New ASC Traffic Rules

by Katie Daly

As of January 2, 1979, Armstrong State College will put into force new traffic rules. In an interview with Dean Joseph Buck, Dean of Student Affairs, he admitted that although the rules would be more trouble, they would also be more fair. The more important changes in the rules are:

1. All vehicles on the Armstrong State College campus must be registered and must display the proper decal. This includes all cars parked in all parking lots.

2. Special parking decals are available on a limited basis for individuals with physical disabilities. These decals permit the operator to park in faculty, student or visitor spaces.

3. Non-decal vehicles are subject to tow away or a special fine. For a violator of a non-decal vehicle the operator may be assessed the special fine of $8.00. Vehicles parked in parking lots 1 and 2 will not be towed but will be subject to fines.

4. Vehicle Towing Policy: a $14.00 towing charge plus the regular fine of $5.00 will be assessed vehicle operators whose vehicles have been towed away.

5. Students who have unpaid fines or charges at the end of the quarter will not be allowed to pre register or register for the succeeding quarter and the grades for the quarter in which the violation(s) occurred will be withheld. Transcripts will not be released from the Registrar's Office until all accounts have been cleared.

6. All fines must be paid to the Cashier in the Administration Building within 7 days of the violation or an appeal must be made.

Appeals must be made to the Traffic Committee which meets at posted times. If a student is unable to attend the Traffic Committee, he may pick up a traffic appeal form from the Director of Student Activities office or from the Security office. When the form is completed it should be forwarded to the Office of Student Activities.

For further information about the traffic rules contact the Office of Student Affairs.

ASC Theater

ASC Theater is now in rehearsals in Jenkins Hall getting ready for a production of THE GHOST SONATA (1907), a chamber play by the Swedish playwright August Strindberg (1849 - 1912). Performances are scheduled for February 21 through 24. Theater box office in the lobby of Jenkins Hall will open on February 16. ASC Theater would like to remind ASC students, faculty, and staff that tickets are available to them at no cost.

There is much that is now regarded ordinary in the modern theater that originated with Strindberg. All serious modern playwrights recognize and acknowledge his influence in setting the pattern to explore the sealed off depths of the human spirit and to experiment with new dramatic structures. This acclaim of recognition and acknowledgement is world wide, despite varied critical views; this influence is significantly direct, despite varied public reception.

Many of the plays that he wrote after 1900 were unlike his earlier realistic and naturalistic plays. They were visions of human experience that consisted of an intermingling of reality and fantasy. In his note to A Dream Play (1901) he set down the premises for expressionistic drama. He said that he tried "to imitate the inconsequent yet transparently logical shape of a dream." He then goes on to explain this approach: "Everything can happen, everything is possible and probable. Time and place do not exist; on an insignificant basis of reality the imagination spins, weaving new patterns; a mixture of memories, experiences, free fancies, incongruities, and improvisations. The characters split, double, multiply, evaporate, condense, disperse, assemble. But one consciousness rules over them all, that of the dreamer; for him there are no secrets, no illogicalities, no scruples, no laws."

In THE GHOST SONATA Strindberg seems to be the dreamer who is tormented by a terrifying vision of reality - the weird, mystifying world of the spirit is intertwined with the ordinary commonplace world of everyday life. The dream progresses toward a revelation of a life that is full of brutality and anguish - existence is endless pain and death is liberation.

Strindberg is difficult: he is poetic, he is theatrical, he is philosophical - he is deeply despairing. His importance and greatness in the history of modern drama do not have to be explained or justified to a playwright, a poet, or an artist. But they are difficult to explain to any public that is usually not too responsive to great literature or poetry, who seek "entertainment" in the popular sense of the word. Unless a theatergoer wants the experience of sharing in the life and ideas of Strindberg - a man suffering deeply, reflecting on his suffering - he will only wonder why anyone would want to see such an awful play. Admittedly, such an expressionistic play as THE GHOST SONATA is not easy to read, to perform, or to watch.

An avowed disciple of Strindberg, Eugene O'Neill, put in words the indebtedness modern playwrights owe to the mad Swede: "Strindberg was the precursor of all modernity in our present theatre... Strindberg still remains among the most modern of moderns, the greatest interpreter in the theatre of the characteristic spiritual conflicts which constitute the drama - the blood - of our lives today."

"Silverado" Is Coming

The five-piece band known as "Silverado" will appear at Armstrong in the Fine Arts Auditorium on Friday night, February 16, at 8 p.m. and will be performing its own special style of music, which includes tunes written by the members of the band as well as tunes by artists such as the Byrds, Ken Morrison, and Loggins and Messina. "Silverado" has as its two lead artists Buzz Goodwin and Carl Shillo, who are both from Connecticut and who are both RCA recording artists. "Silverado," which released its latest album, "Taking It All In Stride," in 1977, was honored by having the album listed in Billboard magazine as a "recommended album."

Ticket prices for the "Silverado" concert on Friday, February 16, at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium are $2.00 for students with validated Armstrong IDs, $4.00 for nonstudents, and $4.00 at the door (for students and non students). Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Student Activities Office in Memorial College Center.

Nuclear Destruction Primer

Author's Note: This writer, in an effort to do its part to raise the national consciousness, wrote the following as a public service. (Actually, what follows is pretty shoddy but I felt we needed some copy since Leather Rabbit was cancelled.)

Nuclear Destruction Primer

In the annual presidential chore known as the State of the Union Address, which was delivered last week, President Carter quoted various and sundry statistics which rebounded to the credit of his administration. Now obviously, a politician, especially the President, is not going to cite statistics which will be detrimental to his political standing. Everyone is aware of this fact. I thought it interesting, however, (not to mention significant!) that Mr. Carter could quote no figures which related to the ratification of the new SALT treaty. I mean, if every other aspect of human endeavor can seemingly be made to submit to the will of the almighty number, why not the probability (or should I say the lack of it?) of the United States signing a treaty which would prevent the rather abrupt (approximately 15 minutes would elapse between the time Soviet I.C.B.M.s would be launched and the time same would arrive over their targets) ending of our fast paced society?

Granted, the problem of restricting nuclear arms proliferation to hard, statistical limitations seem to be difficult except when quoting warhead yield and casualty figures. For example, a full scale Soviet strike utilizing SS-9 missiles equipped with 20 megaton warheads would cause approximately 160,000,000 casualties in the U.S. or about 78% of the total population. Of course, an American retaliatory strike would inflict about the same number of casualties on the USSR, give or take one hundred thousand or so. Gee, it sure is reassuring to know that less than twenty minutes after I'm vaporized (if I'm lucky) almost 200,000,000 of those red devils will be vaporized too!!

Hey there, Savannah, Are YOU afraid YOU might be left out on that special day when the nukes arrive? Well, if you think you might be, here's a few things you can do to make that day you'll always remember: You can run around in a circle shouting "Oh my God, Oh my God!" You can practice such handy Russian phrases as: "But Comrade, I wasn't violating the the curfew. I was just standing here when the Savannah Bank, Savannah's Bank fell on top of me." or,

"But Comrade, I AM a man (woman). My features were kind of rearranged by the blast."

You can dig a deep hole, lie down in it and drink till you pass out. You can go to the beach with some close friends and watch the artificial sunrise. Remember, Savannah, civic participation is what made this country great so get out there and participate!

Stop ERA?

by Terry Malphrus

Phyllis Schlafly, the woman who heads the STOP ERA movement in America, exemplifies hypocrisy of the worst kind. Mrs. Schlafly, who preaches against the Equal Rights Amendment, saying that if the ERA is passed, women will no longer be able to be housewives or to stay at home with their families, is a fine one to be lamenting that "fact." For example, Mrs. Schlafly leaves her family and travels thousands of miles a year in her crusade against an amendment to the Constitution which would do nothing more earth shaking than force the halt of sexual discrimination against women. To be someone who seems to think that women are incapable and undeserving of equal rights under the law and to be someone who seems to be deathly afraid that women will be forced out of their houses and into the job market against their wills, Mrs. Schlafly, judging from the many careers she has had, certainly has not bothered to remain confined at home doing housework. For example, Mrs. Schlafly has had such widely diversified careers as lobbyist; public speaker; author; and, among other careers the specifics of which I am admittedly ignorant, head of one of the largest and most influential political groups in the United States.

As the head of this large and influential group, Mrs. Schlafly spouts some of the most ridiculous "propaganda" that has ever been force fed to the American people. Despite what Mrs. Schlafly and her group say, the Equal Rights Amendment will not cancel out other rights of the American people; for example, the right to privacy is not going to be suddenly snatched away, forcing men and women to use "coed" restrooms. Similarly, the ERA is not going to suddenly influence every woman in America, causing her to dump her husband and children and begin on a career as a topnotch lawyer or President of the United States. Of course, some women undoubtedly will choose to leave home and family and pursue more "masculine" careers, but it is unlikely that the passage of the ERA will have a tremendous impact on any woman who would not have made such a choice before the ERA made it easier for her. There will always be women who choose to be housewives and who find rewarding the exhausting and demanding careers of wife, mother, cook, chauffeur, maid, social planner, and all the other careers rolled into one called "housewife." To those women, I say loudly and wholeheartedly, "More power to you!" If they are satisfied and fulfilled in their lives - and many women are - they have made the best choices for

by Eddie Mayes

It was a lonely Friday Night so I kind of thought I would pay a visit to our town's local pub district. My senses were engulfed by the domino principle knocking down one body function after another, but I thought I would just check out the scene along the cobblestone strip.

There were high school studs with daddy's car keys and mama's money jingling in their pocket. I staggered and weaved my way into the upstairs portion of the Port Royal. There was kind of a motley crowd in there and Georgia Slim wanted to take on the house in 8-ball. He had on a ratty Charlie Daniels T-shirt that was about 4 sizes too small and worn out Levi's - hole in one knee, patch on the other.

There was a peroxide blonde in the corner who could not wait to drink my twenty dollar bill down to pocket change. The pinball machine just won't give a bonus.

I only want to make it home now, so I stumble outside and stare with out of focus eyes into a near dawn reality. One more force-fed beer and I'll go. Some night crawler wants a quarter, "Sorry man, I'm tapped out."

WANTED: New Inkwell Staff Members

The Inkwell wishes to extend an offer to anyone who wishes to write or would like to participate in the making of our school's illustrious paper.

There are two staff positions open along with the job of Business Manager. The Business Manager supplies the advertising for the Inkwell. He or she will receive $50.00 a quarter plus commission. The two staff positions open are for anyone who wishes to write. The staff writers will receive $50.00 a quarter. All three positions receive all the privileges, immunities and prestige that come with the job.

The reason this "want ad" is on the editorial page is two-fold. We became involved in a discussion the other day on the merits of the Inkwell. The old line that the Inkwell is bad was thrown into the conversation. Although we realize the line was thrown in just to upset us, it still got our blood boiling. People seem to be very good at running their mouths about how bad we are yet they don't seem to want to do anything about improving the state of their newspaper.

So for all of you who talk the Inkwell down, if you feel you can do a better job, put your money where your mouth is - here's your chance.

Which brings us to the second reason for turning a "want ad" into an editorial. The way the situation stands there will be no editor for next year's Inkwell. Without an editor there will be no Inkwell. Without an Inkwell what would you critics have to gripe about.

The Inkwell is your paper and can be as good as you make it. We on the staff do our best but a little support would be nice. So if anybody feels that they are qualified to be our next editor, join the staff and prove it. As stated before, instead of sitting around griping about how bad the Inkwell is, get your backend in motion and come and apply.

themselves and their families.

If however, a woman is not satisfied with her life or the prospect of life as wife and mother, then she should be encouraged and enabled to become whatever on "God's green earth" she wants to become and is capable of becoming. Further, the obstacles which have traditionally been placed in the way of a woman with interest in better opportunities should be forcibly removed by the law. Unfortunately, the Constitution is the only weapon which is going to provide for this forcible removal of barriers from the difficult path to success in a "man's world." However, the Constitution as it stands is not powerful enough. The laws concerning sexual discrimination are too weak and watery, perhaps because they were formed by people who did not understand that women can and must take more powerful places in society and cannot, must not, and will not be confined to an inferior rank in a "man's world."

To return to the initial premise, Phyllis Schlafly is an accomplished, intelligent, pigheaded woman who, if she has her way, will stop a valiant effort at halting sexual discrimination in this country. If her well-organized efforts at stopping the Equal Rights Amendment prove successful, equal pay for equal work (or work requiring similar skills) will probably not become a reality in the near future; neither will equal opportunity for women with equal capability prove to be possible anytime soon. Further, if Mrs. Schlafly's STOP-ERA movement should succeed, she and her forces will merely have succeeded at postponing what is bound to happen in this country: equal rights for all people in America.

"We shall overcome," a glorious old militant civil rights' song of the 1960's, has been applied to the movement for approval of the Equal Rights Amendment; but I, for one, (and I know that there are many others who agree with me) do not want to overcome. I just want every person to have the opportunity to choose where and what in society he or she wants to strive to be.

Allen Damron and The Austin Noise

by Joe Adams

"A storyteller/singer from Austin, Texas, renowned as one of the greatest folk entertainers in America. . . one of the originators of the "Austin Sound". So said the promo material that Mr. Damron's promotional agency sent prior to his arrival. This act is big in the big classic Texan manner, only this one is a big loser. If Austin has a sound and Mr. Damron represents it well, the Texans should keep it! Damron's storytelling/singing style consists of chopped fragments of an unusual blend of country and folk. This is laced with rather dull vinets of his life history and jokes, the majority of which are of an extremely poor quality, dealing with such overworked topics as poor Anita Bryant.

Damron does possess a fair amount of technical ability but his poor showmanship overshadows any musical prowess he possesses. The quality of his "licks" are further dulled by insipid lyrics. However there was one "high" point" to Damron's lunch time concert. In the middle of one number that dealt with a group of subletting gypsies (believe it or not!), some audience participation was in order. During this sing along or clap along there was some rousing audience support from approximately three tables. In short let Austin keep its sound and ASC will keep its dull lunches. I didn't like the act.

Gift Certificates For Sale

The 1979 Geechee has gift certificates for sale. If, for example, you would like to give an Armstrong State College yearbook as a gift to an alumnus of Armstrong, contact any member of the Geechee staff, Sandra Turnquist, or the Student Activities Office. The price of a Geechee is $3.00.

Bill No. 030.

A motion to reintroduce bill to underwrite a Writers Conference which was vetoed by SGA President John Oppen. Bill dies because of lack of a Senate majority to override Oppen's veto. Veto stands.

January 11

Election Committee is making plans for an upcoming election. The date has not been set through the Rules Committee. The Inkwell will keep the students posted.

January 18

President Ashmore sent a letter to the SGA thanking the students for "Lud Day."

Desegregation Resolution was drawn up. The resolution is printed in this issue of the Inkwell. Vote was unanimous.

January 25

Due to the outbreak of the ASC students at the Valdosta Game because of poor officiating, the SGA is sending a letter of apology to the Valdosta Athletic Dept. The purpose is to let the Valdosta team know that the anger was aimed solely at the officials and not the Valdosta team. Vote 10-0-1. A letter of appreciation is being sent to Mayor John Rousakis to support his statements about Savannah's desegregation plan.

SGA Meetings are held on Thursday at 12:30 in the MCC Conference Room (second floor). Students are invited to sit in on the meetings.

SAILORS BEWARE!!

Over the Christmas break the Armstrong Special Events Committee was assigned an unusual and daring job. The job was to locate 20 girls on campus who would like to go to a party on a Swedish ship with hot and cold running Swedish sailors. The committee searched all over and the list is full.

Now for some details about the party. This event will be held on the Swedish ship on Sunday night February 11th from 8:00 p.m. till 11:00 p.m. The dress will be fancy but no formals. The Swedish Consulate will supply chaperones for the occasion which is planned to be very enjoyable. The ship will be decked at Berth 1 at the Ocean Terminals.

All the girls who have signed up for this party should come by the Student Activities Office and make sure that their phone numbers are on the list. Without a phone number we will be unable to contact you in case of a change in plans.

To show our appreciation for this outing we will be hosting a soccer game for the sailors on Monday, February 12th. Coach Bedwell will be in charge of the soccer game. Students of Armstrong remember that an event sponsored by CUB is an event worth attending!

Win valuable prizes for your organization. All you do is collect empty Miller bottles (1 pt. per pound) and cans (30 pts. per pound) and receive a coupon for the points earned. The top point earning organizations will win their choice of many valuable prizes.

See You In The Funny Papers

by D. Brown

Most of us think of ourselves as the best looking people who ever walked this great planet. We also hope and expect everyone else to see us the same way. Well, the Special Events Committee has found a person who sees all of us as cartoons.

The name of this guy is Steve Gipson. Steve has performed in colleges all over the United States and is known as the fastest pen around. Steve appeared at Armstrong last year and is making a return 2 day appearance on February 20 and 21. Steve is one of the great cartoonists of his time and can draw anyone.

Steve will start a 70 min.

show at 11:30 on Feb. 20 in the MCC lunch room. His show will consist of uproarious monologues complete with on stage cartooning to high light his funny stories. After his show he will do two hours of free drawings of ASC students. On Wednesday the 21st he will be in the lunch room and do five hours more of drawings. It takes about 5 minutes for each face and tickets will be given out to show who gets drawn and when.

For those of you who have not seen Steve's work before then just look at a Lud T-Shirt. Steve drew the face of President Ashmore, Students of Armstrong.

The Navy

by David Purvis

The following article is the first in a series of job descriptions on different professional fields in the Navy.

DENTAL CORPS

The Navy dentists have a ready mad practice with a guaranteed steady income free from the financial burdens of setting up a private practice. They have the use of the most modern dental equipment and facilities and the opportunity for research and post graduate study, and will full pay and allowances.

They will receive their appointments as either Lieutenant or Lieutenant Commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, based on professional experience, age, training and attainment. The dentists can earn competitive salaries plus non taxable allowances for subsistence and living quarters plus other special duty pay and bonuses that could make the take home pay more then lucrative.

Stipulations for the Dental Corps are that you be between the ages of 21 and 42 at the time of commissioning, that you are a U.S. citizen and that you have graduated from an approved dental school not more than 10 years prior to application. Your initial obligation is the Navy as a dentist will be for three years of active duty after commissioning.

After being commissioned in the Navy, women will be assigned to shore duty in the U.S. or overseas and men will alternate shore duty in the U.S. with sea duty aboard ships, overseas or with the Fleet Marine Forces.

The NROTC Unit at Savannah State College would like to invite those people interested in a future as an officer in the naval service, to stop by the unit and discuss the possibilities of a commission.

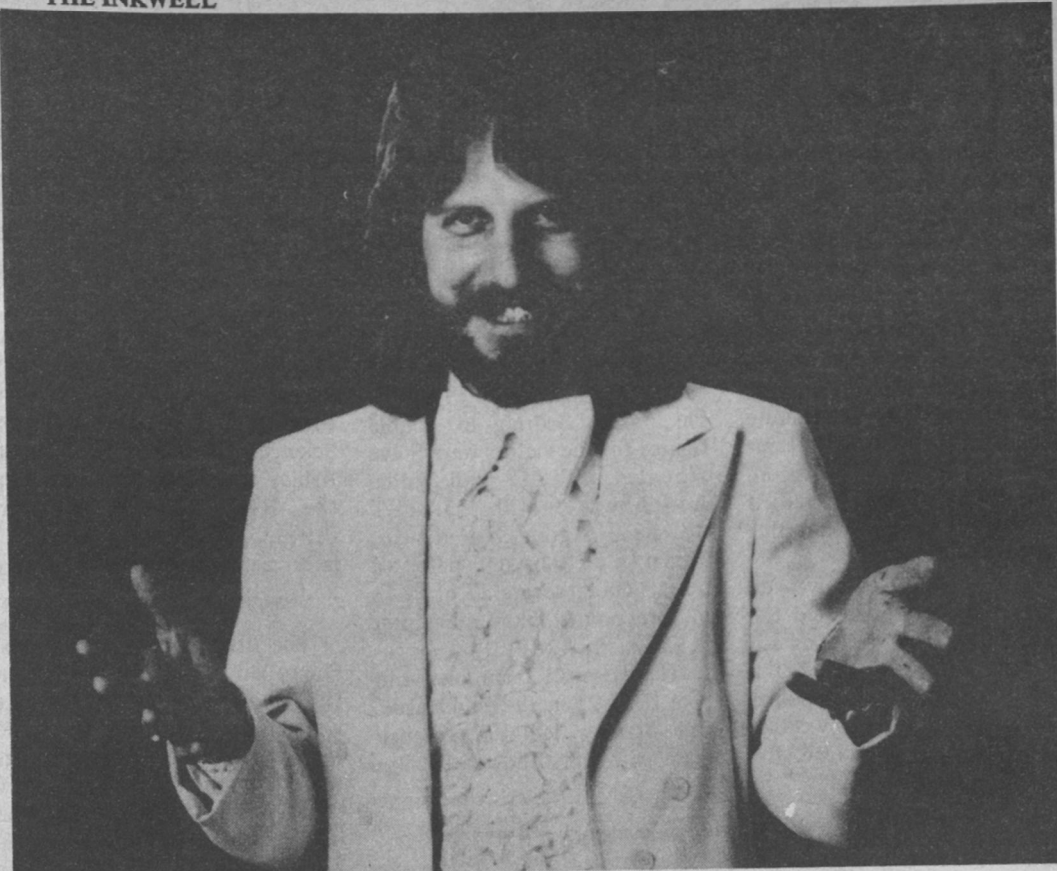

As for the NROTC Unit, a full slate of events are scheduled for the remainder of the academic quarter.

Georgia Day Activities Feb. 10; Host for Swedish Midshipmen Feb. 10; NROTC

Change of Command Feb. 22; Mess Night Feb. 24; Jacksonville Obstacle Course Meet March 3; St. Patrick's Day Parade March 17.

Whelan's Wide World of Intramurals

by Mary Ellen Whelan

With a total of 24 teams, intramural basketball has started off with a bang. Three separate leagues consisting of 17 teams comprise the men's division, while the women's league is made up of 7 very interesting teams.

In the maroon or advanced league, the Bruins defeated the Home Boys 51-42 with Paul All and Joe Roberts leading the Bruins with a total of 30 points together. Bam I, led by Mike Jolly with 15, outplayed the Hoop Shooters 53-39.

In organizational league play the PE Club defeated Pi Kappa Phi 54-31. Scoring in double figures for the victors were Steve Wheeler with 15 and Eddie Aenchbacher with 13. PKT downed Sigma Nu 42-36, Stanley Bonds played outstanding, scoring 27 of PKTs 42 total points. Pike I rolled past Pi Kappa Phi 42-14.

The Baseball team blew out Pike II 65-25 in the gold league. Bill Stanley led the baseball team with 18, followed by Dan Seitz with 16 points. John Sheppard led Bam II to a victory over the Tigers 60-34, and the Rims edged by the Computer Science Club 40-30 with Scott Ashley throwing in 14 points for the Rims. The Rims were defeated by the Nads 70-51 in a later game. Pat Sheehan scored 25 for the Nads.

The little Sisters of Pi Kappa Phi rolled past Phi Mu 42-15 in the season's opener of the women's league. Anne Marie McGrath led the Little Sisters with 20 points. Led by Kim Olcott with 14, Dental Hygiene downed Alpha Gam 22-16. Little Tigers defeated Sigma Kappa 28-13. Phi Mu fell to Dental Hygiene in overtime. 30-22, Kim Olcott led Hygiene in that game also. Little Sisters of Pi Kappa Phi rolled over Sigma Kappa 41-7. Tracy Meinert and Kathy Gallagher scored 17 and 12 points respectively. P.E. Club defeated Alpha Gam 26-6 in what was later a somewhat controversial game.

Intramural soccer got off to a slow start last weekend with two teams forfeiting. In the first scheduled game, The Rims forfeited to the Boosters. Pi Kappa Phi won by forfeit in the second. In the final but first actual match, Jodi Douglas and Charlie Daly of Pike led their team to a 2-1 victory over the Tigers.

Golf Team Forming

The 1979 ASC golf team, under Dr. Larry Tapp, is now forming.

The Pirates face Indiana University Southeast in their first match at Bacon Park March 7. The season will culminate with the SAC Tournament in early May.

Students interested in playing on the team should contact Dr. Tapp at the gym or call him at 925-3363.

Nationally ranked Armstrong College now stands with a record of 18-3 and 2-2 in Conference games. The Running Pirates will host Lee College Saturday night, Jan. 27, and will travel to Valdosta State Monday Jan. 29th. The Running Pirates will be travelling out of town February 3rd, the West Georgia and February 10th to Columbus College. The last home game for the Pirates is February 14, against Augusta College, in the Civic Center. This is going to be an exciting game, so make sure you're there to see it. Hopefully, with the remaining games the Pirates will be ready to join together skills and talent to win the South Atlantic Conference Tournament.

Mike Pringle is having a fine season on both ends of the court. "MO" is averaging 21.8 points a game, 59 steals, 125 rebounds and 74 assists. His high game was 42 points against West Georgia in SAV opener. ASC conference leaders Aaron Hill averages 12.2 rebounds and Foy Ballance averages 9.7 assists. We know you can do it Pirates!!

Ed and Lorraine Warren To Appear

On February 1, right here on the Armstrong campus in Jenkins Hall, the College Union Board Lecture Committee will present Ed and Lorraine Warren, who are known as "seekers of the supernatural." On Thursday, February 1, at 7:00 p.m. in Jenkins Hall, the Warrens will give the first of two lectures (including, by the way, a slide show) on haunted houses, ghosts, and demonology.

Then, on Friday, February 2, at 2:30 p.m., the Warrens will take an exploratory tour through a local haunted house. What is really exciting about the Warrens' tour is that a small group of students (who will be chosen by a drawing held by the Warrens during their lecture Thursday night) will have the privilege of accompanying the Warrens on that tour. The Warrens will examine the house and attempt to determine the type of "spirits" haunting the house and why the "spirits" are there.

Last on the Warrens' agenda is their second lecture on haunted houses, ghosts, and demonology, on Friday, February 2, at 7:00 p.m., again in Jenkins Hall.

Anyone who has read The Amityville Horror will probably remember the chapter about the Warrens' assistance in solving the Amityville hauntings. The book is an extremely exciting and frightening one (still on the bestseller lists) and the Warrens play a vital and fascinating role in solving the "whys and wherefores" of the "spiritual" possession of a large, beautiful family home in the small town of Amityville, New York. Besides their involvement in the Amityville case, the Warrens have worked with doctors, psychiatrists, priests, ministers, rabbis, and police officers in over 2000 documented cases. Their adventures, reported nationally and internationally, have earned the Warrens the title of "America's top ghost hunters."

All people who are interested in learning more about the Warrens and their unusual careers are invited to listen to WKBX (AM) on Wednesday, January 31, at 7:00 p.m., to the "Easy Ed" Hartley radio program. "Easy Ed," who conducts a "listener participation" radio program every night on WKBX, will be following his usual live listener response format and will be interviewing the Warrens.

Finally, the ticket price for the lectures are $1.00 for Armstrong students with validated IDs (IDs can be validated in the Student Activities Office in Memorial College Center if you have the receipt for your fees at Armstrong for winter quarter); the price for nonstudents is $3.00. The price at the door for any student or nonstudent will be $3.00. Advance tickets will be on sale in the student activities office.

Yearbook Staff Needed

The Geechee staff needs more people! In order to put out a yearbook, we have to have a larger staff. The Geechee needs people who are willing to work and who are interested in Armstrong State College's campus life.

If you are one of the interested people described, contact Sandra Turnquist or the Student Activities Office for more information.

Anyone For Horse Play?

by D. Brown

Armstrong's Special Events Committee will be taking 40 of Armstrongs students and their money to the Kentucky Derby Races.

The cost of the trip, lodgings, and gate tickets will be $70.00 per person. Anyone interested needs to sign up as soon as possible in the Office of Student Activities. The trips dates are

May 3 through May 6. As you sign up a $10 deposit will have to be made and $50 more will have to be turned in by April 2. This equals $60.00 and the other $10 goes for the gate ticket the day of the race.

The bus will leave the campus of Armstrong at 9:00 P.M. on the night of May 3 and will arrive in Kentucky on Friday around noon. Coolers are welcome on the bus. Friday night we will be sleeping at the Red Barn. It is located on the University of Louisville Kentucky campus.

Showers are available so bring your toilet items.

Friday night will also have a free movie in store for the late night partyers. Those who plan to do any sleeping on this trip should bring their sleeping bags and hot water bottles. Saturday morning we will wake up and have a continental breakfast and then head for the race tracks for the 105th running of the Kentucky Derby. A large in-field party will be held on the track from 7:00 a.m. till 5:00 p.m. At 5:00 p.m. the race will begin. A gate ticket will cost each person $10.00, but is good for the whole day. Be sure to bring your own coolers to the track.

Saturday night will be full of partying and little rest at the Barn. Sunday morning we will have another continental breakfast and then load on the bus and return to Savannah. This trip is a once in a life time chance for you to go to the Derby with your friends and meet people from other colleges and universities. If this trip goes over well, then it could be an annual happening. Remember that the deadline for $50.00 is April 2, and $10 when you sign up and $10 at the gate giving a grand total of $70.00 for transportation, lodging, breakfast, gate ticket, and a free movie. Sign up at the Office of Student Activities

Students of Armstrong remember that an event sponsored by CUB is an event worth attending!

ASC Student Senate Resolution

Wherease, the responsibility for the Welfare of Georgia's institutions of higher education rests with the Chancellor and Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, and not the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Whereas, most students at Armstrong State College and across the state are primarily concerned with good quality academic programs.

Whereas, the closing of programs on some campuses in the name of desegregation could have the effect of constricting access to public higher education for many students.

Whereas, the proposed plan for the Desegregation of the University System of Georgia contains provisions which will benefit many areas of the system, other portions of the desegregation plan, under the prodding of H.E.W. to eliminate duplication, would do more harm than good to already sound academic programs.

Whereas, many other states have had plans approved by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare containing somewhat less stringent measures than those contained in Georgia's, currently rejected, desegregation plan.

Whereas, the University System of Georgia is already open to all students no matter what race and has continued to make progress toward substantially boosting black enrollment in its member institutions.

Be it therefore resolved that the Armstrong State College Student Government Association ask the Chancellor and the Board of Regents to examine as closely as possible all aspects of the HEW controversy, especially the eliminations of major programs such as Business Administration and Teacher's Education, and if necessary seek legal action against HEW to protect the rights of the citizens of the State of Georgia; which is their trust.
