FEBRUARY 10, 2015

The Georgia WebMBA®, the consortium of which the Georgia Southern Online MBA is a part, has been ranked No. 10 by CEO Magazine in its Online MBA Rankings. This comes on the heel of the Georgia Southern Online MBA program being ranked No. 18 by US News & World Report’s online rankings.

CEO Magazine’s MBA rankings are based upon key indicators considered to be of interest and value to potential MBA students. Some of these indicators include international diversity, class size, student work experience, faculty-to-student ratio, and faculty qualifications (academic and professional).

The Georgia WebMBA®, in existence since 2001, is a consortium of six University System of Georgia institutions, offering a fully online, AACSB-accredited MBA program for the working professional. This MBA program is asynchronous and team-based, consists of 30 credit hours, and takes five semesters to complete. It is a lock-step cohort program, only requiring students to attend an orientation weekend prior to starting the program. Taught by some of the same faculty teaching in the Georgia Southern MBA program, the focus of this program is to have students interact with the material, their classmates, and their professors in a variety of ways to offer a high tech, with a high touch, experience that is relevant for working business professionals.
