Athletics Announces 2016 Hall of Fame Class

Seven to be inducted on Sept. 17 at football game

STATESBORO, Ga. – Georgia Southern Director of Athletics Tom Kleinlein announced today that Voncellies Allen (football), Mike Cummings (supporter), Debbie Hensley (women's soccer), Julius Jenkins (men's basketball), Kerry Messersmith (volleyball coach), Wanda Parrish (supporter) and Aron Price (men's golf) will be inducted into the Georgia Southern Athletics Hall of Fame on Sept. 17.

The 2016 seven-member class will be officially inducted at a Hall of Fame luncheon Sept. 17, prior to the Georgia Southern football game against UL Monroe at Paulson Stadium, and the new inductees will be introduced and honored at halftime of the contest. The seven additions bring the total number of former coaches, student-athletes, supporters and administrators in the Georgia Southern Athletics Hall of Fame to 147.
"This is an impressive class of individuals who have had a tremendous impact on Georgia Southern Athletics," Kleinlein said. "This class is one that features some notable names from across several sports, as well as two supporters who have been instrumental in the growth of our department. Each of these seven inductees is very deserving of this honor and I look forward to the privilege of inducting this class and celebrating of their achievements in September."
