Einstein's General Relativity Centennial Exhibit, March 14-31

March 10, 2015

Henderson Library is proud to showcase an exhibit and online guide celebrating Albert Einstein and the centennial of his groundbreaking theory of general relativity. The exhibit, which highlights events from Einstein's life as well as books on the scientist and his theory, will be on display in the large cases next to Zach's Brews. The exhibit will run from Einstein's birthday on March 14 through the end of the month, so please come have a look! The associated guide may be accessed at <http://georgiasouthern.libguides.com/content.php?pid=654982>.

Hot Doc: Celebrate National Nutrition Month

March 10, 2015

Celebrate National Nutrition Month with the newly available Scientific Report of the 2015 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee!

You can read and make comments on the report. See the full article and read the report here.

Check Library holdings before purchasing any resources. Several government documents listed in the article are available for purchase at the GPO Bookstore. As a Federal Depository Library, we may already have the resources you want or may be able to get them quickly and without any cost to you.
