DEPUTATION TEAM IS REORGANIZED

Team To Present Program In The Churches Throughout
This Area.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team, which has been most conspicuous by its absence during the last several years, has been reorganized.

The reorganization of this team came about as a result of capable and energetic leadership on the part of the Y. M. C. A. president, D. R. Barber, and Mr. Paul Thompson, its sponsor, together with an efficient and hard working staff of officers and committeemen.

While the plans are not yet complete the first team has been organized. The members are Hugh Hodges and Thomas Cox, speakers; Carlton Carruth, Edward Carruth, John Roberts and Francis Trapnell, vocalists; and Ted Booker, director. The first presentation of the program to be given by this team was rendered in Vespers Sunday, Oct. 29. The theme was "Happiness."

The purpose of the deputation team is to serve as a representative body of the local unit of the Y. M. C. A. and college in spreading of Christian morals and principles in the communities to whose churches it may be invited.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVE HERE ON CAMPUS

Y. W. C. A. is Taking a Leading Part in Campus Activities.

Wednesday night, October 18, the Y. W. C. A. held its recognition services at which one hundred and twenty new members were installed. Azile Hartley conducted a very effective program, the theme being "Fellowship and Unity."

Ouida Wyatt and Emily Cromley had charge of the program Wednesday night, October 25. Miss Susie Hammack, guest speaker on this program gave a most helpful and interesting talk on the development of personality.

A musical program was presented Wednesday night, November 1. Participants were: Billie Turner, a violin solo; Catherine Gainey, a piano solo; Burdelle Harrison and Ouida Wyatt, a vocal duet.

The Y. W. C. A. is taking a leading part in campus activities. All the college girls are urged to affiliate themselves with this organization, and attend the weekly meetings regularly. This will aid in the realization of the Y. W. C. A.'s purpose, that of helping the girls of the college to successfully meet the needs of life.

Dr. DeLoach and Mr. P. E. Thompson represented the Statesboro Bird Club at the meeting. Mr. Thompson delivered an interesting and enlightening report at the regular business meeting of the Georgia Club.

The society unanimously agreed to have its next meeting at Statesboro, the home of the new president.

I. R. C. IS GIVEN BOOKS, PAMPHLETS

The Internationals Relations Club has received ten books and pamphlets from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. These books have been placed in the college library, where students can have access to them.

One of the books entitled, "A Political and Economic Survey of Southern Europe," is the only book in the library dealing with the Balkans. This book, as well as all the others, should prove of interest to the students.

"THREE CORNERED MOON" TO BE PRESENTED BY DRAMATIC CLUB

ALUMNI CLUBS BEING FORMED

The organization of alumni clubs is progressing rapidly. A number of graduates have manifested sincere interest in the plans and are willing to work on the idea.

The purpose of these clubs is to bring new life and spirit into the alumni association, to advance new interest in the school, and to make helpful contributions to the college.

There are many things that each person or group can do without any cost. It is hoped that there will be strong clubs in Savannah, Americus, Waycross, Swainsboro and Collegeboro. It is possible that there may be a club in Atlanta.

The activities of these clubs—if worked effectively—should make for a bigger and better home-coming, a loyal organization, and a more worthwhile and well known institution.

Morning Watch Services To Be Presented by the "Y".

At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday night, it was voted that the "Y" would sponsor "Morning Watch" programs in the lounge of Sanford Hall.

"He that is perfect in knowledge is with thee. Behold, God is mighty and despiseth not any."—Job 36:4-5.

INVITATION TO FRIENDSHIP.

Days pass by and with them glorious opportunities. The greatest, and perhaps the most neglected of these opportunities, is that of friendship. This is an opportunity that presents itself daily—that is within the reach of all—that is to be had with a minimum of effort on our part, yet its value can hardly be exceeded.

For some, this year marks the dawn of a college career; for others, the sunset. I know of nothing which can supply the gold so needed to make them so beautiful and inspiring, as the golden friendships you make. So, regardless of your class, your creed, your position—won't you be a friend?

There is no set formula on how to win friends. Just as people are different, so are their avenues to friendships different. Many books are available which treat the subject far more adequately than I can. However, I will mention some of the simpler things that work effectively—a smile, a friendly greeting, a word of encouragement, mutual interests (and sincerity always). One of our former faculty members, Dr. Allen E. Shearer, sums up beautifully his philosophy of friendship, "I do know that I am interested in people, and I usually look for, and find, the best in people. I encourage people to develop their strong points. I have never made it a practice to tell people about their weaknesses, but rather tell them that their strong points overbalance their weak ones. We really get out of life and see in people what we look for." Students who knew Dr. Shearer will attest that he, with his countless friends, should know whereof he speaks. Certainly we must have the desire and be interested in those whose friendship we seek.

So again let me urge you to accept this invitation to friendship. Let's call this the friendship year. Make friends with everyone, seek their companionship—great joy awaits you—you have everything to gain and nothing to lose; and remember, you pass this way only once. In future years you may regret the many friends you pass up so nonchalantly.

Diggings

We have heard the names Bagley and Miller coupled quite often lately. I wonder if anyone could supply the first names for us? Oh well, perhaps they know who we're talking about.

This B. L. Douglas is getting me down—I can't make him out. Is he trying out all the girls on the campus or is he just trying to find one that almost comes up to the girl he left behind? How about letting us in on your technique, ole boy?

At last! We were beginning to fear for Jimmy DeLoach this year, but it seems now that we were just wasting our time while we were doing all that worrying—'cause you see a little birdie told us that Jimmy is on the "go" again—again it's with a brunette—How is it Helen and Jimmy?

The pretty current "jitterbug dance" has at long last found its way to the football field. How the boys learn all the signals of a play used to be a mystery to me, but after seeing that Charlie "Ox" Smith can do both—learn signals and jitterbug—I just give up. Guess football is easier than I thought it was. How about it, Charlie, "Red"?

Listen! Bustles are on their way to T. C.'s campus! Boys, can you wait? I've always wanted to see a girl sit down in one of those things, and walk, too, as for that matter. How do you suppose a certain girl would look dancing in one of them, huh? I thought so!!!

So little Breezy thinks it's little Horn! I bet he's glad there are going to be D. S. boys at the dance Saturday. Well, aren't you, Herman?

It didn't take some girls long to forget last year's romances, did it? Take Frances Hughes for instance—Well, can't we, Frances?

There are some things Ye Ole Dirt Columnist just can't seem to dig up—one of the most important of this list is why the McGowan-Holloway partnership was dissolved. It's a mystery, it's a puzzle and I can't find the answer.

Well, how about these new lights that are being installed on the campus? Just so we can be sure that the boy who is with the girl is the same one she thinks he is—so Miss Veasey says. A thoughtful soul, isn't she? Yes, yes, yes,—Oh yeah! HUMPH!

"The boys are what the girls make them"—almost a T. C. proverb now. But how in the world are you going to know in what way to "make" them if you don't use some "subtle approaches"?

Speaking of "Jitterbug", that Langley boy is plenty hot. He seems to enjoy getting that girl off in his favorite corner of the "gym" and really "going to town". Langley is an excellent poet, too.

It seems that D. R. Barber and Tommie Gray used to be closely associated with each other. Maybe I'm just dreaming.

These dances in town are rather nice, aren't they? Yes, definitely.

This fellow Turner (the teacher) really "gets around." Maybe it's those eyes that helps him so.

Lou Ella really has a "big" time when a certain former T. C. football star makes a week-end visit on the campus.

THINGS SPIRITUAL

By LOY SCOTT

"If anyone forces you to go one mile, go two miles with him." (Matt. 5:41 American Translation).

I stopped at a fruit stand one day to purchase some apples. The proprietor, who was a Greek, was busy shining a box of apples with a piece of tissue paper. After watching him for a moment, I asked, "Do you get paid for that shine?" "Yes," he answered. "Well, give me some without the shine," I replied. "Oh, I do not charge any more for them, it's that I sell more apples by shining them."

The successful filling station operator gives you five gallons of gas, puts water in your radiator, checks your tires, cleans your windshield, and checks your oil for the price of the gas.

Do you ever check up on yourself to see how many times per day you go the second mile? Don't you enjoy being with people who have the spirit and habit of being nice? They seem to see the other fellow's side of the situation, and they cannot do enough to help you in carrying your burdens. And they never expect anything in return. Well, the other fellow feels as you do—he enjoys the same sort of company.

These little things form our characters and result in our destinies. Go the second mile and the miles will become halves.

Try shining the apple every chance you get.

W. A. A. HAS PLANS FOR THANKSGIVING

To Award Cup to the Best Decorated Dormitory That Day.

The W. A. A. will award a cup to the best decorated dormitory on Thanksgiving day, in accordance with rules adapted and used with success last year.

The following rules must be observed:

1. Decorations are to be judged on the basis of originality and attractiveness.
2. Decorations are to be on the outside of the dormitory—on the porch and on the campus immediately in front.
3. Decorations are to be completed by 9 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning.
4. Judges are to be elected by the W. A. A. as follows: Two persons from town, two alumni, and one faculty member.
5. Judges decision is to be reported to the president of the W. A. A. by 1 o'clock.
6. The cup is to be presented to the president of the W. A. A. to the president of the winning dormitory at the Thanksgiving banquet.
 - (a) The cup is to remain in the winning dormitory for one year.
 - (b) Any dormitory that wins the cup three years in succession keeps it.

Despite success stories the sad truth is that most men who start from the scratch have to scratch for a living the rest of their lives.

Buzzy Bag Bites.

The buzz of intra-mural football has been heard. (The B. D.'s compromising Carruths.) Nothing has been heard concerning the giving of the traditional "chicken supper" to the winners. Oh! This was to be a surprise. Don't hold out any longer—the "Eat'n Eight" would quit eating cake and play ball.

We can make no prediction as to the winner of the league. The D. S. and Pi Nu's are offering odds for the Bugger Dagger game. Up to date Bobby Carroll leads the league in scoring with 20 points. Our vote goes to Coleman, of the D. S., for being the hardest charging linesman, and Enlowe, the outlaw, best running back. "Heap Much Big" Wrinkle and P. F. "Plenty Fast" Thompson are chunking (and missing) for the Pi Nu's and Y. M. C. A., respectively. Cox of the Y. M. C. A. does not understand why Foaster didn't try a field goal after a touchdown; his argument was that three points is better than one. For an afternoon of good entertainment come and see these games. (Place) T. C. football field; (Time) 4:15 o'clock, usually in afternoons.

Extra! Extra! Game of impossibility played. Manless dance held on moonlit night by W. A. A. One of the ladies, "Our President," wore pants. And one and two and three thanks, Mrs. Bowen.

The girls turn-a-ment (Ham-mackian pronunciation) has been progressing rapidly.—The Y. M. C. A. play nights have been successful. Y. M. C. A. stands for an open invitation—"You May Come Also" on Saturday nights. You can play anything from ping pong on the checker board to horse shoes. Some bat the roosters tail with the hand rosette.

T. C.'s varsity team lost to Troy and Douglas but these were good ball games. In five games the Profs have scored 39 points to their opponents' 38. We are on the winning side according to the total points scored. Too, we haven't lost a home game yet (Nov. 3). Cason deserves credit for a good defensive game in Douglas. These boys fight hard against their old "alma Mames." Hall, Parker, Moss and Cox, we play Cochran the next game. Happy Nov. 10 to you boys. A word for the most improved T. C. football player, Pafford, who has broken into the starting line-up.

We are having the first real football weather. The best of preparations are being made for the Thanksgiving game. It is rumored that Coach Smith has ordered a shipment of anti-freeze for the players that day.

T. C.'s grandstand signal caller, Hugh Hodges, hasn't had a chance to run his team much lately. They played a great game against Snead. Let's see how much practice they

TOUCH FOOTBALL IS IN FULL SWING

Intral-mural touch football continues to be as interesting as it was at the first of the season. Rivalry becomes more and more intense as the teams begin to show their real strength. As the season nears the half way mark, no one can make a prediction as to which team will win the championship. This can readily be seen by the standing of the teams to date. The results of the games to this date (Nov. 2) and the standing of the teams are as follows:

First Week

Bugger Daggers	41	Enlow's O'laws	0
Iota Pi Nu	8	Delta Sigma	7
Y. M. C. A.	6	Warren	0

Teachers Lose To South Georgia

The Blue Tide dropped a close and hard fought game to the South Georgia Tigers Friday night, October 27. The score was 12-6. Douglas won the victory by playing their best game of the season.

In the first of the game neither team had the advantage; however, the Teachers having been pushed back deep into their territory by a Douglas kick, fumbled. The Tiger's Yancey raced around left end for the score to put them out in front.

The second quarter netted them no score. In the third period, play was see-saw, but it was featured by some exceptional kicking. Fritts, Tiger back, displayed some of the best punting seen by the Tide this season.

The fourth quarter provided plenty of thrills. Both teams scored on beautifully executed plays.

Cason played a jam-up defensive game for the Professors.

DESTLER SPEAKS

Dr. C. M. Destler was the Thursday afternoon speaker on the Forward Georgia program sponsored by the board of Regents over radio station W. S. B.

Dr. Destler emphasized that Georgia must co-operate with other southern states in the solution of her many perplexing problems.

Play Cochran Friday

The Blue and White boys go into action again next Friday night against one of their keenest rivals, the Wolverines of Middle Georgia College. Last season T. C. defeated Cochran here 3-0; this season the annual game will be played in Cochran and the tidesmen desire a victory more than ever before because many of T. C.'s players are ex-Wolverines.

The Profs will go to Cochran with the fitness of mid-season training plus the determination of bringing home the bacon. Although it is a week before the game, T. C. campus is alive with talk—Beat Cochran is the theme.

LECTURE SERIES

The first of a series of lectures to be given in Savannah this season, is to be held Wednesday night, November 22. At this time Major George Elliott, one of the most popular military authorities, is to speak. Student tickets for the entire series, which includes at least six lectures, sell for only three dollars.

SOCIAL DANCING

The social dancing class under the direction of Miss Sue Hammack is progressing nicely. Meeting during the leisure arts hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the past several weeks, those enrolled have shown steady improvement in fundamentals, and should be able to take care of themselves at the regular dances when the full six weeks' course is completed. Miss Hammack has been ably assisted by Meg Gunter and Frances Hughes in directing the class.

CLASS SPONSORS

Class sponsors were elected by each of the classes, except the Freshmen, last week. The sponsors were selected from the faculty members. The seniors chose as their sponsor Miss "Susie Q" Hammack. The juniors selected Miss Lillian Hogarth, and the sophomores voted in favor of Mr. E. D. Turner. A freshman sponsor will be selected soon.

PITTMAN SPEAKS

Dr. Pittman went to Blountstown, Fla., Friday, where he made two addresses before the Midwest Florida District Educational Association. Dr. Pittman chose as the topic for one of his speeches, "Education for Democracy."

Street lights are being placed at regular intervals over the front campus and will of course be of more value than that of aiding Miss Veasy in keeping up with her girls.

LOVE AT COLLEGE

By FRANCES GROOVER and EDWARD ALLEN

There was a deep yellow moon shining over beautiful Lake Wells. The music from the Professors Orchestra was filling the trees with a mellow softness as the June night was in full bloom at the little college in South Georgia. Jean and Butch had slipped from under the watchful eye of the dean of women and were seated side by side on the grassy bank, her head upon his shoulder. Jean looked longingly into Butch's eyes and whispered, "Darling, why do we have to part? Why can't this go on forever?"

"Jean, do you really care or have you been shooting me a line? I really do love you. If we part forever, I will surely die."

Finis.

P. S. They parted and he died at the ripe old age of 83. She married the next year and raised fifteen kids. Such is love at college.
