory, compiled and published by Delta Sigma Pi. fraternity, will go on sale Monday, according to Managing Editor Jack Jones.

It will include a complete listing of all faculty members, their home address and telephone number, the classification, home address, college address and phone number of all students, a list of PBX numbers for all residence halls, a basketball and baseball schedule, and a complete calendar of events for the college.

The directory was originally planned to be released Jan. 9 but due to an extensive amount of errors by the publisher, it had to be returned for revision.

All information for the directory was collected by the fraternity brothers and handed over to an editing committee. The data was fed into a computer where it was arranged alphabetically. Tommy Whitten served as editor, Jack Jones was managing editor, and Tommy Washburn held the position of advertising editor. Washburn will also be in charge of sales.

The directory, to be sold in the lobby of the Williams Center, will consist of a total of 100 pages and will cost 75 cents.

"A limited number of the student directory has been printed and we urge everyone to purchase theirs as soon as possible," remarked Jones.

New KDX Group Announces Plans For Homecoming

Kappa Delta Chi, newly formed service fraternity, is sponsoring the 1967 Homecoming Parade in conjunction with Student Congress according to Gordon Turner, vice-president.

The parade will be held Saturday, Jan. 28, at 2:30 p.m. Chairman Harold Hadden said, "Plans are underway for the

Rotary to Honor Hodges, Willis

Robert Willis and Jay Hodges have been named Rotary students of the week, according to James Stapleton, president of Student Congress.

Willis, a senior health and physical education major from Columbus, is president of Phi Epsilon Kappa and has participated in intramural basketball and football.

Hodges, a sophomore English major from Palmetto, is a member of the basketball team.

Willis and Hodges will be presented to the Rotary Club at a luncheon Monday at Bryant's Kitchen, at 12:30 p.m.

Smoker Planned

Delta Sigma Pi, international business fraternity, will hold a smoker at The Chateau, Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 8 p.m.

This meeting is for all male business and economics majors who are interested in becoming members of Delta Sigma Pi.

They will have the opportunity to meet the officers and fraternity brothers and to become acquainted with the general purposes of the organization.

Carter Is New Petrel Coach

It will storm in the Hanner Gymnasium Saturday night. The Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe College, among Southern's most bitter rivals, are due here at 8 p.m. They are here for revenge for last year's 80-94 loss to the Strong-Going Eagles.

Oglethorpe is presently ranked 20th nationally by the UPI Board of Coaches, and after the first 10 games of their season they have posted a 9-1 record.

Sixteen times Southern has played Oglethorpe, 11 of these contests have ended with Eagle victories.

Last year though, Oglethorpe posting a 22-6 record, gave Southern one of its six losses. That was in Atlanta in the first game of 1966, when the Petrels stormed by Southern to win, 71-67.

Basketball Coach Garland Pinholster has since last season left the Petrels to pursue a doctor's degree at Louisiana State University. Bill Carter has taken over where Pinholster left off.

Doug Alexander, 6-2, 165-pound guard from Doraville, will lead the Oglethorpe attack on the Eagles. So far in the season Alexander is high scorer with a 15.7 average. Other likely starters are 6-1 Earl Blair, 6-5 J. P. Bruzek, 6-1 Roger Littell and 6-5 Jerry Sams.

Bohman Stuns Guilford

The Eagles out-rallied Guilford College, 75-74, Tuesday night in Greensboro, N. C. to pocket a two-game road trip and return home with a 9-6 record.

Bob Bohman, a sophomore reserve, proved his talent by swishing the nets for 11 points - 9 coming in the second half.

The Eagles began slow and were trailing 7-0 before finding the range. A rally accounting for 11 consecutive points put Southern ahead, 18-13. The Eagles went into the half with a 38-28 lead.

A second half 2-2-1 whole court press by the Quakers stunned Southern as Guilford slipped.

Rebels Upset Southern

2500 See Valdosta Snap Win from Eagle Beak

By DAN STILES
Assistant Sports Editor

The rebelling Rebels from Valdosta refused to accept a come-back attempt by Southern and rallied in the last few minutes of the game to defeat the Eagles, 68-61 Saturday night. 2500 fans witnessed Southern's first loss at home.

The Rebels leaped to a 8-0 lead before Barry Miller sank a long shot at the head of the circle to put the Eagles on the scoreboard. Valdosta stretched the lead to ten points, and Southern pulled to within seven before intermission, 27-34.

The Eagles, who had been in a man-to-man defense the first half, switched to 1-3-1 defense in the second. It was not long before Southern started blocking shots, stealing passes, and scoring baskets. The Eagles' rally was cut short when Jumping-Jack Robert Jordan and Miller fouled out. Southern then lost their five-point lead and the game.

Jimmy Rose managed "only 15 points" against a tight "Rose defends" although he was high scorer for the Eagles. Jim Seeley, with his long, high-arched jumpers pushed 13 points through the hoop, closely followed by Ken Szotkiewicz' 12 and Jordan's 11. Sophomore Bob Bohman added to the defensive punch and sank two important foul shots to knot the game 51-51 at one time.

Leading the Rebels' 52-field goal percentage was Mike Terry and Bob Lamp-hier with 16 points a piece. Tough Bryan Phillips played a large part in the Valdosta victory by excellent defense and effective rebounding.

Rose Paces Eagle Victory

A tough 1-3-1 second half defense and hot shooting pushed the Southern Eagles into the winning column with a 91-76 victory over Wilmington Monday at Wilmington, N. C.

The Eagles again changed from a man-to-man to a zone in the second half and turned their 43-40 advantage at intermission into a quick 10 points.

The Eagle's percentage the first half was .56, but the determined Eagles were not satisfied and blazed the nets for .64 the second half to finish the night with a praise-worthy .60.

Southern's shooting was the best it has been all season. Husky Jim Seeley whose shooting began where it left off in the Valdosta game, shot a remarkable 100 per cent of his nine field goal attempts and added to his achievements by scrambling away 10 rebounds.

Jimmy Rose rambled with a 31-point effort to gain the scoring honors for the night. Ken Szotkiewicz was consistent in his shooting and sank 19 points. "Soc" was followed by Robert Jordan with 12.

Gymnasts Take Pride in Work

Squad Includes Eight Members

By TOM KING

Swinging, jumping, tumbling, pulling, sweating, grunting, flipping and falling. The Southern gymnastics team is beginning a new campaign with eight gymnasts providing the color and action and Two-Year Coach Ron Oertley providing the guiding light to victory.

Two seniors, two juniors and four freshmen make up the eight gymnasts who will carry the load throughout the season. Coach Oertley refers to the eight members of the team as "a group of determined individuals who take pride in their work and are always striving to improve their routines and stunts."

David Oglesby, a senior physical education major from Sardis, is a three-year man on the team. "Dave's speciality is free exercise and he will also work on the parallel bars," said Oertley. According to Oertley, Oglesby is a hard worker but has no high school background. "Dave has made vast improvement over the last two years and has done it all on his own," commented Oertley.

The second senior is Joe Lumpkin, a business administration major from Warner Robins, who is beginning his third season as an Eagle gymnast. Lumpkin competes in three events, the still rings, the trampoline and the parallel bars. Joe is the number one performer for GSC on the trampoline. "Joe has improved his difficulty on both the rings and the p-bars and does a real fine job as our trampoline man," said Oertley.

Jimmy Kirkland, a junior physical education major from Glennville, is the number two man in the long horse vault and the sidehorse. Jimmy is a two-year man who Coach Oertley says is "continuing to improve and would be a lot better if he had had any high school experience."

From Orlando, Fla. is Denny Davis, a two-year gymnast who is a junior majoring in physical education. According to Oertley, Davis has the potential to be an all-around man if he had had gymnastics in high school. "Denny is pres-ly concentrating his efforts on the side horse. He will begin work later on the parallel bars, the high bar and free exercise. Davis is a ward worker but does not have enough time to develop into an all-around man," commented Coach Oertley.

Gary Barnett, freshman from Atlanta, took the state all-around championship. His best events include free exercise, high bar, trampoline, parallel bars and vaulting. "For us he will be our all-around man and will compete in all seven events," said Oertley.

Placing second to Barnett in the state all-around championship was Danny Harrison, freshman from Atlanta. He was also the state high school still rings and parallel bars champ. According to Oertley, he has increased his difficulty in all of his events and his strongest ones are the rings and the p-bars.

GSC also has the state high school high bar champion in Rodney Chandler, also a freshman from Atlanta. "Chandler works on the high bar and the p-bars and will eventually begin work on free exercise," commented Oertley.

Ron Freeman, a freshman from Atlanta, rounds out the eight members of the squad. He is the number one side horse man and according to Oertley has a lot of potential.

Gymnasts To Open Season with Citadel

The GSC gymnastics squad will host the Bulldogs of the Citadel tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Alumni Gym in the initial home meet of the season.

According to Coach Ron Oertley, the boys are ready physically and mentally for the meet and in Oertley's words, "if they want the win they will work hard to get it."

Gary Barnett, freshman from Atlanta, will be the all-around man for the Eagles. He will participate in all seven events.

Barnett's speciality is the free exercise. Danny Harrison, also from Atlanta, will be working four events for Southern. "Denny's strongest events are the still rings and the parallel bars but he also will compete in the free exercise and the long horse vault," said Oertley.

Performing on the high bar, parallel bars and the long horse vault will be Rodney Chandler. Ron Freeman will handle the chores as the number one side-horse man with Jimmy Kirkland and backing Freeman. Kirkland will also participate in the trampoline as well as the still rings while David Oglesby will compete in free exercise and the p-bars.

COACH OERTLEY

He Hopes Much of Season

B. J. ON SPORTS

By BJORN KJERFVE
Sports Editor

It's time for the basketball game of the year. Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels will visit us Saturday night. When they come here, they come to beat us. They always want to. Sometimes they manage to, sometimes not. This time tough Garland Pinholster, the Petrels' legendary coach, no longer is there to give his boys inspiration. Therefore the Eagles may have a slight edge when playing their arch rivals. I hope so anyway.

Once Upon a Time There Was . . .

Talking about legends, I once heard a little story. Like all stories it may not be true.

There once was this school that had an ugly mascot; a Buddha. Everybody there just loved it; they even worshipped it. It helped the school to win basketball games. And still it was only an ugly, gold-colored, 185-pound, paper-mache Buddha covered with cement.

But the students loved it till one dark December night two years ago some nasty people stole it; during the annual tournament even. Many saw it, but none recognized the thieves. No one ever saw the ambulance driver's face, and the others were just shadows in the dark.

During the wild 120-mile-an-hour chase on the big road the fast ambulance left the chasing student cars behind.

Everyone at the school grieved for weeks, for months. They searched here, they searched there, they searched at Belmont Abby. But nowhere could they find their beloved Buddha.

They Just Loved Their Buddha

How the story ended? It hasn't ended. You see, they are still searching, and they will search when they come here Saturday.

A little bird the other day whispered something in my ear.

"The Buddha broke his neck, but his spirit still lives. You can find him at midnight when the moon is full, if you go off 301 towards the fishing village not far from here. There where the road crosses Ogeechee River, you can see the Buddha looking up at you through the 10-foot deep, brown water."

And they just loved their Buddha, but do they remember . . . ?

BELL RINGS AGAIN

The thunderous voice of the Victory Bell once again could be heard across campus Monday night when the Eagle cagers defeated Wilmington. That was the first time in more than 10 months the bell spoke.

Miller Brings Board Boom to Southern Starters

By DAN STILES
Assistant Sports Editor

Barry Miller, who has never played organized basketball before and who has recently stepped into the spotlight when introductions are made at the basketball game, is Georgia Southern's hope for "solving some of our problems," according to Coach J. B. Scarce Jr.

One of these problems is rebounding in which the Eagles have been at a disadvantage. But now when a 6-7½ center from Galva, Ill. walks on the court, spectators can be sure that he will fit in well with the other fighting Eagles.

Stiles Named Asst. Sports Ed.

Dan Stiles, a junior English major from Thomaston, has been appointed assistant sports editor of the George-Anne for winter quarter.

Stiles is a one-year Southern varsity tennis player and letterman. He is a member of the S-Club. At Robert E. Lee Institute in Thomaston he played two years of varsity basketball as guard. During his senior year he was named MVP and made the 4-AAA All Star Team.

Before coming to Southern, Stiles attended Emory at Oxford one year.

Sports writers this quarter will be Tom King, a junior English major from Macon and Allan Kelly, a freshman from Milledgeville.

Citadel Sinks Southern JV

The Freshmen Citadel Bulldogs behind the rampant right arm of Willie Taylor outclassed the Baby Eagles, 94-65, in the preliminary game Wednesday.

Fouls and poor shooting hampered the Southerners in their attempt for victory. They fouled 28 times and had a field goal percentage of 28.

For the Eagles, Don Roberts was high scorer with 12 followed by Darrell Wise and Bob Johnson, both 10. For the visitors, Taylor's fancy-dan play and scoring resulted in 40 points.

"Miller is not real heavy for his size, but he shoots well and has good speed for a big kid," said Coach Jack Milam, who found Miller on a trip up North. However, Milam knew Miller previously. They had played some "unorganized ball" together.

Off the court, Miller seems rather quiet, but when he dons a cager uniform, his spirit builds up and his energy is unloosed.

Just the other night against Valdosta, when elbows were being slung and players being pushed, Miller held his ground well. Even when he received a "busted lip," he refused to give up. At the halftime he rushed to the hospital to have himself doctored so that he could lend his talents to a battling Eagle squad in the second half too.

The future looks bright in basketball for Barry Miller, for "he is just a freshman, and he is just learning," commented Scarce. It is commendable that he is helping solve some of our problems.

JV To Play Twice

The Junior varsity Cagers will host the Freshmen teams of Oglethorpe Jan. 14, and Mercer Jan. 18, prior to the varsity games.

The Baby Eagles are fresh from a victory over the South Georgia Trade School and will be ready to test their 2-3 record.

Valdosta Victory Is First for Rebels

"It's a great feeling," smiled Valdosta Basketball Coach Gary Colson after the Rebels Saturday victory.

"I never thought we could beat J. B. Scarce: It's the first victory we've ever had," he said happily.

"I'll tell you", he continued, "coming up here the boys said, they'd rather beat Georgia Southern than any other team on our schedule."

What did you think when the Eagles lead 47-51 and 61-56?

"I told them, your'e going to be blown out of the gym if you don't do something," Colson said.

Obviously the Rebels did something. But what?

"They put the ball through the basket more times than we did," Coach J. B. Scarce explained.

Scarce was far from pleased. "Every time they threw up the foul shots they got it back. We would have been better off if they had made 'em," he said.

Although Southern got two more rebounds than Valdosta Colson thought, "the difference was on the backboards. We had the rebounders. Phillips was exceptional."

What will happen when Southern travels to Valdosta Thursday two weeks? "We won't do anything different," Colson said.

Eagles To Claw Bears

The Mercer Bears from Macon travel to Statesboro Wednesday to meet the Eagles at 8 p. m.

The Bears return only four lettermen for a team which posted a 13-10 record last season. From a glance, the '66-'67 team will "have inexperienced depth, and height should be a problem, because the roster lists only two players at 6.5".

Last year the Eagles defeated Mercer twice; by 12 points at home and by 18 points in Macon.

Intramurals Start

Intramural competition for winter quarter kicked off this week with a variety of activities.

Basketball is the major sport this quarter

Coach Exley, who heads the intramural program, said that he plans to open the Hanner Gym every Saturday between 2 and 5 p.m. for student use.

Intramural basketball swings into action Jan. 16 at 8:30 p.m. when the Rebels meet the Jayhawks (court 1) and the Bulldogs meet Delta Sigma Pi (court 2). At 9:30 the Vandals play the Raiders (court 2), the Bombers play the Rouges (court 1).

On Jan. 17, at 8:30 p.m. the Underdogs tangle with the Hawks (court 1) and SEX meets DPA (court 2). At 9:30 p.m., the Falcons duel the Happy Homes (No. 1) and the Unexpected collide with Phi EK (No. 2).

On the 19th of Jan. at 8:30 p.m. the Blue Ribbons meet Day Students (No. 1) and the Roadrunners run against APO (No. 2). At 9:30 p.m. the Rouges engage the Jay Hawks (No. 1), and the Vandals challenge Delta Sigma Pi (No. 2).

GRAB THAT BALL!

Consistent JV Wins

The Baby Eagles with consistent play swooped down upon South Georgia Trade School and outlasted them, 77-73, here Saturday night in the preliminary game.

Freshman Darrell Wise sparked the Eagles' win with his 18 points. Mike McDuffie sank 16, Don Abel had 13, and Bob Borgbom swished 12, for the visitors, Phillips was high with 20.

The fledglings were able to win because of their smooth playing that has not been present in their other games this season. Floor mistakes were not as many and this helped the Eagles' victory. Their record now stands at 2-3.

PEK Leads IM Race

Phi Epsilon Kappa is leading the race for the intramural trophy, James Stapleton, assistant director of intramurals, revealed last night.

PEK has 30 points followed by the Hawks, 21; the Rhodents 20; Sigma Epsilon Chi 15; and the Bulldogs 5. This is the standing after fall quarter activities which include flag football, volleyball and cross country running.

Basketball, table tennis and badminton, count towards trophy points this quarter, and in the spring softball, tennis and one or two more sports will count. The team having a high total at the end of spring is the winner.

Basketball action starts Monday, while badminton and table tennis will be organized after homecoming.

The officiating of the basketball games will be handled by Delta Sig, DPA, APO, SEX, and PEK. A total of 90 games will be played in the two leagues.

Each team gets 20 starting points. A win adds three points, a tie adds one point, and a forfeit subtracts three points from the starting 20.

The games will be played in 16 minute halves with running clock, and a team is entitled to three time outs each half.

Dr. Mabry's study which led to the Ph.D. degree was "a comparison of two measured ability groups of Georgia teachers with respect to factors influencing their decisions to enter the teaching profession." Dr. W. Earl Armstrong, former director of the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, served as directing professor.

Davis Announces Testing Schedule

The testing schedule for winter quarter was announced this week by Larry Davis, administrative assistant to the Dean of Students.

The winter quarter testing program will include: National Teacher Examination, Jan. 8 and March 18; College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test, Jan. 14; Graduate Study in Business, Feb. 4; Georgia and United States History and Constitution tests, Feb. 9; Law School Admission Test, Feb. 11, and Institutional College Entrance Examination, Feb. 28 and March 11.

In addition to these tests, Davis said that the Miller Analogies test will be given on request to those students who wish to take it. The American College Testing program will also be administered in February, but no exact date has been released.

Testing services of the Student Personnel Office were expanded during fall quarter to include the Junior English Examination for Business majors. Davis said the English department requested that the office administer a standard English examination to business majors to supplement the themes which are graded by members of the language division faculty. Prior to fall quarter, students were graded solely on their performance in writing themes. Davis said that 58 persons were given the standard portion of the test.

Any student wishing further information concerning testing may contact Davis in the student Personnel Office.

Jean Strickland likes to play chess . . . and cards too. An avid bridge player she says she is "captivated" with any card game. A junior home economics major from Waycross, she lists her other interests as dancing and singing. The newest feather in her cap? She was recently named the new sweetheart of Kappa Delta Chi service fraternity.
