FAMILY OF SENIORS—Pretty Miss Alethia Edwards and her brothers, Edgar (left) and Carroll, are members of a Claxton family which includes four college seniors. The three are seniors at Georgia Teachers College, and an older brother, Robert, is a senior at Erskine College, Due West, S. C. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Edwards of Claxton. All of the boys are war veterans, and Robert's wife, the former Miss Donna Thigpen, of Dublin, is a Teachers College alumna (cq). (Picture by Clifton Photo Service).

'Video Varieties' Hold Rehearsal

Last Tuesday, the Masquers held their first big all-out rehearsal meeting for VIDEO VARIETIES (simulated television show) to be presented October 27. Around 50 members were present and all are expected to take part in the show, which is to be sponsored by local merchants and business concerns. Video Varieties is the biggest, liveliest, most hilarious venture in combined advertising and entertainment ever to hit our campus.

Bettye Lewis, Masquers president, is the "go-getter" behind the production. Dan Biggers is to be the master of ceremonies, and with the backing of various committees, Video Varieties promises to be well worth the small admission price. Tickets for adults will be 50 cents, and around 30 cents for students.

Masquers is still open to new members and one does not have to possess any unusual qualities besides a love of the theatre, dependability, and a flare for hard work to gain membership.

Casting of the big three-act production of this quarter will begin the latter part of the week.

Committees for VIDEO VARIETIES are:

Publicity — George Parrish Edith Carpenter. Programs—Ann Trice, Madelyn Meeks. House Committee (tickets, sales, and usherettes) — Box Office, Carl Wilkinson, Martha Wood. Usherettes—Dot Aycock (head usherette), Miriam Hall, Alethia Edwards, Frankie Quick, Martha Scott, Miry Kight. Stage Manager Bobby Humphrey; Asst., Grace Merchant; building props, Lonnie Ladson, Bill Jones. Lighting—Alvin Mooreland; Winnie Eason, Public Relations—Mary Brannen, Jo Anne Groover, Mary Jane Warren. Gay Kimbrough and Burney Anne Mann have charge of the committee for singing. On this committee are Sara Gene White, Edna Ruth Sanders, Virginia Morgan, Margaret Hurst, Lenette Hunnicutt, Peggy Jo Burke, Jo Phillips, Carolyn Moye, Beulah Elizabeth Allmond, Elizabeth Melton, and Elsie Williams.

Kelly Is Elected Editor Of 1950 TC Reflector

John L. Kelly, of Savannah, was named editor of the 1950 Reflector, college yearbook, in an election held by the senior class on Friday. He won by a two-vote margin over Robert Abell, Richland; and by a ten-vote margin over Harry Newman, Savannah.

In the 12 years since Kelly first attended TC, he has played football for Milligan College, served on the Savannah police force for eight years, and was a sailor in the S.W. Pacific during the war. He returned to TC last fall and was editor of The George-Anne spring quarter. He has a wife and three children living in Savannah.

JOHN KELLEY
Editor of 1950 Reflector

Mason Clements, Ray City, senior class and T Club president, was elected business manager. He is a brother of Coach J. I. Clements and Keith Clements, who is also a senior. He attended Cumberland College in Kentucky and served in the Iwo Jima campaign during the war.

Chapel Programs Off to Good Start

Chapel programs got off to a good start this quarter when the student council sponsored a talent show featuring freshmen. As master of ceremonies, Dan Biggers introduced the new talent on the Teachers College campus.

First, he introduced little Betty Hart, a talented singer from Macon, who sang "Will You Remember?" and "Deep in My Heart, Dear." Next was a musical team, Sandra Adams and Billy Moore, both from Fitzgerald. They played a piano duet, "Donkey Serenade." Following Sandra and Billy was a little promising comedienne Sara Jean White, who accompanied herself on the piano with a Medley of Al Jolson songs. She was so well-liked by the audience that she came back and sang "April Showers" for an encore. Sara Jean hails from Wrightsville. The last feature on the program was Bill Sirmans, future crooner, from Savannah. Bill sang "Stout-Hearted Men" and "Again." After some persuasion

'49 Professors Sound Like Professionals

The 1949 version of the "Professors," official Teachers College Dance Orchestra, again has that smooth professional sound which in the past has made it so well-known in the Southern part of the state. Last year the "Professors" played at Milledgeville four times, at the University of Georgia, at the March of Dimes Ball in Albany, and at various high schools.

A special concert-size orchestra will be made up of the present orchestra, plus two trumpets, two trombones, one saxophone, and a string bass. It takes a while to smooth out the rough spots in a large dance orchestra, but the past performance of the TC Professors and the high quality of individual musicianship brought into the orchestra this year insures the college of again having the "best orchestra in the state of Georgia," by Don and the audience came back for another rendition of "Again."

Thus concluded the freshman talent show. It looks as though these upper classmen are going to have to hustle to keep up with them!

Dancing Is Cheap at T.C.; Costs 2 Cents Per Lesson

ACTIVITY HOUR

The Activity Hour, which is sponsored by the Student Council, will not go into effect until November, Al Williams announced today. The exact date will be announced later. As this is one of the better forms of entertainment on our campus, let's all plan to support it wholeheartedly.

If you were ever ashamed or bashful because you could not dance, now you have no excuse except blaming yourself.

A two-cent a lesson dancing class has been organized by the physical education department, as a result of student requests. The purpose is to teach the basis for trots and waltz steps to beginning dancers so they will enjoy the activity hour mohe.

Beginning today Mill Hilliard, dance instructor, will take mixed groups on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays of each week from 6:15 to 7 o'clock. A class will also be taught on Fridays if necessary.

But why two cents? This small fee will be collected from each student who is interested in learning to dance—in return, piano music will be furnished by Archie Haygood Jr., and the cost of a final party will be covered.

Students and faculty have already been enjoying these beginning "jive" sessions for a week when boys and girls were taught separately.

Later an advanced class will be organized if enough people co-operate and are enthusiastic participants.

The faculty as well as students are invited to attend.

Staff Vacancy Yet Unfilled

The Student Council has announced that a business manager for The George-Anne to fill the vacancy of Eddie Ort's resignation will have to be elected by the entire student body. A misconstrued idea that the second highest winner in last year's election would fill the vacancy appeared in last week's issue.

That ruling applies only to vacancies left by student council members. All other vacancies left by any cause, are to be filled only after a mass election has been held.

Philharmonic Elects Board and Officers

At the regular meeting of the Philharmonic Choir Tuesday, October 11, the following officers were elected:

Misses Anne Trice and Ninette Sturges, librarians; and Bobby Humphrey and Douglas Moore, stage managers. These four choir members, together with Eddie Ort, chairman, will make up the board of directors for the Philharmonic Choir during the school year 1949 to 1950.

Averitts Entertain Faculty Sunday

An informal, open-house reception for the faculty of Georgia Teachers College was held at the home of Mr. Jack Averitt last Sunday. The house has just been redecorated and repainted and was beautiful in its color scheme.

Sandwiches, cake, tea, coffee, and nuts were served in an informal manner after which the guests wandered about the house to admire its comfortable, beautiful furnishings or listen to the ball game over the radio. Miss Mamie Veazey poured tea, while Miss Hester Newton presided over the coffee. Some of the others helping with refreshments and entertainment were Miss Gernant, Jackie Upshaw, Mrs. Pittman, Mrs. Winburn, Miss McElveen and, of course, Mrs. Averitt.

GOALS

The other day I dropped by the gym and watched the varsity work out. As I sat there, I thought back to the fall of 1943 and my first look at the Alumni Building (alias the gym).

On my first trip to the gym I found a balcony on each side that would not hold this year's freshman class. The lighting was bad. The dressing rooms were long, misty rooms that had wooden lockers. In the locker were a few nails to hang clothes on, and that was all. The shower room had a grand total of two showers (mostly cold), and a slick floor.

The floor on the court was made of pine and was, shall we say, slightly on the rough side. The walls had never been painted. A door was on each end directly behind the baskets. No one can imagine how many players have wound up on the outside when they went down and under for a shot.

Afternoon practice was not so pleasant when the sunbeams caught your eye just as you started to take that rebound. Instead of catching the ball, it often caught you right in the face.

This year, I walk in and, man, things sho have changed. Coach Searce has an office instead of a cubby hole. The players have a dressing room that they can be proud of. There is no classroom downstairs so the boys don't have to hold up on the dribbling. But I don't have to tell you about how the gym looks now.

So, the next time you go in the gym, stop and think of all the work that has gone into this building for you, the students, to enjoy.

For the sports department of The George-Anne, I say, Congratulations to the administration, and to Coach Searce I say—Thanks.

A couple of weeks back, we asked for any comments on sports on the campus. This week well over a hundred boys have called by to tell us they think we don't have very few good sportsmen on the campus from the freshman class. The boys do have a point, and we have to acknowledge it.

The boys seem to think that any man that can't take the regulations concerning freshmen are to be classified as poor sports. They don't seem to go along with the letter the editor received last week.

Whattaya say, gang, let's all try to be "good sports" at Teachers College, at least.

In Years Gone By

The 1939 Teachers College basketball team won a total of seven games and lost eight. They played a schedule of junior and senior colleges, and professional teams.

Football was on the campus that year, but basketball was described as the "pet sport."

Coach "Crook" Smith was head coach and had a squad of fifteen men on the basketball team.

According to the records, the Blue Tide played its best games against the Celtics. The Tide lost both games by scores of 53-56 and 53-58.

Next week, the 1938 team.

Miss Bertha Freeman Attends State Meet

Miss Bertha Freeman, principal of the elementary laboratory school, attended an Elementary Education State Conference at Vogel State Park September 30-October 9.

The purpose of the meeting was to study an instrument that has been developed for use in the evaluation of elementary schools. The instrument will be tried out in only 10 schools in the state this year.

Miss Nell Wynn McGlothlin, a former T.C. student, presided at the conference.

H. E. Majors Attend State Workshop

The girls who attended the state workshop for college home economics clubs at Berry College, near Rome, were Ruth Smith, second vice president of State Home Economics Club; Lonadine Morgan, and Martha Coffia. The object of the meeting was to assist college home economics majors in club planning. The girls were accompanied by Miss Margaret Strahlman, head of the home economics department.

Recreation with the Boys

Since the athletic department of Teachers College has not formed the intra-mural program, the boys from Sanford Hall have formed their own sports program.

Many of the boys start their sports by taking a very strenuous exercise. The favorite is the old elbow-bending exercise.

From 102-107 the sports are mumble-peg, casino, hearts, and something about Jack—don't have any idea what this sport is. Don't even know anybody with the first name of Black.

On second floor the boys go in a lot for throwing the bull. This is always done in a session. A session is like a football huddle, only everyone talks.

Third floor is known as the bowling center of the campus. Down in M. A.'s room a dancing school is held daily from dawn to midnight.

Football Predictions

We have a few predictions concerning the outcome of this week's S.E.C. games. Some of them anybody would pick, but some are going to be close. These games will be in the record books by the time you read this, but that's the trouble about working for a weekly.

Well, here goes! We are sticking our necks out again. May luck be with us.

Georgia over Miami.
Tulane over Auburn.
Georgia Tech over Florida.
Sou. Methodist over Kentucky.
North Carolina over L. S. U.
Alabama over Mississippi State.

Bendix Washers Demonstrated

A demonstration in the home economics department on the use of the newly installed automatic Bendix washer and drier and on the Bendix ironer was given October 12 by Mrs. Rocker of the Rocker Appliance Company.

Towels and table linens used by the foods classes will be washed in the washer. Students who study textiles will also use this equipment in learning the proper care of various textiles used in the home.

Use Your Library

Have you noticed the section in the library headed "Regional Library"? This section is composed of about 150 books, placed here each quarter by the Statesboro Regional Library.

This popular reading division consists of detective, mystery, and other best sellers. Take advantage of this, and keep the shelf vacant and people waiting for us to bring a book back so that they may read it.

Vets Name Committees

Vet Club committees for this year were appointed last Tuesday night. They are:

Earle Reynolds, finance; Judge Sorrell Jr., publicity; Edgar Edwards, housing; George Roebuck, athletics; and Frank Wireman, entertainment.

LET'S MAKE T.C.—

Think hard on this thing—talk to President Henderson and learn how you, you, and you can help.

We pledge determined and continuous publicity for the college and its needs. (Remember "The Hole in the Ground" and the 12-year campaign we carried on for the swimming pool and recreation program for the youth of Statesboro and Bulloch county?)

Let's make the college the Number One Project of this community. It is ours—let's work at making it grow. It'll mean dollars and cents to Statesboro. And the cultural and intellectual values will follow automatically and increasingly greater.

RIPPLING WATERS

By LOLA ROBBINS

Rippling waters that never stop
Where, oh where, do you go
As you softly glide along
Making rivulets as you flow?

Do you slide down mountain sides
Or do you run into the ocean
Do you have a certain path
Or flow with ever-changing motion?

Do you meet the waterfalls
And yet keep your rippling pace,
Do other streams or rivers
Ever meet you face to face?

Do stones or rocks or pebbles
Ever slow your gait to naught,
Do you ever look behind to view
The good or bad you've wrought?

Rippling waters, keep your secrets
Mankind must never know,
Lock them in your rivulets
Who make music as they flow.

News of Alumni

Leon Culpepper, TC alumnus, has been appointed to the music staff of Mercer University as a bandmaster to assume his duties immediately. He will carry this appointment in addition to his work as bandmaster of Lanier Boys' High School.

Culpepper is one of the outstanding band men in the state of Georgia. He is president of the Georgia Music Education Association, member of the All-American Bandmasters Association, member of the All-American Drum Majors Association, of Phi Delta Kappa honorary education fraternity.

He has his bachelor's degree from G.T.C., and has his graduate work at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

Culpepper was band director the G.T.C. Lab School for two years before enlisting in the navy, where he served for three years. He is also now chief warrant officer in charge of the 48th Infantry Division and.

JUANITA THOMAS (class '39) was a visitor on the campus recently. She resides in Washington, D.C., and is secretary for a Miami Congressman.

JERRY and FRANCES WHITE (classes '48 and '47) who teach in Waynesboro were seen on the streets in Statesboro last week.

MYRA HALL (class '39) has gone to Charlestown, W. Virginia, as a supervisor.

VERA McELVEEN (class '32) is in Pittsburg doing graduate work in Group Work Specialization. She visited the campus recently.

CHRISTINE OWEN (class '49) is in Tampa, Fla.

LEONARD KENT (class '35) was a visitor at TC recently. He has his PhD and teaches in the School of Business, University of Chicago.

WALDO PAFFORD (class '30) who is the chairman of the First District G.E.A. was on the campus a few days ago. He resides in Hinesville.

BILL WILLIAMS (class '49), "ROCK" WATERS (class '43), and M. L. BRANNEN (class '47)

Have You Heard?

Al Jolson appeared in chapel Monday morning in the parsonage of Sara Jean. George P. concedes she's "over his load."

About the birthday party given for Helen P. I understand she was given a water gun for protecting —How about that, Mary A.?

That as teachers' pay goes on down, bicycle sales go up. Hey, why don't we organize a bicycle club around here?

The sighs and swoons of the audience when Bill S. sang "Again" again.

The drum majorettes have competition after Mrs. J.'s performance at the pajama party.

"Whispering" (Smith) Richard S. is to inherit two cap pistols from W. E. C.

Calvin B. can't seem to make up his mind between East and West. If we had a North and South, somebody might get dizzy.

Miss Lizzie and Miss Mae surely did have fun at the two-cent dancing class one night last week. That dancing class certainly is going over swell with the faculty as well as the students.

attended the dance Saturday night and played with the Dance Orchestra.

ENOCH E. THOMAS (class '49), who teaches at Baker Village School in Columbus, was a welcomed campus visitor recently.

DRANE WATSON (class '44) of Gainesville, Ga., has been named High School "Coach of the Week."

BERT FULFORD (class '48) has been named principal of Main Street Elementary School, Gainesville, Ga.

Frosh Must Face Psychological Test

All freshmen who have not taken the English and psychological tests are required to take them on the following dates:

English test, Wednesday, October 19, at 9:15 a.m. in room 21; psychological test on Thursday, October 20, at 10:15 a.m. in room 21.

Deal Carroll reminds all freshmen that first quarter grades will be recorded as incomplete until these examinations have been taken. Freshmen are urged to take these tests at the times designated, or a fee of one dollar will be charged to all those taking examinations after this week.

Bill Sarratt with 'Naval Stores Review'

Bill Sarratt, last year's George-Anne editor, is now associate editor of The Naval Stores Review, a weekly trade publication. This magazine was established in 1890, is published in New Orleans, and has world-wide circulation.

It was through Bill that Anne Moore's article concerning Dr. Herty and TC's pines appeared in the September monthly feature edition of the N.S.R.
