THE GEORGE-ANNE

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF GEORGIA SOUTHERN COLLEGE

VOLUME 33

COLLEGEBO, GEORGIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1960

NUMBER 18

LEAP YEAR

SAT. NIGHT

The Proof Is In The Doing!

A tremendous weekend well-planned and successfully executed is something to talk about. The George-Anne is just the medium of communication which can do all the talking necessary.

So many people deserve recognition for making the Georgia Southern College "Frolics" so enjoyable a weekend.

Gamma Sigma Upsilon, a service organization on campus thought of the idea of having a weekend so chock full of activities that everyone who stayed on campus would be busy every minute of every hour.

The plans were devised, and then workers were needed to execute the project. Jeanne Walsh, Savannah Beach, became chairman, and a better person Gamma Sigma Upsilon couldn't have chosen.

The plans were announced and the student body and faculty seemed to join right in. Without the cooperation of students and faculty this weekend could not have been so terrific.

The faculty team won the game at the Faculty Intramural Basketball game and the following members of the faculty deserve awards for good sportsmanship: Dr. Herbert Bice, Dr. Burton J. Bogitsh, Coach Roger Parsons, Dr. R. David Ward, and Mr. Jess White. The housemothers were excellent as the faculty cheerleaders and the "female" members of the Intramural cheerleading squad provided much laughter.

The skits presented by the different dormitories were original and laughable. Sanford Hall won a prize—a welcome mat, for the best skit presented.

We have named faculty and administrators who deserve much credit. There are some students who helped to make this weekend—Shaky Chivers, president of Gamma Sigma Upsilon; Juanda Newbern, Janet Lodesky, Rick Osborne, Gayle VelDink, Susan Brandon, Gail Wright, Teena Parker, and Bill Wood.

Mayor W. A. Bowen and the Statesboro residents deserve much thanks for allowing the students to hold a motocade through downtown Statesboro.

One of the highlights of the weekend was the Special Youth Sermon in which Dr. Bird Daniel was guest speaker.

This weekend proved its point. If a club or organization on campus will undertake to plan one or two special events every weekend, then more people would stay on campus instead of leaving Georgia Southern College Friday afternoon.

Miscellany Will Again Be Printed For Sale May 6

According to an announcement by Dr. Fielding Russell, chairman of the division of languages, the Georgia Southern literary review, Miscellany, will begin publication in the Spring quarter. Copies of this quarterly publication will be available on May 6.

For several weeks now meetings have been held for discussion and preplanning of a literary review. The final meeting was held on Tuesday, February 23; an editorial board was appointed and the magazine was officially organized. Mr. Roy Powell was elected as faculty editor. The board voted in favor of a student associate editor to be appointed at a later date.

Literary contributions are being accepted at this time. Any student who is interested in any sort of serious writing is urged to submit his compositions for publication. The temporary headquarters for Miscellany is Mr. Powell's office in the Administration Building and manuscripts may be turned in there or mailed in care of Mr. Powell, P.O. Box 73, Collegeboro, Georgia.

Any type of literature whether poetry, fiction, or other short compositions, will be considered for publication. The staff agreed that each work would be judged on its own merit but it asked that compositions be limited to 3000 words and that the manuscripts be typewritten. It is understood that every work in Miscellany will be of a scholarly nature.

The new Miscellany staff will hold a dinner meeting on Tuesday, March 1, in the guest dining room of the student center at 5 p.m. Any student who is interested in working on this review and has been unable to attend any meetings heretofore see Mr. Powell or Dr. Russell and make reservations for this dinner.

George-Anne To Enter Newspaper Competition Soon

The George-Anne, the Georgia Southern College newspaper which is edited by Roberta Halpern, will be entered in competition for the third annual award for outstanding collegiate newspapers throughout the South sponsored by the Southern District Council of the American Newspaper Guild.

The Council will award a plaque to the best collegiate newspaper published between May 1, 1959 and February 1, 1960. Entries will be judged on basis of editorial writing, make-up, headlines, news coverage, reporting, and overall significance of content. Every college and university competing in the contest will submit three newspapers on which to judge the results. The winners will be announced at the Council's spring meeting.

In addition to a plaque which it may keep, the winner will be given a year's custody of a rotating plaque on which its name will be engraved.

The Daily Texan of the University of Texas is present custodian of this plaque having won a year ago. First award winner was the University of Miami Hurricane.

Chairman of the contest is Louis Silver, reporter for the Commercial Appeal in Memphis, Tennessee. Other members of the Southern District Council are Mouton Peters of the Chattanooga Times and Ray Lockler of the Houston Press.

GSC Masquers Will Present 'The Crucible' As Winter Quarter Production March 3-4

The Georgia Southern College Masquers, under the direction of Mr. Robert Overstreet, will present "The Crucible" as their winter quarter production next Thursday and Friday evenings, March 3-4, in McCroan Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

By JIM POLLAK

A surprise awaits you as you unfold the pages of this eighteenth issue of the George-Anne. For your pleasure a special page of pictures taken on the Eagles recent three day road trip to Florida is featured this week on page two.

"I've always wanted to make a trip with the team," stated Mr. Ed Abercrombie, who took this pictorial essay of this trip. The series of pictures began with the team boarding the bus and includes shots of the players sleeping in the bus, action pictures of the Stetson game, and one of the group at a Jacksonville bowling center.

Page Two includes only a fraction of the total pictures taken. Mr. Abercrombie took 84 snapshots during the three day journey to Florida. From this total only a few duplicates of the more important pictures were made.

Mr. Abercrombie considered the highlight of the trip to be the occasion of taking pictures of two celebrities. It all started when the group was asking about a good place to eat in Jacksonville and the Green Derby, which, according to Mr. Abercrombie, was an exclusive restaurant, was recommended. While in the Green Derby an employee tipped them off that Joe DiMaggio and Linda Darnell were in the establishment. Coach J. B. Searce went to the two well-known stars and asked them to come over to talk to the team. When they came to the tables of the team Mr. Abercrombie had a chance to take pictures of them with the group. After this experience Coach J. B. Searce remarked that if those particular photos did not take Mr. Abercrombie would probably be run out of town.

To sum up the trip Mr. Abercrombie stated, "This was my first experience of traveling with the ball team and it was a nice experience to see how they travel and represent the school. Truly, they represented the school in a first class manner and contributed to the real campus attitude of Georgia Southern."

Symphonic Jazz Group Formed

Mr. Fred K. Grumley of the Music Department has announced that symphonic jazz ensemble has been formed recently.

The purpose of this Jazz Ensemble is to acquaint the students of the Georgia Southern College campus with a medium of musical expression (Symphonic Jazz) that has not heretofore been heard on this campus. Mr. Grumley says "I think this is important because it is a large part of our musical heritage."

The members of this group are: trumpets Jack Willis, Statesboro; Mary Ann Harrell, Macon; Tommy Fouché, St. Simons; Tommy Rogers, Buena Vista; Billy Martin, Valdosta; Steve Wright, Tennille; and Jack Meyers, Washington.

Saxophones: Robert Murff, Moultrie; Floyd Williams, Tifton; Shirley McCorkle, Statesboro; Carol Biddy, Tifton, and Beth Rigdon, Douglas.

Trombones: Joe Walters, Statesboro; Ronald Harper, Atlanta; and Tommy Bowen, Baxley. Piano: Jerry Bennett, Alpharetta. Bass: David Powers, Tifton. Drums: Johnny Hatchcock, Atlanta.

Plans for a Spring Jazz Festival are being made to be held on the Georgia Southern College Campus early in May.

If there are any sax players on campus with dance band experience, please contact Mr. Fred Grumley before the end of this quarter.

This play, written by Arthur Miller, is the tragic story of the Salem Witch Trials prompted by Miller's belief that people still persecute their fellow man today just as the New Englanders persecuted those they called "witches". Miller is also known for his widely read play "Death of A Salesman".

Twenty-one students were selected from the tryout to participate in the production. The students and the parts they portray are as follows: Samille Jones, Washington, as Abigail; Emory Giles, Sandersville, as Proctor; Jim Fields, Claxton, as Parris; and Harris West, Poulton, as Putnam.

Also Irma Roach, Pembroke, Tituba; Jeannie Webb, Statesboro, Betty; Henrietta Walea, Tity, Susanna; Sue Ellis, Statesboro, Ann; Jane Dotson, Brunswick, Rebecca; Willis Moore, Deepstep, Giles; Claude Astin, Palmetto, Hale; and Drenna Sealy, Griffin, as Elizabeth.

Also Stacy Wells, Hinesville, as Francis Nurse; Jerry Bennett, Alpharetta, Cleeve; Banks Donaldson, Register, Willard; Carlton Hendrix, Claxton, Hawthorne Peggy Rivenbark, Metter, Martha Corey; Ralph Bowden, Jesup, as Danforth; Ronda Battley, Cairo, Sarah Good; Pricilla Robertson, Waynesboro, as Mercy; and Carole Jean Collins, Statesboro, as Mary Warren.

The cost of the tickets for the presentation is 50c for students and $1.00 for adults.

Harrell Will Be Presented In Sr. Recital March 6

Mary Ann Harrell, cornetist, will be presented in her senior recital at the Recital Hall of the Music Building by the Georgia Southern College Division of Music on Sunday, March 6, at 2:30 p.m.

The program will include the Second Movement of the Trumpet Concerto by Haydn; the Second Movement of the Sonata for Piano and Trumpet by Hindemith; "Andante et Allegretto" by Balay; and "Petite Piece Concertant" by Balay. Her accompanist will be Mr. Jack Broucek, associate professor of music.

She will be assisted in the recital by Linder Nelson, of Crawfordville, who will sing "My Lovely Celia," "The Forsaken Maid," "Old English songs," and "Open Thy Heart" by Bizet. Miss Nelson and Guilford Prickett will sing "We'll Find a Haven" from La Traviata by Verdi.

Miss Harrell is a senior music education major from Macon. She is active in the Georgia Southern College Band, Philharmonic Choir, president of Music Educators Club, Sigma Alpha Iota, chaplain of Gamma Sigma Upsilon, Lead and Ink Club, and columnist and a member of the editorial board of the George-Anne.

Following the recital the Music Educators Club will be host at a reception to be held in the band room of the music building.

Campus News Briefs

Mr. Clark Eichelberger, executive director of the American Association for the United Nations, will replace Dr. Frank Graham, as principal speaker at the "Conference On World Affairs".

Mr. Eichelberger will speak at the opening banquet on February 25 at 8 p.m. at Emory University.

Elna Kofoed and Susan Brandon will be representatives at this conference for Georgia Southern College.

Second installment of the "Witchcraft Days in Salem Mass." will appear in next week's George-Anne.

The A. C. E. examination is scheduled for Tuesday, March 8, at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium. All those students who have been notified by the Dean's office to take this test should report promptly at 3:30.

The examinations on Georgia and United States History and Constitutions will be given to graduating seniors on April 26 in Room 35.

All seniors who expect to graduate should check with Miss Perry to see whether they need to take the test.

A notice will be placed on the bulletin board one week prior to the exam date and seniors may sign up at any time that.

The summer school class schedule has been released. Interested students may pick one up in the Registrar's office.

Two changes have been made recently in the traffic control regulations according to Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, dean of students and traffic control officer. All persons have 24 hours after bringing a car on campus to register this automobile and receive a permit.

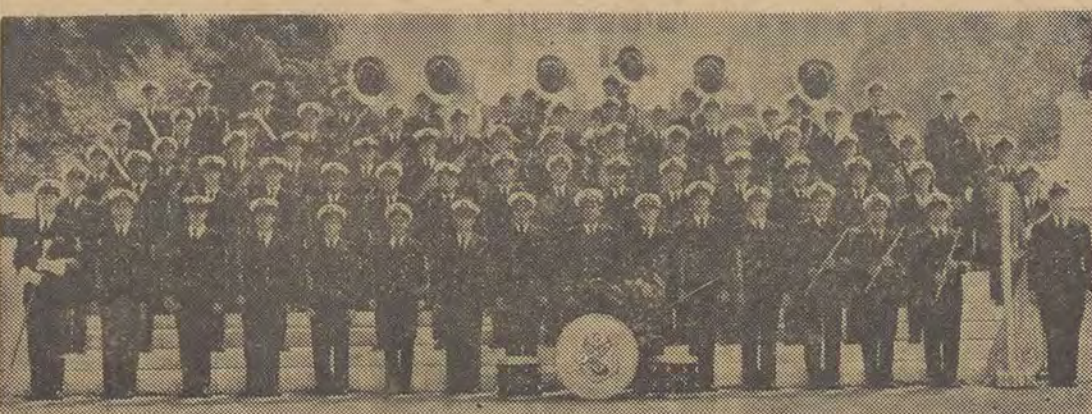

Navy Band Will Present Concert

Announcement is made here this week by Clem Raith, president of the Statesboro Lions Club, that the United States Navy Band will play matinee and evening concerts at GSC on Thursday, March 21. The net proceeds from the concerts will be used in the Lions Club's eye conservation program for Bulloch County.

LATE NEWS FLASH

Due to the plane crash in Rio de Janeiro in which a contingent of band members from the U. S. Navy Band were killed, the Lions Club of Statesboro, who are sponsoring the group, is awaiting confirmation if the U. S. Navy will appear as scheduled.

An internationally famous group, such as the United States Navy Band, need no "highlights," yet same is to be found in the brilliant renditions of such soloists as Gordon Finlay, Cornet; Frank Scimone, Post Horn; Ben Mitchell Morris, Tenor Vocalist; Rodger Wilklow, Trombone; William Cameron, Harp; and Harry Houdeshel, Flute. And, any one of the rest of the touring Band can be called upon to fill a solo position at a moment's notice, as all are of solo status.

THE UNITED STATES NAVY BAND, pictured above, will present matinee and evening concerts at Georgia Southern College on Thursday, March 21. This appearance will be one of a limited number of concert engagements to be made by this world famous band. Their tour includes appearances in ten southern states.

Leap Year Dance Annual Religious Emphasis Week To Be Observed Here Next Week

Hey Girls! Here's your chance to get a date! Ask that favorite boy of yours to the Leap Year Dance to be held Saturday night, February 27, at 8:30 in the Alumni Building (Old Gym).

This dance will be sponsored by the Senior Class and the theme and decoration will feature "Dog Patch" atmosphere. The combo will present the music to which the "Dog Patch" adherents can dance.

The annual Religious Emphasis Week at Georgia Southern College will be held on campus February 29 through March 3 according to co-chairman James Johnston and Danolyn Lee.

The Religious Emphasis speaker will be the Reverend Dr. Don Brewer of the First Christian Church in Albany. He will speak at the college at two assemblies to be held February 29 and March 2 and at Twilight on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 29 through March 1.

Reverend Brewer received his Bachelor's degree from Texas Christian University, and his Divinity degree from Vanderbilt. Some of the speakers are Mrs. Wallis Cobb, Miss Ann Black, Miss Jean Brodsky, Dr. Frank Lovett, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. Francis Hunter, Mrs. John Lindsey, Mrs. Fielding Russell, Mr. Jimmy Gunter, Mr. Jeff Owens, Mr. O. H. Joiner, Mr. John Savage, Mr. Lester Stinson, and Mr. Roger Fluet.

The purpose of Religious Emphasis Week is to bring to the minds of students an awareness of the importance of religion. Faculty chairman is Coach J. I. Clements. Faculty advisors are Mrs. Marjorie Guardia, Dr. Samuel T. Habel and Miss Kirbylene Stevens.

He is a native of Waycross. The theme is "Around the Clock with God." The speakers will give free to bring in our keeping God with us at our meals, in our classes, in the dormitory, in our rooms, in our life up town, in our social life, and in our spiritual life.

The presidents of the religious organizations on campus are in charge of asking guest speakers for the dorms at 10 o'clock every evening. These persons are as follows: James Johnston, Baptist Student Union; Jim Pollak, Newman Club, Canterbury Club; Danolyn Lee, Primitive Baptist Youth Fellowship; Martha Burgess, Wesley Foundation; Gail Bennett, Westminster Fellowship; and Betty L. Cadle, Young Women's Auxiliary.

Barton Chosen As GSC's 'Best Dressed Girl'

Martha Jane Barton, a freshman from Savannah, was chosen as the "Best Dressed Girl on Campus" by the student body last Wednesday, February 24.

The Georgia Southern College Student Council sponsored this contest in correlation with the national contest conducted by Glamour magazine to choose the "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America."

ASSEMBLY NOTICE

Two assemblies will be held next week on Monday, February 29, and Wednesday, March 2.

The Reverend Don Brewer, pastor of the First Christian Church of Albany, will speak as guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week.

Attendance will be taken at both of these assemblies.

The George-Anne Takes A Road Trip With The Eagles

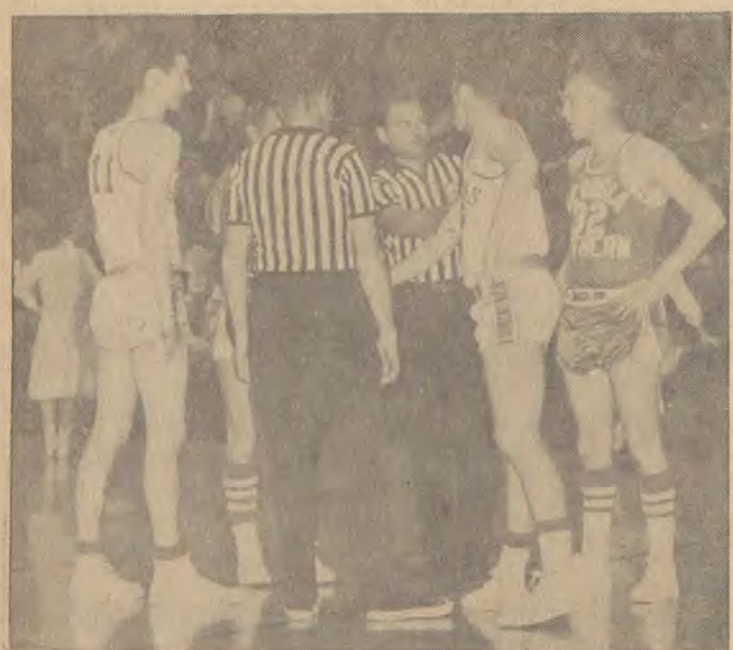

Most of us see our Georgia Southern College basketball team at the home games, but did you ever wonder what the road trips are like? Well, last week the Eagles played on Monday at Deland, Florida, losing to Stetson, 70 to 69, and then on Tuesday defeated Jacksonville University, 97 to 92. Ed Abercrombie, director of the Southeastern Film Library on campus, took along his camera and came back with this pictorial portrayal of what a road trip is really like.

The team stayed at the McCormick Apartment Motel on Jacksonville Beach. Here we see the bus parked out front.

Here, Virginia, is what we have come to call an eater. It's Denny Burau at breakfast, a frightening sight to anyone but a restaurant owner.

After the Jacksonville University game, coach Searce (back to camera) is congratulated by the losing coach Rollie Rourke.

Coach J. B. Searce watches to explain Whitey Verstraete's go to captain Chester Curry.

A little halftime strategy. The cups are our side, and we're trying to penetrate a 1-3-1 zone defense by the Cokes (Stetson).

Here we see a con-artist at work. Movie star Linda Darnell (with Joe DiMaggio below) was eating in the Green Derby in Jacksonville, and stopped by to greet the team. Coach Searce is breaking her up.

Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio. The Yankee Clipper was in Jacksonville for a Boys Club of Italy benefit, and said a few words to the Georgia Southern team, as did movie star Linda Darnell, above.

Curry scores two from close in, with Stetson's Dalton Epting guarding from behind.

Recreation time finds coach J. I. Clements taking aim on a Jacksonville Beach bowling alley that seems to have more than the usual complement of hecklers.

Burau gets a rebound.

Win or lose, the game is broadcast and reported to the papers. At left, Don McDougald, president of WWNS in Statesboro, sets-up shop, and at right, GSC publicist Joe Axelson is probably respelling V-E-R-S-T-R-A-E-T-E for the 6000th time this season. WWNS this year has broadcast all road appearances of the Eagles and will carry the District 25 NAIA Tournament from Tampa this weekend.

A squad that averages 6-3 and 200 pounds per man puts away a lot of groceries on a trip.

GSC Eagles To Play U. Of Tampa Tonight

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
During Saturday's basketball game the spectators witnessed outstanding examples both of fine sportsmanship and the lack of same. The latter need not be discussed for Georgia Southern and its supporters had no part in it.

The happier incident brought to mind an old fashioned tale—"Compassion for the fallen foe"—and the heart warming sportsmanship shown in this instance by Co-captain Whitey Verstraete was just typical of this very fine young man. In general, much of the same thing may be said for Georgia Southern's basketball squad as a group.

Such spirit reflects even greater credit upon them and on Coach J. B. Searce and the school than do their never-say-die performances on the court led such gallant "sparkplugs" as Whitey and Chester Curry.

Some years ago a well-known personality voiced the wretchedly false philosophy that—"Nice guys don't win ball games."

Players such as whitey verstraete and teams such as Georgia Southern are the best evidence to the contrary and furnish just cause for pride to all those in any way interested in the college, and that includes a considerable part of Georgia's population.

All these thousands of friends hope that the team will achieve further honors this season in NAIA tournament play, but—come what may—already they are champions of something of greater moment. They have demonstrated that the letter GS represents Good Sportsmanship as well as the name of their college.

Sincerely,
L. D. ATHERTON,
Local booster

Defending District 25 champion Georgia Southern College will face tough challenges from Oglethorpe University, Stetson University, and the University of Tampa at Tampa this weekend, February 26-27, in the annual Georgia-Florida NAIA playoffs.

In Friday's first round, first seeded Georgia Southern will face host Tampa, seeded fourth, and second ranked Oglethorpe will play third-seeded Stetson.

Just how well balanced this playoff appears to be is pointed up by regular season scores among the contenders. Georgia Southern whipped Tampa twice, 102-76, but only 77-75 at Tampa. The Eagles didn't play Oglethorpe, and divided a pair with Stetson, winning 93-91 in overtime, and losing on Monday night, 70-69 at DeLand, Florida.

On Saturday night Stetson scored six less field goals than Oglethorpe but nipped the Petrels, 66-64. Tampa and Oglethorpe haven't met, and the Spartans split a pair with Stetson, winning 80-79 and losing 88-79.

Georgia Southern has represented the district three times in the past four seasons with Stetson breaking the reign in 1957.

The same individual leaders hold sway this week—North Georgia's Spence Boyd in points per game (29.7), Bud Goodwin of Oglethorpe in field goal percentage (.538), Whitey Verstraete of Georgia Southern in free throw accuracy (.852), and in rebounding it's West Georgia's Leonard Moen with 19.8 retrieves per game.

Team leadership remained with Oglethorpe and Georgia Southern. The Petrels set the pace in fewest points allowed per game (46.7) and team field goal shooting (.477), and the Eagles lead in points per game (86.7) and free throw shooting (.756). Oglethorpe has the best record (19-3) and Southern is next at 16-5.

GSC Wins Last Home Game Of Season 79 - 71

Georgia Southern College wrapped up its home basketball season with a thrilling 79-71 victory over Belmont Abbey Saturday night, played before a capacity "Senior's Night" crowd.

Whitey Verstraete's rare "five-point" play in the second half put the Eagles on the road to victory and Chester Curry scored seven points in the remaining three minutes to ice the decision.

The Eagles, who trailed by ten points at the half, had caught the Abbeyes at 64-all, but Belmont had moved ahead again, 68-64, with 4:50 remaining.

Verstraete, whose 24 points topped all scorers, then was fouled under the basket and in disgust a Belmont player slammed the ball to the floor, drawing a technical foul. Verstraete made all three free throws and then with the Eagles having the ball out of bounds they worked the ball to Verstraete, who hit a field goal from 20 feet.

The Eagles put the ball in a freeze, Curry getting his seven points during the remaining time.

GSC set a school record by converting 25 of 26 free throw attempts. Verstraete was backed in double figures by Curry (20) and Eddie Owens (11). Joe McDermott led Belmont with 20.

At halftime, GSC inducted three new members into its Hall of Fame—Mason Clements of Augusta, Jim Wrinkle of Hollywood, Florida, and the late Durward Fulford, all former athletes.

IM Schedule Is Listed For Coming Week

The free throw shooting tournaments for men and women will be held next week. The men's tournament will get underway on Monday at 7 p. m. and the women will participate on Thursday at 7 p. m.

In the tournaments, each person will shoot 50 free throws in the first round. Those with high-scores will move into the second round and shoot 50 more free throws. The top scorers will win points for their unit and team points will also be awarded.

GSC Eagles Top Erskine 78 - 51

Georgia Southern College, led by Chester Curry, jumped to a quick lead and coasted the rest of the way here Monday night to defeat Erskine College, 78-51 in its season finale. GSC's victory makes its record 18-5 for the season.

Curry hit his first eight shots to put GSC in front, 8-2 and the Eagles were never headed. Curry was high man with 25 points and Connie Lewis followed with 18. Whitey Verstraete collected 20 rebounds and 11 points for the Eagles.

Each tournament will be completed in one night.

Three Former GSC Athletes Honored Here

Three former Georgia Southern College athletes were added to the GSC Hall of Fame Saturday night to join nine who were installed as charter members last year.

New honorees include the late Durward Fulford (Class of 1935), James F. Wrinkle (1935) and Mason Clements (1950).

Fulford, a native of Twin City, played fullback on the football teams of GSC (then South Georgia Teachers College) from 1932-35. The late W. S. Hanner, formerly of the GSC faculty and then backfield coach, once said that Fulford could have started for any football team in the country.

Until his death six years ago, Fulford was a member of the Georgia Highway Patrol, based in Swainsboro. He is survived by his wife and three children, one of whom, Ada Lee Fulford, is a freshman at GSC.

Wrinkle was one of the most versatile athletes in the history of the school. From September, 1931, until June, 1935, the Dalton native earned varsity letters in football, basketball, track, tennis, and golf.

He is presently general manager of a wholesale grocery company in Augusta.

Clements, of Ray City, was a star third baseman in the late Forties. The brother of the present head baseball coach, J. I. Clements, Mason is ranked one of the best all-around diamond stars in the school's history.

The induction ceremonies took place between halves of Saturday's GSC-Belmont Abbey basketball game. Chairman of the Hall of Fame selection committee is C. B. McAllister, Statesboro banker.

February is indeed a month marked with the birthdays of outstanding personalities from America's past. Celebrating Abraham Lincoln's and George Washington's birthdays the twelfth and twenty-second of the month respectively, there is still another significant birthday to note before this, the shortest month of the year, ends. Tomorrow, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow would have been 155 years of age.

In probably every English class across the country, the name of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is an engraved portion of the curriculum. Born on February 27, 1805, in Portland, Maine, he was the classmate of Nathaniel Hawthorne at Bowdoin College. Graduating in 1825, he was later appointed as professor of modern languages at this institution after having traveled and studied for three years in Europe preceding this appointment. Invited to succeed Mr. George Ticknor as professor of modern languages and literature at Harvard College in 1835, he again traveled to Europe for preparatory study.

Among his earlier publications in 1839 was Voices of the Night, a small volume that contained poems and publications which had appeared separately in various periodicals. Perhaps the best known of his short poems, "The Psalm of Life", appeared in this volume. Some of his most famous works include: Evangeline, The Song of Hiawatha, Tales of a Wayside Inn, The Children's Hour, The Courtship of Miles Standish, and a translation of Dante's Divina Commedia.

In the book entitled Henry Wadsworth Longfellow by Odell Shepard, which appeared in 1934, the author states, "In reading him we read ourselves. His poetry provides a bridge by means of which we may return at will into an America simpler and quieter than that of the present, yet indefeasibly our own. It lends depth and distance to our time, linking what we are with what we have been. Here is an assurance and a serenity not easy to find elsewhere. Here is beauty and charm and glamour that are part of our birthright. If this treasure is lost through our ignorance or impatient scorn of the past, we shall all be the poorer. To every educated American it should be a pride and a pleasure to know Longfellow well, to defend him wisely, and to hold him dear."

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Mrs. Webb Is Used To Cooking In Quantity

by Mary Charlie Ewing

Many of the students have noticed a very young man, about thirteen years of age, eating in the dining hall and walking about the Williams Center. The usual remark is, "Wow, college students are getting younger and younger!" This young man is the son of Mrs. Mae H. Webb, who joined the staff of Georgia Southern College as dietitian in January.

One of the most important people on any college campus is the dietitian. At Georgia Southern College Mrs. Webb has undertaken this tremendous responsibility.

Mrs. Webb has a large family of three daughters and the aforementioned son. With a family this size, it seems as though she has always had to cook in quantity.

Her oldest daughter is now in Atlanta and the second to oldest is attending Mercer University in Macon with her husband. A new addition to this family changed Mrs. Webb to a grandmother as well as a "mom." The face of Jeannie Webb, a transfer student from Middle Georgia College at Cochran and the third daughter of Mrs. Webb, is rapidly becoming familiar to the students here at Georgia Southern. The only boy in the family is Butch.

Mrs. Webb stated that she certainly is enjoying her work here and she is trying to make changes so that the dining hall will better serve the students. She added that there are several changes that will be made to give the students more variety in the menus.

"I hope to get to know all the students better in the future and I wish to take this opportunity of talking to all the students and staff members through the George-Anne and thank them for their cooperation."

The other day our vice president in charge of good news announced that someone, somewhere, enjoys Coke 58 million times a day. You can look at this 2 ways:

Either we've got an incredibly thirsty individual on our hands. Or Coca-Cola is the best-loved sparkling drink in the world.

We lean to the latter interpretation.
