The superintendents, over fifty in number, on their way to Savannah to attend the annual convention of the Association of School Superintendents stopped off in Statesboro for an evenings entertainment. At six thirty in the main dining room of the college a dinner was served the visitors. During the meal the "Collegians" college novelty orchestra furnished the music.

WE WANT YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS

This is the first year the class in journalism has attempted the publication of the George-Anne. The class is small and must have the cooperation of the entire student body and faculty.

A contribution box will be placed in the post office and the staff hopes to find it filled each week with contributions. The paper will be made up on Thursday and will be distributed on Friday. All contributions should be in by Thursday morning. We want news items, poetry, true witty stories concerning students and even letters from our readers.

The George--Anne is yours, help to make it a good paper. Any suggestions you can offer will be greatly appreciated.

OUR SCHOOL PAPER

One of the greatest worthwhile developments in the past few years has been the school newspaper. Educationally well conducted school newspaper is of unquestioned value.

The functions of a good school paper are many, its purposes too are many, and the splendid result that comes from the publication of a paper are unlimited. Some of the more important purposes are:

1. To report news-general information, specific regulations.
2. To furnish a natural means of unifying the purpose and sentiment of the school.
3. To stimulate proper school pride and loyalty.
4. To reflect the spirit of the school.
5. To provide entertainment.
6. To sponsor school activities.
7. To preserve school traditions and history.
8. To promote general welfare.
9. To serve as an advertising medium.
10. To focus pupil attention on worthy achievements.
11. To develop in students habits of observation, thought and expression.
12. To foster leadership, cooperation and business responsibility.
13. To gain experience in journalism and English.
14. To keep patrons informed concerning school affairs and interested in the welfare of the school and its part in developing the community.

We hope to make this paper worthwhile but to do it we must have your help. We hope to create enough interest that in a short while the students will demand a printed sheet.

"Y" TO ENTERTAIN

POSTURE EXPRESSES PERSONALITY

Good posture is being sponsored by the Health Classes this week. Friday morning they presented an original playlet which featured exercises showing muscular coordination.

The poster committee places new posters everyday calling attention to the value of posture. Much interest has been created by the tags which the police have awarded to those who have good posture.

Even though "Posture Week" ends Saturday there is hope for much permanent benefit from this activity.
