CONWAY, S.C. - Dangerous field conditions have forced postponement of Thursday's first round of action in the 2017 Sun Belt Conference Men's Soccer Championships in Conway, S.C.

The third-seeded Eagles were slated to open up the tournament by facing sixth-seeded Appalachian State at 4 p.m. on Thursday, but officials made the call to push back that match, as well as the other first-round match featuring fourth-seeded Hartwick and fifth-seeded Howard, to Friday.

Georgia Southern will now take on Appalachian State at 10:00 a.m. on Friday morning at the Coastal Carolina Soccer Stadium. Hartwick and Howard will play their first-round match at 12:30 p.m.

Friday's scheduled semifinals will now take place on Saturday, at new times as well. The winner of the Georgia Southern/Appalachian State matchup will take on No. 2 seed Georgia State at 10:00 a.m. Top-seeded Coastal Carolina will face the Hartwick/Howard winner at 12:30 p.m.

The 2017 Sun Belt Conference Men's Soccer Championship Match will still take place on Sunday at 1 p.m.
