

Georgia Southern University

Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

The George-Anne

Student Media

3-14-1949

The George-Anne

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne>

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "The George-Anne" (1949). The George-Anne. 580.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne/580>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Media at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in The George-Anne by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Blue Tide Baseball Squad To Invade the "Gator State"

The Blue Tide Baseball squad will take to the road for the first game of the season on Monday, March 21, when the T.C. nine invades the "Gator State" to take on three Florida teams.

On the 21st and 22nd they will play the Green Cove Springs Naval Base at Green Cove Springs. From there the Tide will move on to Lakeland, Florida, where they will meet Florida Southern College in two games on the 23rd and 24th. For the last two games the boys will roll to Jacksonville, where they will take on the Naval Air Station on March 25 and 26.

This year the squad is being piloted by Coach J. I. Clements while Coach Searce has taken over the pitching staff. Mr. Clements is expecting good opposition from these teams, but he has made no statement as to his hopes for victory. To quote Coach Clements, "Whether we win or lose, the squad will hustle all the way." He further said that his squad is shaping up well in relation to the amount of practice he has had. The team has six more days of practice before the trip.

JOHN L. KELLY ELECTED AS NEW EDITOR

John L. Kelly, junior from Savannah, was elected to the editorship of the George-Anne Friday to succeed Bill Sarratt who graduates at the end of this quarter.

Kelly, a social science major, attended school here some 12 T.C. since the first of last year. He is married, and has three children.

In the same election, Walker "Bo" Whaley, senior from Metter, was elected from among the members at large on the Student Council to serve as secretary to the council, replacing Fred Waters, who also graduates this quarter.

Sorrow is only one of the lower notes in the oratorio of our blessedness. —Armistead Gordon.

Alpha Psi Omega Presents New Type Variety Show

The TC chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, will present a new and entirely different type of entertainment early in the spring quarter when the faculty and students join their talents to roll TC'ers in the aisles, according to a statement made by Jimmy Evans, president of the fraternity.

This musical minstrel variety show, which has been planned since the first of the school year, is to be presented late in March or early April, and will feature specialty numbers by faculty dignitaries as well as by members of the student body. It promises to live up to the hilarious standards set by the previous Alpha Psi Omega productions, the Guntherian melodramas, "He Ain't Done Righ by Neil, or Ain't He?" and its sequel, "Neil's Bells."

The proceeds from the revue will be used to sponsor the Alpha Psi Omega award, an annual recognition of achievement to be presented during the honors day program to the person who has contributed most to the cultural development of the theatre on the TC campus.

The qualifications for this award, decided upon at recent fraternity meetings, include the following points: Persons who are eligible for nomination for this award must be of junior or senior grade, must have worked with dramatic productions for at least two years, and must be a member in good standing of the Masquers who has contributed culturally to the advancement of the theatre at Teachers College during his sojourn here.

Members of Alpha Psi Omega will make out the list of candidates eligible for the award, and this list will be submitted to a committee of faculty and Alpha Psi members for final selection of the recipient of the award.

Body and mind react one upon the other. But the state of mind is a more critical matter for the living of life than the state of the body. —Winfred Rhoades.

FORMS MEET FORM—The young ladies with the classy chassis and yum yum features are beauty queens from the campus of Georgia Teachers College at Statesboro who paid a recent visit to the Morning News-Evening Press plant. John Bentley, News mechanical superintendent (extreme left) is introducing the bevy of queens to some of the intricacies of newspaper make-up with a page form as exhibit A. Left to right the girls are Miss Mary Ida Carpenter, Guyton; Miss Betty Fuller, McRae; Miss Mary West, Graymont; Miss Fay Joyner, Augusta, and Miss Joyce Bowen, Rhine. Prior to visiting here, the young ladies dropped in on the state legislature in Atlanta and a number of other points of interest in the state. Their tour included a ride on the Central streamliner Nancy Hanks II. They were accompanied by Mike Goldwire, head of the college department of journalism. (Photo by Mike Goldwire, developed by Southern Photo.)

TC Professors Judge Festival

Dr. Ronald J. Neil, Professor Jack Broucek, and Professor John Zaffuta, of the TC music department, were judges at the Eighth District Music Festival held in Douglas, Ga., March 4 and 5.

Dr. Neil judged the vocal solos, ensembles, and glee clubs. Mr. Broucek judged piano solos, instrumental solos and ensembles, and baton twirling. Mr. Zaffuta judged the elementary festival events, and Mr. William T. Veran, of Cairo, Ga., served as the judge for instrumental solos and bands.

The George-Anne

Volume 24

COLLEGEBORO, GA., MONDAY, MARCH 14, 1949

Number 19

Choir Sings Dubois Work

The Philharmonic Choir, under the direction of Dr. Ronald J. Neil, and accompanied by Professor Jack W. Broucek, will present its winter quarter concert tonight in the college auditorium. The chorus will sing Dubois' oratorio, "Seven Last Words of Christ."

The oratorio will be preceded by a performance of Dr. Neil's recently published anthem, "Like As the Heart," with Anna Maria Tippins, contralto, as soloist.

Soloists include Anne Trice and Gay Kimbrough, sopranos; H. M. Fulbright, Laysel Bancroft, Arthur Justice, and James Hagan, tenors; and Hoke Smith and Gene Henderson, baritones.

"Seven Last Words of Christ" is the fourth in a series of famous oratorios presented by the choir, previous productions having been Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Handel's "Messiah," and Haydn's "The Creation."

IRC Plans Talent Show For April Presentation

TC talent, usual and unusual, featuring "Bo" Whaley as a master of ceremonies, will be the attraction of the evening in the college auditorium April 13, at 8 o'clock.

TC Students Cut Publicity Discs

Students from the music and speech departments of TC, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Stewart, professor of speech, and Jack W. Broucek, professor of music, were guests of Radio Station WTOG, in Savannah, last Tuesday for the purpose of making 15-minute transcriptions.

These transcriptions will be made available this week to a majority of radio stations over the State of Georgia, to bring Georgia Teachers College before the people of our state. These programs, planned by Mr. Broucek as radio chairman of the college, will be heard over more than 40 stations within the next two months. As soon as possible, notices will appear on the college bulletin board so that students will be able to hear these programs, the first in a series the college hopes to make available to radio audiences in Georgia.

Students making the trip included James Evans, Anne Moore, Jimmy Gunter and Arthur Yarbrough.

Henderson On Committee of 50

President Zach Henderson of TC has been named to serve on an Advisory Committee on Training to assist the dean of Emory University School of Theology.

Dr. Henderson and fifty other Methodist leaders met at Emory March 6 and set up a permanent organization of the planning body. Its membership is comprised of

The TC talent show, the first program of its nature ever to be presented on the TC campus, is being sponsored by the International Relations Club, with entrees sponsored by the various organizations on the campus.

"Bo" Whaley, TC senior, and recognized impersonator, will act as master of ceremonies for the event, and entrees will be limited to the student body only.

The organizations sponsoring the three winning entrees, as determined by the judges will be awarded cash prizes, the amount of which will be announced later.

Talent will be judged upon originality, quality and effectiveness of presentation. Each club will determine the kind of talent it wishes to enter, and the method of presentation.

The usual talents would include dances, readings, dramatic sketches, impersonations, instrumental music and singing. Unusual and original performances are encouraged.

Letters of invitation have been extended to each organization, and the amount of time allotted each entree will be announced as soon as the number of entrees can be ascertained.

Admission will be twenty-five cents. After the tickets have arrived they may be purchased from members of the International Relations Club.

representatives from the annual conferences of the entire south-eastern United States.

A major objective of the committee is the training of men in sufficient numbers to serve all Methodist churches in this area. Though many churches are now without pastors, due to the shortage of ministers, enrollment in

Continued on Back Page

14 TC Seniors Complete Work

At least fourteen TC seniors will either complete work for degrees at the end of the present quarter or plan not to return during the spring quarter, but will complete requirements by taking correspondence courses.

The students will return to the campus to receive their diplomas with the spring graduating class.

An unofficial, and perhaps incomplete, list of winter quarter graduates includes the following:

Mary Clements, Millard Green, Thomas Hillaid, James Holloway, Albert Howard, Tom Hutchinson, Edsel Joiner, John Proctor, Quillon Roberson, Derrell Roberts, Mary Rushing, Bill Sarratt, and Vera Stewart.

Vet Ball Team Gets Jackets

The Veterans basketball team celebrated the close of a successful season with a chicken supper at Dashers last Monday night.

During the festivities, Coach Dudley Spell presented red and black jackets to members of the team. In appreciation for the fine work Coach Spell has done for the team, he was presented with a useful gift.

The team and dates, chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Tom Little, terminated the evening with dancing. Calvin Brewton acted as master of ceremonies.

On Wednesday night all members of Veterans Club and their dates enjoyed a fish fry at Dashers.

Men are disturbed, not by the things that happen, but by their opinions of things. —Epictetus.

EDITORIALS

Absence of Confusion Improves Registration

TC STUDENTS WHO registered Wednesday may have been aware that the registration was a typical one from the point of view that speculation as to whether certain courses called for term papers was as much in evidence as ever, but one thing that was definitely out of character was the absence of confusion.

In the past, registration has often meant waiting and waiting and waiting with nothing to break the monotony but occasional mild pandemonium. But Wednesday, thanks to an efficient organization on the part of the registrars, a student had little to do but walk up to the desk of one of the Student Council members, acting as registrars, get his worksheet, make out his course cards, and give them to the dean. The whole process took less than ten minutes.

Of course the registration was only for students who had no change in their schedules made out under more trying conditions last fall. There was no necessity for the instructors to sign the cards, and since the students' names were already listed on instructors' course sheet there were no heart-breaking, time-consuming revisions on account of classes being filled.

Nevertheless, a little streamlining could be applied to the regular registration. If it never is, we can at least look back on that March 9, '49 date as absolutely and incredibly unique in the annals of TC registration.

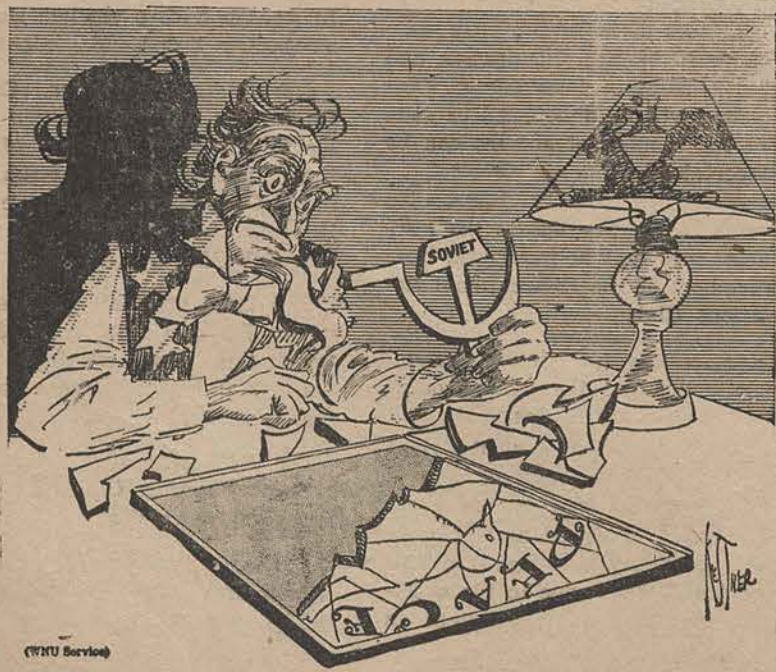

Two Variety Shows Bulges School Calendar

IF THE BULGING calendar of school attractions and activities (coming along so propitiously with last minute cramming and catching up on studies) seems staggering, just wait 'till next quarter!

Two stories on our front page, poised, it seems to us, like two well-bred dowagers smiling faintly at each other and longing to lash out with a fishwife's tongue, inform us we have two variety shows to look forward to. Alpha Psi Omega and the International Relations Club are responsible for the twin shows—both scheduled for production early in the quarter. Just what sentiments the clubs hold toward each other is one question, but what the students have to look forward to is another.

The students should benefit. Both projects, activated by a spirit of competition, should come off with a blaze of glory.

Puzzled

Collegiate Cavalcade

By CLARECE MURRAY

A bore is one who insists upon talking about himself when you want to talk about yourself. So that is the reason we all talk at one time.

A Swell-head is nature's frantic effort to fill a vacuum. Poor over-worked nature.

No, I am not turning this column into advice to the would-be-successful. Just passing on a few fragments. He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life is an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction. Perhaps Bessie A. Stanley had an insight when she wrote this or maybe it was just plain logic.

Who said it? Be courteous to all, but intimate with few; true friendship is a plant of slow growth, and labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience. Why, George Washington said it, of course.

And there was the Sunday school teacher who asked her primary class if they knew where little boys go when they smoke. Johnnie's quick reply was, "Yep; up the alley."

For all of you purveyors of billingsgate I quote Phil Ossofer of the Rockmart Journal who says, "Cussing, the most useless waste of energy known to man."

He goes further to explain that the only way to avoid objectionable expressions after the habit has been firmly established is to adopt a substitute.

Though the job was long and life got tedious he decided that he had just about reached perfection the day he had three punctured tires during one ride and all he said when the last one hissed flat was, "Of all the qualified luck, this is the qualifidest; I knew those qualified tires would blow out the first time they hit a double-qualified rut." At this his lady companion promptly turned white with shock and snapped, "Well, of all the d... qualified nonsense! Stop eating your tie and fix the tire."

So qualified is the word you want, and don't you ever doubt it, Kid.

Mental Trip in East Goes From Riots to Cookies

By BETTY CLAIRE LEWIS

Hi, everyone! My twin sister has asked me to write for her. "Please, Betty, just this once." So, what can I lose, besides my valuable time and a beautiful friendship?

I think I'll just sit here on the front of East Hall where the sun shines brighter than any other spot on the campus and take a mental trip upstairs.

(On the third floor)—Just as I suspected—two riots are going on. Betty Fuller has come home to the perch. Were we ever so glad to see anyone? Everyone, including Keith, is glad to have her back. Aha! What's at the bottom of this huddle over here? Cookies! Just as I suspected. But, come away, we're too late. That's what I love about my friends. They always say—just as the last cookie disappears—"We should have saved Louie one." O well, into each life some rain must fall.

Down on second Eva is almost ready to meet Paul (no comment necessary). Let's come on down to first—back home. But who can that be clomping down the stairs but Jean and Anne. A little lighter on the heels, please, girls!

There have been many happy events on first these last few days, not among the least of which was a sentimental journey Emily Boykin took home. Why? Well, you may not know it, but that lovely diamond ring spells a beautiful promise soon to come true. Oh, Emily! You lucky girl.

Visitors to East Hall can't help noticing the new family that has just moved into the logat tree just behind the dormitory. Now, with all the serenading songbirds, several things have developed. We have a country atmosphere; Butch has developed a competitive complex; and, to top it all, there's talk of using them for homing pigeons between East and Sanford to ease the strain on the phone.

Speaking of visitors, we've had some wonderful ones lately. Peggy Griffin, Ann Rickett, Jo Ann Moore, Jackie McDonaldson, and Betty Davis. Famous last words: "I shall return."

Well, I must cut short this chatter. Oh, hello there, Mildred! Going to supper?

Prominent news photographers will judge the contest during Journalism Week at the University of Missouri, May 3-7, 1949.

Ten prints in each division will be selected for a traveling exhibit known as "The Kappa Alpha Mu 50-print Show." This show will appear at colleges and camera clubs throughout the nation. Entry blanks and rules may be secured by writing to W. J. Bell, secretary, Kappa Alpha Mu, 18 Walter Williams Hall, Columbia, Missouri.

Men are disturbed, not by the things that happen, but by their opinions of things. —Epictetus.

Physic, for the most part, is nothing else but the substitute of exercise or temperance. —Joseph Addison.

Teacher Group Urges U. S. Aid For Training

ST. LOUIS Mo., March 3.—Capable young people who wish to prepare for teaching would be granted scholarships by states and the federal government under a plan urged here by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

President Zach S. Henderson and Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, of TC, along with four hundred other administrative officers from colleges in all parts of the nation took part in the association's convention, held as one of more than a dozen meetings in connection with the midwestern conference of the American Association of School Administrators which ended here last night.

Scholarships advocated by the college executives to help supply an additional million teachers during the next ten years would include both tuition and living expenses.

The association also went on record as favoring one central accrediting agency for institutions preparing teachers. Members voted that the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, which represents colleges and universities preparing approximately 75 percent of the nation's teachers, should be that agency.

Association members also reviewed work of the international relations committee which is sponsoring German and Austrian educators studying in the United States for study and pledged support to military government authorities in efforts to build democratic programs for teachers in occupied territories.

Through its committee on accrediting the association approved the following institutions for four-year degrees: Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at Ruston, Louisiana, and the State Teachers College at Frostburg, Maryland.

Approved for graduate work were: The Western Washington College of Education at Bellingham, the Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg, the Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg, and Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville; Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney and Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, North Carolina.

Dr. W. E. Peik, dean of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, was elected president of the association, succeeding Dr. Walter E. Hager, president of Wilson Teachers College, Washington, D. C. The new vice president is President John G.

Continued on page 3.

The George-Anne

(Established 1927)

Editor-In-Chief Bill Sarratt
Asso. Editor Arlo Nesmith
News Editor Anne Moore
Feature Editor James Johnson
Society Ed. Regis Rowell
Exchange Ed. Clarece Murray
Circulation Mgr. ... Bobby Quick
Make-Up Ed. George Parrish
Business Mgr. Gene Henderson

—Reporters—

Anna Marie Tippins, Latha Tyson,
Margaret Harrison, Bettie Lewis,
Bobby Smith, Lola Robbins.

Monday, March 14, 1949

Published weekly, Sept. to June, except during holidays by Georgia Teachers College students.

(Entered as second-class matter at Postoffice at Collegeboro, Ga., under temporary permit.)

Subscription—$1.50 Year

Fragility, Thy Name, Woman

(A Vignette by Albert Key)

The afternoon sun lulled over the horizon as if reluctant to leave and the in-rolling waves began tossing little gusts of soothing breezes across the hotel terrace as Rosalind Burdette sighed wistfully and flipped a page of the novel she was reading.

Dave Bowman threw a radio-script into Bill Freeman's lap and stood up. He stretched his youthful limbs, but the usual yawn was delayed with "Um-m-uh! From what strange stardust did that lovely creature evolve?" He stared at the lathesome form of the young lady who was reposing in an almost tender languishment at the other end of the terrace. "Surely, she was not made of the same bitter clay as I. Whew! Look at that, Bill!"

Bill reminded him that they were not at the beach for pleasure and advised less concentration upon the women and more attention to the script they were writing.

"Just look at that!" continued Dave, ignoring Bill's remarks. "That bathing suit embraces her like a sunburn! . . . And that hair! That lustrous hair! Why, it looks like a . . . a . . . like a . . . Ah! the devil! With what can one compare that beeyootiful hair. Certainly with nothing earthly. . . . Looks more like an armful of that reddish-brown sky on the bottom layer out there. Umh! Her face makes that blue-striped chaise lounge look like a Monet sky. I swear, Bill, that is the most classic exponent of femininity I've ever seen!"

Now reclining, his hands clasped behind his head, Dave went on to say that it was not only unethical but bordering on the ridiculous for one to allow such vagrant beauty to be wandering around—all alone. "I think I'll go over and borrow her lipstick . . . a match . . . or something."

"Be sensible, Dave!" said Bill, rather heatedly. "Anything that gorgeous is bound to have a man around somewhere. She's probably married. . . . See! She's looking at her watch . . . expecting the ole man any minute. . . . Don't let that veneer of the idle rich engulf you, my boy. . . . I'll bet she'd throw that book atcha if you disturbed her. . . . And besides, Dave, we've just enough legal tender to pay the hotel bill."

Dave took one long, last look at her supple form and said, "Come peasant! Let us to the room and finish this darn script. I'll never be able to think clearly out here."

"Why, Rosalind Why are you back so soon?" shouted Mary, as she rushed across the little apartment they shared in the city. "You said you were going to stay two weeks at the . . . darling . . . you're crying."

"Oh, Mary," Rosalind pitifully sobbed, while clinging to her pillow. "I was so terribly lonely. I spent all I had to stay at the Seaside Hotel for the last two days. . . . I've always wanted to stay there. . . . And, Mary!" she continued, mingling her words with the plaintive heaving of her breast. "During the entire week only one man even spoke to me—just one—and he was the elevator boy. . . . And you know what he said to me when I was checking out, Mary? . . . Oh, Mary! he said, 'Goin' down, Miss?'"

THE END

Social Slants

By REGIS ROWELL

The Wesley Foundation Council and their dates enjoyed a picnic at Ebenezer Saturday afternoon.

Miss Marjorie Couch was entertained Monday night at the home of Kate Kennedy with a surprise party given by her winter quarter student teachers. Those attending were entertained by various games, after which a delicious buffet supper was served. Those attending were Miss Marjorie Couch, Miss Queen Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weeks, Ruth Swinson, Ray Hutchinson, Harriett Roughton, Bill Johnson, Jack Douglas, and Kate Kennedy.

Miss Louise Bennett and her student teachers were entertained at a chicken supper at the home of Mrs. Jay Sarratt, immediately following the lab school square dance in the gym Friday night.

The student council entertained at a dinner party last Monday night in the dining room of the Jaekel Hotel in Statesboro, in honor of retiring members Fred Waters and Millard Green and new members, James Evans and Eugene Kendricks. Other invited

Weaver Attends Tulane Meeting

Dr. Herbert Weaver, head of the TC Department of Social Sciences, attended the Regional Conference on Social Studies at the graduate school of Tulane University in Louisiana last week.

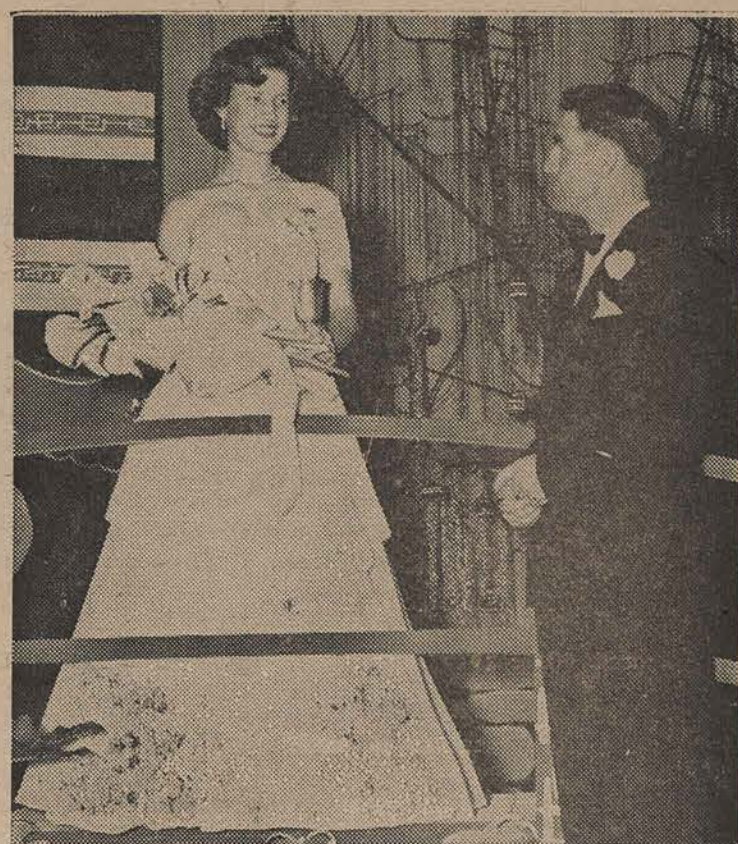

The meeting, which lasted from Thursday, March, 10, to Friday, March 11, attracted delegates from all over the South. Conferences held on the Tulane campus Thursday and Friday mornings and afternoons included the topics, "Integration of the Social Studies," led by Dean Roger P. McCutcheon, of the graduate school of Tulane University; "Social Science in Public Opinion Research," led by Dean Logan Wilson, of Newcomb College, Tulane University; "Specialization in the Social Studies," led by Dean Fred C. Cole, College of Arts and Sciences, Tulane University; and "Application of the Social Studies" led by Professor Robert Wauchope, director, Middle American Research Institute, Tulane University.

One of the highlights of the entire conference was the dinner meeting held Thursday evening at Antoinette's, fabulous French restaurant in New Orleans, at which Professor Merle Curti discussed "Charles A. Beard's Contributions to the Social Sciences."

T Club Gives Chicken Supper

The T Club entertained Saturday night with a chicken supper and dance at Dasher's. All present and former members of the club and their dates were invited. Former members of the club who were expected to attend were Frank Bagley, Hinesville High School; L. D. Bowen, Fitzgerald High School; Jerry Conner, student at Mercer University; Tom Dykes, Hawkinsville High School; James "Stinky" Hall, Statesboro High School; and "Rhed" Prosser, Waynesboro High School.

guests were President Henderson and Dean Carroll, faculty sponsor.

PRETTIEST TEACHER—Betty Fuller, McRae, Georgia Teachers College freshman, smiles radiantly before the admiring gaze of her escort, Keith Clements, Ray City, after being named "Miss T. C." in the third annual beauty revue held on the Statesboro campus. Clements, a college junior, is a letterman on the college varsity baseball team.

T. C. Students Dine To Music

Diners in the TC chow hall are currently enjoying soft strains of the best in popular and semi-classical music, thanks to the efforts of the student council. The movement to improve the atmosphere of the dining hall by using the best of TC's own talent was sponsored by Ben Darsey, vice president of the council.

The program for this week, up to Thursday, includes performances by Marjorie Weatherford and Betty Zetterower on Monday; Mary Ida Carpenter and Doris Hagin on Tuesday; Mary Ida Carpenter and Douglas Moore on Wednesday; and, tentatively, Professor John Zaffuta on Thursday night.

U. S. AID—

Continued from page 2.

Flowers of Southwest, Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos. Dean L. D. Haskew, College of Education, University of Texas, and Dean Ernest O. Melby, of the School of Education, New York University, are new executive committee members.

DRIVING OR WALKING...

—||—
CITY DRUG CO.
SIDNEY LANIER
"The Wisdom of Age
with
The Efficiency of Youth"
E. Main Street
—||—

HINES
DRY CLEANERS
Expert Cleaning
Service
W. Vine St.

—Visit—
THE SODA SHOP
Ice Cream - Sundies
Milk Shakes - Shrimp
Hamburgers - Hot Dogs
Steaks - Oysters - Chicken

Try Our Dry Goods
— • —
SAM
ROSENBERG
— • —
South Main
Street

DuBose Dry Cleaners
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
—(Hobson DuBose, Owner)—

H. Minkovitz
SONS

Statesboro's Leading DEPARTMENT STORE

We Grow

As We Serve Our Community

Bulloch County Bank

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Denmark Candy Company

J. E. Denmark—J. T. Denmark
—WHOLESALE MERCHANDISE—
North Zetterower Ave.—Phone 539-L

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT The College Pharmacy

We Carry Your Favorite Merchandise:

Yardley, Old Spice, Lucien LeLong,
Elizabeth Arden, DuBarry, Revlon,
Norris Exquisite Candies

HOBSON DuBOSE

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

CATALINA SWEATERS — NUNN-BUSH SHOES

• GREEN'S GALE •

By MILLARD GREEN

The Intra-Mural basketball program is coming to an end with Peacock and Edwards running neck and neck for first place. These two teams came in first and second in the first half with Edwards taking top honors after going undefeated. In this half Peacock has been defeated in one game, losing to Edwards, who, in turn has dropped a game to Oliver by two points.

The intra-mural program, in my estimation, has been a very successful one; but it seems that at least one improvement could be made. That would have been the presence of our young ladies at these ball games. The reason for their absence I do not know, but I do know that the girls did want to attend the games and I don't believe that they would have taken privileges other than this will be remedied next quarter.

The girl's intra-mural tourney ended with Iris Lee's sextet taking top honors. These girls represented the second floor of East Hall. The Lewis Hall squad, which was defeated by the East Hall girls, took second place.

Congratulations to Coach "Dud" Spell and his Veterans basketball team on a successful season of ten wins in 16 starts. The Vets have taken the name of Teachers College to many of the smaller communities of this section and they have given a good impression on every occasion, not only in basketball prowess but in spirit and sportsmanship.

By the time you read this you will have seen the sharp red and black jackets the vets have been wearing for the past week. They were awarded at a dinner last Monday night.

Bill Bell was the top scorer for the season with Bill Tyre taking second honors in this category.

With only six days of practice left, Coach Clements and his baseball squad have much work on their hands if they are to be ready for their six-game road trip into the "Gater State" next week. The squad is shaping up pretty good as I see it except for the pitchers and I haven't seen them work, so I can't say anything. The infield seems to be just like the proverbial geese as they scamper all over the skinned area to scoop up the ole rock. J. E. Calhoun, a transfer from Middle Georgia, has been the fielding standout as far as I have seen it. Of course Clements is still camped at third base, and Mason is hitting nicely again this year. Roger Parsons, who was like a cat on the hardwood, is operating nicely at shortstop. Otis Mobley, one of Wilson's bulldogs last year, is also doing nicely at third base.

In the outfield, Al Williams, Joe Middlebrooks, and Doug Daniels look to me like naturals with Casey King and Keith Clements coming up close to offere plenty of competition. "Lank" Stephens, "Mitch" Conner, and "Curt" Tomlinson are three candidates for the work at first base. Durwood Davis and Mike Alderman will share most of the work behind the plate.

Well, guys and gals, "Green's Gale" has blown its courses and passes with this issue. I realize that you have gained very little reading my "bull," but I hope that I have given you some pleasure and I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my readers for their compliments and criticisms. In closing, I would like to give you a poem that hung in the office of the immortal Knute Rockne. It expresses my feeling toward this thing called sportmanship, and I hope you will like it:

ATHLETE'S PRAYER

Dear Lord, in the battle that goes through life,
All I ask is a field that is fair,
An equal chance with the rest of the strife,
A chance to try and a chance to dare.
And if I should win let it be by this code
With my faith and honor held high.
And if I should lose let me stand by the road
And cheer as the winners go by.

INSIST ON . . .

GRADE "A" PASTEURIZED MILK

. . . IT'S SAFER

—City Dairy Company—

IDEAL SHOE SHOP
"THE COLLEGE SHOP"

1-DAY
SERVICE

PATRONIZE THE FRIENDLY

SEA ISLAND BANK

SAFETY • COURTESY • SERVICE

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

For the Best in Clothing, Courteous, and Prompt Service.

Men's & Boy's Clothing Store

Alpha Rho Tau Has Buffet

The final spring quarter meeting of the Alpha Rho Tau art club was held in the form of an informal buffet supper last Thursday night in the art room.

In the completely transformed classroom three tables were arranged, attractively decorated in blue and green, and featuring forget-me-not place cards. The guests, who dined by candlelight, were served from the big buffet table at the back of the room.

Entertainment was furnished by Bennie Spell, Marvin Norman, and James Bryan.

During the after-dinner coffee, Dean Roberson, club president, was presented a piece of silver in her chosen pattern in appreciation of her services to the club, and Georgeanne Howard was presented a piece of her silver service for representing the club in the beauty revue. These awards were presented by Marvin Norman, treasurer of the club.

Among the invited guests attending the supper were Misses Lila Brady and Fostine Akins, past members, and Mr. Buddy Barnes.

HENDERSON—

(Continued from front page)

the Emory School of Theology is approaching an all-time high.

"Recruitment of ministers," according to Dean H. B. Trimble, "must be supplemented by adequate, rounded training to meet the needs of the modern church. This newly-formed advisory committee will assist in planning such training."

Physic, for the most part, is nothing else but the isubstitute of exercise or temperance. —Joseph Addison.

Happiness is as a butterfly, which wen pursued, is always beyond our grasp, but which, if you sit down quietly, may alight upon you. —Hawthorne.

Sob With Margaret

By MARGARET HARRISON

Until now, I didn't know that TC's intellect had so many problems. O. K., so you're from Misery and must be shown. Here's proof:

Dear Miss Harrison,

I'm in love with three men. I love them all dearly. What shall I do?

LOVELY.

Dear Lovely,

I think that you are a very spoiled and heartless girl. How can you—with the shortage of men on the TC campus—hoard them. Do, for the coeds' sakes, marry one and put the other two back into circulation.

MISS HARRISON.

Dear Margaret,

My husband is running around with other women. He says he loves me but denies all accusations. The question is: Can he love me as a husband should love his wife, lie to me, and run around with other women at the same time? I love him more than anyone should love a person and would do anything in my power to make our marriage last. It must be all his fault 'cause he said I was the perfect wife.

Needing your help, I remain
"PUZZLED."

Dear Puzzled,

Give him a dose of his own medicine. Be seen with other men, invite them to delicious suppers that you concoct with your own lily-white hands. If this does not make him jealous, I know of nothing further to do.

Due to circumstances beyond my control (I have never been married), I am not capable of advising you any more.

MARGARET.

Dear Miss Harrison,

I am a poor, one-date-a-month freshman. Before the library rules clamped down and broke up my beautiful courtships, I was able to flirt with just about three different, ambitious boys a night. Now I am forced to write you and ask you how I can retain the love and admiration of all my beloveds and still go steady with just ONE of them.

RUSHED.

Dear Rushed,

I suggest that you acquire a steady boy friend who lives in Cobbtown. Due to the excellent bus schedules in Statesboro, he would be able to take you out once a month.

In the meantime, let your motto be: "Make hay while the sun shines."

MISS HARRISON.

Again, I extend an invitation to you to let me solve your problems. Either I does or I doesn't. Just address me at The George-Anne.

-301 Grill-

The Best Place in Town For

-||-

Short Orders

-||-

Just outside the College

Gate

GEORGIA

Pick of the Pictures

NOW SHOWING

MONDAY, MARCH 14

The Kissing Bandit

with
Frank Sinatra
Kathryn Grayson
(In Technicolor)

TUESDAY, MARCH 15

Embraceable You

Dane Clark
Geraldine Brooks

WED., THURS., FRIDAY
March 16-17-18

Commnad Decision

with
Calrk Gable Walter Pidgeon
Van Johnson, Brian Donley

SATURDAY, MARCH 19

Frontier Marshal

with Randolph Scott
Nancy Kelly
— and —

Shut My Big Mouth

Joe E. Brown

• FRANKLIN •
RADIO SERVICE

ZENITH & MOTOROLA
RADIOS

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

—Phone 582—

■ MCGREGOR ■

—Jackets

—Shirts

—Slacks

—Sweaters

CURLEE CLOTHES - FREEMAN SHOES

DONALDSON-SMITH

7 South Main

S. W. LEWIS, Inc.

Ford

—SALES & SERVICE—

Statesboro - - - - - Georgia