Homecoming Changes Proposed

The Homecoming Committee has proposed that the Homecoming parade be abolished and a carnival be established in its place. The proposal is now under consideration by the Administration.

The parade was voted down by the committee because of lack of support and complications in previous years.

Information on the carnival will be sent to all organizations and House Councils after the Homecoming theme is announced.

The Homecoming Theme Contest is still open. Entries should be sent to Landrum Box 8114. The contest ends October 26, and the winning theme will be announced November 1.

A proposed outline of activities was drawn up by the committee. The Homecoming concert is scheduled for Friday, January 25, at 8 p.m. The basketball game and the crowning of the homecoming Queen will be on Saturday at 2 p.m. The carnival, featuring displays, contests, booths, games, and music, is planned for 4-7 p.m. Saturday afternoon in Sweetheart Circle.

Bob Hope will appear at 8 p.m. on Saturday, followed by a dance from 11-2 a.m. Sunday will feature a luncheon by the lake.

Only the basketball game and the Bob Hope show are definitely scheduled at this time. All other activities are still in the planning stage.

Olliff Hall Votes Against Intervisitation

By JIMMY CASON
G-A Staff Writer

Olliff Hall will not have intervisitation this quarter.

The intervisitation proposal failed to pass in this dorm for lack of a two-thirds majority affirmative vote by all residents of the hall. The voting was held in Olliff Hall October 4 between 5 and 8 p.m.

A group of women in Olliff, contending that not enough hours were allowed for voting, presented a petition to the Housing Office contesting the election. The election, however, was upheld by the Housing Office; and there will be no intervisitation in Olliff this quarter.

Although boys will not be able to visit in an Olliff Hall girl's room this quarter, these women will have the chance to vote on this proposal again next quarter.

None of the other on-campus women's dorms have passed intervisitation. The Hendricks House Council has sent their proposal to the Housing Office, but it has not yet been returned to the dorm. Lewis and Johnson are still working on their proposals. Winburn is the closed dorm for women.

Intervisitation went into effect in Dorman Hall last weekend. Although Dorman's proposal had passed a few weeks ago, this dorm had not been able to implement the proposal because everyone had not paid the $3 fee required from every resident for intervisitation.

Veazey has passed their proposal and has been enjoying intervisitation for three weeks. Sanford Hall, freshman men's dorm, has passed their proposal, but the $3 fee has not yet been collected from every resident. Brannen Hall is currently working on their proposal. Cone is the closed dorm for men.

Should Ga. Southern's Health Fee Be Increased?

By MARCI WENDELKEN
G-A Staff Writer

Last year, the Health Cottage served 20,000 students. Already this quarter, an average of 115 to 150 students are being seen daily. Though the cottage is doing its best to treat and diagnose each case, GSC health service faces many drawbacks.

According to the STATEMENT ON HEALTH RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF MEMBERS OF THE COLLEGE COMMUNITY, published by the American College Health Association, there should be at least one physician per 2,000 students on campus. Dr. Anders, dedicated and responsible, is Southern's only one. Last year, because of Dr. Anders' speedy and accurate diagnosis and treatment, 2 cases of acute appendicitis were admitted to the county hospital in time, and two cases of severe meningitis were detected and cared for. All cases recovered because of prompt medical attention. This year, Dr.

Anders was able to detect two cases of malaria here at Southern. Because of the rarity and seriousness of this illness, Dr. Anders found it necessary to do extensive lab work—for which the Health Cottage has insufficient research equipment. The malaria was arrested and the patients recovered—against the 8.5 per cent death rate of malaria.

To complete the under-staffed situation, the Health Cottage is two nurses short at the present time. This accounts for the long waits some students who visit the Health Cottage must tolerate.

At Georgia Southern, a student's health fee is only 10 dollars; at the University of Ga. it is approximately $35; the average health fee for Georgia Colleges is about $20. G.S.C. has one of the lowest health fees in the state of Georgia.

The problem, according to Pam Ansley, Vice-President of CCC, is insufficient funds, leading to shortages of staff, equipment, and medicine.

The logical solution, Ms. Ansley said, is an increase in the student's health fee. "We must decide how important our health is to us," she said.

Radio Station Survey To Be Taken To Determine Student Preferences

The CCC's Radio Station Committee will conduct a survey next Tuesday, October 23, during supper at Williams and Landrum centers. The purpose of the survey is to help the committee determine what type of music and programs that students prefer. The committee is presently drawing up possible programming schedules for a college radio station.

Since it appears that GSC will finally get a radio station, the Central Coordinating Committee's Radio Station Committee wants to make sure that students keep their dials on our station. The survey is meant to ensure that the programming for the station is representative of the interests of students at Southern. Questions ranging from "What time do you listen to the radio most?" to "Would you like a question-and-answer program?" are covered on the survey.

Mike Tustian, Chairman of the committee, said that committee members plan to set up tables at the entrances and exits of each cafeteria. The surveys should be answered and returned to these tables. Tustian asks that students take a few minutes to fill out the survey so that the Radio Station Committee will be able to develop the type of programs that GSC. Students want to hear.

CCC Passes Statute Amendment

The CCC has passed an amendment to the STATUTES of the Central Coordinating Committee providing for the filling of an office should it be vacated because of resignation, recall, or failure to meet the qualifications of office.

According to the STATUTES of the CCC, Article II (p. 86 of the EAGLE EYE), the Central Coordinating Committee must hold an annual evaluation of the statutes during the first 20 days of October. Any amendments to the statutes must be publicly announced during this time.

The student body has ten days from the time of announcement in which to petition the Central Coordinating Committee to call a referendum of the entire student body concerning the proposed amendment. The rules for petitioning are given in the CCC STATUTES in the EAGLE EYE.

If no petition is submitted, the amendment will go into effect automatically.

ARTICLE I, SECTION III: Executive Succession

I. A Central Coordinating Committee executive position shall be considered vacant in the following cases.

A. Failure to meet the qualifications of office as stated in the constitution of the Central Coordinating Committee.

B. Submission of a written resignation to the Central Coordinating Committee.

C. Recall.

II In the event of a vacancy in the office of President of the Central Coordinating Committee, the Vice-President of the Central Coordinating Committee shall immediately assume the full powers and duties of the office of President.

III A vacancy in the office of Vice-President or any of the Coordinators of the Central Coordinating Committee shall be filled by the following procedure if the vacancy occurs spring, summer or fall quarter.

A. Following the vacancy of the executive position, two articles will appear in the first issue of the George-Anne. One will explain the reason for vacancy of the position and the other will call for nominations to be accepted by the Central Coordinating Com-

Debate Team Travels To Stetson

Last weekend the GSC Debate Team traveled to Stetson University in Deland, Florida for a novice tournament. The tournament was won by Florida Technological University, with the University of Miami coming in second.

Next weekend, the team will debate at Valdosta State College. Mary Thompson and Lynn Stevens will debate varsity; the novice team has not yet been selected.

Other debates scheduled this year include tournaments at Wake Forest, Enterprise College, Samford, and Emory. The team will compete in team debating, extemporaneous speaking, oral interpretation, and persuasive speech.

There were two novice team competing in the Stetson debates. The debaters competing in a novice tournament must have less than two years of debating experience. The first team was Mary Thompson, senior speech major, and James Holt, freshman chemistry major. The other team was Steve Ford, sophomore criminal justice major, and Carrol Gay, junior speech major. Other participants were Ronnie Thomas, junior public relations major; Mike Warren, junior speech major; and Pratt Farmer, sophomore public relations major.

Serving in an advisory capacity were Lynn Stevens, senior accounting major, and Dr. Carolyn Quinn, Director of Forensics.

"Resolved: that the Federal Government should control the supply and utilization of energy in the United States" is the national college topic this year.

Once every month Phi Kappa Delta, a National Honorary Forensic Fraternity, sponsors Forums on campus topics.

They also conduct a regional High School Workshop on speech and debate in the fall and a High School Tournament in the winter.

The Georgia Southern Debate Team will also host the GSC Invitational Debates and Dixie Speech Festival in the spring. The varsity members will also be judges for state and regional debates.

Last year the team won several trophies at the Citadel, the University of Florida, Florida State, and Wilmington. They were awarded a National Superior rating.

Lynn Stevens and Dr. Quinn ask that anyone interested in debating come by Hollis 115. No experience is necessary. People are needed to help with research, filing, pasting, and many other jobs.

United Nations Birthday Celebrated At Southern

On Wednesday, October 24, United Nations Day will be observed on the GSC campus. The public is invited to attend the day's activities, which will include several lectures and group discussions on different aspects of the United Nations.

Lectures will be held in the Biology Lecture Hall at 9:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m., and 12:00 noon. Speakers will be Dr. G. Lane Van Tassell, Dr. Larry Kastner, and Dr. Zia Hashmi.

Group discussions will be held in front of Williams Center from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m., and in Room 111 of Williams Center at 4:00 p.m.

October 24 marks the 28th year of the existence of the Charter of the United Nations. Highlights of the United Nations' "quarter-and-a-century-plus" career include the following:

1) Passage of the Universal Declaration on Human Rights in 1948.

2) Continued operation of a world meeting hall (the General Assembly) where dialogue among representatives of nation-states (meeting as equals) can and does occur.

3) Creation and support of the machinery necessary for several peacekeeping efforts, e.g., Korea, Middle East, Yemen, West Iran, Cyprus, Congo, and Kashmir.

4) Support and administration of many specialized agencies geared to alleviating human problems. These agencies include World Health Organization, UN Children's Fund, World Food Programs, efforts to deal with refugees, and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

5) Design and implementation of major international conferences on future use of seabed, space, environment, and worldwide economic development efforts.

6) Continued support of the International Court of Justice.

7) Continued efforts to institutionalize the transition from colonialism to independence for many areas of the world.

Detex System To Be Installed In Men's Dorms Winter Quarter

The Detex system, a security unit which is operated by plastic cards, is scheduled to be fully operational in upperclass male halls by winter quarter, according to Larry E. Davis, Director of Housing.

The installation of the system, which is already in use in all upperclass female halls, began this week.

When asked if freshmen halls would eventually use the system, Mr. Davis said, "We are in the process of getting units for every on-campus hall; however, only upperclassmen who live in freshmen halls will be given the cards."

The units will be installed at one door in each hall, and all other doors will be locked at midnight, as in the halls where the system is already used.

No one can enter a hall after midnight, using this system, unless he has a Detex card. The reason for this installation is "...we have experienced a number of problems related to security in residence halls. For example, in one year three color televisions were stolen, and theft of fire equipment and other items is a constant problem," said Mr. Davis.

After installation of the Detex units, the cards will be distributed in residence halls. If a card is lost or stolen, the replacement price is $1.50, payable to the residence hall director.

Off-campus dormitories operate on the same principle as the on-campus Detex system, but a special lock which is opened with a key is used instead of the Detex card system.

Students Urged To Volunteer In Helping Needy

Students of GSC have decided to establish the Student Volunteer Service Committee in an attempt to provide help for underprivileged people in the Statesboro area. A subcommittee of the Central Coordinating Committee, the Student Volunteer Services Committee will attempt to use volunteers to help the needy in our community.

Students are needed to help Federal, State, and local agencies in the areas of aging, education, drugs, health, the handicapped, disadvantaged children, fund raising for the retarded, and aiding disadvantaged areas.

If any student would like to join in this rewarding effort, he may come to the committee meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the CCC office (in Williams Center) or call the Student Volunteer Services Committee at the CCC office, ext. 304.

Make your appointment now for your YEARBOOK PORTRAITS

Students have, in the past, been critical of the number and quality of the individual portraits appearing in the Reflector. While the number of pictures is beyond our control, we can and have done something about their quality.

Steven's Studios, a nationally known Portrait Company, will be on campus Oct. 29 through Nov. 9 to make every student's portrait. This will be done absolutely free of charge and without obligation to you. You will be sent a set of proofs by the studio. You may, if you wish, purchase from Steven's a set of prints. However, the business of purchasing prints is strictly between you and the Studio.

It is up to you, the student, to increase the number of Portraits in the Yearbook, so go by Landrum Center on Oct. 22 or Oct. 23 and make an appointment.

Ogeechee Fair Oct. 22-27

On October 22-27, the Ogeechee Fair will be held at the Fairgrounds on Route 67 south of Statesboro.

This year the Ogeechee Fair will feature a nostalgic trip to the past. Much of the fairgrounds will be devoted to exhibits on Georgia's heritage, ranging from a farm with a log with a log cabin and smoke house to a blacksmith and his forge. Some added features are the display booths where you will be able to see many old arts and crafts demonstrated. You can see almost everything, from quilting to making hominy.

There will also be displays of agriculture, so important in early Georgia. There will be exhibits of prize agricultural products, such as corn and cotton, plus various bits of old-time equipment, tools, harnesses, stoves, and so on.

On Friday night, visitors to the fair will be entertained by costumed square dancers. But the entertainment is not limited to just Friday night. There will be several daily performances by the "Flying Valentines," an aerial act; a drawing will be held for a bicycle; and there will be another drawing for two "Tin Lizzies."

All in all, the fair sounds like a winner. It will provide a chance to see Georgia as it used to be, and just to have a good time.

William Cook, assistant to the President at the University of Georgia, has been named Director of Administration and Fiscal Affairs at Georgia Southern.

The appointment, which was approved by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents at their October meeting, will become effective January 1, 1974.

Cook, who has served as assistant to the President at the University of Georgia for the past four years, also served as Director of Internal Auditing after 18 years as supervising examiner with the State Department of Audit.

Cook, a certified internal auditor, is a member of the Institute of Internal Auditors and the Association of College and University Auditors. He currently holds positions as secretary-treasurer of the Green Hills Country Club in Athens and Trustee member of the board of the Prince Avenue Baptist Church.

A native of South Carolina, Cook was raised in Athens and graduated from Athens High School and the University of Georgia with a B.B.A. in accounting. He is married to Mary Jordan Cook and they have a daughter, Nancy, 18, and a son, Bob, 13.

Dr. Taylor C. Scott, of the Sociology Department, has been selected to participate in a Short Course for College Teachers at Clark College in Atlanta. The seminar, conducted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, will be based on the topic "Statistics and Experimental Design in Social and Behavioral Science."

Drs. Roger Branch and Larry Platt will conduct a series of weekly leadership seminars in Metter this Fall. The goal of the project is to help community leaders develop greater awareness of effects of changing land use patterns for the future of Metter and Candler County.

Three members of the Leisure Studies Faculty recently attended the National Congress of the National Recreation and Parks Association in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Albert Elliott chaired the research Section for the Society of Professional Recreation Educators as a member of the Editorial Board of the Leisure Journal. Also attending were Dr. Mary Fortune, who has responsibilities connected with Therapeutic Sections, and Pamela Thomason, who attended as an observer.

Dr. Walter Peach, Associate Professor of Exceptional Childhood Education, was elected Vice-President of the Georgia Federation Council for Exceptional Children at a recent conference in Macon.

The office is a three-year term leading from Vice-president to President-Elect to President of the Council.

The Student Council for Exceptional Children elected two GSC students to office: Ceil O'Conner, Vice-president, a senior from Savannah, and Lee Clark, President-Elect, a junior from Louisville, Georgia.

The Council for Exceptional Children is a professional organization for people working with the exceptional child. With approximately 1,200 members in the Georgia Federation, the CEC is responsible for the development of many legislative acts and programs to aid these children. It is affiliated with the Georgia Association of Educators and works closely with this organization to aid the exceptional child.

New Ga. Intern Programs Now Offered To Students

Georgia Intern Program (GIP) is unknown to many GSC students, according to Dr. J.S. Mann, head of the Department of Political Science and Campus Coordinator of field internships.

Any student, regardless of his major, may apply for an internship. The student who is chosen will spend a quarter or three months working on one of the numerous projects offered anywhere in the state of Georgia. Projects range from orientation and diagnosis of male juvenile delinquents under the Department of Human Resources to computer port systems analysis under Georgia Ports Authority. Projects dealing with statistical data, housing code enforcement study, and wastewater treatment plan control and evaluation are just a few more of the projects available to students.

Students working under GIP receive $50 a week for 40 hours of work a week and up to as many as 15 quarter hours credit. Each individual department decides how many credit hours the student will be given.

"It can be a true learning experience if it's done right. We have never had anyone who wasn't enthusiastic about it," said Dr. Mann.

Governor Carter started the Governor's Intern Program, but changed the name to Georgia Intern Program in hopes that the next governor will continue the program.

According to Dr. Mann, the purpose of the program is primarily to increase the learning experience, but it can also be beneficial to seniors who are looking for jobs. "It's a good way to get a foot in the door," she said.

Dr. Mann is trying to raise student interest, through informing them of GIP. She said, "There were about 13 jobs in the Southeast that went without people this fall. One of our main problems is getting professors to tell the students about internships in their own field."

Applications for winter quarter jobs must be in Dr. Mann's office in the Newton Building by October 26. The following week, an interviewer will be here from Atlanta to meet with the GIP campus committee screen candidates.

The campus committee includes Dr. Mann, Dr. Boxer, Mr. Godfrey, Dr. Hawk, Dr. Elliott, and Dr. Good. Applications may be picked up at any of these offices.

There is no specific GPA required for applicants. The most important aspect of filling out the application is how the student expresses himself.

Freshmen Women! Don't Give Up; Send In Those Surveys

Questionnaires are meant to be filled out. Last week Lupe Cota sent out a survey to all freshman and sophomore women. The questions in the survey were generalized, such as: Did the students feel that the curfew had affected their academic activity? Does a curfew cut down on sexual activity? What are the advantages of having hours? What are the disadvantages?

This questionnaire is not meant to invade your privacy; but rather is to help those who are trying so hard to give freshmen and sophomore women intervisitation privileges as to how the girls really feel about intervisitation.

Please help Lupe. Fill out and send back the questionnaire so she will know whether to continue the fight for intervisitation or not. The G-A commends the efforts of Ms. Cota and feel that the time spent in filling out the survey would not be wasted.

Newsprint Shortages Cause Smaller G-A's

It seems that there are shortages of many things these days, and the George-Anne has just become one of the deprived. Last week the Statesboro Herald, which prints the George-Anne, notified the G-A that the newsprint shortage has now hit Statesboro. Although the G-A often has enough material to fill up a 16-page paper, the Herald has asked us to limit our papers to twelve pages. If the shortage becomes acute, we may be asked to go eight pages for a limited time. Mr. Joe Frazier, publisher of the Herald, does not think that this will happen, but if it does, the George-Anne asks that students accept this as the way things are.

Slow Down, Fraternities; Give Rushees A Chance

The George-Anne is not against the Greek system; we recognize that for some people brotherhood and sisterhood is the only way. But each system has faults, and the Greeks are no exception. The one I am thinking of is the fakiness and rivalry that is prevalent during fall rush. Competition is good for any organization; the catchy slogans and signs covering GSC might perhaps bring out a certain fraternity's creativity; but the signs are like some of the brothers—catchy and cute and extremely friendly to the point of insincerity. When shady tactics are used, smiling to a potential rushee's face and jabbing at him behind his back, perhaps the fraternity or sorority needs to stop and take a long look at what the Greek system is all about.

This criticism goes not only to brothers and sisters, but to rushees as well. During those rush parties and smokers, is the real you coming through? Or do thoughts of what is probably expected of you run through your mind and make you what you wish you were? During this fall rush, the George-Anne asks that each person evaluate himself. Don't let your fraternity be guilty of 'herding the rushees' through. And rushees, make sure the foot you put forward is really your own.

EDITOR'S NOTE: See letter to the editor on page 5.

LOST IN THE SEARCH FOR A KNOWLEDGEABLE UNDERSTANDING?

We're Here To Learn-Aren't We?

Enrollment dropped at Georgia Southern College this fall quarter. Many reasons were given as to why it dropped—the elimination of the compulsory draft, increased enrollment in Junior colleges, and the idea that people without a college education get just as good jobs as those that have one. But the G-A feels that administration and other speculators has overlooked one of the more obvious reasons for decreased college enrollment. Students are sick to death of school.

Out of my 7 quarters at school, with 21 professors, only 5 have given me the challenge that a true college student deserves. As some of you professors are reading this, you are probably outraged. You do your best; it's not your fault if I personally don't like the way you teach. You are correct; many of you are doing your best; but it is evidently not good enough.

On the other hand, students are not here for the learning process. They too have fallen down. Lessons, projects, outside readings fall second to dates, football, basketball games, and TV shows.

Perhaps, evaluation should be made at the beginning of the quarter, right now, for both professors and students. It would improve GSC's academics. And that's what we are here for, isn't it?

Frat Speaks Out

As a member of one of the fraternities here at Georgia Southern, I would like to get several things off my chest. First of all, I am firmly convinced that the benefits and happiness which are derived from membership in a fraternity can be the most rewarding experiences in a college career. Indeed, lifelong associations formed during those years can be the basis of a rewarding lifetime.

For those of you who are unfamiliar, unaware, or uninitiated, I will briefly give a synopsis of the meaning of "fraternity." It is, more than anything else, an affair of the heart. Like all other affairs of the heart, no power other than the will of God can govern the actions of men committed to a common bond of brotherly love and similar ideals, goals, and ambitions. I use the term men because I am speaking from a fraternity's viewpoint and not because this phenomenon is peculiar to men and fraternities.

Fraternal associations being what they are, it would seem to follow logically that the choosing of members is also an affair of the heart, subject only to the dictates of God, conscience, and the common beliefs of the members. Intrusions from outside the bond of the fraternity are an invasion of privacy and the innate rights of all individuals concerned. No institution, no matter what its social or political content may be, can rightfully interfere in affairs which are so sacred to those involved.

Now, I will get specifically to the point. On what grounds does a college administration dictate to social fraternities rules about whom they may extend the privilege of membership? I do not claim to believe that fraternities are outside the jurisdiction of a college. They aren't. However, as long as they conduct themselves in a lawful manner which does not detract from the intents and purposes of the college, why should (and what right does it have to do so) the college attempt to legislate over a private matter of the fraternities? Do not the fraternities, because of their ideals, conscience, etc., establish standards and priorities for membership of their own? What strange quirk in the nature of fraternities causes and administration to feel that they must be kept away from certain groups of students?

In all honesty, I find myself unable to answer in any reasonable fashion the following questions and attitudes. Does a 2.0 GPA separate men from forming the bonds of brotherhood? Is a second-quarter freshman more able to enter into a lifelong association with men of similar hearts and minds than a first-quarter freshman? Really, now. Do these things really constitute grounds to impose

CCC Progress Reports

The Central Coordinating Committee, in order to improve communications between student government and both faculty and students, will have weekly synopses of the actions taken by the (student) committees during the week. Comments about the reports would be appreciated by the CCC.

Below is a list of the committees of the CCC and the action taken during the week.

INTERVISITATION

The committee talked about the Olliff situation. They are considering a recommendation that would give elections a designated period of time.

STUDENT BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

Members discussed a program called AIDS, which is in action at some other colleges. It gives a discount service for students. Also in discussion is a survey which would give the reaction of Merchants to the discounts. The committee talked about getting a lawyer for use of the students.

MISS GSC

Celebrities for the '74 year are being planned.

VOTER REGISTRATION

An absentee policy was set. Members are still planning to get the registrar to come to the school.

RADIO STATION

The survey committee was dissolved and re-formed into the main body. Members will be assigned different areas of programming. The progress of the committee is limited until the survey is administered.

FACULTY EVALUATION

The survey is now in the distributing phase. It will be given to 300 students, which is about 5 per cent of the student body. It is the proper percentage in this type of survey.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES

The goals of the committee were set. Some of those goals are: to let students be aware of already existing services; to stimulate students to volunteerism in the community; to start other programs outside of already existing programs so that any interested student would feel free to join in; and to act as a referral agency so that a volunteer could be placed in his area of choice.

QUESTION LINE

QUESTION: What are those things around campus? You know, those things that are cylindrical and have wires sticking out of them.

ANSWER: These are part of the underground wiring system. They are extremely heavy, so East Coast Engineering Company places them approximately where they will be buried later.

QUESTION: Are all concerts going to be on Wednesday nights?

ANSWER: According to Mike Barfield, CUB President, concerts are scheduled according to when the band can appear. ZZ Top had another engagement Thursday night, so they had to come to Southern Wednesday. Concerts will be any night Monday through Thursday, except for special concerts like Homecoming.

QUESTION: Can students fish in the lake? Are there any rules governing fishing, such as a catch limit or limitations on kinds of bait that may be used?

ANSWER: According to Mr. Lanier of Campus Security, students are permitted to fish in the lake. As concerning the catch limit the state sets those laws, but he doesn't think there will be much trouble in students catching over the limit.

Letters To The Editor

artificial restrictions on a social process older than history? The process I am speaking of is the formation of solid, enduring friendships and brotherly love.

The fraternity system at Georgia Southern College has been restrained and treated like a malignant growth for long enough. Fraternities traditionally have provided leadership and have been among the most dynamic and hard-working institutions on the college scene. The Greek system may yet flower at GSC, provided it is given room to breathe and prove equal to the task of moral, mental, and physical development of its members. We live in a nation based on free enterprise. Anything short of that in a Greek system produces an atmosphere of high-schoolishness and the overprotective, keep-'em-hemmed-in attitude of the GSC administration.

Wake up! It's not too late. Not yet, anyway.

Wayne S. Lynn
President — TKE

NOTE

Some of you may not understand all this but I offer this in defense of my position. I spent two years at Georgia Tech during which time I was a member of the Teke chapter there. I have seen an excellent fraternity chapter in action. We were the Number 1 chapter in the nation at one time and a finalist for the IFC trophy (best campus chapter). I don't remember exactly, but we either won or lost the trophy by half a point. The chapter's strength was in that we were able to pledge the best men around and were encouraged by a very favorable administrative attitude. This was all done in a free-enterprise atmosphere where hard work is the main prerequisite to success.

Anything short of that would have been and is stifling and a downright robbery.

During this year we plan as a chapter to make our particular concern the current moves relating to faculty tenure, evaluation, and promotions-raises. There are committees operating on this campus and throughout the system which are studying and making proposals in these areas; we feel that the AAUP should be represented in this type of decision making, both on a local and state level.

Letter To Faculty

On the first Monday evening of each month at 8 o'clock, the AAUP will meet in the Williams Center. For the past few years we have been making a concerted effort to push for those things on this campus that the AAUP has traditionally been concerned in: academic freedom, faculty representation in decision making, better communication between faculty and administration, and finally a representative voice for the faculty in all areas of concern.

On the whole, the administration has been cooperative in its efforts to meet those goals. Following each AAUP meeting, President Duncan meets with the president of the chapter to answer questions that have been raised. Administrative officers have expressed willingness to come to meetings and deal with issues when they are invited; several times Dr. Duncan has met with us to field questions.

In order to be a representative voice, we want a large membership. We hope that all faculty who are interested in faculty welfare and good faculty-administration communication will join with us this year. Membership is open to all teaching faculty and to graduate students, and we want your presence at meetings as well as your official membership. Anyone interested in more information may contact me or one of the other officers: Lane Van Tassell, political science; Bob Nelson, chemistry; or Rosemarie Marshall, biology.

Who Took Rock?

Dear Editor:

I would like to know what happened to the big beautiful rock that once lodged outside the Herty Building. On my way back to the gym each day I admired it. It added so much to the looks of the building, and I certainly miss it. I wish whoever moved it would place it back.

Sincerely,
A Rock Admirer

Editor's Note:

I also admired that rock, and one day I checked with the Geology Department and they told me that if anybody loved that rock enough to take it, they could have it. It now resides in my apartment, and if you ever want to come look at it you may get in touch with me and I will allow you to do so.

ZZ Top Cheered By Students

By MELISSA RICE

Two aspects of the ZZ Top concert, held October 10 in Hanner Fieldhouse by the CUB, made it good almost before the music started. For one thing, the stage was far better than others that have been used at GSC—it was elevated for a more professional appearance. Also, the backdrop prevented the audience from seeing Hanner bleachers when focusing directly on the musicians. Secondly, the sound system was far superior to those used at previous concerts.

The opening act, "110 Pounds of Dynamite from Colorado City, Texas," accomplished something which would have been quite difficult for anyone less talented.

Armed only with an acoustic guitar, J-Boy Adams succeeded in drawing and holding the attention of 2,500 people who at first were anticipating only ZZ Top. The weakness in his act that a few lyrics were not worthy of his ability—the time for

"Because of my long hair hanging past my shoulders—Rosalie died with my baby," is past. However, this was a minor point which was more than made up for by solid vocals and extremely good picking, especially during the instrumental portions of his songs. An album, in which J-Boy will be accompanied by a piano, a bass, and a cello, is planned for the first of the year, and should be worth waiting for.

Singletree, the second act, made a clear statement with their first song—that they were not trying to sound like a Poco or an Earl Scruggs Review. The group was quite successful in blending country music with a harder form of rock than is usually attempted.

In the past, ZZ Top has never seemed to be able to deliver in concert what they promise on their recordings, but they must be maturing, because their performance Wednesday was much tighter than those in the past. Lead guitarist Billy Gibbons' riffs were a bit sharp at points, and the band therefore was at its best during the slower blues numbers. In a band with only three members, no one could take a minor role, but drummer Frank Beard has to be given credit for avoiding the rut into which so many other percussionists fall.

In spite of some erratic moments the music and the show were powerful and contagious, especially for those whose taste runs to a high-energy exchange between the performers and the audience. It was this exchange, in fact, that made the ZZ Top concert as enjoyable as it was, and encouraged the audience to bring them back for three encores for the first time ever.

Lyrics printed by permission of Clear River Music.

Billy Gibbons, lead singer and guitarist of ZZ Top, performed with the band from Texas October 10 in Hanner Fieldhouse. Two weeks before appearing in Statesboro, ZZ Top sold out 24,000 seats at a performance in Houston. They are presently doing a 26 stop tour in the U.S.

BSU Offers Activities To Students

If you haven't visited the Baptist Center this quarter, you're really missing something! Things are really happening: Monday—Choir Practice; Tuesday—Worship; Wednesday—Faith & Life with guest speakers; Thursday—Fun & Fellowship. All these activities start at 7:00. On weekends the Center is open until 10:00 on Fridays and 11:00 on Saturdays for playing ping pong and table games, listening to records, or just visiting with friends.

Big events coming up soon include the BSU State Convention at Rock Eagle in Eatonton, October 26-28. Be sure you register at the Center by October 17; this is something you won't want to miss. A Share Seminar on "How to Share Your Faith on Campus" will be conducted November 4-6 by Eben Carson, past GSC and BSU state president. The cost is $2.00 for materials, and the ideas gained there will be of great benefit. Other events are a party on November 8 and our own Georgia Southern BSU Retreat on November 16-17 at the Savannah Baptist Assembly.

Summer missions is an integral part of BSU that keeps everyone busy all year. The State Organization of the Baptist Student Union sends students and missionaries each summer to various fields of service. These missionaries are chosen and sent by students who sponsor money-making projects during the year to defray expenses.

GSC BSU this past year raised more money to be used in sending missionaries than has any other college at any time in Georgia: $3,107.40. All our money-making projects such as steak suppers, car washes, craft shows, etc. go to this cause. Please keep this in mind and support this worthwhile program.

Soccer Team Begins New Season

By GENE JUSTEN

The GSC Soccer team is ready for a new season with matches against such teams as the University of Florida, the University of Georgia, and Jacksonville, along with two tournaments in Gainesville.

Last week, October 6, the Soccer Team traveled to Brunswick to play the Glynco Naval Air Station soccer team and returned with a 5-2 win. Scoring for Southern in that game were George Yamoah—2 goals, Woody Woodruff—1 goal, Julian Marshall—1 goal, and Olaf Kampschmidt—1 goal.

This past Sunday Southern's soccer team met Glynco in a return match. The team came back with some good play to end the game with a 4-4 tie, after trailing 4-1 early in the second period. Goals were scored as follows: Olaf Kampschmidt—2, Woody Woodruff—1, George Yamoah—1.

The soccer club has been gaining momentum since last year and has fielded an exceptional team after only one year of competition. Last year's record was 5 wins and 3 losses; the team hopes to better that record this year, but it will be uphill all the way against a more difficult schedule.

Next week's game will be played in Athens against the University of Georgia.

The soccer team can always use new talent and people, so if you're interested, come out to the intramural fields Monday-Thursday from 4:15 to 5:30 or 6:00, and practice and play with the team. Any information about the soccer club may be obtained through Dr. Joe Blankenbaker, ext. 458, or Gene Justen, 764-9467.

Members of the team are: David Donahoo, Marshall Payne, George Yamoah, Olaf Kampschmidt, Gene Justen, Woodie Woodruff, Collis McGeachy, Andy Rudolph, Julian Marshall.

Jim Moore, Andrew Wu, Garey

Simpson, John Renshaw, Hans Lorenzen, Mike Herford, Rodney Gibson, Joseph Ona-gihse, and Ray MacQueen.

The schedule as of Monday October 15 is:

Georgia.....October 20 Away

November 10.....Open

University of Fla.....November 17.....Home

All home games will be played at 2:00 p.m.

Majorettes Chosen For '73 '74

The GSC Golden Eagle Majorettes of 1973-74 were chosen at tryouts held October 8th and 9th. The following girls were selected on the basis of ability and showmanship: Connie Brown, captain; Terry Spivey; Nancy Williams; Sheryl Hunter; and Debbie Durrence.

The majorettes will be entertaining during halftime at home basketball games. Performances will utilize batons, hats and canes, pom-poms, hoops and other novelty routines.

According to Connie Brown, captain, "All the girls are extremely talented and all have won awards and received honors for their twirling ability."

"Twirling takes quite a bit of practice," says Connie. "About 12-15 hours a week are necessary to prepare for one half-time presentation."

Since the majorettes aren't funded by the school they will be having bake sales and other projects to raise funds for uniforms and props.

Water polo was developed in England as "Water Soccer" in 1869 and was first included in the Olympic Games in Paris in 1900. Hungary has won the Olympic tournament five times and Great Britain four times since its beginning.

Varsity Spotlight Clark Adds Height To BB Team

Jim Clark, 6 foot 8 inch, honorable-mention All-American from Grover Hill, Ohio, is expected to add much to the GSC basketball squad this season.

Jim is a junior transfer from Anderson Junior College in South Carolina. He has many honors to his credit. Among those compiled at AJC are: Conference Player-of-the-Year; All-Conference; All-Region; Most Valuable Player in Queen City Invitation and All-Queen City Invitational Team. Jim averaged 16.7 points and 10.8 rebounds per game while at Anderson.

Some of Jim's high school honors are Most Valuable Player in Region, All-State, and Most Valuable Player at School (for three years).

Jim is a recreation major and plans to teach and coach. "I like to travel," says Jim. "I've been in every U.S. state except two. I also enjoy baseball."

"I think Southern has a lot to offer me," says Jim, "and we have a very talented ball club. Southern has the makings of a number-one team and should have a winning season."

"Jim is a promising newcomer," says head Coach J.E. Rowe, "and he will definitely help GSC during the '73-'74 season."

Basketball Practice Began Monday

The Georgia Southern basketball team took to the floor Monday, Oct. 15, as practice for the '73-'74 basketball season gets under way.

Coach J.E. Rowe will be looking to see how seven newcomers, especially junior college transfers John Baker, Jim Clark, and John Vail, become accustomed to the nine returning veterans. "That's mainly what we'll be looking for in the first few weeks of practice," said Rowe. "It's extremely important that the older players and newcomers get to know each other's style of play."

One major difference between this year's team and last year's will be the front line. "It's great knowing that we'll go into the season with six bona fide inside players," said Rowe. "In addition to Baker, Clark and Vail, we have seasoned veterans in Ronnie Arnold, Dick Beuke, and Bob Crouch."

Coach Rowe feels that he has a fine crop of players this season and is optimistic about their potential as a solid team. "I would say that since meeting the boys individually, and in meetings with the team as a whole, all the players have reported with eager attitudes and are really looking forward to the first day of practice."

Aside from the junior college transfers, Rowe will be taking a close look at three freshmen who could vie for starting positions. They are Chris White, a 6-0 guard from Charleston, S.C., Art Kitchen, a 6-4 guard from Hobe Sound, Fla., and Pat Blenke, a 6-5 forward from Knox, Indiana.

Intramurals Can Be Improved

By DON LARAMEE

Although there are many assets in the intramural games, there are certain aspects which can be improved. For one more care should be given to the playing fields. Another suggestion for intramurals is that both players and officials should be more efficient in their observance of the rules. Instead of a two-page leaflet handed out to people, a better suggestion would be that officials, coaches, and referees sit down and discuss thoroughly the rules of the league so that there is one common interpretation and no in-betweens. A clear example of this has been that some players have been able to carry on the field illegal equipment such as a shoulder-to-finger arm pad.

The same six or seven referees work the games all four days. The pay to officiate is little and four days of games is a long work week. The officials seem to have become bored. For instance, they report late to the games, thus delaying them fifteen or twenty minutes. A suggestion is that more officials be hired through either the intramural department or student placement. Another one or two officiating crews would lighten the load upon the two existing ones and make for cleaner and better-officiated games.

Another suggestion is that whoever is in charge should take better care of the field. Several games were delayed while makeshift lines were laid down on the field so the action could resume. By Wednesday people have to guess where the sidelines are. If the teams indulge in hard work to practice, someone should take up the same amount of interest to insure maintenance of fields and better officiating.

Polo Team Wins Again

Excitement and tension was high Saturday afternoon at Hanner Pool as the GSC water polo team defeated South Carolina Gamecocks in a 16-13 overtime win.

South Carolina took the lead in the first half 4-3, with neither team being able to penetrate the other's defense.

The second half was a battle of physical strength as both teams tried desperately to score. Southern came up with two consecutive goals to take the lead as the third quarter started. When the seven-minute struggle ended, the scoreboard favored Southern 7-6.

The fourth quarter brought another nip-and-tuck battle for the ball. The score was tied at 7-7, 9-9, and the game ended in a 10-10 tie as both defenses stubbornly refused to allow opposing offenses to score.

Blasting out of their shell during overtime GSC took the lead and never gave it up. The contest ended 16-13.

Mike Doan led the Eagles with 7 points, followed by Jeff Barnett with 3. Goalie Orlando Gonzalez played another outstanding game blocking shots and aiding in plays.

"We expected an extremely physical game," says coach Buddy Floyd, "and we got one." Don Welchko, last week's leading scorer, was thrown out of the game early and some of their players were thrown out. But we tried to stay calm and play a good game."

"GSC has a fantastic team," said a South Carolina fan, "but the officials don't know the rules."

"There was some confusion over the rules," admitted Coach Floyd, "but our officials called a tight game and South Carolina was not used to this. I also think the officials used good judgement in their calls."

Next week Southern goes to Athens to play in the University of Georgia Tournament.

Can't Bear It

Hikers on the Great Divide Trail in the Canadian Rockies sometimes tie small bells on their packs so grizzly bears will hear them coming. Most bears avoid humans, and the bell serves as a warning.

INDEPENDENT PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Hal Girardeau was selected as Player of the Week from the independent league. Hal plays for the Nads. He is a pre-law student from Claxton, Ga. who has been at Southern for one year.

"Intramurals are improving every year" says Hal "As far as the independent league is concerned," he added, "we are just as competitive as the fraternity teams who are supposed to be better organized. We lost only one game last year and we have a good team this year."

"I think the academics here are tremendous," he added, "and the outside activities are being improved."

FRATERNITY PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Tommy Garner is a senior education major from Pacalet, South Carolina. Tommy plays intramural football for Delta Tau Delta.

He attended a junior college on a baseball scholarship before transferring to GSC three years ago. After graduation this coming spring, he plans to teach and coach football and baseball.

"The intramural program has improved very much," says Tommy, "and there's more student cooperation than when I first came here."

"I have enjoyed my three years here at GSC," he added. "They have a good social life here."

This is Mike Doan! Last week Mike's picture appeared under a story on women's sports instead of with the story about him as the varsity player of the week.
