PLANS MADE FOR GRADUATIONJUNIOR CLASS TO GIVE DANCE
FOR THE SENIORS JUNE SIXTH*DANCE TO FOLLOW
LANTERN WALK*Seniors To Be Entertained Often During Final Week.

The Junior Class will begin a tradition this year when they entertain the Senior Class with a gala dance in the Alumni building on Thursday evening, June 6. College examinations are over Thursday at noon and graduation exercises are on Friday morning.

According to D. R. Barber, president of the Junior Class, the dance will begin immediately after the annual senoir lantern walk which will begin about 7 p. m. The lantern walk features a final parade of the seniors to all the buildings on the campus and appropriate talks by certain members of the class at each of the buildings.

The lantern walk is being arranged by Nick Dunbar, Billy Talbert and Miss Sue Hammack.

Intermission will be held in the college dining hall and refreshment will be served under the direction of committees from the class. A short program will also be given.

This dance is a part of the many entertainments to be given the seniors during the final week.

DR. C. A. LINN TO DELIVER SERMON*Ninety-Two Students to Receive Diplomas Here June 7th.

Dr. S. V. Sanford, chancellor of the University System of Georgia and former president of the University of Georgia, will deliver the commencement address for the 1940 graduating class of Georgia Teachers College Friday morning, June 7, at 10:30 o'clock.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given by Dr. C. A. Linn, pastor of the Lutheran church of Savannah, Sunday morning, June 2, at 11:30 o'clock.

The two speakers are well known individuals in Georgia and need no introduction. Dr. Sanford is a guest of the college at regular intervals throughout the year and is always cordially welcomed to the campus.

Dr. Linn is a prominent pastor of this section of Georgia and a most inspiring man.

The college is graduating ninety-two students. Ninety of the graduates are getting a B.S. degree in education and two are getting normal diplomas.

A complete list of the graduates will be found elsewhere in the paper.

GAINEY AND NEVILLE ARE CHOSEN TO EDIT REFLECTOR

Catherine Gainey, attractive and popular junior, of Birmingham, Alabama, was selected by the junior class as editor of the 1940-41 edition of The Reflector at a recent meeting of the class.

Gesmon Neville, Statesboro, was chosen business manager of the book.

Both Miss Gainey and Mr. Neville have taken an active part in student activities here.

A nominating committee composed from the junior class selects the officers. They are then turned over to the publication committee for approval. The junior class then accepts or rejects the nomination.

W.A.A. OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

W.A.A. officers for the school year 1940-41 were elected at a meeting of all the girls on Wednesday, May 15. Frances Hughes, of Brooklet, was elected president, and Lila Nesmith, of Nevils, was elected vice-president. These two were unopposed. Katherine Morgan defeated Nellie MacDaniel in a close race for secretary-treasurer. The other members of the W.A.A. Council were elected by the present council at the last regular meeting.

HONORS DAY AT
TEACHERS COLLEGE*J. C. Ward Will Be The Speaker
For the Occasion.

Nineteen Georgia Teachers College students will be honored here Friday, May 31, at the annual "Honors Day" program, twelve for scholarship and seven for service and leadership, Dean Z. S. Henderson has announced to the faculty.

The annual "honors day" program will be held in the college auditorium at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning with J. C. Ward, a member of the division of social science of the college, as the speaker.

The twelve students to be honored for scholarship are: Ann Breen, of Jesup; Ira Lois Brown, of Leslie; Thomas Cox, of Attapulgus; J. A. Gardner Jr., of Pulaski; Miriam Girardeau, of Claxton; D. B. Gould, of Statesboro; Mary Edna Gunter, of Louisville; Fleming McDaniel, of Waycross; Mattie Lee Pagett, of

SO LONG, EVER-BODY!

I have tried to refrain from being personal in my editorials this year, but usually precedents are broken by editors when they sit down to write the "last lines" for their paper.

Yes, this is the last issue of the George-Anne for the year, and with it I must say bye-bye. It's been a great year for me being your editor. I've really gotten a thrill out of it in spite of the sleep I've lost on Wednesday and Thursday nights before each publication. Without a faithful and loyal staff, however, an editor would be doomed for defeat. That's why I want to express at this time a word of gratitude to my staff. Of course, every newspaper has some "dead wood" on it and the George-Anne is no exception, but all-in-all the staff on this year's paper was "tops." I would like especially to praise Rose Lockhart, the dainty society editor; Hendry Bagley, sports editor; Pat Pagett, my favorite reporter, and "Corn" Sanders, my associate editor, and who I feel sure is going to make an excellent editor next year, for their faithful and unexcelled work. The main thing, though, is that we hope you have enjoyed reading the paper. We sincerely tried to report the news in an interesting way and give you what you enjoy reading.

To finish this, I would like to say a few words about Georgia Teachers College, a place I love. Bill Chambliss, Ernest Trowell, and I have the distinction of being the three boys who entered school together as freshmen in the fall of 1936, and who have been here each quarter of the regular terms since and will graduate June 7. We have all experienced grand times, heartaches, and headaches here together, but wouldn't trade our four years at T. C. for anything. This school isn't perfect, but we all love it and will ever cherish it as we go through life.

The old clock out in the hall is slowly but surely ticking away minutes, bringing us closer with each tick to June 7. . . . I hate like everything to say it, but in the words of Kay Kyser, "So Long, Ever-body!"

Diggings

As this last edition of the dirt column goes to press, ye olde editors have tears in their eyes that there is no more dirty things on the campus than thar be.

It is too bad Jake Ward won't be back on the campus to spread dirt among the faculty. The Faculty Men's Club won't have such a collection of jokes now.

We saw a boy and girl "going to town" back of the library Wednesday night. Of course they might live in town.

It couldn't be that Eula Beth was too fickle for David. She has been seen Bobbing around with Harris. Remember, David, faint heart never won fair dame.

The college was going up on the dining hall price for next year until they heard that D. R. wasn't going to be back. The waitresses won't have anybody to eat with since D. R. and Miss Edenfield are both going to be gone.

The Bachelors putting on a clean show? Impossible! It was done though.

This editor knows of three couples on the campus that are engaged. There may be more, but good luck to all of them.

Could it be the roaches and bugs in Tommie Gray's room that caused the bruises on her arms and leg, or could it be the couples courting on the campus while Tommie was taking her weekly dip?

Has Wade Hampton joined the Annelle Hendricks Club? Every other boy has.

Congratulations Miriam and Bubby. You have made the dirt column mighty few times in your courtship. Good living pays, eh what?

We wonder who Cecil's competition is that makes him get up so early to do his courting. They say that the Early Bird Catches the Worm. No reflections cast, though.

What became of those cute Can Can Girls that were on the campus Thursday night? Several of them got proposals.

Dell Rountree !?&*&!!$ Whee ! ! ! !

It is true that Jimmy Connolly went to the D. S. dance with Anne Cullens? What happened to the other girl from Waycross?

The Season's Romances are now drawing to a close, and among those still faithful, forever, we find: Homer Blitch, Lib Miller; Billy Talbert, Virginia Morris; Hendry Bagley, Froggy Breen; B. L. Douglas, Sibyl Strickland; Sam Rumph, Martha Wilma Simmons; Joe Stanford, Olive Reppard; Wade Hampton, Emmie Freeman; Tom Jenkins, Betty Smith; G. C. Coleman, Carolyn Morris; Abie Green, Helen Conner; Li'l Abner, Daisy Mae; Frank Olliff, Dimp Groover; Theron Anglin, Fran Harrison; Albert Braswell, Doris Toney.

This is all the dirt for this year, but we know this place will be running over with it when next fall comes 'round.

Good-bye and "30."

MAN: FAUX PAS

By BOBBY CARROLL

Man, created first, declared war upon his first and nearest neighbor—and the ultimate victor has not yet been decided. However, they who lost are myriad. Man has found an outlet for his lust—in time, perhaps, woman could furnish a plan for the curtailment of the bloodlust of man.

Let the women weep—
Let their tears of anguish seep
Back, back into the fear filled earth—
Drown their mirth—
Only tears and death can rule—
Still in Flanders field no birds sing—
Drowned by the shrill trajectory of the shells—

Man's tuning fork of unviolable lust.
Let us write an epitaph to man—the fool!

Here lies:
Beneath this twisted mass of Science
What might have been the glory and the power—
Potentially a voice projecting past any hour

We have known—
Scattering wisdom's words as seeds to

Be sown
Upon the fertile ground of consciousless reliance—

But the voice is still—starved prenatally

Into a raucous, inarticulate cacophony of
Screams and whines and hollow moans,

Mingled with the castanetic clatter of

The bones
That once were men, or faintly so,—
Daguerreotype—weak and cheap—
Magdalena, do you still weep?

Women, hold your breasts—
Soft, silent and powerful breasts—
Inviolable till men have learned
To make a place for their descendants
Before their appetites become first appeased.

Or there shall come a day, when,
high above,—

And with no eyes to see
But those of imbecilic, haunted mockery—

The hawks will fly,
Scrawling their endless dissertation with

Their feathered styluses on a reeling
Teal blue wind against the papyrus of

The sky.
And there will be for man—nothing
But the torn facades

Of his buildings that were wrecked by

Hand grenades
And all the art of Science and of man—

Who prefer to prostrate life before the scowling gods.

Woman, take your place, exert your will toward peaceful motherhood—

Curb the elementary, primordial arch-urge to have

Your sons born into a shell-shocked world,

Weary with the clatter of its morals broken in the streets.

Magdalena, still you weep?

BAG'S LAST BUZZY BITES

By BAGLEY

With a bang of might the Buzzy Bag Bites—now the Buzz buzzes for the last time as the Anne stops for the 1940 summer vacation.

A review of the ball seasons show some interesting things. The Blue Tide athletics are now at a jumping place. The '39 football team broke even by winning 5 and losing 5. The record of not losing a home game is a challenge to the 1940 squad. To have a ball team it must be built from year to year—we saw Coach Smith get results from the group of players who reported in September. Next September this same force should be back to get better results. From the looks of the equipment office, everything is in line for the next football season. Coach Smith must be commended for the new system of handling equipment. In the intramural football league the Bugger Daggers ran away with honors, going undefeated for the season and being scored on only once, that being on an intercepted pass.

The basketball squad won ten out of fourteen games. Two of these losses were to professional teams—the Celtics and the Whiskered Wizards. Douglas took an early game probably because of lack of practice. Erskine beat T. C. in a close game 28-25—this team won over such teams as Stetson by large scores. The basketball team of 1940 did a good piece of work but needed more substitutes. The speed of basketball is almost too much for one player to play the whole game—it should be remembered that the ten-second rule has made a race horse game on the hardwood. In the intramural basketball league we saw some good ball games. The N.Y.A. team won the league by playing a good brand of ball. As a hint to Coach Smith—you may look over this group as some would develop into fast Tide boys.

The intramural softball season has probably been more hotly contested this year than ever before. The teams were evenly matched and the league ended in a battle for a chance in the playoff. Rowell's team and the Bugger Daggers ended up at the head of the league. The Pi Nus and the Y.M.C.A. wound up in third and fourth place.

Many boys deserve mention for their athletic ability this year. The seniors who have played one of the sports during each season are: Hershel Hamil, Billy Talbert, Asa Barnard, Ye Editor, Joe Joyner, I. W. Bragg, Nick Dunbar, "Major" Cowart, Edward and Carlton Carruth, Ernest Trowell, Bobby Carroll, Hugh Maxwell and Clifford "Pedro" Wells. All of these boys have had valuable experiences with sports on the campus.

Graduating does many things—

Softball Play-Off Is Being Held

The final round of the softball intramural play-off begins this afternoon on the local diamond.

The Bugger Daggers and the Iota Pi Nus will play until one team has won three games. The winner of this series will be softball champions this year.

The Bugger Daggers advanced to the final round by trimming the Y. M.C.A. in two straight games, 19-6 and 6-0. The Pi Nus eliminated Rowell's team by defeating it twice in a three-game series.

STEP-SINGING

A number of departmental clubs, dormitories, and social clubs have announced their participation in the step-singing contest to be held Wednesday evening, May 29, on the East Hall steps. This event is sponsored by Mr. Pittman and Mr. Booth.

East Hall was accorded first place in the contest last year. The Epicurean sorority won the second place.

Challenge to students who will be back next year—keep the campus clean. Make it a credit to T. C.

To mention one is to say that it makes it impossible for me to continue as a sprayer of words at T. C. When we say spray it must be taken literally, for in a column of this sort a disinfectant is always needed. A disinfectant always smells bad, so we won't mention the name of the person who killed all the bad things that would have been in this column this year.

The buzz has gone now—the Bite will probably wear off as quickly, although the last Bite shouldn't swell anyone up.

Bye-bye, now—and may T. C. have "bigger and better" teams.

TEACHERS BEAT SAVANNAH HIGH

"Alley Cat" Parker Wins Savannahian's Hearts.

By ACE MORRISON

The T. C. netters journeyed over to Savannah to play Savannah High on Wednesday, May 15, and natchly brought home the bacon. The score was 4 to 3. Rowell and Burney won their single matches and the double teams of Morrison-Rowell and Parker-Jenkins took theirs.

With the score tied up at 3 to 3, Parker and Jenkins went into the final match against Lang and Faulk. Our boys were trailing one set and the Savannah boys had us 2 love in games in the second set when a couple of lassies arrived and started cheering for "that good-looking boy with glasses on," meaning none other than "Alley Cat" Parker. This gave our boys just what we needed and we won the match 3-6; 6-2; 6-4.

Scores of the single matches are as follows: "Alley Cat" Parker lost to Lang 6-3, 7-5; Ace Morrison was waylaid by Knudson 6-4, 6-1; Tom Jenkins lost to Faulk 9-7, 9-7; "Revolution" Rowell defeated Winn 6-3, 6-2; Harry Burney defeated Watson 6-4, 7-5.

Love what ye will love,
And what ye will love,
Let it be truth.
No man prospers by
Straying from his path
To obtain some desired
Object surrounded by thorns.
No man gains by losing his
Judgment and grasping
That ever present thing called sin,
That thing which is always
Trying to gain some corner
In his heart,
To push truth far from
His soul and be all powerful.
Love what ye will.
Love not things that
Take you off "the straight
And narrow," oh son of man—
Oh, children of God.

DUX DOMINA

The Dux Domina sorority held its regular meeting Thursday night. Officers for the year 1940-41 were elected as follows: President, Catherine Gainey; vice-president, Mary Powell; secretary, Margie Cobb; treasurer, Mary T. Perry. Miriam Girardeau and Doris Sands were hostesses.

BUGGER DAGGERS

Milton Findley, Lyons, has been elected president of the Bugger Daggers for the fall term of next year. Other officers are: Charles Alford, vice-president; Willie Hugh Hinely, secretary and treasurer; Chesley Whitley, adjutant general; John Dunn, sergeant-at-arms, and Carl Hutchins, chaplain.

DELTA SIGMA

The Delta Sigma fraternity was host Saturday at its regular spring banquet and dance. A tea dance was given in the afternoon from 3 to 5:30 at the new Statesboro High School gym. This was in the form of a regular dance, with guests and visitors present. At 7:30 the party returned to the gymnasium for dancing until 9:00 when it adjourned to the Rushing Hotel for the banquet and installation of new officers. At 10:00 the dance was continued until 12:00 in the high school gym. Many old members were back and this was one of the largest functions ever given by the fraternity.

SIGMA GAMMA

The spring formal of the Sigma Gamma sorority was held Saturday, May 4, at the Rushing Hotel, including a banquet and a card dance.

The theme carried out in the decorations was "Night and Day," in correlation with the theme song of that name. The theme song was printed in white block letters on black paper and pasted on the wall.
