Final plans nearly ready for student union

By Kathryn Denton
Staff Writer

The new College Union Building is in its final phase of planning, according to Richard Armstrong, Vice-President of Business and Finance. A groundbreaking ceremony is tentatively planned for mid-March, followed by eighteen to twenty months of construction.

"A College Union Building has been of interest to GSC for seven to ten years now," states Armstrong. "It has been an active project for the past two years."

The College Union Building will be a two-story structure consisting of a large common area, two new food services, five restrooms, an auditorium with a stage and a screen, the office of the Associate Dean of Students, 25 to 30 meeting rooms, the Student Government Association offices, a large game room, and a ball room that will seat 900.

"This building is very functional; I believe the students will enjoy it because it will have such a comfortable atmosphere," explains Armstrong.

An unusual feature of the new building is the large rotunda entrance. The first floor will be fashioned like a mall with brick flooring and shops along a main street. The commons area will have tables and lampposts to give the open effect of being outdoors.

The second floor will be offices and meeting rooms for student organizations. This will centralize the student organizations into one building; up to now, they have been scattered across the campus.

The College Union Building will take up approximately half of the large off-campus parking lot on Georgia Avenue. New off-campus lots are being constructed around campus to replace the parking spaces being taken by the new 100,000 square-foot building.

The final plans for the $9.5 million building designed by the architectural firm of Thompson, Ventulett, Stainback and Associates, Inc., are being viewed by the Chancellors Office in Atlanta.

From there, the plans will go before the State Fire Marshall and the Georgia State Finance and Investment Commission. Finally, the building will be bid upon by contractors.

Lakeside Cafe to be located near Henderson Library

Regents OK 'Cafe' changes

By Buffy Ann Johnson
Staff Writer

The Board of Regents recently approved a budget increase in the construction cost of GSC's new "Lakeside Cafe" project.

The "Lakeside Cafe" will be a new unit of the food systems on campus. "The facility will be a multi-food unit," said Larry Davis, director of auxiliary services. "Not only will the Cafe serve the popular burgers and fries, it will also serve such foods as pizza, chicken, and maybe Mexican food."

The facility will be constructed near the lakes on campus. According to Larry Davis, "With a food unit on that side of campus, it will make it more convenient for some faculty and students to eat during the day."

Within the next month plans for the cafe will be underway. "We hope to have the facility completed by fall of 1989," stated Davis. "Right now we are just working on an adequate site for the building and what the students want from the facility."

Davis also stressed the importance of improvement of GSC's food services. "Our facilities for serving have been getting behind and need improvements," Davis added. "We want as much input from the students as we can get."

Decision due on loan for dorm

By Buffy Ann Johnson
Staff Writer

A decision will be made in the upcoming month as to whether or not GSC will take a federal loan of $3 or $8 million, both already approved by the Board of Regents, towards the construction of a new dorm on campus.

A $3 million loan would fund a building only large enough to house 100 to 150 students. On the other hand, if the school decides to accept the loan of $8 million, a dorm housing 400 to 500 students could be built.

"The decision is still being questioned," according to Dean of Students John Nolen. "If we take the extra $5 million, the only way to pay it back is through student housing fees, which would go up in price."

As the attendance at GSC grows each year, housing becomes more of a problem. Over $500,000 a year is spent to improve the resident halls.

"We want to continue to keep a good resident hall atmosphere here at GSC," explains Dean Nolen. "In order to compete with the apartments on campus, we have to offer students quality resident halls."

3 foreign language degrees approved

Education Dean Jack Miller explains degree programs

By Cathy McNamara
News Editor

The Board of Regents agreed to a GSC proposal to implement three new foreign language degrees in Spanish, French, and German, under an existing Master of Education program beginning next fall.

The new programs are a direct result of the increasing demand nationwide for teachers at the secondary level. "There is already a substantial need for foreign language teachers in high schools," stated Jack Miller, dean of the school of education.

Miller also explained that the pressing need for foreign language teachers will become even more urgent as the high school requirement to take at least two years of a foreign language becomes more strict.

In addition the University System, as of September 1988, will reinstitute foreign language requirements as an admission criterion for many colleges and universities.

According to Dean Miller, "It's a trickle-down effect." When two years of a foreign language became a requirement in high schools, the need for more foreign language teachers came into existence. With foreign language teachers in demand and the new admission criterion, Master of Education programs became necessary.

'Bomb' threat empties dorm

By Jim Christian
Assistant News Editor

A "bomb" which was discovered in Winburn Hall early last Wednesday was later destroyed and revealed as nothing more than a shoe box full of batteries and wires.

Campus Security officers Marvin Riggs and Wendell Bunch reportedly located the device, hand-lettered with the word "bomb," in a third floor Winburn Hall bathroom, following a threat phoned into the Department of Public Safety.

An anonymous male caller informed a Public Safety dispatcher at 1:20 a.m. that a bomb on the third floor of the women's dormitory would explode within the hour, according to official reports.

The residence hall was evacuated shortly thereafter. "The fire alarm went off at 1:30 a.m.," Winburn evacuee Esther Howell said. "But they [Winburn Resident Assistants] didn't tell us they had a bomb." A Winburn R.A. declined comment.

Riggs and Bunch carried the bogus bomb outside where it was examined by a Fort Stewart demolition team. The experts X-rayed the box and found it to have "all of the earmarks of a homemade bomb," according to GSC Public Safety Chief and Operation Director Harold Howell.

The demolition team then destroyed the package with explosives, discovering that it contained no explosives and was not dangerous.

Word of the reason for the commotion spread quickly to the residents. At first, they failed to recognize the potential danger of the situation. "Everyone was out there singing 'You dropped the bomb on Continued on page 2

WHAT A DIFFERENCE - After a beginning of the quarter ice storm which shut down classes, GSC thawed out and warmed enough for some students to be seen wearing shorts and spring clothing. A tale of Satan's Siamese twins

"Mother of God," I yelled. But no one paid attention.

I did not need this on an early Monday, but here it came: Satan's Siamese Twins, twins that were formed by an inseparable attraction.

I was sitting in Sarah's coffee/snack bar minding my own macaroni and broccoli salad when they came in holding hands. Although this couple appeared normal, they were not. Each carried a chickenfinger plate with french fries, napkins, fork, and a medium-sized soft drink in one hand while the remaining hand clinged to the other's.

I watched in disgust as they placed their two pounds of poultry on the table without loosening their grip. They proceeded to sit down next to each other with the table corner between them.

The girl tried eating with her left hand but found this difficult as a ketchup-covered fry fell on her lap. She didn't have the confidence nor the coordination to become a south-paw eater, so the couple huddled, goo-goo eyed and giggly, and discussed their dilemma.

Observations from Hell...

By
Justo Condo

It struck me that I had to do something. I quickly looked for a vacant bible or a weapon. I didn't know if I wanted an exorcism or a sacrifice but suddenly, a sharp pain shot through my stomach that left me motionless and at the mercy of these possessed puppies.

Still holding hands, they stood up, moved their plates opposite each other and Released Their Grips! The girl's eyes started to water but he quickly grabbed her left hand with his left as they sat down as if they were auditioning for Stallone's, "Over The Top." They resumed their lunch, smiling and staring into each other's eyes. Ugh.

Although I thought it was over, I looked down at my salad with my jaw dropped and eyes squinted and found my last two pieces of broccoli had grown together much like the couple in front of me.

Although it has been a while since I've eaten a salad, I must warn people to stay away from these people at all costs.

Winter Drink of the Week

Let's see what you can come up with for the cold winter days!

Our first winner is Senior Joe Gooden who says his drink pertains to those "spring quarter, weight conscious students who are beginning to fast". His drink is the Magnesia Russian which is similar to the White Russian where milk and vodka are involved. His drink consists of vodka, Kahlua, and Milk of Magnesia. Just for those "smooth" days of dieting.

Each week's winner will be judged on their taste and uniqueness by a panel of George-Anne writers. The winner will receive a small, one-topping pizza from Romeo's.

CLEC activities abound

The "1940's Radio Hour," as part of the Performing Arts Series sponsored by CLEC, will be performed Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in the McCroan Auditorium.

The "Radio Hour" is based on Broadway's swinging '40's musical comedy hit by Walton Jones. Big bands, singing and dancing, comedy routines, original radio drama, and commercials of the era are part of this evening where the theater-goers will become an actual part of the radio audience. Seating must be reserved. To make reservations, call Barbara Simmons at 681-5434. McCroan Box office will be open Feb. 1-11 from 2-5 p.m. weekdays. All GSC students, staff, and faculty will be admitted free with valid ID.

Afro-American historian search is under way

By Terra Terwilliger

Staff Writer

As part of the selection process for a new history professor, Ms. Fon Gordon visited the Georgia Southern campus on Friday, January 22. Ms. Gordon, who is a doctoral candidate at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, presented a lecture on Reconstruction to a US History class and a number of history faculty observers.

Ms. Gordon was invited to campus as part of an ongoing search by the history department for a qualified Afro-American historian. The search, which began in 1987, is being conducted by a committee headed by Frank Saunders of the history department.

When asked about the need for this position, Saunders answered, "What more appropriate place to study the black experience than right here? We almost have an obligation, given our constituency, to offer these courses."

After the demolition team exploded the fake bomb, however, many residents were thrown into a panic. "At 5 a.m., when the bomb went off, everyone started screaming," stated Esther Howell. Howell also said that a few residents left the dorm and spent the night out because they were worried about their safety.

Although no arrests have been made yet, Chief Howell said that Campus Security, along with the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, is still investigating the incident.

Also in the works is a million-dollar bookstore which will be built across the street from the Landrum Center. The postal center will be moved back to Landrum in place of the old bookstore.

Eagles discipline Huskies; uncivil toward Gents

By Mike Mills
Sports Editor

If one thing will be remembered about the 1987-88 GSC men's basketball team, it will be the type of defense they played, and last Thursday the GSC defense shut down the Huskies of Houston Baptist as Southern triumphed 56-47.

Coming into the game, Frank Kern's Eagles were ranked sixth in the nation in defense at a 56.5 point per game clip. The HBU game marks the tenth time in the last 15 games that Southern has held its opponents to less than 60 points. Southern moved to 11-3 on the season and is 5-1 in the TAAC conference. Houston

GSC Coach Frank Kerns

Baptist falls to 11-3 overall and 1-3 in the TAAC.

Star center Jeff Sanders had 17 points to lead the Eagles, with Anthony Forrest and Kennedy Dixon adding 14 and 12 points respectively.

Coach Kerns was pleased with the Eagle effort over a tough opponent. "We played hard when we had to. Again our kids overcame some adversity, and that's something that this team has done all year."

The Eagles outrebounded the Huskies to the tune of 37-15, and ailing point guard Michael Stokes added seven assists to lead GSC's patient Kerns-style offense.

The Eagles were never really threatened after the Huskies held an early 6-0 lead. In the second half, Southern opened up to as much as a 12-point lead as Sanders scored nine of his 17 points in the second half.

The Eagles now lead the series 11-5.

Playing a close game against the Gents of Centenary seems to be just what the doctor ordered for the GSC men's basketball team according to Southern Head Coach Frank Kerns as he considered his team's narrow 72-68 victory last Saturday.

With the victory over the Gents, the Eagles (12-3 and 6-1 in the TAAC) have set the stage for a showdown with the conference leading Arkansas-Little Rock tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Hanner gymnasium.

Southern was lead by all-star center Jeff Sanders with 19 points, followed by Anthony Dixon with 11,

Kennedy Dixon had 11 points

Anthony Forrest with 10 and Michael Curry with 10 more.

Kerns was understandably happy with the Eagle's victory, "We needed this type of close game. We have been winning our games by large margins and tonight we were able to work on these type of situations."

Once again, Sanders was the Eagle's leading scorer and top rebounder with 11 boards. Point guard Michael Stokes added 9 points and had 7 assists to lead the Eagles who moved to as much as a 12 point lead in the second half only to see it vanish to a hard charging Centenary team.

The Gents were lead by guard Cedric Ellis who finished with 19 points including 5 of the Gent's 9 three pointers. The Gents drop to 7-9 overall and 3-5 in the TAAC. Remember, the Eagles are home against Little Rock tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Die Newell and pack of Trojans Sizzlin' Ladies sweep 3

By Mike Mills
Sports Editor

Of all the lecherous, disgusting influences to slime their way into the TransAmerican Conference, no one can match the outspoken and cocky coach of the Arkansas-Little Rock basketball team, Mike "Drago" Newell. Mr. Newell has infuriated the TAAC coaches, players and fans with his glib tongue that oozes unfounded pride, prejudice and any other "p" word that could possibly be considered sinful.

In a recent interview, Newell vainly boasted, "We are the ultimate challenge for any team in our conference... Little Rock is the Super Bowl for all TAAC teams." He further likened Southern to being an overrated team and lucky to have beaten them last year. Mr. Newell has made no bones about the fact that he considers his squad to be "too good" to be in the TAAC and that the conference has different aims from his own. These comments are coming from a coach whose team had to sit out of the NCAA National Tournament due to losing the TAAC tournament on their own floor. Hmm... Sounds like a bit of sour grapes.

So, what are the students of GSC going to do about it? We have our chance today as the Conference-leading Trojans of Little Rock invade our beloved Hanner Gymnasium. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m., and the TAAC title may rest on the outcome of this game. Here will be the only chance that we have as a student body to express our true sentiments toward Coach Newell. The Eagles will be doing their best to upset this questionable figure and his team. But what can we do as a student body?

The number-one priority will be to fill the Hanner Gymnasium to capacity. There is no more terrifying sight to a visiting coach than the volume and intimidation associated with an arena crammed with screaming fans. Secondly, a verbal attack launched at Newell (in good taste) will keep the fire burning under the Eagle players and coaches alike. Let's load up with an impressive armory of toilet paper for the first GSC basket and drown the Trojans in white! There will be facial painting for any fan that wishes to be garnered in blue and white in Hanner Lobby from 6-7 p.m.

Now let us consider Coach Newell himself... He is about 6'-9" and extremely blond-haired. He is always superbly dressed and knows it. He seems to be somewhat easily angered by the antics of the fans... (Hint)... A loss to Georgia Southern would be a crushing blow to the Trojans and Coach Newell himself. "Mikey" might be an appropriate taunt and the addition of some slanderous signs might be suggested by a less scrupulous journalist.

But, most of all, the mere presence of thousands of GSC faithfuls cheering on their team will do the most good. Come out fraternities, sororities, the football team, the baseball team, or any group of fans and give Newell a night he will never forget. Let's make him curse the day he ever entered Hanner, and let's cheer the GSC Eagle team on to glorious victory!

The GSC Lady Eagles swept three NWSWAC teams placing them in first place in the conference with a 4-0 record improving their overall standings to 11-6.

The Lady Eagles began their week long dominance by defeating Armstrong State 93-55 last Thursday in Savannah.

Regina Days led the team with 22 points and 11 rebounds, while Phyllette Blake followed by scoring all her 17 points in the second half and pulled down ten rebounds.

The 93 points scored by GSC were the highest total this season up to that point. They also extended their winning streak to five games.

The Lady Eagles extended their winning streak to 6 straight games as they nipped the Lady Hatters of Stetson 75-68.

The Lady Eagles went in the game knowing they would come up against some tall and strong players. Stetson's team consisted of three girls over 6 foot and a 6-5 girl from England.

The Eagles strategically placed the ball into the hands of their two power houses, Blake and Days, who elbowed inside to gain control of the paint. After the Hatters doubled up on Blake and Days, the ball went to the precise perimeter shooting of Carla Sisson, Monika Evans, and Antoinette Brown, the latter nailing 3 out of 4 from three point range.

Even though the Eagles were not missing, the Hatters remained close until Days got into foul trouble and had to be pulled from the game early. It was soon after Days left that Blake followed suit with two quick fouls that left Coach Drema Greer and the rest of her players furious with the officials.

With Blake and Days out, the Hatters controlled the boards and crept back to within two at the half with GSC leading 38-36 over Stetson.

Still upset at the referees, Coach Greer was awarded a technical foul early in the second half, "I told my players to remain calm, not to argue, and concentrate on their jobs and let me be the one to rake on the refs."

The game was tied at 66-66 with 3 minutes left when the Eagles started to break away inch by inch.

They overcame the officials and their opponent's size as they finished with a flourish 75-68 and go 4-0 in the NWSWAC.

The Eagles hit their high point total of the season while crushing Central Florida 98-67 in Hanner Field House last Monday night.

Days had limited playing time but still finished with a team high score of 19 points with Blake scoring 17 in 24 minutes.

The starters were pulled early in the second half when GSC led by as much as forty. Anna Marie Arrington, Carla Sisson, Antoinette Brown, Blake and Days all entered double figures in the rout.

The Eagles had a chance to score 100 points, but Lessie Wilson missed a jumper with 30 seconds left and Central Florida ran out the clock.
