Phi Alpha Theta Wins Award

The Armstrong State College chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, an international honor society in history, has tied with a University of Alabama at Huntsville chapter for an award of $250 as best chapter among schools with 2,000 to 4,500 students. The money will be used to buy books for the history department.

Armstrong's Sigma Theta Chapter, was host to a regional meeting of Phi Alpha Theta members in April, with more than 90 people from 12 southeastern colleges and universities participating.

Several students from Armstrong's chapter have won special recognition this year. Barbara Ross, chapter secretary, received a $3,100 scholarship for work toward a master's degree at the University of Kentucky.

New initiate Cynthia Freeman received one of 28 awards by the Victorian Society in America for a summer study program at Bedford College, University of London. Sharon Rountree was chosen as outstanding student in American History by the Daughters of the American Colonies.

Several faculty members of the chapter also have been professionally active. Mrs. Mary Robertson presented a paper on "Lucy Gilmer Breckinridge: Nascent Feminist of the Old South" at Furman University. Dr. Olavi Arens presented a paper at the sixth conference on Baltic Studies in Toronto, and Dr. Roger Warlick published two articles on historical subjects.

Health Professions Program Proposed

A proposal to create a new, $3 million health professions education program at Armstrong State College has been sent to the Georgia Board of Regents.

The proposal includes a $1.2 million, 200-bed dormitory for health career students, a $957,000 addition to the new health professions education building now nearing completion, and $741,500 for faculty and operating expenses at the center.

The center, according to a report prepared by James F. Repella, dean for professional studies, would provide health career education for dozens of different health related professions.

Included would be degree, certificate and continuing education programs for respiratory therapists, medical technologists, health care managers, medical records administrators, emergency medical services technicians, biomedical engineers, radiology technologists, health care educators and human development specialists.

ASC already has degree programs in dental hygiene, medical technology and nursing which will be housed in the new $1.5 million building when it opens in December.

Repella's proposal was the result of a six month investigation into the needs of hospitals, nursing homes and other health care agencies for trained personnel on a state, regional and national basis.

Between April and September, Repella met with more than 150 people representing 22 different local, regional and national health related organizations to survey the need for health care professionals. Included were representatives of the Southeast Georgia Health Systems Agency, administrators of area hospitals, and both public and private health care agency officials.

The Board of Regents already has designated Armstrong as one of three health professions education centers in the state. College officials plan to seek federal and other grants as well as ask state sources to fund the programs.

David Frye to Appear

On Wednesday, November 15 at 8:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium, the Armstrong State College Union Board will sponsor the most amazing, stupendous, spectacular parade of personalities to ever step foot in a single area -- much less on a single stage in a single auditorium on one single night. Appearing will be "The Greatest," Mohammad Ali, and the sports commentator dearly loved by all (including his good friend, Mohammad Ali), Howard Cosell. Also appearing will be the CBS news anchorman, Walter Cronkite (is that really the way it is, Walter?) Billy Carter, Gerald Ford, Henry Kissinger, Richard Nixon (remember Him?), Nelson Rockefeller (the former Vice President and current owner of Puerto Rico, to quote a close friend of Rocky's), and George Wallace.

Joining this beginning to be drowded and well worn stage, are fellow actors, political figures and activists who have, unfortunately, been unable to appear in public for quite some time now, but who will make a special once in a lifetime (or should I say post lifetime) appearance on our very stage: Clark Gable, Hubert Humphrey, Lyndon B. Johnson, and Martin Luther King. Making brief appearances on stage will be Robert (Baretta) Blake, Marlon Brando, Dr. Joyce Brothers, William F. Buckley, Jr., Lillian Carter, Rodney Dangerfield, Sammy Davis, Kirk Douglas, Henry Fonda, Rex Harrison, Mary Hartman, Dustin Hoffman, Karl Malden, Beatrice Arthur as "Maude," Robert Mitchum, Ricardo Montalban and his pet Cordoba, Jack Nicholson (who recently returned from a rather low flying trip over the cuckoo's nest), Gregory Peck, Anthony Quinn, Rex Reed, Telly Savalas, George C. Scott, Tom Snyder, and Rod Steiger.

Thousands of people should fill the audience on November 15 at 8:00 p.m. -- if not to outnumber the celebrities on See FRYE page 3

Regents Decision Made

by Katie Daly

The Board of Regents has finally reached a decision concerning the prospective fates of Armstrong State College and Savannah State College.

The proposal, as it now stands, states that starting Fall Quarter 1979 Armstrong will lose its whole Business department to Savannah State but will gain the entire Teacher's Education program for both schools. The admission standards at Savannah State will be raised from 650 to 750 to meet ASC's while both schools will raise their verbal scores from 300 to 350. There are also plans to create a joint Continuing Education center.

Savannah State will receive $5,000,000 for new programs and buildings. Armstrong, however, will receive nothing except a guarantee that the combined budget for Teacher's Education from both schools will not be lowered for two years.

When interviewed, Dr. Henry L. Ashmore, President of Armstrong State College, expressed his disappointment over the loss of ASC's Business department and the students and faculty that belong to that department.

The loss of the Business department will also effect enrollment drastically. ASC will lose up to 800-900 students while only gaining approximately 200 students in Teacher's Education.

Dr. Ashmore also stated that in an effort to overcome the serious drop in enrollment he hopes to add new programs in such areas as Teacher's Ed., Health and Criminal Justice for both undergraduate and graduate students.

In reply to a question concerning the fate of next year's seniors Dr. Ashmore said that he had no answer. But, he added that he hoped and recommended that the seniors in question would be allowed to receive their degree from the school they attended their first three years in college.

Also, according to Ashmore, as soon as the proposal is official the two institutions will meet together to work on the transfer.

S.G.A. Election Cancelled

Students at Armstrong will not have the opportunity to elect their own representatives to fill the vacant Senate seats this year. The reason for this deviation from democratic procedure is that none of the seats were contested in the election.

Every candidate who filed for office during the week of October 2-6th is unopposed.

Therefore, these candidates will become Senators in the Student Government Association by acclamation. (By the way, the announcement about the upcoming election and filing dates for candidates was announced in the last Inkwell and printed on posters throughout the school.)

The new Freshman Senators are Dotty Cook, Steve Fulton,

Tina Gardner, and David Gaskin. Katie Parks is the new Sophomore Senator. The Open Departmental Seats were filled by Glen Gibbons, Criminal Justice; Grady Prosser, Education; and Judith Blazer, Languages and Literature. Willie Tuten is the new Senator At Large. There are still some Departmental Seats open. For more info contact Leesa Bohler, SGA Vice President.

The new Senators will be sworn in at the Senate Meeting on Thursday, October 19th. The Senate meets every Thursday at 7:30 a.m. in the Conference Room, Second Floor, MCC.

Turn in Your Empties

by Danny Brown

For the past couple of years any recognized organization on campus has been asked to collect Miller beer cans and bottles for possible money prizes. In the past mainly the Greek organizations and the Buccaneers have entered this contest and competed with their counter parts at Savannah State College. It has been brought to my attention that Armstrong organizations aren't doing much of a job compared to Savannah State students. Last year most of the prize money and Miller support went to Savannah State because of their large turn in of cans and bottles. This year I would like to see Armstrong collect all the money and regain Miller's support.

Miller holds their turn-in contest two or three times a year. When you turn in your cans or bottles be sure to tell them which organization you want the credit to go to. At the end of the contest the winning organization can win up to $500 in each contest. The cans and bottles must belong to the Miller company and must be put in Miller boxes. This is an easy way to make money and keep the streets clean.

This year Miller wants to become Armstrongs beer and wants our organizations to contact them through our new campus representative Lynn Geriner. Lynn can be contacted through the Office of Student Activities. This year Miller will be sponsoring the tickets for the Miss A.S.C. pageant which will be held on November 11th at 8:00 P.M. Miller was considering sponsoring the whole pageant, but was unable to because their money was budgeted to Savannah State College due to their large can and bottle turn in last year. We have a chance to become the top school and to gain all of Miller's support for the next school year if we just pick up those cans and bottles and turn them in as soon as possible. The location for the turn in is Kem Distributing on Liberty Street. Your support will help us all.

TOTALITARIAN DOUBLE FEATURE

Francios Truffaut has called the movie "Night and Fog" the most important picture he has seen in his life, artistically, politically and in every other way. You will have the opportunity to see this classic film Wednesday (that's tonight folks) at 9:30 in room 206 of the library. Directly before at 7:00 will be the answer to the question "How on earth did the German people ever get snookered into following a mad man like Adolf Hitler?" A young woman named Leni Riefenstahl was hired by Goebel's department of propaganda to film the 1934 Party Congress in Nuremburg bringing about "Triumph of the Will," the greatest propaganda film of all time. Critics are amazed at the spell it casts even today. Tonight will be the last night these films will be shown. Admission is free. Don't miss 'em.

Frye

stage, how about to watch the stage collapse under the thousands of pounds of weight all the celebrities and the myriad personalities of the real star of the show, David Frye?

That's right, David Frye. He "has the gift of laughter." He is a mimic, parodist, satirist, actor, cartoonist, and a participating spectator in the human comedy." David Frye was born in Brooklyn, New York. He show business career began during a short lived job at the Anchor Office Cleaning Company. When startled customers were greeted on the telephone by Humphrey Bogart, they would hang up and redial, only to be greeted by Sidney Greenstreet. When David began searching for another job, he also began haunting Greenwich Village coffeehouses, soon developing a huge audience.

Expanding his routine, David soon created a "galery of incisive and biting protraits, wicked caricatures and satiric lampoons all aimed at the soft underbellies of those people who, for one reason or another, find themselves thrust into public life. From one end of the political spectrum to the other, in David Dry's world, no politician is sacred." David Frye is 1000 personalities all rolled into one (fortunately for the survival of our stage and stages all over the country -- including stages on The Tonight Show, the Mike Douglas Show, and numerous variety shows), and all of them begging to come out.

The Lecture Committee of the College Union Board is on its knees, begging you to come out for one of the most memorable experiences of your lifetime (and possible your post-lifetime), on November 15 at 8:00 p.m. at the Armstrong State College Fine Arts Auditorium. The devastatingly reasonable admission prices will appear in a future issue of the Inkwell.

YOUR ADVICE AND OUR NAVAL COLLEGE PROGRAM COULD HELP A STUDENT THROUGH COLLEGE

Not all of today's qualified students can afford college.

You can give helpful advice to many of them, by suggesting the Naval ROTC College Program.

Naval ROTC College Program is available at Savannah State College for Savannah State and Armstrong State College Students. It not only provides uniforms but books and $100 a month living expenses the last two years of college and also gives students an exciting and responsible career after graduation. A career as a Navy or Marine Corps Officer.

To qualify for the College Program, students have to be strong academically, particularly in science and math. Extra-curricular activities help too.

You can play an important role by letting young people know about Naval ROTC College Program. Tell them that they can get complete information from the NROTC Unit, Savannah State College.

Foul Mouths Wanted

Wanted: Adults who haven't had their teeth cleaned in a long time or maybe even never.

Students in Armstrong State College's dental hygiene program need people who haven't had their teeth cleaned for several years, says Dr. Jim Bell, head of the department.

"We need people whose teeth will be a good learning experience for our students," Bell said.

The dental hygiene students clean teeth, give fluoride treatments and take x-rays for some 3,000 patients each year.

"But we're getting too many children and too many adults who routinely get their teeth cleaned. We're having trouble finding people whose teeth will give our students practice using special instruments," Bell said. Students must work on several different kinds of problems to meet graduation requirements.

Cost of the cleaning is $2 for adults and $1 for children, he said. X-rays are an extra $2.

Having your teeth cleaned by students takes longer than a trip to a regular dentist, Bell adds, since instructors check the student's work at several steps in the process.

The Armstrong Dental Hygiene Clinic is open Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

To make an appointment, call 356-5309. The clinic, Bell adds, does no dental work.

Win valuable prizes for your organization. All you do is collect empty Miller bottles (1 pt. per pound) and cans (30 pts. per pound) and receive a coupon for the points earned. The top point earning organizations will win their choice of many valuable prizes.

Workshop on Adolescence Scheduled November 3

Two workshops on teenagers and their problems are being offered at Armstrong State College this month and next.

"Workshop on Adolescence," scheduled Friday, Oct. 13, will examine normal adolescent development and therapy techniques for teenagers and also will focus on the problems of teenage pregnancy and suicide.

Max Sugar, professor of clinical psychiatry at Louisiana State University Medical Center, is conducting the seminar. He is also a physician at Charity Hospital in New Orleans, where he teaches and does research, along with running a private practice in child and adult psychiatry.

The second seminar on adolescence and family planning is scheduled Friday, Nov. 3.

Focusing on teenage sexuality, the workshop will examine the problems teenagers face as they try to resolve the conflicts in a society that tells them to stay chaste while bombarding them with media messages that urge them to become sexually active.

Leading the workshop is Marion Howard, director of the Teen Services Center at Grady Memorial Hospital in Atlanta and assistant professor in the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Emory University.

Marie E. Mitchell, Program leader at the hospital's teen services center, who works with pregnant teens and counsels others on family planning, also will participate in the workshop.

The program will include communicating with adolescents, how-to sessions on family planning for teenagers, services for pregnant teens and teenage families, and discussion of materials available for adults working with adolescents.

Cost of the October workshop is $16, and the November seminar is $14.

The workshops are sponsored by Armstrong's Division of Community Services through the Mental Health Advisory Council.

To register, contact Vicki Norwich, conference coordinator, at Armstrong State College, 111935 Abercorn Extension, Savannah, Ga. 31406.

SID SIMON CONDUCTS WORKSHOP

Sid Simon, national leader in humanistic education, will lead a workshop on values clarification at Armstrong State College, Oct. 26.

Simon, who started the values clarification movement in psychology and teaching, takes a personal approach in teaching people to clarify what they stand for in life.

In a rare appearance in the southeast, Simon will conduct the workshop from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. for teachers, counselors, administrators, mental and medical health professionals, religious educators, students, parents, couples and other interested in personal growth.

Simon's premise is that most people don't confront the question of what is to be done with their lives and that they don't develop a system of values that allows them to make decisions with confidence. His workshop aims at helping individuals discover and develop their own values and a sense of personal worth and self esteem.

He also will focus on teaching people strategies they can use in their lives with students, children or clients.

Simon is a professor of humanistic education in the Center for Humanistic Studies at the University of Massachusetts.

He is the author of more than 100 books and articles, including Values and Teaching; Values Clarification; Meeting Yourself Halfway; Caring, Feeling, Touching; I Am Lovable and Capable; and Helping Your Child Learn Right From Wrong.

Cost of the seminar is $21. For information, contact J. Phillip Cook, (912) 356-5323.

DR. WILLIAM MEGATHLIN RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Dr. William Megathlin, head of the criminal justice department at Armstrong State College, has been named to a state law enforcement advisory committee that will develop new certification levels for peace officers.

Megathlin's appointment was announced by Sheriff Franklin Thornton, chairman of the Georgia Peace Officer Standards and Training Council (POST).

The POST Council is developing levels of peace officer certification to include intermediate, advanced officer, management - supervisory and executive levels.

The new levels of certification will be based on education, training and experience.

TAX CLINIC SCHEDULED

Two tax clinics for small businessmen are scheduled at Armstrong State College Oct. 16 and 23.

The clinics, sponsored jointly by Armstrong and the University of Georgia's Small Business Development Center, are both 2½ hour sessions at $10 each.

The seminars will examine the tax consequences of organizing and conducting a business as a sole proprietorship, partnership or corporation, along with providing information on record keeping, preparing tax returns, selecting business forms and preparing for retirement.

The accounting methods most beneficial to small businesses also will be covered.

The tax clinic seminars will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on both dates. For further information, contact J. Phillip Cook at 356-5322. To register, mail a check payable to Armstrong State College to Cook, Office of Community Services, Armstrong State College, 11935 Abercorn, Savannah, 31406.

SECOND ANNUAL NATIONAL COMPETITION FOR STUDENT INFORMATION PROJECTS

The National Student Educational Fund is sponsoring, for the second year, the Better Information Project: Prizes in Education (BIPPIE), a national competition to encourage and recognize original student produced informational materials.

$500 awards will be given to each of the 12 best entries. Winners will then give their award money to the student organization or project of their choice.

Individual students and student organizations are eligible to enter the competition. All materials may be in any media and must be aimed at improving the information available to students concerning campus programs, opportunities and experiences, such as orientation handbooks or guides for women reentering college. Materials must have been produced during the 1977-78 or 1978-79 academic years.

Each of the 12 winners will win a trip to Washington, D.C. at which time the prize money will be awarded at a national Information Celebration.

Application packets available from the National Student Educational Fund, 2000 P Street, NW, Suite 305, Washington, D.C. 20036.

Over 330 students entered the 1977-78 BIPPIE contest. Information from last year's competition is currently being compiled into a Project Research Report, and will be available in late 1978.

The competition is supported by a grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education. To date, the Chronicle of Higher Education, the International Study Travel Center, and the Student Loan Marketing Association have also contributed to the project. The College Entrance Examination Board has donated funds toward the project's evaluation activities.

The competition is sponsored by the National Student Educational Fund, a national non-profit group engaged in research, information services and training activities from a student perspective.

The Big A Club

by Lynda Broussard

I'm sure many of you have wondered what exactly is the Big A Club all about. Probably some of you have never even heard of the Big A. Well, for those of you who wonder, now is the time for you to learn what the Big A is and how you can get involved in supporting your basketball team. For you who never heard of the Big A Club it is time for you to listen, learn and get involved!

The Big A Club is an organization of basketball fans who support the men's basketball team here at Armstrong State College. It's main purpose is the elevation of men's basketball. The Big A began seven years ago. To be a member one must pay $100.00 per season. This entitles the member to two season tickets worth $15.00 a piece, a reserved seat at home games and a hospitality room during home games at half-time. This club is equivalent to any high school booster club. They exist in spirit, enthusiasm and concern for the needs of the players. Some of you might say the students have spirit too, so why does the Big A get reserved seats? The reason for this is, the Big A not only provides scholarships for the players, but they pay for their basic expenses for our of town games, buy new equipment to improve the ability of the players, and, for the students, charter buses for at least three road trips. Also, this year for the first time the Big A is going to sponsor a Tip-Off Tournament November 24 and 25. This tournament will open the Running Pirates season. You might be saying now -- well that's awful nice for the Big A Club to do that -- but how can I get involved? Well that's the easy part! The games are free. All that is required is a student I.D. and pick up tickets in advance at the student activities building. I can't imagine any student not wanting to support their own basketball team; however, it's true! I personally was quite shocked coming from a small high school to see the number of people that come to the Pirate's games. We had more there are approximately 40 hospitals and health care institutions in its service area," Repella said in his report. "The pressure upon institutions to recruit health care professionals is obvious."

The employment market includes 195 hospitals in ASC's extended service area, he said, as well as providing services for some 500 health organizations in neighboring states.

The new health professions education building, about 90 percent completed, includes a 120-seat amphitheatre type lecture hall, 12 classrooms, a mock hospital unit, laboratory, conference rooms and offices.

Sophisticated teaching and health care equipment will include slide-tape players, a closed circuit television system, x-ray viewers, intensive care ventilators and blood gas analyzers.

The classrooms have many built-in features such as movie screens, mock medications dispensing units and a preventive dentistry suite.

Adding an additional 16,000 square feet to the building would make room for 10 extra classrooms, 30 offices, x-ray machinery and equipment for occupational and physical therapy.

The 200 bed dorm is needed, Repella's report said, to provide for students who come to Armstrong from outside Savannah and can't find reasonably priced housing. The dorm would include 100 two occupant one room efficiency apartments.

"Savannah has a wealth of health resources, as well as excellent cooperation between Armstrong, other health agencies, and the medical community," Repella said.

A city like Savannah, with a full range of health care services in a burgeoning economy "is the health professions education dream," he added.

To start a program similar to the one Repella proposes from scratch in a similarly resource-rich area would cost $5 million or more, he said. Starting one in an area with only routine or rural oriented health care would be "signing a blank check," he said.

The Big A people coming to our high school games than Armstrong does coming to their college games. On an average Armstrong has approximately 300 students per game. With 3000 students that's pretty poor support. Our players don't play for their own amusement, they play because they are proud of their college and they want to represent you as a group.

The least the students can do is get excited and give some support. If you think about it, basketball is quite an exciting sport, especially the fast break the Pirate's run skillfully. If you've never been to a game, just come once, and I guarantee you won't be disappointed. For those of you who do support your team bring along a couple of your friends and let them enjoy the game too. This year I hope to see a lot of proud, involved, enthusiastic students. Give your support! And thank you Big A!
