Councils Co-sponsor

College Greek Week

The Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils will co-sponsor Greek Weekend at the college May 22, 23, 24 and 25. Highlights of the weekend include dances on Friday and Saturday nights, a workshop Saturday morning, Derby Day Saturday afternoon and a tea Sunday afternoon. The purpose of the Greek Weekend is to reveal to all students the Greek way of life, according to Bobby McGregor, a representative of Chi Sigma fraternity.

The dance Friday night will be held at the Landrum Center from 8 p.m.-12 p.m. The "Funky Soul Train" will perform at this dance. The dance will be open to all social Greeks and their dates, with no admission charge.

The dance Saturday night will feature the "Drifters" at the Hanner Gym, from 8 to 12 p.m. All students will be admitted free upon presentation of their I.D. card.

A workshop will be held Saturday morning, with officers from all fraternities and sororities attending. The purpose of the workshop is to aid all Greeks in solving mutual problems. Guest speakers are scheduled to appear at the workshop.

Derby Day, Saturday afternoon, will be sponsored by Chi Sigma fraternity. Derby Day will consist of competition between the sororities in a number of events. Trophies will be presented to winners of Miss Derby Day, the Spirit Contest and the overall winner of Derby Day.

A tea will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Foy Building. All sororities and fraternities will be represented and awards will be presented at this time.

In addition a number of activities will take place earlier in the week. They are: an IFC banquet Wednesday night, an All Star softball game Thursday afternoon, a President's basketball game Thursday night and an IFC sponsored Track and Field meet Friday afternoon.

Regents Approve Construction

Of New Education Building

Planning has been completed and bids will be let soon on the new one-million dollar Education Building for Georgia Southern.

Dr. John O. Eidson confirmed that the new three-story building, featuring television video tape installations, classrooms, and faculty research facilities, has been approved for construction by the Board of Regents.

The building will be situated behind the Marvin Pittman School, connected to the laboratory school by a covered walkway. Modifications will be made in the lab school to allow students to observe classes in operation.

The Education Building will contain classroom space for instruction in education, D.S. Harris, Jr., Supervisor of the Revocation and Suspension Unit of the Department of school psychology. Laboratory space for instruction in learning analysis, new teaching media, and materials construction will be provided.

The new facility will include adequate office space and research facilities for faculty and graduate students. An education library, calculators, laboratory space, and computer tie-ins will enable faculty members to engage in a greater amount of individual research.

Areas housing program materials, educational television, teaching machines, and textbooks for experimental use in the lab school will be provided.

Taken together, the education building, nursery school, and lab school will constitute an education complex which can serve all of South Georgia and the professional needs of its 20,000 school personnel. With the increased facilities, a graduate center for be officially established as the third Georgia Chapter at the initiation ceremony Sunday, May master's and sixth-year programs in additional areas of education.

Seibert Speaks

To Honorees

By VICKI WEBB
Staff Writer

The Honors Day program was highlighted by the address by Dr. Russell H. Seibert, vice president of academic affairs, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan. In his speech entitled "The Two Americas," Dr. Seibert pointed out that T.V., movies, and novels of today contribute to violence in America. He said it seems that America has a Spartanburg, S.C., and Dr. John O. Eidson, then a graduate of the class of '29. The other assassinations show the continuing of violence, and that the spokesmen for violence come from middle class, upper middle class, as well as ghettos.

The establishment of the Eta Iota chapter marks forty years since the first Delta Phi Alpha chapter was founded at Wofford College and marks the founding of the third chapter real as benevolence." He stated that the strong, not always the good, come to power; but there will be "no freedom without order" in America.

He said this is a one sided view of America, however, Dr. Seibert cited the "beautiful America" as one of help, aid, and care; but one in which "Violence is just as real as benevolence." He stated that the strong, not always the good, come to power; but there will be "no freedom without order" in America.

Dr. Seibert commented that democracy is based on a willingness to compromise with "reason and passion, but neither is sufficient by itself." He said all our freedom cannot be the result of violence and anarchy.

He closed by proposing that the solution of life's problems provides much adventure for, "Every generation has its own frontiers to conquer."

New Women's Dormitory

Now Under Construction

A new women's dormitory is now being constructed on Chandler Road behind Olliff Hall. The three-story structure will house approximately 400 women students and will feature central heating and air conditioning, and two lounges on the wings of each floor.

"This new structure has not yet been named and will probably not be named until construction has been completed," commented Vice-President Pope Dunca. "Completion will hopefully be by fall of 1971," added Charles Johnson, maintenance director.

The construction plans call for the building to be H-shaped with the cross of the H containing large lounges and telephones on each floor. There will be 17 rooms on each wing making about 32 students on each wing.

The project budget for the cost of the building is $1,650,000. Continental Construction Co. of Vidalia, Ga., builders of the new gym, is the contractor for this project.

German Fraternity

Establishes Chapter

By SILVA FUERNISS
Feature Editor

The Eta Iota chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, National Honorary German Fraternity, will be officially established as the third Georgia Chapter at the initiation ceremony Sunday, May 25, 1969.

The new chapter has fifteen charter members with Dr. John O. Eidson, one of the fraternity's original founders, as honorary member and Dr. Zoltan J. Farkas, Professor of Modern Languages, as faculty advisor. The officers and members are: Susan D. Lownds, president; Monika F. Lyncy, vice-president; James R. Argroves, secretary; Cecil H. Garrell, treasurer; Margie E. Boyles, Eric Brannen, John DeBarry, Z. Andrew Farkas, Elaine K. Kelly, Larry W. Prichard, E. Victoria Ray, Hal Roach, Haydee M. Solanc, Glenn Watring, and Donald M. White.

The initiation ceremony is scheduled for Sunday, May 25, in Hollis 107, with President Eidson as guest speaker. The initiates will receive their individual membership certificates and the chapter's charter. A reception for the new members and their guests at the president's home will follow the initiation ceremony.

This brings the total number of such chapters to 141, the first one being founded in 1929 by Dr. James A. Chiles, head of the Modern Language Department at Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C., and Dr. John O. Eidson, then a graduate of the class of '29. The other Georgia chapters are located at the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga. and at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

The establishment of the Eta Iota chapter marks forty years since the first Delta Phi Alpha chapter was founded at Wofford College and marks the founding of the third chapter with which Dr. Eidson was directly involved as a result of his interest in the German language. The other two chapters are located at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., where Dr. Eidson completed his graduate studies in English, and at Central Methodist College, Fayette, Mo.

The first president of the Alpha chapter and its eighteen charter members was Dr. James A. Chiles, and serving as first national secretary from 1929-34 was Dr. Eidson, an English major and German minor at that time.

The Alpha chapter was founded to "promote the study of the German language, literature, and civilization..." "Membership is open to undergraduate and graduate students, both men and women, who have completed two years of college German." The members must have an over all B average and B+ in German, but do not necessarily have to be a German major.

George-Anne Article Published

The George-Anne published an article: "50 Volumes Are Donated to German Club," December 6, 1968 quoting the report of Z. Andrew Farkas, president of the German Club.

Farkas sent several copies of this issue to the Institute for Foreign (Cultural) Relations in Stuttgart, West Germany, where he worked last summer and became familiar with the Institute's program of sending library material to the German clubs. The Institute has published the whole article in the first 1969 issue of its international "Magazine for Cultural Exchange," page 51.

Photography Pay Ranks High

The kind of firm you work for has as much, perhaps more influence on your earning potential as what section of the country you are in. However, the degree you obtain will help determine the amount and extent of knowledge you will obtain in these top paying fields. In New York, almost two out of every three art professionals earn $15,000 or more. The number of those earning under $5,000 has dropped significantly. It is now only .6% while 11.5% earn $25,000 or more. In 1956 and 1961 only 4% were in this bracket. The biggest winners work for studios, with agencies a close second. Here's the ranking of layout and design personnel, by median income:

Studios, $19,500; Agencies, $17,000; Freelance, $16,000; Printing, $13,000; Publishing, $13,000; Company, $13,000; University, $11,800.

To get more information come by the Carruth Building to Room 101 Wednesday, May 21, at 1:30 p.m. or 3:30 p.m. and see about a career in Printing management.

Oceanographer to Visit Campus

Dr. Robert Dietz, international research oceanographer in marine geology at the Atlantic Oceanographic Laboratory in Miami, will visit the campus on Monday, May 12, under the auspices of the American Geophysical Union Visiting Scientist Program in Geophysics. At 9:30 a.m. in the GSC Herty Building, Dietz will lecture on "Astroblems: Ancient Meteorite Impact Scars on the Earth" and at 7:30 p.m., he will speak on "Sea Floor Spreading and Continental Drift."

Dr. Dietz's visit is also being supported by the college and the schoolgeology club.

Manpower Seeking Applicants

Looking for summer work?

College students across the nation should not overlook the temporary help services as employers. A major company in the field reports it is seeking many thousands of students and teachers with business and industrial experience for summer jobs.

Manpower, Inc., world leader in supplying men and women of all ages on work assignments with customer companies says it hopes to employ more than 20,000 students and teachers in summer, 1969. The company is an "equal opportunity" employer.

A few temporary help service companies rank among the world's largest employers, offering temporary work in almost every occupational category. They furnish their employees on short- and long-term assignments to offices, factories, sales and technical departments and other private and public customers. No fees are charged to employees.

Applicants can apply to Man power offices in nearly 400 U. S. cities.

Student Art Show Begins May 12

The first quarterly student art show at Georgia Southern College will begin Monday, May 12 and is scheduled to run through Friday, May 23. Entitled "Salon des Refuse," the student exhibition will feature works by GSc art majors and other interested students.

A reception on opening day, May 12, has been planned between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m., with awards for the best work of art and two runner-up prizes being made at 3 p.m. Judges for the exhibition are Win Crannell and Mrs. Susan Joiner, both of Statesboro.

The art show and reception will be held on the third floor of the Foy Fine Arts Building at Georgia Southern. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday-Friday.

TO SPEND SUMMER IN SPAIN

Honors Day Held May 12 in McCroan

The annual Honors Day program was held May 12, in McCroan Auditorium.

The program consisted of special music by the Georgia Southern Band, conducted by Warren C. Fields; invocation by Rev. Ted P. Griner of the First Methodist Church and an address by Dr. Russell H. Seibert, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Presentation of honors for excellent scholarship were made by Dr. Pope A. Duncan. Special Awards, Constructive Leadership and Unselfish Service Honors were presented by Dr. Tully Pennington. Dedication of the yearbook was made by Deidre Cowne.

WRITE-IN STUDENT LEADERS HIDE

Organization of campus activities and functions at G.S.C. are at an all time low. The respected leaders of G.S.C. view such things as our student government as completely taboo. They realize that the student government and other campus-wide organizations serve purposes which are totally irrelevant to the needs of students and thus they refuse to become involved. That most students also realize this facade, is a sad but basic fact.

Can a political candidate solve our problems—No. What we need is a campus candidate. We need a man who knows the campus and students and they in turn know him well enough to give him their trust. You the student should bring these leaders forward.

OUR CHOICES

In previous years, The "George-Anne" has never endorsed any candidates for student government offices. However, this year, in light of the issues, the variety of candidates and their qualifications, the Editorial Board felt that endorsements were warranted. We believe that student government should be progressive and concerned, but not reactionary; the first precarious year in the life of the Student Association of Governing Councils was marked with co-operation with the administration and student body, but "milque-toast" attitudes prevailed in many areas. Campus leaders should be able to communicate with administrators, but, they should also be able to rally strong student support. We feel that the letter has been lacking in previous student government administrations. After careful consideration of the entire group of candidates, we give our endorsement and support to the following candidates.

For President: Robert Kight

Kight is a junior psychology major from Eastman, Ga. His platform calls for students rights to be guaranteed under the constitution. Kight feels that each student is a citizen and is worthy of being treated as such. His plans call for total student involvement in the government and are indicative of the type of government Georgia Southern needs.

Rod Meadows For Vice-president

Meadows is a sophomore social science major from Manchester, Ga. We endorse Meadows on his past experience as president of the sophomore class. Meadows has proven himself to be a capable leader. It is evident that he has the maturity to work well with the other elected officials. Meadows platform vows that he will not be a puppet of the administration; this statement is in full agreement with that of presidential candidate, Robert Kight.

For Treasurer: Kathy Smith

The treasurer of any organization should have a good background in accounting principles. Of the three candidates seeking the office of treasurer, we believe that Miss Smith's credentials qualify her for this important office.

THESE FOUR CANDIDATES ARE NOT MEMBERS OF A PARTY TICKET; HOWEVER, THEIR LEADERSHIP ABILITY SHOULD BRING STRENGTH AND UNITY TO THE SAGC. WE URGE YOU TO EXERCISE YOUR RIGHT AND VOTE FOR THESE CANDIDATES, BUT MORE IMPORTANT, BE SURE TO VOTE!

For Secretary: Norris Moon

In his platform, Norris Moon pledges to establish a better channel of communication between the student body and the administration. It is his belief that the apathetic attitude displayed by the students if directly caused by misunderstanding between the students and their government. We heartily endorse his liberal policies for revamping the SAGC and defining its purposes.

SAGC ELECTIONS

WSGA Provides Co-ed Leaders

By KATHY JESSUP

Women's Student Government Association, better known as WSGA, became functional last year. This council was set up after a thorough screening of the existing rules committee by a Standards Committee. The Standards Committee was made up of the presidents of all house councils. Dean Boger along with the help of the Standards Committee drew up a constitution which was ratified by the women students on campus. This has become the constitution which is the government for all women students.

JESSUP

The council was created as the result of the obvious need on the part of women students for their own self-government and self discipline. It was hoped that it would promote the welfare of women students and increase their individual and collective responsibility.

WSGA is composed of two councils, the legislative and the judicial. The legislative council consists of two representatives from each dorm and the judicial consists of the vice-president from each dorm.

The president of WSGA serves as chairman of the judicial committee and ex-officio of the legislative council; the second vice-president is in charge of the student advisor program; and the secretary and treasurer hold the usual positions carried with those offices. WSGA also has a representative to SAGC who has to vote but does not hold a position on the executive committee.

WSGA has been effective for only two years and their contributions to the lifting of several rules and regulations concerning women's government have been tremendous. The struggle has been long and hard in many cases, and many of the recommendations sent to the administration have been either turned down or ignored.

Some of the accomplishments of WSGA in way of changing rules and regulations are the replacement of the grace period system for upperclassmen by the time bank and the extension of hours for juniors and seniors to 2 a.m. on weekends, 1 p.m. for sophomores, and 12:30 for freshmen. Hours for signing in during the week have also been extended. Other accomplishments are changes in dress regulations and changes in signing-out procedures.

Programs set up by WSGA for the benefit of the entire campus and the community are campus tours for prospective students, new student orientation, revision of the Eagle Eye each Spring quarter and the sponsoring of the Blood Mobile on campus.

Elections for WSGA were held last week. Only time will tell if we are to have the same bold leadership in women's government that we have had in the past. It will take one more year to see if we are to have more drastic changes in women's rules and regulations as we have had, especially this year. Perhaps the women here will soon have the freedom and responsibility which should be given to all women who are old enough to be college students.

The administration deserves not a little criticism for its so-called "uniform" changes of policy such as those concerning the grading system and the restrictions on girls. If the grades are changed, the restrictions on the female population should also conform to University policy.

Finally, I, Norris Moon, think that any refreshing social and academic changes will come about only if communications with the student body are drastically improved by supplying the students with adequate information concerning government policy. I really don't think that 4,000 students are going to attend a meeting of the S.A.G.C. for the purpose of killing apathy forever. And in the final analysis, one can only say that the S.A.G.C. and the administrative body have been more apathetic than the babbling roar of non-communication that between the students, the S.A.G.C., and the administration.

The survey I took on student wishes for entertainments for next year is complete. The results are very interesting. A tremendous effort will be made immediately upon my election to book the best possible entertainment at the best possible prices. Georgia Southern should and can be a leader in the field of entertainment.

Active student participation in the S.A.G.C. is essential for its success. We are at a point in time where we can do great things.

Mike Ayres to Edit Reflector

Mike Ayres, a junior business major from Augusta, has been named Editor for the 1969-70 Reflector. The plans for the new annual have not been finalized, yet, according to Ayres, but he is anticipating minor changes in layout, and an increase in the size of the book. When asked how he felt about being chosen as new editor, Ayres, said, "It'll be a challenge, and bound to be an interesting experience."

Workshop Planned For Saturday

The Georgia Association on Young Children District Workshop will be held here, May 17. Workshops, discussion groups, exhibits, and speakers will be featured among the day's events which are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

Dr. Doris Pearce, assistant professor of child development, is chairman of the workshop committee at the district meeting. During these sessions, representatives of the child development program will present their methods of instruction in the nursery and kindergarten schools on the campus.

The art exhibits at the workshop will be composed of children's art work from the laboratory schools at Georgia Southern.

Olewine, Ramsey Attend Meet

Dr. Donald Olewine and Dr. Frank Ramsey attended a national workshop on exercise as a factor in the prevention, evaluation, and treatment of heart disease at Myrtle Beach, S.C., May 6-8.

Also present was Dr. Curtis Hanes of Claxton. Limited to 100 of the nation's key specialists in this area, this workshop was sponsored by the South Carolina Heart Association, the South Carolina Regional Medical Program, the American Heart Association, and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

Summer "Career Clinic" Offered

A "Career Clinic" for interested school youth will be offered here this summer, according to Dr. William L. Hitchcock, professor of education.

School counselors will be available to work with students on vocational and educational concerns between June 24 and Aug. 2. Students who apply for admission to the clinic will be assigned a counselor, with their periods and amount of attendance determined at this time.

The clinic is being made available free of charge to all interested students as a part of the counselor education program. Application can be made at the student's school or through Dr. Hitchcock or Dr. Kemp Mabry.

Prominent Psychiatrist Makes Prediction of 'Living Together'

New York, March 19, 1969 - A prominent psychiatrist predicted a "greater social acceptance" of "unmarried households" in the future as a new way for young people to prepare for marriage.

Dr. Donald Bloch, associate director of the Family Institute of New York, said according to a study conducted by the Institute, the number of couples "living together" without the benefit of marriage appears to be in the increase, particularly among college students.

Accepting such relationships as a preliminary step to marriage, Dr. Bloch said that the "cherished fantasy" of the "wide-eyed innocent walking with faltering steps into a totally unfamiliar relationship" is one we "can do without."

"In its place I see two mature young people who understand themselves and each other and who make a genuinely free commitment knowing full well what they are committing themselves to. The wedding will take place a little later, but in my book it should be a more joyous occasion."

Meadows Promises Constitutional Change

I appreciate the staff of the George-Anne allowing me this space to present my candidacy for vice president of the Student Association of Governing Councils before you.

I am a social science major from Manchester, Ga., and am currently completing my term as president of the Sophomore class. This year I have worked first hand with our new government, and have seen both its advantages and disadvantages. We have made a start, but until our constitutional loopholes are closed, until we get more than lip-service from the administration or the proposals that are adopted by student government, no one will be able to have an effective

Drinking, Rules, Housing Are Joiner Priorities

Once upon a time there was a student who found a beautiful little apartment which any young bachelor would be proud to call his own. Our young student was told he could not live there because the apartment was not on the approved list of the college housing office. He questioned this, but was ignored; he asked for his pad to be approved, but there was no committee to approve it. Was he in despair? No, but he was frustrated.

Our student, after many long hours of search and enlightening conversation with sophisticated, capable landlords, did find a place to stay. It was on the approved list; but was it safe—was it adequate? The paint on the walls appeared to have been stolen. Every other step leading up to his extremely humble residence was not there. Do not worry! Hewas a student; he was happy—UNTIL!

Yes, our student was happy until the wonderful landlord spied a shameful can of forbidden beer in his 1901 "Kinda Cole" ice box.

"Aha, you nasty little boy. I shall surely have you kicked from school."

"But alas," cried the student. "I am twenty-one and our laws say I can drink. Even my parents say I can drink." "Oh but no, we have our own laws here," screamed the elated landlord. "I shall surely call the friendly administration."

The story ends here. You ask what happened to the student? Oh, he was never seen or heard from again; but there was a rumor that he was in a fight in "southeast" something.

I seek the presidency of the Student Association of Governing Councils because there is much important work to be done. Excedrin headache number 1 is pushing through the student housing proposal. "Any student who is a junior or senior or twenty-one years of age should be allowed to live where he or she may please as long as the residence meets the requirements of the fire safety code." This will be a group effort.

The college should not try to take the place of our parents. In loco parentis is not the job of our friendly administration. Students, too, are adults—are we not?

We need a definite revision in the area of academics. Have you noticed more students in the classrooms? Have you noticed our instructors are teaching an over load which is hindering them from accomplishing necessary study and research. Teacher-student course evaluation must be implemented to improve our academic standards. The cut system needs attention. I will

Pence Speaks On Coordination Of Councils; Housing Rules

My Fellow Students:

My name is Cheryl Pence, and I am a hard-working candidate for the vice-presidency of the Student Association of Governing Councils. I as a senior political science major from Roswell, Ga.

I sincerely desire your votes, because I want to serve you, the students of GSC. I am qualified for this position, because during the last four quarters I have served both as chairman and vice chairman of the interest and departmental council of the SAGC; therefore, I am well acquainted with the ways in which the SAGC operates and functions. This year I have also held the position of president of the new honor dorm, Wudie Hall. In this position I have learned how to work with the

Cheryl Pence

Administration.

Certainly, the SAGC has in theory and in practice been the most functional and representative student government in the last three years, or since I have been here. To improve and strengthen this government you must elect strong officers. The government needs to reassert itself on certain matters, such as, housing; however, more emphasis needs to be placed on such problems as coordination of activities among the seven major councils and greater student involvement in the government. The SAGC can only attain the students' goals if you, the students, become more aware and more involved.

I am aware of the problems students face both in and out of the government, and I would like to become even more actively involved than I am by being elected Vice President of the SAGC. If you elect me I will be available and accessible to you at all times. Please elect me, and I will work for you. VOTE on May 19, 1969 in the Williams Center!

Thank-you,
Cheryl Pence

Kozojed Seeks Position On Past Achievements

I, Kay Kozojed, a sophomore English major from Macon, Ga., am running for the office of secretary of SAGC.

I have been involved in student government since my freshman year. I then served as president of Veazy Hall House Council. This year I have served as second vice president of WSGA. This quarter I am acting president of WSGA in the absence of the president. In this capacity I have served on the SAGC this quarter and have become interested in it.

While attending two student government conventions I formulated many ideas useful in student government. We need experienced students who are willing to work in prominent positions on student government. I have had experience in government, and am willing to work and feel I am qualified for the position of secretary.

Kight Includes Students Under The Constitution

If I am elected, I will base all my actions on the assumption that students are citizens. With all the confusion of the existing formalities, rules, and regulations, it seems as if people tend to overlook the fact that students are included under the constitution of the U.S.A.

Last year the S.A.G.C. did achieve gains, however they were minimal. I believe we have only begun to scratch the surface of the existing problems. Next year, the students must melt this iceberg. Progress is inevitable.

The purpose of the college is academic not parental. Women's rights should be acknowledged. At this very moment, plans are in motion to standardize the grading system of the university system. Why not do the same to women's regulations. Women are human beings. They are capable of reason and attending to their own social activities. Rules are for the students, not against them. This whole negative, penal system must be changed.

Remember, in the final analysis, we, the students are the college. Students do not want a pat on the head. Students should not have to beg for privileges, which students automatically at other colleges already enjoy. I believe it is time everyone involved came to a realization of the situation. The blah days of submission must cease. With a dynamic nucleus of leadership

FOR TREASURER

Howard Expresses Financial Revision

I, Gerald Howard, a psychology major from Jesup, Georgia am seeking the office of the treasurer of S.A.G.C.; I express the desire to revise the methods concerning the expenditure of the activity fees to include more programs which are attractive to the entire student body. The enlightenment of the students to the spending procedures and the assignment of subsidies involving dormitory functions is of primary importance, also. The students should be allowed to express their preference for expenditures made concerning the activity fees.

Prevention of the destruction of school property in the form of an improved method of dormitory government is deemed necessary if we are to combat the ever-rising cost of attending college.

It has long been a function of colleges and universities to provide scholarships for outstanding athletes to realize a better representation for the institutions. These scholarships are sadly deficient at Georgia Southern College. I think that our athletes deserve more than a token payment for their service to the school.

I sincerely hope to improve the financial relationship of the students with Georgia Southern and will do all I can to supplement the methods by which this new relationship will be obtained.

This way there can be a minimum of misunderstanding between the few students who are concerned and the increased number of those who will be concerned and active.

Also, I will endeavor to help define specifically the function of the S.A.G.C. Once the students are more interested in the matters of administrative policy, there can, by way of the S.A.G.C., make it clear to

Smith For Reforms

In Housing, Parking

When voting in Monday's election, it is important to consider the duties of the offices as well as the importance of being a member of the student government. The treasurer of S.A.G.C. will be responsible for keeping financial records for the organization and this is a responsibility not to be underestimated. I have talked with members of the administration concerning the "line item" budget for next year and have tried to familiarize myself with this plan of appropriating individual funds for various activities. As an accounting major I feel that I am qualified to assume these duties. I have served as a house council treasurer, and this experience coupled with my understanding of the accounting functions will enable me to serve you well.

In addition to qualifying for the mechanical aspects of this office, I am interested in being a part of a true student government that functions for the students. There are grievances concerning the need for more housing and more parking facilities; students want certain regulations amended. Better communications are needed among faculty, administration and students. The student government with student support can urge and take action to help alleviate these problems. It is my wish to see that the students are represented fairly and adequately.

I cannot say that Kathy Smith will single-handedly move mountains in the area of student government. This takes time, unified effort, and the hard work of a team. I can promise, however, to give you my time, my effort, and my work as a part of S.A.G.C.

SAGC Involvement Sought By Cadwell

My name is Wanda Cadwell. I am a junior French major from Eastman, Ga. I am actively campaigning for the office of treasurer of the SAGC.

Having participated in previous government activities, I am very interested and feel that I am qualified for this office.

It is my belief that the SAGC has had a successful first year. The representatives have worked hard to push through

The purpose of my candidacy for the office of vice president of the S.A.G.C. is mainly one of facilitating communication between the administration and the student body, a requirement basic to the needs of "Progressive College 1969". The only channel through which student ideas, pleas and protests can reach the administrative branch of the college is individual action or the voice of the student government. It is my desire to serve as the liaison between student and administrator and to act as a catalyst in the production of the social reform much needed at G.S.C. This social reform will not be realized unless there is a well established line of communication between the students and McCroan.

and plan much student reform and activity. They have developed a traffic court and an inter-campus mail system among other reforms. They have obtained a foothold in SUSGA and a voice in state government. It can only be, through the support of reforms and procedures originated this year by SAGC, that we, the students of Georgia Southern, can obtain our goals.

There are, however, certain reforms that I would like to see carried out. More active involvement of the SAGC in student-faculty committees is of prime importance in acquiring better student facilities and such things as food improvement. In the near future, I would like to see the SAGC open-housing approved. Also teacher-course evaluation and better campus entertainment through the organization of a separate union are important areas to consider.

I, Wanda Cadwell, can only promise to serve my fellow students as an ardent supporter of the SAGC. If elected, I do pledge myself to hard work and more active student representation.

experience from a year of service and determination to do my best. It is the same promise you will hear from every candidate. All I have to prove myself is my record: president of the Sophomore class; advisor and former house council member, Sanford Hall; Public Relations Director, member of Kappa Sigma fraternity; and announcer and newsmen for WWNS-WMCD-FM radio.

JOHN TOOTLE DECRIES

COMMUNICATIONS LAG

John Tootle

The ideas of the student body of Georgia Southern must be heard by the Administration if we are to relieve ourselves of the social anachronisms now existing at our fair school. These anachronisms are not few in number. Compare the women's regulations now in effect at Southern with those of our sister in the University system, the University of Georgia. Being nestled down here between the magnolia trees it is sometimes difficult to obtain information, but could it be that the university is opening a co-ed dormitory this year?

Our housing regulation seems to indicate that the purpose of the college is the control of the geographical location of students rather than the presentation of the optimum opportunity for a mature young adult to pursue a course of study. College should be a total experience in education and not so strongly limited by the emphasis on communal living.

I am in the process of discussing with the members of our political science division the exact nature of the recent matriculation increase as a new source of tax revenue.

Every event that concerns the student concerns the student government.

In closing, fully accepting the risks that this brief verbalization states my position with the depth and clarity of an in-class theme, I re-emphasize the need for communication—of both words and actions between the administration and the student body. I wish to serve. It's up to you, Southern. Let's act!

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I write this letter without feelings of malice or contempt but only to clarify a misunderstanding. In reference to Miss Cheryl Pence's letter to the Editor in the May 9 edition of the George-Anne, I would like to explain the structure of the "Spring Swing" Bicycle Relay.

In order to provide a variety of events during Spring Swing Week, various students from all segments of the campus were requested to act as chairman of certain events. The chairman of the "Spring Swing" Bicycle Relay was a Sigma Nu brother, who acted only as a participating member of the Spring Swing Committee of the SAGC. The "Spring Swing" Bicycle Relay was under the direction of the Spring Swing Committee—Sigma Nu fraternity was not directly responsible for the event. Possibly several of the Sigma Nu brothers helped the chairman prepare the event, but the vested responsibility and authority of purchasing and presenting the trophies rested solely with the Spring Swing Committee.

As a member of the Student Association of Governing Councils representing the Inter-Fraternity Council, I regret that there was a misunderstanding. I will request that amends be made in order that Wudie Hall receives the proper and "significant" recognition that it deserves. Since many students serve this college in several capacities other than the Greek letters on their jerseys, I hope that in the future such misunderstandings do not occur.

Sincerely,

Robert G. Williams

Dear Editor:

Have you been eating less and not enjoying it more?

Recently there have been many grumbles, mumbles, a few colorful comments and flowery speeches concerning the procedures, objectives and policies of our cafeteria system. Your friendly, SAGC, in its typical efficiency, has taken the call of the challenge and come up with some remarkable results. Our Food Services Committee arranged a conference with Mr. C.R. Pound, director of our dining halls. Here are the facts.

The meal program at GSC is on the "Board Plan." In fact, participation in this plan is not the purchase of a stated number of meals—it is a privilege of eating. The cost of the "Board Plan" is designed on the basis that the student will not eat all meals available to him. Last year the actual average cost of preparing a complete meal was $.72. The student, on average, paid $.75 for this so called privilege. If all meals were eaten by the student in the cafeteria the meal plan would conceivably cost $180. For this reason the meal ticket is non-transferrable.

Following the challenges of the students concerning the dining halls and explanations of these challenges as given by Mr. Pound:

Q. Why may we not have such menu items as pancakes for breakfast during the week?

A. The capacity of the grills and the impossibility of keeping pancakes hot, prohibits them from being served except on Sunday mornings when the breakfast crowd is light.

Q. Why can not the Sunday lunch line be opened at twelve to avoid lines created by those returning from church?

A. Cost is a big factor, labor another. Many of the students who work in the cafeteria and as cashiers attend church. They would not work if they lost this privilege.

Q. Could we not be served larger portions of meat; and could we not have steaks once in a while?

A. Considering the multiplier effect, a 5 cents increase in each serving of meat would give the cafeteria a deficit balance. There is a fine line between profit and loss.

Q. Where, other than student financing, do funds for the cafeteria come?

A. No tax money can be used in auxiliary enterprises. Included are the bookstore, the cafeteria, the snack bars, the dorms, and the vending services. These groups are mutually self supported.

Q. Can variety be improved?

A. There are some foods which are too expensive, limited by preparation capacity and not appropriate for mass preparations. Look at the variety we do have. We will begin to vary foods associated with certain days.

Q. Why can't we have more fresh fruit?

A. I must look into this.

Q. Can the breakfast hours be extended during the week and especially on the weekends?

A. Breakfast must be cleared before preparation of lunch can begin. The time element will not allow the extension of hours.

Q. The meat is being cooked too done.

"AH SPRING"

With the return of spring and warm weather, many of the college's sun worshippers are rushing poolside in order to get that golden tan. The sight of these sunbathers is a pleasant attraction for passers-by and also for wandering photographers.

A. Of course there is a safety factor here. For health reasons the meat must be cooked properly. I realize that done is done and that it can be over done. The meat cook will be consulted.

Q. Is it necessary that our food be so greasy?

A. No. This shall be corrected.

Q. Why is Sunday night dinner so pitiful?

A. The cost of a hot meal and a cold meal is approximately the same. However, there is no way we can secure adequate help on Sunday night. Most institutions cut this meal out altogether.

Q. Who goofed in the mechanics of the Landrum serving lines? Can't something be done?

A. Yes. There is a definite problem. Red tape is giving us fits. Several pieces of specially designed serving equipment will eventually be installed.

The fact still remains that students are eating less and not enjoying it more. We realize that in the preparation of institutional food there are certain restrictions; but, do these restrictions necessarily stand in the way of improvement? Why must food have to fight the grease for a place on the plate? Why is it necessary that we wait eagerly in line at 8:00 a.m. every Saturday and Sunday for breakfast? What is wrong with variety—certainly our great marketing process supplies foods other than those we see in the cafeteria. Should red tape be allowed to exist on this matter when go-for-yourself tactics exist in the Landrum serving line? Let us think on these things. We also realize that done is done; but, what has been done in the past does not necessarily have to be done in the future.

Sincerely,
Steve Joiner

Theta Lambda Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity is over three hundred colleges and universities in the U.S., will conduct fraternity in over three hundred colleges and universities in the U.S., will conduct initiation ceremonies for its Spring Quarter pledge class on Friday, May 30. The pledge class Humphrey and Ginger Pyron.

Members and pledges of Alpha Psi Omega will sponsor a concession stand in the lobby of McCroan Auditorium at intermission during the four-night run of Masquers' production of "Death of a Salesman," May 14-17.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Lambda-Upsilon Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon conducted its annual Public Service Weekend April 26, in conjunction with the Statesboro Recreation Department. The brothers and pledges aided the department in painting various buildings and baseball dugouts at the Fair Road Recreation Center.

The pledge class officers for spring quarter are: Ricky Ellis, president and Richard Keene, secretary-treasurer.

The brothers and pledges are planning a fund-raising project for the weekend of May 16-17. The project planned is a doughnut sale in both the Statesboro and Savannah areas, and proceeds from the sale will be set aside in a special fund to help plan rush for fall quarter.

Plans are also in the making for a retreat to be held at some time during the summer to acquaint all the members with plans for fall rush and to talk over concerns and the ideas the brothers may have to benefit the fraternity in the coming year.

Brothers Chip Sary and Clay Strickland represented the chapter at a leadership meeting held in Atlanta Wednesday, May 13. Representatives from Georgia Tech, Georgia State and Oglethorpe Colleges will be present for the meeting.

Congratulations are extended to brothers Hal Lankford, who received the nomination for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities at the Honor's Day Program last Monday, and Don Jones, who was recently elected to the office of vice-president of the Senior Class.

CHI SIGMA

Peggy Hartsfield was chosen as sweetheart of Chi Sigma at the Sweetheart Ball held April 26. Miss Hartsfield is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority and is from Statesboro, Ga. She will be presented at the first annual Chi Sigma Derby Day Saturday, May 24.

Present at the ball were members of the Statesboro Sigma Chi Alumni. Representing the Sigma Chi alumni were: "Tiny" Hill, Lowell Akins and Ralph Morris. Each of the alumni and the brothers sang traditional "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" to honor Miss Hartsfield and to express their appreciation and thanks to Debbie Atchison, sweetheart of 1968.

DELTA CHI

Delta Chi elected new officers for the 1969-70 academic year. They are: Lamar Outz, president; Red Garrell, vice-president; Bob Stewart, recording secretary; Jim Middlebrooks, corresponding secretary; Pat Henderson, chaplain and Jimmy Lavender, rush chairman.

Delta Chi will initiate Wayne Graves, Lawson Braddock and Bob Holcomb, an alumnus into the fraternity May 16-18. They will be initiated at the University of Florida at Gainesville.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta elected new officers for the 1969-70 academic year. They are: Phillip Mays, president; Tim Peabody, vice-president; Walter Weil, recording secretary; and Steve Sweat, treasurer.

Jimmy Fields has been nominated for the Grantlin Rice Trophy of Phi Delta Theta for athletic achievement.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The sisters of Alpha Xi Delta held ceremonies Tuesday, May 13, to pledge Donna Day Langdon into the sorority. The officers of the Spring quarter pledge class were also announced. They are as follows: Susan Megow, president; Jodie Cannon, vice-president; Judy Jones, secretary; Mary Lloyd, treasurer; and Lillian Prosser, song leader.

The Epsilon Sigma chapter presented Mrs. C.B. McAllister, the chapter director, with an orchid for Mother's Day.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held a banquet meeting Tuesday, April 29, at the Paragon. The brotherhood was addressed by Dean Maguire and Shelton Evans, director of student activities on policies concerning fraternities in general.

The Alpha Tau Omega pledge class elected its officers for the Spring quarter. The officers are: Danny Kennedy, president; Wiley Slaughter, vice-president; Pat Crisp, treasurer and Ronny Wester, secretary.

The pledge class Sweetheart for the Spring quarter is Susan Smith. Miss Smith, a freshman from Macon, Ga., is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

DELTA ZETA

Delta Zeta is planning a beach weekend May 17-18. The sorority will stay at the Jekyll Estates Motel in Jekyll Island, Ga.

The following girls in Delta Zeta were recipients of Who's Who: Nancy Collier, Harriet Hopkins, Carol Johns, and Jerri O'Neal.

KAPPA DELTA

The Delta Lambda Chapter of Kappa Delta has recently completed plans for their first annual White Rose Ball to be held Friday evening, May 16, at the College Gate Cafeteria. On Sunday, Kappa Delta will hold a Parents' Day for the families of the sisters. A luncheon will be held at the Nic Nac in honor of those present.

Last Thursday night, Kappa Delta won first place in the Sorority Sing sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, with songs by Kappa Delta Washboard Band.

TAU EPSILON PHI

Taylor Deviese was elected Chancellor of the Phi Nu chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi May 4. Other officers are: Mike Angarone, Vice-Chancellor; Marc Black, Scribe; David Collett, Bursar; Danny Johnson, Historian; John Malatak, Pledge Warden and Irvin Levine, Parliamentarian.

After the elections of officers, Tau Epsilon Phi installed pledges for the Spring quarter. The pledges for this quarter are: Glenn Hallick, Randy Ursrey and Donald Wenger.

The brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi wish to extend congratulations to Brother Irvin Levine on his election as Treasurer of the I.F.C., to Brother Marc Black for receiving the Chemical Rubber Company Freshman Chemistry Award, and to Brother Shelley Boyd for winning the Statesboro Music Club Award.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Forty-seven brothers and pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon will travel to Warner Robins, May 17. While there, the fraternity will collect for the Houston County Speech School. The school is a non-profit institution for the training of deaf children. The purpose of the training is to help these children enter elementary school and achieve positive results in a regular school program.

This is the second annual trip for Sigma Phi Epsilon to collect contributions for the school. The fraternity has chartered a bus and will collect money in the business district of Warner Robins from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Last year, Sigma Phi Epsilon collected more than $300.00 in Warner Robins and subsequently, several foundations for schools of this type were organized in other Georgia counties. This year, the brothers and pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon hope to achieve the goal of five hundred dollars.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Gamma Kappa Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity recently served as an initiating team for LaGrange College, Gamma Nu Chapter of Pi

Kappa Phi fraternity. The team was Pete Hires, Tommy Rogers, Bill Larkey, Bobby Melton, Wendell Johnston, Ronnie McMahon Doug Lambert and Pat Cates.

The Pledge class of Gamma Kappa Chapter sponsored a doughnut sale for their money making project.

This Sunday, May 18, Gamma Kappa Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will initiate the following girls into their "Little Sisters of the Star and Lamp." They are Martha Gibson, Stacia Long, Cynthia Moulton, Carol Brent, Marsha Rushing, Caroline Bray, Rena Dubberly, Ann Hinton, Pam Kane and Pat Bauer. Mrs. Charlotte Ford is the advisor for the Little Sisters.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta fraternity will install its one hundred and fourth chapter during special ceremonies Saturday, May 17.

The Honorable George L. Smith II, speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives and an alumnus of the Beta Delta chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the University of Georgia, will serve as Master of Ceremonies at the installation banquet to be held at Holiday Inn at 7:30 p.m. Also featured on the program will be Dean William Tate, dean of men at the University of Georgia, who will deliver the keynote address.

The local colony of Delta Tau Delta was established in October, 1969.

Work Day

Saturday, May 10, the brothers and pledges of Delta Tau Delta held "Work Day," an annual event of the local fraternity.

"Work Day" consists of hiring the brothers out for $1.00 an hour, to Statesboro citizens.

Any legitimate odd job is accepted as long as there are free brothers.

In the past, Work Day has been completely filled with jobs such as clearing lots, raking lawns, mowing lawns and edging, planting grass and small construction jobs.

This work day has been good for the brotherhood and for the community.

Language, Dating Problems Face Foreign Students in U.S.

Rochester, N.Y. (I.P.)—What problems do foreign students face in adjusting to American culture and academic life?

In a new University of Rochester booklet based on a study of foreign students at the University, Muriel Nixon Rising, UR foreign student advisor, and Barbara Copp, a graduate student from Canada, report on adjustment experiences in such areas as:

LANGUAGE. This is the chief difficulty for most foreign students, particularly those whose native language is structurally very different from English (e.g., Asian languages). Students whose ability to use English is limited may find humanities courses harder than technical or scientific courses, since technical terms are likely to be similar in all languages.

GRADING. Because in many countries exams are given only at the end of the year, foreign students frequently are not used to mid-term exams, quizzes, and homework.

Some are unfamiliar with objective tests; however, a few students from Asia report that they are accustomed to more objective tests, based on memorization. (One student complained that professors would not change grades, as is fairly common in other countries.)

Student-faculty relationships. Some foreign students have trouble adjusting to the informal relations between U. S. faculty and students; many male students initially find it difficult to accept women as teachers.

Relationships with other students. Most foreign students said that Americans are friendly and cooperative. Nearly all said they had American friends, but many felt the friendships were superficial or involved only academic matters. (Some thought that Americans are "too busy to become involved with foreigners.")

DATING. Most find dating "too expensive." Some Europeans consider the American dating system too formal. Asians and Africans report the most difficulty in adjusting. Of those who do date, most date other foreign students.

CAMPUS LIFE. Many foreign students report difficulty in finding rooms

"because of insufficient facility with English and because of discrimination." All of the students reporting feel that "the University should take the initiative in providing accommodations for foreign students."

Council Sponsors Annual Wool Contest

The annual "Make Yourself With Wool" contest sponsored by the American Wool Council will begin July 1 and is open to all girls between the ages of 14 and 21.

Entrants will be judged in two categories; girls 14-16 will be classified as juniors and women 17-21 will be judged as seniors. The main requirements for the contest is that the woman construct a garment of 100% wool loomed in America and that it be entirely her own handwork.

Prizes offered in the contest include a two-week all expense paid vacation to Europe for the winner. Other prizes offered are scholarships, bonds and sewing machines.

There is no entry fee for the contest. For complete information and an entry blank, write:

German Club Attends Lutheran Bi-Centennial

The congregation of Jerusalem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Rincon, Ga., invited the German Club to the Bi-Centennial (200th) anniversary of their church building in Ebenezer, Georgia May 24-25.

Saturday, May 24, there will be a band concert of the Effingham County High School at 2:00 p.m., and at 3:00 p.m. a pageant showing the history of the church and the Salzburger who settled in Georgia in 1734.

Sunday, May 25, at 11:00 a.m., there will be a service, at 1:00 p.m. a dinner (basket lunch) and at 3:00 p.m. a Memorial Service.

Several members of the German Club will visit Ebenezer on Saturday and members and students are urged to participate in the Sunday services.

GOLF TEAM ROUNDS OUT 1969 SEASON WITH WIN

The Eagles golf team wound up its 1969 schedule with a win against Mercer University at Macon last Thursday.

The victory took the team's season record to 12-4-1.

Coach Paul Carr described this win as the Eagles' best away effort of the season. They won by a sound 10-stroke margin 287-297 in the four-man match.

Low medalist for the Eagles was Brooks Simmons with a one-under-par 70.

This score, plus some other fine efforts earlier in the season added up to give him the low medalist trophy for the team over the season.

He was presented with the trophy at the sports banquet last Wednesday night.

Eddie Register hit a par 71 at Macon and Jack Hartness and Steve Barker both recorded two-over 73's.

Coach Carr said that he was pleased with the team's effort over the season.

"I think we were a bit too optimistic starting out the season. We were hoping for a 14-3 record.

"We didn't count on a loss to Armstrong in our second match with them. This was our worst performance of the year. And we didn't count on a tie with Valdosta.

"We expected losses to Auburn and to Georgia and we also expected to get beaten by one of the Florida teams—which did happen—but the other two during our slump, when we played so badly, upset the record.

"Over-all I was pleased with the team.

"They didn't play as well away as I had hoped but they certainly did well coming through with an unbeaten home record."

The team is now looking forward to the NAIA District

PLAYOFFS IN BASKETBALL

Tuesday night's independent league basketball intramural championship play-offs proved to be fatal to the Falcons as BSU No. 2 defeated them twice by narrow margins.

During the first game of the two game play-offs, BSU No. 2 managed to overpower the Falcons by a score of 81-66.

The second game was tighter as BSU barely escaped with a 70-68 win.

Both teams battled the second game out evenly until the final seconds when BSU slipped in the two winning points.

The two game play-offs was necessitated because of an earlier loss by BSU to the Falcons.

Going into the final championship game, both teams had defeated each other once.

Earlier Independent League action this week saw the Bombers go down to BSU.

This victory gave BSU No. 2 the privilege of playing the Falcons for the league championship.

In Tuesday night's fraternity league basketball play-offs, Alpha Tau Omega outlasted Kappa Alpha to capture a 41-38 victory.

This was the second win for ATO over KA within the last two weeks.

Ironically, ATO squeezed out both victories by narrow margins—the first game by only two points and the second game by a margin of three points.

As the champions of the fraternity league, ATO will meet the Falcons, runners-up of the independent league, in the intramural basketball tournament to be held later this week.

Kappa Alpha, runners-up of the fraternity league will be pitted against BSU No. 2, the independent league champions.

Kappa Alpha won the right to play in the championship against ATO when they defeated Kappa Sigma last Monday night.

ABOVE: Brooks Simmons, the man who emerged as number one player on the Georgia Southern golf team in the season just completed. Simmons was presented with the team low medalist award at the annual sports banquet held last Wednesday night.

25 tournament next Monday and Tuesday (May 19 and 20).

But, even at this late date, the site of the tournament is not yet known.

It was understood that it was being held in Atlanta but this has not been confirmed and it is known that Armstrong is trying to get it held on their home ground in Savannah.

Naturally enough, Coach

Carr is against this, wanting the tournament to be played on neutral ground.

Of the team's chances in the tournament, wherever it is played, Coach Carr said:

"We're optimistic about it, particularly as we did so well in the last three games.

"But it is upsetting not knowing this late where it will be played. The course is always a vital factor."

EAGLES AGAIN EXTRACT ONE-FOR-TWO TRIBUTE FROM MIGHTY SEMINOLES

BY DEWEY HOLLAND

Two losses - one against Florida State and the other the result of a poor effort against lowly Valdosta State - in the Eagles baseball series last week did little to color the achievement of a second win this season against Florida State when the Seminoles made a return trip to Georgia Southern and Eagle Field.

The two losses and one win carried the Eagles season record to 20-15.

The Eagles seem to be prone to last-minute collapses against relatively minor teams - as witness the loss to Valdosta in the closing stages - but have nevertheless shown out at their best against the tough sort of opposition that the Seminoles provide.

The Eagles definitely have tournament potential, but inconsistency could cost them this honor.

The break-down of each game follow:

Narrow win to Valdosta

The Valdosta State Rebels edged GSC 5-4 last Tuesday (May 6) in the first of the three matches of the week, all of which were played at home on Eagle Field.

Jim Fields, who had a fine night, scored a run in the first inning to give Southern, a lead that is maintained for five innings.

But then Valdosta came back with two runs in the sixth and then repeated this effort in the seventh.

The Eagles tied the score 4-4 in the bottom of the seventh on Ron Cawthon's single and Jim Fields' double.

But an error and two base hits gave the Rebels the final disastrous run in the ninth.

Herbie Hutson started the game till Florida State victory hero Sam Hendrix came in but ultimately had to take his first loss of the year.

FSU rips Eagles

The Florida State Seminoles tore the Eagles apart the following Friday (May 9), winning by the big score of 8-10.

FSU scored four runs in the first two innings and built on this fine start for their seven-run victory.

Walt Summons was in fantastic form for the Seminoles. He got three hits, one of which was a homer, two RBI's and four runs.

Southern was limited to six singles and Jim Fields scored the lone Eagles run.

Richard Chard took the loss and this made his record 5-3 for the year.

GSC	000	000	001	162

Revenge over Seminoles

The Eagles soared to victory and revenge over the FSU Seminoles the following day (Saturday, May 10).

Southern struck early as the Seminoles had done the previous day with three runs in the first innings as Alton Griffin, Terry Webb and Monty Tillman all scored.

Tillman scored again in the fifth frame to give Southern a 4-1 lead at this stage over the powerful visitors.

FSU came back late in the game but still fell one run shy and the Eagles took a fine 4-3 win.

Herbie Hutson allowed eight hits and he pitched a complete game to carry his season record to 6-1.

Summons got three hits (including one homer), two RBI's and four runs in the Seminoles' 8-1 victory. The series of pictures on this page was taken for the George-Anne by Ken Purcell.

A fine action study of Eagles pitcher Richard Chard as he rears back for a pitch in the Eagles first match of last week against the Florida State Seminoles. The Eagles were well beaten in this match and Chard took the loss.

ALLAN JOHNSON LEAVING GSC COACHING STAFF

As from fall of this year, Georgia Southern will be without the services of its junior varsity basketball coach of the past two seasons, Coach Allan Johnson.

Coach Johnson has accepted the post of head basketball coach at Monroe High School, Monroe about 50 miles from Atlanta.

In his two years as freshman coach at Georgia Southern, Coach Johnson compiles 11-5 and 908 records respectively.

Last season he brought the Georgia Southern freshmen 9-8 through possibly the toughest schedule any Baby Eagles team has had to face.

Coach Johnson came to Georgia Southern after two years coaching at St. Joseph's High School in Atlanta. Prior to that he was in the service.

Monroe High School, where Coach Johnson is transferring, is at present a Class A school with a notable athletic record.

The school is expected to move up into class double-A competition in a year when it is merged with the Negro high school.

Johnson said that he accepted the post of Monroe because he was keen to get a position as head coach where he could work on a young team for a specific competition.

"It's hard having to start off every year with a new team and not having anything really specific like a state tournament to work towards," he said.

"At Monroe I'll be able to build up a team over several years with a particular goal in mind.

"I've enjoyed my stay at Georgia Southern and I think I've learned a lot during the time I've been here." Assistant Coach at DeKalb Junior College.

Patton is a former Georgia Southern student, graduating here in 1962.

Touring, Sports Car Club Rally

The Ogeechee Sports and Touring Car Club will hold the May Mindbender Rally on Sunday (May 18) with registration beginning at 1 p.m. at the Statesboro Recreation Center on Fair Road.

This is a time-speed-distance rally which everyone can finish.

A special trophy will be given to organization teams consisting of at least three cars.

ALL READY FOR 55-MILE RUN FROM SAVANNAH

Preparations have been completed for the run this Saturday from Savannah to Statesboro by Hugh de Lacy - a run being staged as a publicity stunt for the new GSC Hundred-Mile Club.

The only change from the original plan for the run is that instead of starting at 4:30 a.m. on Saturday morning (May 17), de Lacy, accompanied alternately by Joey Williams and Benny Hicks, will probably begin the 55-mile gallop at about 3 a.m.

Plans now are for the three runners and GSC Athletic Trainer Mickey Cobb to leave for Savannah about 10 p.m. Friday night, eat a late meal and sleep for a few hours in Savannah, and then start along Highway 80 from West Broad Street.

The reason for this change in plans is the fear of the effect of the heat on de Lacy who has never run any great distance in temperatures much over 80 degrees and what he has done has been in low humidity.

De Lacy's earlier encounters with South Georgia heat and humidity have been disastrous.

When he first arrived in Georgia from New Zealand in September last year, he was hit so badly by the heat that he lost 15 pounds in his first six days here. And this was some two weeks after the 105 degree weather in which Georgia sweltered at the end of last August.

It is hoped that by starting the run early, de Lacy will be able to break the back of the distance before the sun gets hot enough to trouble him.

His expected arrival time at the Hanner Gymnasium is 11 a.m. and organizer Joey Williams is hoping that a good number of students will be on hand to meet him.

It is hoped that Radio Station WWNS will be covering the last stages of the run and will be able to provide progress reports so that those wanting to be on hand for the finish will know more definitely what time that will be.

The course after leaving West Broad Street in Savannah will be along Highway 80 to Highway 46 and along that to Highway 67 and so into Statesboro and Georgia Southern.

De Lacy hopes to average between seven and eight miles an hour, stopping for a five-minute break for refreshments every 10 miles. If good progress is made the stops may be eliminated.

The final steps are now being taken in organizing the GSC Hundred-Mile Club for which the run from Savannah is a publicity stunt.

It is planned to have two desks operating all day Monday (May 19) in the Williams and Landrum Centers from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. taking applications for the club.

Membership cards and other material will be sent to students within two days through their Landrum Center boxes and to faculty members to their respective offices.

The printing of the specially-designed membership cards is almost completed as is that of the maps, advice and instruction materials and mileage report cards which members will also receive.

The motto of "For Fitness and Health" has been adopted for club, according to organizer Joey Williams.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT SPORTS BANQUET

More than 190 guests attended the Georgia Southern College sports banquet held in the Landrum Center last Wednesday night.

Besides the college coaches, cheerleaders and townspeople, the members of Georgia Southern's teams in basketball, baseball, tennis, cross-country, golf and gymnastics were present.

The college president, Dr. John Eidson welcomed the guests and introduced the speaker, Dr. Bob Davis of Georgetown College, Kentucky.

Dr. Davis is the basketball coach at Georgetown and his team has competed regularly against Georgia Southern teams over a number of years - this year losing three times to the Eagles.

After Dr. Davis' talk, the various awards, letters and jackets were presented to the athletes who have represented Georgia Southern over this past year.

Williamson Receives Doctor of Philosophy

Matt W. Williamson, A native of Louisville, Ky., assistant professor of political science, will receive the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Virginia at that institution's June commencement.

Williamson's dissertation, "Contemporary Tendencies Toward a Two-Party System in Georgia," is a study of growing tendencies toward interparty competition in Georgia, with especial emphasis on the improved economic situation in the state during the last twenty years.

Williamson taught previously at the University of Virginia before coming to Georgia Southern in 1965. His research interests are centered about interest group politics, American political parties and Southern politics. Since his arrival here, Williamson has been the sponsor of the Young Republican club on campus. During his tenure as advisor, the group has increased its membership to over 600 students, and succeeded in electing three of its members to office in the Georgia Young Republican Federation in 1969.

National Fraternity Initiates Chapter

The Crescent Colony of Delta Tau Delta was formally installed as Epsilon Omega Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, national social fraternity, Saturday, May 17. It became the Fraternity's 104th chapter, with 28 brothers being initiated.

Brothers from Beta Delta chapter, University of Georgia, served as the initiating team, with the assistance of brothers from Georgia Tech, Emory, University of Florida, and Auburn University. The initiates underwent the Rite of Iris and the Outer Mysteries of the Fraternity Friday night at Pittman Park Methodist Church. Saturday afternoon they underwent the formal installation in ceremonies also at Pittman Park.

Saturday evening, the newly initiated brothers were honored at a banquet at the Holiday Inn. George L. Smith II, speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives and an alumnus of the Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the University of Georgia, served as master of ceremonies for this occasion. Also featured on the program was Dean William Tate, Dean of Men at the University of Georgia, who delivered the keynote address. Local officials attending the banquet included President John O. Eidson, Vice-President Pope A. Duncan, Harold O. Maguire, Dean of Men, Shelton Evans, Director of Student Activities, Ric Mandes, Public Relations Director and Lloyd L. Joyner, Chapter Advisor. A dance featuring "The Girl Watchers" was held following the banquet.

The 28 brothers initiated into the fraternity are: Ken Purcell, David Plaisted, Rick Shuman, Pat Brown, Rick Freeman, Joe Jackson, Pride Shehan, Buddy Harmon, Billy Jones, Bob West, Dale Chaney, Jim Duff, Johnnie Lynes, Rusty Brown, Ken Carson, John Bowen, Bob Leonard, Alan Bond, Vince Brown, Tommy Wilbanks, Bob Grant, Johnny Johnson, Charley Snelling, Dennis Rendall, Joe Bridges, Phil Yonge, Randy Moore, Buddy Bloodworth.

Statesboro Jaycees Vote Not to Circulate Petition

Special to the George-Anne
From the Bulloch Herald

The Statesboro Jaycees, at their regular business meeting Tuesday, May 13, voted not to conduct a campaign to collect signatures on a petition to call a special election on the sale of alcoholic beverages in Bulloch County.

Jaycee President Charles Brown, in commenting on the proposed project, said, "The Jaycees usually do not make an announcement when they decide not to do something, but we have contacted numerous people throughout Bulloch County and the state while studying this project proposal and we feel that we should let the people know what we decided."

The 46-28 vote, which failed to give the project the required two-thirds majority, ended more than a year of study on the issue.

About a year ago, beginning in March, 1968, the Jaycees conducted a public opinion poll to find out how Bulloch County residents felt about the sales of alcoholic beverages in the county. The poll, which was strictly controlled, indicated that about 80 per cent of the people in Bulloch County would like to see legalized sales in the county; however, most people responding to the poll said they would like to see state owned stores.

Early this year, after the Athens Jaycees had conducted a successful campaign to call an election in Clarke County, the local Jaycee board invited the president of the Athens Jaycees to speak to the board and explain the Athens campaign.

After the presentation by the Athens Jaycees, the board of the local club appointed a

Joiner Wins SAGC Bid

Steve Joiner, junior management major, defeated Robert Kight by a narrow margin for the office of president in the SAGC election Monday, May 19. Joiner received 734 votes and Kight received 526 votes.

Rod Meadows received twice the combined votes of Cheryl Pence and John Tootle to win the office of vice-president. Meadows had 825 votes while Pence had 250 and Tootle had 199.

Kay Kozojed received 956 votes to defeat Norris Moon with 317 votes for the office of secretary.

The results of the treasurer election are not available at this time due to a runoff election.

The officers elect will take office in September of the 1969-70 school year.

Commencement Begins With June 6 Luau

By BILL BEECHER

The commencement exercises for this academic year are scheduled for June 8 at 3 p.m. in the W.S. Hanner gym.

The actual graduation for the 750 applicants is only the finale of a large roster of events scheduled for June 6, 7 and 8.

Friday, June 6, at 6 p.m. seniors will enjoy a Hawaiian luau in the Landrum Center. Later in the evening there will be a Senior Lantern Walk and a dance featuring "Rhonda and The Chessmen." The Walk is at 7:30 p.m. and the dance begins at 9 p.m.

Seniors begin Saturday with a breakfast together in the Landrum Cafeteria at 9 a.m. and a free barbecue lunch at 12:30 by the lake. The lunch will be open to faculty and alumni.

Graduation rehearsal will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Hanner Gym. W.A. Winn and Billy Deal will speak to the graduates on behalf of the Alumni Association.

At 8-10 p.m. that evening, President Eidson will hold a reception for alumni, parents and graduates at his home. From 12-2 p.m. the seniors will have a special "get together" by the lake.

At 12:30 Sunday, a senior-parent luncheon will be held in the Landrum Center Cafeteria. Tickets for this event are $1.25 per person.

GREEK WEEKEND

Events for Greek Weekend will begin on Friday, May 23, with a Derby steal contest between sororities from 12:00-6:00.

Friday night there's a dance for Greeks and their dates; admittance free but ID's will be checked. Saturday begins with a Greek workshop at 10:00 a.m. in Foy followed by the Miss Derby Contest also in the Foy.

At 2:00 in the Sweetheart Circle the events for the Chi Sigma Derby Day begin.

Saturday night from 8-12 p.m. a dance will be held in the Hanner gym featuring the Original Drifters. This dance is for all students and there is no charge; ID's will be checked.

A tea for house directors and faculty will be given Sunday at 2:30 by the lake. The awards for the Derby Day contest and Miss Derby will be presented.

DELTA TAU DELTA INITIATES 28

ALPHA XI DELTA

Five members of Alpha Xi Delta accompanied Miss Elaine McAllister, alumnae advisor, to the Panhellenic Workshop held in Savannah, May 17-18. The members attending were Virginia Hendrix, Melanie McArthur, Margaret Pipkin, Toy Porter and Paula Wilber.

Tuesday, May 20, Big Sister-Little Sister ceremonies were held by the Epsilon Sigma chapter. The following sisters received pledges as little sisters: Suenette Jones, Roslyn Hall and Janis Brown; Janet Perry, Patty Rowland; Toy Porter, Linda Burnette and Judy Odom; Mary Alice Matthews, Deidre Cowne; Elaine Smartt, Aurelia Woodard; Debbie Visscher, Donna Langdon. Following the ceremonies the Spring quarter pledge class sold candied apples as their pledge project.

A dinner party is planned for Sunday evening, May 25, at the home of Mrs. McAllister, the chapter director. The dinner will be held in honor of the graduating seniors. Gifts will be presented.

KAPPA SIGMA

At the District Conclave in Atlanta, the Kappa Zeta chapter of Kappa Sigma received the Most Outstanding Achievement Trophy for major accomplishments during the past years. Our chapter was competing with other chapters at Georgia, Georgia Tech, Georgia State, Mercer, Auburn, Alabama, Georgia Southwestern, LaGrange College and South Alabama.

Beach Trip

The chapter took a weekend trip to Fernandina Beach, Florida May 16-18. Nineteen couples attended last weekend.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held formal initiation Saturday at the Statesboro Presbyterian Church. Lloyd Dozier, of the business dept., was initiated into the brotherhood and will become the fraternity's alumni advisor.

Saturday, the fraternity held its first annual Founder's Day banquet at the Nic Nac Restaurant, to celebrate the first anniversary as a chapter. The guest speaker for the night was B.B. Brown, provence chief of the Georgia chapters. Bill Nelson, Worthy Master, also spoke briefly.

PHI MU

The Kappa Mu chapter of Phi Mu held its quarterly scholarship banquet April 22, at the Nic Nac Restaurant.

The Phi Mu's held a weekend trip to Ocean Drive Beach, S.C. May 9-11.

Barbara Hunter, sister of Phi Mu, was a recipient of Who's Who.

PI OMEGA PI

Members of Delta Iota chapter, Pi Omega Pi, national business education honor society, have received notice that Delta Iota chapter placed second in this year's national award contest. The winning chapter, Gamma Pi, Kent State University, placed first with 129 points; Delta Iota placed second with 127 points. Since 1964, Delta Iota has consistently ranked among the top ten chapters. In 1965 they placed first.

In order to be among the top ten chapters each year, it requires considerable work on projects and publications. Delta Iota's small membership places an extra responsibility on each member. To become a member of Pi Omega Pi a student must be a business education major and maintain a B average in business and education and an overall average of 2.5.

This award year has been an especially active one. There were 102 chapters who competed for this award. Each chapter competes for this award in two ways: (1) by promptness and completeness in all reports to national officers. Points are given for each report which is due throughout the year and (2) by submitting in attractive form write-ups and exhibits of the chapters five best projects along with their publications. It is necessary that both phases of the award program be carried out in order to rank in the top ten.

Officers for spring quarter are: Janice Hudson, president; Martha Howell, vice-president; Janice Peed, secretary; Paula Covert, treasurer, Cynthia Krablean and Jan Hope, corresponding secretaries; Carolyn Felts and Diane Conner, historians. Other members: Ann Hill and Connie Williams. Miss Jane F. White is the faculty sponsor.

Pi Omega Pi is the only honor society on the Campus which is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies which was founded in 1925.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The brothers, pledges and sponsors of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity were successful in the second annual Sig Ep collection for the Houston County Speech School. The goal was $500.00, but the generosity of the people of Warner Robins and Houston County enabled the Sig Eps to more than double their goal with a total of $1,068.00.

This is by far the most successful community service project in the history of the colony or the Ga. Epsilon chapter. Each brother, pledge and sponsor was satisfied with the drive, and many expressed the idea that the Chamber of Commerce, the city of Warner Robins, Houston County and Robins Air Force Base were 100 per cent behind the Sig Eps in this worthy cause.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

The brothers and pledges of Tau Kappa Epsilon conducted a doughnut sale Saturday May 17, in the Savannah area. This was the last money-making project of the year and proceeds from the sale will be used by the fraternity this summer.

The final pledge project was held Sunday May 18, in FROGMORE, South Carolina. Pledges will be installed into the fraternity Tuesday, May 20. Later, a banquet will be held to honor outstanding members and pledges and individuals who have aided the fraternity during the past year.

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate the brothers of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Epsilon-Omega chapter, on their installation this past weekend.

South Carolina Faculty Exhibits Art Work in Foy

The University of South Carolina's touring faculty art exhibit will be in the gallery of Foy through June 20th. Thirty worked by ten members of the university's art department will be shown. The exhibit includes paintings, prints, sculptures and ceramics in representative and abstract styles. This is the last of the 1968-69 series of twelve art exhibitions, according to Miss Roxie Rebley, assistant professor of fine arts.

Phi Kappa Phi Starts Little Sister Group

By WAYNE BUFFINGTON

Staff Writer

A unique organization among Pi Kappa Phi fraternity chapters is the Little Sister Organizations. The Little Sisters of the Star and Lamp affiliated with Gamma Kappa Chapter here will be initiated June 1. Nine co-eds make up the group. They are Pat Bauer, Carol Brent, Rena Dubberly, Rena is also "Sweetheart of the Pledge Class," Martha Gibson, Stacia Long, Cynthia Moulton, Marcia Rushing, Miss Georgia Southern College, Martha Gibson, Pam Kane, Stacia Long, Cynthia Moulton, Marcia Rushing, Miss Georgia Southern College, brothers for their outstanding service to the fraternity.

Pi Kappa Phi, Gamma Kappa chapter has the only little sister organization in the state. Although under fraternity direction the sisters are an autonomous unit naming their own officers and setting up regulations with fraternity approval. Function of this select athletic programs of the fraternity.

Invitations to this affair will be sent to the officials of the college, to the of the national fraternity will be invited to attend the initiation and reception at the Swainsboro home of the Little Sister faculty advisor, Mrs. Charlotte A. Ford, professor of history.

Phi Beta Lambda Gets Honors at Convention

Phi Beta Lambda won recognition in several areas at the annual Phi Beta Lambda State Convention in Atlanta, May 16-18.

The chapter was represented by seven members at the two day event. All of them placed significantly in various events.

The chapter brought back three trophies for the first place awards in Best Annual Chapter Activities Report, Most Original Project (Postal Pointers Kit for Secretaries), and Phi Beta Lambda Week Promotion.

The second place awards went to Phyllis Johnson in the Poster Contest and Gail Waller in Vocabulary.

Third place awards went to the Parliamentary Procedure Team—Nina Payne, Mike McLeod, Helen Smith, Ann

Hill, and Rolen Heath—Cindy Krablean in the Miss Future Business Executive Contest and the chapter placed third in the National Project—Communication: Lifeline of American Business.

The Zeta chapter was also awarded the coveted Gold Seal Chapter Award of Merit for all-around excellence during the preceding year. This is a national award and only two other chapters in the state of Georgia received it.

The Zeta chapter's Best Annual Chapter Activities Report and Most Original Project will now be entered by the state at the National Convention to be held in June 15-17 in Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Arthur Strickland and Dr. Howard Jackson accompanied the group to the Convention.

Call for Initiation Of University Reform

by Danny Baker

Almost obscured behind the violence and demands of reform on a handful of the nation's college campuses, another, quieter revolution is taking place.

The quiet revolution is under way on the nearly 1600 institutions where the majority of college students obtain their education. They may be large or small, public or private, in the Southwest or in New England, but they all are experiencing reforms in student regulation by the university, style of student living and what is learned in a course and how.

STUDENTS AT MOST of these schools are more concerned with world problems than the panty raids of years past. Unlike the militants, these students seek university reform not through violence, but through reason and responsibility.

David Tucker of Purdue University is a leader in such a responsible movement. He said, "We don't feel we should run the university, but we want a real voice."

One of the first targets of such "responsible leaders" has been the regulation by the university of students' personal life. Students contend that their morals, or lack of them, are no concern of the institution.

University of Delaware President Arthur E. Trabandt said, "I can't imagine any university wanting to be a parent. Young people today are so different, so much better educated, that it is really ridiculous to think you could have the same student-university relationship as before."

AND MANY UNIVERSITIES are yielding in the area of "in loco parentis." George Cuttino, a professor of history at Emory University, serves as a deputy sheriff. He said that he used to get calls for help from students arrested on charges of drunk and disorderly behavior. "Sure, they still drink," he said, "but they don't tie one on."

But as the institutions withdraw from the parental role, they also cease to shield the student from the outside world. The residence of a student in a Georgia school was searched recently, and officials found a quantity of narcotics in his possession. The young man who was also living with a girl, was turned over to local law enforcement officers.

The "responsible leaders" aren't simply out for power. They are genuinely concerned with the quality of education and using their position on university committee to influence teaching.

Some of the more liberal colleges have been able to stay a jump ahead of the students and initiate many programs before the students demand them.

FOR MANY COLLEGES, the change has been rapid. At Boston College, a Jesuit institution, until recently men had to wear coats and ties to class, women could not wear slacks and could not sit on the grass between classes and the major concern was whether to chew gum would be breaking the fast. Now girls can visit boy's rooms and the major issue on campus is compulsory theology.

But should the efforts of the "responsible leaders" fail, the militants will only have more fuel with which to burn down the universities.

I hope the administrators at the University will take a page from the schools who institute reform on their own. If they don't, the University will find itself added to the numbers of campuses flooded with militants brandishing rifles.

Rejoice GSC, You're Clean

By RANDY HARBER

In this last column of the last paper for the 1968-69 school term, I would like to congratulate all of the students of Georgia Southern for their accomplishments during the past nine months.

There are many but I feel that a few need merit and must be mentioned. This year on the campuses of Columbia, Berkely, Wisconsin, Cornell, and even the University of South Carolina, we have witnessed student protest and student violence. Despite the conditions we must live under as students of this college, the students of Georgia Southern have had restraint. There has not been one single demonstration; not one shot has been fired, not one riot has been held, not one building has been occupied in the name of student rights. Our students are truly to be commended.

In an article in the May 8th issue of the George-Anne, the present student government president, Sandra Hartness stated that in the contest for the conservative nature of this school that all the members of the SAGC were radicals. Apparently the students knew this fact for they have successfully managed to disassociate themselves from these radical members of the student government and for all practical purposes have rendered them totally useless and harmless to the student body. Students, your parents can be proud.

Most recently, the students of this institution have pulled the college from the clutches of left wing liberalism and placed it again within the boundaries of good conservative government. Never will the SDS gain a foothold on this campus. We will remain safe from these long haired weirdos. Only this Monday the student voters ousted a "hippie" candidates from the presidency by a rousing 208 votes. Now we have no fear, the student government will continue as it has during this profitable year of service.

It has finally been realized by all that the students of this college that they are inferior to those students of the University of Georgia. If the students were equal then the rules for the institutions would be the same. If these hippies were elected they would only try to change things, and really no one here wants to mess things up like at the University.

Rejoice Lester Maddox, Marvin Griffin, and Gene Talmadge, (where ever you are) at last Georgia Normal School-Georgia Southern is secure.

Campus Election Changes Are In Need

By BILL BLANKINSHIP

The election of officers by the Student Association of Governing Councils held Monday of this week left much to be desired in the area of fair and legal election practices. This is a gross understatement of the true situation that existed during Monday's political downpour.

More than 1200 persons braved the onslaught of precipitation to cast their ballot for the candidate of their choice; several of the contests were close, and perhaps, would have been a bit closer if the election had been conducted properly. Had a movie of the election been taken, it, no doubt, would have resembled an old rerun of a "Keystone Cops" film. The SAGC president was out of town because of a death in her family, but a complete lack of advance planning and preparation was evident in the electoral processes.

The first reason for inconsistencies in the voting was due to the fact that the process was too simple. A neat array of mechanical gadgets and hurdles is not necessary to insure fair voting, but a much more accurate system than is now used by the SAGC could have been employed. All that one had to do to vote was to tell the "clerk" his name; in a few rare instances his student ID was checked against a complete student listing provided by the registrar's office.

A good number of students reported having voted twice or three times with no difficulty. A smaller faction had persons vote for them; one student who, according to the records had voted, was in Dallas, Texas at the time when the election was held. I don't seem to recall a provision being made for absentee balloting.

The location of the polling place is another reason poor conduction of the election. An accurate and fair election is not possible when there is a constant stream of persons mixing among the persons attempting to vote. The lobby of the student center is certainly not the appropriate place to ballot.

A third reason for the charge of the election being improperly managed stems from the statement on the ballots that "write-in votes are invalid." There was no statement made to the student body prior to the election to anyone outside the SAGC. A write-in campaign could said before the day of the election to anyone outside the SAGC. A write-in campaign could have definitely changed the results of the election, but not only was such a movement discouraged, it was plainly prohibited. What was the reason for the prohibition; was it for convenience in tallying the final votes or was there some sincere motive behind it.

But now, the election is over; the new officers have been selected. They have all made campaign promises and have vowed to "Straighten

LETTERS TO EDITOR

May 19, 1969

The Editor
THE GEORGE-ANNE
Georgia Southern College
Statesboro, Georgia
Dear Sir:

It is one thing to endorse candidates on your editorial page, but it is something else when you show obvious favoritism in the placement of news.

When one examines your May 16 issue, it is quite obvious that you have given an unfair advertising advantage to your chosen candidates. I cite several reasons for this statement. They are:

1. The pictures of only your chosen candidates on the front page. No pictures of their opposition on the same page.
2. The placement of Mr. Kight's picture in a more favorable location on the page than Mr. Joiner's picture.
3. The placement of Mr. Meadows' picture and article in a more favorable reading position than either of his opponents' pictures or articles.
4. The placement of the heading "For Vice President" over the article for Mr. Meadows. No similar attention line is given for his opponents. A quick look at the paper by a student would tell him that only Mr. Meadows was running for that office.

5. The use of a larger size attention line for Mr. Moon than for Miss Kozojed.
6. The placement of Mr. Moon's picture and article in a more favorable reading position than his opponent's picture and article.
7. The placement of Miss Smith's picture and article in a more favorable reading position than her opponents' pictures and articles.
8. The use of the wrong attention line for Miss Cadwell. The casual reader will not know that she is running for the office of treasurer.

With the above facts in mind, it is my feeling, no matter what the outcome of the election, that you have not treated all students equally on the news pages of your paper. Whether or not your action was intentional is not for me to say. That is for your fellow students to judge. The only thing I am saying is the evidence indicates that you have used a newspaper that is financed by all the students, including all the candidates, to promote in an unfair manner the candidacies of your chosen four.

Sincerely,
William H. Bolen,
Head Department
of Marketing.

Editor's Reply
In response to your letter we make the following comments. First, we ran only the pictures of the candidates on the front page that we endorsed in order to add impact. How could we have run all of the photos without confusion? Should we have split them into two groups—those endorsed; those not endorsed?

In regard to the play of news: In the ideal situation each candidate would have the same length platform, given the same space on the same page with equal size headlines. Since this is impossible we placed the stories as they would best fit into the page without regard for office.

The omission of an attention line and the wrong attention line were errors made in products and errors which we regret.

Last, you state that we use a newspaper financed by all the students in order to promote those candidates we endorse. It is true that this newspaper is paid for by all the students. It is also true that the right to endorse candidates and issues is given to the Editorial Board of the paper. Weekly we endorse issues we believe beneficial to the campus—is this policy different with people? The right to make editorial comment is basic. If a publication is not allowed to have an editorial page then it is not a newspaper at all.

We thank you for your concern.

Division of Languages
Hollis 109

Dear Editor: May 13, 1969

It is unfortunate that pre-registration has come to an end and the new catalog has not yet made its appearance. At least one new set of courses has been added to the curriculum which a number of potentially interested students may not know about since the subject these courses deal with is not included in any major degree program.

Beginning in the fall quarter Latin will be a part of GSC's curriculum. Four courses will be offered, 151 (Elementary I), 152 (Elementary II), 251 (Intermediate I), and 252 (Intermediate II). 151 will be given in the fall, 152 in winter, 251 in spring, and 252 in the fall of 1970.

The administration approved these courses, believing that a number of students who had studied Latin in high school would wish to continue studying it in college, rather than take 10, 15, or 20 hours of another foreign language. Latin will satisfy the language requirements of most degree programs on this campus.

A placement test will be given in the first class in September to determine whether the student should start with 151. If his score is high on this test he will be advised to wait until 152 or 251 is given, rather than waste his time with material he already knows. Of course, 151 is also open to those who have never studied Latin before and who wish to do so.

Dear Editor:

I appeal to all frustrated Georgia Southern students—GIVE UP! The establishment is too much with us. The SAGC, The Panhellenic Council, the Interfraternity Council and other puppet shows and apprenticeships for administrative proficiency should all succumb to the "common sense" reasoning that they are, because of their inherent allegiance to the school administration from whence they are allowed to exist at all, simply too weak and inept to induce progressive changes in student rights, campus regulations concerning housing, lunchroom food, and new recreational facilities, etc. here at Georgia Southern College. Our school, being a state-supported one, has its roots embedded too much in Southern culture. How sad it is that the institution of agriculture, which thrives on conservatism and constancy, is yet the backbone of south Georgia. Naturally, it may seem that the ethics and customs of south Georgian farmers and Bulloch County merchants permeate the prevailing policies of this college's administration. Now here's the rub: prevailing customs, especially ones here at our school, are not changed overnight, and the only course of action for students which would be conducive to policy change here would be widespread reactionary protest and violence. Now that's a joke, ain't it ya'll. Could you imagine our Student Center partisans exchanging their bridge hands for a hand poster; or how about our 301 Highwaymen trading beers for Molotov cocktails? Impossible, of course, and, though not intending to applaud our student passivity, violence would be no way to achieve reasonable student goals. Unfortunately, violence has been the most effective mode of forcing administrative officials at schools everywhere to heed their students' bootless cries. Our only alternate here at GSC is to be content or suffer.

For those patient souls who plan to attend this school ten years hence, school policy changes such as houses for fraternities and no cars for freshmen may be attainable goals. However, any new provisions which involve more state-allocated money or changes in Bulloch County morality such as a new auditorium or off-campus housing for anyone—Well, forget it. Dear old GSC is still blushing for allowing her unchained women to run around in shorts at eleven-thirty P.M. weekdays. To my fellow students who share my despair concerning the sterility of student demands and the futility in hoping for ample future SAGC action, I offer three alternatives: (1) ignore the situation on hand and remain frustrated, (2) empathize with student activists at one of the Ivy League schools and vent your frustration by pretending that GSC is that school, or (3) do what I'm planning to do and transfer schools.

Sincerely,
Bill Long Freshman

IN LITTLE THEATRE PRODUCTION

Linda Welden, Mike Graham and Robert Overstreet, all members of the college faculty, have key parts in the Little Theatre Production of Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of our Teeth."

Overstreet Directs Play; Graham Leads Cast

The spring production of the Savannah Little Theatre, "The Skin of Our Teeth," will open this weekend under the direction of Robert Overstreet, assistant professor of speech, Georgia Southern College. The show will run for eight performances, beginning on May 23 in the Savannah Little Theatre.

Overstreet, who is former director of drama at Georgia Southern, was invited to do the spring show as guest director.

Other members of the cast coming from Georgia Southern College are: Mike Graham, assistant professor of math, who will play the lead role of George Antrobus, and Ethel Kelly, a GSC alumnae and a former GSC thespain, as Mrs. Antrobus. Linda Welden, instructor in the GSC language division; Bill Bishop, a senior speech major; and Ernest Ewing will be in minor roles.

Bishop is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bishop of Twin City. He and Ewing plan to perform in summer stock in Pennsylvania.

According to Overstreet, "The Skin of Our Teeth," by Thornton Wilder, is a statement of the playwright's hope for mankind, a statement of his awareness of human frailty, and his confidence in man's reason and compassion. "It's a delightful show," he adds, "and it has been fun to direct."

CORRECTIONS

There was an error in the George-Anne last week concerning the arrival of the new Reflectors. They will not be here until June 2, and can be picked up that week with ID's, with a charge of 2.50 for each quarter not attended here this year.

In the Masquers picture last week, the actor opposite Carlton Humphrey was Oscar Patton and not Dr. Patrick Spurgeon, as we reported.

things up" with the administration, the faculty and other prominent groups. But their first obligation is to their electors, the students. The students deserve a better method of holding elections and will demand that the necessary changes be made to insure honest elections; if these basic, but important provisions are not made to modify the election procedure, the SAGC should not and cannot expect cooperation and respect from either the student body or the administration and faculty.

Their freedom to govern is a privilege that demands responsibility to those who chose them to govern.

'Pokie' Compares Life In Chinese Schools

By VICKI WEBB

"They always complain about food and the dorms." Doesn't this sound like G.S.C. students? The statement was made by Po King Woo concerning students at the University of Hong Kong and Chinese University.

Affectionately known as "Pokie" by the girls in her dormitory, the petite freshman with long shiny hair to her waist came to Georgia Southern from last winter quarter and has been at home ever since.

Pokie, who made a 96 on the freshman grammar exam spoke in perfect English and explained that the colleges in Hong Kong have basically the same curriculum as American schools. "All classes are taught in English except Chinese history." But some of the newer courses such as computer science, which Po King wants to study are not offered in Hong Kong schools yet.

Another difference Pokie cited was the students political awareness in the U.S. "We don't have time in Hong Kong!" she gasped, and explained that one had to study more because their universities were somewhat harder. It is also unusual for her to see many students smoking in America, for it is "almost a sin to smoke in public" in Hong Kong. "But my brother smokes!" she laughs, and her small dark eyes get lost in her smile.

But youth is basically the same everywhere, and one of their universal likings is music. Pokie named The Beatles, Mary Hopkins and Dione Warwick as Hong Kong favorites. She said the universities have dances at the beginning of the terms and the students dance much the same way as Americans do. Movies are a common form of entertainment in Hong Kong. "But we get the American movies a lot earlier, I think," she continued, "because I saw Camelot in December before I left."

When asked if the girls in Hong Kong keep up with fashions, Pokie grinned and tossed one long pig tail behind her, "You bet!" she exclaimed, "They wear mini-skirts and bell bottoms."

The generation gap is universal, too. "About ten years ago everything parents say is true," Pokie went on to say that Hong Kong students now disagree with their parents more.

committee to contact local leaders to determine their feelings about the question, including their opinion of the Jaycees undertaking the project.

This committee reported back to the Board of Directors after talking with business leaders, the Grand Jury elected officials, religious leaders and local club managers. This committee was instructed to only present the feelings of the community leaders, and was not asked to make a project proposal.

A second committee was then formed with the direct responsibility of planning the project, appointing chairmen and subchairmen, and getting the project ready to go, pending approval. The project proposal was approved by the Jaycee Board for presentation to the general membership. Due to the nature of the issue, it was included within the proposal that a two-thirds majority would be required to pass the project with at least 40 affirmative votes being cast.

The proposal was presented and was defeated only after much discussion and debate both pro and con.

A change of three no votes to yes votes would have passed the proposal.

Ward Speaks At Meeting Of History Club

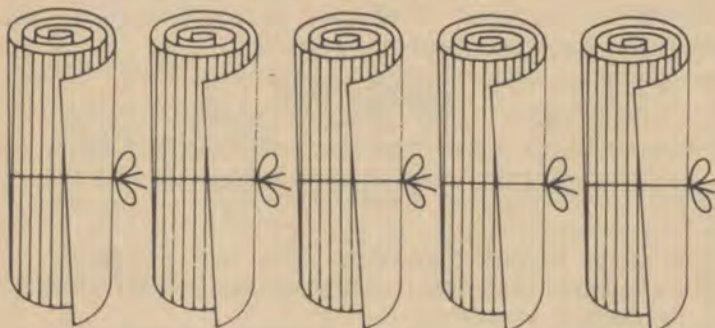

The History club met Thursday, May 15, in its first regular meeting since being organized in April. Dr. David Ward, head of the History department, was the guest speaker. He delivered a short talk on the nature of the Vietnamese War.

The following officers were elected: Don Canney, president; Evelyn Crumbliss, vice-president; Fay Woodard, secretary; Wayne Kendrick, treasurer and Sara Ann Mitchell, historian.

The club will serve as nucleus for a campus chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary society in history. A petition, bearing the names of twenty-two eligible members, has been sent to the society's national headquarters. Initiation of the members and installation of chapter membership will be held during the last week in May.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is a letter to commend those who voted objectively in Monday's SAGC election. It is also a letter of sympathy for those whose decisions are reactionary and ruled only by prejudice. It is this stream of thought which prompted such posters slogans as: "Don't be a freak, support your local Greek," and "Do you want 'hippies' to run your student government next year?!" People should be able to see that statements like these are narrow-minded and utterly ridiculous. So I have two questions for you, Georgia Southern: When are you going to start judging things with an open mind? When are you going to stop being afraid of anything that is the least bit different?

Sincerely,
Name Withheld

May 20, 1969

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the support they gave me in my election to the office of vice-president of the Student Association of Governing Councils Monday. I would particularly like to thank the GEORGE-ANNE for its editorial endorsement of my campaign.

In the up-coming months, as plans are being formulated for many years administration, I will be talking to as many of the students as possible to try to find what they feel should be emphasized. If I can be of help to anyone in any way, please feel free to contact me at Landrum Box 10202, or Extension 244.

I will be in Statesboro this summer working as news director of WWNS-WMCD Radio. If anyone has anything to come up before fall quarter that is of importance to next year's government, I can be contacted there.

Once again, thanks.

Sincerely,
Rod Meadows
Vice-President Elect SAGC

MIXED FORTUNES CARRY EAGLES TO 20-15 TALLY

By DEWEY HOLLAND

The Georgia Southern Eagles ended the baseball season with a 20-15 record. At times G.S.C. played real fine ball and at others they looked bad and "blew" a few games.

They started the year off very slowly. They lost four out of the first five games, then got on a rugged hot-streak and won five straight and 10 out of 13.

They kept playing good ball as they won five out of the next seven games before disaster struck and they finished the 1969 campaign winning only four out of the last 10 games.

The team batting average was a poor .233.

Monty Tillman won Southern's batting champion with a cool .372.

Alton Griffin and Jim Fields with averages of .349 and .315 respectfully, were the only others in the .300 club.

Tillman led the club in RBI's with 19. Terry Webb and Alton Griffin each had 15. Rod Michele with 12 and Jim Fields with 10 were the only others in double figures.

HOMERS

There was a three-way tie for the home run crown. Ron Cawthon, Rod Michele, and Terry Webb each had a pair. Tom Brown and Richard Chard had the only other round-trippers. Chard's blast was a grand slam in the bottom of the 9th inning.

Monty Tillman and Jim Wilks each had two triples to lead that department.

Fields led the club with eight doubles followed by Webb with five. The total team doubles was 34.

Griffin led the team in total hits with 44. Fields followed with 36 and Tillman collected 35.

Griffin also led in runs scored with 34 and again Fields was close behind with 32.

In the negative departments Pete Whitfield had 14 errors and Tillman was next with nine. The Eagle total was a high 86.

Jim Wilks struck out the most at 24 and Cawthon had 17 strike outs.

Jim Fields drew the most walks with 33. No one else was close. Fields was the club's best thief with seven stolen bases, but Cawthon stole only one bag fewer.

Richard Chard proved to be the best over-all hitter of the mound crew. He hit .334 with one homer, three doubles, 11 hits, one run, and eight RBI's.

PITCHERS

Some hurlers proved to be pleasant surprises this year.

Jim Goodwin had a 2-0 record and a great 1.28 ERA before he became ineligible.

Herbie Hutson had the best record at six wins and a single loss.

Relief specialist, Sam Hendrix had a 2-1 chart followed by Richard Chard's 5-4 record. At one time Chard had a 5-1 record, but let it fall.

Tom Arden had the best ERA at 2.39 and Hutson was next with a 2.46. Chard had an ERA of 2.66 and Hendrix ended with a 2.90.

STRIKE-OUTS

Hutson was the strike out king with 71 and Chard was next with 57. Chard gave up 33 free passes and Hutson walked only 20. Arden allowed 17 gift bases.

Chard got the biggest work out with 78 1/3 innings pitched and Hutson worked 69 1/3 innings. Arden pitched 37 2/3 frames and Hendrix worked 24 1/3 innings.

Hutson allowed 73 hits and Chard gave up 62 hits.

Hutson and Chard carried the pitching load, but got strong support from Hendrix and Arden.

Robert Jones, John Jorden, Luther Smith, John Warlick, and Don Wiggins combined pitched fewer than 70 innings and had only a 3-6 record. Wiggins walked 17 batters in 14 1/3 innings and Jorden passed 6 in 5 2/3 innings.

But they all had their better moments and helped the team in some way.

G.S.C. out scored its opponents 180-147.

TEAM RECORDS

The Eagles had a bad year with Virginia teams, winning one game and dropping three. Southern beat North Carolina teams 3-1.

The Eagles lost three to Kentucky clubs, but won four from the "Bluegrass" teams.

South Carolina teams won four out of seven contests, but the Eagles out scored them, 34-32.

Southern racked up four victories in five outings against Northern, Yankee, teams and played some of their best games against them.

Nine Eagles will fly away at graduation—pitchers Jim Goodwin, Luther Smith, and John Warlick will all be gone.

Infielders leaving the flock will be Tom Brown, Ron Cawthon, and Pete Whitfield. Outfielders Rod Michele, Ron Shepard, and Monte Tillman have also played their last games for the Blue and White.

The 20-15 season is now officially history. But who knows? Next year, 1970, could be the "year of the Bird."

No Tourney Change Is RR Eagles

Despite their record of having beaten the Florida State Seminoles twice in four games, the Georgia Southern Eagles basketball team will not get the chance to represent the district at the national tournament this summer.

Coach Bill Spieth was informed last week that this honour has gone to the Bears of Mercer University (Macon, Ga.).

Mercer had a 21-5 record last week as compared with Georgia Southern's record of 20-15.

Most of Mercer's victories came in games played in the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference schedule.

Mercer never met Georgia Southern in competition this season.

SUMMER CAMP IN TUMBLING AND WEIGHT TRAINING

COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Interested in attending a summer tumbling and weight training camp? Please contact Jim Dooley via P. O. Box 3669 G.S.C. or phone 764-9795 or in person.

There will be a pre-camp meeting Monday, May 26, to discuss insurance provisions. The instructor is certified and is a member of the G.S.C. faculty.

The first 25 applications will be accepted. The program will span 8 weeks, beginning approximately June 14 and ending before summer quarter exam week. It will occupy 5 hours per week—2-1½ hour sessions 2 nights per week plus a 2 hour session on Saturday mornings.

Miss Janie Dodson will assist in the tumbling program. Those interested may see her for information.

SAVANNAH TO STATESBORO RUN FAILS BY THIRTEEN MILES

Hugh de Lacy's attempt to run from Savannah to Statesboro last Saturday fell 13 miles short of its goal.

Shortly before 9 a.m. on Saturday, de Lacy rounded the corner off Highway 46 onto Highway 67 and headed for Georgia Southern and home, 13 miles away.

He got barely 100 yards closer than that.

A few minutes earlier, as he had been approaching the junction with 67, the strain of the previous 40-odd miles caught up with him and he passed out for about a minute.

He managed to get up and walk and jog the last few hundred yards to the turn and then along to where Trainer Mickey Cobb was waiting with the college station wagon.

After resting and eating for about 10 minutes, de

Lacy went out to start again for Statesboro but could not raise the strength to run and was hustled into the car by Cobb and run organizer Joey Williams.

STARTED WELL

The run had gone well over the early stages.

De Lacy started out from Savannah, in company with Cobb, Williams and another runner, Benny Hicks, at 3 a.m. and passed through Pooler shortly before 4 a.m.

With 10 miles behind him he was feeling very strong so decided against stopping for the five-minute refreshment break originally planned for this stage.

He again elected to forego the second planned rest stop at the 20-mile mark which was passed some time after 5 a.m. and keep on for the first turn-off from Highway 80 to 46 at about the 25-mile mark.

FEELING STRAIN

By the time he reached the turn-off, de Lacy was feeling the strain badly and was regretting having passed up the rest stops.

If any mistake was made in the run, it was not stopping as originally planned.

By the time de Lacy did stop, his stomach was too unsettled to take any food and he later simply ran out of fuel.

The next miles to the 30-mile mark were long and difficult. De Lacy was feeling very weary and had recurring cramp in his right knee and ankle.

At the stop at the 30-mile mark, Mickey Cobb was able to rectify the leg trouble by padding de Lacy's shoes.

MUCH BETTER

When de Lacy started out again he was feeling much better and the junction with 67 didn't seem so far away.

But after the next five miles, the rot really began to set in with de Lacy getting progressively slower and wearier.

About three miles from the junction, there came a brief recovery and the pace stepped up noticeable but died to slower than ever about a mile.

Williams and Hicks each ran about 20 miles beside de Lacy during the attempt.

The entire scheme, aimed to publicize William's Hundred-Mile Club, was financed by the GSC Department and both the run and the club received the Athletic Department's complete support from their inception.

FALCONS WHIP BSU NO. 2 TWICE

The long battle between the Falcons and BSU Number Two, the top teams in the intramural men's basketball league was finally resolved last Tuesday night.

In two games to decide the overall winner of the men's competition, the Falcons twice won with scores of 57-50 and 55-48.

The two top fraternity teams, Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma, had early been beaten out of the competition in the double elimination tournament.

The Falcons deserved their win, maintaining far greater cohesion than BSU which showed little of the smooth form that carried it to a belated leadership of the independent league prior to the double elimination.

Guard Al Blizzard controlled the game for the Falcons, handling well and putting in some difficult lay-ups from behind the board, as well as some long-distance bombers.

He was well supported by center Jerrell Jones who was always in the thick of things, working particularly well on the boards.

Of the formidable BSU line-up, only center and former Eagle basketballer Larry Pritchard showed anything like his usual form.

Pritchard sank some impressive turn-arounds and hooks from underneath and was the dominant rebounder of the two teams.

But sharpshooter Bubby Jones couldn't hit a thing after notching upwards of 28 points on occasion in earlier matches and even the normally hard-working Ricky Smith was unsteady.

ABOVE: Action in the Falcons vs BSU No. 2 match played as the final of the men's intramural basketball competition at Hanner Gym last Tuesday night. The Falcons (in white shirts) best BSU 57-50 and 55-48 after the top fraternity teams had both been dispatched in the double elimination competition.

Open Letter To Athletic Dept.

Dear Sir,

I would like to express my sincere thanks for your great help first in financing and assisting in the attempted run from Savannah to Statesboro last Saturday, and also your generous support in backing the Hundred-Mile Club, and your assistance, advice and encouragement in getting it under way.

I would particularly like to thank Mr. Mickey Cobb for his tremendous help before, during and after the run last Saturday. Without his help, the measure of success Hugh de Lacy came by would not have been achieved.

It is my sincere hope that the benefits accruing the Athletic Department from the Hundred-Mile Club will in some measure pay off the debt the club owes you for its existence.

Sincerely yours,
Joe B. Williams

Hundred-Mile Club Comes to Life

The new Georgia Southern College Hundred-Mile Club came to life on Monday when the first day of canvassing for members attracted nearly 40 applications.

It is expected that this number will be greatly increased when the faculty is made a special target for promotion and later when membership is opened to townspeople and the local high school students who have shown considerable interest in the club.

The club received a great amount of publicity through the attempted run from Savannah to Statesboro last Saturday by Hugh de Lacy and even though the attempt itself did not meet with 100 per cent success, it nonetheless served to bring the club to the attention of the college and assure its success.

Members who have already signed up will be able to begin tallying up their mileages on the receipt of their membership cards, mileage report cards etc, this week.

The miles they compile during what is left of the quarter will be computed as part of the mileage of next fall quarter.

For those interested, a special computation will be maintained through the summer months, for which a separate system of awards will be in effect.

In this way, those who will not be in Statesboro during the summer will not return for fall quarter at any mileage disadvantage against those who were here.

Those who have not had the opportunity to file membership applications yet but would like to can do so by addressing a note to: GSC Hundred-Mile Club, Landrum Center Box 8972, Georgia, Southern, or by contacting either Joe Williams or Hugh de Lacy at Brannen Hall, Room 216 (extension 274).

ODE TO SAM'S WIN OVER SEMINOLES

Eagles pitcher Sam Hendrix really made a hero of himself when he pitched Southern to a 3-2 win over the Florida State Seminoles on April 30.

In fact, he was so impressive that he inspired someone to write a poem about him.

The poem was found pinned to the bulletin board in the George-Anne office last week.

There was no name on it so we don't know who wrote it but we presume whoever it was wanted it published.

Maybe someone will write one about Herbie Hutson now that Herbie shares with Sam the honour of having beaten the Seminoles.

It looked extremely rocky, for GSC that day
When Herbie wiped out at home

And Hendrix went in to play.

But when Sam began to throw that junk,
Those FSU boys really stunk.

For the rest of the game Sam showed his stuff
And Southern's team looked really tuff.

In the 11th inning on Sam they did depend
And the "fat boy" came thru with another win.
