"The Sweetheart of Sweetheart Campus", Will Be Crowned In Fifth Annual Beauty Revue Wednesday Night, February 14th

"A Sweetheart for the Sweetheart Campus" will be the theme of the fifth annual Beauty Revue, a big event at Georgia Teachers College, on Wednesday, February 14.

Plans Formed For Sweetheart Feast

The plans have been completed for the B. S. U. Sweetheart Banquet to be held Friday, February 16, 1951. The turkey supper will be held at the church and will be semi-formal. The charge will be seventy-five cents per person. The bus will come by for the people going at 7:00.

The following committees have been appointed to work on the banquet. Decorations — Martha Duffield, Chairman, Barbara Hill, Thelma Hicks, and Robert Hurst. Program — Yvonne Jones, Chairman, Loretta Green, Pat Meeks, Ann Higginbotham, and Mayo Hartley. Reservations — Trudie Pridgen, chairman, Mary Ann Carter, Yvonne Denty, Carolyn Billings, and Chester Poole. Tickets — Trudie Pridgen and Eddie Ort.

Publicity — Mary Earle Powell, chairman, Eugene Harper and Ann Higginbotham. Programs — George Parrish, chairman, Dan Biggers, and Eddie Ort.

Make your plans right away with the representative in your dormitory. Don't misunderstand the theme of the banquet. If there is no one you wish to come with, just come along with the "rest of the crowd."

MARY EARLE POWELL,
Publicity Chairman.

High School Group In Chapel Program

Monday was music day at T. C. last week. For chapel a group from the Statesboro band put on a program.

First on the program was a saxophone quartet composed of Danny Lingo, Betty Rogers, Geary Lane, and Wilmath Flower. They played a hymn by Beethoven. Then we had a baritone solo by Carey Donaldson, accompanied by Jimmy Bland. Next on the program was two Gershwin Preludes by Jimmy Bland. Last on the program was a marimba solo, Santa Lucia, played by Don Flanders, accompanied by Ann Cason.

We don't usually pick favorites but the star of the show was Edie Tane with his drum solo, First Competition. Eddie had better watch out or Mr. King will be after him.

Bill Adams Heard On Forum Hour

The Wesley Foundation Forum Hour of last Sunday night featured a fascinating discussion of Buddhism by Mr. Bill Adams. Mr. Adams, a prominent officer of the church who works closely with the young people, is a very clever speaker. The program was a highlight of the planned series of Sunday night meetings.

The council has planned several treats for the near future. During the week of the 26th, there will be a hayride to Magnolia Springs which will be climaxed with a picnic supper. You can't afford to miss this!

On February 25th, the entire Foundation will participate in a bus deputation to Girard, one of Rev. Archie Haygood's churches. The Wesley Foundation invites all students to come and join in the fellowship of fun and worship.

The idea combines the spirit of St Valentine's Day with the Sweetheart Campus slogan used by the college. The slogan is based on the heart-shaped driveway forming the entrance to the campus.

The pageant will consist of five acts and will have a college dance setting. Twenty-six contestants, sponsored by student organizations and accompanied by escorts of their choice, will compete for the first honor, which usually carries the title "Miss Teachers College." The winner will be presented in the last act with five other finalists as her court.

In the four years since it was revived by Prof. Jack N. Averitt, the revue has attracted more visitors possibly than any other college presentation. This year, with Mr. Averitt away completing doctoral study at the University of North Carolina, Alpha Rho Tau art fraternity is sponsor. Miss Helen Poppell, of Jesup, is president of the fraternity, and Miss Freida Gernant is faculty sponsor.

Winners in previous years are not allowed to compete, but the girl receiving first place last year, Miss Lonadine Morgan, of Egypt, Ga., will present a bouquet to the new queen.

Faces and scenes from the show will receive elaborate display in the beauty section of the college yearbook.

The curtain will be lifted at 8:15 p. m. Prof. Jack W. Broucek will play an organ accompaniment, and Prof. Dana M. King will direct a pit orchestra between acts.

Religious Emphasis Week will feature Dr. Boyd of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Boyd will speak Wednesday night at 7 p. m.; Thursday and Friday mornings at 10 a. m.

Dr. Boyd is head of the Religion Department at North Carolina University and is a Presbyterian minister.

Religious Emphasis Week will begin Sunday night February 18th and will end on the 24th.

Film Forum Hour To Present 'Pride And Prejudice'

The Film Forum House of the Audio-Visual room of the library will feature Jane Austen's novel Pride and Prejudice next week. The film will be shown on Tuesday at 7:30. Recreating the modes and manners of the early 19th Century in England, the movie tells the story of the development of the romance of Elizabeth and Darcy, the main characters, set against the background of a disagreeable mother who was desperately trying to marry off her five daughters. The film was produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

escorted by Harold DeLoach representing Wesley Foundation; Joan Harper escorted by Tip Gamble representing Lewis Hall; Sue Simmons escorted by Earl Swicord representing Anderson Hall; Joan Pittman escorted by Billy Cross representing The George-Anne; Martha Driskell escorted by Bobby Humphrey representing the Band.

Chemistry Classes Visited Savannah

Approximately thirty potential scientists went to Savannah Thursday morning, February 6, on an all day excursion to obtain some first hand information about the chemical processes employed in the manufacture of sugar and paper bags. Of the group about twenty-five were in Mr. Hanner's chemistry classes and the rest were in Miss Bolton's nutrition class.

Leaving the campus about 8:00 o'clock on the college bus, the group reached Savannah slightly after 1:00. They spent the day going through the Union Bag Company and the Sugar refinery. In their tour they saw the miraculous transformation of a block of wood into a paper bag. Later they saw these same bags filled with sugar they had also seen manufactured.

They returned about supper time, their pockets stuffed with souvenirs of Dixie Crystal Sugar, a tired but enlightened group.

Mrs. Scott Again With T.C. Library

Mrs. T. C. Scott, Jr. has returned to work at the Georgia Teachers College Library as head of the cataloguing department. "It feels natural and very nice to be back at my old job," she smiled as she sat at her desk in the cataloguing office.

Mrs. Scott received her undergraduate training at Florida State University at Tallahassee. She has a B. S. degree in library science from Emory in Atlanta.

She has also served in the position of Senior Cataloguer in the library of the Florida State University at Gainesville. Mrs. Scott has also worked in the library of Agnes Scott.

During the last summer session here, in addition to her other duties, she taught some courses in library science. She will be working now Monday through Friday during the mornings.

Now that Mrs. Scott has returned to her job in the library, students and faculty can look forward to seeing a greater number of new books being put into circulation.

"THE WEST POINT STORY" —

Georgia Theatre (Tues.-Wed.)

—Still the tough Bantam rooster, James Cagney is this time neither a convict nor a psychopathic killer but a Broadway dancer, who gets into West Point as a cadet in order to direct the annual musical show, and to lure Cadet Gordon McRae back to Broadway. Virginia Mayo dances, instead of getting around as in most of her pictures, as Cagney's girl. With Cagney and Mayo dancing and McRae and Doris Day singing, this makes "The West Point Story" an enjoyable musical, combined with the added interest of West Point itself.

"KING SOLOMON'S MINES" —

State Theatre, (Wed.-Thurs.)—

The students of T. C. missed this when it played at the Georgia during Thanksgiving, so Mr. Macon has gotten a return engagement. And this was one picture not to be missed. As for the plot, Deborah Kerr is guided into darkest Africa by Stewart Granger (the Gregory Peck of England), a white hunter, to search for her long-lost husband. As a result, the movie should have been entitled "The Perils of Deborah." But the real star of the picture is Africa itself, photographed for the first time in Technicolor. M-G-M took a huge company of actors and technicians clear across Africa to make this one of the most spectacular productions of all time, and actors actually risked their lives in the scenes with wild animals and savages, and in the awesome country itself. You'll have to see it to believe it, but it's all real.

"FATHER OF THE BRIDE" —

Drive-In Theatre (Mon.-Tues.)—

This is the story of a wedding, and a hilarious comedy it is, as told from the long-suffering, debt-ridden Father's side. Spencer Tracy is the Father and Elizabeth Taylor is his little girl, who has suddenly grown up to become the Bride.

Once Upon A Beauty Revue...

ONCE UPON A TIME, not too long ago, there was a little girl... a rather pretty little girl. She had a happy home and loved it dear—she must go far away to a place which was known as College. Now she had heard some very nice things about this distant place, and of course, being an obedient child, she packed her little duds and set forth to the land of the sweetheart campus. (By now, you've guessed we're talking about T. C. of course.)

Anyway, once there, she went about making everyone very happy by joining things called clubs and organizations. Everything was going just fine until one day, when lo and behold! Somebody arose in chapel and announced that the most wonderful of all happenings was soon to be... the Beauty Revue, and it was to take place upon St. Valentine's Day.

Instantly, each club and organization came together and chose its most beautiful girl to go forth in its name. (You've probably guessed it again. Yep, that's right! The little girl was to be the one to represent her organization. And then! What do you think happened? Well, a handsome boy was also elected to take her hand and lead her upon the stage, so that she might not be frightened to face alone all the people who would journey forth to witness the contest.

Naturally, the little girl was very excited and proud. Her parents, hearing of this, (over a collect phone call) gave to her a beautiful dress which looked like a colored cloud to wear to the grand occasion. (Just how beautiful they did not realize until they got the bill in the next month's mail.)

Finally, the night of St. Valentine's arrived. The girl was terribly frightened, but nevertheless, she smiled as she walked forth on the stage with the handsome knight chosen for her. The people oohed and aahed as the curtain went up. The scenes were all very romantic, with a view of the campus, and a ballroom scene.

The little girl was beginning to wonder who was going to win, when all of a sudden a magician waved his cape, and she found herself coming through a great heart! Why! she was the Sweetheart Queen. Everybody seemed enthusiastic about the whole happening, even the grim faced judges. Everyone, thereafter including the handsome escort, lived happily thereafter.

I guess by now you're just aching to know who the winner was. Well, you'll have to come to the Beauty Revue next Wednesday night and seek your answer.

The judges will be Mrs. Frances Anderson, Miss Lenora Quarterman, and Mr. Ted Waters. This year, the dance band is going to play for us. Mr. Dana M. King as director, and Sonny Hawkins as manager, will lead the other members of the band to give us the music so appropriate for Valentine's Day. Other members of the band are: Bobby Taylor, Eddie Ort, Chester Poole, Dale Rush, Bert Justice, Faye Lunsford, Rudy Mills, Bill Brown, Morris Davis, Margie Weatherford and Johnny Fitzgerald.

This year, we think the Beauty Revue will be even more successful than ever before. And remember! Valentine's Day is coming up the drive now, so buy your tickets today.

G.A. Will Air Student Opinion On Vital Matters

The other day I heard that The George-Anne needed a column that could run along and "sorta" give the opinions of the students on the campus. The George-Anne will do as per usual and foul things up if we tried to do this. We are going to start a colum that we hope will be a little different though.

For our first in this series we will try to get a few laughs and a few daggers from you the readers.

AROUND THE CAMPUS we see that the girls in the Beauty Revue are smiling a little more than usual.... Sonny Boy Clements is in a deep fog even when Bettye Hendrix is not with him... Peggy Jo Burke (PeJo) still can't catch the eye of a man.... Billy Cross talking for hours on the subject of how to operate a movie.

PREDICTIONS: T. C. will have the best Beauty Revue this year when the gals circle the stage on the 14th of this month.... The basketball team will make the long trip to Kansas when they win the tournament in Jax-ville.... T. C. will retire the jersey number 15 when Scotty Perkins leaves this year.... One of the next buildings on the campus will be a Student Center.... Most of these will wrong.

"The reporter that just knocks around" found out that... Some people think that Faculty should not have to pay full price for activities... The majority of the students think that the chow line checker should know them by now... If the instructors would enter the class with a smile the day would be a little Easier on the person that has to look at them.

Richard Ellsasser Truly Great, Says G.A. Critic

Monday night at 8:15 the event we had looked forward to so long took place. It was the return of Richard Ellsasser, the great American Organist.

Mr. Ellsasser had music for all moods. His first number was a very spirited one the Trumpet Tune by Henry Purcell. Next, was a very quiet number the, Flute Solo, by Thomas Arne.

Mr. Ellsasser said he did not make a rule of playing the modern music with it's dissonate chords but the did one number depicting a soldier on a lonely battlefield, as he thinks of the episodes in his past life, as he waits for dawn and possible death. This is by Aaron Copland.

The two selection enjoyed most were, Marche Fantastique by Mr. Ellsasser, and a group of Church Hymns. Mr. Ellsasser said one little old lady told him that his march reminded her of a parade of bedbugs. Later when I asked him about it he said he had never seen a bedbug so he didn't know if she was right or not.

Mr. Ellsasser's last encore Begin the Beguine was done especially for the college group he said, but I think everyone enjoyed it very much.

Mr. Ellsasser will be back on the campus in about two weeks and he hopes that he can stay and visit a while.

DORMITORY DOINGS

By MARTHA WOOD

Although only a few of us East and West Hallians got luggage for Christmas, most of us have been sporting a couple of new bags these last few days, one under each eye. Oh, my aching back, these midterms! When have they ever been thrown at us harder and faster? During the past week, coffee parties about 1:00 o'clock in the morning have become quite the vogue in dormitory parlors as we poor females have vainly tried to cram a little knowledge into the vacuum between our ears. Our sad plight is aptly described by this little verse.

Out of the night that covers we,
Black as the pit from pole to pole
We pray for sense to look and see
Some knowledge in these words so cold,

So that our brains, though tired they be,
Til testing time some facts may hold.

However, I read somewhere that, "tests should be recognized as helps not hindrances," so maybe this burning of the midnight oil is worthwhile after all. Perhaps we shall garner a little knowledge from all this cramming. For instance, if someone should ever mention Tallyrand, just think how nice it will be to know that he was not a famous fan dancer.

Last weekend it seemed that third floor West was becoming a good customer of the health cottage as we sent one after another of the girls to the infirmary. As in some melodramatic picture, we were all in suspense wondering who would be the next victim of "the plague." Only third floor seemed to be affected, and we still don't know what caused this strange epidemic among the girls. Maybe their constitutions were not strong enough to stand the excitement of that game Saturday night. However, most of them are back on their feet again, and it seems nice to see their bright faces again as they go tripping through the halls.

It has become a common sight these last few days to see girls in long, voluminous skirts scurrying through the corridors in both dormitories. No, we are not returning to the "hoopskirt-and-theiteen-petticoats Era. They are only the contestants in the Beauty Revue on the way to rehearsal. After looking them over with my critical female eyes, I can only say, "Umm, Umm, good!" That beauty revue should really be worth seeing. Don't miss it!

In flower arranging, the big four principles you will first need to master are design, scale, balance, and harmony.

Plant beds should be located on a southern slope that is protected from prevailing winter winds, receives an abundance of sunlight, and has good natural drainage.

Though a majority of hotbeds are constructed of wood, they may also be constructed of concrete, brick, or concrete blocks.

Campus Hi-Lights

By GENIE OWEN

The concert by Richard Ellsasser was really good. The Organ Guild deserves a big bunch of roses.

The basketball team is still winning games right and left. From what I gather the whole campus is looking forward to the big game between Mercer and T. C. Good luck boys and we sure hope you win without any trouble.

Sure do wish that I was taking Chem. 102. That trip to Sav-a-nah must have really been fun. Mr. Hanner must have really let his hair down.

The Beauty Revue is right around the corner and the gals in my Dorm. are so... excited. If the Revue is any where like I hear it is it must really be something.

The Industrial Arts Club deserves the thanks of all on the campus for the good work on the campus furniture.

I hear that we will soon have an Athletic Association on the campus. I think that every one that can join the Association should.

The Home Ec. girls are teaching a course to the married girls each Wednesday Night. The class is taught by Margert Harrison Sbyl Daniel, and Thelma Winters. The girls say that the students are glad to come to the class just to get away from their husbands.

Athletic Assn.

To Be Formed

Plans are underway to form an Athletic Association for the improvement of athletics at Georgia Teachers College. Members will be made up of T. C. students and Alumni. The sole duty of this organization is to help finance the Athletic Department. There will be a meeting of all persons interested in the class room of the gym at 10 o'clock next Thursday. Coach J. B. Searce and Bud Stone will at this time explain the plans of the Association.

Professors Trounce Pelzer Bears For Nineteenth Win Of The Season

By McTIER

Well, the Tide did it again. Although they were the underdogs, they again displayed the type of basketball that they are capable of when they trounced the Pelzer Bears here last Saturday night. It was by far the best game that has been played on this court. It was all offense for them and very little defense. That was the reason the Tide scored so many points against the Bears.

With Sonny Clements leading the way with 24 points, the teachers were excellent on the fast break. Scotty Perkins and Jim Duncan were not far up the court with 19 and 20 respectfully; Johnny Renfro displayed the drive that is very seldom seen in a player of his size. He hit the buckets for a total of 14. He was by far the most outstanding player for the Professors.

If speed was anything for the Bears, Earl Wooten had it. He was just as quick as a cat. Another driver of the Renfro Type, he hit for 22. Gerald Becker of Eastern Kentucky fame, hooked and pushed in 25. He and Wooten were the most outstanding players for the Bears. They were undoubtedly the cleanest players that we have played against this year.

Again we cannot say anything without our congratulations to the ushers for the fine job that they did with the crowd. Although there were a few moments of anxiety with both sides, they held the overflow crowd in check. Many that saw the game said that they were the most efficient ushers that they had ever seen at a college. Thanks, troops.

Another vote of thanks goes to the student body for the fine show of spirit. Where they were kinda' quiet on the previous night, those stored up yells were turned loose on Saturday night. Thanks to you, too.

Sweetheart Campus

By EDITH CARPENTER

The "Sweetheart Campus" it is called;
Before the name I stand appalled.
If you could see—t'would make start—
The broken hearts—the broken hearts—

"The Sweetheart Campus"—hope flares high
And lives awhile, but soon must die;
Confused young loves their lives must chart,
With broken hearts—with broken hearts—

The "Sweetheart Campus"—that's the name;
All through the years, it plays the game
Of loves and lives and how they part—
Oh broken hearts—Oh! broken hearts.

Sanford Sidelines

By ROBERT HURST

Ah yes, there's good news today. A new figure has entered Sanford Hall's activities. The "character" has been fittingly named "Homer." Now, "Homer" is quite a bird, and I do mean bird. He is one of the laticauda family, with a white and black speckled wingspread and pink eyes. At the present Homer is residing in the room of Watson Weathers and Rudy Mills. He is doing well after have a slight accident with a twenty-two. "Homer" wants to express his appreciation to Watson Weathers, Rudy Mills, Johnny Spence, Bobby Timmerman, Byron Quick, and a few others that have helped him through his "trials and tribulations." For those people who are ignorant of the term "laticauda," it is Latin for pigeon.

Sanford Hall was honored with a group of boys from the metropolis of Waycross Friday night. They were Bobby Timmerman, a devout West Hallian, Adolph Davis, also a West Hall admirer, Robert "Bird-dog" McQuaig, and Ray Murray. These boys all have a great interest in G. T. C., GIRLS.

Well, so far Alyosia Q. Cat has kept to himself, but with "Homer" Pigeon around he might start a campaign. Watch out for further developments of this feline.

Bennet's Blabs

By JOAN BENNETT

Tuesday night the basketball game started off with a bang. All the girls were full of pep and encouragement from the sidelines gave them that much more enthusiasm.

The first game between the the combined Yellow-White and the Reds was terminated with a final score of 27 to 19 in favor of the Reds. High scorer for the Reds was Betty Parrish with 10 points. High scorer for the Yellow-Whites was Iris Warren with 8 points. Corny

Eyington did a fine job of officiating.

The second game was between the Orange and Green teams. The Greens came out victorious with a score of 20 to 8. Uldine Underwood led the Greens with 9 points and Lyneave Anderson led the Oranges with 5 points. Cordelia Kidd and Ann Higginbotham were officials for the game and very good ones I might add.

The schedule for games next week is as follows.

Monday night, Feb. 12, 6:15, Green vs Yellow-White; 8:15, Black vs Orange.

Thursday night, Feb. 15, 6:15, Blue vs Yellow-White; 8:15, Green vs Black.

Friday night, Feb. 16, 6:15, Blue vs Red.

This is a Round Robin tournament. Each team will play every other team. Points will be given for first and second places, and all points totaled up at the end. Each team will play six times.

Don't forget that the tennis games must be played off and turned in by 5:00 Saturday, Feb. 17.

DUET WITH KOREAN BACKGROUND—A local woman and a Korean visitor who in 1922 were music teachers in a Methodist mission school at Seoul, Korea, renewed acquaintance at a piano at Georgia Teachers College recently. Shown with Mansonori Higa (standing) freshman from Okinawa who conducted them about the campus, are Miss Rubye Lee of Route 1, Statesboro (left) and Mrs. Induk Pakh, Korean author and lecturer. Mrs. Pakh spoke at a chapel assembly. She told how, soon after her first meeting with Miss Lee in Korea, she enrolled at Wesleyan College, Macon, where she was graduated in 1926. (Photo by Clifton. Krabbtree's Klippings of Kampus Korn

Nicodemus, a colored boy: Charles, do you have to pray in the day time and in the night?

Charles, a white boy: Sure, don't yo?

Nickodemus: "Naw, I just pray in the nite time; I can look after myself in the day time."

Teacher: (pointing to a deer at the zoo) Tommy, what kind of animal is that?

Tommy: I dunno

Teacher: Oh, how come now. What does your sister call your brother?

Tommy: Don't tell me that's a louse!

Mother: Now, Willie, didn't I tell you that when those boys threw stones at you, you must tell me?

Willie: Aw mother, it wouldn't do any good. You couldn't hit the side of a barn.

Don't waste so much time crying over spilt milk that you forget to go after the cows at night.

Neil. Dr. Neil is, as everyone is doubtless aware, in charge of the Philharmonic Choir. Many students have asked, "Why doesn't the choir sing oftener in chapel? We never get to hear them!" Students, I have a deep, dark secret to divulge: The choir has an inferiority complex! No fooling! As to what can be done about that, I'm sure I don't know. I think most of the students agree with me; however, and say, "Everyday in every way, you are getting better and better."

Miss Luke is the dark, attractive lady, who helps the laboratory school children in their singing. Those of us who are fortunate enough to hear the results of her work are utterly amazed. Said one student, "They sound just like little angels." Can you imagine anyone saying that of ten and twelve year olds?

In our wanderings, we suddenly find ourselves right in the midst of a lot of trumpets, clarinets, and what-have-you. The little man

BoHunk's Life At T. C.

Last Wednesday at noon, as the lunch line moved slowly up to the counter, no one noticed a group of girls who were moving impatiently, along, pushing and shoving. Not many oople knew that today, Shirley Gullidge had determined to win the duel, which takes place every day at 12:00 in the dining hall.

They finally shoved their way through and rushed to a table. Glowering at each other, they sat and squirmed, waiting for the signal to begin. At this point, are you wondering who these people (?) are who've been turned loose here on the campus at T. C.? They are Barbara Hill, "Higg," Therna or Amanda Hicks, and Shirley G., and yours truly, Miss Bohunk.

Bo Ware came running up, dropped a lima bean on the floor as the signal to begin, and they started shoveling. As a special crew of lunch room workers, Annie Lee Hunter, Daphne Ash, Green Higgs, and Evelyn Cravey headed by Helen Robertson stood tensely on the side line waiting to start the "Tray Line Brigade," the contestants were digging in rather slowly because they knew that this was The Day! It was the time which would determine who was to be selected royal high Guzzler of the Eat More Club.

All of a sudden, observers noticed that Shirley G. was leading by two trays! The first round was downing rapidly to a close! A few seconds before the whistle, Amanda, collapsed over her tray, her elbow dangling gracefully in the mustard bowl. Bo loudly called for a stretcher and only four contestants remained.

Violent growls and kicks came from the table as a few observers came too close. Shirley was eliminated!! The other three ate with renewed fury, snatching and grabbing off each other's trays.

with the hair is Mr. King, who conducts the dance band, and the marching band—the last of which can be said, to quote Miss Jo Ann Darden, "Whew!"

Our trip through the music department has only touched some of the high spots. There are voice students, instrumental students, and piano students. "And don't think it isn't work," says Hugh Pharis, as he falls in a faint.

News From Lab School

Finally "Higg" was eliminated and the "Brigade" sent out the trays faster and faster. Miss Bohunk and Barbara ate with two spoons, one in each hand, while kicking each other under the table. At last Miss Bohunk, in a last desperate attempt crammed a roll in her mouth and fell under the table. Barbara ate on and on and on... and on.

Then, against the back ground of the cheers of the crowd, and the rattle of the stacks and stacks of empty trays, Bo held up her hand, still with a spoon in it, and declared her officially the Royal High Guzzler of 1951. Barbara gratefully accepted the title, stuffed a piece of steak in her pocket, and departed....

MARY HELEN ALTMON.

The wind had a terrific force. As I was swaying towards the Elementary Lab School, my eyes had a mixture of sand, leaves and hair in them. I decided it must be a cyclone coming up when objects began hurling themselves at me, and the wind in the trees became louder and louder. Then I suddenly realized that instead of a hurricane or a cyclone, it was only time for school to be out. What I thought was the wind blowing forcefully through the trees was only the enthusiastic voices of the children, glad to be out in the wild air and flying sand.

One of the third grade classes took a journey over to the Lab High School Tuesday to look over the materials that are used for the building of homes.

Boy Scouts Mark 41st Anniversary

"STRENGTHEN LIBERTY"
41st Anniversary 1951
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Official poster marking the 41st birthday.

President Truman will greet 12 outstanding Boy Scouts in the White House on Feb. 6 opening the 41st anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Boy Scout Week will be observed Feb. 6 to 12 in every part of the nation by more than 2,750,000 boys and adult leaders. "Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme.

At "birthday parties" during Boy Scout Week throughout the nation each member will repledge himself to the Scout Oath or Promise. In each community representatives of the churches, schools, government and business will observe the anniversary with their Scouts. At Unit "open house" parties, parents, relatives and members of the chartering institutions will hear a review of the year's program features, service projects and membership gains.

During Boy Scout Week members of the organization will develop window displays and demonstrations on civil defense and conservation. Each member will inspect his home to make certain no hazards exist. Surprise mobilizations will test Scout efficiency should emergencies arise.

Since 1910 more than 17,500,000 boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.
