CONGRESS MAY OVERCOME RULING:

Democratic leaders pledge Congress will move quickly to overcome a 5-4 Supreme Court ruling Thursday that bars counselors at federally funded family planning clinics from discussing abortion with patients. Justice David Souter provided the crucial vote. "The court is crazy," said Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C. Some 4,000 clinics receive $135 million.

CLINIC WILL QUIT TAKING FUNDS:

The New York clinic that lost its challenge to a federal ban on abortion counseling said Thursday it will quit taking federal money rather than keep silent about women's legal options. Clinics around the USA quickly followed suit. One Planned Parenthood official said, "It's like having the right to vote, but we're not going to tell you where the elections are, and when."

COLIN POWELL REAPPOINTED:

Gen. Colin Powell, one of the USA's military heroes since the Persian Gulf war, was reappointed Thursday by President Bush to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Powell's term runs through September. Bush acted not long after Bob Woodward's "The Commanders" portrayed Powell as initially having misgivings about going to war against Iraq and wanting to give sanctions a chance.

MCGOVERN WILL NOT RUN:

George McGovern said Thursday he won't run for president, but in a broadside attack directed as much at his own party as at President Bush - he urged Democrats to become liberals again and quit talking with a "feeble and wavering voice." McGovern, 68, said personal considerations outweighed urgings for public service. He lost to Richard Nixon in the 1972 presidential election.

U.N., IRAQ SIGN AGREEMENT:

The United Nations and Iraq signed an agreement for the dispatch of U.N. guards to Kurdish camps in Iraq, where they will replace U.S. and allied troops. About 400 to 500 U.N. guards or police will go to Iraq to replace allied soldiers protecting the refugees who are returning to their northern villages, officials said. More than 320,000 Iraqis have left refugee camps, the U.N. said.

STUDENTS WRITE TO KILLER:

Some Oklahoma City fourth-graders, grieving over the shooting death last Friday of their Persian Gulf War pen pal, have written open letters to his killer. Thursday they attended Oklahoma City military services for Petty Officer 3rd Class Harold Mansfield, 22, who was stationed aboard the USS Saratoga. He was killed after an argument over a near-accident in Neptune Beach, Fla.

SUSPENSIONS AROUSE COMPASSION:

Montana is trying to suspend six nurses who illegally hoarded morphine to help ease dying cancer patients' pain. But ordinary Montanans are outraged about punishing what is regarded as compassion. The six nurses of the Hospice of St. Peter's in Helena admitted that between fall 1989 and June 1990 they kept a stash to relieve patients' pain when prescription supplies ran out.

STING members named

By JILL REID
Staff Writer

GSU's Student Interest Group (STING) has chosen members for the 1991-92 school year. STING is the volunteer student recruitment team.

The new members of STING are Mike Bailey, Connor Black, Stacey Capps, Chris Clark, David Cork, Heidi Graef, Nancy Granade, Sean Harrison, Lynn Kirkland, Kelly Lewis, Tami

McKendree, and Mark Parker.

Also, Justin Pettigrew, Amy Pollack, Cathy Powell Peemoy Walters, Wes Wheeler, Ingrid Williams, and Tom Williams, and Alycea Young.

Prospective members of the STING program fill out an application form and then interview in person. Of the 50 applicants this year, only 20 were chosen.

Debbie Shiver, the faculty coordinator for STING, tries to pick a cross-section of students for membership. They are usually representative of all sections of Georgia as well as the other states. They are also usually students who are active elsewhere on campus.

"STING is important because students in high school listen to members of STING more readily than they would an admissions counselor or a recruiter.

"They think that the recruiters and counselors are here to sell them the school and the students will tell them the truth, which is true," said Shiver, who is also an admissions counselor and recruiter. She was a member of STING when she attended GSU.

The members of STING show prospective students around GSU. They also participate in a number of other recruiting activities on campus, such as the Adopt-a-Student program.

Members of STING represent GSU when VIP's and other dignitaries visit the campus. This year, they were able to meet Gov. Miller and Alan Paulson in the President's box during the football games. Also, when Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor was on campus for the University Day celebration, members of STING met and talked with her.

Ivy league 'cartel' busted

By MICHELLE HEALY

©Copyright 1991, USA TODAY/Apple College Information Network

The Justice Department Wednesday settled a suit against the eight Ivy League schools, ending an investigation into alleged price-fixing of financial aid and tuition.

Under terms of a consent decree, the schools — Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and University of Pennsylvania — agreed to no longer share financial aid information or discuss future tuition levels or faculty salaries.

The decree closed the anti-trust probe against the schools.

The Justice Department charged the colleges' "overlap" practice of meeting each year to trade information about applicants seeking scholarships "explicitly fixed the amount of money" the applicants paid to attend school.

"This collegiate cartel denied (students) the right to compare prices and discounts among schools, just as they would in shopping for any service," said Attorney General Dick Thornburgh.

Robert Durkee, Princeton's vice president for public affairs, defended overlap, saying it helped assure aid was awarded only on the basis of need.

"If you use some aid dollars to award above need and you don't increase the school budget, you're taking dollars away from needy students or other programs. That money has to come from some place."

G-A Staff Reports

GSU's Foreign Language Resource Center offers self help programs in many languages for students and business people.

Funded through the Chancellors Special Funding Initiative as part of the Foreign Language and Culture Center, the Foreign Language Resource Center is designed specifically to meet the needs of South Georgia's ever-diversifying business community, and offers self-help books, videos and cassettes in French, German, Spanish, Arabic, Chinese, Italian, Japanese, Dutch and Russian.

"As a state and as a nation, we operate in an era of international competitiveness," said Chancellor Dean Propst. "Economic Borders -- whether they be county, state or national -- no longer exist."

Therefore, the Foreign Language and Culture Center and the Foreign Language Resource Center was developed to offer direct assistance to business and industry in the creation of a broader understanding of today's international climate.

"Businesses are starting to realize that unless their people, particularly their top executives, have at least a minimal knowledge of another language, the company risks losing a lot of foreign business," said Dr. Nancy Shumaker, director of the Foreign Language and Culture Center.

The university offers numerous foreign language courses, but unfortunately, most businesspeople simply can't take time off during the day to take classes -- which makes the availability of self-help materials all that much more important.

"Our materials are available for use by anyone in our 37-county service region," said Resource Center coordinator Becky Welch. "And we are not limited to self-help language tapes. We have quite an expansive array of books, movies, compact disks, computer programs, you name it."

Materials are available for all levels of language proficiency -- even for people who have never been exposed to another language -- which is what makes the Foreign Language Resource Center popular with area school teachers.

"Teachers make quite a bit of use of our materials, but they are available for use by anyone, just by calling or coming by the Henderson Library on the campus of Georgia Southern," said Welch.

CRI men & women take state titles

By GARRETT HEABERLIN
Intramural Publicity Coordinator

Three fabulous, fun-filled days of hard-core softball ensued for not one, but two men's and women's softball teams and one co-rec team in the 11th Annual Georgia Collegiate Softball Championship at the Softball Country Club in Atlanta May 17-19.

In the tournament sponsored by Emory University, Neal's won the entire tournament out of 31 men's teams and Shayne Abney received the most valuable player award.

Stubbs Oil, our number-two women's team, ended up taking the whole tournament out of 11 teams.

Our co-rec team took fifth place out of nine teams. The winner of the co-rec tournament was Gainesville College.

Clifton's Forestry and Sports

Buff also attended the tournament.

With the tournament being double elimination, this outstanding phenomenon left Georgia Southern with both men's and women's teams taking state titles.

Playing exceptionally well, Steve Doster led five of the nine games off with home runs. He hit seven home runs total, as did Shane Brinson.

Roger Casen hit two three-run homers against the University of Georgia and ended up hitting four home runs.

Monty Strickland hit a grand slam with the score tied and two outs in the top of the seventh inning in the championship game against Georgia College. Then Mike Wilson hit a three-run homer to take the game 12-11.

"You have to play consistent and play every game well to win," Randell Boone said. "Our win in Atlanta reflects the competitiveness of our guys. They hate to lose but they play well together. We'd like to thank Tommy Neal for sponsoring the team for three years."

In women's softball news, Stubbs Oil finished with a 5-1 record in the tournament.

Losing 1-0 to West Georgia College in the bottom of the seventh with two outs and runners on second and third, Sandi Cheny came up with a base hit to win the game for Stubbs Oil.

Later the women would hit the ball well in a one-pitch game against North Georgia College. Stubbs Oil played North Georgia again to win the entire tournament.

The all-tournament team included Melanie Middleton (first base), Becky Deal (left field), Sherry Wilson (second base) and tourna-

Baseball's 'down' year not without high points

By PAUL FLOECKHER
Sports Editor

For most of the year, the headlines reflected a down year for the 1991 baseball Eagles.

Headlines like "Hurricanes blow Eagles away" and "USC-Aiken latest to light up scoreboard on Eagles."

But don't let the headlines fool you. Although the Eagles fell short of last year's 50-19 dream season, they also fought back from a 3-10 start to finish 32-27.

Despite the 13-game tail-off from a year ago, the 1991 season was not without notable accomplishments.

Chad Sumner's power surge

Everybody knew Chad Sumner could hit.

After all, Sumner batted .319 with 13 doubles and 48 runs batted in as a junior. His 89 hits placed him third in the conference.

Only one element was missing from Sumner's game a year ago — power. However, the infielder from Ocilla, Ga., made the package complete in 1991.

After hitting only four over the fence last season, Sumner drilled 14 home runs as a senior to solidify himself as the team's clean-up hitter.

Sumner's blasts included a grand slam that helped erase a 5-0 New York Tech lead in an eventual 9-6 GSU victory, and a two-run dinger in GSU's first win at Georgia Tech since 1986.

Tim Roth's strong first year

At the beginning of the season, GSU's freshman-laden pitching staff was referred to as the "kiddie corps." They could've just as easily been called "Joey Hamilton and the other guys."

The 1991 season was a struggle for much of the staff, as Eagle pitchers allowed almost six runs a game. However, freshman Tim Roth emerged from the "other guys" to finish with a team-low 3.45 earned-run average.

The 6-3, 170-pound right-hander from Lynbrook, N.Y., won four games (4-3), saved three, pitched two complete games and struck out 39 batters.

Roth earned a win and a save in the same day against Mercer. After pitching hitless relief to save GSU's 4-2 win in the opener, Roth allowed only one earned run and no walks to win the nightcap.

Roth also defeated New York Tech, Mercer (in an earlier series) and Charleston Southern. He saved wins over West Virginia and CSU. GSU triples its pleasure

As wacky as the 1991 season was, we should have figured something like this would happen.

Turning a triple play is a rarity at any level of competition, but the Eagles beat the odds by turning two triple plays — in two weeks.

Against Armstrong State April 1, right fielder Todd Greene caught a routine fly ball and threw to third baseman Kevin Hallman, who tagged a runner trying to advance. Hallman then threw to second, where Sumner applied the tag to another runner attempting to advance.

Hallman also had a part in the second one. Against Charleston Southern April 15, Hallman caught a line drive, stepped on third to force a runner and threw to first baseman Mike Yuro to pick off a napping Buccaneer runner.

The 5-3 triple-killing against CSU was the first triple play at Clements Stadium since 1971.

Eagles come back from the dead

"Back from the dead" was the battle cry of the 1990 football Eagles, but it could've fit just as easily with the 1991 baseball team — especially on April 13.

As the Eagles prepared for their three-game Trans America Athletic Conference series with the first-place Stetson Hatters, they knew their chances at making the conference tournament were slim. Southern would have to take at least two games from the Hatters on the road to stay alive in the TAAC race.

The Eagles took the Friday night game 6-5, but fell behind 8-0 in the opening game of the Saturday double-header.

However, the Eagles used a five-run fourth inning to claw within three. Johnny Brown's two-run double and Hatter third baseman Casey McComb's run-scoring error

Atlanta soccer stars sign

G-A Staff Reports

Two stand-out soccer players from Atlanta have signed national letters-of-intent to play at Georgia Southern, according to GSU Head Coach Tom Norton.

Jeff Alexander, a 6-1, 170-pound defender from St. Pius X High School, and Tommy Carroll, a 5-8, 145-pound midfielder from Henderson High School, are the two latest additions to the 1991 Eagles.

Alexander led St. Pius to a number-one final state ranking as team captain. He was chosen to the 1991 all-state squad by Scouting Combine, Inc.

He earned Atlanta All-Metro honors during his junior season. As a club team member, Alexander helped the Concorde Silver Club to the 1990 state title.

Alexander has enjoyed extensive international experience, playing overseas in England and Germany.

Carroll recorded eight goals and 15 assists in 1991. He led Henderson to a 13-3-1 record and a Georgia state championship as a senior, earning All-DeKalb County honors.

Carroll also was a member of the Georgia Olympic Development Team for the last four seasons and played on the Datagraphic club team.

Georgia Southern turned in one of the top seasons in school history last fall, finishing 15-5 and earning the program's first Trans America

Athletic Conference Eastern Division championship.

However, the Eagles will return just three starters when camp opens August 24. Defenders Ted Davidson and Scott Sutton and goalkeeper Kevin Chambers will help in GSU's title defense when the season opens September 7 against Furman at Eagle Field.

Black Expo exposes students to new cultures

By TERESA ROACH
Assistant Features Editor

The second annual Black Expo was held last Thursday in the Union Commons from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. The event, co-sponsored by the CAB Multi-Cultural committee and the GSU chapter of the NAACP, was designed to bring a new cultural perspective to GSU.

"The Expo was not geared only towards African-American students; it was for everyone. It's purpose was to bring about cultural awareness to GSU," said Kevin McWhorter, former president of the NAACP.

The Expo showcased the talents of African-American artists and vendors from Statesboro and surrounding areas. Vendors came from as far away as Atlanta and Savannah. Various African-American items were for sale, such as Rastafarian clothing and jewelry, incense, and prints depicting scenes centered around African-American life.

Also participating in the Black Expo were several black student organizations and campus programs. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Black Student Alliance, and Black Women United/Black Men United all offered information on how to become involved with the organizations.

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and Delta Sigma Theta sorority participated, as did Upward Bound and the Minority Advise-ment Program.

A Black Expo was held in the spring of last year also, and according to McWhorter, "The event has grown immensely since our attempt last year. This year's Expo was definitely a success, and we hope to make it an annual event on the GSU cam-pus."

Twin Peaks has ups and downs

By MIKE HUGHES

©Copyright 1991, USA TODAY/Apple College Information Network

It was a swirling ride through the nearby neighborhoods of fame and failure.

In 15 months, "Twin Peaks" was praised and copied and canceled. That left people clutching carnival and circus metaphors.

"We just kind of went along for a roller coaster ride, along with everybody else," producer Mark Frost said during the "Peaks" peak. "And had a lot of fun with it."

It was shaky fun, he granted. "You start to feel kind of like the guy on top of the human pyramid of the Flying Wallenda family."

Either metaphor will do. Roller coasters hit bottom; the Wallendas crashed. Now "Peaks" is leaving, after a brief and dazzling life.

The last two hours will be bunched into a new movie, at 9 p.m. EDT Monday (June 10) on ABC. "Peaks" will wrap things up and fade away.

Still, "Twin Peaks" never quite wraps up anything. It also never really fades.

There has been talk of a revival, fueled by European interest. There has also been respect for the show's legacy.

Brandon Tartikoff put it prophetically last summer, when he was still program chief at NBC.

"I don't know if 'Twin Peaks' is ultimately going to work for ABC," Tartikoff said, "but I will say that was a very important night, when that show went on ..."

"It said, at least for one time, that there was somebody who had presented television in a way that it hadn't been presented ... And that's a terrific achievement."

David Lynch — Frost's partner and the "Peaks" mastermind — was soon famous. Networks were talking to other stylish filmmakers, from Ridley Scott to Jim McBride. Careers had soared.

There were young "Peaks" actors, who caught on instantly. Suddenly, the world was fascinated by Sheryl Lee, Dana Ashbrook and Lara Flynn Boyle.

Between seasons, Lynch went a step further. While filming Obsession perfume commercials, he turned two of the actors into "Peaks" regulars.

Lynch suddenly picked Heather Graham as the new love interest for FBI Agent Dale Cooper. "He just saw something in the commercial," Graham marvels, "some kind of enigma."

He picked Ian Buchanan to play a British fop, complete with ascot and attitude. "I think he's completely hilarious," said Buchanan, who finished one episode with a weasel stuck to his nose. "It gets funnier and funnier."

On the opposite end of the age spectrum, Lynch has recycled several actors. In movies, he salvaged Dennis Hopper and Diane Ladd; in "Twin Peaks," there's Piper Laurie and, especially, Russ Tamblyn.

At his peak, Tamblyn was a child star turned teen hunk. He did "West Side Story," receive an Academy Award nomination for "Peyton Place," turned down "Gilligan's Island," and played "Tom Thumb."

At his nadir was a horrifying rejection. "They said they wanted a guy in his mid-40s, a Russ Tamblyn type. I went to the audition — and I didn't get it."

Tamblyn had dropped out in the '60s, then couldn't drop back in.

During one dark stretch, he went 15 years or more without working. He roomed with Hopper and Dean Stockwell, three men with glorious pasts and no future.

Then Hopper talked his way into Lynch's "Blue Velvet." Stockwell followed.

"Soon, Dennis' career was taking off," Tamblyn says. "I figured two out of three wasn't bad

... I had resigned myself to being Russ-Tamblyn-from-'West Side Story.'"

Still, Lynch hadn't simply rejected him.

"He said, 'Next project,'" Tamblyn recalls. "He told me that there would be something for me in his next project."

Remarkably, he was telling the truth. "Twin Peaks" cast Tamblyn as Lawrence Jacoby, the only psychiatrist in a town that could use platoons of them.

He savored the role, even designing his own sunglasses with two lenses, one red and one blue.

Such salvage jobs work, for a filmmaker who seems to violate all Hollywood rules.

Lynch is a conservative Republican, Ladd says, quiet and elegant. He's tireless, Frost says. "David seems to have about 150 percent more time than most people."

He also works best by surprise. At the show's peak, writer-director Jennifer Lynch seemed to hope her dad would stay on the outside.

"I hope he never loses that sense of riding against the current," she said. "Some of his best work comes for the feeling of going against the grain."

Trends across the USA

©Copyright 1991, USA TODAY/Apple College Information Network

COUNTRY COMES TO TOWN

Music buyers are toting home more country albums than anybody figured. Billboard's pop chart — ranking the best sellers of all types of music — has country written all over it. This week a new, more accurate sales-counting system was used and 35 country albums appear on the Top 200, up from 20 last week.

FEWER TROUBLED BANKS

The number of "troubled" banks fell in 1990, according to a USA TODAY computer analysis of bank financial figures. Reason: Many of the worst banks merged with stronger banks or were closed by the federal government. In 1989, 4.1% of all banks were troubled; in 1990, 3.7%, according to the FDIC, Ferguson & Co. and USA TODAY analysis.

CONTAINER LAWS MAKE A DENT

States with beverage container deposit laws have made a decided dent on beach trash. Nationwide, bottles, bottle tops, cans, six-pack rings, pull tabs and metal bottle caps account for 14.3% of all beach trash. But states with deposit laws had less. In 1990, in California, 10.1% of beach trash was container-related. In Connecticut: 8.4%.

THE STRAIGHT AND NARROW

Wide belts are history. Designers are saying the smart money is on anything but the several-inch, multiple-hook waist cinchers that were big in the Eighties. Big tops over leggings, seen everywhere, are meant to be worn without a belt at all.

DRESS UP THE TABLE

The well-dressed table this summer will be wearing a plain white cloth as a background to napkins with eye-catching patterns, decorators say. Among the hottest cloths: linen-weave or cotton napkins with batik patterns.

FRUIT TOPS IT OFF

The can-you-top-this desserts of the Eighties are being ditched in favor of simpler meal-finishers. Key: fresh fruit, either served plain and chilled, like a bowl of grapes and plums on ice, or lightly topped, such as fresh strawberries with a splash of aged balsamic vinegar.

FLOWERS DRESS UP

Floral prints can be surprisingly dressy, according to designer offerings, and they're everywhere this season. Pair an off-the-shoulder flower-scattered blouse with slim, high-waisted trousers or top the ubiquitous leggings with a splash of bright, bold flora.

CANOPIES KEEP IT COOL

Hot new bedroom look: keep it cool by draping mosquito netting from the ceiling to form an airy canopy around the bed. The look can be expanded with variations like light cotton batik for window coverings and sheer cotton draped over a bamboo pole for soft curtains.

WHITE IS RIGHT

Plain, unadorned white — no patches, no edging — is being seen in town and country this summer, in every combination from sleeveless turtlenecks and shorts to professional-looking slim skirts with long jackets. Accessorize with silver or delicate daisy jewelry.

NO BOOST FROM RADIO

Garth Brooks' "No Fences" album shot to No. 4 from No. 16, leaping over such pop stars as Whitney Houston, the Black Crowes, R.E.M. and Vanilla Ice. Dolly Parton's "Eagle When She Flies," which last week was No. 53 and dropping, soared to No. 24 on Billboard's new chart. Pop radio, which many assumed to be the driving force behind record sales, plays no country.

COUNTRY 'WILL HAVE MORE CLOUT'

"I think it will be a shock for most people to realize how many records country music is selling," says Nashville publicist Evelyn Shriver, whose clients include Randy Travis, Ricky Van Shelton, K.T. Oslin and Travis Tritt. The new figures mean country "will have more clout in every area," she says, and can be used to leverage more appearances and endorsement deals for country stars.

COMPUTER HAS A HAND

Billboard's new pop and country album chart rankings now are compiled through a computerized system that scans bar codes at 40% of the USA's record retailers. Previously, retailers were polled by phone, a vague, easily manipulated process in which rock-oriented store employees were thought to under-report country sales.

*We gratefully acknowledge the theft of our slogan from Robert Williams of the Blackshear Times. Call Bob and he can tell you who he stole it from originally.

Classified Ads

00 • Classified Policy

• FREE CLASSIFIEDS – The George-Anne provides free classified listings to students faculty and staff members of Georgia Southern University as a campus-community service. Free classified ads should be written in 25 words or less. The advertiser's name, Landrum ...Box, and the classified category (listed below), must be included with your ad copy. All communication regarding free classified ads must be in writing (absolutely NO free classified ads will be accepted by phone, at this price we don't take dictation). Free classified ads will be inserted into the newspaper in four consecutive issues, unless we are instructed otherwise. Ads must be resubmitted in writing for additional insertions. Free classified listings should be mailed to The George-Anne, Landrum Box 8001, GSU, Statesboro, GA 30460 or call 912/681-5418.

• COMMERCIAL LISTINGS – are available at $5.50 per 50 words for two insertions in consecutive editions. Classified display advertising is available at $5.50 per column inch per edition, with a one inch minimum size required. Payment should accompany ad, unless advertiser has established credit. Tear sheets will be mailed upon written request. Contact the Advertising Department: ADS, L.B. 8001, GSU, Statesboro, GA 30460 or call 912/681-5418.

• GENERAL CLASSIFIED POLICY – The advertiser is responsible for preproofing ads upon publication. Any errors will be corrected upon written notice. Ads should be in good taste, and are subject to standard editing procedures. The editors reserve the right to refuse any classified ad.

keyed the outburst.

GSU scored five times in the final inning to cap the improbable comeback. After Greene hit a three-run home run to tie the score, Mike Miller drilled a two-run shot to stun the Hatters, 10-8.

The Eagles' slugfest with the Hatters was just the beginning of their return from "the dead." Including the two wins over Stetson, Southern won 15 of 16 games to turn a 17-22 record into a 32-23 mark.

Other high points

Greene led the team with 69 runs batted in and belted 25 homers, moving him into second place on the all-time GSU home run list with 51 (behind only Ben Abner's 59).

Miller hit a team-high .329 and equalled his home run total from a year ago with 15.

Jim Carragher rebounded from a terrible start (1-2, 10.31 ERA) by winning four of his last five decisions. The sophomore lefty pitched two complete games and one shut-out.

Hamilton was himself. Hamilton, GSU's all-time leader in wins and strikeouts, fanned 125 batters and went the distance six times on his way to a 12-6 year.

WASTE MAY MEAN CLOSED BEACHES:

Medical wastes and unhealthy bacteria counts caused by improperly treated sewage may close beaches again this year. "This summer has the potential to be as bad as any other," says Dr. Dennis Sternberg of Save Our Shores in Jersey. Sinks, charcoal grills and thousands clothing were among 4 million items found during the Center for Marine Conservation's annual beach cleanup.

JAPAN SANCTIONS NEARING:

Japan has one week before the USA imposes sanctions on it in retaliation for restricting U.S. construction companies from projects in Japan. Japan will be barred from federally funded U.S. construction projects if negotiations aren't successful by then. Japanese companies have a $2.5 billion stake in U.S. construction market while the USA has just $440 million in contracts in Japan.

RACIAL SLUR PROMPTS BANNING

A racially profane slur hidden in a Columbus, Miss., high school student's published poem has prompted the youth's ouster from the school and forced a reprinting of the school's 1991 student literary magazine. The incident has caused racial tension at the 896-student school and in the Lowndes County community. The NAACP called for stricter punishment for the student. S.D. Lee High School principal Howell Mims said every known copy of the "Sabre" was confiscated from students last Thursday after the four-word phrase was discovered.

FLORIDA EXPORTS NEARLY DOUBLE

Florida's exports to Mexico grew by 94 percent from 1987 to 1989, according to a U.S. Department of Commerce study. In 1987, Florida exported $219 million in goods to Mexico. In 1989, it shipped $424.2 million worth of goods, the study said. Mexico bought 2.1 percent of Florida's exports in 1987 and 2.9

percent of its exports by 1989, when it ranked 10th among Florida's 185 export markets. Overall, the state's exports were valued at $14.42 billion in 1989. Topping the list of 1989 Florida exports to Mexico were chemicals ($112 million); computers and industrial machinery ($66.9 million); electric and electronic equipment ($40.3 million); scrap and waste ($27 million) and paper products ($25.9 million).

AIDS THREAT INFO WITHHELD

Should the state inform patients if their doctor or dentist has AIDS? The death of 126 health-care workers - including doctors and dentists - from AIDS in the past decade is a strong argument for that power, says state Rep. Penny Pullen. The Park Ridge Republican annually introduces legislation that would expand AIDS testing, much of it mandatory. This year, she introduced legislation that would allow the Illinois Department of Public Health to notify patients of doctors and dentists who are carrying the AIDS virus. "It's an effort to protect the public from the transmission of this virus," said Pullen. There are 68 Illinois health-care workers who are carrying the AIDS virus, according to the Department of Public Health. "Their patients don't know who they are," Pullen said. Though the legislation isn't expected to pass, even by supporters, it has forced some uncomfortable questions on the medical community. "It's posed a new set of challenges," said Dr. Larry Von Behren, director of the Midwest AIDS Training and Education Center in Springfield. "Part of the problem is letting emotions override careful analysis of the facts," he said.
