ATLANTA, Ga. – The Georgia Southern swimming and diving team hit the water for the first time in the 2016-17 season Friday afternoon in a dual meet at Georgia Tech. The Eagles received strong performances from several swimmers, particularly the underclassman, but came up just short against the Yellowjackets, falling 156-98 at the McAuley Aquatic Center.

Quote From Head Coach Laura Thomas

"We swam well today and it was a fun meet for us. It was good to see the girls racing against outside competition and we got to race some distances that we won't see the rest of the year like 150 and 350 freestyle. The highlight of the meet was the 50 yard breast stroke where two of our girls went 1-2. Overall, I thought the entire team did very well and I learned alot about our team and also what we need to focus on more moving forward."

Next up

The Georgia Southern divers will have two weeks to prepare for their next competition, a home meet against West Florida on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 11 a.m. The entire team will be back in action at home on Friday, Oct. 21 at 5 p.m.
