T. C. Nine Invades S. Carolina This Week

The Georgia Teachers College "Blue Tide" will invade the "Palmetto" state this week to play two of its most brilliant rivals of last season.

On the first stop of the road trip the "Blue Tide" will play a two-game series with Erskine College at Due West, S. C. The first game will be played on the 21st and the second on the 22nd of April. During the basketball season T.C. took two games from Erskine and during last year's baseball season they split four games evenly with this team.

The second stop will be at Newberry, S.C., where the "Blue Tide" will play the Newberry College Indians. The Indians was one of the strongest teams that the "Blue Tide" faced during last year's season. Last year the Tide split a pair of games with this team winning the home game to 2 behind Frank Bagley's superb pitching. In this game fans saw one of the best games any T.C. team has ever played.

Rev. George Lovell, Baptist minister, formerly of the North Augusta Baptist Church in Augusta, Ga., and now the pastor at the Baptist Church in Statesboro, was the speaker at assembly this morning and gave a very interesting talk. We wish to take this opportunity to welcome Rev. Lovell to the college and Statesboro.

Intern Supervisors Visit Campus

On May 5 and 6, a group of intern supervisors from the University of Georgia will be on the campus to study certain phases of the Lab School. This is the first time that we have had a class of intern supervisors on this campus and we hope them luck in their new field.

Collegeboro vs. Statesboro

There has been a game of friction going on between the college and the city of Statesboro for a good many years, and I think that it is time that we brought it to a conclusion. In order that this petty foolishness might cease it is going to take the cooperation of both of the factions.

This world is not built as a shell and we would not try to live in one. Friendship is the background of good understanding and we should try to go out of our way to make a friend whether he be good or bad.

In the next few weeks the George-Anne is going to compile some facts both from the college and town that will give a better understanding. I hope that everyone who is asked a question will answer it to the best of his ability. By doing this we might be able to build a concrete friendship that will last.

A Letter of Suggestion

Editor, The George-Anne:

Last week there was a letter from a student on the deplorable conditions of the dining hall. One thing that the student did not mention was the early hour that they close the door in the morning. Many times I have arrived at 7:35, 7:40, nad at the LATE hour of 7:45. I thought that the door was to remain open until 7:45 and then close. If I am in error please excuse me but I do think that when the door is closed 5 or 10 minutes before time and I have to go to the back door and there be accused of trying to sneak in to get my morning cup of coffee. I know that I am not the only one to get shut out of the Hall of Many Good Eats and I won't be the last one to be left out. I would like to see the door left open to that the ones who like to get that last cup of coffee may.

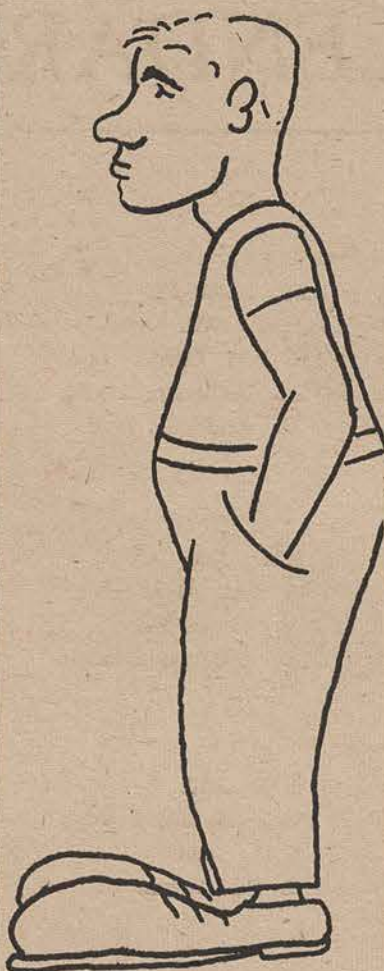

I would also like to put in a word here for the students who have been nice enough to cooperate on the placing of the cigarette butts in the urns. There has been a decided improvement on the looks of the campus since you announced that they had been placed there. I hope that the students will continue to cooperate on that issue.

I must now ask a question that has just come to my mind. Did someone in the student body pay their tuition with a cow and a carload of cabbage? They must have, from the amount of both that we are receiving.

Sincerely,

A STUDENT.

Meet Your Instructor

HERBERT WEAVER

I was born at Brewton, Ala., a lumber town which at one time was reputed to the wealthiest per capita in the United States. My father, however, was a merchant, and was, by no means, wealthy. My home was on the same tract of land first occupied by my great-grandfather when he moved to Alabama from South Carolina in 1817. Diphtheria came near cutting my career short when I was only two years old. Later I had several rounds with malaria which interfered greatly with one of my major interests, sports. After graduating from high school I entered Birmingham-Southern College where I participated in football, basketball and track under Rew Drew, now football coach at Alabama. For several years thereafter I taught and coached athletics in secondary schools spending my summers as lifeguard and counselor at Camp Winnataska, near Birmingham, and Camp Winnepee, Eagle River, Wisconsin. Then I went to graduate school at Vanderbilt where I met my wife. In 1940 I came to GTC where I taught two years before entering the army. My four years in the service were spent principally in Washington where I was with Air Forces Intelligence, Historical Division. Upon being discharged I returned to GTC.

DAVID B. HAWK

It is said that travel broadens one, but how broad can you get? I was born in Canada, went to school in the Tall Corn State, met my wife in Mexico, married her in North Carolina, set up housekeeping in Chicago, and now am continuing my education in the Peach State. Along with that I've had a few glimpses of England, Scotland, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland and Germany. I don't know which of all these places I like best. Each has its good points.

When I was in high school I decided to become a teacher because I thought I'd like it. I do. I have taught rural and high school in Iowa, junior high in North Carolina, and college in Georgia. I have degrees from Iowa State Teachers College and the University of Chicago. My favorite hobby is eating. I also like to take pictures. My ambition is to teach as well as my wife.

JACK NELSON AVERETT

While "growing up" in Statesboro, I began my association with the college as a music student. When a sixth grade teacher asked her class to write a theme on occupational ambitious, I chose college teaching—teaching at T. C. in fact. I often remind that sixth grade teacher of the assignment and its subsequent realization, for I joined the faculty of G.T.C. in 1946.

The year 1939 found me in the freshman class at the University of Georgia. Journalism somehow envolved as my chosen field, but was put aside for a more general course in History and English. (As I prepare this for a deadline, I know why I changed Majors.)

College years passed and brought my credits to Georgia Teachers College to finish with the class of 1944. The next year "The classic anthinian city" was again my home as I worked in graduate school with history.

Following the lines of a true teaching situation, my first year found me an instructor of math and science.

Books have been my "hobby" and my biggest library assignment resulted in my becoming a "hubby," for I married the LIBRARIAN.

Southern History is my special interest, and my great desire for "our" college is to see students aware of the many opportunities afforded by an institution of which I am very proud.

HESTER WALTON NEWTON

Once upon a time, as all long ago stories must begin, there lived a little tow-headed girl who spent a very happy childhood with three rollicking brothers. Her first memories of school were when she sat in her governess' lap and listened to stories, but most of all, she was interested in "Miss Lawrence's" bobbing curls encircling her face in doguerreo-type style. Then came the years in public school, followed by college years in the environs of Brenau's campus.

What next? Teaching? Never! Well, one never knows, for it was in September of her first year out of college that the trustees of the hometown school besought her to supply for a teacher who had failed to arrive. A verbal contract was agreed upon which ran like this, "I shall try teaching for two weeks and if I don't like it, I'll stop." That was in the early dawn of the twentieth century and still the teacher teaches. There is something in youth that is too challenging to stop.

To keep pace with educational whims, there have been, at spaced intervals, detours from the schoolroom to Peabody College for Teachers, Duke University and Columbia University, but the best training has come through contacts with the students of Georgia Teachers College.

This teacher's hobby is Georgia, her one ambition is to awaken Georgians to their greatest possibilities.

Know Your Store

The Blue Tide? What's that? Many people do not know that the name of the college store is The Blue Tide and many do not know who runs it; what the hours are, and who works in it.

First, The Blue Tide is the college store. It is located in the Post Office Building and one may find their all-the-necessary items to make life at T.C. more pleasant. The Blue Tide is open from 8:30 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon, Monday through Friday. Also, at night, for those last-minute good nights and crackers, the store is open from 9:15-9:45. On Saturday the store is open from 8:30 to 3, and is not open on Sunday.

As for who works there? Well—Miss Marjorie Jones is the big boss and a better looking one couldn't be found. There are three very nice college students (males) working under Margie, Bill Jones, I. E. Thigpen, and John Wheeler. The store is operated by the college and is a part of the daily life here at T.C.

Thank You All

The International Relations Club wishes to express their thanks and appreciation to the clubs; to "Bo" Whaley; to the judges, and to Newsome Summerlin for their splendid cooperation in making the Talent Show a success.

My son, observe the postage stamp! Its usefulness depends upon its ability to stick to one thing until it gets there. Josh Billings.

Step by step one gets to Rome.

MEN'S CHORUS

Booming out over the peaceful halls of Sanford came the results of the basses' extra practice last Wednesday and Thursday. A very enjoyable and helpful practice was held by the basses and baritones from three to four and the complete chorus from four to five. Work is progressing very rapidly on the operatta, "Trial By Jury," and also work on the other numbers that are to be presented in Dublin tomorrow. The entire chorus looks forward to the trip tomorrow and also the one on May 5. Anyone singing second tenor (or any of the other voices) is invited to join us.

B. S. U.

The installation ceremony for the new B.S.U. Council officers will be held at the Baptist Church on Sunday night, April 22. A mission fund is being raised to send two members of the State B.S.U. to work in California as missionaries.

THE GEORGE-ANNE

The regular meeting of the George-Anne was held in the office at regular meeting time on Wednesday, the regular day (night). The regular confusion by the regular staff was regular. Excuses were handed to the Editor as the regular latecomers arrived. Regular jokes and regular laughs were provided by Bettye Lewis and Buster Johnson.

MASQUERS

Bobby Smith was elected acting president of the Masquers following the resignation of James Evans.

Quite a discussion was held about the 50-cent vs. 75-cent admission for coming Masquers productions. If the honorable readers have some definite ideas on the subject, notify Dot Aycock, Jean Fordham, or Bettye Lewis, who are in charge of the poll on prices.

The Masquers spring production will be announced at a future date.

"T" CLUB

The definition of a club is an "association of persons for the promotion of some common object." This common object is the case of Georgia Teachers College "T" Club is the promotion of a better and more extensive athletic program. No great form of achievement can be reached in this association. However, without some strong support or backing from the entire student body.

Due to the baseball team's trip to Florida last Monday and Tuesday, the regular meeting of the "T" Club was postponed to a later date. Therefore no news is available from this source. All of this will be covered in the next edition of the George-Anne.

STUDENT COUNCIL

There was no meeting held this week and all the activities on the campus are going full blast. The election for May Queen was held by the student council this week and is being announced in the George-Anne.

THE WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation entertained the Baptist and Methodist young people with an egg hunt at the airport last Sunday afternoon. Alben Eber found the most eggs and Ann Miller found the prize egg. Eber said, "In Germany, only the little folks hunt eggs."

Thursday night "The Terrible Meek," a religious drama, based on Christ's crucifixion was presented for the second time.

—IMPORTANT—

It is requested that all clubs turn in news copy to the George-Anne office by Tuesday night. This is important so that our club page will be an asset to the campus. With cooperation the George-Anne can be a better paper.

BAND

The band has charge of the chapel program in a few weeks and we are working on it now. Since the program last quarter was slightly on the heavy side, they have planned a lighter program for this quarter.

I. R. C. CLUB

The IRC will hold its regular meeting this coming Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Audio Visual room of the library.

Alben Eber, German student, is a new member of our club.

HOME EC. CLUB

Monday night, April 11, the Home Economics Club had as guest speaker, Miss Helen Wolfe, head of the Home Economics department at Armstrong College. Miss Wolfe spoke on "Education for Family Life." She also gave some information about the state G.H.E.A. meeting, which a good many of the girls are to attend.

The Home Ec Club entertained with a formal dance last Tuesday night. The decorations for the dance were a portrayal of a garden scene with the use of ivy, balloons and a lake in the center of the dance floor, and the table from which refreshments were served was covered with a lace tablecloth centered with an arrangement of garden flowers which was flanked on either side with burning white tapers.

The reception committee was composed of the faculty sponsors and the officers of the club. Ruth Smith was chairman of the decoration committee. The refreshments were prepared by Miss Bolton and the 201 Foods Class. The club members who served were Annella Wells, Betty Reagan, and Sybil Daniels. Joyce Bowen was general chairman of the dance.

The entertainment was presented by Mary West, who sang, and Arthur Justice who was master of ceremony and who entertained with jokes and impersonations.

"The Professors," the college dance orchestra, furnished the music in appreciation of the fact that the Home Economics girls made the jackets for the members of the dance orchestra.

There was no scoring in the third but in the fourth Children walked, went to third on a sacrifice and scored as Robinson grounded out.

The home team added two more in the fifth to make the score 6 to 4. The runs came off when Daniels walked, stole second, and scored on Middlebrook's single. Williams singled, Alderman walked to load the bases, and Conner walked to force in a run. The side went out with three "ducks on the pond."

In the sixth Cuneo and Daniels reached first on errors, and Middlebrooks walked. Cuneo scored on a flyball to make the score 7 to 4. Then in the bottom of the seventh T.C. scored again when Conner reached first on an error, stole second and scored on a single by Mobley.

Piedmont got its last two runs in the eighth on two errors, a sacrifice and a hit. T.C. also scored two runs in the eighth when Daniels singled, Parsons doubled to score Daniels, and scored on successive ground-outs by Middlebrooks and Williams.

The "Teachers" suffered their first defeat on home grounds the next day at the hands of Piedmont by the score of 9 to 3.

Piedmont pushed across three runs in the top of the second when Palmer walked, W. Loudermilk singled, C. Huff reached first on an error, J. Loudermilk singled two runs in and Ridings drove in another with a single.

In the top of the fifth the Piedmont nine scored five more runs. Nelson singled, Robinson walked, W. Loudermilk doubled to drive in two runs, C. Huff singled W. Loudermilk across, J. Loudermilk walked. Jimmy Conner came in to pitch for T.C. and Ridings walked. Beechum, pinchhitting for G. Huff, singled two more runs in.

In the bottom of the fifth T.C. scored its first run when J. Conner reached third on an error, and scored as Parsons grounded out.

In the seventh Piedmont scored one run and the "Blue Tide" came back with two. M. Clements singled, J. Conner singled, Daniels forced M. Clements at third and Parsons doubled in two runs. This ended the scoring for the ball game and Piedmont was the winner 9 to 3.

Player of the Day, April 8

Branch Rickey looks for one important thing in hunting ball players — speed. Our pick for "player of the day" is Doug Daniels, a centerfielder who has speed to burn.

In five times at bat Daniels drew two walks, was safe on an error, flied out, and singled. The real highlight of the game was his speed in stealing four bases. Daniels stole second three times and third once; he also scored three runs to gain the honor of "Player of the Day."

Player of the Day, April 9

For the second time in as many weeks we pay tribute to Roger Parsons. This classy shortstop from Harlan, Ky., pounded out three hits, including a double, in five times at bat. "Rog" drove in all three runs, the first with a single to score J. Conner, and pounded a double to score J. Conner and Daniels.

Major League Pick

We would like to say something here about how we think the major league races will turn out this year. You may think we are "a little off the old rocker" on some of our selections but we have given the matter considerable thought.

We will start off with the senior look, the American League. Here is where you'll think we're off but we'll go on record by picking the Philadelphia Athletics in first place and Boston in second place pretty close behind but no play-off. We think there is at least one more pennant in Mr. Mack and we believe it is coming this year. The Athletics was a very young team last year and they did very good until near the end of the season. Now that these boys have another year's experience under their belts we think that they'll be right in there.

In the National League we are going to have to pick some "foreigners." Yeah, it looks to us like the pennant will go across the river to Brooklyn. Those boys have a reputation for playing pretty crazy ball (take Babe Herman, for instance) but we think that when the dust has cleared away the National League standings will show that "dem-bums" have done it again.
