STATESBORO, Ga.- This Monday and Tuesday, the Georgia Southern track and field team wraps up their indoor season at the Sun Belt Conference Indoor Championships in Birmingham, Alabama. The two-day event is held at the same location as the Eagles' last meet—the Samford Open—at the Birmingham Crossplex.

"I believe that our ladies are ready to compete this week for the indoor championships," head coach Kelly Carter said. "We've had a really good indoor season with some great performances, and I know that will translate into the confidence that they need at the championships. I'm looking forward to seeing it. GATA."

On Monday, events begin at 9 a.m. with the last one starting at 8:30 p.m. for women. Throughout the day, the Eagles will participate in a variety of trials for their events to prepare for the finals on Tuesday, which begin at 9 a.m.

IN THE STANDINGS

A total of six Eagles grace the top 10 in the Sun Belt Conference currently, with Jasmin Walker occupying spots in the 60 meter (seventh) and the long jump (fourth).
