College Offers MBA in Winter

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia recently granted approval to the college to offer a Master of Business Administration degree beginning winter quarter 1969.

The program will emphasize the fundamentals of knowledge and the skills underlying scientific administration and management, especially in the area of managerial and executive decision making.

Students may enroll on a full-time or part-time basis. Classes will be offered during both day and evening sessions.

A student desiring unqualified admission to the MBA program must present evidence of the satisfactory completion of courses equivalent in content to the following undergraduate courses in business and economics at Georgia Southern College: Principles of Accounting, Principles of Economics, Corporation Finance, Money and Banking, Business Statistics, Business Law, Principles of Management, and Principles of Marketing.

Courses designed to prepare the student whose undergraduate programs did not include the above will also be offered during both day and evening sessions.

The MBA program will require satisfactory completion of 55 quarter hours, a core of 35 hours,

Committee Sets Tentative Plans for Homecoming

Tentative plans for Homecoming were scheduled at the Homecoming Committee meeting on Nov. 13. The Homecoming week will begin on Monday Jan. 20 with a dance sponsored by IFC. SAGC will sponsor a Greek talent night, Tuesday, Jan. 21. Each entry may be an individual or group entry.

Trophies will be awarded to the best sorority and fraternity talents.

Voting for the Homecoming Queen will begin Wednesday morning, Jan. 22. Display positions will be claimed at the "Race for Space," at 5 p.m. Wednesday. The annual student-faculty basketball game will be held on Wednesday evening with Wudie Hall providing half-time entertainment. Campus Life Enrichment Committee will sponsor a violin recital at 6 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 23, in the Foy Building. Following the recital will be a gymnastics meet in Hanner Gym.

A concert will be held Friday evening, Jan. 24 in the Hanner Gym. SAGC is in charge of the review booking.

The annual Bar-B-Q will be held at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 25, by the Campus lake. The homecoming parade will begin at 2:30 p.m. Harold Hadden is in charge of all parade entries. A school spirit bonfire will be held following the parade behind the Tom Ewell portrays "The Devil", Rosemary Prinz "The Woman" and Will Mackenzie plays "The Man" in the Broadway hit musical, "THE APPLE TREE". Here they are shown as Adam and Eve being tempted by the Devil.

Tom Ewell (the Devil) To Appear In 'The Apple Tree' Dec. 9

THE APPLE TREE, second presentation in the 1968-69 Campus Life Enrichment Series, is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 9, in McCroan Auditorium.

The hit Broadway musical stars Tom Ewell as the Devil. Portraying a snake, a royal troubadour and tiger keeper, and a narrator of fairy tales, the Devil (Ewell) travels through Eden at the very start, an absolute monarchy a long time ago and Hollywood here and now.

Ewell achieved fame as the bachelor in THE SEVEN YEAR ITCH, and has since appeared in

THE TUNNEL OF LOVE, A THURBER CARNIVAL, THE IMPOSSIBLE YEARS and in his own TV series, THE TOM EWELL SHOW.

Rosemary Prinz, television's "Penny" on AS THE WORLD TURNS, and Will Mackenzie, who appeared in HELLO, DOLLY, co-star with Ewell.

THE APPLE TREE is being produced by The Producing Managers' Company and American Theatre Productions. Student reserved seat tickets can be obtained from the music department in the Foy Building beginning Monday, Dec. 2.

Starlight Ball Set for Dec. 7

The annual Starlight Ball will be held Saturday, Dec. 7, from 8-12 p.m. in the Landrum Center. Music for the yearly event will be provided by the "U. S. Kyds."

There will be no admission charge, but student I.D.s must be presented at the door, according to Rod Thomas, student government representative.

Dress for the dance is semiformal.

EXIT Offers 'No Exit' Play

By Sara Fountain
Copy Editor

"Hell is—other people," says Garcin, the man doomed to Hell after his death, in the existentialist drama, "No Exit", by Jean-Paul Sartre.

The play, directed by Carlton Humphrey, assistant professor of English, will be produced Dec. 3-7 at THE EXIT coffeehouse located at 120 South Main Street in the cellar of the Georgian Hotel.

Garcin, a coward journalist and man of letters, finds himself in a vicious, never ending circle of hate with two women in a drawing room furnished in Second Empire style without windows or mirrors. Estelle, a sex crazy woman, wants Garcin not as a person, but as a warm body to fulfill her insatiable lust.

Estelle constantly tries to elude the ever present lesbian, Inez, who wants only Estelle. Inez hates Garcin because he is a coward and because he is the object of the affection of Estelle.

The lights in the drawing room cannot be turned off and each person is forced to a realistic focus on his own inner self. The characters are not even allowed the merciful blinking of an eye, for they have no eyelids.

Each person in turn strips off his clothing of sin to bare the raw skin of emotion beneath the false covering. Seeing each others' nude souls is the Hell which they are doomed to forever.

Garcin will be played by Wendell Johnston, instructor of German. Miss Linda Weldon, instructor of English, will play Estelle. Miss Weldon succeeds Mrs. Angela Roesell who had to drop out of the cast because of pressing academic work.

Inez will be portrayed by Miss Penny Gleeson, junior speech major from Savannah, and the valet will be played by Dell Payne, freshman undecided major from Macon.

Panhell Council Sets Rush Week For Jan. 2-5

The Panhellenic Council has set Jan. 2-5 for Winter Rush.

The rush weekend will begin with an orientation program Thursday night.

The sororities will entertain Friday with "open house" parties. Rushes are required to attend each of the six sorority parties. Preferential parties will be given Saturday evening, with rushes attending a maximum of three parties. The rush weekend will end Sunday with the matching and picking up of bids.

Letters containing registration forms are being sent to the Landrum Center Post Office for all sophomore and junior women. These forms must be returned with a rush fee of $3. by Dec. 3.

Kappa Sig Frat To Raise Money For Hospital

Kappa Sigma fraternity will sponsor a campus wide dance featuring "Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs", Friday, Dec. 6, to raise money for the Scottish Rite Hospital for children in Atlanta. The time and location of the dance will be announced later.

Fraternity president Greg Colson announced that "there will be an all out effort by Kappa Sigma to make the dance successful and enjoyable for the students of GSC, and yet each person attending will be contributing to a worthwhile cause."

Donation tickets for the dance will be $2 advance and $2.50 at the door.

The fraternity will take the proceeds from the dance to the hospital. The men will spend the day with the children at the hospital and present the money to the officials to be used for Christmas toys, according to Rod Meadows, public relations director.

BULLETIN— BLOODMOBILE

Phi Mu Sorority won the WSGA Plaque for the largest blood donation by an organization Thursday, Nov. 21.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was second and Tau Epsilon Phi placed third.

A record total of 137 pints were accepted.

Former Governor Carl Sanders and his wife, Betty, greet visitors at the opening of Mrs. Sanders exhibition, "The Constructive Views", in the Foy Fine Arts Gallery from Nov. 17 through Dec. 4.

Jogging Makes A Heart Beat Fonder And Longer

Two experiments pertaining to the relation of exercise to cardiovascular disease are being carried on under the supervision of Dr. Frank Ramsey, assistant professor of health and physical education, and Dr. Donald Olewine, associate professor of biology.

The first experiment is to study the effect of jogging on cardiovascular fitness. Jogging is a form of interval running in which the individual running alternately walks 110 yards and jogs 110 yards. "Approximately 40 freshmen are participating in a training program three times a week. These students began by jogging one and one-half miles at each session. Each week the distance was increased by one-half mile, at the present time the distance jogged during each session is three miles," stated Dr. Olewine.

The purpose of this experiment is to determine if such training can effect the cardiovascular response to a maximal effort. Before the training program began, participants were given the Harvard step twice, each test being given on a different day. In this test the individual steps up and down off a 17 inch high bench for five minutes. The test score is derived from the rate at which the heart beat returns to normal following the exercise. This test will be repeated twice at the end of the ten-week training program.

The second study is concerned with developing a method for quantitating daily activity. Approximately 16 physiology students are wearing pedometers, which measure the distance walked, and keeping diaries of their activities to calculate their total energy expenditure. "In this study we would like to compare weekday and weekend activities. Eventually we hope to develop a procedure for measuring activity that can be applied generally, so that the relation of activity to cardiovascular disease can be more fully assessed," Dr. Olewine added.

The basis for these studies is the rise of deaths due to cardiovascular disease. Since 1920 the death rate from the disease has increased enormously; one-half of the deaths in the United States are attributed to the disease. "The causes of this increased incidence of cardiovascular disease are complex and are related to over-nutrition, decreased physical activity, increased tension, and smoking," stated Dr. Olewine.

Physical education students "jog" as part of an experiment to show the relation of exercise to heart disease.

Journal Honors Ken Johnson

Ken Johnson, senior sociology major from Waynesboro, Ga. was honored at the fifth annual Atlanta Journal Army Achievements Awards ceremony at Ft. McPherson, Saturday, Nov. 16.

Johnson, along with two other National Guardsmen, was singled out for outstanding performance.

Johnson joined the National Guard in December of 1967 and since that time has received recognition for various activities. He was an honor graduate from basic training at Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, also receiving a leadership award for his company.

At Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, Johnson was selected trainee of the week, and at Ft. Stewart, he was chosen most outstanding enlisted man.

He has been accepted for National Guard Officer Candidate School.

Johnson is a member of Sigma Pi fraternity, Kappa Phi Kappa, professional education fraternity, and the Student Education Association.

SAGC Members Met Meet Regents

Sandra Hartness, president of SAGC, and Pat Bolton, vice-president, attended the Board of Regents meeting in Atlanta, Nov. 13.

The entire Board of Regents and representatives from various Georgia colleges were present. The purpose of the meeting was to establish a relationship between the Board and the college representatives, and to discuss vital topics pertinent at this time.

The Disruptive Behavior statement issued by the Board of Regents Oct. 20 was the main topic. It was decided that the statement was left ambiguous. The statement from the Board concerns disruptive and obstructive behavior, but the nature of the policies is not clearly defined.

Miss Hartness expressed that the Board gave their definition as the behavior must be clearly observable as disruptive. The SAGC is going to consider this in detail and plans to send a statement to the Board expressing their views, according to Miss Hartness.

Campus fraternities and sororities were also discussed. Future topics for discussion include the problem of Student Activities budgets.

Circle K Club To Sponsor Food Drive

Circle K Club is sponsoring a Thanksgiving Food Drive which will continue through Monday, Nov. 25, according to Ron Lukat, club president.

Food will be distributed to needy families in the Statesboro area whose names are submitted by local churches.

The project will be financed by funds raised at a car wash to be held Saturday, Nov. 23 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Fair Road Pure Oil Station, according to Lukat. Tickets for the car wash are one dollar.

Circle K Club is sponsored by the Statesboro Kiwanis Club.

REFUNDS

The Panhellenic Council will be making refunds for the dance which was to have been held Friday, Nov. 15. Refunds may be picked up from 12:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Williams Center. Ticket holders must have stubs before refunds will be given.

Phi Mu sorority will sponsor its major civic project for fall quarter on Saturday, Nov. 23. The sisters will visit Brown's nursing home and the Statesboro nursing home to sing Thanksgiving songs and present the patients with favors.

After the project the sisters will have a Thanksgiving cookout.

Chi Sigma brothers and pledges were visited this past weekend by Wayne Spiekerman, assistant executive secretary of Sigma Chi fraternity. Spiekerman met with Chi Sigma and the Statesboro alumni chapter of Sigma Chi to help formulate Chi Sigma's plans for petitioning Sigma Chi fraternity.

According to Spiekerman, "We now consider Chi Sigma here a local fraternity affiliated with Sigma Chi. We are impressed with the chapter and pleased that they are seeking membership in the nation's strongest and most well-known fraternity."

A banquet was held at the Holiday Inn Saturday during which a check for $125.00 was presented to Spiekerman for donation to the Wallace Village, a Sigma Chi orphanage. Guests of Chi Sigma at the banquet included Dr. John O. Eidson, Jimmy Hodges, Hal Averitt, Miss Debbie Atchison and Miss Joy Grisswell.

Alpha Delta Pi Sorority installed new officers at their regular meeting on Nov. 12.

Those installed are Faye McLeod, president; Pam Carnes, vice-president; Krista Lane, recording secretary; Emily Harrell, corresponding secretary; Olivia Suggs, treasurer; Lyn Gregory, registrar; Pam Hastings, reporter-historian; Esther Cone, guard; and Ann Gregory, chaplain.

Wednesday, Nov. 20, Mr. Alexander "Sandy" Simon, Jr., senior vice president of Scott-Hudgins Properties of Atlanta, spoke to the GSC Marketing Club.

Mr. Simon, a graduate of Georgia Tech and Wharton at the University of Pennsylvania, is presently manager and coordinator of "Oglethorpe City" in Savannah.

His subject was the development of the "Oglethorpe City" Mall. He also discussed the future impact of "Oglethorpe City" on the economy of Savannah and outlying areas such as Statesboro.

Typewriting 221, the first course in typing, will be offered during Winter quarter for 2 hours credit. The course is not listed in the college bulletin for Winter quarter but will be taught 5th period.

Four girls were pledged to the Epsilon Sigma chapter of Alpha Xi Delta in ceremonies Tuesday, Nov. 12. They are: Sandi Adams, Rita Towns, Phyllis Barnett, and Ginger Beddingfield.

Other pledges are Willene Iler, Melanie McArthur, Elaine

Officers of the pledge class are: Lillian Prosser, president; Willene Iler, vice-president; Mary Alice Mulherin, secretary; Trisha Asbell, treasurer; Rita Towns, social chairman; and Ginger Beddingfield, music chairman.

Mary Alice Matthews and Peggy Anderson were initiated into the sorority chapter in the formal initiation ceremonies held Wednesday, Nov. 13.

The Phi Nu Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi recently installed eight pledges for fall quarter, 1968, according to pledge warden, Charles Gillis.

The pledge class elected Frank DiViese, president; Bill Cole, vice president; and Shelley Boyd, secretary-treasurer. Other pledgers are Judson Biasiotto, Mark Black, David Collette, Don Hill, and Roger Martin.

The Georgia Southern chapter of SAM, Society for the Advancement of Management will go on a field trip Dec. 5. They will visit Piggly Wiggly Southern in Vidalia Georgia. Another tentative trip to Republic Steel Co. in Gadsden, Alabama is being planned for Spring quarter.

These trips are planned to give members of SAM practical exposure to the business world and let them see their class experiences put into action.

The organization is made up dominately on business majors but is open to any student desiring membership.

The SAM members at GSC publish a newsletter, the Blue Chip. This pamphlet contains news about the faculty, programs offered by the division and information for clubs in the department.

The faculty advisors are Mr. G. W. Rimler and Mr. L. N. Dosier, both instructors in the business division. They are exploring the possibility of establishing a parent colony in Savannah.

Kappa Delta Pi National Honor Society in Education held initiation ceremonies for six new members Monday, Nov. 18, in the Landrum Center. Those initiated were: Sandra Page, Susan Halligan, Gary Riggins, Wilma Gordon, Annette Goodroe, Robert Wells, and Ann Vaughn.

The initiation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Betty Klein, Eta Gamma Chapter president.

The Sigma Epsilon Colony of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will hold a car wash this Saturday, Nov. 23 at the Standard Oil station on Fair Road.

Brothers will be there from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Admission will be $1 per car. Coffee and refreshments will be available.

"For Your Shopping Pleasure"

A MESS

The "instant" parking lot behind the tennis courts has been improved. Another drain pipe has been laid, sand poured over it (incidentally the rain Monday washed it away), and thus entrance and exiting is somewhat improved.

Our parking problem is still here. There are 3500 cars on campus and due to this "instant" lot many of them are dirty. The lot is convenient for many off-campus students, but the poor surface is reason enough to avoid it.

If the "instant" lot could be surfaced with gravel or even paved, there would be more students using it and less wrecks. The lot is used now by intra-mural spectators only because of its convenience. On more than one occasion there have been cars stuck in the mud or wheels straddling the exit ditch.

The Dorman Hall lot was finally paved and spaces marked. This lot, as all of the dormitory lots, are nice parking lots, but only for on-campus students. The parking spaces (on campus for off) campus students are convenient, but the lot across from Winburn Hall is the only off-campus lot that is paved and convenient.

The parking lot behind the tennis courts needs to be surfaced. This would aid students and partially cure the parking problem here. As it is now, the lot is no good for students during class periods; it is a parking lot for physical education.

BAREFOOT IN THE PARK

The Masquer's production "Barefoot in the Park," exemplifies a great deal of hard work and talent. The actors, directors and back stage workers deserve to be commended on presenting a vivacious production of this lively modern comedy.

Hopefully this hard work and talent will be rewarded by a large turnout of students. Students on this campus should realize that an education includes not only the classroom, or the party, but the cultural activities that are offered by such groups as the Masquers'.

A play, the "live" production of a literary work, is not necessarily a dry or dull performance. "Barefoot in the Park" is quite humorous and would be enjoyable to any student of average intelligence.

'GIVE A DAMN'

A project begun recently at the University of Georgia, entitled "Give A Damn," has met with severe opposition or rather, with student complacency. The "Damn" group sponsored a student opinion discussion; only twelve students showed up for the session, but these came and found no leaders. An exact reversal of the Georgia situation exists on our campus; the leaders always seem to make the scene, but no followers, or very few ever arrive.

Instead of too many chiefs and not enough Indians, we have the right number of chiefs, but not enough Indians to follow them.

And still, the student body says that it does not have fair representation in student affairs. What do they mean by "fair representation" and active participation?

We need a real "Give a Damn" project. One that students will give a damn about. Perhaps an organization such as this could stimulate some action on campus and provide the necessary incentive for an interested, alert student body.

Southern Scribbles

Void Weekends-- Who's to Blame?

The students came, the band played, the "Platters" sang and the GSC student body, like someone who had been in a dry and barren desert for a long, long while, soaked in the entertainment with thundering applause... well for the first half of the show anyway.

Now those who agitated for more entertainment would be appeased. The student body would again settle back into quiet complacency and no more would be heard about the lack of entertainment for at least the rest of the quarter.

Whether the "Platters" concert was good or bad is irrelevant. (Even though it does seem that the SAGC could have done much better.) Anyone really concerned with the problem of how much entertainment is needed by the students will realize that the concert was too little; too late.

Can we blame the administration for our void and listless weekends? The answer is both yes and no.

The administration ruling that individual organizations cannot hold dances for the entire student body lacks wisdom. I am sure that the administrators felt that the students might have unfair advantage taken of them by the organizations seeking to make money from the performances. However, from the success enjoyed by these organizations last year, it is evident that the majority of students have no objection to paying. (Why should we when we are scathed almost daily by Statesboro merchants.)

In making this rule the administration has taken the responsibility for student entertainment off themselves and placed the burden on organizations as the Student Government, IFC, PIC, and NPC. Any or all of these organizations could find it within their power to provide the entire student body with some forms of weekly entertainment. Here, no matter what the achievements of these groups, they have shirked in their duty to the students they represent.

If the SAGC does not feel that it can provide more than one concert per quarter for our money, then they should form a more effective lobby to promote more administration sponsored activities.

Greeks should not restrict their activities to just playing football and making trips to Candler County, but should work more closely with government and administration in trying to foster activities like the successful ventures of last year.

In this writer's opinion all organizations concerned should work "with" the administration to provide a more progressive plan for periodic weekend activities instead of regular weekend stagnation.

Letter Policy Again Under Fire; Reviewed

By Sandra Dyches
Editor

Unfortunately, this editor failed to comment on last week's letter to the editor concerning the GEORGE-ANNE's letter policy.

After researching the problem in texts and discussing it with editorial board members, our letter policy remains the same.

If we presented certain letters to the editor exactly as they were written, we could be held libelous. Are we to refuse to print a letter containing the seeds of a good idea because the writer used terms that would be misunderstood or offensive to our readers? The same letter could be edited to present the writer's idea in a clearer or cleaner manner.

We print letters with which we do not always agree. It would be unethical of us to misrepresent a writer, so the meaning of letters is never intentionally changed. However, letters to the editor are an extension of the editorial page. We cannot throw our editorial page open to any statement of which we are unwilling to be held responsible.

Letters must be edited according to length for writer's often include "dead wood" words or repeat themselves. Profanity is not prohibited if it enforces the message, but unnecessary offensive terms must be removed. Thus our policy of editing according to taste.

Again it must be stated that letters are welcome as an expression of reader opinion and that their meanings are never intentionally changed. But letters must be edited according to length, taste and repetition.

'It Was Easier To Watch Than to Do'

By Dr. David A. Ruffin
Professor of English

"It seems like a big cat with a can-opener," a line from Neil Simon's BAREFOOT IN THE PARK, is my appraisal of Masquers' opening-night performance of this delightful comedy.

The McCroan curtains withdraw to present an excellent set which makes the stage look much larger than it has appeared to be in many of our other productions. The action takes place in an apartment on the fifth floor of a brownstone in New York City. Back-stage center, a window (which frames the skyline of the old town) offers a misty view, a night scene, new-fallen snow; and this window almost up-stages the actors. Yet, it affords much activity for the players who operate with split-level sophistication, who jump into life to look or stare, who sleep in an oversized-single, who go to pieces, and who have the timing and gestures of comic ballet dancers.

The play opens to rapid-fire confusion of sound and movement and maintains its pace as a result of the capable direction of Miss Hazel Hall and her perfect casting. These young actors are, at certain points, masters of the dynamic pause.

Don Canney, for example, does an excellent bit with a difficult role—he has no lines; he is just breathless from climbing five flights of stairs. Lee Green and Bill Bishop are a fussy couple who might have come out of the inkwell of Dorothy Parker. I have seen Mr. Bishop perform previously; and tonight he is better than ever before. His tipsy "You get out" scene is really good theatre.

[Durwood Fincher, the Hungarian Duncan Hines, appears in incredible red-and-black striped socks, in a continental beret and a smoking jacket; and with the support of Sandy Schafer gets an amorous fire going.

Jerry Johnson is a good horse mouthing a small bit; but in future, he may be hard to curb.

If anything went wrong in set-construction, set-decoration, lighting, or prop-responsibility, I couldn't tell.

For the advertisements given by local merchants, partial underwriters of the venture, the cast, the director, and Georgia Southern are deeply grateful. I will be grateful if the majority of our students see and enjoy BAREFOOT IN THE PARK and take note that DEATH OF A SALESMAN is slated for February and that RASHOMON will be presented in May.

The comradie of another GSC production is underway: happy, tired students back stage after two curtain calls, the smell of grease-paint, coffee at the Paragon, a dormitory deadline, term papers to be written, and Thanksgiving.

To close with another of Simon's lines, may I say to the actors and director: it was "...easier for me to watch what you were doing than for you to do what I was watching."

This Week's Southern Belle is Fran Callaway, a petite brunette from Collins, Ga. Fran, a sophomore elementary education major lists her interests. Cats, going places, meeting people and being outdoors. She was the choice of the George-Anne editorial board.

HARRIERS 4th IN STATE

Surprising itself as much as anyone, the Georgia Southern College cross-country team finished fourth in the Georgia State Championship meet held in Atlanta on Wednesday, Nov. 13th.

The nine strongest teams in the state competed in the championship and, prior to the event, Georgia Southern had only hoped to make the top six. But despite the unusual length of the course, which was 5.5 miles in length (all but one of the team's earlier races were under four miles), Georgia Southern was able to take fourth place behind Georgia Tech, Georgia, and West Georgia.

Finishing fourth was a great honor for Coach Oertley's "road-runners" but the most satisfying fact concerning the race was that among the teams that Southern beat was Georgia Southwestern. It was this team that GSC lost to, by one point, two weeks earlier during a triangular meet which also included West Georgia.

Georgia Southern was no match for the "harriers" from Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets captured first, second, third, fifth and sixth places for a total of 17 points. Georgia scored 79, West Georgia 86 and Georgia Southern 139.

Finishing first for the Eagles and seventh overall was Hugh de Lacy who ran the course in 29:19. Following de Lacy across the finish line were Bob Phillips, Glenn Jones, Joey Williams and Byron Pearce.

Pearce's effort had to be the most courageous one of the 50 runners who took part in the race. Pearce had just come out of the Statesboro hospital where he was undergoing examinations for suspected appendicitis and kidney trouble. Had Pearce not run, Georgia Southern would not have been able to enter the state meet. Southern's five runners constitute the minimum number of runners for a team.

Pearce is usually the number three runner for GSC but he was last this time and finished 48th in the race. The fact along that he finished, under the circumstances, was a tremendous credit to him. It also poses the question of just how well would the team had done had he been in good health.

This Saturday, the team will again travel to Atlanta. This time the "harriers" will take on Emory University. Emory did not take part in the state meet and their strength is not known, but with the Eagles at top strength they should give Emory a good race.

There is a good possibility that either Georgia or Georgia Tech will be invited to Statesboro, after the Thanksgiving Holidays, to race against the Eagles.

Nicolette Out for Year

Last Sunday Tom Nicolette, one of GSC's promising sophomores, broke his leg in a freak accident. The accident occurred at the Portal High School gym, where the gymnasts have been working out until the Hanner floor is ready.

According to Coach Mayer, who was closest to the accident; "Tom was doing a simple half-turn dismount from the parallel bars and landed on the outside of his foot. The great pressure, which was exerted, apparently snapped both bones in his leg." Dr. Swint, the team physician said, "The bones set in place extremely easy considering the nature of the accident and should heal completely in three months."

Coach Oertley commented: "Of course the loss of Tom will hurt our team effort this year and I regret that he was also out last year, but I'm sure he will come back strong. This puts a lot of pressure on our freshmen, but I'm confident they can handle it and now we have a spot in each of three events to fill." Tom worked high bar, parallel bars and the long horse.

INDEX

EXPLANATION - The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin combined with average opposition rating, weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of identical strength. Originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

VARSITY ROLLS OVER JV's 104-58

By MIKE CLARK
Spts. Editor

Southern's tall and talented varsity cagers rolled to an easy 104-58 verdict over the JV's on Wednesday night. The varsity was paced by Roger Moore's and Phil Sisk's 17 points, while Charlie Gibbons tallied 17 points for the junior varsity.

Gibbons put the Blue team ahead 2-0 but big John Norman countered with a three point play, to put the White squad ahead to stay. From this point, the varsity led by Moore, Sisk and Steve Buckler turned the game into a run-away. Coach Frank Radovich's crew went into the dressing room, at the half, leading 49-30.

The second half was almost like the first period as the much taller White team outscored the Blues 55-28, while grabbing almost every rebound. At one point, the varsity reeled off 11 straight points before the junior varsity got back on the scoreboard.

Senior guard John Helm paced the second half blitz, by scoring 10 points. Sisk added another nine points while Norman and Moore chipped in with eight and seven respectively.

In the rebounding department, Moore hauled down 14 and Sisk pulled off 11. Steve Melton was high for the JV's and the game as he cleaned the boards for 17. Gibbons was next with 12.

Other high scorers, for the White team, were Norman with 13, and Buckler and Helm with 10 each. Rob Bergbom and Danny Gordon scored 10 points each for the JV quintet.

Among those who looked impressive on the varsity were Sisk, Moore, Norman, Helms and Tommy Bond. Bond, though scoring only four points, played a tremendous defensive game.

The varsity hit a torrid 52.5 percent of their shots and Coach Radovich was very pleased with this. "I was very pleased with the offense even though we did not look as well on defense." The head mentor went on to say: "We looked good in moving the ball and very good on the fast break. The guards shot real well and the forwards shot better than we had expected."

Defense was perhaps the biggest obstacle that Coach Radovich saw in the team. "We are going to have to work on our defense and particularly on our back line defense."

CAGE SEASON OPENS NOV. 30

Georgia Southern's talent laden basketball team will launch its 1968-69 cage season Saturday, Nov. 30th, against Virginia Commonwealth in the Hanner Gym. Game time is eight o'clock.

The Eagles will be strong at all positions this year. Experience is the big asset that Coach Frank Radovich's quintet will have, as Southern lost only one player from the 1967-68 squad. The cagers will have more height, more speed and more depth, which could give GSC the best team in its history.

Southern's attack will be built around sophomore Roger Moore. Moore played brilliantly last year, but was constantly getting into foul trouble, due to his lack of experience. The 6'6" lad was a "demon" on the boards, plus being a capable scorer. Moore, with a year's experience under his belt, should be even better this season.

On the front line with Moore will be 6'7" John Norman, 6'5" Phil Sisk, 6'7" Barry Miller, 6'5" Earl Hills, 6'5" Scott Waters, 6'3" Bob Bowman and 6'6" John Fountain. Norman and Hills were standouts in junior college and both should see plenty of "hardwood" action.

Miller is a returning letterman while Sisk is up from the freshman quintet. Sisk has looked extremely well and could break into the starting five.

Fountain has given Moore all he can handle during practice, and has looked very impressive around the boards. Waters has looked more impressive this year than in his previous seasons.

Speed and good shooters sums up the guards. Back from last season are John Helms, David Westerfield and Steve Buckler. These three are perhaps the best shooters from the outside.

Joining them are Tommy Bond, Gene Brown, and Mike Ujlaki from the freshman squad, and all of them have been pressing the returning guards for a starting berth. Bond, the little Eagle, is a fine shooter but his biggest asset is his defensive ability. He just may be the best defensive player on the squad.

The team has shown a lot of desire and hustle and each has added another incentive for the coming year. Southern will be playing under NCAA rules and each member has put making the play-offs in March, as his personal goal.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

TEP jumped from third place to first by defeating Sig Ep 21-0. ATO rambled past Phi Delta Theta 33-6. KA beat Chi Sigma 6-0 but was tied earlier in the week by Kappa Sigma 6-6, in the play-off of the protested game. TEP, ATO and KA are all in strong contention for the Fraternity League title. KA and ATO met on Wednesday, in the game that could determine the championship.

Other league action saw TKE downing Sig Ep 6-0, Sigma Nu slipping past Delta Tau Delta 7-6, Pi Kappa Phi easing past Sigma Pi 8-6 and Delta Tau Delta and Chi Sigma battling to a 7-7 tie.

Independent League play saw the Falcons moving into first place as they defeated the Unknowns 26-0. The Falcons were tied by Cone Hall earlier in the week 13-13. To date the Falcons have a one point lead over KOG but they have also played one more game.

Cone Hall blasted the BSU 26-6 and the Unknowns blanked Phi EK 13-0.

The end of regular season play is nearing with still no one team assured of being in the top two teams. For the overall championship the top two squads in each league will face each other.

Gym Meet Monday Night

On Monday, Nov. 25th, at 8:00 in Hanner Gym, the high-flying Eagles will hold their annual intersquad meet. The meet promises to be the best ever, and an excellent preview of the 1968-69 team. The Eagles launch their campaign with the difficult task of trying to improve on last year's 9-2 record and all indications point to a successful season despite the recent loss of Tom Nicolette.

Coach Dvorak's Blue Squad is composed of Bill Godwin, Paul Dachdjian, Bobby Woodall and Dan Warbutton; while Coach Mayer's White Squad will counter with Tony Blasko, Bill Tollefson, Terry Nelson, George Hubbard and Ron Hauser.

Coach Oertley, who will be an "impartial" observer, stated: "All of these boys are inexperienced in collegiate competition and this meet should give them a good start and a chance to prove themselves for future meets." According to Coach Dvorak, "The routines are tougher this year and the boys are using quite a bit of difficulty. I think our overall improvement will be very noticeable and the meet should be a close one. We look for some strong performances from all the boys so that we can determine the positions they will compete in, and what events they will work."

Take a break from your studying on Monday night and see some "friendly competition" by the Eagle gymnasts as they launch their 1968-69 season.
