FIRST ANNUAL ALUMNI REUNION

The college is making plans for the first annual college reunion of the alumni since the creation of a four year college here.

With 800 alumni on the college rolls since 1910, many of whom have signified their intentions of returning for the reunion, the college is expecting a gala day. A luncheon will be held in the main dining hall May 30. Mrs. Ernest Willis of Swainsboro, formerly Miss Annie N. Screws of Glennville, a member of the first normal graduating class, has accepted the invitation to act as toast-mistress.

All of the former presidents of the college have also been invited to attend, beginning with Dr. Walter Hendricks of Savannah, who has notified the President that he will attend. Dr. Hendricks will be the chief speaker of the occasion. Other former heads of the college invited are E.C.J. Dickens, F.W. Rowan and E. V. Hollis.

INCREASED SUMMER SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Plans have been completed for the largest summer school in the history of the South Georgia Teachers College with an enrollment comparable to that of any state institution in the south.

The last years enrollment totaled 649 but with additional improvements in the way of dormitory space and the extra rooms in Alumni Hall many more are expected.

Over one hundred courses will be offered this summer, including regular courses for teachers in primary, high school, and elementary work. Also art, expression, music, and physical education. For the first time a course will be offered in commercial subjects here this summer.

Many outstanding newspaper men and educators have been secured and are scheduled to make addresses to the student body during these sessions. These talks are sure to be delightful as well as educational.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given on Sunday, May 29, in the college auditorium by Rev. Willis Howard of La Grange. Rev. Howard is one of the outstanding Baptist ministers of the state and is well known in this section.

Dr. Theodore Jack, vice president of Emory University, will be the speaker for the commencement address.

On Monday evening the commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium, at which time the degrees, diplomas, trophies, and awards will be made.

Eighteen students will receive their B.S. degrees at this time. Twenty eight students are expected to receive their normal diplomas. Seventeen are looking forward to receiving their high school diplomas.

These exercises are to be real good and the students are eager to hear them.

THE TEACHER

The teacher is a prophet. He lays the foundation of tomorrow. The teacher is an artist. He works with precious unfolding personalities. The teacher is a friend. His heart responds to the faith and devotion of his students. The teacher is a citizen. He is selected and licensed for the improvement of society. The teacher is an interpreter. Out of his maturer and wider life he seeks to guide the young. The teacher is a builder. He works with the higher and finer values of civilization. The teacher is a culture-bearer. He leads the way toward worthier tastes, saner attitudes, more gracious manners, higher intelligence. The teacher is a planner. He sees the young lives before him as a part of a great system which shall grow stronger in the light of truth. The teacher is a pioneer. The teacher is a reformer. He seeks to remove the handicaps that weaken and destroy life. The teacher is a believer. He has abiding faith in the improvability of the race.

MORE ABOUT THE REST ROOMS

The editorial in the last issue of the George--Anne has created much comment and attention. Several papers were handed to the staff. Of these papers, what we consider the two best are published below:

"If there is to be one rest room in a school, I would certainly think the main floor would be the most convenient and best situated place for it. It should be in a place where it can get the proper sunlight and ventilation. I say, let the rest rooms stay where they are and perhaps, later on, we shall have one on each floor, which is really what we need."

And another writes:

"Architects today place the rest rooms where they will be most convenient. Picture the rest rooms in the basement, where it is suggested they be moved. This would necessitate a one-flight descent and would be most inconvenient."

TO THE 1932 GRADUATES

There is more advice given to graduates than to most any other group, and this final editorial for 1931-1932 George-Anne will not attempt to advise. To the graduates our plea is that you do something after graduation. The College here will be judged by your works, and whatever you may do will reflect either credit or discredit. The College has been fortunate in turning out graduates who have brought the school much credit. To the 1932 classes there is a challenge. The George-Anne wishes you success and happiness.

GEORGIA HISTORY TRIP

The Georgia History Class, accompanied by Dr. R.H.J. DeLoach, is leaving at noon today for a visit to historical spots in Southeast Georgia. The route includes Savannah, Wormsloe, Beesda, Old Midway, Darien, Spanish Mission, Brunswick, St. Simon's, and Frederica. They will return Sunday night.

Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight, author and authority of Georgia History, has consented to talk to the group of 19, and to conduct them personally to points of interest on St. Simon's island.

This field trip, under the direction of Miss Newton, will be well worthwhile to those students. Certainly they will gain a new appreciation of their state.

TRAINING SCHOOL GRADUATION

The graduation of the Seventh grade of the Training School will be held in the College Auditorium Tuesday Morning.

This is the first time that the Training School has formally graduated its Seventh Grade pupils. It is hoped that this will become an annual custom.

The class officers are: Edward Carruth, Pres. Dr. R.H.J. DeLoach, is Carlton Carruth, vice president; Hazel Ellis, secretary. Miss Mildred Campbell is directing these plans for graduation.

After the graduation exercises the patrons of the school will attend a "World's Fair" at the Training School in the Alumni Building.

WORLD FAIR PROJECT

If you are interested in seeing something worthwhile in the way of projects for primary children, go to the Training School. Miss Gerdine, Miss Vanlandingham, and student teacher have supervised the arrangement of a "World's Fair." The majority of the work was done by the pupils, it is asserted.

Among the attractions are a store, sand table, a Robinson Crusoe chart, and a Puppet show of home life in colonial days.
