Georgia Southern University's online Bachelor of Information Technology degree has been ranked as one of the top twenty "best buys" in the country by the education web site GetEducated.com, a consumer group that rates, ranks, and verifies the cost and credibility of online colleges and online universities.

GetEducated.com ranked the University System of Georgia's WebBSIT program 16th in the nation, out of 88 schools.

Georgia Southern University's program is taught through the Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Information Technology. The online program is known for its quality, affordability and commitment to student service. The online program is designed to meet the needs of busy professionals who are working to continue their education, while balancing other career responsibilities.
