Annual Student Juried Exhibition features Georgia Southern Armstrong Campus student artists

JANUARY 30, 2019

The work of 28 art students on Georgia Southern University's Armstrong Campus has been hand selected by Assistant Curator at the Telfair Museums Erin Dunn for the 2019 Student Juried Exhibition.

"It's a privilege to have such a high-quality juror from such a distinguished museum," Gallery Director Raymond Gaddy said. "Ms. Dunn has put together an excellent exhibition with a range of work from across disciplines."

Gaddy also said each year the juried exhibition is unique because of the different juror and student entries.

"Each year brings new work from an ever-changing body of students," he said. "Each juror has their own personal preferences, opinions and biases. The annual Student Juried Exhibition is always one of the most exciting for students and professors; no one knows what will happen. Some years everyone agrees on the choices and some years there are questions."

The exhibition will run from Jan. 28 through Feb. 8 at the Fine Arts Gallery and will feature awards in various media categories. An artist reception and awards presentation will be Feb. 6 from noon to 1:30 p.m.

Georgia Southern University, a public Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution founded in 1906, offers 141 degree programs serving nearly 26,500 students through nine colleges on three campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville and

The concert will feature Grundstad-Hall singing and Marggraf on piano. The duo will be performing the works of Eisler, Schumann, Franz, Martinu, Mercer and more.

Emily Grundstad-Hall, D.M.A., and Jens Marggraf

"(Marggraf and I) have a relationship that goes back about five years," Grundstad-Hall said. "Halle, Germany, is the sister city to Savannah, and with a university in each town, it makes the two nicely connected. Jens has come to campus about three times now as a guest lecturer, and I recently traveled to Germany to present a recital and masterclasses to voice students there."

The event is co-sponsored with The Teutonic Council, an organization comprised of three German Cultural Societies, including The German Heritage Society, The German Friendly Society of Savannah and The Georgia Salzburger Society.

Admission to the concert is free and for more information, visit georgiasouthern.edu/armstrongtickets.
