INGRAM HEADS STUDENT BODY NEVILLE TO BE VICE-PRESIDENT

Class Officers Have Also Been Chosen For Next Year

Joe Ingram, Nelson, was elected president of the Student Council for the 1940-41 term by defeating Eddie Najjar, Cedartown, by a forty-vote majority in the election Tuesday.

Ingram will be a junior here next year. He has been quite active in campus affairs since his entrance at T. C.

Other officers for Student Council were elected Thursday. Gesmon Neville, Statesboro, defeated John King, Hazlehurst, for vice-president in a close race. Catherine Gainey, Bainbridge, was victorious by a wide majority over Frances Hughes, Brooklet, for secretary of the Student Council.

Class election results follows:

Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE STEAK DINNER

Every Boy On Campus
Invited to Attend

A fellowship meeting under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. has been arranged for tomorrow evening, May 14.

A steak supper is to be served and the program will consist of group games and singing. All the boys are invited to this supper, which is to be held off the campus in the "out-doors."

The last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held May 1 in Sanford Lounge. The devotional was led by Fleming Daniel, followed by a prayer given by Nicholas Dunbar. Dot Cromley, president of the Y. W., and Bobby Carroll, president of the student body, gave very interesting talks. The program was concluded by a report given by Mr. Thompson, Y. M. C. A. faculty advisor, on the highlights of the meeting of the Christian conference held in Augusta.

Dr. Marvin S. Pittman has been secured to speak at the next Y. M. C. A. meeting, to be held May 15. Dr. Pittman's subject will be a continuation of the theme, "The Possibilities of the Y. M. C. A. on a College Campus," which began last meeting.

Mrs. Henry J. McCormack Issues Challenge To Alumni

President of Teachers College
Association Issues Challenging Statement to Other
Graduates of T. C.

During this unusually long winter perhaps some of our interests, enthusiasm, and ideals for our alumni work have been snuffed out by the cold. Several times Mother Nature has tried to pull back the curtain and present a new season. Just a breath of spring will naturally give us new zeal and the desire to work and achieve. Shall we then remain optimistic about the weather, our work, and all the complex problems which confront us at the present time?

Even amidst the storm and stress in other countries and the apprehension which we may feel at home there are many opportunities for our alumni to help relieve certain conditions in our local communities. In the face of conflicting problems and the many devices which are making high bids for our time, our talents, and our money, there are some things to which we must attend and others which we must ignore. Certain things remain steadfast, immovable, and worthwhile. Our homes, our schools, and our churches are probably the three institutions that have influenced our lives most. It is to these that we owe our respect and loyalty.

Many of our alumni have homes of their own and opportunities to help better society. Our schools have improved tremendously, but we are far from perfect. With G. T. C.'s teacher-training program and the large number of graduates who go out to teach each year Georgia should have the best schools in the land—provided we are working in our local situations with the greatest possible efficiency. The college stands ready and willing to help all those who want to help themselves and in turn help other boys and girls.

Have you visited the college recently? Do you know what you need and want in your particular situation? Everything at the college has changed some, even the physical appearance is almost beyond recognition of some of our earlier graduates. (Only Miss Maxie's ivy remains the same.) Some of us feel that we have no friends or close associates on the campus now who love us for ourselves and enjoy our friendship for the same reason. However, we do have many pleasant memories and the knowledge we gained. These will always remain with us and we would not willingly exchange them for any price. Deep in our hearts we all have a little "T. C. soft spot." Let's resolve to connect a chain of loyalty five hundred people long which is scattered throughout Georgia and other states.

May we all today begin making plans to return to the campus for

KITE CREATES ALUMNI CLUB

Wyatt Bonner, 1939 T. C. Graduate, is Selected Chairman.

On Hallowe'en night, October 31, 1939, the T. C.-ites in Kite met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. McCormack to celebrate and see the witches ride. After the fun and refreshments the group, though small, decided to organize a T. C. Club.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Wyatt Bonner; secretary, Virginia Edenfield; reporter, Tom Swift.

The Kite club has given one book to the social science department this year. When the band made its tour through Kite the club was host to the group and served them punch upon their arrival. The organization met once at Kite's famous "Sand Cut" for a wiener roast and general good time.

Several weeks after Kite's organization the club journeyed over to Swainsboro and assisted in organizing the Emanuel County Club.

Probably the most beneficial work done this year was that in connection with health in the negro school. Reading material, soap and pictures were given to the children.

SIXTEEN GRADS AT COLUMBUS

Alumni Chapter of Teachers' College Organized Here

When the public schools opened in September, much to our surprise we found there were twelve T. C. Alumni who were teaching and working in Columbus. Naturally our first thought was for all to get together in a little social gathering and renew acquaintances.

Evelyn Baggett and Marianne Castlen graciously accepted the responsibility of being hostesses for our meeting, and all twelve were present. There was much exchanging of experiences, while at Collegeboro and since the time of graduation. It was also decided at this time to organize a Columbus Alumni Chapter of Teachers College and to hold regular monthly meetings.

The twelve present wanted to become charter members of the chapter. They were as follows: Marianne Castlen, Myrtle Carpenter, Frances Knowlton, George Kenzie, George Carter, Mrs. Alvis Rushton, Evelyn Baggett, Verna Lassiter, Maude Shaw, William King, Willie Fields, and Alvis Rushton.

A nominating committee was named and the following officers were elected by the group at our next

TRADE AREA CLUB IS ORGANIZED

First Meeting of Club Is To Be Held June 1st.

Since Richmond county has only a small number of T. C. graduates, plans are under way to organize an Augusta Trade Area Club. Notices of an initial meeting to be held in Augusta on Saturday June 1st, will be sent soon to the following trade area alumni:

Miss Vera McElveen, Thomson, McDuffie; Martha Robertson, Bamberg, S. C.; Charles Munch, Langley-Bath; Eloise Preetorius, Bamberg, S. C.; Joe Buxton, Girard, Burke; Bessie Martin, Wrens, Jefferson; Marvin L. Powell, Midville, Burke; Frances Cone, Wrens, Jefferson; James D. Dickson Jr., Richmond Academy, Augusta; Hester Dixon, Gibson, Glascock; Derrell C. Sirmons, Georgia Medical College, Augusta; Mrs. Ethel L. Sigman, 127 Seventh street, Augusta, and Mary F. Webb, 127 Seventh street, Augusta.

WILLETS HEADS ALUMNI CLUB

Emanuel County Organization
Was Aided by Kite Club.

The Kite T. C. Club went on an organizing party in the early winter. Their stop was in Swainsboro where they joined with old T. C. students of Emanuel county to form a unit of the alumni association.

Mrs. Henry McCormack, president of the college alumni association, presided at the organization meeting. She told of plans the Kite group had made and were carrying out. Suggestions followed which the new group might have as their projects. One of the major goals indorsed by everyone was to encourage students to go to Teachers College.

These people were chosen as leaders for the new club: Chairman, Jeanette Willets, Graymont; secretary, Armine Davis, Swainsboro; treasurer, Wyatt Bonner, Kite;

This initial meeting was in the new

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION

Quite often one hears a highly-elated graduate remark, "Well, at last I am through with college." Of course a person who makes such a statement has not given much thought to it. In his state of supposedly sudden liberation he has forgotten the great duties which lie before him; he hasn't stopped to weigh the great implication of such a laconic remark. Because to say, when one receives his diploma of graduation, that he is entirely free from and dissociated with his old alma mater is in itself one of the greatest of errors and should be. In reality that time of his career should mark the beginning of the most important associations with the school at which he has spent four years in study.

To insure the continued association and contacts with the old alma mater all schools of any importance have alumni associations. Not all are effective; some are wholly inefficient. On the other hand there are many very capable alumni associations, and statistics show that it is always the most efficient alumni organizations which are connected with the best and highest ranking schools of the country.

It seems almost inconceivable that one could point out an institution of learning which needs and should encourage a more active and progressive alumni association than a teachers college. To localize the situation we shall bring the matter right down to our own Georgia Teachers College. This issue of the George-Anne in co-operation with its alumni is attempting to do just this by emphasizing more contact with the graduates of this school. We are trying to show that the value of co-operation between our graduates is immense. To begin with, we maintain that the valuable information which an alumni can give, having had the actual experience, should not be missed. Also, to be a bit more materialistic, we see the great value that a willing alumnus can give our placement bureau.

In conclusion, it might be well to recognize the creditable efforts which have been made by our graduates to become more active in educational affairs, and to organize into some form of a helpful association. But the weaknesses are there and must be overcome. With the start which has been made, the foundation is laid for a Georgia Teachers Alumni Organization which will merit ardent approval and will make T. C. felt all over Georgia and her neighboring states.

To The Alumni

By BOBBY CARROLL

What is an alumnus?

An alumnus is a person who has anteceding his name two or more letters.

Who, after receiving them, is considered privileged to associate with the people who, presumably, were four years ago, his betters.

However, I think that, upon remitting his four dollars for the fees of graduation—a diploma, sheepskin—;

An alumnus begins to face the situation that he, or she, from now on, keeps in,

And that is the unalterable fact that whatever is indulged in—first there must come expenses; No matter whether the individual uses his, some one else's or natural defenses.

An alumnus is one who, returning five years later—;

No matter what he was, trackman, janitor, or champ debater,

Gets nothing from the students but lowering, glowering grimaces,

Who wonder what the hell he's doing on the premises.

Unless he happens to be a well known superintendent,

In that case, he is followed around like the May Queen by her attendants.

An alumnus is one of those asked to be for the old Alma Mater a booster,

To make the college or the school so much better than it is now or was useta',

So that the students who come after will be a great deal better prepared than those who were the pioneers, so to speak;

In other words—the alumni get it in the neck and also on the beak.

An alumnus is one who, seeking through some transient means to justify the college's existence—

By writing to the college for what is called assistance

Suddenly find themselves confronted by, some fine morning, an official envelope inside of which is a plea from the alma mater designed to break down all sales resistance.

These letters always being so and so and so and so of such and such a recent date;

And though they are sent with the best of good Intentions seem to make of the alumni a group of finer expatriates.

Under normal conditions, I should think, most alumni would be pretty decent fellows,

Though it is to be understood that after four years of college each has developed a magnificent pair of bellows.

Which, of course, not to use them would be heresy to the Nth degree.

Just as much so if I forgot to Heil Hitler if I were he and he me.

However, let me say in contrast to all the foregoing, and then some, and also in all seriousness,

To come to college for four years and not be an alumnus is a matter of great concern to one and all. Some might say that they did not wish to be alumni in the first place, but that is merely a case, I fear, of mild deliriousness.

If I make use here, to a great degree, of poetic license,

I hope that each of you take it for granted that I take it for granted that you have of humor, a nice sense.

This, as you know, began with a question as to the how and the why and the relative merits of the alumni.

I trust that there will be found herein nothing that might be construed as so much as a mere suggestion of calumny.

This is being written, not for wealth, or fame, and also upon very short notice, or cash,

But with my profound and deepest apologies to our friend Ogden Nash.

Gather 'round chilluns and listen to the tale about a famous ride. No, it's not about Paul Revere's famous night ride, but it's about the three-day ride that fourteen fair students and three lovely (?) faculty members took to Savannah, Brunswick, St. Simons, Al Remler's, Johnny Harris's and other historical points of interest a week end or so ago.

First of all you should know the people on the tour. There was "Aunt Hattie" Newton, the conductor of the crew; Miss Mamie Jo Jones, of "Hannibal Crossed the Alps" fame, and Miss Julia McMahon, an immigrant from Texas. These were the teachers who accompanied the excursion.

Now the students on this trip were of the "highest" sort, (and don't misconstrue the meaning of the word "highest"). "Senator" Ed Allen, "Pedro" Wells, Bob Bell, Eary Byrd, John Roberts, Lawrence "Two-Gun" Enlow, Billy Cox, Adolph Drury, Arland Cooper, Clay "Pats" Waller, and "yours truly" were the boys; and Edith Davis, Dot Berry and Doris Toney were the young ladies. Now having eleven boys and only three girls presented quite a problem. Earl Byrd had a monopoly on Edith; John Roberts and Billy Cox kept in "CLOSE CONTACT" with Doris, and with Dot Berry running loose for eight boys to fight over, and one of them being Bob Bell, seven of them were doomed for defeat. This was the reason that some of the boys had to engage in a mild game of bridge for wholesome entertainment.

The first night was spent in the metropolis of Savannah at the De Soto Hotel. Our rooms were on the fifth floor, so we all had the thrill of riding the elevator. Adolph Drury was allowed to sit in a chair while riding on the elevator because he said he had "a funny feeling in his stomach when he rode one of those things." After thoroughly exploring the hotel, six of the boys went up to the Morning News office and inserted an article in the paper concerning our being in Savannah. While waiting for the paper to be printed so they could read the article before going to bed, they proceeded to explore Savannah in the same manner they had explored the hotel. A most enjoyable time was had in doing so, although "Senator" Allen said he was held up by several one-armed bandits. Don't know just how this young fellow got to be named "Senator" but I guess it's because he visits Congress. How is it Pedro? Surely you aren't a senator, too.

After seeing all the things of interest in Savannah and vicinity we headed for St. Simons, stopping en route to see Midway, Darien, Brunswick, and last but not least, Henry Ford's plantation at Ways. It was here that Miss Newton had a most enjoyable ride with one Mr. Gregory, who showed us over the surroundings. You see, Mr. Gregory and Miss Newton rode on ahead and led the way for "Fats", "Blue Boy" and the rest of us history-making students.

St. Simons proved to be a most enjoyable place in every respect. The King and Prince Club which was located directly in front of our hotel did not come up to the HIGH standards that our group likes a night club to meet (who's a liar), so we all meandered over to "Speck's" Cafe and enjoyed a few hundred games of bowling. This was right down "Two Guns" alley, and he bowled 102 which was unusual for such a swanky place as Specks'. It was in this joint, I mean establishment, that we met Sully Davis and some of his Brunswick cronies who had traveled over

BUZZY BAG BITES By BAGLEY

Ye Editor thinks that intramural softball officials should be given a little mention. This spring softball has been very lively—officials of a ball game can make it very interesting. For instance, take this boy we all thought was wild because he ran off and left tackles in the ball game. For you who do not remember him it was Billy Cox. This spring he goes unexcelled as a strike calling chief. When he sticks out his knubs to signify a ball or a strike the grandstand does not doubt the decision. Cox is not the only "flashy" official in softball. Dunbar and Wells form a mighty good combination.

While on the subject of softball we might mention how Coach Smith might keep from losing a bet. If he bets a pop on one team he should bet a pop on the other team. Coach, if you bet this way and the game is a tie don't blame the editor for making suggestions.

We all speak of ball players' ability but never mention it much. Ed Allen showed signs of ability with "dis" placed in front of it when he disbanded his ball team. Allen has decided to win ball games in his room from now on.

The first round of the softball season has finished this past week. The Bugger Daggers moved into first place by defeating the Rowell team and Faculty. The first round saw each team play every other team. The second round will be a repetition of the first. The teams of the league are so evenly matched that ye editor is unable to predict the winner now. From all accounts there are five teams who have a chance to play in the play-off. From now until the last game is played the games are going to be watched with enthusiasm.

First to show you what good athletics can do to make a team we will mention the best tennis player on the campus. Crawford (Alley-Cat) Parker won his match against Armstrong 6-2 and 6-0. This was one of the matches that secured the first tennis victory T. C. has had in several years. Calling back a few years we find Crawford and Bobby Carroll playing each other in the state high school finals.

At the end of the softball season the boys always select an all-star team so you might begin to look around for the best catchers and chunkers in the league. When we say best catchers, etc., we mean the one that does his own team the most good—not the one that does the most teams the most good as in the case of Bob Bell who pitches for Rowell's team.

"I thought that you said that you'd call your mother if I kissed you."

"That one ain't even worth telling her about."

BUGGER DAGGERS STILL HOLD LEAD

At the beginning of the second half of the softball league Managers Eddie Allen and Joe Hurst withdrew their teams from play. This leaves only seven teams in the league to battle for the four positions in the playoff. The second half is expected to be completed in the next two weeks.

With the addition of new players on almost every team the league is becoming very fast. Some of the new players are: McGowan, Gene Gregory, and "Red" Henderson of the "Y;" Leland Moore of the Faculty; Davis and McDougald have joined the Boxers.

At the first of the season Coach "Bear" Smith offered $10 to the teams that beat him. To date three teams have sat the "Bear" down and will be glad to compromise for a soda-pop around. Better luck to the "Bear" in these last few games.

We are hoping the batting averages will be posted in the next week or so, in order that we may be able to collect some of our bets on our batting averages. What about it, Mr. Wrinkle? From the talk on the campus every one is hitting over .300. It is reported that the Faculty has a better average than that.

The following standings include Thursday's games:

T. C. TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS ARMSTRONG JUNIOR COLLEGE TWICE

Coach Smith Urges Training Coaches

There was a time in Georgia education when anyone who had a little "learning" could be called upon to teach, likewise anyone with the ability to throw a baseball could be called upon to coach. Today we know that teaching is too important and the lives of our youth too precious and the needs of the world too great to be handled carelessly. We must have the same idea concerning coaching. There is a way to coach just as there is a way to teach.

The first and perhaps the most essential step in preparing to coach is when the individual had gained a profound respect for the profession and an earnest regard for the opportunities it offers of he becoming a constructive engineer in human personalities.

The men who do the best job of teaching engineering are engineers. They have studied their subjects, they have a special liking for the subject, and they have done research in their field. Their teaching is effective in proportion to their background of information and interest.

In the same way, a coach should be an athlete. He should have tried to "make a team." It isn't necessary that he should have been the star or even one of the best men on the team, but unless he has been in the game he will generally be unsympathetic and entirely too cold and mechanical towards the task he will set for his players.

He has benefited much if he has had the experience of "scrubbing" for two or three years without being awarded a letter. He will know what it means to give every man a chance and how to be a friend to the man that loses out.

Then of course a man should know the game he is trying to teach. Modern football, basketball, baseball, boxing and track are intricate games. Man spends years in studying them. Every game has its basic rules and formations that every coach should know. Both knowledge, knowledge of diagrams and blue prints is one thing and actual playing knowledge is another.

We mean that an effective coach should have played the game before trying to teach it. This article is written for two-fold: (1) So many of our boys get a chance to teach if they can coach. They are not qualified to coach, therefore lose their best teaching opportunities. There are many boys each year that ask me to recommend them for coaching jobs but my conscience says "no." (2) Every individual that goes out for a vascity sport should not only

GEECHEES PROVE TO BE EASY PREY

(By ACE MORRISON)

The Teachers' netmen went into action again last week and came out with two victories over a strong team from Armstrong Junior College of Savannah. The scores were 5-2 and 7-1. Never during either of the two matches did the Geechees prove any scare to the Teachers.

The star of the matches was "Alley Cat" Parker, Millen flash, who came out with two victories over Horace Opplinger, A.J.C.'s number one man, 6-0, 6-2.

Results of the first match, which was played in Savannah, are as follows: "Alley Cat" Parker whitewashed Opplinger 6-0 and 6-2.

Haygood Morrison waylaid Nat Roane 3-6, 6-2 and 6-4. "Evolution" Rowell defeated Perry Reynold 6-8, 6-1 and 6-4. Bobby Carroll lost to David Burnette 6-1, 2-6 and 6-0. Tom Jenkins beat Irving Victors 6-3, 8-10 and 6-3.

As far as the doubles were concerned, Parker and Carroll defeated Opplinger 6-1 and 6-3.

In the second matches which were played at T. C., "Alley Cat" Parker beat Opplinger 6-3 and 6-2. Morrison beat Roane 5-7, 6-2 and 6-4. "Evolution" Rowell beat Reynolds 4-6, 6-1 and 6-4. Bobby Carroll was defeated by Reynolds 6-4, 5-7 and 6-1. Tom Jenkins defeated Victor, default. Harry Burney beat Klinger 3-6, 6-4 and 7-5.

In the doubles Rowell and Morrison won over Opplinger and Roane 4-6, 6-2 and 6-1. Parker and Carroll defeated Barnett and Reynolds 6-2 and 6-7.

ASSUMES DUTIES IN FALL QUARTER

Other Members of Staff to be Selected by Sanders in Fall.

Elbert "Corn" Sanders, popular junior from Pembroke, has been selected as editor of the George-Anne for next year by the faculty committee on publications, it was announced by Prof. Robert F. Donaldson, chairman of the committee. Sanders is to succeed Nicholas Dunbar, who graduates in June.

Sanders will take charge of the paper in the fall, and the staff will be selected at that time. The ruling is that the staff is selected by the editor and approved by the committee.

Sanders has been associate editor of the paper this year and has had much experience with all phases of the editorial management. "Corn" has maintained a very high scholastic average throughout his college career, and is well equipped to take over the duties of editor.

Sanders says no selection for associate editor has been made.

DUX DOMINA

The members of the Dux Domina and their dates enjoyed the picnic given for them Saturday afternoon at the Foy cabin, near Statesboro.

A Penthouse Serenade was the motif of the Dux spring formal. The glamour girls and play boys stepped into an elevator which carried them into another atmosphere among the tops of skyscrapers. The midnight blue sky sprinkled with stars could be seen above contrasted with the outline of the skyline. From the very first the dancers began seeing double. Pink elephants, dice and $100 bills were seen everywhere.

The members and their dates were: Catherine Gainey, Major Cowart; Rose Lockhart, Ned Warren; Sibyl Strickland, Billy Talbert; Margie Cobb, Tom Vandiver; Mary Powell, I. W. Bragg; Mary T. Perry, John King; Betty Wynn, Bill Franklin; Nancy Salley, John Smith; Virginia Blitch, Edwin Groover; Joyce Jones, Joe Cox; Cleo McLeod, Willard Carlee. Old members back were: Fay Foy, Marion Lanier, Myrtle Larisey. Invited guests were: Maxann Foy, Margaret Brown, Beulah Rogers, Tommie Gray, Jackie Cowan, Carolyn Morris, Mrs. Marion Carpenter and Bernice Griffin.

Before the dance an informal supper at the Jaekel Hotel was enjoyed by the Dux and their dates.

EPICUREAN

Tuesday night the Epicureans had their regular meeting in the parlor of East Hall. Hostesses for the meeting were Frances Breen and Martha Wilma Simmons. At this time the following officers were elected to serve next year: President, Betty Smith; vice-president, Frances Hughes; secretary, Frances Deal; treasurer, Frances Breen; chaplain, Ouida Wyatt.

IOTA PI NU

The Pi Nu's and their dates were entertained with a picnic held at Lott's Creek last Saturday afternoon. About fifteen members and pledges were present with their dates.

New officers for the coming year were elected at the last meeting. They are: President, John King; vice-president, Herman Wrinkle; secretary, David Bowman; treasurer, Ross Rountree; chaplain, Sam Rumph; historian, I. W. Bragg; sergeant at arms, Wayne Culbreth.

These officers will be installed at the annual spring formal to be held

June 1. Plans and arrangements are being made for this occasion and several old members are expected to be present.

BUGGER DAGGERS

Mr. W. B. Moye, faculty sponsor of the B. D.'s was present at the club meeting last Wednesday night and presented an enjoyable talk.

Pat Pagett, student sponsor, was also at the meeting.

Plans were discussed for the May 25 formal, and committees appointed to work out the aims and ideals of the club for next year.

DELTA SIGMA

The officers of the Delta Sigma Fraternity for the coming year were elected Wednesday night as follows: President, Tom Vandiver; vice-president, Gerald Groover; secretary, J. W. Zetterower; treasurer, Harry Robertson. Catherine Gainey will be student sponsor for the coming year, and Mr. Daymond Turner faculty sponsor.

DELTA LAMDA DELTA

Notice: The Delta Lambda Delta members will not be on the campus of "Ye Olde College" next week end. They will be the guests of Winona Carpenter, and will celebrate their annual "Spring-quarter-week-end" in town. Sunday morning the members will treat their unsuspected dates to a breakfast at the Tea Pot. At a formal luncheon at the same place, different time, the members will observe the thirtieth anniversary of the sorority. To revert to history, the Delta Lambda Delta Sorority was the first one founded at T. C. and, if you like dates (don't we all?), 1926 was the year.

At the regular meeting Tuesday night the plans for the week end were drawn up and objectives of the sorority for next year were mapped out. The hostesses were Peggy and Helen Hardwick and Carolyn Foster.

Plans were made to have a picnic at Lott's Creek on Saturday afternoon, May 18. Asa Barnard was appointed to act as chairman of the social committee for working up the details for the picnic.

to St. Simons for "a bit of night life at Specks."

Sunday was spent in going to church, visiting historical spots, and making a special visit to the swanky Cloister Hotel where all the boys took pride in lighting a cigarette, taking a puff or two, and throwing it down in front of some of those "big shots" who were staying at the hotel.

The trip home on Sunday night brought the three day affair to a close. We had all seen so much in such a short time until once when I looked around I couldn't tell whether "Pedro" Wells was smoking or whether that was the fog he was in.

Seriously though, the Georgia History trip was a most educational, interesting and valuable experience and one from which much benefit was derived. I recommend the trip as being superb.

DIGGINGS

"Diggings" was pushed out of its honored place this time, but dirt still ensues on the campus . . . even if it isn't published in the regular place.

It seems that the unemployment list has gained widespread fame. Two little girls by the name of Carolyn Stevens and Betty Jane Collins from Shorter and several T. C. belles have answered the call of the love-lorn. It pays to advertise, eh, boys?

Ah, do come in, Chesley, the water is fine, and you can swim this one out.

Colbert and Miriam are in the mood. The little girl from Andrew is seldom heard from now since Miriam has come in sight.

Sir Lancelot Turner is dreaming again 'tis rumored. Anyway, we know he's lancing future authors.

West Hall is in mourning since Miss Edenfield isn't coming back next year. We thought it was Miss Veazy who needed the advanced education.

The dirt column promised to print something nice about Dell Rountree. Honestly, we think Dell is a swell girl. The dirt column isn't used to throwing roses, so we will throw orchids.

The Bachelors are going high-brow on us in the annual Bachelor's Ball. They say you can't get better entertainment at any night club.

We hear that Hamil didn't have "Peck" enough to hold the Farmer. How is it, Bob?

It seems that Jackie Cowan tried to put Mary Catherine Thomas and Anne Cullens in business last Saturday night. Was their face red, or should we say face?

Election was rather dull, but Mary Isabel has an idea. We like her idea of standing before the polls in a bathing suit.

We ain't calling names, but several boys besides Joe Pat think Doris Toney is the "cutest thing on legs."

Mary C. Thomas believes in "keeping it in the family." Jimmy went but J. W. took his place.

Bachelors' Ball Set For May 16

The Bachelors Club will presents its second production of the year on May 16 in the college gymnasium, with the third annual Bachelors' Ball being the occasion.

To those who attended the ball last year, it needs no introduction, but for the benefit of the newcomers, the entertainment is in the form of a night club. It is T. C.'s night club for one night's stand only. There will be entertainment of all kinds. The keynote of the 1940 Bachelors' Ball is to be "class." Marion Carpenter will furnish the music for dancing with your lady. There will positively be no breaking allowed. Boys, it's the chance of a lifetime to take your girl and dance with her! Dances must be arranged at the tables before the dance begins, or if the notion strikes you, you may start in the middle of the dance. Rules governing the Trianon, or the Aragon will be observed.

All Bachelors will take part in the show. Bobby Carroll will be the master of ceremonies, and the entertainment will feature comedy, dancing, burlesque, the Bachelor's specialty, which it is rumored will be a tango to sequel the waltz of last year, and acrobatic dancing by a group from Savannah.

There will be tables reserved for those who wish to dance, and the on-lookers who do not wish to dance can sit in the balcony for a cheaper price.
