

Georgia Southern University

Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

Newsroom

University Communications and Marketing

11-18-2020

Newsroom

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/newsroom>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "Newsroom" (2020). Newsroom. 1914.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/newsroom/1914>

This news article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Communications and Marketing at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in Newsroom by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Statesboro Campus to host 3rd annual Gullah Geechee Celebration

November 18, 2020

The poster features three circular images: a man with a feathered headdress and face paint, a woman in a purple dress, and a group of people in traditional attire. The text on the poster includes:

"THE AFRICAN SPIRIT"
Day Clean Journeys

3RD ANNUAL
GULLAH GEECHEE
HERITAGE CELEBRATION

Wednesday, November 18, 2020 | 6:00 P.M.
Williams Center Plaza | Statesboro Campus

GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

OFFICE OF MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

QUEEN QUET
Chiefess of the Gullah Geechee Nation

The Gullah Geechee people are the descendants of Central and West Africans who came from different ethnic and social groups.

For more information contact oma@georgiasouthern.edu or (912) 478-5409

Georgia Southern University's Office of Multicultural Affairs will host the 3rd annual Gullah Geechee Celebration Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. at the Williams Center multipurpose room on the Statesboro Campus.

The Gullah Geechee people are the descendants of African slaves on the rice, indigo and Sea Island cotton plantations of the lower Atlantic coast, including Georgia. The celebration will highlight Gullah Geechee people's unique, African-influenced culture. Their distinctive arts, crafts, foodways, music and language formed due to their isolation on island and coastal plantations.

For more information, email Paris Lawrence, coordinator of diversity education and program outreach, at plawrence@georgiasouthern.edu.

Posted in Events, News Briefs

Tags: Office of Multicultural Affairs

Parker College of Business students paint for a purpose

November 18, 2020

Parker College of Business Students in the Beta Alpha Psi honorary organization volunteer at the Humane Society of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

The Humane Society of Statesboro and Bulloch County (HSSBC) has a fresh coat of paint for its new adoption center thanks to a group of Parker College of Business students who spent the weekend rolling up their sleeves to help the community organization.

Parker Business Scholars Braylen Dixon and Alicia Martinez, as well as Jessey Alley, Addie Spinos and Christian Tinsley, all students in the Georgia Southern chapter of Beta Alpha Psi (BAP), an honorary organization for financial information students and professionals, painted the interior of the HSSBC's new adoption center and the neighboring fence of a thrift store.

"I personally chose to help the Humane Society because I believe in their cause and love animals," said Alley. "Additionally, the office in Statesboro is not publicly funded, so it can use as much volunteer assistance as possible. The Humane Society is so important for our community; the fine people that give their time to help rescue and find homes for animals that might otherwise go neglected and hungry help keep pets safe."

The volunteers worked with Kania Greer, Ed.D., the president of HSSBC, to complete the project. Greer is also the coordinator of the Institute for Interdisciplinary STEM Education at Georgia Southern.

“It was truly a labor of love for these students, and we could not have done it without them,” Greer said. “They didn’t miss a beat and have even offered to come back and do more if we need it done. It was such a joy to have them there. I think the highlight for me was just listening to their banter and their discussions of class and of what they were going to do for internships and after graduation. They were encouraging each other about classes and passing along information to each other to help with interviews.”

BAP is an international honor society for accounting, finance and information systems students attending universities accredited by AACSB International: The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business or the European Quality Improvement System. As part of the requirements of being a member of BAP, the candidates and members must participate in community service and professional activities.

Posted in Press Releases