

Georgia Southern University

Georgia Southern Commons

The George-Anne

3-18-1932

The George-Anne

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne>

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "The George-Anne" (1932). The George-Anne. 2295.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne/2295>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by Georgia Southern Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The George-Anne by an authorized administrator of Georgia Southern Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

GEORGE-ANNE

Published Weekly by Journalism Class

SOUTH GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE, COLLEGEBORO, GEORGIA

Vol 5

March 18 1932

No. 7

DR. PIERCE HARRIS SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Dr. Pierce Harris, Pastor of the St. Luke's Methodist Church of Columbus, Georgia spoke here in chapel Wednesday. A quartet from Statesboro composed of Dr. A. J. Mooney, Prince Preston, Jr., R. W. Preston, and G. B. Bean sang "Crossing the Bar".

Dr. Harris is conducting revival services at the Methodist Church in Statesboro. A special meeting is to be held Friday night for all young people. The majority of the student body will attend.

---G-A---

At a call meeting of the Stephens-Oglethorpe Literary Societies, Mrs. J. O. Johnston presented the newly adopted plans accepted by the colleges and high schools of the State for conducting Reading Contests. The Societies by popular vote decided to accept the plan as proposed.

Thirty minutes before the contest opens the contestants will be given four selections to read. They will have the preceding thirty minutes to prepare their readings.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGAN OFFICIALLY THIS WEEK WITH TWENTY MEN ANSWERING THE CALL OF COACH CROOK SMITH ON TUESDAY. IN THIRTY TWO WEEKS THE FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON IS SCHEDULED.

PRESIDENT WELLS CHOSEN FOR TWO IMPORTANT PLACES

Two important tasks have been placed upon President Wells during the past few days. He has been selected by the Georgian-American as one of the two judges in this State for the George Washington Essay Contest, and has been appointed Chairman of the G.E.A. Reconstruction Finance Corp. Anti-Hording Drive.

The Georgian-American is sponsoring in all states in the Union a contest for the best essay on Washington's "Farewell Address". Dr. M. L. Duggan, State School Superintendent and Mr. Wells have been selected as the Judges for this State.

Governor Russell and Preston Arkwright, State Chairman of the Drive have appointed Mr. Wells as Chairman of the G.E.A. Reconstruction Finance Corp.'s Anti-Hording Drive.

-G-A-

PLAN FOR LARGE SUMMER SESSION

The preliminary Announcement for the 1932 Summer Session having been made some time ago, the regular catalog is now being distributed. The session to begin June 7th and continue until August 23rd, will consist of two terms, the first from June 7 to July 16 and the second from July 18 to August 23.

With two new floors of dormitory space and additional room in the new Alumni Building, the college this summer will be able to take care of a greater number on the campus than in any session in the past. Plans are being made to room as many on the campus as possible.

With fifty outstanding teachers listed, ten prominent educators coming as special features, this summer session should be the greatest in the history of the college.

Over a hundred courses will be offered in college work this summer.

-G-A-

GEORGE --- ANNE

Published weekly by the class in Journalism of the South Georgia Teachers College, Collegeboro, Georgia.

Members of the Class:

Mary Jane Bowen	R.L. Marr
John Bergerson	Addie E. Parker
William Everett	Dora Smith
Sara Smith

AN EDUCATIONAL CENTER

There is hardly a month that does not record some important educational convention, conference, meeting or rally for Statesboro. The teachers in their half dozen different organizations, the various programs of school and college meetings always include Statesboro.

The Bulloch capital in addition to being a fine town with a fine local school system has the only college in this whole more-than-a-third of the state, the South Georgia Teachers College. The president of the college is this year the president of the Georgia Education Association. Before he was head of the association, however, the school meetings gravitated to Statesboro; now they have the habit of centering there. Statesboro is a good educational center for which sentiment for better education, in professional way, by teachers, and by students through the citizen supporters of schools and colleges, radiates.

(The above editorial appeared the Savannah Morning News, Sunday, February 7.)

PROUD OF BOTH

The 1932 basketball team was one of the best that ever competed for S.G.T.C., and winners of the Georgia State Conference tournament deserve more than one paragraph in the George-Anne and if it were possible a special issue would be devoted to the team. The faculty, the students, and alumni are proud of "Crock" Smiths 1932 basketball team.

Anyone connected with the college who attended church services at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening or who has had the opportunity of hearing the splendid program given throughout this section by the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.N.C.A. of the college will again feel proud. The speeches, the presentation, the programs are fine and the faculty, students, and alumni are proud of R.L. Winburns Sunday troupe.

G--A

ANTI-HOARDING

The young people of America and particularly those of the high school and college age can help create public opinion toward renewed business confidence which will start the wheels of industry again.

Only about one fourth of the country's working capital is in circulation. Lets talk up the governments Reconstruction Finance Anti-Hoarding Drive.

G--A

The college polishes--perhaps; but what does it polish? It can only polish what the individual brings with him.

G--A