Dear colleagues,

The International Journal for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning has undergone some major transitions in the past six months. Sadly, Dr. Lorraine Gilpin, the former Editor, passed away on August 30, 2014. For those of us that had the pleasure of interacting with her, we found a generous, intelligent colleague. Her achievements are many and her contribution to SoTL extensive, but it is her personal qualities that we will miss the most. Lorraine was a Professor in the College of Education at Georgia Southern University.

Lorraine skillfully guided the International Journal for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning through the transition from the founding editor, putting the journal on a strong footing to move forward. In September 2014 the journal transitioned to the new editorial model, with two editors, to manage the increasing submission rates. Lorraine set a dynamic direction for the journal and we are hoping that we can maintain her legacy by continuing to enhance the success of the journal.

Respectfully,
Delena Bell Gatch & Laura B. Regassa
