Physical Education Building Named For W. S. Hanner

W. S. HANNER

William S. Hanner of GSC Faculty Succumbs Unexpectedly Dec. 17

W. S. Hanner, 63, professor and chairman of the division of exact sciences and faculty athletic chairman at Georgia Southern College, died unexpectedly Thursday, December 17 at 2 p.m. in the Bulloch County Hospital.

Mr. Hanner was on the Georgia Southern College faculty since 1930. He graduated from Union University of Tennessee with a bachelor's degree and received his master's degree from Peabody College.

Mr. Hanner's chief interest was in the youth of America and most especially in the youth of Georgia and those at Georgia Southern College. He is quoted as once having said, "It is most gratifying to think that perhaps I have made some meager contribution to young men and women who have come into my department during my years at GSC."

Mr. Hanner was a former Rotarian and, for a while, the club's secretary and treasurer.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, December 19 at the Statesboro First Methodist Church, conducted by the Rev. Dan Williams, assisted by Elder T. Roe Scott. Burial in the East Side Cemetery.

Mr. Hanner's funeral services were held in the new sanctuary of the First Methodist Church on the day before its formal opening on December 20.

The State Board of Regents of Georgia unanimously authorized at its January 13 meeting in Atlanta the naming of the new gymnasium on Georgia Southern College campus the W. S. Hanner Building.

W. S. Hanner, who died December 17, 1959, was a faculty member at Georgia Southern College for the past three decades. During his entire life Mr. Hanner had a great love for sports and since 1935 he had been chairman of the faculty athletic committee.

During his college years at Union University in Tennessee Mr. Hanner was an active participant in football, basketball, and track events.

Played Pro Ball

In his younger years he played professional baseball for two years in the Kitty League of Tennessee. Following this he was coach at a high school in Jackson, Tennessee. Later he became football coach at Bethel College in McKenney, Tennessee.

After joining the staff at GSC he was backfield coach of the football team before it was dropped in 1942. For six years prior to World War II Mr. Hanner and Dr. Fielding D. Russell organized and coached tennis teams here. These teams played such schools as Emory at Valdosta, Emory at Oxford, South Georgia College at Douglas, Abraham and Baldwin College, and Armstrong Junior College.

Helped SHS Boys

While a professor at South Georgia Teachers College he helped boys at Statesboro High School to organize a tennis team. From about 1939 until 1941 he was called "Mr. Shep" by the boys on the team.

Because of his great interest in sports activities, the Board of Regents gave permission to name the gymnasium in his honor.

A Tribute To W. S. Hanner

To those of us who knew him the longest and who knew him best, the thing that made him the trusted friend of so many students was no secret to us. It was not so much his knowledge as his attitude of mind in relating this knowledge to the world of actual experience. To know the answers to questions on points of fact may be highly profitable, but not nearly as valuable in terms of everyday living as being immediately able to feel as one ought and to act as one should in the situation that arises.

There is nothing instinctive about these delicate tastes and polished manners. They are things that human beings have to learn—yet he seems to have been born with a capacity for them, for there was always about him a state of delicacy of elegance and of polish; with a freedom from coarseness and vulgarity of character—in thought, in feeling, in speech and in manners.

His activity of thought, too, was a challenge—not only to the student but to all who knew him for his mind was actively interested, and with much intensity it was constantly attentive. His mind was excited by the nature of things, and he was curious as to their being—a vigorous mind—a mind that wanted to know.

These are but a few of the qualities that made him an inspiring teacher, cherished friend, and why his services were in such demand by his church, by civic clubs and civic duties—by athletic commissions and faculty committees.

—R. L. Winburn.

Russell, Freeman To Attend TEPS Conference Soon

Dr. Fielding D. Russell, professor and chairman of the division of languages and Miss Bertha Freeman, associate professor of education of the Georgia Southern College faculty, have been invited by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards to participate in the 1960 Regional Conference to be held at the Sheraton Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky on January 18 and 19.

Dr. Russell will serve as chairman of a group focusing attention on the Advancement of Professional Standards at the TEPS conference.

The theme of this year's conference is "The Education of Teachers: Considerations in Planning Institutional Programs." The 1960 series of regional TEPS conferences has been planned to serve as a culmination of follow-up studies of The Kansas Conference (the 1959 National TEPS Conference) in the respective states.

The theme of The Kansas Conference was "The Education of Teachers: Curriculum Programs." Widespread follow-up study of the deliberations of The Kansas Conference have been planned in many states, to precede the 1960 regional, in an effort to secure the widest possible study and understanding of the problems involved in the theme.

1052 Students Are Enrolled For Winter Quarter

A new record every quarter. That's been the case at Georgia Southern College as far as enrollment goes for the last two years.

A total of 1052 undergraduates are registered for winter quarter, 31 more than 1021 one year ago, at the time also a record.

Winter quarter registration was held on Monday, January 4, but late arrivals were allowed to register until Monday, January 11.

The women outnumber the men 531 to 521, but the men outnumber the girls among the upperclassmen, 295 to 259, which means, we suppose, that the women are dropping out to support their new husbands, or something.

Enrollment by classes:
	Men	Women
Freshmen	103	143
Sophomores	123	129
Juniors	142	138
Seniors	153	121
	521	531

The Atlanta Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Henry Sopkin will be featured at 3 p.m. on January 24, 1960 at the second presentation of the Statesboro Community Concert Series Association.

GSC Ind. Arts Class Has Course Study Published

A Georgia Southern College graduate class in Industrial Education 475G, Selection and Organization of Subject Matter, has had the work it accomplished last summer published by the Georgia State Department of Education.

The work is a 163 page course of study including lesson outlines, activity plans, instruction and assignment sheets, and suggestions for teaching a course in general industrial arts in grades 7, 8, and/or 9.

The course is designed to develop an understanding of tools, materials, processes, products, opportunities and requirements of industry and to develop every aspect of the student which will enable him to effectively and efficiently take his place in a technological industrial - democratic society.

The students who made specific contributions to the publication are:

Hugh E. Darley, industrial arts instructor, Albany Junior High School; John S. Martin, industrial arts instructor, Marvin Pittman School, Statesboro; Robert H. Odom, industrial arts instructor, Jefferson High School; Sam L. Powell, industrial arts instructor, Cross Keys High School, Atlanta; Sam T. Rogers, industrial arts instructor, Waynesboro High School; Jack A. Sapp, Jr., industrial arts instructor, Lyons High School; Thomas G. Latimer, undergraduate student of industrial arts; and Boykin E. Parker, undergraduate student of industrial arts.

The instructor of the class and person responsible for the details of editing was Dr. Donald F. Hackett, professor and head of the industrial education department, Georgia Southern College, Collegeboro (Statesboro), Georgia.

The annual "Ugly Man Contest," sponsored by the Veterans' Club, is now in progress. Once again the ugliest man on campus will be chosen by the students of Georgia Southern College and crowned at the "Ugly Man Ball" on Saturday night, January 16, in the old gym.

The Vets' Club has announced that over $75 worth of prizes will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners. Also the club which sponsors the first place winner will receive a $10.00 prize.

Any club on campus is eligible to sponsor their chosen candidate for this honor. The Vets' Club asks that the club president notify them the name of their candidate.

Those already entered in the contest are as follows: Jack Reeves, Dearing, representing Phi Mu Alpha; Zeke Ward, Statesboro, representing the Modern Dance Club; Royce Conner, Hawkinsville, sponsored by Cone Hall; Carlton Hendrix, Claxton, representing the Masquers; Hubert Manning, Patterson, sponsored by the Science Club; and Windy Hodges, Statesboro, representing the Home Economics Club.

The "Ugly Man Ball" will be a beatnik type affair with the best music "out of this world" played by the "Beatnik Five." A special floor show is also planned to entertain the patrons of the ball.

The students decide the winner by dropping pennies into the container with the name of the person he or she thinks is the ugliest man on campus. The contestant with the most pennies at the bewitching hour on Saturday night will be crowned "Mr. Ugly Man" of GSC.

Free Movie Schedule

Jan. 15, Pajama Game; Jan. 22, Come Next Spring; Jan. 29, Barbarian and the Geisha; Feb. 5, Abe Lincoln in Illinois; Feb. 12, These Thousand Hills; Feb. 19, Johnny Trouble; Feb. 26, Long Hot Summer; March 4, Holy Society; and March 11, King of Kings.

"The Eagles. The Georgia Southern Eagles. Not bad. Think I'll grow to like it." This seem to be the typical remark heard around campus recently as news of the new nickname for athletic teams spread around.

Dr. Boole Named As New Head Of Science Division

Dr. John Allen Boole, Jr. was appointed to the position of chairman of the division of exact sciences at Georgia Southern College by the State Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia at their meeting on January 13 in Atlanta. This position was left vacant by the unexpected passing of Mr. William S. Hanner, who was chairman of this division since 1935, the year all departments were begun at the college.

Dr. Boole is originally from Onancock, Virginia and graduated from Onancock High School. He received his A. B. degree from the University of Virginia in 1949, his M. S. degree from Virginia Polytechnic in 1951, and a Ph. D. from the University of North Carolina in 1955.

Previous to joining the Georgia Southern College faculty, Dr. Boole was employed as a Teaching Fellow at V. P. I. from 1949 until 1951 and at the University of North Carolina from 1951 until 1955.

"The science division will be a long time recovering from the loss of Mr. Hanner and it will be quite a while before it gets back to normal," stated Dr. Boole. "Two new faculty members will join this department next year and in this way we will be able to expand our offering of science courses. We will try to continue to build this division as Mr. Hanner has done during his years of service."

Bryant, Wiggins Join GSC Staff As New Nurses

Miss Muriel Bryant and Miss Dorothy Wiggins have recently joined the staff of Georgia College as resident nurses in the Health Cottage. These positions were left vacant by Mrs. Frances Roquemore, resident nurse for the eleven years, who resigned in December of last year.

Both Miss Bryant and Miss Wiggins are Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) and are members of several nursing organizations which are as follows: The First District Licensed Practical Nurses, the Practical Nurses Association of Georgia, the National Association for Practical Nurses Education (NAPNE), and the Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses.

Miss Bryant is originally from

A small percentage of students have expressed their willingness to retain the old nickname—"Professors"—but the committee felt that with the recent changing of the school name from Georgia Teachers College to Georgia Southern College, the natural tie-in between Teachers and Professors was now lost.

Suggested by Ralph Swords, sophomore business major from Augusta, the nickname was adopted by a special committee last week from among 104 entries from students and faculty. Swords will receive $10 for his winning entry.

The eagle is indigenous to the Georgia area, particularly along the coastal regions. It will lend itself nicely to homecoming and special decorations. This was one of the requisites established by the committee, and served to eliminate several entries that seemed to meet every other requirement of a nickname.

The official sketch of the eagle appears in an adjoining column. It was drawn by the Lowe and Campbell Sporting Goods Company of Cincinnati, and will appear on the back of the white warm-up jackets of the basketball team.

The nickname will go into effect immediately.

Winter Quarter Orientation Held

The winter quarter orientation program for all new students at Georgia Southern College was held from January 4 until January 14 under the direction of Dr. Ralph K. Tyson dean of students.

The new students were welcomed at a "Welcome Dance" sponsored by the Student Council on January 14.

Testing programs were held for all new freshmen, and "info" sessions about campus regulations, program planning, and a tour of the library were provided to introduce the new students to the Georgia Southern campus. Gamma Sigma Upsilon, a service organization on campus, presented a program consisting of a panel on correct study habits and other study aids.

Life Is But A Pause In Eternity

On December 17, the brisk steps and cheerful smile of W. S. Hanner walked into the beautiful sunset of eternity.

Mr. Hanner lived his earthly life so fully and with such zeal and fervor that it is almost impossible to think and speak of him in past tense. It is a certainty that his life will live on for years in the hearts and minds of his family, his friends, and co-workers, and be reflected long and well in the work of many he has influenced in his classrooms at this institution.

There were many facets to his "good life," each reflecting the light of his enthusiasm for the task at hand.

As chairman of the division of exact sciences, he was sincerely dedicated to making this program the finest within his power and at times, it was with dogged determination that he held out for what he felt was best. With limited facilities and under trying circumstances he was seldom "down" and never "out," and it was with great anticipation that he looked forward to his "dream come true," moving his division into new quarters in the near future. His leadership will continue to be felt as the department moves forward according to his plans. In the classroom it was understood that his students were to be well prepared for their daily work. He expected them to be thorough and direct just as he was.

Mr. Hanner also enjoyed the good life in his home with his family and friends. Although his family was small, one had only to drive by his residence to know that his home was his castle. Even the last blade of grass on the always perfectly kept lawn testified to his pride in his home and family.

Mr. Hanner loved his church and worked actively in church affairs until failing health somewhat curtailed his activities. In the last week of his life he brought out-of-town visitors to his church and talked with interest of the dedication services to be held there on the following Sunday, pointing out the pew where he was to sit for this service.

Recreation was also prominent in the life of W. S. Hanner. This played an important part in making his well-rounded personality. He had served as chairman of the faculty athletic committee at Georgia Southern College for 25 years. Mr. Hanner also had hobbies of his own. He loved the outdoors, the mountains and the sea coast, and had a real knack of being able to "fade away" to these retreats when work was over and become re-created for new tasks ahead. Perhaps this was one of the secrets of his "good life." If he chose to live life intensively rather than extensively, he truly accomplished his goal for he will always be remembered as a dynamic, vivid individual living life to its fullest.

W. S. Hanner, whose warmth could be felt in his handshake, whose face was wrinkled with years of wonderful smiles, and whose mind housed a reverence for learning, will be seen as the winds whisper to the pines, when the basketball crowd roars to its feet, as students settle into the new Herty Building for learning, and he will walk with us in everlasting memories.

Roll Up Your Sleeves And Give Blood

Will you miss it? The physicians in our country say NO! That is, if you're healthy and able to give blood. And you will be examined and checked by qualified physicians or nurses before being allowed to give blood when the Bloodmobile visits our campus. This year, once again, the Student Council is sponsoring our annual Blood Drive on Wednesday, January 27, 1960.

All they want you to do is lie down on a table and RELAX! Yes, relax while they take one pint of blood from you. Blood—which could give life to a dying child, or a friend, or even to someone in your family who is in dire distress and needs this life-giving fluid.

You give blood and you're giving a chance for a renewed life to some other human being. They take the blood from you in a method which doesn't hurt and in just a few weeks your body can rebuild the blood you've donated.

Upon donation of your blood you receive a card entitling any member of the immediate family of the donor the right to receive blood without obligation to replace the blood.

Even though you give the blood in Bulloch County, you or an immediate member of your family can receive blood anywhere in the country and the Bulloch County Blood Bank would replace the amount you used in whatever county or city you used blood.

By giving blood you are not only receiving satisfaction in knowing that you might have helped someone who needed the help badly, but you can also help the organizations you belong to win a prize. The club which has the greatest number of its members to give blood will receive a $15.00 award.

To those students under 21 years of age we remind you that you will not be allowed to give blood unless a permission slip has been signed by either a parent or a guardian. If any of you did not receive one of these blanks, then please be sure and ask the president of any club you belong to and he or she should have an extra one.

There is still time to mail those permission slips home to be signed and get them back before January 27.

All presidents should be sure to get in their pledge sheets to the Student Council.

The donation of blood is one worthy cause which really costs you nothing and can help so many.

Fly, Eagles, To The Heights Of Success!

With the announcement in this paper, the nickname of the Georgia Southern College athletic teams has been officially changed from "Professors" to "Eagles." The insignia will be an eagle; its wings are spread apart and its claws are out as if in readiness for attack. The great bird's face is a study of fierceness and strength and appears as though it could defeat anyone it preys upon.

This name is new and everyone will take some time to get used to it. We all face new situations with apprehensions and doubt. Time will pass and along with it the newness will wear off and the name "Eagles" will grow on us and become as much a part of us as the "Professors" were.

Students suggested nicknames and a committee judged the entries and found the "Eagles" the most applicable and appropriate to our school.

Let's support the Eagles with just as much verve and vigor as we always had for the "Profs"! Remember, the players are the same but only the name of the team has been changed. Don't condemn this new nickname until you've given it a chance.

The Eagles have some important games coming up in the future. Some of the teams they will face are from Mercer, Erskine, Rollins, Stetson, Georgia Tech, and the Homecoming contest between the Eagles and Tampa.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

-- Moore Or Less --

By WILLIS MOORE

"Home" brings various and sundry emotions, thoughts, desires, and attitudes when it is mentioned in polite circles, or impolite circles, not to mention squares and other geometrical figures.

However, in the mind of the architect, many visions formulate, at the mention of home. Let's take a peek at "Home" as a building. Early man lived in the woods (in those days, called forests) and lived on flesh of animals and surrounding vegetation. It is still a practice today by suburban dwellers. Gradually, man moved into the open (for no really good reason) and began to construct buildings. There was still a longing for the trees, so he moved a tree into his house. This tree was used as a place on which men could hang hats, coats, and dry cleaning bags. The tree was placed in the hall, and ironically enough was called a hall tree.

Other progress was made in home building too. The bathroom was moved into the house. The trend now is to cook and eat on the outside. In the early days the houses were large and expensive. Now the houses are small and expensive. This is called social advancement.

America has come a long way in the evolution of homes. At one time, to heat the house, a fireplace was used. This served as a means of heat, place to cook, to dry clothes, and an excellent place into which dust from the floor could be swept. Later a move was started to conceal the heating units. This was because the cold natured members of the family stood in front of the fire and wore out the rug.

Two story houses were popular at one time but this soon changed—extra rooms were too tempting for relatives who would come to stay for weeks at the time. As glass became more and more costly, people, especially carpenters, began to see great building possibilities. Now he that is without insurance is reluctant to cast the first stone.

Some say that home is where you hang your hat. Well, if you don't wear a hat, don't feel left out. There are other ways of determining where your home is. Whether far or near, home is a wonderful place. By the way, remember Homecoming day January 30, 1960.

Our Word for the Week: It takes a lot of living in a house to make it a Home, but just living in it won't make your own.

Music

Go' round

By THELMA MALLARD

The Music Division is as busy as ever this quarter with the Operetta and Senior Recitals and etc.

Arrangements have been made with the famous musical comedy team Rodgers and Hammerstein to allow Georgia Southern's Music Department to present "Oklahoma" in McCroan Auditorium February 10th and 11th at 8:15 p.m. This musical ran on Broadway for over five years and has been made into a movie. It contains some of the best of Richard Rodgers' hit music including "People Will Say We're in Love," "I'm Just a Girl Who Can't Say No," "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" and the familiar title song "Oklahoma."

The production will be directed by Dr. Dan Hooley. Dr. Ronald Neil will be in charge of the choral music and Mr. Jack Broucek will be the accompanist. Featured roles will be performed by Bucky Carlton, Scarlett Smith, Johnny Hathcock, Jayne Bragan and Mary Elizabeth Parrish. A complete list of characters will be given in another issue.

Plan now to attend "Oklahoma" February 10th and 11th! There will be three senior recitals given this quarter. Thelma Mallard, flutist, accompanied by Dr. Dan Hooley and assisted by Johnny Hathcock bass, shall be January 31 at 3 p.m. Betty Sue Mashburn, pianist and Mary Ann Harrell, cornetist shall be toward the end of the quarter. Be sure and attend these senior recitals—after all this will be the last opportunity you will have to hear them.

Mr. Jack Broucek, Professor of Music attended the Piano Teachers Committee meeting in Atlanta last Saturday, January 9. This committee set up the final plans for a State wide Piano Teacher Improvement Program. This is sponsored by the Georgia Music Education Association.

Mr. Jack Broucek and Dr. Dan Hooley Professors of Music will attend a Piano Clinic in Vidalia, January 16 and Macon January 29 and 30. This is sponsored by Georgia Music Education Association.

Dr. Dan Hooley, Assistant Professor of Music and Dr. Frank Crockett State Music Consultant shall conduct a Piano Clinic in Savannah on January 26 and 27. The Majorette Club had try-outs Friday, January 8. The following members were added to the club: Sandra Hilton, Tessie Jones, Angie Jordan, and Windy Hamilton. The old members are Beth Rigdon, Shirley McCormick, Mary Alice Chaney, and Thelma Mallard. This is a performing group for basketball games and other social events.

The String Quartet from the Savannah Symphony Orchestra will perform in the recital hall of the Music Building February 14, 3 p.m. Admission is $1.00. This is sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, Music Fraternity for Women. Be sure and get your tickets now—while seats are still available.

The First District Music Festival will be held at Georgia Southern March 3 and 4. This is the annual Music Festival for High School Students in this district.

"The Wall" Will Be Presented At Assembly Mon.

"The Wall" by Verne Powers will be presented in assembly Monday for the entertainment of the students. Directed by Emory Giles from Sandersville, the play is a deeply tragic one about people who give their lives for the "cause."

Composed mainly of "freshmen" Masquer members, the cast consists of: The old man: Ralph Bowden, Jesup; The old woman: Sue Ellis, Statesboro; Matisse: Brenda Moore, Twin City; Ryko: Banks Donaldson, Register; The 1st sentry: Wayne Bland, Reidsville; the 2nd sentry: Jerry Bennett, Alpharetta; Carlton Hendrix will be prompter.

Mr. Overstreet's production class is in charge of production with assistance from Jack Smoot. Sound, decorations, construction, props, costumes, and lights also are being done by Mr. Overstreet's class which consists of Lebbly Colson, Priscilla Robertson, Mary Helen McGinty, Marilyn Paul, Martha Rawls Parrish, Jane Dotson, and Jim Fields.

Costumes are supplied by Carmen Morris, Sue Ellis, Statesboro Police Department, and the local National Guard unit.

Jackie Strange is supplying the sound records.

At The

Editor's Desk

Two weeks ago we entered what everyone is referring to as the Soaring '60's. Scientifically this new decade holds the key for the future of the world! Will we use our atomic weapons wisely or will we become the victims of nuclear invention? How do we as Americans feel about the future?

In the January 5, 1960, issue of LOOK magazine, William Attwood gives us some insight into how Americans feel about this uncertain decade. In order to understand the American mood today, LOOK magazine commissioned Dr. George Gallup's Institute of Public Opinion to conduct a survey. Seven L O O K teams also sought answers over the country.

It was found that Americans are content with their way of life and are optimistic about the future. The survey reveals with what they have and want that Americans are satisfied more of the same.

Twenty nine per cent of the people included in this survey were very optimistic about the future, 49 per cent were "fairly optimistic," 15 per cent were "not so optimistic," and seven per cent weren't sure. Fifty eight per cent of the people expressed a concern over maintaining the peace.

Surprisingly enough, along with this optimism, one-fourth of the people approached expect a war within five years and almost half believe war will come "sooner or later." It was found that those who feel a responsibility for world peace don't know what to do about it. They expressed a definite need to pay increased attention to current happenings in the news, if time permitted.

LOOK reporters found that the more education people have, the more they feel that peace will prevail in the future. The survey revealed that only 17 per cent of college graduates expect war within the next five years, 22 per cent with a high school education expect war, while 29 per cent of those who stopped their education upon graduation from elementary school believed that war would come soon. Also a majority of college graduates and a minority of the grade school group believe that the international situation is improving.

The stories of seven Americans from various walks of life are developed in Attwood's article. The seven include an outstanding senior from an Oregon high school, a widely traveled combination career woman, housewife, and mother from Philadelphia, the wife of a rancher in Colorado who is studying to become a teacher, a great grandmother from New Mexico, a Milwaukee factory worker, a Duke University professor and a Cape Canaveral mechanic.

All of the people interviewed in the LOOK survey have somehow expressed their views concerning what the 1960's will mean to America's future. How do YOU as an American feel this new decade will affect our future?

Miller's Highlights

By CLYDE MILLER

On Thursday, January 7, the University of Georgia Bulldogs were hosts to Georgia Southern College in Woodruff Hall. The Bulldogs avenged an earlier loss at the hands of Georgia Southern as they won 83-75. J. E. (Go-Go) Rowe paced Georgia Southern with 19 points. Chester Curry had 14 to back Rowe, before fouling out. Gordon Darrah, a junior from Columbus paced the Bulldogs with 22 points and Phil (Goose) Simpson, a junior from Dixie, Georgia, bucketed 18 points and plucked 14 rebounds off the boards.

On Saturday, January 9, Georgia Southern was host to the Stetson High Hatters from Deland, Florida. Georgia Southern was victorious in overtime, by a 95-93 margin. Whitey Verstraete had 29 points and Chester Curry had 24 to lead Georgia Southern. The Hatters were ahead by as many as 17 points at one stage, but Georgia Southern refused to quit. Ball stealing tactics by Verstraete and Curry forced the game into overtime. Stetson took an 83-81 lead as Charles Warren drove in for a layup. But baskets by Curry, Patton, Owens and Verstraete clinched the game.

On Monday, January 11, Georgia Southern downed the Spring Hill Badgers from Alabama, by a 86-59 score. Chester Curry had 28 to lead the Georgia Southern attack, and was backed by a 6-5 Connie Lewis with 20, and Whitey Verstraete with 18. Georgia Southern now has a record of six wins and one loss.

GSC Defeated By Ga. Bulldogs in Rematch 83-75

In a rematch with the Georgia Bulldogs, the Georgia Southern varsity fell victims to an 83-75 defeat. It was GSC's first defeat in five starts.

Georgia Southern had won four games while losing none before the contest, and one of their victories was an 82-73 triumph over the Bulldogs, who now are 5-5.

Phil Simpson led the way for Georgia taking 14 rebounds with Gordon Darrah, Don Keiser and reserve Ken Taylor, the Bulldog junior kept the Statesboro squad in the hole through the entire second half.

Darrah topped the Bulldog pointmakers with 22, Keiser pitched in 15 and Taylor added 14.

J. E. Rowe was high man for GSC with 19.

Southern Coach J. B. Searce said Georgia wouldn't have won without Simpson. "He is the man who beat us," Searce commented. "He killed us on the board and got all the clutch rebounds."

After the score was deadlocked eight times in the first half Georgia pulled ahead for a 41-33 halftime lead.

GSC Eagles Thrill Spectators Here With 93-91 Victory Over Hatters

The Georgia Southern College Eagles thrilled a capacity crowd here Saturday night with a comeback behind 93-91 overtime victory over Stetson University.

Seldom has a team ever looked so listless and then looked so good on the same night. Trailing by as many as 16 points, the Eagles were completely dismayed and upset by a zone defense used by the Hatters during the first half.

Coach J. B. Searce Jr. made some offensive adjustments during the halftime break and the second half was a different story.

With 2:20 remaining in the game, Floyd Gladden made two free throws and Stetson led 78-72. Eddie Owens got a tip-in and David Patton a free throw at 1:30 to make it 78-75. Joel Hancock made a free throw for Stetson, but Owens threw in an off-balance jump shot from the left-hand corner, and then batted down a throw-in that Whitey Verstraete converted into a lay-up and a 79-79 tie with 1:03 left.

Stetson went for one shot, but Verstraete got Gladden hemmed-in at the sideline and stole the ball. The Eagles set-up for one shot, but Chester Curry's 18-foot effort dipped-in and came out in the buzzer.

In the extra period, Stetson's Charley Warren hit on a drive, but led by Verstraete, Curry, and Owens, the locals scored 10 points in a row to lead 89-81. Stetson didn't quit and the game ended with Verstraete standing in his end zone watching the clock run out.

These two teams are picked by most to meet in the District 25 tournament finals, and if this first game is any indication, the game at Stetson on Feb. 15 and the tournament meeting, if any, should be something to see.

GSC Trounces Springhill With 86-59 Victory

Georgia Southern College trounced Spring Hill College, 86-59, in a basketball game in Mobile, Alabama Monday night.

Paced by the hot shooting of Chester Curry, Connie Lewis and Whitey Verstraete the Eagles jumped off to a quick lead and roared to victory, making its season record 6-1.

Curry threw in 13 field goals and two foul shots for 28 points to pace the locals.

It was the fourth straight win by Georgia Southern, and we go ahead in the seven game series (dating back to 1950), four games to three.

Neither team could untrack themselves in the first half, the Eagles going-in to their nest with a 29-16 lead, and the Spring Hill club had scored only three field goals.

The locals were to test a tough Newberry Indian five here at Statesboro on Thursday night.

GSC Takes A Rise And Fall In Ratings

Georgia Southern College raised its Dunkel rating one point from 58.0 to 59.0 over the holidays, but still dropped from fourth to fifth among Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida schools. A meteoric rise by Florida State from 10th (48.2) to fourth (59.5) was the cause.

The top five District 25 NAIA schools are Georgia Southern, Stetson, Oglethorpe, Mercer, and Tampa.

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glower at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?" In a stirring peroration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral I filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winstons, Caesar!

Basketball Starts

Off Intramurals

Program Here

Basketball will lead off the winter quarter intramural program beginning on Monday, January 18. Intramurals for men and women begin at the same time and continue through the quarter. Other activities and tournaments are also being scheduled for winter quarter.

The basketball program will be set up differently this year than in the past. Instead of eight teams as before, two leagues will be organized this year. This year there will also be an "A" team and a "B" team. The better players will be in the A team league. Each league will have round robin play and the season will finish with a single elimination tournament in each league.

Other events are being scheduled for men and women during the quarter. For men there will be a singles tournament in badminton, handball and paddle tennis. There will also be a free throw shooting tournament for men.

Scheduled for women will be a singles tournament in badminton and table tennis. There will also be a women's free throw shooting tournament.

Shuffleboard will be scheduled as a co-recreational activity for men and women.

Each student is already assigned to an intramural team and to find out which team he is on each student can check the list of the bulletin board in the new gymnasium. The intramurals are organized for the entire student body, not just the physical education majors.

ATTENTION SENIORS

According to Miss Ruth Bolton, associate professor of home economics, measurements for caps and gowns will be made in the Foods Lab, Room 4, of the Administration Building from Monday, January 18, until Friday, January 22, at the following times: 10 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. on Monday Wednesday, and Friday; and 2:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

It is important for graduating seniors to be measured at any of the times designated above so that an early order may be placed and the best possible selection of caps and gowns received.

Intramural Roundup

By MILLIE JO BOND And BILLY MOCK

Boys Intramurals

Welcome back to the Georgia Southern College campus. We hope that each and every one on campus will come out and support his intramural team.

All new students will be placed on a team and will remain with that team for both winter and spring quarters. We know that many of you were outstanding athletes in high school, so why not keep up the work while you are in college?

Basketball games will begin on January 18. The schedule will be posted in the gym and in the Williams Center. Stop by to check when your team plays. They need your support. All students will have the opportunity to play if they will only be at the gym.

There will be an A and B team selected from each roster of the eight teams. This will allow more of the boys to play since a boy may only play on one team. This rule will protect the rights of the boys on each team.

There will be a "player of the week" selected from the A and B teams. This is done in order to recognize an outstanding performer among the boys.

Many events will be offered during the quarter so if you don't play basketball you will have a chance to participate in some other event. Look at this column for future events.

Girls Intramurals

On January 8 1960, the final round in the girls tennis doubles tournament was completed. Deloris Collins and Velinda Purcell of the Eagles team were playing Pat Hart and Barbara Barton of the Yellow Jackets team. Deloris Collins, Claxton, and Velinda Purcell, Carnville, defeated Pat Hart Uvalde, and Barbara Barton Savannah, 6-2, 6-1 for the Championship.

The teams are the same as last quarter and all new students have been assigned to a team. The teams will be posted in the new gym.

We would like to invite all the new students to come out and attend the intramural games.

This is a place to learn new skills and make new friends. You do not have to know how to play to participate.

Watch for the schedule and come and take part in the intramural activities on campus.
