EBSCO Display Issue in Firefox

March 5, 2014

The EBSCOhost interface is not currently displaying correctly in Firefox. This is a known issue that EBSCO is working to resolve. However, they do not have an estimated fix date for this issue at this time. All of the interface functionality is there, but it might be harder to find the correct links, the search box, or the facet selecting tools because the style sheet is not loading correctly. This issue is affecting all EBSCO databases including DISCOVER but only in the Firefox browser. If you need to use one of these databases, please use Chrome, Internet Explorer, or any other browser other than Firefox for the time being.
