STATESBORO, Ga. – The Georgia Southern Women's Tennis team will host two matches this weekend. The first will be Saturday at 10:00 AM against Alabama State. The Hornets come into this weekend with a 0-1 record, falling to Alabama 7-0. The second match of the weekend will be against SCAD, which was rescheduled to Sunday at 2:00 PM after being rained out last weekend. This will be the first time on the court this season for the Eagles.

"We are really looking forward to playing our first matches of the 2017 season on our home courts," said head coach Michele Stanford. "We have had a strong start to our semester, and I have been very impressed with our practices thus far. ASU and SCAD will be competitive first matches for us, and I am excited to see how our team will compete against them this year. I have no doubt that our girls are ready to start off the season with a high level of competition in order to help us prepare for the conference play which lies ahead."

LAST TIME OUT

The Eagles were scheduled to play against SCAD Saturday January 21st, but due to the weather it was postponed to Sunday January 29th, at 2:00 PM.
