According to current Executive Vice President Lance Smith, a total of 20 people submitted applications for the twelve positions to be vacated April 1.

Two students, Dave Harris and Del Terry, applied for the position of president; while three, Benjy Thompson, Taffanye Terry and Allison Havens, submitted applications for executive vice president.

For the position of vice president of academic affairs, Rosa Reese applied; while Victoria Mak and Travis Ann Johnson applied for the vice president of finance post. Bill

Bomar will run unopposed for vice president of auxilliary affairs.

Mike Hancock, Rhonda Kanes, Dana Ferguson, Allen Davis, Richelle McClure, Ken Fox, Kim Yoder, Blythe Bennett will vie for the senator positions.

At a recent meeting of the candidates on eligibility requirements and campaign regulations, each candidate was asked what he or she hoped to accomplish during his or her term if elected. They responded in the following ways:

"It's time to bring the campus closer to the students; to do this, we'll need to provide for the student's needs (i.e. activities and entertainment. This incorporation of students into the campus and student government will provide positive changes at GSC." Dave Harris.

"Through revolutionary ideas, I have a plan that will boost student morale and participation in student government." Del Terry.

"I'm looking forward to giving the Greeks a vote in the Senate." Rhonda Kanes.

"I'd like to play a more active part in the system that will decide my future and the future of my peers." Dana Ferguson.

with our future." Benjy Thompson.

"I would like to increase student involvement with SGA through an increase in student activities." Tiffanye Terry.

"I want to work with you to help our school to grow." Rosa Reese.

"I plan to be actively involved with as many people as possible and I hope the interaction keeps both myself and the student body well informed." Allen Davis.

"It will be great to know that the students of Georgia Southern have a voice in the decisions made about their school, and this will happen because I'm willing to listen and so is the Senate." Richelle McClure.

Havens, Johnson, Fox, Yoder and Bennett were not available for comment.

Radio Station Expansion Nears Completion

By LISA CORNWELL
Assistant News Editor

After several months of delay, construction is finally underway on expanding WVGS, the campus radio station.

The expansion of the station, which is located on the second floor of the Williams Center, has enclosed the open corridor that led to the existing facility into four rooms.

The additional rooms will provide the station with more space, and it will enable the staff to provide better service to its listeners.

After completion, the office, which is presently located in the Psychology building, will be moved into one of the new rooms at the station. A computer has also been donated for use in the new office.

"We're looking forward to having our offices at the station," said Paula Edmondson, WVGS station manager.

The second of the four rooms will be a record and publication library.

"We subscribe to several different music publications, and we want to keep up with them," explained Dr. Russell Dewey, faculty adviser to WVGS.

In addition, a production room will also be added.

Dewey explained that the production room will also be used to train disc jockeys.

Finally, the last room will be a lounge for the WVGS staff.

Upon completion, Dewey explained that they will have more than doubled their space.

"Size wise, we're one of the biggest college radio stations in Georgia," exclaimed Edmondson.

The staff at WVGS is happy about the expansion.

"I'm really excited and relieved to see it's finally here," said Edmondson.

Music director Tom Rupnow also commented on the expansion.

"We will have an outstanding and workable radio station," said Rupnow. "It will be one of the best college radio stations."

Rupnow went on to explain that the album library will increase with the addition of more new independent label music albums.

Although the final touches are yet to be added to the station, construction is progressing, according to Plant Operations.

The work is being done in phases, explained architect Gary Witte. The work that has been contracted has been finished. The rest hasn't been scheduled out yet.

"It's a continuing project in a sense," said Witte. "It's just a matter of working out details."

GSC Foundation to Hold Spring Auction Apr. 18

By MIKE MILLS
News Writer

A football signed by Tracy Ham and the rest of the Eagles, a fishing trip and cookout with Erk Russell, a baseball signed by John Tudor, a trip to Europe... Sounds like the ultimate Christmas list for the dedicated Southern fan. All these items and more will be auctioned off by the GSC foundation in an effort to raise money in their upcoming spring auction.

This auction will be held on April 18 at the Williams Center at Georgia Southern College. This Friday evening event will include dinner, a cocktail hour, door prizes and a full scale auction complete with a professional auctioneer. Tickets are 10 dollars and will cover drinks, dinner and bid cards. The actual auction will begin with a sealed bid auction on "display items."

The open auction will begin at 8:00 p.m. and be conducted by Asa Marshall, president of Hudson and Marshall Inc. Other items to be auctioned include an antique silver set, Georgia Tech football tickets, a turkey hunt with Congressman Thomas, two Peruvian shrunken heads and much, much more.

The GSC foundation hopes to make this auction an annual event in their continuing drive to raise funds for the many worthy programs that they support on the Southern campus. The foundation was founded to aid many programs that lack necessary governmental funding to survive.

The foundation uses money collected in their various quarterly drives to help the Bell Honors Program, Faculty Research Programs, scholarship awards, the GSC museum and many others.

"The recent emphasis on restricted gifts has left several parts of the campus in dire need of money while others go without funding."

—Bobby Howard
Administrative Assistant

The main emphasis of the foundation as reported by Ms. Bobby Howard, Administrative Asst. to Resource Development, is to, "Not just meet our budget, but to rededicate ourselves to finding more in the way of 'unrestricted funding' through public donation."

Restricted funds are donated or received with conditions as to where the money will be spent. Ms. Howard continued by stating, "The recent emphasis on restricted gifts has left several parts of the campus in dire need of money while others go without funding."

The decision as to where money is allocated is the job of a board of directors headed up by Dr. Dale Lick. The board meets quarterly and decides on a budget granting various programs and individuals money on a priority need basis.

The auction is but one of the many events that the Foundation sponsored. Other events include, "A Day For Southern" in the fall, quarterly phone-a-thons, and periodic mailings throughout the year.

All purchases at the auction and gifts are completely tax deductible. Anyone wishing to donate items to the foundation or simply wish information should call the GSC Foundation at (912) 681-5163. Tax deductible donations of items or cash will be gratefully accepted. For ticket information call the GSC Foundation.

Hats Off to Coach Stallings

When coach Jack Stallings recently captured his 800th collegiate coaching victory, the entire baseball world stood up and took notice.

A fundamentalist and a man of patience, Stallings has earned the respect and admiration of hundreds of coaches and players around the country, as well as the entire world who continuously seek the veteran Eagle coach for speaking engagements and advice on the game of baseball itself.

Although he has accumulated numerous awards and accolades, Stallings has never been one to concern himself with individual achievements, but instead with the welfare of his team. The difference between Stallings and some coaches is that he genuinely cares about his players as individuals and will take time to assist them with any problems they may have. Not one to force his players to do something they are not capable of, Stallings just asks one thing, to play hard and have fun.

We at GSC are very fortunate to have a man of coach Stallings' stature and ability to lead our baseball team. So the next time you see him, stop and say thank you and congratulations. He deserves it!

Sprinklers Dampen Fun in Sun

Have you been doused lately? Sweetheart Circle is the gathering place for friends who need a little afternoon break from classes, whether it's for a fast-paced game of frisbee or a lazy stretch in the sun.

Being outdoors is great for the spirit and your tan line, but the party's over when the sprinklers come on.

For some unknown reason, students have been getting soaked during the day's "prime time" for play.

Why not water the lawn early in the day, or late evening when the sun isn't so inviting and evaporation is minimal?

And while we're on the subject — how about the pools on and around campus? There are a couple that look good, but some of them are allowed to get awfully dirty. Come on people, it only takes a couple of hours a week to vacuum, clean the tiles and skim off the dead bugs! Nobody wants to swim in a dirty pool.

In the meantime, enjoy the beautiful days, but don't forget your textbooks—summer's almost here!

Lyndon LaRouche: Global Savior or Cult Leader?

Receiving little attention, in the back pages of the nation's newspapers and magazines lies a story about two recently nominated members for the Illinois state government. On the democratic ticket, the names Mark Fairchild and Janice Hart appeared under Adlai Stevenson, gubernatorial candidate. With a quick flash, Stevenson tried to denounce the democratic party and create a third party. Why the rapid change of heart?

Fairchild, nominated for Lieutenant Governor, and Hart, secretary of state nominee, combined, spent a total of $200 on their entire campaign. It was not until after the ballots had been counted that the two "came out of the closet" and declared they were members of a faction whose followers are commonly called "LaRouchians." The democratic party is in an uproar. The people of the state are shocked. Why?

Who are the "LaRouchians?"

We will lay aside for the moment the gross negligence of the people of Illinois, the press, higher officials, and the candidates themselves for the lack of knowledge about Fairchild and Hart. Deeper inside this situation lies LaRouche himself. The political battle this Ultrarightist will be waging may change the future of American government.

Lyndon LaRouche is at the head of the National Caucus for Labor Committees (NCLC). It branches into several different organizations including the National Anti-Drug Coalition, the Lafayette Foundation for the Arts and Sciences, and the Fusion Energy Foundation. These groups work closely with the Ku Klux Klan, the Liberty Lobby, the Teamsters, and the United States Government itself. It publishes several magazines and pamphlets including New Solidarity, Executive Intelligence Review, and a do-it-yourself guide of how to build your very own H-Bomb. His main body of followers number about 2,000. Each day, they gross over $60,000 in donations.

It is obvious the immense power that runs through the wires that lead to LaRouche. It is known that he maintains knowledge and has a controlling hand within the CIA and the National Security Council. His group continues dialogues with many members of President Reagan's cabinet.

Some of his basic policies stem from Marxists teachings. LaRouche foresees a "super race of 'golden souls'" fighting the "Zionist-British organisms." According to LaRouche, Henry Kissinger, David Rockefeller, the FBI, the British Secret Intelligence Service and Queen Elizabeth (among others) are working to spur "world holocaust" through drug addiction, the plague, famine, and systematic brainwashing of the people of the world. He sees a remodeling of the American Culture toward "total mobilization" in preparation for "total war." An anti-Jewish push where a special office would be created to try all Jews for treason is another proposition. The public should be tested for AIDS and anyone found with it should be "isolated" is another. Other minor beliefs include the following: the Holocaust was fictional, the only "lawful" sexual intercourse is that of male-female penetration, Walter Mondale is a Soviet agent and Hitler was a "runaway British agent."

LaROUCHE

This is only the tip of the iceberg. Don't you sit back in your easy chair and say, "Well, I'm glad it's in Illinois and not here." Not true. Georgia plays a very prominent role. Across our nation, over 1000 "LaRouchians" are expected to run for a political office. In Powder Springs, Georgia, on the estate of Mitchell WerBell III, NCLC members are being trained in a "counter terrorist force."

LaRouche sees himself as a "global savior." What is he saving us from? This man is nothing more than a cult leader and a war monger. It is obvious that we need to start paying attention to this background force; after all, it's the undercurrent that could pull us under resulting in the "drowning" of the American culture. Could Orwell's vision of 1984 come true by 1990 because of this man?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vote in SGA Elections

Editor:

Students, did you enjoy your past year at GSC? Were you able to keep yourself entertained? Did you know how your activity fees are spent? Do you care? Of course you do. I have been affiliated with GSC for several years. And this past year, with the exception of the national championship, has been the most boring I've yet to experience here. The level of interest expressed by GSC students in activities has fallen by the wayside. The student atmosphere has become stagnant. It is time for a revitalization of the morale of the campus. To do this we must utilize the funds provided by the students to serve the students' wants and needs. We must take a holistic approach to these problems and not a narrow minded minority viewpoint. Today, fellow students, YOU can make a difference. Elections for the offices of the SGA will be held in the Williams Center, second floor. Make yourself heard; become a part of the workings of GSC, vote for the candidate of your choice.

Candidate for SGA president

Support GSC Rugby Club

Editor:

As a member of the Georgia Southern Rugby Club, I am alarmed at the lack of recognition this group has received on campus. With little school support and a lot of hard work, player-coach George Steele has led his team to an 8-1 season. The team, after losing a match to Georgia Tech in the last five minutes, is now ranked second in a four state region. (La., Ga., Fla., Ala.). I believe congratulations are in order to Coach Steele, Scott Thompson's pack and David Davis' back line.

Rugby is interesting, intense and fun to watch. So support your local Rugby Club.

Bald Eagle Club Rallies for Spirit-Filled Students, Faculty

By JENNY OLIVER
Staff Writer

Spirit has to start somewhere, and Georgia Southern College has come a long way toward building more Eagle pride in the past few years. Pep rallies, before-game celebrations, and other student activities can only become a reality, though, when our campus comes alive with school spirit.

This is what the Bald Eagle Club hopes to do. Unlike other schools, G.S.C. has failed to organize any sort of prestigious spirit group for its students. The Bald Eagle Club will seek to promote Southern pride and tradition, while providing spirit activities for the entire student body.

Neal Herndon, a senior and KA fraternity member at Georgia Southern, got this idea from a similar club at Georgia Tech. "We had so much fun at the Tech games. That's where the traditions come in...our club won't copy theirs by any means, but it will serve the same purpose."

Some of the activities the club is planning are: support of more pep rallies and assistance to the cheerleaders and Boosters, special give-aways at sporting events, and possible contests during homecoming week.

At present, the club is looking for honor students, Greeks, Christian organization members, student government members, art majors, business majors, athletes, and any other interested students who might like to join. They also desperately need faculty support and a faculty sponsor.

Interviews for interested students will be conducted soon, as the club plans to get things moving this spring. Only those who are willing to lead, work hard, and generate interest among all Eagle supporters are needed in the ranks of the Bald Eagle Club. Interested persons can contact Neal Herndon at L.B. 8778 (681-3772), or Jenny Oliver at L.B. 12004 (681-3848).

Freshman's Farce

By MICHAEL CHEEK
Assistant Features Editor

With the beginning of spring, the rites of summer begin: time to get that early start on a tan. Someone yells, "Road trip!" and it's off to Tybee. And with all these things follows the ever-common spring romance.

But, of course, it won't be you who falls in love. It will be your best friend (it's true...you're sitting here with a newspaper. Where's your best friend?). Of all of the horrible things that can happen to a friendship, falling in love could be the worst.

Your best friend, the one that you went out with on Friday and Saturday nights. The memories of sitting around at Sarah's, checking out late-night Burger King, cruising, and the cheap Chek colas and bags of Doritos you shared—all gone! Friday nights become the utmost boredom...you sit and stare at the four walls. Your best friend never calls anymore (snif-snif).

Well, remember, as soon as the current romance dumps y.b.f., they'll be back. Meanwhile, what should you do?

Meet y.b.f.'s romance's roommate. He/she is probably either lonely, desperate, or taken. What the heck, it's worth a try.

When you were in first grade, didn't you have an imaginary friend? Well, you can have one now.

Better yet, pester y.b.f. until he/she hates you, then y.b.f. will be angry enough to start a fight with his/her romance and no one will be happy (misery loves company).

Luckily, most of us have best friends mature enough to deal with romance. Sure, you're losing a little extra time with y.b.f., but you will gain a new friend: y.b.f.'s romance. Down the road, you may be in a wedding. Maybe it's worth giving a little up to give y.b.f. a lot of happiness.

Feathered Friends Terrorize GSC Lake

By PAM CONWAY
Staff Writer

Going to class every morning, I take the scenic route. Actually, it's the shortest route. Everybody knows that old saying—get there the fastest in the shortest amount of time.

Unfortunately, I'm late to class every morning. The underlying cause for this tardiness is four close buddies of mine. Perhaps you've met them.

If you take the same path to and from class as I do, then it's likely you've at least seen, if not heard, them. They hang out at the lake, and are really obnoxious fellows. I absolutely dread going by there each morning because they manage somehow to hold me up.

It's not like they're pressuring me to skip class or partake in drugs or political debates. They simply want to get to know me better. As a matter of fact, they're getting to know me too well.

One of the guys actually had the gall to bite me on the leg, which left a nickle-sized bruise in the calf area. Men! My mother warned me.

Seriously, though, I'm referring to that quartet of white geese loitering in the lake area day in and day out. Yes, those crazy geese who frequent the brackish water and grassy shores of our once-beautiful lake.

Personally, I detest the feathered creatures. In some fashion they hinder me every morning. They can be in the middle of the lake swimming contentedly, but boy, let me set one foot in their territory (which apparently consists of the entire lake area), and in no time at all four of the pests are at my heels—squawking, hissing, nipping and cursing at me in goose-talk.

One morning I half expect to see a "No Trespassing—Goose Sanctuary" sign posted.

Sometimes they circle me and play "I dare you to cross the line" games. A big mistake, no doubt.

Someone told me the geese were offended by my perfume. I think it turns them on (Ralph Lauren was not available for questioning). I was also told that they could sense I was frightened by them. Well, that's right. I perish at the thought of facing these guys. They're like bullies who take lunchroom money from little kids every morning. I'm the little kid who has to deal with the gang.

I've even named them—Spike, Butch, Ramrod and Harold (the wimp).

Trying to reason with this gang does no good. They want an admission fee to use "their" passage. Now I never leave my dorm room without a little baggie of Froot Loops.

At first I thought I was brilliant, using cereal as a distraction. But the more I think about it, I realize these seemingly dumb geese are really smart cookies. They figured out a way to get a reward for being obnoxious. And I can just imagine the comments they fabricate among themselves about what a silly pushover of a human being I am.

It sounds too extraordinary when I explain truthfully to my professor why I'm late to his class every morning. He just stands there, nodding his head with a "Sure, sure—they should turn the lake and surrounding swamp into a target and shooting range" look on his face.

Of course I could leave my dorm room two minutes earlier and take the less scenic route every day—but that would just be defeating the purpose of this story.

Spike, Butch and Ramrod lurk in the shade.

International Program

Special to the George-Anne

"From the moment I arrived, I knew it was special. I feel so lucky to have participated in a project where people from so many different cultures all gave of themselves one hundred percent." A willingness to work and a desire to meet people, summed up in this statement from a past participant, are the only qualifications required to participate in international volunteer projects offered by the Council on International Educational Exchange.

Designed for young adults over the age of 18, the programs unite volunteers from many countries to live and work together on community development projects in Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, and the U.S.

Offered during the summer months, the projects are two to four weeks in duration. They include recreation programs for handicapped children, restoration of castles and historic monuments, nature conservation work, archaeological digs, construction of playgrounds or hiking trails, and working with senior citizens.

"The cultural and personal rewards are high for volunteers," says Gina Chase, Director of Volunteer Projects for the Council. "Participants have a unique chance to learn about a country from the inside, which is an especially rare opportunity in the Eastern bloc countries."

Projects in the U.S., which bring together volunteers from around the world, offer American youth an international experience at home. Programs in New York City this summer will include park maintenance on Ellis Island, housing redevelopment in the Lower East Side, and recreation programs children. An archaeological dig in Kentucky is also offered.

Volunteers are responsible for their own transportation costs to the projects and for a $100 program fee. In exchange for their volunteer service, they are provided with free room and board for the duration of the project and daily transportation to and from the work site. Some recreational and cultural activities are also arranged for volunteers.

"My project was a wonderful experience - from a pile of dirt and rocks we created a cellar with a cement floor and steps. To remind those who will use the farm house as a study center, each of the participants placed a coin of their country in the top step. I guess they won't forget us. I know I won't forget all the wonderful people I met," reported a student from American University who helped on a historic preservation site in France.

The application deadline for international volunteer projects is May 1, 1986. For more information and an application, write or phone: Council on International Educational Exchange, 356 West 34th Street, New York, NY 10001, (212)695-0293.

The Clash-Cut

The Crap-Epic Records

Writing to you live from somewhere in the Pines, this is your dedicated record reviewer for the George-Anne, for inquiring minds.

The Clash has always been known for anger-driven rock with thoughtful lyrics and as a guiding light for the punk-political music scene. That is, until Joe Strummer fired Mick Jones and put out an album like Cut The Crap.

Admittedly, The Clash has been around for a while and ideas do get stale, but it is hard to believe that the album was as bad as it was. The absence of Mick Jones, who is now working with his own band, Big Audio Dyamite, is painfully noticeable.

The album is just a rehashing of old ideas and styles, as is evident in "We Are The Clash" and "This Is England." Perhaps they are trying to make it in the mass market with this collection of has-been, past tense songs. I hear that punk-rock is in vogue among the high schoolers nowadays (at least in this watered down version the parents won't have much to worry about).

There is no thought provoking process working at all in Cut The Crap. Too bad. The success of The Clash was built on the strong political emphasis in their songs (even "Rock The Casbah" had some meaning to exist). No songs jump up at you and grab like the ones on Combat Rock and London Calling. "Dictator" is about South American right-wing countries and "Movers & Shakers" is about, what else, capitalists exploiting the poor. Nothing special that hasn't already been done before and done better.

If you want to buy something by The Clash, go and get London Calling or Give 'Em Enough Rope. Much better stuff at about the same price. All Done. Where's my money?

Eagle Netters Get by Lander; Fall to FLA

By MATTHEW SNYDER
Sports Writer

The GSC men's tennis team picked up a win in Greenwood, SC on April 7 against the number one-ranked team in the NAIA, Lander, 5-4.

Wins were recorded at no. 2 singles by Ian Fudalla, Gary Meanchos at no. 3 singles, and Reiner Becker at no. 6 singles. At no. 1 doubles, Mike Rice and Meanchos raised their season record to 15-5, and Becker and Harold Belker won at no. 2 doubles.

On Saturday, the Eagles were outlasted by the Florida Gators, 6-3, in Gainesville. After the loss, Coach Joe Blankenbaker said, "They (the Eagle netters) all played really well and have had a terrific season with a lot of team unity.

Fudalla, at no. 2 singles, Meanchos at no. 3, and Chris DeMarta at no. 4, picked up wins for the Eagles.

Next the Eagles traveled to St. Augustine, Fla. to participate in the Tropical Invitational Tournament, which was an individual rather than a team tourney.

According to Blankenbaker, "Gary Meanchos made it to the finals, but was defeated by Flagler's Tobias Sventesson. All the rest of our guys won in the consolation bracket.

GSC will next play in the TAAC Championships April 18-19 at Mercer College in Macon.

There will be meetings for anyone interested in running cross country held each weekday for the remainder of the quarter from 4:30 to 5:00 p.m. in front of Hanner Fieldhouse.

For further information, contact Sean McCormack at 681-7585.

EAGLES

Con't. from p. 12

With the win, Billy Brooks raised his record to 7-4, giving up four runs on seven hits while striking out eight.

In the first game of Saturday's twinbill, Samford jumped on starter Frank Merkel and reliever Kevin Meier for 11 runs, although five Eagle errors played a major role in GSC's undoing.

McMullen accounted for two of GSC's runs when he blasted a two-run homer in the third. Merkel took the loss.

"We got impatient in situations where we had the opportunities to have big innings," coach Jack Stallings explained.

In game two Saturday, Scott Luman scattered three hits over six innings and Joe Bonanno went 4-4 including a solo homer to lead the Eagles to victory.

GSC scored five runs in the second when Vashaw walked, went to third on a Bonanno single and scored on Dan Gealy's fielders choice. After Shireman walked, Bonanno scored on an error by the Samford first baseman on a shot by McMullen. Cunningham walked to drive in Gealy and Cooper singled down the rightfield line to drive in Shireman and McMullen.

The Eagles tallied two more runs in the third and two more in the fourth on a double by Bonanno. Bonanno then added the Eagles final run with his homer to left-centerfield. With the victory, Luman raised his record to 5-2 on the year.

GSC, which hosted Augusta Wednesday, travels to Mercer tomorrow for a three-game set and South Carolina Sunday for a single game.

Eagles Upset Highly-Ranked Gamecocks

By CHARLES CARTER
Sports Writer

The GSC Eagles came up with a big 9-6 win last Tuesday in Columbia, S.C. against the nationally ranked South Carolina Gamecocks. As Coach Jack Stallings put it, "It was a very good ball game for us and a big boost for the team."

South Carolina scored first in the second inning on a three-run homer by Garrett Carter, but the Eagles countered with two runs in the third on a sacrifice fly by Mike Shepherd and an RBI double by Rob Haranda. In the fourth inning GSC exploded for four runs and a 6-3 advantage on RBI singles by Craig Cooper, Shepherd, and Frank Vashaw, and Joe Bonoanno's sacrifice fly.

Scott Luman shut down the Gamecocks from the third until the sixth inning when he gave way to Marty Murphy. The Gamecocks made the game a little tighter in the eighth on a two run homer by Dave Hollins. At that point Billy Brooks came on and eventually got the save in relief.

GSC iced the game in the ninth with Vashaw's RBI single and a two-run single by Dan Gealy. The Gamecocks attempted a comeback in the bottom of the ninth with a run, but were then retired for the win.

Luman got the win to raise his record to 4-2, and hitting highlights for the Eagles included two hits and two RBI's each for Shepherd and Vashaw.

Softball Team Still Above .500 as Season Winds to a Close

By LYNN RUSSELL
Sports Writer

The GSC Lady Eagles, who have continued to play well with a 10-9 record in their first year of fast pitch softball, defeated Augusta College on Tuesday, April 8, 9-3.

Pitcher Janet Scott, in addition to pitching a great game, hit a three-run homer. Freshman Debbie Tomkiewicz—playing shortstop—was instrumental in turning three double plays against the Lady Jaguars. She also hit a triple and a single. Sue Lanier had a double and a single. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

Coach Bill Spieth's team then traveled to Pensacola, Florida last weekend to compete in a West Florida tournament.

On Friday, GSC lost to the University of Mississippi for Women, 8-2, and the University of North Alabama, 6-2, before beating Mercer 8-1. Saturday's games were rained out.

This week's schedule had GSC playing at Mercer yesterday before participating in the New South Women's Conference Tournament this weekend at Georgia State in Atlanta.

GSC Rugby Team Falls to GA Tech

Special to the George-Anne
The GSC rugby team saw their hopes for a trip to the National Championships come to an end when they were defeated by Georgia Tech in the finals of the Southeast Championship Tournament on April 6 in Marietta.

GSC had defeated Louisiana State University the previous day, and held an 11-8 lead with ten minutes to play against GT, but Tech then exploded for several tries and won 35-11. Tech had defeated Florida State University to reach the finals.

Spring Football Drills Emphasize 'ABC's'

By CHRIS NAIL
Sports Editor

Just four months ago the GSC Eagles won the 1985 Division 1-AA national football championship. Now they're taking the first step in defending the title: spring practice.

For most teams spring practice is a time of hard work, learning, and dreaming; dreaming of a winning season, a playoff berth, and possibly even a national title. However, the Eagles achieved all these goals last year. So what are "they" doing during this period?

"ABC's," Coach Erk Russell said. "We're working on fundamentals. Saturday (April 12) will be our seventh day of practice and we've had just one scrimmage. The rest of the time has been concentrated on fundamentals. The attitude of the team has been real good and they've really hustled. We've had good practices up to this point."

Although the Eagles have 15 starters plus their kickers and punters returning from the '85 team, Russell feels the other seven will be hard to replace.

"On the offensive line we'll be without two of the best (Vance Pike and Jeff Evans) we've ever had at Georgia Southern College," Russell said. "We'll be hard-pressed to be as good there. On defense it'll be tough to find five people to fill the spots of those graduating (Jessie Jenkins, John Richardson, Eddie Johns, Charles Carper, Hugo Rossignol)."

As it has been the last two years, the spotlight is on All-America candidate Tracy Ham at quarterback who is participating in his final spring practice as an Eagle. Ham is, according to Russell, having a fine spring.

Although Ham passed for a school-record 419 yards in the championship game, Russell isn't planning on having him put the ball in the air any more than usual this year.

"Last year we were 70 percent run and 30 percent pass," Russell said. "This year we'd like to maintain that ratio. But we'll take what they give us."

However, Eagle fans won't be able to view the offense nor defense very much within the friendly confines of Paulson Stadium this year. GSC's 11-game schedule includes just four home games, and only once — November 15 and 22 — will the Eagles play back-to-back games before the home crowd.

"It's unfortunate that we have only four home games," Russell said, "but that's the way the schedule worked out. We'll approach this year's schedule just like we have in the past — to win our next game and play just one more time."

And what about the Eagles chances of winning it all again this year?

"We have just as much chance at winning the national championship as we had last year," Russell said. "Zero percent!"

NOTE: Spring drills will conclude May 3 with the Blue-White game at Paulson Stadium.

Pitching Keys GSC in Wins Over Samford

By ANTHONY DASHER
Assistant Sports Editor

Billy Brooks and Scott Luman tuned in a pair of fine pitching performances as GSC took two out of three games from TAAC rival Samford last weekend at J.I. Clements Field.

The Eagles took Friday nights contest 10-4 and then split a doubleheader Saturday, losing the first game 12-4 and winning the second 10-0.

With the wins, GSC improved its record to 25-17-1 and 10-5 in the conference.

In the series opener, GSC scored first as Greg McMullen laced a single to left, Craig Cooper reached on an error, and one out later both scored on a two-run single by Rob Haranda.

The Eagles added five unearned runs in the second.

Frank Vashaw opened with a walk, stole second, went to third on an error by the third baseman on Jeff Shireman's grounder and scored on McMullen's RBI-single with Shireman moving to third. Jim Cunningham then doubled in both runners and scored when the throw from the Bulldogs' catcher ended up in left-centerfield and then continued home when the left fielder's throw to third went all the way to the backstop.

Samford scored once in the fourth but the Eagles put across three more runs in the fifth, two on a double by Shireman and one a sacrifice fly by Cunningham.

Sports Beat

By CHRIS NAIL
Sports Editor

After watching the Golden Bear, Jack Nicklaus, come out of hibernation and win his sixth Masters title on Sunday, I felt it would be an appropriate time to slip on the old shoes and get out on the "Sports Beat" again. What a thrill it was to see a man who's done so much for golf make one of the finer comebacks in the history of this prestigious event, especially when the general consensus was he wouldn't even be a contender. Nicklaus, who most experts said was "washed up," proved he can still play the sport—especially with a crowd of thunderous fans urging him on.

How about "The Human Highlight Film," Dominique Wilkins of the Atlanta Hawks winning the NBA scoring title. Wilkins' 30.3 ppg average was just enough to get him past Utah's Adrian Dantley and Denver's Alex English, who each ended up with a 29.8 average. The three had been neck-to-neck in the race before Wilkins blistered the Nets (as well as the nets) of New Jersey for a team-record-tying 57-point-performance last week. Wilkins, who averaged around 34 ppg over the second half of the season, now finds himself in another race—against Larry Bird of the Boston Celtics for the league MVP award. Bird is generally acknowledged as basketball's outstanding player, but in an interview earlier this year (when Wilkins was averaging just 27 ppg), Bird said he thought Dominique deserved MVP honors. I agree with Bird, but I would have to rate Wilkins chance of actually winning the award about the same as the Hawks' chance of defeating the Celtics in the playoffs—slim and none.

All of us have heard the old cliché, "The rich get richer and the poor get poorer." Well apparently the NFL schedule makers intend to see it isn't forgotten in the 1986 football season. Consider this: The Atlanta Falcons won four games last year; the Chicago Bears won 18. So what does this year's schedule have in store for the two teams? The Falcons must face 11 teams that made the 1985 playoffs; Chicago faces only three. Come on NFL and give us fans a break! Pull the old switcharoo. Let Atlanta play Chicago's schedule and vice versa. Now that would be more interesting than seeing the "Refrigerator" race Herschel Walker in a 100-yard dash to the nearest pizza shop.
