Kemp Answers Reflector Question

Dear Editor:

In the last issue of the George-Anne there appeared the following question: "Where Are Our Reflectors?" In the article which followed under the heading, it was stated that the Reflectors were nowhere in sight. Since this article aroused much interest among the students, I was asked to make a statement concerning the Reflectors.

The Reflectors are now definitely in sight. There is a probability that they will be distributed the latter part of this week or the first part of next week. The proof has been corrected and returned to the company and we are now awaiting shipment of the completed yearbooks. The annuals are not late when compared

SUMMER SESSION BEGINS JUNE 8

Large Attendance Expected In Seventy-Five Courses That Are To Be Offered

Teachers College 1942 summer session with two terms offered, the first from June 8 to July 14, and the second from July 15 to August 21, will begin three days after the close of the regular spring session, under the speed-up program.

This summer the college will offer approximately 75 courses in ten fields with the regular college faculty augmented by several visiting guest members.

During the first term of the summer session the college will conduct a system workshop. This workshop will provide an opportunity for the principal and all or some of his teachers from different schools of the state to work on their problems during the summer and receive credit for two courses in education.

High school graduates may enter at the beginning of the summer session and by remaining in college continuously complete the requirements for a degree in three years. The following freshman courses will be offered this summer: Introduction to Education, General Shop, Farm and Home Mechanics, Introduction to Home Economics, Art in Life, English Composition, Introduction to Music, Fundamentals in Public School Music, Human Biology, Farm Life in Georgia, Trigonometry, Communications, College Algebra, Physical Science Survey.

The Laboratory School will operate on the campus during the first term

FACTS ABOUT NAVY V-1 at TEACHERS COLLEGE

The Navy's V-1 Plan under which Freshmen and Sophomores from 17 through 19 years of age can continue their courses and prepare to become officers in the Naval Reserve has been accepted by our school. Hundreds of colleges and universities are backing the Navy's V-1 program, and thousands of students in other schools have already enlisted under this plan.

Only 80,000 men will be accepted annually for this training, but the Navy wants these men to be fully acquainted with all V-1 details before enlistment. Many questions have been asked. In this column we will answer those most frequently asked and in addition carry informative articles covering all phases of V-1 activities. Some questions asked are:

Q. I am a sophomore and will be 20 years old next month. Can I enlist in V-1?

A. Yes. If you have not yet reached 20 and you are otherwise qualified, you're eligible.

Q. When the war ends, do I stay in the Service?

A. Under V-1, you enlist in the Naval Reserve. As an enlisted man or as an officer, you may be released from active duty as soon as possible after the war is over.

Q. Will the Navy pay my tuition and other expenses while I am still in college under the V-1 plan?

A. No. Navy pay does not start until you are assigned to active duty.

Q. What is the citizenship requirement for acceptance for V-1?

A. Applicants for V-1 must have been citizens for at least 10 years before the date of application.

morning, June 5th. The commencement exercises will begin in the college auditorium at 11:00 a. m.

Forty-four seniors are scheduled to receive their diplomas in a Bachelor of Science degree on June 5th. Arrangements for the caps and gowns have already been made according to a statement made by David Bowman, president of the senior class.

A delay has been made in the shipment of invitations which were expected several weeks ago. Defense production was stated as the cause of the delay, however, and they are expected to arrive the first of the week.

Last year's baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, then president of Georgia Teachers College, and the commencement address was given by Dr. Guy H. Wells, president of G.S.C.W., in Milledgeville.

POLITICAL LEAGUE FORMS BOARD

Tiny Henderson of T.C. One Of Seven Members Selected

It was announced today that the Student Political League is to be governed by a seven-man board. Four of the members are to be from the University of Georgia, one from Tech, one from G.S.C.W., and one from G.T.C. Tiny Henderson was chosen to represent G.T.C.

Each of these colleges are to contact the colleges in their district in order to give them an opportunity to join the league. Tiny Henderson and Joe Feaster will contact the colleges in this district next week.

The constitution of this league gives any college or secondary school the privilege of being a member if they so desire.

Wanted 1967 Issue

We take time out for campus and state politics this issue to look backward—and forward. We are taking this issue of the George-Anne and holding it up to a mirror. This is a magic mirror and it should tell us all.

Back in 1927 when the George-Anne was born it was a shaky little four-cornered tot, printed on typewriter size paper. It was made up and published in Statesboro with some of the news dating two months or more back. Its feature material was very limited. Its staff was very small. J. T. Lance was the editor-in-chief and he had five assistants. The paper had its ups and downs and many issues were mimeographed because of lack of funds. One issue came out greatly ahead of time. It was dated May 15, 1967. We want the next issue of that date.

Five years ago the George-Anne was enlarged to a little above magazine size and last year it became the size of a standard college newspaper. Many features have come and gone with the paper, but among those that have held interest longest are the dirt column, inquiring reporter, book reviews, poems and departmental and social news.

Today this publication has a staff of twenty-four members, belongs to two press associations and a national advertising service. It has continuously worked to present news for students, primarily, and features of the greatest campus interest. Whether this paper has succeeded thus far is to be determined by its readers.

The continuation of this paper is most necessary. It is the voice of the students; published by the students. Next year's editor to be selected by the publication committee must do what the present editor didn't do, and must profit by his mistakes. Next year's staff must continue the fine work done by the present staff.

And so we have looked into the mirror and seen a bit of the past and a glimpse into the future. The surface is becoming blurred and we can but guess what the next volumes of the paper will look like. With the spirit that has been behind it the past fifteen years we have no doubts—just simple child-like curiosity; the curiosity of one nearing sweet sixteen.

Editor Bids Farewell

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

With tears welled up in the corners of our eyes and dropping with each accented peck we sit in the office of the George-Anne and type out our last editorial. Remorse covers our features as we realize that this is the last time that we will edit the material that is printed bi-weekly with the hope that it will do someone some good or give someone a bit of enjoyment. As we sit here thinking of the past year and our association as editor of the paper we see passing before us several things.

First, the faithful staff with its capable managing editor whose work has been generous and competent. Second, the Bulloch Times office downtown near the railroad station with Editor Turner and Mr. Flanders (his right hand) who have nourished and fed the George-Anne from infancy. Third, those good people whose criticisms have helped to guide the paper along its path. Fourth, the unpleasant happenings that have been recorded with the pleasant. Some we didn't care to print and yet it was not our choice.

The George-Anne must continue to be the student's newspaper. It is the voice of what the college wishes. It is the heartbeat of the student body and the mouthpiece of the Student Council. It is all of these things as long as it is the student's organ. No one group can run it. When wrong is done the George-Anne should correct that wrong at any price.

It has been a pleasure to have worked with the paper. Mistakes have been made but we hope that the accomplishments have overcome the failures. The George-Anne Platform, its first plank practically broken into and rotten as far as being accomplished, is a worthwhile dream. Let's hope that it did some good.

The first duty of a teachers college is to train teachers. Which means training in practically all phases of life. It is not merely to give them a curriculum and show them how to use it.

Any college student should be interested in, and and be taught good manners, and the etiquette of polite society. This should include common table manners, good behavior in all classes of society, and polite letter writing. A college paper can help build up sentiment along this line.

A college paper can help to illustrate the fact that getting an education is open to all in our modern world, and that those who do not get it, are either too lazy or too stupid to go after it. If we have the wrong kind of education, it is the duty of those engaged in it to change it to a more appropriate and acceptable form.

GEORGE-ANNE PLATFORM

1. Help re-establish University System on Accredited List through demanding the Board of Regents correct its errors by June, 1942.
2. Correct traffic problem of speeding on campus driveways.
3. Correct trash problem on campus.
4. Ask for an active Student Council.

1. WALLACE does GLADINE charge any admission for her shows?
2. Sorry JACK, MYRA had to work. We wonder who she is working for now?
3. EDWENA PARRISH is really up-to-date in her smooching. Don't blush EDWENA, pictures don't lie. They were taken beside a WALL.
4. What happened to PENNINGTON and DUNN in the BUNN feud? Can CARLESE TURNER answer that?
5. BEN TILLMAN is the shiek of the campus. Maybe it's his technique.
6. BUDDY, isn't one night enough?
7. Does anyone know the SPRING CHICKEN OLIVER has domesticated? She's a beginner, I hear.
8. MARGARET STRICKLAND has tried hard this year to hook a sucker. No luck? Too bad!
9. JIMMY, did the PROFESSOR embarrass you while you were embraced?
10. HEARON, either your technique is poor or you just don't have the appeal.
11. FRANCES HILL has on her second engagement ring (have you noticed?). We wonder who the sucker is this time?
12. DAISY MAE had a birthday a couple of days ago, and BYERS has gone hog-wild about a bracelet he bought for her.
13. LILLIAN WARNER was the life of the party the other night at the Sigma Gamma dance. (That was meant as sarcasm.) CHARLIE, did you have anything to do with it?
14. True love never runs smooth and ZEKE and NELL prove the exception with ZEKE and ELLA SUE as the example. (Note: The ZEKES are not the same.)
15. Now is the time for final grades in bushology for the year. Exceptional has been the class this year and the grades are as follows: LEON CULPEPPER and DORIS WOODS, A; JIMMY JONES and SOPHIE OLIVER, A; ZEKE OLLIFF and NELL BRANNEN, A; ZEKE DAUGHTRY and ELLA SUE TRAYNHAM, A; CHARLIE KNEESE and ABBIE MANN, A, and so on. I'm scared to put any others or to lower any grades. You've been lucky as far as petting has gone, but the question is, "How far has it gone?" You answer that.

Love and kisses,

CHOLLY.

Scriptural Searchlights

By OLIVER THOMAS

Text: "But whosoever will be great among you shall be your minister."—Mark 10:43.

Jesus' evaluation of greatness and success astounded the world of His day and ours, because it conflicted with the idea of many who looked upon greatness in terms of social position and prestige. He placed a new interpretation upon it that would place many of the first last, and many of the last first, a complete reverse of standards.

Generally, man looked upon greatness in terms of material gains. To meet man's standard, you must be a Napoleon, a Rockefeller, a Ford, a Roosevelt, of a Lindbergh, or some other type who has gained honors, wealth, and prestige. Jesus would not accept this standard of evaluation. It would leave out the widow who had cast in all she had. It would leave out many who have forsaken gain to be benefactors to society, and angels of mercy. It would leave out multitudes who were barely able to exist, but who loved God and were faithful to their Lord in service. The truly great in God's sight are those who find pleasure in helping others, and think of life not as getting but as giving.

Many who are wearing the laurels of man and occupying the highest places of distinction in life today will be placed at the very bottom of God's list. Others classed among the commoners will rise to heights unknown. What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own Soul? Shall we seek the praise of man or the approval of God?

When we realize that our lives are not judged by man's standards, it is folly to let the desire for recognition defeat our purpose. As we go out to make our contribution to the world in whatever field it may be, let us never lose sight of the Saviour's spirit of greatness, and remember that the greatest are those who cling to ideals of Christ in spite of the cost to self.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, we do not desire wealth or fame, nor esteem in the eyes of man, but that we may have Thy approval. May Thy spirit dominate our whole being, that our lives may be guided toward worthy goals, and that our crowns may be fruit of our service to others. Amen.

Our World Today

By Harry Robertson

One of the interesting things to notice during a time of danger is the fellow who is thinking of others instead of himself. It is a peculiar fallacy of the human race to laugh at the other fellow as long, and just so long, as the laughing one isn't being hurt.

It was interesting not long ago to notice how much sugar a person would seek to get in filling out his rationing card. It was interesting to note how much sugar was bought up before the rationing began. Along with the sugar all other possibilities were observed and tea, coffee, canned good and gasoline were stored away.

Filling stations were kept busy before gasoline rationing began and many began turning away rationing cards the first day because their supply had been exhausted. Folks weren't thinking of the war or the shortage of transportation facilities. All that they were thinking of was their own personal gain; their own personal pleasure.

Those two things—personal gain and personal pleasure—are the cause of the war that we are in today. If we can't control them at home how can we expect to do anything against them abroad.

A way that I've found of getting things accomplished is by sitting down and taking five minutes to list all that has to be done. If you suffer with acute absent mindedness I recommend this as a sure method of accomplishment and time saving. When the list is complete it is a simple matter to systematically check off each item as it is taken care of.

Adoption of the quarter system at the University of Kentucky will become effective in June

CAMPUS BENCH SPEAKS; STORY OF LIFE FILLED WITH ADVENTURE

Coming across the campus the other night after the usual formality of taking my girl to the store and showing her a wonderful time on ten cents and a sluggish juke organ selection, I had a most unusual experience. I sat down on the oldest bench of the campus and sagged with it.

As I sat there the bench began to groan and mutter to itself. Thinking as you do that it was a tree or a hooty owl I paid no attention until it bit me. Yes, I said bit, not pinched. With a cry of pain I arose and demanded an explanation. I got it.

"Who do you think you are," it wanted to know. "Here I stay, day after day, trying not to get discouraged over my plight."

"What is your plight," I asked, and immediately regretted it for the bench began to cry, and it was crying and not birds.

"Oh-h," it moaned. "To think after all these years someone is really interested. Well, brother, here is my story: Six years ago I was placed on this campus with a lot of new foliage that has since outgrown me. Boy, was I green! No knowledge about the actions of college stoogents! No knowledge of house directors! No knowledge!"

"My first year here was an uneventful one because no students could sit on the campus during classes, after classes, before classes or anytime after supper. The next year it was different. The dean said that they could sit outside during chapel period, which was five time a week and compulsory as usual.

"On the third year of my unhappy existence here they broke all precedence and allowed students to use the campus during off-periods, and then the fun really began—for them. One fat squab from Lewis Hall invited a friend of hers down for the week end. It turned out to be the strongest that I have ever held up. That is the reason for my middle board being broken.

"One night I was quietly minding my own business when who ups around the corner but Mamie Veasy. She was the matron of East Hall and since the 'Wizard of Oz' had just been playing at the Georgia they tabbed her 'the wicked old witch of the East!' Ha! ha! Pretty smart of the little brats if I do say so.

"Anyways, she comes bouncing (only she didn't bounce well) around the bush and plunks down in my lap. Boy, am I mortified. Suppose some of the students see me. Mamie sits there quiet like and pretty soon along comes a couple. They go around the side of East and start toward the back. Mamie ups and hollers like all getout and they ask her what does she think she is up to. They give her the dickens about being out of the dormitory at that time of night and say for her to mind her own business. It was the dean and his wife and they were going home after a picture show.

"Yep, brother, I'm getting old and creaky and if you don't be a little more respectful of me when you sit down next time I'll more than bite you, I'll —"

But with that I decided that I'd had enough and off I went in the direction of Sanford swearing to never touch the vile stuff again.

Ferry Hall, men's dormitory at Washington State College, has been evacuated to make room for a special detachment of 150 air corps men from Geiger Field, Spokane.

The staff had hoped that the yearbooks could have been here sooner this year but due to reduced personnel in the company publishing the annual and their difficulty in securing supplies, this has proved to be impossible.

Other features of the 1942 summer session will include the summer session chorus of mixed voices, a varied recreational program, special parties, picnics and dances.

We Need Every College Man In Officers' Training

★ To Man the Mightiest Air Army in the World ★

Make Your Choice This Week For Present or Future Officers' Training

If your blood boils at the very thought of an enslaved world...

If Jap treachery and Nazi savagery make you see red and itch for a gun—calm yourself with the promise that we shall pay them back with compound interest!

We shall—and you as a college man now have the opportunity of serving as a Flying Officer—a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—with that branch of service which will do that paying back in person—the U. S. Army Air Forces!

Under the new Army Air Force Reserve Plan—if you are a Senior or wish to leave school—apply now for your Aviation Cadet training.

You and your friends can share together the work and fun of flight training, and after approximately 8 months—earn the right to be flying officers in the U. S. Army Air Forces!

On the other hand, if you are a Freshman, Sophomore or Junior—you can, if you like, continue your studies under the Deferred Service Plan of the Army Air Forces—and become better prepared for Officers' Training later.

New Simplified Requirements

To qualify you must be 18 to 26 (inclusive), physically fit—and pass a new, simplified mental test which college men find easy.

When you are ready—and facilities are ready—you begin as an

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standing.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R. O. T. C. plans.)

Aviation Cadet at $75 a month, with expenses paid.

If you have majored in science or engineering you can try for a commission in the ground crew—in Armament, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

80% Have Won Commissions

Due to thorough training—about four out of every five Aviation Cadets this past year received Second Lieutenants' commissions—of which 67% are now flying officers.

The tremendous expansion of the Air Forces should assure rapid advancement in all branches. And after the war—you'll be ready for the ever-growing opportunities in aviation.

Settle Your Service Now

The years ahead are war years—and every college man should make his plans accordingly.

To make America supreme in the air we need every college man who can qualify for active or deferred service.

So take advantage now of this option. You may never again have such opportunities.

See your Faculty Air Force Advisor for information and help with details. Join the thousands of America's college men who are enlisting this week!

NOTE: If you are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today.

Sigma Gamma To Picnic May 30

Due to the fact that there is no date available for a dance, the Sigma Gammas have scheduled a picnic for the afternoon of May 30. It is to be held at Lakeside, and the afternoon will include bowling, swimming and dancing.

Sorority pins have been ordered for six members and should be here at an early date.

Plans are being made for a house party at St. Simons, where the group is to be the guest of Anne Cullens.

The regular meeting was held Wednesday night in East Hall with Azile Hartley and Venice Clifton acting as hostesses. After the business was over, the last part was a social for Azile, who has just married, and Daisy Mae, who has now reached the age of 19.

We were very glad to have Azile Hartley (Oliver) back with us. She is one of the charter members of the Sigma Gama sorority, which was founded in 1939.

One-Act Plays Presented Thursday

Three one-act plays were presented in the college auditorium Thursday night by the senior class of the Laboratory School. The plays were "The Bishop's Candlesticks," "Pierre Pantelin" and "The Trysting Place."

The plays were selected by the senior class of the high school for presentation under the direction of Miss Eula Beth Jones, Miss Mervin Shivers and Harry Robertson and were supervised by Miss M. W. Wakeford and Miss Mamie Jo Jones.

Bachelors' Club Elects Officers

The Bachelors Club presented its annual spring show Thursday night, May 14, 1942, in the college auditorium. The show this year was a minstrel and was a big success. The purpose of putting on a show every year is to add to a scholarship fund which the Bachelors Club makes available to any member of the club who wishes to attend graduate school. The money has been loaned to a number of alumni members of the

CAPITAL to CAMPUS

ACP's Jay Richter Reports from Washington

By JAY RICHTER, ACP Washington Correspondent

HIGH PRICES CHECKED

Washington (ACP)—College students—because their "income" is relatively "fixed"—should benefit more than the average person from the Office of Price Administration's over-all ceiling order on prices.

The inflationary spiral has sent retail prices up 19 per cent the last year. Were the spiral to continue, students would find it tougher and tougher to compete for goods and services in a market glutted with eager buyers.

The ceiling on retail goods went into effect May 18, while that on services become effective July 1. Retailers must charge no more than their highest March price. Here is what will happen to some important items in the student budget:

Room and Board—If you live in a war-rental area room and board will be controlled. Some two-thirds of the nation's population is included in these areas.

Restaurant Meal—No price control.

Movies and Entertainment—No ceiling.

Carfare—No ceiling.

Cigarettes, Cosmetics, Toothpaste, Aspirin—Just a few of the thousands of "processed commodities" on the controlled list.

Laundry, Dry Cleaning, Shoe Repairing, Etc.—Controlled.

You might remember, when the ceilings go in effect, that the order does not wipe out price differences between stores. If a merchant under-sold his competitors last March, he may still do so. On about 100 important cost-of-living items retailers must post signs informing purchasers of the maximum legal price. Also, merchants must give you a sales slip if you request one.

WAR

Quisling's order sending 500 Norwegian teachers off to Finnish labor camps in the cramped hold of the S. S. Skjerstad has aroused storms of protest throughout Norway. The 500 were among the thousands who refused to join Norway's Nazi Teachers Union, Norges Laerersamband.

When the "Nazi slave ship" docked in Trondheim, it was reported that all the teachers were sick and two of them had gone mad. Even Quisling satellites protested against resumption of the trip. Provisional Governor Prytz wired Quizzling:

"Hygienic conditions on board are extremely bad . . . many not able to lie down at night . . . many of the teachers ill . . . the water supply is insufficient."

The ship was sent on its way after a Quisling physician treated some 100 of the sick.

club, including one who was at one time president of the Student Council.

The officers of the club for next year are: Harold Waters, president; Jimmie Gunter, vice-president; Dan Chambliss, secretary, and Marcellus Gaughf, treasurer.

Manholes covered as morning approaches
Over the town
fast asleep.
Completely relaxed and exhausted from labor and tramping fee.
Doves close together on the church steeple form a symbol of love and devotion;
Of Christianity.
Snow falls like tiny grains of sand
upon the trees and bushes.
All God's land is white and pure . . . and sweet . . .
Asleep.
