The Clock of Life

The clock of life is wound but once
And no man has the power,
To tell just when the hands will stop,
At late or early hour.
Now is the only time you own,
Live, love, toil with a will.
Place no faith in "tomorrow."
For the clock may then be still.

Acknowledgement

With grateful hearts we wish to thank the many friends who have been so kind to us in the form of prayers, words of comfort, cards, flowers, visits and all other gestures extended during the loss of our loved one. May God richly bless each of you.

Daisy Lee Lawton Dixon, the youngest of three children blessed to the union of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lemick Lawton, was born May 18, 1925 in Allendale, South Carolina. Shortly thereafter, the Lawton family relocated to Jacksonville, Florida where Daisy shared a childhood full of fond memories with loyal older brothers, Harold and Lewis (Luke). Daisy graduated from Stanton High School as Salutatorian of the class of 1943.

Daisy met and married Gus Dixon and from this union twin daughters, Juliet and Joyce and son Reginald (deceased) were born. Daisy's enduring love for family and compassion for others was evidenced in the strength of her relationships, namely her dedication to supporting her children and caring for her parents in their elderly years. She was faithful and active member of Woodlawn Presbyterian Church serving as an usher, deacon and member of several nominating committees and the Senior & Retiree Organization. Daisy retired from the Vogue Company after working as a valued employee for thirty one years.

Affectionately known as "Sister" and "Ma Daisy" to family and friends, Daisy was a humorous story connoisseur who enjoyed sharing family and neighborhood history. She could often be heard asking if she told you a story before, and if so, was happy to display her gift of recollection by recounting it again. Her pleasure and delight in reminiscing made each story an invaluable treasure for her and all blessed with the opportunity to listen and learn.

Daisy leaves to honor her legacy, her devoted and loving daughters: Juliet Dixon and Joyce Davis; brothers: Harold Lawton and Lewis Lawton; grandchildren: Tonya Watkins, Alexis Stewart, Melvin Davis, Jr. and Angela Davis; great grandchildren: Tiffany Watkins, Paul Watkins II and Gabrielle Gordon; nephew: Darryl Lawton (Charlotte); caring cousin: Clifford Lawton; cherished friends: Dorothy Blake, Laura Pate (Greg), Margaret Mathis, Margie Jackson, John Stewart and a host of beloved extended family and friends.
