U.S. Air Force Team Here to Interview Students Interested in Officer Career

Interviews will be given on the campus today to young men and women interested in a career as an officer in the United States Air Force.

An Air Force Officer team, composed of Capt. H. S. Burney and Lt. R. E. Pittman, established headquarters at the ad building.

During the next four days they will explain career opportunities, assist those interested in filling out application forms, and give qualifying examinations to those seeking Aviation Cadet pilot or navigator training.

Students who meet the qualifications, it was explained, will have opportunity to begin the processing procedure so they will be ready to start training as soon as they finish college.

Qualified young men have opportunity to train as pilots, as navigators, or for non-flying duties. The latter program—Officer Candidate School which prepares officers for non-flying junior executive duties in administrative and technical fields—also is open to qualified young women.

The Aviation Cadet Pilot Training Program trains young men to fly the new postwar types of aircraft. Graduates of the one-year course, which combines flying, academic, and military training, receive reserve commissions as second lieutenants and are assigned as rated pilots to active duty with the Air Force.

Outstanding graduates receive regular commissions. The others, who receive reserve commissions, have opportunity to compete for regular commissions during their three-year tour of active duty.

To be eligible, men must be single citizens between the ages of 20 and 26½. They must have completed 2 years or more of college and meet high physical and moral qualifications.

The Aviation Cadet Navigator Training Program trains young men in the latest methods of radar navigation for duty on the new long-range bombers and air-transport. Graduates of the 1-year course, which includes 184 hours of instruction in "Flying classrooms," receive commissions as second lieutenants, with aeronautical rating as navigator.

Opportunities for Regular commissions are the same as for Aviation Cadets taking pilot training. Eligibility requirements also are the same, except for the physical examination which is less stringent for those seeking careers as navigators.

To be eligible for Officer Candidate School, young men and young women must be citizens between the ages of 20½ and 26½; either married or single; who have completed 2 years of college; with high moral and personal qualifications; and who are in good physical condition.

Students who for any reason fail to complete any of the Air Force officer training programs are returned to civilian life.

Art Club to Be Reorganized Now

Monday afternoon at 4, there is to be a called meeting in the art lab, for the purpose of re-organizing the Art Club for 1949-50. To-date there have been two unofficial meetings of last year's charter members to discuss re-organization; now the Club is ready to get underway. At the meeting the requirements for the Club under its new constitution will be made clear, and anyone—art students or otherwise—who are interested in art in any of its forms, are invited to join the Art Club, or Alpha Rho Tau. Among the projects to be undertaken for the year is the complete designing and staging of the annual TC Beauty Revue. Regularly, the Club meets every other Monday night at 7.

900 High School Girls Meet Here

Nine hundred high school girls returned last Saturday to 70 communities from Dublin to Brunswick pledged to "Help Improve Home and Family Living." They were delegates to the annual fall meeting of the Southeast Georgia Future Homemakers Association at Georgia Teachers College on Saturday.

Heading a group of speakers on the home-improvement theme was Mrs. Janet M. Barber of Athens, state supervisor of the FHA. She was accompanied by Miss Jacquelyn Smith of Winder, state FHA president. Miss Barbara Tallent of Millen, state FHA vice-president for this region, presided.

The association is made up of home economics students.

FBI Agents Talks On Success

FBI man, Edmund D. Mason, said in chapel Monday, October 24, that the success of any generation depends upon the Home, School, and Religion. He went on to say it is the duty of us as future teachers to see that the children of our nation use these media to the best advantage.

Lab Carnival Is Scheduled Tonight

Tonight the Lab School Halloween Carnival will feature many attractions of interest to college students as well as Lab students. A baby contest, fish pond, booths, bingo games, an interesting program and many other events will be concluded by the coronation of the Queen and King of the Carnival. Three college students, Albin Eber, and Allene Timmerman will be featured in a play, "The Gypsy's Warning."

The activities will take place in the Lab High building auditorium at 8 o'clock p.m.

Adams Resigns

Carleton Adams has resigned his position on the Student Council due to pressing business engagements.

Eddie Ort has replaced the vacancy according to the Student Council constitution that the person receiving the next highest number of votes will fill all vacancies in the council that may occur during the year.

Frosh Wins Tug 'O War and Rat Caps Are Things of Past; 'Rats' Parade City

Last Monday morning was the day the freshman class had feared for many weeks. At 7 a.m. Rat Day officially began. All told, each freshman spend half the day on the ground on "in position," and the boys declared they polished a total of at least 500 pairs of shoes and lighted 1,000 cigarettes.

Clifton to Begin Reflector Photos

Mr. Clifton begins taking individual pictures today in the Health cottage for the 1950 Reflector. John Kelly, editor, urges students to check the bulletin board for the schedule and be on time. A sitting fee of $1.50 will be charged each person.

Masquers Call for Fall Play Tryouts

The main Fall Quarter production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," will provide an opportunity for all types of actors and actresses on our campus. Tryouts for this play were begun Friday and Saturday and the casting will continue through this week. This production is scheduled for presentation on December 13.

Tryouts for the play to be presented on the T.C. Hour on Wednesday, November 16, were begun Friday. Only members of the Masquers are eligible to participate on this program.

8 Seniors Voted on For 'Who's Who

Juniors, seniors, and faculty voted last Monday on eight outstanding seniors who will be listed in the 1949-50 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Students were to be selected on the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society. The results of the selections have not been officially approved yet, but The George-Anne will be the first newspaper to carry the story.

When 4 p.m. arrived the parade into "position." In a few minutes band, and several freshmen carried through town began led by the "hit" the street and the girls got a huge papier machet rat.

In front of the courthouse an the "all clear" was given and the parade moved on back to the campus just in time for supper.

After eating and a brief rest, the parade was resumed and the freshmen were marched to the local high school football field for an evening of contests and the tug-of-war. While "Kildee's Circus Band" was filling the air with stirring marches, SELECTED VOLUNTEERS were taken from the stands for the cross-country run. They were taken out past the Drive-In Theatre and were told to get back as quick and the best way they could.

The next event was a girls' three-legged race which resulted in a tie. After this was run off, the boys ran the same race. Then the boys' and girls' winners ran; somehow the girls won (maybe because they had a 20-yard head start). All of a sudden the first of the cross-country runners burst on the field. Later Aunt Sophie awarded the winner a cake. After this interruption, a boys' and girls' sack race was run in the same manner as the three-legged race, and the girls won this race also. After the races all the freshmen boys were called on the field for a soccer game. After booting the ball up and down the field, the game ended in a scoreless tie.

At the conclusion of the contests the big event arrived—the tug of war between the freshmen and the sophomores. Amid clouds of dust and shouts of encouragement from the freshmen girls on the sidelines the freshmen realized that they had won and could discard rat caps for good.

Most of the freshmen later silently admitted that they hadn't had such a bad experience after all, and are already looking forward to next year's Rat Day when they will again participate in the freshman activities—but on the other side.

But the sophomores? Well, they had to swallow their slogan—"Rat Caps 'Till Christmas!"

Teachers College Lab. High School Plans Physical Education Program

The following program of physical education has been set up for the students of Georgia Teachers College Laboratory High School after considerable study of the social education has been set up by sires of the student body.

This program was developed by the following students: Roy Bragg, Mitchell Conner, Roger Parsons, W. F. Dixon, Leon Hall, Leroy Hobbs, Miss Van Harrison, Horner Foreman, Alvin Williams, Calvin Brewton, and J. C. Lindsey.

This program was set up with the hopes of fulfilling such needs and desires. It is not set up for the purpose of molding any individual, but rather for the purpose of being a sensitive aid in obtaining knowledge of the wants of each person, such as the common emotions of daily life, and urges of personality for expression and self-realization.

PROGRAM:

Junior High Boys

FALL—Touch Football, Individual Activities (horseshoes, free exercise, individual prescribed activities), Volleyball, Recreational Opportunities, Health Lecture (given one day each week).

WINTER—Rhythmical Activities (clog dance, folk dance, tap dance), Bowling, Badminton, Individual Prescribed Activities, Recreational Opportunities.

SPRING—Tennis, Track, Volleyball, Individual Prescribed Activities, Recreational Opportunities.

SPRING—Tennis, Track, Soccer, Nature Lore, Individual Prescribed Activities, Recreational Opportunities.

GOALS

Here is some more dope on the intramural football program which is now in full swing:

On the first Thursday of the season, Edwards' team defeated the Trojans 8 to 0. Edwards' first tally came when the Trojan passer stepped out of the rear of his end zone. The only touchdown came when Coley lateraled to to Shorty, who threw a long forward pass to Ed Edwards, who lugged it the rest of the way to make it 8 to 0.

Edwards team: Brady, Coley, DeSheau, Williams, Taliaferro, Overstreet, E. Edwards, Stone, Carpenter, Hammond and Pharis.

Trojans: Anderson, Mixon, Strickland, Minick, Lambert, Taylor, Bryan, Teets, Swicord, and Jackson.

The game next day was much different from all the rest, the final score being 24-0, Team "A" over Phillips. The first score was early in the game, being made on the second play from scrimmage. Ratliff threw one to King to set it up, then hit LeFiles in the end zone. LeFiles also scored the second t.d. by intercepting an enemy pass and crossing into the "paralels" before he could be touched.

On the next scoring play, Bulloch threw to Roberson to make it 18-0. The last marker was on a Mobley-to-Bulloch pass and Team "A" walked off the field with a very impressive 24-0 victory under its belts.

Team "A": Hill, LeFiles, King, Ratliff, Dews, Mobley, Bryan, Bulloch, and Roberson.

Phillips' Team: Carter, Mallard, Phillips, Adams, Sims, Powell, Parker, Ladson, Lindsey, Corbit, and Fletcher.

Football PREDICTIONS

Well, with a .625 average to date, here we go sticking our neck out again with our SEC football predictions.

Auburn over Mississippi State.
Georgia over Florida.
Georgia Tech over Tennessee.
Kentucky over Xavier.
Vanderbilt over L.S.U.
University of Mississippi over Chattanooga.
Tulane over Navy.

HEALTH CLINIC WORK

By MARGARET HARRISON

One of the most important phases of training teachers is to give them experiences in training which will assist them in making adjustments more readily while on the job. This can be done by contacting agencies that do a related work. The Home Economics Club has had national recognition for this type of work.

It all began three years ago when the Health Clinic asked Margaret Strahlmann to act as local nutrition consultant and to carry on a program of prenatal education in proper diet. After a joint discussion of the values involved, Miss Strahlmann and the Home Economics majors decided to carry out this program through demonstrations and lectures. It was decided that each girl would demonstrate the same food for one month, and that the demonstrations would be held every Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

To help you better understand our work, let me tell you about a typical Thursday afternoon at the Health Clinic. This is my month to do demonstrations, and the dish I prepare is chocolate pudding. Since all the women are there for either prenatal or postnatal care, I stress foods that they need most for the proper development of their children.

Dried milk is emphasized because it is economical and non-fattening. After the pudding is prepared, I give each woman a dish and let her pass her judgment. The women ask many questions and I try to answer as many as I can. I was most humiliated the day I forgot the recipe, and a woman asked me for it. I didn't have the heart to tell her that I threw everything but the kitchen sink into the pudding. To conclude the demonstration, I tell about the special function of each food in the Basic seven.

We hope the results of our work will come out in the finer, straighter, disease-free bodies of the future generation.

THE MIXING OF THE RACES a historical poem by Lola Robbins

The day was calm, the air was still—

I saw an Injun on the hill.
My covered wagon creaked in fear—

I shuttered as the "man" drew near.

The Injun spoke and then I knew
My time to die was not yet due.
For HE was a lovely Injun MAID
And it was SHE who was afraid.

We fell in love on Western plains
And now it's SHE who holds the reins;

We settled down to live life full
And now I'm pa of a "Sittin Bull."

PITY THE POOR Frosh as they have to look to their safety at the alarm "Air Raid." "Air Raid" caught these Frosh while on the way to class, books and all.

East Hall Gets New Mattresses

The girls at East are still talking about the new innerspring mattresses they've been getting lately. All rooms on second floor and most rooms on first have been furnished in the last two weeks. Because of the steel shortage, they will not get any more this week but everyone expects to sleep in ideal comfort within the next few days. Needless to say, Mrs. Johnson is happy about it and she and the girls are grateful to President Henderson for this improvement for which he is responsible.

Looking Ahead

(If this has any bearing on the way the future teachers of our state will plan for the future it is a good sign of progress.)

Boy: How about a date?

Girl: Sorry but you will have to wait until after Christmas.

Boy (a little worried): What do you mean, wait until after Christmas?

Girl: I'm going steady now but the boy I go with says he won't be coming back next quarter.
