CCC Nominations Due Sept. 27-Oct. 4

Editor's Note—See related letter from Nancy Dillard on Page 5.

Due to the resignation of Nancy Dillard, nominations to fill the position of Coordinator of Budgetary Affairs of the Central Coordinating Committee will be accepted by the CCC during the week of September 27-October 4. The election is scheduled for October 11. If necessary, runoffs will be held October 17. The

An Election Committee headed by Co-Chairman Margie Brown is responsible for insuring that the established election procedures are carried out.

Nominees should meet the requirements as stated in Article I, Section 2 of the CCC Statutes: "Any student may nominate himself for an office by completing the forms in the office of the CCC during the one-week nomination period. Nominees must not be currently on academic or disciplinary probation and must plan to be enrolled at G.S.C. for the succeeding fall, winter, and spring quarters."

The Coordinator of Budgetary Affairs is in charge of all disbursements and financial operations of the CCC. He is responsible for the publishing of a quarterly financial report; for administering all funds of the Committee, and for drawing up budget procedures for individuals and/or organizations receiving funds from the Central Coordinating Committee. He is to act as a liaison between the CCC and the Director of Financial Aid and the Scholarships and Loan Committee, and shall serve on the Activity Fee Budget Committee.

Nancy Dillard

newly elected officer will immediately assume full powers and duties of the office and shall serve for the remainder of the regular term of office.

Judicial Board Election Changed

By GEORGETTE LIPFORD
G-A Managing Editor

Procedures for electing the College Judicial Board have been altered this year to give students a more active voice in electing the seven voting members of the Board, three faculty members and four students. Previously a single committee made 12 nominations for the Judicial Board and the seven members were chosen by student government. But this year the nominating process is open to the entire student body, and the Central Coordinating Committee will choose four students to serve on the Judicial Board. (For details involving nominee requirements, read Dr. Orr's notice on Page 5.)

The College Judicial Board exists at GSC to promote self-discipline among students and to serve as a judiciary system to hear cases of all students charged with violating the rules and regulations of the college as stated in the Eagle Eye.

In a recent interview, Dr. James Orr, Chairman of the College Judicial Board, said: "These cases rarely come up—in fact, we had only six or eight last year—but it is important to have responsible board members. It is of such importance that should a member miss more than one meeting he is replaced."

Dr. Orr also stressed that a student charged with violation of a major regulation has three alternatives: (1) He may, in writing, admit the alleged violation, waive all further hearings and appeals, and accept the action of the Director of Judicial Affairs as final and binding for all purposes; (2) He may, in writing, admit or deny the alleged violation, waive the right to appear before the College Judicial Board, and request the Dean of Students to appoint a Hearing Officer to conduct a formal hearing for disposition of the case; or (3) He may, in writing, admit or deny the alleged violation and request a formal hearing before the College Judicial Board.

The Honors Committee will be accepting nominations for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities until October 2. Any member of the faculty, staff or student body may nominate candidates for this honor. Nomination applications may be obtained from either the Central Coordinating Committee or Dr. Ralph Lightsey, Chairman of the Honors Committee. After receiving nominations, those students nominated will be given a form to complete. These forms must be returned to Dr. Lightsey, Chairman of the Honors Committee, no later than October 9.

Over 100 Attend CCC Workshop

By DON WOOD
G-A NEWS EDITOR

On Saturday, July 22, the Central Coordinating Committee of Georgia Southern College held a workshop for the various student government committees in the Holiday Inn in Statesboro. Over one hundred persons were in attendance.

The purpose of the workshop was to explain the workings of the CCC to the students who volunteered to work on committees this fall, and for the committees to actually begin work.

Pam Ansley, Vice-President of the Central Coordinating Committee, explained that the CCC was formed to do away with the inefficiency of the Student Association of Governing Councils, the previous student government. The SAGC had been ineffective because of red tape, a communications gap between the seven councils making up the government, and the fact that the officers didn't meet the current needs of GSC student government.

The STATUTES of the Central Coordinating Committee can be found in the EAGLE-EYE.

The CCC consists of six members: President, Vice-President, and four coordinators, of Co-curricular Activities, Academic Affairs, Budgetary Affairs, and Auxiliary Services. Each of the four Coordinators is a specialist in his field; the Vice-President is a specialist in communications; and the President coordinates the efforts of the other five.

As Vice-President, Pam Ansley is in charge of communications. She has taken several steps to better communications between student government and students. These include a CCC newsletter to be distributed at the beginning of each quarter, a pamphlet explaining the various student government committees, weekly CCC news in the GEORGE-ANNE, and a proposed radio station on campus.

The Coordinator of Academic Affairs, Paulette Brown, serves as one of the two students on the Academic Advisory Council. (The other student is George Wood.) These two students advise the AAC of student opinion, but are not allowed to vote. The Honors Committee, the Lecture Series Committee, the Faculty Evaluation Committee, the Registration Committee, and the College Bowl Committee all fall under the supervision of the Coordinator of Academic Affairs.

Nancy Dillard, Coordinator of Budgetary Affairs, is in charge of the funds allocated to student government. The $15,300 CCC budget is explained in detail on p. 7. She also serves, along with the President and the Vice-President, as a member of the Student Activities Fee Budget Committee. The committee is chaired by Dr. Quick, Vice-President of GSC, and is made up of 3 faculty members and 3 students.

The twelve Student-Faculty Standing Committees fall under the supervision of Susie Phelps, the Coordinator of Co-Curricular Affairs. Also under her are the Volunteer Services Committee and the Voter Registration Committee.

As Coordinator of Auxiliary Services, David Holley is in charge of student complaints about housing, the cafeteria, the book store, photo-services, and so forth. Under his supervision fall the Book Exchange Committee, the Homecoming Committee, the

Judge Reduces Trial Sentences

The sentences of the five men convicted in the July 23 kidnapping of Charles Kirk Allen Jr., were reduced to probation and a fine by Superior Court Judge W. Colbert Hawkins.

Donald Edward Burke, 24, and Bernard Stanley Smith, 22, were sentenced to three years in prison by Judge Hawkins on August 31. Richard Herschel Stewart, 24, Strudwick Nash Blun, 23, and Dean Gerald McNamar, 20, were each given two-year sentences.

Their sentences were reduced to probation. In addition, they were required to pay a fine of $102 to cover court costs and the medical bills for Allen.

The July 23 kidnapping revolved around Allen's taking a marijuana plant belonging to some of the defendants.

The five were probated under the First Offenders Act. If they successfully complete their terms of probation, their records will be sealed, and they will, in effect, have no criminal record.

Probationers Smith, Burke and Blun have indicated they tentatively plan to return to GSC. Stewart plans to return to his home in Conyers and McNamar will remain in Statesboro.

Nominations Accepted

The Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges award honors students who have demonstrated outstanding leadership and service in the college community. Selections for Who's Who will be made on the basis of the following criteria: 1) grade point average of 2.8 or better, 2) campus and/or community leadership and 3) campus and/or community service.

Final selections of recipients of this award will be made by the Honors Committee on the basis of a point system. Points may be gained in three areas:

academics, leadership and service. The type of leadership and the quality of service will be determined from evaluation forms that will be sent to faculty advisors of organizations and

I.D.'s Needed To Enter Hanner

By SALLEY COTTEN
G-A Features Editor

A rash of vandalism has necessitated a new procedure of entrance into the Hanner Complex during weekdays and on weekends.

According to Doug Leavitt, Chairman of the division of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, admittance to Hanner will be permitted only through the student lobby entrance on Herty Drive opposite the Alumni House. This procedure will be in effect during the hours 7-10 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1-6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Students must have their I.D. cards before being permitted to enter. Faculty, staff, and their dependents are being issued courtesy cards for this purpose.

"We are having problems with townspeople who are unidentified overrunning the facilities. We have had acts of vandalism and we're instituting this identification system to assure students and faculty an opportunity to use the facilities. We hope to eliminate the vandalism," said Dr. Leavitt.

According to Dr. Leavitt, the Hanner Coke and cookie machines are broken into weekly. Two basketball goals in the fieldhouse were broken last spring and the organ, used for commencement exercises, was tampered with, resulting in $80 worth of damage. Offenders have also been caught having water fights with fire extinguishers in the Hanner Complex.

By locking the Hanner Building and making a mandatory identification check at the entrance, Dr. Leavitt hopes that acceptable conduct will replace the past destructiveness.

"We are simply trying to make the facilities more usable for the students. They have priority," he said. "That's the only way we can handle it—to know who is in here and then restrict their attendance if they don't behave."

Want to buy or sell something, or offer your services? Whatever your needs you may find the answer by running a George-Anne classified ad. There's nothing to lose because it costs nothing for any student, faculty member, or staff member to run an ad. Limit your ad to 30 words or less. Mail them to Landrum Box 8001 or bring them by the George-Anne office, Williams 112. Ads must be received one week before the Tuesday that the paper is circulated. Remember that it costs nothing to run a George-Anne classified ad.

Publicity Director Position Open

The position of Director of Promotions and Publicity in the College Union Board is vacant. The responsibilities of this position include publicity for all functions of the College Union Board, including major concerts, Directions in Music, Coffee Houses, movies, Jam sessions, etc. The Director of Promotions and Publicity receives a salary of $150 per quarter.

Interested students should fill out an application at the Central Coordinating Committee office or the College Union Board office in the Williams Center. Applications will be reviewed during the week of September 27-October 4.

other persons who could be able to evaluate each nominee. These forms will enable the Honors Committee to make final selections.

Points in the academic area are gained according to grade point average, in the following manner: 25 points if GPA is 2.8-3.00, 50 points if GPA is 3.01-3.50 and 75 points if GPA is 3.51-4.00.

Points in the leadership section are allocated according to positions held. Points are given as follows: 40 points for officers of CCC or SAGC, the Editors of the George-Anne, Reflector, and Miscellany, and the Chairman of the College Union Board; 35 points for President of IFC and Panhellenic, Associate Editors and Section Editors of the above-named publications, and State or Regional Officers; 30 points for Presidents of approved organizations and other officers of IFC and Panhellenic, 25 points for other officers of approved organizations, Chairmen of CUB committees; 20 points for chairman of CCC ad hoc committees for members of Faculty Senate Standing Committees, or members of special ad hoc committees appointed by the President or Vice-President of the college. In addition, points are allocated for participation in local, state or regional and national activities such as varsity sports, beauty pageants and plays.

Points for service may be earned according to the quality of service. They are allocated as follows: 50 points for outstanding service, 35 points for good service, and 20 points for fair service.

Students who have compiled the most points will be selected for Who's Who. The Honors

Committee feels that the point system and the evaluation forms are the fairest way possible to select recipients.

HEC Workshop To Be Held Tuesday Oct. 2

A food labeling workshop designed to inform the public about food labeling regulations recently finalized will be held at Georgia Southern College Tuesday, October 2, from 1-4 p.m.

The workshop, sponsored by the GSC Division of Home Economics, will include a program presented by the Food and Drug Administration's Region IV Consumer Specialist Minna Leblang.

Purpose of the new labels is to provide more nutritional information about food products so that the American consumer may better identify and select nutritious foods.

Thought to be poisonous, tomatoes were not eaten in the United States until about 1825, although they had been an Italian staple food since the 1500's.

"Which one to fill out first?" is the question Georgia Southern freshman Cindy Smith is asking as she completes that quarterly task of class registration. Cindy, a Savannah native, was one of approximately 6,000 Georgia Southern students who returned to the campus this week for the beginning of Fall quarter classes.

Basic Grants Available

The Office of Education is sponsoring a new student financial aid program which is available to first-time, full-time students for the 1973-74 school year.

The new Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program—more popularly known as Basic Grants—is designed to assist eligible students planning to enter colleges, universities, community colleges, approved vocational and technical schools, and hospital schools of nursing.

When the appropriation is sufficient to fully fund the program, students will receive grant assistance of $1,400, less the amount the family can be expected to contribute for the postsecondary education of the student. No grant can, however, be more than one-half of a student's cost of attendance.

For the 1973-74 academic year, $122 million is available to assist an estimated 425,000 students. The maximum award is $452 and the average award is $200.

The amount of each student's expected family contribution and the amount of his award is determined on the basis of a formula developed by the Office of Education.

Basic Grants unlike loans, do not have to be repaid and may be used to cover a student's tuition, fees, room, board, books, supplies, and miscellaneous expenses.

The School of Business at Georgia Southern College has recently completed an application for accreditation by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

The application, which was made to the only nationally recognized accrediting body for Schools of Business, was 10 months in preparation by the faculty of the GSC School of Business.

The application, which was under the supervision of Dr. Larry Price, professor of finance, and editorship of Dr. Bill Word, assistant professor of economics, covered such areas as objectives and fund requirements, admissions, personnel, curriculum, library resources and services, financial resources and facilities, and educational innovation and technology.

If the application is approved, a committee of three will visit Georgia Southern for four days in the Fall. The committee will be composed of one representative from industry and two Deans from other member Schools of Business.

Approximately 130 of the nation's 400 Schools of Business are accredited by the American Assembly. There are only four currently accredited in Georgia—University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Georgia State, and Emory University.

Louise G. Henry, who received her Master of Science degree from GSC in 1970, was selected runner-up winner of the Robert T. Gast Award for the best Graduate Student paper presented at the recent Savannah meetings of the Southeastern Branch of the Entomological Society of America (E.S.A.).

Mrs. Henry, a doctoral candidate at Clemson University, was presented a cash award of $300 by Dr. H.O. Lund, University of Georgia, on behalf of the E.S.A. Her master's thesis research, "Population Studies of Ectoparasites of the Cotton Rat, Sigmodon hispidus" was completed under the direction of Dr. Sturgis McKeever, Professor of Biology at Georgia Southern.

Dr. James H. Oliver, Callaway Professor of Biology at GSC, recently returned from Cornell University where he presented two lectures under the Grace H. Griswold Lecture Series in Entomology.

Oliver, who was recently elected President of the Southeastern Society of Parasitologists, presented lectures on "Reproduction in Ticks" and "Chromosomes and Hybridization Studies of Bisexual and Parthenogenetic Races of Ixodids."

The Griswold Lecture Series at Cornell is an endowed series whereby interest from an initial investment is used to bring in prominent speakers and lecturers to that campus. Oliver recently presented a lecture at a Sigma Xi-Fact Seminar at Florida Institute of Technology in Melbourne, Florida.

Dr. Donald F. Hackett, Chairman of the Division of Industrial Technology, spoke at a leadership program sponsored by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce on September 7 at Brenau College. Hackett spoke on "Career Education: A New Direction" at a 9:45 a.m. presentation at the two-day program, which had as its theme, "Evolving Concepts in Education." He also served at a panel discussion on September 7.

Dr. William H. Bolen, Head of the Department of Marketing and Office Administration at GSC, has published an article and a book review in professional journals.

His article, entitled "Consumer Awareness vs. Habits of Mortgage Credit," was published in the Atlanta Economic Review. It examined the effect of the Truth In Lending Law on the mortgage credit user.

Bolen's book review, which appeared in the Journal of Retailing, examined the text, Retailing: A Mid-Management Approach by Will and Hasty. The review stated "This book is an attempt to provide an overview of retailing from the perspective of middle management."

Bolen received his M.B.A. and Ph.D. Degrees from the University of Arkansas. He joined the GSC faculty in 1966.

Averitt On British Lecture Tour

Dr. Jack N. Averitt, Dean of the Georgia Southern College Graduate School, has been invited to present four major lectures in England and Scotland during September, 1973. The invitation came from Bill Carter, President of Rotary International, an organization with approximately 740,000 members.

"President Bill has asked my wife and me to represent him and his first lady, Olive, at four District Conferences in England and Scotland," explained Averitt. "One thing that makes this invitation so meaningful is that Bill is from England. I will find it a challenge and an honor to represent him."

Averitt's lecture tour will take him to Jersey of the Channel Islands, England; Oban, Scotland; Bournemouth and Plymouth, England.

For the past seven years, Averitt's work with Rotary International has become known nationally and internationally. He has held many offices, including membership in the Rotary Foundation Study Committee and the prestigious World Board of Trustees. He has served as Governor of Georgia's District 692 and was appointed one of 26 group leaders from 16 countries for the Rotary International Assembly held each year at Lake Placid. He is a Paul Harris Fellow.

This year President Carter, in recognizing Averitt's interest and work with Youth Programs during his recent governorship, asked him to serve as a member of the Youth Activities Committee for R.I. during the 1973-74 year.

Carter developed a new worldwide committee this year for evaluating the International Assembly and asked Averitt to serve as chairman. Working with him will be Edwin Harrop, Vice-President of Rotary International in Britain and Ireland, and Aston Williams, past District Governor from South Africa.

Averitt's work with Rotary received an additional accolade this month when his Statesboro Club recommended him for the Directorship of Region IV, a geographical area encompassing nine state states, including Puerto Rico.

Portfolio of 16 Prints

Art Students Complete Project

If the old adage is true that "one picture is worth a thousand words," it would take several thousand words to describe a recently completed project by the Georgia Southern College art department which includes a total of 16 pictures.

Students in a GSC art class completed a summer project which has resulted in a portfolio of prints entitled "Life in Georgia." The class, under the direction of Bernard Solomon, instructor of art, included 15 students who captured scenes of life in various sections of Georgia and compiled them into this portfolio collection.

The portfolio includes a total of 16 prints and a permanent cover, all of which were created by the students, utilizing the four graphic media—lithographs, etchings, wood engravings, and silk screen.

"The project was totally student-motivated," explained

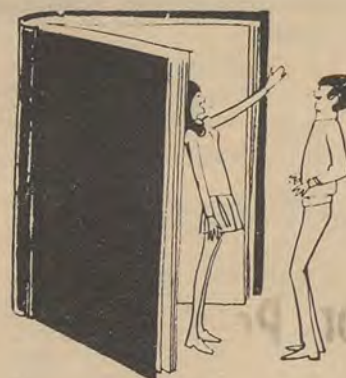

Solomon. "The portfolio contains scenes depicting life throughout Georgia as the students see it. All 70 portfolios we did are signed limited editions."

The students themselves are natives of not only various parts of Georgia, but also of other states such as Florida and Kansas. And this is one of the factors which determined the project.

"One of our objectives and themes of the portfolio was to help develop a positive feeling toward the state of Georgia and to show the positive side of 'life in Georgia,'" he said. "We have students from different parts of the state as well as other states and it is interesting to see the various positive interpretations which they developed. And also the project gave them an experience in pulling a large edition of prints which they may not otherwise have the opportunity to do on their own."

Justice Is Just A Bunch Of Pull

This is a story of justice. The names, dates, and places have been changed to protect the guilty.

Last spring, two college students were introduced to two freaky-looking dudes who wanted the students to buy 100 pounds of pot for them. The students were to go to Gainesville, pick up the pot, and meet the freaks in a deserted field the following night. When the group met at the designated time, the students were greeted by a police force—a cast of thousands to arrest the two malicious dope peddlers. The whole deal had evidently been a setup. The freaks were special agents for the FBI.

Both boys were arrested and released on bond to await the preliminary hearings. One of the students, John, a graduate of a small southern college, had been dealing pot for several months, using the money to pay his college tuition and expenses. Both of his parents were dead and his only known relative owned him after she heard of the bust. With no money and no connections, the court "awarded" the court public defender to defend John.

The second boy, Charles, had been dealing for several years. He had been arrested several times before for minor offenses, DUI's and such. His father, the district attorney in the small town, hired his best friend to handle his son's case.

In the preliminary hearings, the judge decided this. If John pleaded guilty and settled out of court he would go to prison for 8 months; if he decided to fight, he would probably get from 2-5 years. Charles was told if he decided to settle out of court, he would get one year in prison. If he fought, he could almost be assured of a suspended sentence. Pull? Politics? This is a story of Justice.

Thumbs Up , Thumbs Down

Thumbs up to Dr. Orr for an improved edition of the Eagle-Eye.

Thumbs down to students who are cruel to the ducks.

Thumbs up to the CCC for continuing work on intervisitation.

Thumbs down to whoever is in charge of paving the roads on campus.

Thumbs down to students who swipe books from the library.

Thumbs up to Linda Crowder for organizing a girls' basketball team.

Thumbs up to Nancy Dillard for a job well done.

Women-1, Men-0 What Does It Prove?

By M.A. GIDDENS

Women Libbers are probably just getting over their hangovers resulting from victory celebrations in honor of Billie Jean King's conquest of the gray-haired Bobby Riggs. "Ah-Billie-our savior," these libbers have been saying. "You've shown them (Men) once and for all that woman is superior to man in all respects."

But in actuality, what has the tennis match proven? That an athletic younger woman (tomboyish, at that—sorry, Billie) beat an older tennis pro who had a head so filled with male egotism that it was difficult for him to keep his balance on the courts.

The G-A denounces this tennis match as the ultimate goal in women's lib. The G-A has known for years that women and men excel according to ability—not according to sex—and the G-A raps a ruler on the knuckles of libbers who would take a racket, a net, an old egotist, and a cocky young player and turn them into national symbols for sex battles. The G-A was appalled at the coverage of the match—such back-biting, cynicism, and snide remarks are surely nothing to be proud of in a game whose national trademark is good sportsmanship.

But there is one consolation concerning the tennis match. It gave tennis, one of the cleanest and most invigorating sports, the coverage it has long deserved. For this, Bob and Bill, the G-A is grateful. See ya at the courts.

Students Select Nominees For Judicial Board

By M.A. GIDDENS

In previous years, the judicial board, the board that hears all students accused of violating school rules, has been chosen by the student government. Nominations for student members were made by a committee. This year, however, nominations for student members can be made by any student enrolled at GSC. The story will appear in this issue but the G-A editorial comment is this. We commend Dr. Orr and his committee for finally allowing the students a voice in deciding at least who they want to be nominated. Each nominee will be personally interviewed and if he wants to decline nomination he will of course be allowed to do so. Students! This is a stride as important as women being allowed to smoke in public, the invention of electricity, and the discovery of instant tea. Take the opportunity to jot a name down for a responsible nominee to GSC's judicial board.

Dillard Resigns From CCC

An open letter to the Faculty and Student Body of Georgia Southern College:

At this time I would like to submit my resignation as Coordinator of Budgetary Affairs of the Central Coordinating Committee. My reasons for resigning are personal and stem from the fact that I have accepted a graduate assistantship in the Division of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. I regret that this decision could not have been made before elections last Spring, but circumstances did not develop until Summer quarter.

I have thoroughly enjoyed the position I have held for the last year and a half and my relationship with the other officers. I would like to express my appreciation to Dr. Duncan, Dr. Quick, Dean Jones, Dean Waller, Dr. Nolen, the staff of the Office of Student Personnel, Mrs. Jane Moseley, the members of the Student Activity Fee Budget Committee, and many more who have helped to make my job much easier for their cooperation and sincere interest in student affairs.

Sincerely,
Nancy R. Dillard

New Curfews?

A proposal was unanimously approved at the last SAC (Student Advisory Council) meeting that the State Board of Regents adopt a written policy on the issue of curfew hours for women students. The proposal was based a recent act passed by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare which prohibits the discrimination of students based on sex at any higher educational institution receiving federal financial assistance. The proposal argued that women student's curfews are discriminating since most institutions do not have any curfew for the men students.

SAC is composed of all student government presidents and other executive officers of the higher educational institutions in the University System of Georgia. Its purpose is to make recommendations to the Board of Regents affecting the welfare of the students.

SAC representatives from GSC were Alex Livadas, President, Pam Ansley, Vice President, and Nancy Dillard, Coordinator of Budgetary Affairs, of the Central Coordinating Committee.

Alex Livadas said, "I believe that the Board of Regents will look carefully into this proposal, but I do not know if they will agree with the SAC interpretation of 'discriminatory practice.'"

"Regardless of this proposal, our student government is working on another proposal which we will submit to our administration by the end of fall quarter. A committee was formed last summer quarter to produce this proposal.

"I personally feel that there are no educational benefits to be derived by curfews, and I think that if our committee can prove my belief, we will have no trouble passing our proposal."

There's nothing wrong with women's lib that a three-month journey in a conestoga wagon wouldn't remedy.

Keeping the chin up reduces the neck wrinkles.

CCC Progress Reports

The Central Coordinating Committee, in its efforts to improve the communications between the student government and both students and faculty, is attempting to institute a weekly information box which will have synopses of the actions taken by each of its ad hoc (student) committees during the week. If a Committee has not met during the week, "no action taken" will indicate that. The student government would appreciate any comments on this information box, which you can send to the George-Anne.

Following is a list of the committees of the CCC and the action taken during the last week:

FACULTY EVALUATION: The committee met Saturday and decided that the proposal which was done during the summer needed one addition which will be attempted this week.

PRE-REGISTRATION: The committee discussed what work was done this summer. Twenty-eight replies concerning other pre-registration systems in schools around the country were considered.

RADIO STATION: The committee will vote this week on the proposal to be sent to the Board of Regents. Also some members of the committee will be concerned with surveying the students to determine what kinds of music and programs they would prefer.

CAFETERIA: No action was taken due to lack of student interest. If some students would like to see some cafeteria improvements, they are welcome to come to the CCC office, located on the second floor of Williams Center, and join this committee.

WILLIAMS CENTER REDECORATION: The plans for the redecoration of the Williams Center are ready. It was felt that this committee will need some more student participation in its efforts to make plans a reality.

BOOK EXCHANGE: The committee decided to investigate the legality of a used book exchange system on campus. The committee should be able to find out definitely if the student government will be able to set up a non-profit used book exchange system for next quarter.

INTERVISITATION: The committee will distribute questionnaires to all students living in visitation dorms in order to determine their feelings toward intervisitation. The committee was also concerned with the Eton Hall case, in which several students are being forced to live in a non-visitation dorm against their wishes.

HOMEcoming: The committee is considering having this year's parade on campus. Some other changes were considered, but nothing definite will be decided until some feedback from the students is heard.

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE: No action was taken.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES: The committee decided to publicize the volunteer services program and get support from both the community and students.

COLLEGE BOWL: No action was taken.

PULSE OF THE STUDENTS: The committee considered some problems on which an expression of student feeling is needed. It will start designing questionnaires this week.

VOTER REGISTRATION: The committee decided to spend this week doing an investigation on the requirements for registering to vote in Statesboro, the dates of any upcoming elections, and the requirements for running for office.

STUDENT BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU: The committee decided to ask for more support from students and faculty members. It was felt that student business majors could be of invaluable help to this committee. Projects such as renting typewriters and refrigerators for dorm rooms were considered.

Vacancies On Judicial Board

Several student vacancies exist on the College Judicial Board. These vacancies must be filled as soon as possible so that the Board can function during the academic year 1973-74.

All regularly enrolled students who have completed at least 15 hours of academic credit at Georgia Southern College are eligible for appointment provided they meet the following criteria: (1) They must not have a disciplinary record for the last three quarters of college attendance (2) They must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or better (3) They must not hold the top executive office in any other campus organization (4) Must be full time students (12 hours or more) (5) Must be planning to attend Georgia Southern for the entire academic year.

The term of office for student members of the College Judicial Board is from time of appointment in October 1973 through August 31, 1974.

The rules of appointment in the College Judicial Board Constitution require that the present College Judicial Board review nominations from the student body and the faculty and prepare a list of twelve nominees which will be submitted to the Central Coordinating Committee. The Central Coordinating Committee will choose any four of these twelve nominees for appointment to the College Judicial Board.

If you are interested in becoming a member of the College Judicial Board or know someone you feel is qualified to be on the College Judicial Board, you are urged to submit names to the Chairman of the College Judicial Board before Friday, October 5, 1973. All nominations should include: 1. Full name of nominee 2. Address and telephone number of nominee 3. A paragraph stating the reasons why the person making the nomination feels the person being nominated will be effective as a member of the College Judicial Board.

All nominations must be signed by the person making the nomination. A complete description of the procedures for appointing members to the College Judicial Board may be found on page 90 of the Eagle Eye, Student Handbook.

All nominations should be submitted before Friday, October 5 to:

Miss GSC Pageant Committee, and the Traffic Safety Committee.

Dean of Students Ben Waller spoke to the participants in the workshop. He expressed his hopes that the new student government would be a success, and pledged his full support to the CCC.

The President of the CCC, Alex Livadas, led a discussion of the problems of student government, and possible solutions to them. The main problems outlined were: 1) lack of student interest and participation; 2) decrease of interest after Fall Quarter; 3) lack of continuity from year to year; and 4) lack of professionalism.

Livadas suggested that there was no real lack of student interest in student government, but simply that most students were not aware of methods of becoming involved. He pointed out how steps had already been taken to insure better communication between student government and students.

The solution to the problem of decrease of interest in student government after fall quarter is, also basically one of communication. The CCC is continually recruiting people for committees. Students should be aware of this continual recruitment.

By recruiting Freshmen to work on committees and to become involved in student government, a continuity from year to year may be gained.

To combat the lack of professionalism that has plagued the student government in the past, the CCC has been working continuously through summer quarter.

Livadas pointed out that the result of these problems is a lack of power in student government. Power, Livadas said, is a much misused word. He defined "power" as "the ability or capacity to act effectively." The student government can gain power by having facts to back their proposals, by demonstrating that they can get things done, and by getting people involved.

Tryouts for the Swingin' Bells, the Georgia Southern Drill Team, will be held on October 1, 3, and 4 at 7 p.m. in the Hanner Gym. Any girl presently attending GSC is eligible to try out.

Any faculty member who has had experience in working with drill teams, and who would like to sponsor the team this year, is encouraged to come by October 1.

For further information, contact Kathy Howell, Landrum Box 10385, Olliff Hall, Extension 308 or 366; or Charlotte Allen, Landrum Box 8279, Olliff Hall, Ext. 209 or 207.

The 1973 REFLECTOR has arrived. Copies are available to students who attended GSC for three quarters last year.

The yearbook will be issued from room 104 in Williams Center on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Fridays 9:00-2:00), September 24-October 5.

It is requested that students picking up their books present their 1972-73 Student ID as proof of attendance at Georgia Southern. Those whose ID's are not available should present other identification. Their names will be checked against lists from the registrar's office.

All 1973 June and August graduates will receive a copy of the REFLECTOR via mail.

Have you ever been ripped off just because you are a college student? You can do something about it. The Central Co-ordinating Committee has formed a Student Better Business Bureau to protect the student as a consumer in Statesboro. The Bureau needs students to serve on committees. We need your time and suggestions. To find out more about what you can do to protect yourself, stop in the C.C.C. office any time this week. We are here to serve the students of Georgia Southern College.

The University System is now requiring that all baccalaureate graduates in education must take the National Teachers Examination in order to receive a degree in the University System. The score is to be placed on the transcript. Until further interpretation is provided, we must assume that this means all persons qualifying for a T-4 certificate program and that at least the commons portion must be completed. We would like to know that each student has completed this examination before the end of the Student Teaching Quarter.

Coffeehouse Presents Magician And Band

Columbia Records' recording artists The Mike Green Band and professional magician Mark Thigpen, Jr. will perform Friday night in the William Center Coffeehouse area. The College Union Board-sponsored event will be free to the students and faculty, and is scheduled to start at 9 p.m.

The recently formed Mike Green Band is a four-piece group that has its roots in the former Hampton Grease Band, a highly talented Atlanta band. The music spectrum they cover is progressive jazz, rock, and blues, but they rely mainly on audience approval for their material. The unique arrangement of music is supplied by lead signer, organist, saxophonist, and flautist Mike Green, Mike Holbrook on bass, Harold Kelling on guitar, and drummer Jerry Field.

Corbett Mark Thigpen, Jr. is a platform magician who has been practicing magic since he was six years old. A Georgia Southern pre-med student, Mr. Thigpen has attended several magic conventions and worked a summer at a Michigan resort.

Rush Parties Entertain New Sorority Pledges

By SALLEY COTTEN
G-A Features Editor

Georgia Southern Sororities can now boast of a total of eighty-six new pledges. These girls were chosen from a group of one hundred forty-four rushees who attended sorority parties two weeks ago.

A week of formal Rush began on September 9 with parent orientation. Rushees attended Ice Water Teas Monday and Tuesday, Theme parties Wednesday, and Preferentials Thursday evening.

Wednesday night, each sorority carried out its own unique theme during each party. This year's themes were quite varied, but each was memorable. Alpha Delta Pi used a nautical theme, complete with a ship facade at the rear of the lodge. Zeta Tau Alpha sisters portrayed Peanuts characters, and Delta Zeta sisters dressed appropriately to carry out an Arabian Nights theme. Rushees at Kappa Delta's party found themselves in the midst of a likeness of a gambling casino, and girls who entered Alpha Xi Delta's lodge that night, found themselves transported to the magical land of Oz. Phi Mu acted out skits dealing with the theme "Funky Phi Mu."

The Preferential parties are of a more formal and serious nature than the Teas and Theme Parties. By Thursday of Rush Week, each rushee is carefully considering which sorority she prefers. During this last set of parties, the sisters explain the ideals of their sorority and get to know the new girls better.

Rush Week this year provided entertainment for the girls during the day, too, according to Ms. Beth McCauley, Panhellenic Rush Chairman. They attended a pool party, a slide presentation, and workshops. The purpose of the latter was to inform the rushees about service to the community and school, finances, and social activities.

Following Preferentials, the girls signed bid cards stating their first and second choices of sororities. A panel, consisting of alumnae, the Panhellenic President and Rush Chairman, and Dean Beauchat, then matched the rushee's bids with those of each sorority.

Through this procedure, GSC sororities continue to thrive year after year. Ms. McCauley said, "I think the sorority girls as well as the rushees were both excited and pleased with the outcome of Rush."

CCC States Ga. Southern Budget

The budget of the Central Coordinating Committee of Georgia Southern is stated below. According to the STATUTES of the CCC, any fulltime student may petition against the budget if he disagrees with any portion of the allotments. He should present the petition bearing the signatures of at least 300 full-time students enrolled at Georgia Southern College to the Central Coordinating Committee. It should contain a statement clearly indicating the full purpose of the petition. The matter will then be called to a vote of the students. If no petition is made, the budget is approved as published.

TRAVEL: $1500

Student Advisory Council to the Board of Regents Meetings $1,000

SAC Committee work and other travel $500

The Student Advisory Council to the Board of Regents is a representative body for all students in University System Institutions. Its membership consists of student government officers with one vote per institution. There are ten SAC meetings throughout the year that necessitate representation from Georgia Southern. SAC has become a viable organ of the University System of Georgia, and Georgia Southern has become active in SAC. Our representatives are presently serving on the Health Services Committee, the Georgia Intern Committee, and the Faculty Evaluation Committee. At least two representatives, and preferably three, should be in attendance at these meetings. Our budget will allow $100 for each meeting, which will include transportation, lodging, and meals. The remainder of the budget will cover any expense due to SAC committee work that necessitates travel and any other conferences or meeting the executive officers deem valuable to attend.

SUPPLIES AND MATERIALS: $1100

Due to the amount of paper-work done in the CCC office—newsletters, notices, surveys, proposals, communication with other colleges, memos, etc.—it is felt that this amount is justifiable. Most of this paper-work is related to committee work or projects of some type and is not strictly administrative red tape. Also, a crosscheck of expenditures from previous years, as well as expenditures this summer, show this amount to be sufficient.

PUBLICATIONS, PUBLICITY, AND PRINTING: $1225

Ballots $200

Books, Pamphlets, and Subscriptions $825

Letterhead Stationery $75

Newsletter and other $125

This section covers the cost of printing ballots for the election of CCC officers. The possibility of run-off elections has been considered and budgeted based on last year's figures. Funds are also set aside for magazine subscriptions for the Health Cottage and books and pamphlets concerning student government (including committee interests and special projects) for our own usage. In addition, any pamphlets concerning CCC work that are printed are funded from this area. Another item covered is letterhead stationery in sufficient amount for usage by the six CCC officers and committee chairmen. This year we have begun publishing a newsletter acquainting students with the CCC and its work during the summer, to be distributed at the beginning of fall quarter. Hopefully, this will be an annual project. In the past, there has been a necessity to print flyers that were not provided for in the budget (exs: Legal awareness and voter registration). Additional funds have been earmarked for this purpose.

REPAIRS AND MAINTENANCE: $200

Contract—Service IBM typewriter $38.50

Repair Rex Rotary machine and other $161.50

Service on the IBM Selectric typewriter in our office is on a yearly contracted basis set at $38.50. Adjustment, oiling, cleaning, etc. of the Rex Rotary mimeograph machine totaled approximately $100 last year. The additional money is set aside for repairs and maintenance of the office machinery.

In an effort to serve those students attending the summer quarter and to increase continuity in student government, the CCC officers have begun a policy of actively working throughout the summer. This budget provides for a stipend for each of the three officers on campus this past summer, as well as the secretary that aided in office procedure. The present budget allows $250 per quarter as a stipend for the president. A review of the "Duties of the Officers" in the CCC Statutes will show that this remuneration is a minimal amount in consideration of time and effort involved. Because of the redistribution of duties and responsibility to areas of concern, it is felt that the vice-president and the coordinators now operate on an equal basis (refer again to "Duties of Officers"). For this reason, the stipend for each will be equal and set at $200 per quarter. The press secretary is responsible for publishing the newsletter assisting in publishing pamphlets, and general communication with the student body. He will receive $50 per quarter for his efforts. Two work study students are also hired to serve as secretaries in the CCC office for three hours each per day. These students are paid $48 per quarter from our budget and are primarily financed by the work study program.

HEADACHES-THEN FUN

Headaches, headaches, and more headaches. It seems like they would never end. First the trials of moving in the dorm. Those rooms looked so small, how did all your things from home fit into that one small space? And where did your roommate put her things, since you took up all the space in both closets, both dressers, and all four walls. Well, you finally thought you had it all figured out. Then you remembered that you had that bundle of clothes left in the car! Oh, well. Finally, moved in and settled down, it's time for registration. Shouldn't be much of a hassle. Just walk in, pick up your cards, and pay your fees; then off to a day by the pool. Not so, baby. Registration day is anything but easy! All those tables, P.E. what? You want my what color card?

Well, moving and registration are over. GSC is ready for you! It's time for love, laughter, and perhaps your first booze. So don't give up yet. The next pictures the George-Anne will print of you should be smiling young chicks; confident, carefree, and having a blast.

Hart Handles 437 Calls An Hour

"The only way I can compare this job is to say that it is like working for the telephone company in Miami during the tourist season." That's the way Mrs. Elousie Hart describes the Georgia Southern College central switchboard, and, with over 15 years experience in the field of telephone systems, she should know.

As chief switchboard operator at GSC, Mrs. Hart has been known to handle 437 incoming calls in one hour's time and over 2,000 calls in an eight-hour day. Those figures were recorded the week of September 11-15, 1972—one week before the beginning of Fall Quarter.

And Mrs. Hart and her switchboard staff must once again prepare for one of their busiest times of the year.

"The weeks prior to Fall Quarter and just before June graduation are the busiest times of the year for our staff," she explained. "This Fall, our switchboard hours have been extended because of the tremendous increase in calls."

During the 1972-73 year, the central switchboard remained open from 8 a.m. until midnight. This Fall, it will be open from 6:30 a.m. until 2:30 a.m. The remaining four hours will be monitored by the GSC Campus Security office.

"We'll have two full-time operators and six part-time students working at the switchboard this year," she said. "We have a capacity of 400 extension numbers on campus, but there are many more telephones, since some extensions have two or three phones. And we also have twice the number of incoming lines as we did when I began work at Georgia Southern four years ago."

Short Courses

Offered This Fall

Courses in Relief Printmaking, Print Collecting, Multi-Media First Aid Instruction, and Fundamentals of Cinematography highlight the Fall Quarter Short Course Program at GSC.

Other new courses being offered this Fall include Understanding Emotion, Twentieth-Century Science Fiction, Beginning Knitting, and Dog Obedience Training. These courses head a list of approximately 30 courses being offered through the GSC Short Course Program for the Fall quarter.

Registration for the Fall quarter program will be held Wednesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Blue Building on the Georgia Southern campus. Interested persons may also register at the Blue Building any time prior to the formal registration date.

All classes for the Fall quarter will begin the week of October 1.

Instruction in all courses will be provided by GSC professors and qualified members of the community approved by the appropriate college departments. There are no education prerequisites for enrolling in non-credit courses, and no college credit is given for participation; however, persons are awarded "Continuing Education Units" for each ten hours of instruction. These units are accumulated on a permanent transcript for each individual.

ago."

The period from 3 to 4 p.m. is normally the busiest time of day on the switchboard, with the period between 7 and 11:30 p.m. the most active at night. As far as business calls are concerned, there is no busiest time of the day; however, when it comes to the students, there is a definite trend.

"Wednesday and Thursday nights are the most active times for students," said Mrs. Hart, who has been described at times as the "fastest operator" in Statesboro. "And Friday night is the least busy. It seems the students make all their plans on Wednesday and Thursday and then carry them out on Friday."

Life on the switchboard at Georgia Southern is "certainly not dull," according to Mrs. Hart. And as someone who has worked for the telephone company in Miami during the tourist season, she should know.

Books Donated To Library

The Board of Directors of the First Bulloch Bank and Trust Company of Statesboro has donated over 1,800 volumes to the Georgia Southern College Library, including exceptional works in the area of Irish literature.

The collection was presented recently by First Bulloch Bank President O.B. Bell to GSC President Dr. Pope Duncan and Director of Libraries Dr. Richard Harwell.

"We are truly grateful for this gift," said Duncan. "Books have not been replaced by modern media and are still the backbone of a good library. This helps us move up another step toward a collection of excellence."

According to Harwell, "Outstanding among the strengths of the collection is a group of about 700 volumes of twentieth-century Irish literature. These represent all of the major authors of the so-called 'Irish Literary Renaissance.'"

Many of the books are autographed copies by such authors as Lord Dunsany, Lennox Robinson, Sean O'Casey, George Russell, James Stephens, and William Butler Yeats. There is also great strength in the books relating to late medieval history, the Crusades, and to Emperor Frederick II of Hohenstaufen. Also included are many volumes of general European history.

Of special Georgia interest is a copy of the New Testament in the Cherokee Indian language. This was published in New York in 1860 by the American Bible Society.

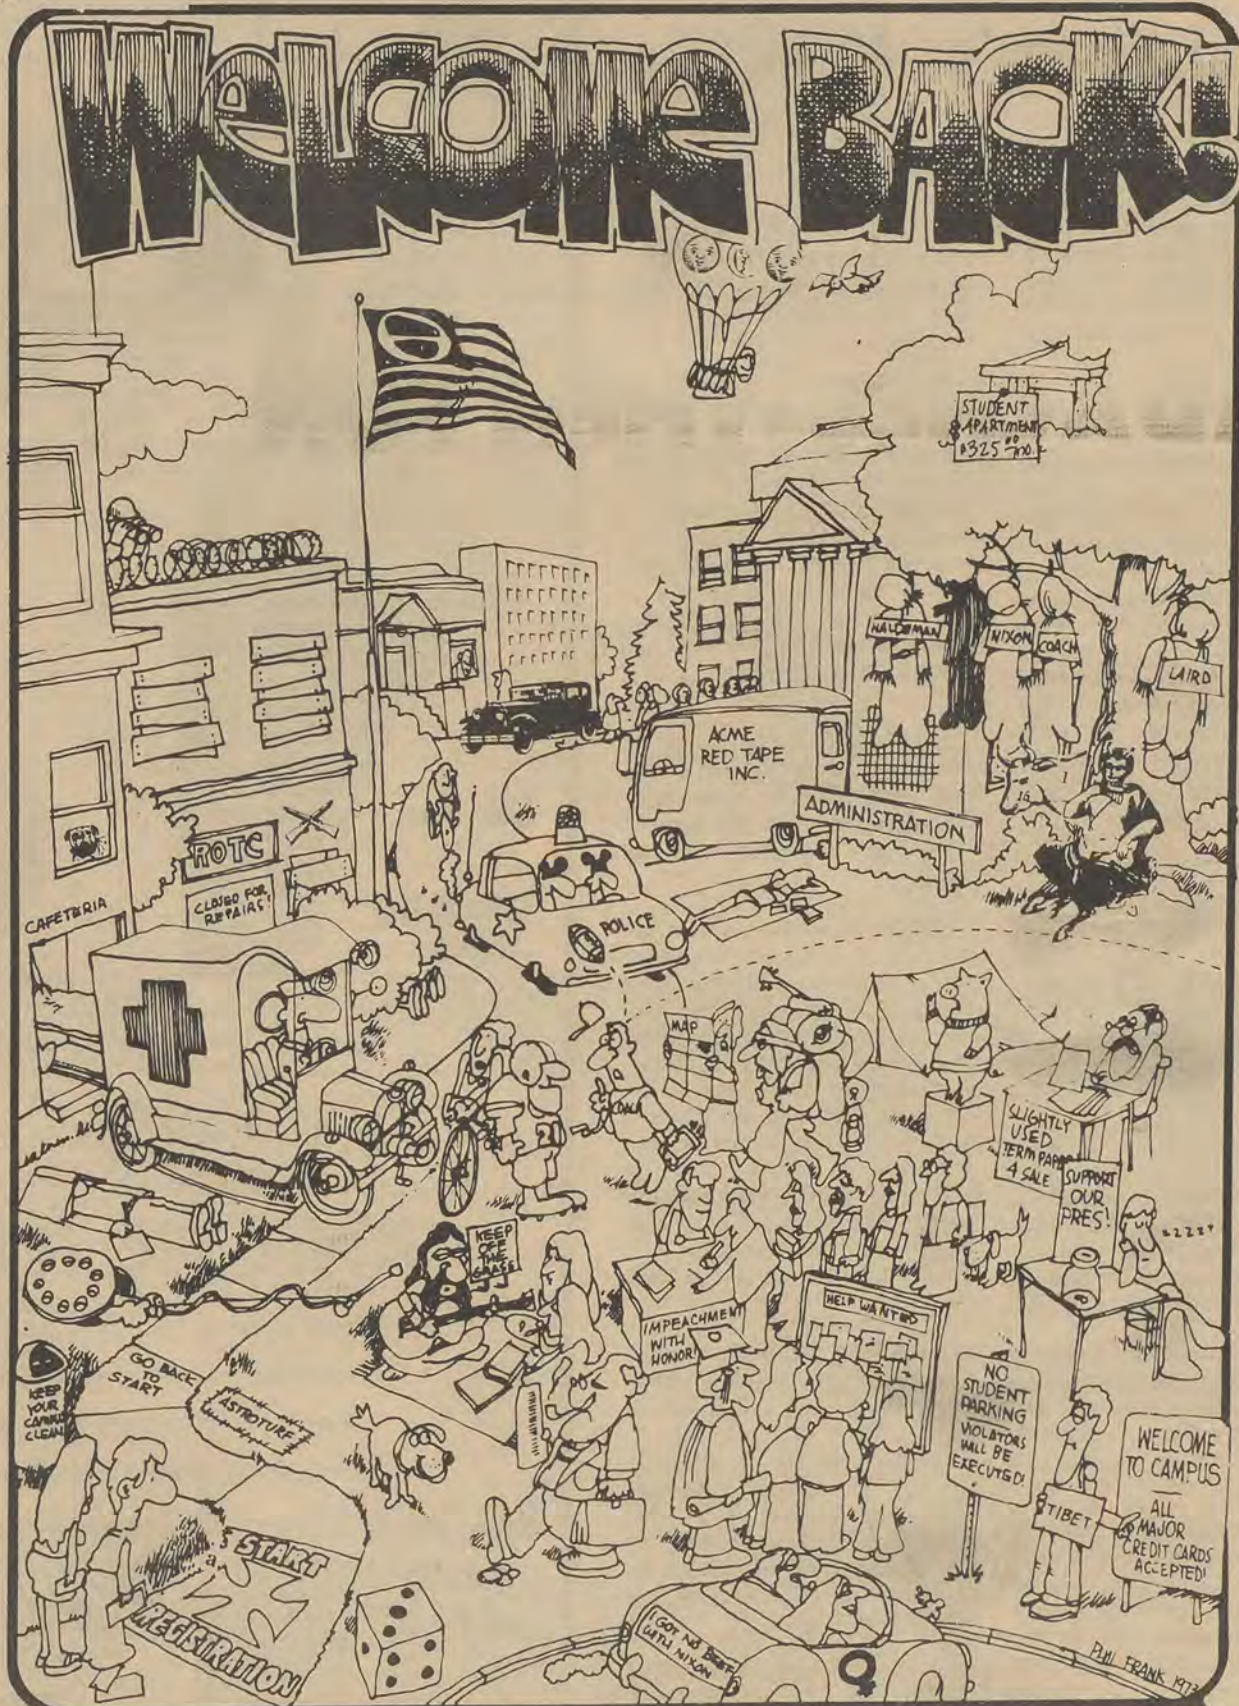

Accountants Seminar Scheduled This Week

The Georgia Association of Public Accountants Technical Seminar will be held at GSC Friday and Saturday, September 28 and 29.

Over 75 participants are expected for the seminar which is designed to present technical aspects of taxation and accounting. The seminar is sponsored by the Georgia Association of Public Accountants and Department of Accounting and the Georgia Southern School of Business.

Highlighting the seminar will be speakers Julian I. Deal, C.P.A., and Earl Dabbs, C.P.A., of Statesboro, on September 29. Two Georgia Southern faculty members will speak at the September 28 session.

Maharaj Signs Another Netter

Chuck Cicchese, a 1973 Junior College All-American from Miami-Dade North, has signed a tennis grant-in-aid with Georgia Southern College according to the announcement by head coach Vishnu Maharaj.

Cicchese, a native of Hollywood, Florida, finished as one of the top eight junior college players in the country at the 1973 national junior college tournament in Ocala, Florida. As the number two singles player, he paced his team to a second place finish in the nation this season after capturing the Florida State Junior College number two championship.

"Chuck could be the key to our 1974 season," said Maharaj following the announcement. "He will add a great deal of strength to the top of our lineup in singles and is an exceptional doubles player. We feel he is one of the top junior college recruits for 1973."

Cicchese compiled a singles record of 28-4 in 1973 along with a doubles mark of 24-2. As a freshman, he recorded a 21-2 slate in singles and 15-0 in doubles claiming both the state number two singles and doubles crowns.

Cicchese is the second player signed thus far by the Georgia Southern tennis team. Previously signed was Oliver Scott, a two-year standout at Abraham Baldwin Junior College.

Dillard's Parting Comments 'Support Women's Athletics'

Now that Billie Jean King has overpowered Bobby Riggs, it is an appropriate time for an article on women's intercollegiate athletics at Georgia Southern. This year Southern will field women's teams in three sports: basketball, gymnastics, and tennis.

Last February, the first women's basketball team defeated Tift College to win their only home game and start the year off on the right foot. They finished the season with a rotten record and some valuable experience against other teams in the state. The highlight of this season will be a game against West Georgia College, scheduled for Homecoming weekend. The team will be coached by Linda Crowder, a graduate assistant in the Physical Education Department.

Gymnastics was begun last year as a club with over thirty members. This year the club has become a team and will travel to the University of Georgia, the University of Florida, and Furman for meets. The team will be joined by outstanding freshmen recruits from Atlanta and Florida.

The tennis team finished second in the Georgia Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women's Tournament, behind the team from the University of Georgia. Southern hosted the tournament on campus last spring. Returning members of the team are Gale Peterson, Anne Rumble, Beth Sutton, and Russell Campbell.

A new sport being added is swimming. It will begin as a club this year, much as gymnastics did last year, with the hope of becoming a traveling team in 1974.

Georgia Southern is a member of Region 3 of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, an organization comparable to the NCAA for men. The women have been funded $1,200 for the fiscal year, an increase of $200. With an increase in the activity fee for next year, it is hoped that women's athletics will be awarded a more realistic budget. In addition, Ms. Edna E. Brown has been appointed as a faculty member of the Athletic Committee. This committee is a Student-Faculty Standing Committee of the Faculty Senate. There are two student members—one female and one male.

The Central Coordinating Committee is deeply concerned with establishing a sound women's athletic program. We strongly support all efforts by committees and individuals toward this goal.

Barnett Dives For Southern

Jeff Barnett, 1973 Florida state AAAA one-meter diving champion from Nova High School, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, has signed a grant-in-aid with Georgia Southern College, according to head swimming coach 'Bud' Floyd.

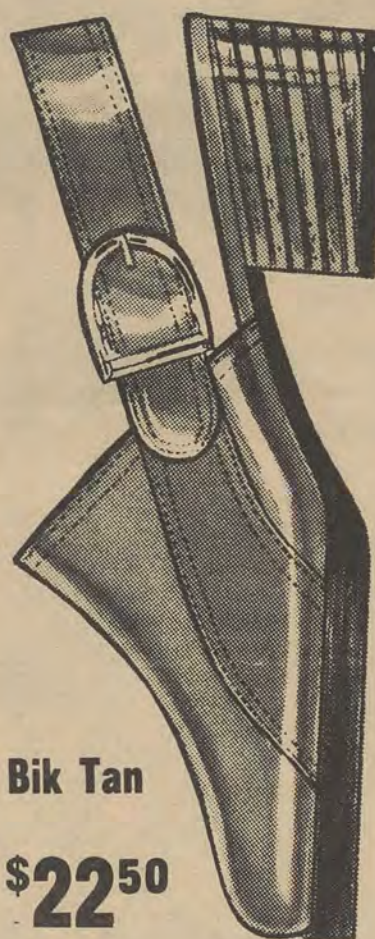

While at Nova, under coach Glen Kaye, Barnett compiled an impressive record, placing third in state competition in his junior year before winning the title this past season.

"We are extremely pleased that Jeff decided to sign with us," said Floyd. "He will definitely be a strong contender in this year's diving competition, and we expect him to give our diving team the needed depth."

Floyd said he feels that Barnett is already one of the top-ranking young divers in the country, and expects him to gain national prominence in the near future in collegiate diving competition.
