Army Air Force Seeking Officer Candidates Here

An Air Force Officer team will arrive here October 31 to interview college men and women interested in careers as officers in the United States Air Force.

The team members, with headquarters at the ad building, will explain three types of training:

1. Aviation Cadet Pilot Training. Young men selected as Aviation Cadets receive one year of flying, academic, and military training. Graduates are commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and awarded the silver wings of a pilot.

To be eligible for pilot training, men must be single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, citizens, must have completed two years or more of college, and meet high physical and moral qualifications. Classes begin every six weeks.

2. Aviation Cadet Navigator Training. To meet an increasing need for navigators, the Air Force has opened an Aviation Cadet navigator school at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Texas. Qualified young men are trained for one year in the latest techniques of radar navigator. Classes begin every month.

Opportunities for regular commissions are the same as for Aviation Cadets taking pilot training. The eligibility requirements also are the same, except for the physical examination which is less stringent for those seeking careers as navigators.

3. Air Force Officer Candidate School. Young men and women seeking non-flying careers in the Air Force receive military leadership training at Lackland Air Base near San Antonio, Texas. Classes begin in January, April, July and October.

To be eligible, men and women must be between the ages of 20½ and 26½, either married or single, citizens, must have completed two years of college, must be in good physical condition, and meet high moral and personal qualifications.

In any of the training programs, the Air Force officer said, students who, for any reason, fail to complete the work are returned to civilian life.

'Bo' Ware Elected Business Manager

"Bo" Ware, a Savannah junior, was named business manager of The George-Anne in an election held last Monday. He is a graduate of Armstrong Junior College and was manager of the basketball team. Although "Bo" has had no experience in the business end of newspaper work, he has written basketball stories for the Armstrong newspaper, INKWELL, and for the Savannah Morning News. He won a landslide victory over Russell Mercer and last year's manager, Gene Henderson.

Clifton Holds College Contract For Annual

For the first time since 1936, yearbook photography at Georgia Teachers College has been assigned to a local photographer. He is Henry Clifton, native of Statesboro and graduate of the University of Georgia, who formerly was in business at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The college renewed contracts with Photo - Process Engraving Company of Atlanta, and Bowen, Long, and Young, Inc., of Decatur, publishers.

Theatre Price Lowered For College Students

Students may attend movies at the Georgia Theatre for 40 cents provided they arrive before 6:30 p.m. and present their I.D. cards. Mr. Macon, manager of the theatre, cooperated with the student council by extending the afternoon rates for college students from 5 o'clock to 6:30 in order to let the students in cheaper and give them a chance to eat supper before going.

Lab School Plans Hallowe'en Carnival

Hallowe'en Carnival plans are underway in the Lab High School for Monday, October 31, at 7:30 a.m.

Schedule Revealed For "Rat Court" Ceremonies

It's really going to be a day for the freshmen today, because today is "their" rat day. The entire class of freshmen will be the center of attraction on the TC campus today.

The entire program for the day will have one theme: RAT.

After much thought and planning the student council, with the suggestions of a few other upperclassmen, and the approval of Dean Carroll, devised a slate of duties to be performed by the freshmen on this day. These duties are as follows:

ENTIRE CLASS

1. All freshmen are required to wear their "rat caps" today.
2. Every freshman must wear RAT written on his (or her) forehead with lipstick. (This will be administered by some upperclassmen when they enter the dining hall for breakfast.)
3. Every freshman must wear his (or her) clothes with the wrong side turned out.
4. Every freshman must back into every door they enter during the day.
5. Every freshman should open the door for upperclassmen. (This does not mean that they have to stand behind and let the upperclassmen go ahead of them in line for meals.)
6. Each freshman is forbidden to speak to one another. They are only allowed to speak to upperclassmen.
7. All freshmen MUST carry George-Anne copy with plans for day to all events.

BOYS

1. The freshmen boys must carry with them all day a shoe brush and matches. They are required to polish the shoes of any upperclassmen, who might ask. They are also required to light all cigarettes.
2. When an upperclassman yells "Air Raid" the freshmen boys must hit the ground and stay there until the person gives an "All Clear."

GIRLS

1. Every freshman girl must wear her hair parted in the middle, having one side with ten pig-tails and letting the other be straight. She must wear her "rat cap" over this and have no bobby-pins in her hair.
2. Every freshman girl should go through the entire day without any make-up whatsoever.
3. Every freshman girl must carry all her books to classes in a pillow case.
4. Every freshman girl must make a sign with her name and the title "rat" on it. This must be hung around her neck with a string.
5. When an upperclassman makes the command "In position, Rat" the girls must curtsy, then get in a position with one foot raised back of her and arms out and recite "Mary Had A Little Lamb" WITHOUT smiling. If she does smile she has to go with the upperclassmen to her room and empty her trash can.
6. Every freshman girl must wear a tennis shoe on the left foot and a low-heeled shoe on the right foot. She will wear socks with these.
7. At 7 p.m. she will wear blue jeans under her skirt.

This is just part of the program for the day.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon all freshmen must meet in front of the administration building and begin the parade up-town. The band will lead the parade. On display in the parade will be a large paper-mache rat, "so symbolic of the day!" The parade will cover the up-town area.

Again the freshmen will meet in front of the ad building at 7 o'clock and go to the Statesboro High football field.

There will be a program of events which consists of competition between the freshmen and sophomore classes.

The climax of the "great day" of events will be when the presentation is made to the winners of the contest. A cup will be awarded with the name of the winning class.

The Student Council, in their meeting last Tuesday night, declared this a TRADITION to be passed down from year to year.

Let's go, Freshmen; we're for you!

It's Not A Hurricane; It's Masquers At Rehearsal

By EDITH CARPENTER

All that hustle and bustle and lively debate that you have been hearing lately is not a hurricane come to town. It's the rehearsals of the Masquers cast for Video Varieties, a lively, entertaining show to be produced for the first time in the Teachers College auditorium on Thursday evening. The evening promises to be a hilarious one. Featured on the show are two one-act plays, "Who Says Can't," by Kathryn McCluse, and "The Glittering Gate" by Lord Dunsany; a hilariously different minstrel; a fashion show featuring the latest in style and design; songs, dances, and many other riotous acts combined to make this one of the most rollicking evenings of entertainment ever.

The show is being sponsored by the local merchants and business concerns. Those participating are members of the Masquers, a hard-working, entertaining group from the campus of TC.

The date for the show has been set at 7:30 on the evening of October 27.

THE GEORGE-ANNE STAFF is really proud of its new headquarters. Of course, we could use another typewriter; the walls could be painted a brighter color, and an opening to the outer world would be appreciated, but so far, the "darkroom," as it is called, has proved most satisfactory. Our offices are composed of one large main office where the reporters and typists gather; an inner office on the left that is used mostly for concentration by the editors and business manager (when we have one), and on the right is the developing room, where our photographers try to turn out some pictures the George-Anne and Reflector can use.

All right. I have another office, we have a staff, we have had four issues of the George-Anne, but we have not had satisfaction. I asked in the second issue for facts. It is mine, the staff's, our advisor's, our publisher's, and, I believe, every member of the faculty's and student body's desire to have an accurate account of every news story. Grammatical errors, misspelled proper names, poorly written stories, misleading headlines,—just about everything—can be forgiven in a newspaper, but IN-ACCURACY cannot and should not, be forgiven . . . UNLESS, after pleas in oral and written form, the ones who release the news do not comply. We had rather have no story than a false story. We need cooperation. Facts should be well organized from their beginning until they appear in print. Faculty and students should pay more attention to what is actually going on so that, if you're called upon to give an accurate account, you can recall it accurately. No one person or two persons can possibly know everything that is happening, has happened, and is going to happen on a campus as large as ours; therefore, we need to cooperate with one another and pool our ideas. I'm not speaking only from the newspaper angle, or only for the benefit of The George-Anne, but in every activity that takes place we need cooperation. Many unnecessary and stupid errors can be easily avoided. There would not be as much hurting of feelings, "stews" about nothing, and general ill will on our campus, if we'd all take the mole hills into consideration before they become mountains.

ACTUALLY, it was a long week-end, but when you heard the freshmen as they returned, you would have thought it anything but long. It was one of the Statesboro Sunday School teachers who labeled it "lost week-end," with some reason, perhaps, as he looked over the meager college classes. As the greater portion of the students were gone, there was not much doing, no dance, no nothing; but a few lonely souls stirred here and there and sighed. But all was not complete peace on the campus of Teachers College. There was some debate over whether Jimmy Gunter was really going to get off to Tifton to see Anne, but he surprised us all by departing on Saturday afternoon. The female population gathered in West Hall on Friday night, as East Hall was left locked and deserted and Miss Veazy was away for the night. There were exactly five girls left, several teachers, and "gobs of boys"—or "men," as they prefer to be called.

By MARTHA WOOD

If you know some people who have been weeping over the position of the "poor" teacher, tell them to dry their eyes. Instead, they should be rejoicing for her. She is a very lucky person. No other profession pays off in such big dividends as the one she has chosen. No other work is of such lasting quality as hers. Yes, the teacher's is an extremely lucky lot.

Dr. Neil is a lovable personality on the campus and has done a great deal toward furthering the development of the music department since his arrival at Teachers College.

Men's Intramural Program Underway

The intramural program got underway last Monday when Edwards' team barely edged Rigdon's by the score of 6-0 on a pass by Edwards to Talarferro that was good for half the field and the winning tally.

Edwards' team—DeChau, Coley, Williams, Brady Edward, C., Edwards, E., Overstreet, Carpenter, Stone, Talarferro.

Rigdon's team—Rigdon, Foreman, O'Neal, Brady, Johnson, Thompson, Middlebrook, Wireman, Middleton, Bush.

The next day the Bullpups, behind Foy Olliff's passing, beat the trojans 12-0. Olliff threw two touchdown passes, one to Dubberly, good for about 20 yards into the end zone, the other to Bud Stone from behind the midfield stripe.

The lineups were:

Bullpups—Olliff (b), Stone (b), Glenn (b), Dubberly (c), Varnadoe (g), B. Kicklighter (e), Henry (g), J. Kicklighter (e).

Trojans—Bryan (b), Anderson (e), Teets (e), Jackson (c), Lambert (g), Strickland (b), Swicord (b), Taylor (g).

In the game on Wednesday, Team "A" bowed before Peacock's team by a score of 2 to 0. This is a football score and not baseball. The only score came when Bryant, Peacock's center, broke through and got the passer in the end zone. Team "A" threatened with just one minute left to play when a pass was intercepted deep in Peacock's territory. They tried five times to get across but they didn't make it and the final whistle.

Peacock's team—Tarver (le), Mullis (lg), Bryant (c), Strickland (rg), Musselwhite (re), Bland (b), Woodell (b), Peacock (b), Kendrick (b), Littlefield (b).
Team "A"—Le Files (c), King (b), Bryan (g), Bullock (e), Ratliff (e), Dews (g), Mobley (b), Mixon (b).

Football Predictions

Here's the way we think the S.E.C. games will come out this week. We hope to get 'em all, but don't bet your money on what we say. Here goes!

Georgia over Alabama
Vanderbilt over Auburn
Florida over Furman
Kentucky over Cincinnati
L.S.U. over Old Miss
Tulane over Mississippi State
North Carolina over Tennessee

In Years Gone By

In the year of 1940 and '41, George Teachers College started the intramural activities.

The school had a new lighted football field on which its team won three and lost five that year.

The basketball team had a little better luck than the football team. In playing a 13-game schedule the Tide won seven and lost six. The best game was against New-week. We hope to get 'em all, but in an overtime period.

The Delta Sigma fraternity won the touch football crown, while the Rough House team won the basketball pennant.

Boxing was also on the campus as an intramural sport for the first time.

Baby-Sitter Rules Announced

The rules for the baby-sitting service sponsored by the Home Economics Club are:

1. All girls must be in by 10:30 at night.
2. Transportation should be furnished for the girls back to the dormitories.
3. Any girl promising to baby-sit is responsible, if unable to meet her appointment, for sending someone in her place.
4. Every girl should be paid not less than 35 cents an hour.

Anyone wishing to have a baby-sitter, please contact Miss Margaret Strahlmann in West Hall, or Thelma Winter in Lewis Hall. The committee will appreciate calls made early enough to contact the baby-sitter.

- Nov. 8—Peacock vs Phillips
- Nov. 9—Rigdon vs Team "A"
- Nov. 10—Trojans vs Phillips
- Nov. 11—Rigdon vs Bullpups
- Nov. 14—Trojans vs Team "A"

Class Makes County Survey

A county survey report was prepared last week by a class in educational sociology at Georgia Teachers College under Dr. Thomas C. Little, chairman of the division of education.

It was found that although Statesboro, the county seat, enjoys the highest retail sales per capita of any town in Georgia, Bulloch County is losing population.

The report refers to a slight but persistent migration for at least 20 years. It cites this in contrast to the position of Statesboro as the leading tobacco market in Georgia and Bulloch County as an auspicious producer of tobacco, cotton, corn, peanuts, pecans, livestock, poultry, turpentine, and timber.

In 1941, the survey showed, Statesboro had 354 retail establishments with a sales volume of $4,523,000 and a market index of 69 per cent. The average family income in the county was $2,971. Last year, gross volume sales for the town soared to $16,046,000, and the payroll stood at $285,000, 000.

The county, according to the report, handled at one time more than one-eighth of the world cotton crop, "necessitating a railroad between Savannah and Atlanta."

Students attempted a two-sided explanation. They attributed the decreasing population to the use of machinery in agriculture, which caused many workers to seek employment elsewhere, and to the war, which created enticing jobs in more industrialized areas. Business prosperity, they thought, could be accounted for in an expanded trade area and in mounting tourist trade.

The loss in population, which continued in the 1947 estimate, is among Negro men and white women. The number of Negro men dropped from 5,033 in 1930 to 4,848 in 1940 while the decrease in Negro women was only 56. Among white women, the change was from 8,149 to 7,994.

White males and females were even at 8,149 in 1930, and in 1940 the male figure was still 8,149.

Clothing Repair Service Offered Students

Many requests have come to the Home Economics department for assistance in making simple clothing repairs. It is impossible for the classes to accept such projects, because the girls have their own special problems which require the full class time.

However to meet this need the service committee of the Home Economics Club has set up a repair service. Since the workers are students, the committee is unable to set exact dates for completion, but every effort will be made to give prompt service. The cost of the service will be determined by the project. The articles should be delivered to Room 2, Home Economics dept., on Tuesday and Thursday from 10:00 to 11:00.

Specialties of this service are:

1. Taking up and letting out seams.
2. Taking up and letting out hems.
3. Sewing on buttons, snaps, hooks, and eyes.
4. Shortening sleeves.
5. Turning shirt collars.
6. Other odd jobs.

Students To Attend BSU Convention

The BSU Convention meets from Friday, October 28, to Sunday, October 30, at Mercer University in Macon.

All BSU officers, council members and others interested in BSU work are invited to attend. The new BSU bus leaves Friday, the twenty-eighth, around noon.

Those desiring to go are urged to turn in their $2.00 registration fee to Jimmy Jenkins (Sanford Hall), Martha Duffield (East Hall), Frankie Quick (West Hall), and Gay Kimbrough (Lewis Hall).

Delegates must furnish own bed linens and buy their own food for two and one-half days.

Coach J. B. Searce released the 1949-50 basketball schedule at his regular press interview today. The Blue Tide is to play 12 games on the road and 12 at home.

The team will play some teams that are not familiar to us but are good teams in their sections.

We looked over some letters that Coach Searce had received in reply to his letters requesting games. The Tide is considered too strong a team for opposing schools of our size to play. This makes it hard for the Tide to get games with teams that we all know about.

FHA Convention Held on Campus

A contingent of 750 young women from 42 counties of southeast Georgia was to converge at Georgia Teachers College Saturday for the annual District II Convention of the Future Homemakers Association.

Host for the affair, one of four to be held in Georgia this fall by the Future Homemakers, is the Teachers College Laboratory High School.

Dean Paul F. Carroll of the Teachers College was to give the welcome address after the students registered in the college administration building at 9:30 a.m.

Program participants were to include Mrs. Janet Barber, of Athens, state supervisor of the FHA; Miss Jacquelyn Smith of Winder, state FHA president; Miss Inez Wallace, state supervisor of home economics education; Dr. Katherine Holtzclaw, head of the home economics department at GSCW; Mrs. Mary Beth Lewis, assistant state supervisor of District Two; Misses Neva Jones and Gladys Gilbery, of the teacher training program at GSCW; Miss Barbara Tallent of Millen, state FHA vice-president for District II.

Harrison Urges Sales Tax

After predicting success for an education equalization suit filed by Negroes in Irwin county, State Senator Walter Harrison declared last Monday in chapel that the "resulting complications" will necessitate tax reforms in Georgia.

A sales tax would be needed, he told the assembly, to avoid a tremendous reduction in funds now allotted white schools. This is the only tax, he said, which would reach the Negro masses. "Who comprise one-third of the state population and who should pay part of the taxes."

The outspoken Millen senator asserted that the Negro law suit will triumph "because it is constitutionally sound."
